Mr. CRAIG was asked as to whether he and the others would be interested in seeing such places as the hotel where OSWALD stayed in Mexico City, the travel agency where he purchased his bus ticket, and general areas in the neighborhood of the Cuban and Soviet Embassies here. He replied that he did not feel this was necessary. It might be noted that Mr. CRAIG and the others were in Mexico City primarily for the purpose of attending the meeting of the International Bar Association and it was the writer's impression gained from conversation with them that they only desired the oral briefing in order to be in a position to answer any questions which might be raised by members of the President's Commission following the return of Mr. CRAIG and the others to Washington.

Mr. CRAIG and the others appeared to be completely friendly and well-disposed toward the Bureau. No information of particular interest to the Bureau was obtained from them other than the fact that Mr. CRAIG mentioned that the Commission was trying to finish its report by 8/7/64. He expressed a strong doubt that this would be accomplished.

Mr. CRAIG made no additional requests concerning the OSWALD case during the remaining few days that he was in Mexico.

The above is submitted for the Bureau's information.

Two extra copies of this airtel are attached for forwarding by the Bureau to Dallas, the office of origin.

Dear Mrs. Cowle:

This will confirm our telephone conversation in which I advised you that many of the copies which we sent of exhibits marked in your testimony are of such poor quality that they may not be legibly reproduced in the printed volume which will form a part of our report. In order to avoid any such difficulties with our accounts, you will cooperate with the Police Bureau of the Federal Bureau of Investigation so that they may make clear photographs of copies of those exhibits for inclusion in the appropriate volume of our report.

I enclose for your convenience a list and description of the exhibits of which we will want to make photographic copies. You may be assured that we will return those copies with such comments that some of your exhibits will be removed from your possession at any time.

Your cooperation is appreciated.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin

Enclosed is a copy of a letter from the President's Commission dated July 10, 1964, which is self-explanatory.

Your attention is directed to paragraph two of the Commission's letter to Mrs. Marguerite Oswald dated June 30, 1964, a copy of which is attached to the Commission's letter of July 10, 1964. You will note that the Commission has informed Mrs. Marguerite Oswald that the FBI will make copies of exhibits of interest under such conditions that none of Mrs. Oswald's exhibits will be removed from her presence at any time.

Accordingly, in arranging to make photographic copies of the exhibits listed, you should either photograph the exhibits at Mrs. Oswald's residence or have her come to your office with the exhibits in order that they can be photographed at your office in her presence if she so desires.

This matter should be given immediate attention by your office.

NOTE: Mrs. Oswald has previously furnished the Commission a list of exhibits, largely consisting of letters she received from Lee Harvey Oswald during the period of his residence in Russia. The Commission has stated that the quality of reproductions it made from Mrs. Oswald's exhibits was very poor and cannot be legibly reproduced in the exhibit volumes which will form part of the Commission's report.

Your suggestion to advise Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade of the findings of our Laboratory does not appear to have any merit and will not be acted upon.

As you are well aware, Wade has created an unusual amount of trouble for this Bureau by his unwarranted and impulsive press releases, his lackadaisical manner in handling his own office, which has resulted in the similar handling of evidence and further, has made statements before the President's Commission concerning the Bureau's informant program which were unfounded.

We are under no obligation to advise the Dallas District Attorney's Office of the results of this matter and Wade is fully aware that our investigative results are furnished to the Commission.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Postal Inspector Holmes testified that two issues of THE MILITANT were found in Post Office Box 30016 in New Orleans at some point after November 22, 1963. These issues of THE MILITANT had been addressed to Lee Harvey Oswald and apparently through oversight had not been forwarded by the Post Office Department to 2515 West Fifth Street in Irving, Texas as Oswald had instructed them to do.

We would appreciate advice as to the dates of the above issues. We note that two issues of THE MILITANT appear on the list of Oswald's effects at the time of the assassination but there is no indication as to the dates.

We would also like to know if there is any indication whether Oswald ever received the October 14, 1963 issue of that newspaper.

Your continued cooperation is appreciated.

NOTE:

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald had previously furnished the Commission a number of letters she received from Lee Harvey Oswald during his residence in Russia. Commission reproduced these letters but found the quality of its reproductions not good. Commission requested we contact Mrs. Oswald and request that she make such letters available to FBI, Dallas, for photographing. Mrs. Oswald refused and states she believes Commission has lost the original copies it made of her letters and she does not desire to make them available to the Commission again. We so informed the Commission and Mr. Liebeler contacted Mrs. Oswald during his recent trip to Dallas to solicit her cooperation. Mr. Rankin has informed Inspector Kalley that Mrs. Oswald was not cooperative with Mr. Liebeler and refuses to make the letters available for photographing. Commission then requested FBI Laboratory to attempt to improve the quality of the initial photos it took of the letters in question. By letter 8/4/64 the Commission was advised of the results of the Laboratory's efforts to improve the quality of the photos in question. Laboratory was unable to suggest any manner of treatment which would make the Commission's documents more legible.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On August 7, 1964, W. David Slawson of our staff spoke with Mr. William Griffith of the Bureau in regard to a handwriting analysis problem. Mr. Slawson asked Mr. Griffith if the Bureau would analyze the documents hereinafter listed to determine whether they are in the handwriting of Lee Harvey Oswald and, if they are, supply the Commission with a letter so stating. These documents are letters apparently written by Lee Harvey Oswald to the American Embassy in Moscow while Oswald was in residence in Minsk. The documents in question are Commission Exhibits 913, 244, 931, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 246, 247, 256, 1093, 249 and 1083.

These letters were apparently mentioned on page 337 of the Report of Special Agent Gemberling dated December 10, 1963. There they were apparently used as a sample of Oswald's known handwriting for the purposes of testing other samples. By now, however, there ought to be many more samples of Oswald's handwriting which have been gathered which could be used as a basis for testing unknown samples with equal or even more assurance of validity than these particular letters.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED FOREIGN TELEVISION PROGRAM
ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY
UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY (USIA)

Memorandum dated August 3, 1964 from Jones to DeLoach recommended that prior to the Bureau taking any action to cooperate with the U. S. Information Agency (USIA) that the matter be discussed with J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission.

* regarding proposed television program

On August 11, 1964, this matter was discussed with Mr. Rankin and he advised that while the President's Commission had committed themselves to be of assistance to USIA, they did not intend to give out information prior to the release of the Commission's report. He stated he felt the report of the President's Commission would speak for itself and that there would be no necessity of requiring individuals to furnish answers to various questions. He stated he was aware of the proposed script that USIA was working on but that the President's Commission had taken no action on this matter at the present time. Mr. Rankin said he understood he had been quoted rather freely but actually he had not furnished specific answers to USIA.

With respect to the Bureau cooperating with USIA, Mr. Rankin requested that they be advised that this matter had been discussed with the President's Commission and that in the event USIA desired any specifics at this time the matter should be discussed in detail with the President's Commission first and in the event the President's Commission decided they needed any specific material or interviews with individuals at the Bureau, arrangements would be made for same following the discussion with the President's Commission.

ACTION:

Miss Shafer should be advised that the President's Commission does not desire the Bureau to furnish specific information at this time and in the event USIA desires data at this time, they should contact the President's Commission and discuss the matter in detail with the Commission.

Dear Mr. Kemper:

Please accept my appreciation for the time and courteous attention and help you gave Burt Reinhardt and me yesterday with respect to our inquiries regarding the two United Press International motion picture films covering the assassination of President Kennedy.

It is especially reassuring to know that the FBI has not given and has no intention of giving these films or any stills therefrom (or even permitting access thereto) to anyone other than the Warren Commission for use in conjunction with its forthcoming report. I understand that Mr. Nix was recently given a single print of the so-called "Nix" film, which Mr. Nix sold to UPI and is now owned by and copyrighted by UPI, but I further understand that the FBI has no intention of giving Mr. Nix any further prints.

As we discussed, Burt Reinhardt will have delivered to you shortly the copyright notices to be attached to all of the so-called "Nix" film prints now in the possession or control of the FBI or Warren Commission. A check of my notes of our meeting shows that at least six such "Nix" film prints are involved, including the "Nix" film print given to the FBI by UPI. However, if any other "Nix" film prints are discovered by the FBI to be in existence or made by the FBI for any reason in the future, please notify Reinhardt so that the proper copyright notice can be attached to them also. I appreciate your offer to see to it that these copyright notices are spliced to all such "Nix" film prints, and to confirm this to Reinhardt.

Thanks again for your consideration and cooperation. It was indeed a pleasure to meet you and I look forward to saying "hello" in the near future, possibly when I take that tour of the Bureau which I have promised myself.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On July 21, 1964 Mr. Evaristo Rodriquez gave testimony to Mr. Wesley J. Liebeler of our staff to the effect that he had seen Lee Harvey Oswald in the Habana Bar in New Orleans sometime on or about August 9, 1963 in the company of another individual who, while described as Latin appearing, appears to have certain superficial physical similarities to the individual depicted in our Commission Exhibit 237, the photograph displayed to Mrs. Marguerite Oswald on November 23, 1963 by Agent Odum of your Bureau.

Would you please forward a copy of that photograph to your New Orleans office so that it may be shown to Mr. Rodriquez for purposes of possible identification.

Your continued cooperation is appreciated.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of July 20, 1964, requesting that we examine toll call records of all telephones at the Dallas Police and Courts Building insofar as they may show calls to Fort Worth and Arlington, Texas, for the period 10:00 p.m., November 23, 1963, through November 24, 1963.

Enclosed herewith are two copies of a memorandum dated August 11, 1964, at Dallas, Texas, setting forth results of the requested investigation.

Your letter of July 20, 1964, also requested toll call records for the telephones of Mr. Harry Olsen and Mrs. Harry Olsen, also known as Kathy Kay Coleman, for the period 10:00 p.m., November 23, 1963, through November 24, 1963. You will note that this period falls within the more extended period covered in your request of July 23, 1964, for telephone records relating to Mr. and Mrs. Olsen, and it is being handled in conjunction with that matter.

Investigation to obtain the toll records as requested in your letter of July 23, 1964, is currently in progress, and you will be furnished the results promptly upon completion.

NOTE:

Commission by letter 7/20/64 requested toll call data as above stated re telephones in Dallas Police and Court Building and also requested telephone data from telephone of Harry Olsen and Kathy Kay Coleman for period 10:00 p.m., 11/23/63 through 11/24/63. By subsequent request of 7/23/64, Commission requested a report of all existing telephone calls from telephones available to the Olsen's which request is currently being handled and of course, will include the information requested in their letter of 7/20/64. Harry Olsen is an ex-Dallas Police Officer who since the assassination married Kathy Kay Coleman, one of Ruby's ex-strippers. Ruby reportedly met the Olsen's on the street in the early morning of 11/23/63 and had a discussion with them about the assassination. The Commission is interested in exploring the possibility that the Olsen's assisted Ruby in the assassination of Oswald.

Their 7/23/64 request for existing calls refers to a check of all toll call records still available as the telephone company is only required to maintain these records for 6 months.

NOTE:

Immediately after arrest of Ruby, we inventoried property taken from his person and his automobile by the Dallas Police Department which inventory was set forth in the report of November 30, 1963, and furnished to the Commission. On 5/28/64 the Commission requested that we photograph property of Ruby's in custody of the District Attorney and the Dallas Police Department which was done. On 7/6/64 the Commission advised that some of the items originally inventoried by us were missing when later photographed and requested that we conduct investigation in an effort to locate and photograph the missing items. As part of this inquiry, Eva Grant was interviewed and furnished two cardboard boxes of assorted papers which had belonged to Ruby and which had never been in the possession of the Police Department or District Attorney. They were photographed and are being furnished to the Commission. The investigation requested in Commission's letter of 7/6/64 is currently in progress and results will be furnished promptly upon completion.

NOTE: The Commission requested several investigative steps be taken to substantiate or disprove an allegation that prior to the assassination Oswald and his wife, Marina, visited the Irving Sport Shop to have a telescopic sight mounted and sighted on a rifle. This was initially reported by an employee of the store, Dial D. Ryder who allegedly found a repair tag with the name Oswald on it. This allegation has been somewhat supported by two women Mrs. Gertrude Hunter and Mrs. Edith Whitworth, who claimed they saw the Oswalds and directed them to the sport shop. The circumstances of this whole situation indicated Ryder prepared the repair tag after the assassination. However, he is so involved he can't back out now. The women appear mistaken in their identification as the supporting data furnished by them is not consistent with what we know of the Oswalds' background. The enclosed communication from Houston discloses that Mrs. Hunter is known to exaggerate and has an "obsession" to inject herself into any big event. Her family reportedly knows she has a tendency to tell "tall tales." When the remaining investigation is received, the Commission will be notified.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

Memorandum

TO : MR. CALLAHAN DATE: 8-13-64

FROM : L. J. GAUTHIER

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY
REQUEST FOR VISUAL AIDS

Reference Commission's letter to Director dated 8-10-64 requesting assistance in effectively preparing a visual aid for use in demonstrating the incorrectness of an allegation which will be treated in the Commission's report; namely, "that the motorcade route, which took the President's car past the Depository at the intersection of Elm and Houston, was unnecessary and departed from normal practice."

Mr. Howard P. Willens of the Commission's staff was contacted on 8-12-64 at which time the Commission's request was discussed in detail. Photographs and structural plan of Dealey Plaza were gathered by the Exhibits Section on 12-2-63 sufficient to permit the construction of a three-dimensional scale model of the assassination site east of the Triple Underpass. The major highway systems west of the Underpass were not photographed nor were construction plans of the complex approaches obtained. The Bureau's attention was focused on the area immediately in front of the Texas School Book Depository. Although we do have photographs of the general area of the Underpass, the material available to us is insufficient to permit us to go ahead with a visual aid which would meet the Commission's requirements.

Mr. Willens also desires to have included in the request for a visual aid of the road system several photographs taken from the railroad tower showing the view had by Commission witness Lee E. Bowers, Jr., looking toward the Texas School Book Depository and the Underpass, as well as photographs taken from the track level on the Underpass directly over Elm Street showing the views available to Commission witnesses (13) looking east toward the Depository, west toward the Freeways, north toward the railroad yards and south toward the Post Office Building and several photographs of the Underpass as viewed from a point on Elm Street across from the Stemmons Freeway sign.

The Exhibits Section is preparing a chart for the Commission showing the whereabouts of Oswald between 12:30 p.m. and 1:00 p.m. on 11-22-63, based upon information obtained from eyewitnesses testifying before the Commission. Mr. Norman Redlich desires that this chart include the distances along these routes as registered on an automobile speedometer.

On-site information will have to be available to the Exhibits Section before the Commission's request can be expeditiously and adequately handled. It is necessary that this material be gathered by the Exhibits Section in order that the completion of the work can be the result of a single source and to insure speed of operation as well as making available technical testimony concerning the authenticity of the visual aids. It will require approximately one working day for an Exhibits Section employee to gather this information assisted by Agents of the Dallas Office.

Unless advised to the contrary, I will proceed to Dallas on 8-17-64 to handle this assignment.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

As you know, the Commission in its Report is required to deal with allegations that the motorcade route, which took the President's car past the Depository at the intersection of Elm and Houston, was unnecessary and departed from normal practice. The Commission would appreciate your assistance in preparing some visual aids for use in demonstrating the incorrectness of these allegations.

We would like to demonstrate by a few selected photographs that traffic proceeding westbound on Main Street is directed to turn right on Houston Street and left onto Elm Street if it wishes to proceed north on the Stemmons Freeway. We would like to demonstrate, in short, that the motorcade was not able to proceed on Main Street and thereby gain access to Stemmons Freeway proceeding northbound without departing from normal traffic patterns. If possible, we would like you to secure photographs illustrating the following:

1. Any instructions which are posted on Main Street instructing westbound traffic as to how it should proceed to gain access to Stemmons Freeway;

2. Any instructions on Houston Street between Main and Elm Streets directing traffic as to how to gain access to Stemmons Freeway.

3. The traffic instructions posted along Elm Street instructing traffic approaching the triple underpass to keep to the right in order to gain access to the Stemmons Freeway.

4. The traffic signs instructing traffic after it has proceeded under the triple underpass as to the lanes to take in order to reach the Stemmons Freeway.

5. The normal flow of traffic along Main Street after it has proceeded under the triple underpass, including the signs located on the barrier advising Main Street traffic of the fact of merging traffic and that no turns at the end of the barricade are permitted.

6. The fact that the barricade separating Main Street traffic from Elm Street traffic extends beyond the point where Elm Street traffic can gain access to Stemmons Freeway.

We would, of course, appreciate any suggestions your experts may have as to how to present this material most effectively. Mr. Willens of my staff is available to discuss this with your representatives at their convenience.

Thank you for your assistance.

Craven and Miles operated a concession at the fair in Dallas during the early part of October, 1963, and Ruby became acquainted with them during this period. We previously interviewed them and they stated they had no knowledge concerning the assassination and the killing of Oswald as they had left Dallas previous to that time and that they knew of no association between Ruby and Oswald. The Commission requested that they be reinterviewed for further details of their relationship with Ruby and to determine how they came to hire Larry Crafard. It is noted that Crafard worked for Craven and Miles while at the fair in Dallas and subsequently went to work for Ruby as handyman at the Carousel Club.

DATE: 8-17-64

On August 13, 1964, Mr. Norman Redlich, President's Commission Staff, orally requested of SA Robert A. Frazier additional information concerning Oswald's 6.5 mm Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, Commission Number 139.

Mr. Redlich requested answers to the following questions:

1 - What is the meaning of the term "plunger"?
2 - Has the firing pin of the rifle replaced?
3 - Does the FBI have information concerning the availability of spare parts for rifles such as Commission Number 139?

SA Frazier advised Mr. Redlich he would furnish the answers to these questions in the near future. Briefly, the answers to these questions are as follows:

1 - The term "plunger" is a colloquial term for the firing pin of a weapon.
2 - There is no indication that the firing pin of Commission Number 139 was recently changed prior to November, 1963.
3 - The Laboratory has no record of any outlet where spare parts for rifles such as Commission Number 139 can be obtained.

General Counsel
The President's Commission

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

On August 13, 1964, Mr. Norman Redlich of your staff, orally requested of Special Agent Robert A. Frazier, FBI Laboratory, certain information concerning the assassination rifle, Commission Number 139. Mr. Redlich requested information with regard to the following questions:

1 - What is the meaning of the term "plunger"?
2 - Was the firing pin of the rifle replaced?
3 - Does the FBI have information concerning the availability of spare parts for rifles such as Commission Number 139?

You are advised that the term "plunger" is a colloquial term applied to the firing pin or striker of a firearm.

The assassination rifle has been examined and nothing was found to indicate that the firing pin had been changed.

In this connection it should be noted that the firing pin of this rifle has been used extensively as shown by wear on the nose or striking portion of the firing pin and, further, the presence of rust on the firing pin and its spring may be an indication that the firing pin had not been recently changed prior to November 22, 1963. This rust would have been disturbed had the firing pin been changed subsequent to the formation of the rust. In this regard, the firing pin and spring of this weapon are well oiled and the rust present necessarily must have formed prior to the oiling of these parts.

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

No oil has been applied to the weapon by the FBI; however, it is not known whether it was oiled by any other person having this rifle in his possession. It was noted during the examination of the firing pin that numerous shots have been fired with the weapon in its present well-oiled condition as shown by the presence of residues on the interior surfaces of the bolt and on the firing pin.

The Laboratory has no record of any outlet where spare parts, including firing pins, can be obtained for rifles such as Commission Number 139. In accordance with Mr. Redlich's telephonic request and in the absence of any indication that the firing pin of the rifle was changed, no investigative survey was conducted to ascertain whether any such outlets exist in the United States.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

SUBJECT: "RED ROSES FROM TEXAS"
BOOK BY NERIN E. GUN

Captioned book has been received from Legat, London, following publication by Frederick Muller Limited, London. This book is the English version of a book previously published in French language by Gun which had the title "The Red Roses of Dallas." Gun's book is a report on the assassination of the late President Kennedy.

The French version, "The Red Roses of Dallas," was revieved previously at the specific request of the President's Commission. Results of that review were set forth in memorandum Mr. Branigan to Mr. Sullivan dated 7/1/64 and the Bureau's comments on the various unfounded allegations by Gun were furnished to the President's Commission by letter dated 7/2/64.

The English and French versions of Gun's book have been compared and found to be identical with only a few exceptions. Photographs of the assassination scene and evidence carried in the English version do not appear in the French version. In addition, there are several minor editorial differences such as Chapter 13 in the French version having the title "The Empty Armchair" and the same chapter in the English version having the title "I Could Stay Here For Ever." The latter title refers to an alleged statement by the late President Kennedy made during a visit with Mrs. Kennedy to the Arlington National Cemetery.

While Gun, a writer of Turkish nationality, has been in the United States since the mid-1940s, wrote a complimentary article on the Bureau in the leading Italian pictorial magazine "Epoca" in February, 1964, he previously wrote in 1960 an article for a French magazine which was unfriendly to the FBI. Gun has been described as an opportunist and an individual who would help anyone who paid him.

As set forth in referenced memorandum Mr. Branigan to Mr. Sullivan dated 7/1/64, Gun has based much of his discussion of the assassination matter on speculation, confused and unreliable press accounts, disregard of and/or lack of facts, and a desire to dramatize and achieve high readership or notoriety. In both versions of his book Gun attempts to cast doubt on the so-called "official version" of the assassination and the evidence which points to Oswald's guilt as a lone assassin. The English version of the book, as the French version previously published, contains no factual information that would cause the Bureau to alter its conclusion that Oswald acted alone in the assassination of President Kennedy.

No review is being made of the English version of Gun's book for the President's Commission, inasmuch as Commission has been furnished our comments on the previously published French version which is the same as the English version with minor exceptions noted as above. Information regarding Gun was previously furnished the President's Commission by letter 7/2/64.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

In reply to your letter of August 4, 1964, enclosing a copy of a telegram to the President's Commission from Mr. Mark Lane, there are enclosed herewith two copies of the July-August, 1964, issue of "Fact" magazine.

The statement attributed by Mr. Lane to Mr. Melvin Belli concerning a Dallas Police Officer and another who sought on November 23, 1963, to have Ruby approve the idea of killing Oswald appears on page 13 of this magazine. The article quotes Mr. Belli as stating that "the cop and his girl just disappeared" and he could never locate them. Since Mr. Belli cannot identify the Dallas Policeman and the girl friend referred to by him, interview of Mr. Belli concerning this statement would not appear warranted.

As you are aware, Jack Ruby has identified the police officer and his girl friend as former Dallas Police Officer Harry Olson and Kathy Kay Coleman, a former employee of Ruby's. Interviews of Olson and Coleman and related investigation do not indicate they sought any such approval from Ruby.

NOTE:

The President's Commission in enclosing the telegram from Mark Lane requested that we conduct an appropriate investigation to include an interview with an attorney, Melvin Belli, regarding statements he was alleged to have made. We obtained copies of the article referred to by Lane, and Belli specifically states that he was never able to locate the "cop" and the girl friend whom he refers to as having spoke to Ruby on the night of 11/23/63 and tried to get him to approve the idea of having Oswald lynched. Our investigation has identified the "cop" as Harry Olson, formerly of the Dallas Police Department, and Kathy Kay Coleman, a former stripper at Ruby's club. We have interviewed Olsen and Coleman extensively concerning their alleged contact with Ruby on the night of 11/23/63 and they made no statements indicating they sought Ruby's approval for lynching Oswald. This was called to the attention of Mr. Griffin of the President's Commission who requested that we furnish copies of the article and that we not interview Belli pending receipt of a further request from the Commission.

letter to the President's Commission relating to information initiated by Martin and she is wrong again, as Cromley denies ever knowing Ruby and claims on 11-22-63, he wouldn't have known Ruby even if he saw him at the hospital. Cromley claims this rumor originated with another reporter Seth Kantor. Kantor still persists he saw and spoke with Ruby at the hospital. We have conducted extensive investigation of Kantor's claim and have never been able to substantiate it and in fact, our investigation fairly well establishes that Ruby was at another location in Dallas, making it almost impossible for him to be at the hospital. The Commission has been furnished full details on our investigation of the Kantor allegation in the above reports. No further action appears necessary.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

I inform you by this letter that Mr. McKenzie will no longer represent me after the trial (sic) has ended; all he has to do is to transfer money from one bank to another. Therefore, I request you to address me personally in the future should my services be needed by the Commission.

I do not think that I need an attorney; moreover, I cannot afford expensive lawyers, particularly when I testify before the Commission; no lawyer is necessary when one tells the truth.

I would like to request from you a copy of my testimony before the Commission. Mr. McKenzie told me that he has already requested it from you. Please send it to my address and in my name, together with a bill for expenses in connection with this. After the conclusion of the work of the Commission, I would ask you to send me all my personal belongings and those of my husband (photographs, documents, diary, clothes, etc.).

As to the rifle belonging to my husband (however, I do not know to what extent my wishes in this case would be of importance to the Commission), it is my wish that the rifle become the property of the United States Government, but not be exhibited for public view during my lifetime.

SUBJECT: NATIONAL STATES RIGHTS PARTY
RACIAL MATTERS

Our Tampa Office received information from a confidential source that Dewey M. Taft, Florida State Chairman of the National States Rights Party (NSRP) at a recent meeting indicated he was in the process of preparing an issue of the "American Digest" which would "headline the fact that Bobby Kennedy had his brother, John F. Kennedy, shot, that Ruby and Oswald were in on the deal, that they tried to kill Retired General Walker before assassinating the President."

The "American Digest" is the NSRP publication printed by Dewey M. Taft at Tampa, Florida.

The NSRP is an anti-Semitic and anti-integration hate group.

ACTION:

The information concerning Robert F. Kennedy is set forth in a report on the NSRP. Tampa has been instructed to immediately furnish that information in a letterhead memorandum in order that it may be disseminated to the President's Commission, investigating the assassination of former President Kennedy. The report containing the above information has already been furnished to the Department.

similar matters properly handled in the future.

Both offices are reminded to press this matter vigorously and insure the Bureau is promptly furnished the results of investigation so the Commission can be notified.

NOTE:

Commission by letter 8-3-64, refers to testimony of Mark Lane before Commission, in which he alleged there was meeting at Jack Ruby's Carousel Club on 11-14-63, between Bernard Weissman, J. D. Tippit and Ruby. Weissman placed controversial full page ad in Dallas newspaper prior to President Kennedy's visit. Tippit, was shot and killed by Oswald. We have investigated this allegation in the past and no proof of such meeting was developed. It appears the Commission is taking every precaution to preclude possible future criticism. Commission request requires displaying photographs of Weissman and Tippit to 6 individuals associated with the Carousel Club to insure neither were seen in the club. Four offices are engaged in locating these people. Commission was advised by letter 8-13-64, some delay may be encountered. As results are received, Commission is being advised. There are 5 more individuals to be located and interviewed as well as other investigation to be handled before this inquiry is complete. Every effort is being made to expedite this matter.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On pages 89 and 90 of the report of Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated February 11, 1964, there appear interviews with J. L. Lewis and B. M. Patterson, who were witnesses to the flight of Lee Harvey Oswald from the scene of the Tippit shooting.

The Commission plans to use these interviews as part of its published record and would like to obtain affidavits from the individuals that these interviews represent a correct report of what the witnesses saw on November 22. We request that your Bureau contact these individuals, make these interview reports available for review by said individuals and secure affidavits from these individuals as set forth above. These may be similar to the affidavits which you have obtained from Harold Russell, Robert Brock and Mary Brock as requested in our letter of July 31, 1963.

Your continued cooperation in the work of the Commission is appreciated.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to our letter of June 18, 1964, wherein we transmitted to the Commission two photographic copies of a work order of the Texas Employment Commission, Fort Worth, Texas, concerning Lee Harvey Oswald. This work order disclosed that Oswald was sent by the Texas Employment Commission to the Louv-R-Pak Division of Leslie Welding Company, Fort Worth, Texas, to make an application for a job with that Company.

Pursuant to the telephonic request of Miss Peters of your staff on August 20, 1964, there are enclosed two additional photographic copies of the aforementioned work order. This exhibit carries our identification D-227.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letters dated July 30, 1964, and August 5, 1964, requesting comparison of the shirt being worn by Lee Harvey Oswald in two photographs designated as Gerald L. Hill Exhibits A and B and a photograph appearing on page 26 of the December 14, 1963, issue of the Saturday Evening Post, designated Yarborough Exhibit A, with the shirt which is Commission Exhibit 150.

It has been determined that the shirt being worn by Lee Harvey Oswald in the photograph appearing on page 26 of the December 14, 1963, issue of the Saturday Evening Post (Yarborough Exhibit A) is the same shirt as Commission Exhibit 150. It was not determined whether the shirt being worn by Lee Harvey Oswald in Gerald L. Hill Exhibits A and B is the same shirt as Commission Exhibit 150 because there is insufficient detail in these photographs to warrant a positive identification. It is pointed out that the original color slides from which the Gerald L. Hill Exhibits A and B were made have not been located; however, a duplicate color slide of the original color photograph of Gerald L. Hill Exhibit B shows that the shirt being worn by Oswald in this photograph is the same color and fabric design as the shirt that is Commission Exhibit 150.

This completes your requests set out in letters dated July 30, 1964, and August 5, 1964. Yarborough Exhibit A and Gerald L. Hill Exhibits A and B are attached.

SYNOPSIS:

A copyright story by Dorothy Kilgallen appeared in the "New York Journal-American," August 13, 1964, which purported to give a word for word account of Ruby's testimony before Chief Justice Warren and representatives of the President's Commission at the Dallas County Jail on June 7, 1964. Mr. J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission telephonically contacted Malley 8/20/64 and advised him that the seven members of the President's Commission had requested that he, Rankin, make a specific request of the FBI to conduct an investigation in an effort to determine how the transcript of Ruby's testimony before the President's Commission on June 7, 1964, came into possession of Dorothy Kilgallen and the "New York Journal-American" Mr. Rankin will confirm this request in writing.

ACTION:

In view of the specific request made by the President's Commission, Dallas and New York are being instructed by teletype attached to expeditiously conduct the desired investigation.

BACKGROUND:

On June 7, 1964, Chief Justice Warren and members of the President's Commission proceeded to Dallas where they interviewed Ruby in the Dallas County Jail. Present at this interview in addition to the Chief Justice were Congressman Gerald R. Ford; Chief Counsel J. Lee Rankin, Elmer W. Moore, special agent of the Secret Service; Joseph A. Ball, staff counsel; Arlen Specter; Robert G. Storey, counsel; Leon Jaworski, counsel; Jim Bowie, Assistant District Attorney; Joe M. Tonahill; Sheriff Bill Decker; E. A. Holman, Chief Jailer; Orville Smith, Deputy Sheriff; and Helen Laidrich, a court reporter who recorded the interview for the Commission.

Memorandum to Mr. DeLoach
RE: [illegible]

The Bureau took no part whatever in setting up this interview and no Bureau personnel were present when the interview was conducted. During the course of the interview Ruby reportedly insisted that he be given a polygraph examination and the Chief Justice assured him that this would be done. The Bureau was subsequently requested by the Commission to conduct the polygraph examination. We advised the Commission in writing of the pitfalls, legal and otherwise, connected with affording Ruby a polygraph examination under the circumstances and that to do so would be contrary to standard Bureau procedures controlling the use of the polygraph but stated that we would conduct the polygraph examination if the Chief Justice still desired us to do so.

On July 13, 1964, at the Commission's request we conducted the polygraph examination. Immediately thereafter stories appeared in the Dallas papers setting forth questions which had been asked of Ruby and also his answers and by letter dated July 30, 1964, the Commission requested that we conduct an investigation to determine how these questions and answers came into possession of the newspapers. The investigation has been conducted and the results submitted to the Commission by letter dated 8/19/64 with the exception of the interview of the court reporter who recorded the polygraph examination who is currently on vacation in Nassau, Bahamas. She will be interviewed promptly when available. The investigation resulted in denial by all persons contacted that they had divulged the information to news media and officials of the newspaper who printed the story refused to divulge the source of their information.

It is noted that a transcript of the interview of Ruby on June 7, 1964, was made available to the Bureau headquarters for the purpose of assisting us in preparing the necessary questions for the polygraph examination which was later afforded Ruby on 7/18/64. This transcript has not been reviewed by or furnished to any field office or anyone outside of Bureau headquarters.

The Washington Post and Times Herald for 8/19/64, on page 3, contains an article captioned "Ruby's Secret Testimony to Warren Given Word for Word in N. Y. Paper." The article states that Jack Ruby has been quoted from purported actual word-by-word testimony before the Warren Commission as insisting he killed Lee Harvey Oswald on the spur of the moment last November 24.

The story is referred to as coming from a copyright of the story by New York Journal-American columnist Dorothy Kilgallen. It appeared in the New York Journal-American on 8/18/64. The newspaper account states that J. Lee Rankin, Chief Counsel of the Warren Commission, said that the Ruby transcript did not come out of the Commission.

While at the President's Commission on 8/18/64, Mr. Rankin mentioned to Malley that Dorothy Kilgallen's column in the New York Journal-American was supposed to have a verbatim story of the interview that took place between Chief Justice Warren and Jack Ruby. Mr. Rankin advised that he had not, at the time of the conversation, obtained a copy of the New York Journal-American article. During this conversation Mr. Rankin mentioned that in addition to the Chief Justice and himself, other members of the staff were present as were defense attorneys of Ruby and representatives of the District Attorney's Office in Dallas. Mr. Rankin made no comment as to whether or not a copy of the transcript of the interview which took place in Dallas on June 7, 1964, had been furnished to either the District Attorney or to the defense attorneys.

Concerning the interview on July 18, 1964, when Ruby was afforded a polygraph examination, following which stories appeared in the Dallas papers and other publications setting forth numerous questions which were asked of Ruby and his answers, Mr. Rankin stated that following the typing of this interview the transcripts were made available to the defense attorneys in connection with their request for same. He did not volunteer and he was not asked whether or not the District Attorney's office had received a copy of this transcript.

Memo to Mr. Belmont from A. Rosen
Re: Jack L. Ruby

It is noted that the President's Commission made available to the Bureau a copy of the transcript relating to the June 7 interview which was had by the Chief Justice with Ruby. This transcript reflects that the interview was conducted by Chief Justice Warren; Congressman Gerald R. Ford; Chief Counsel J. Lee Rankin; Elmer W. Moore, special agent of the Secret Service; Joseph H. Ball, staff counsel; Arlen Specter; Robert G. Storey, counsel; Leon Jaworski, counsel; Jim Bowie, Assistant District Attorney; Joe H. Tonahill; Sheriff Bill Decker; E. L. Holman, Chief Jailer; Orville Smith, Deputy Sheriff; and Helen Laidrich, reporter (court). This transcript was made available to the Bureau headquarters in order that the Bureau would be in a position to prepare necessary questions for an appropriate polygraph examination of Ruby.

Mr. Rankin did not indicate that any action would be taken relative to this disclosure which appeared in the New York Journal-American. He commented that it was not possible to control what action would be taken concerning such a transcript once it reached the hands of the defense attorneys.

Submitted for information.

Ruby's Secret Testimony to Warren Given Word for Word in N.Y. Paper

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP) Jack Ruby has been quoted from purported actual word-by-word testimony before the Warren Commission as insisting he killed Lee Harvey Oswald on the spur of the moment last Nov. 24.

In a copyrighted story today by New York Journal-American columnist Dorothy Kilgallen, Ruby is quoted as having told Chief Justice Earl Warren during interrogation last June 7:

"I was never malicious toward this person. No one else requested me to do anything. I never spoke to anyone about attempting to do anything. No subversive organization gave me any idea. No underworld persons made any effort to contact me.

[The office of J. Lee Rankin, chief counsel to the Warren Commission, said in Washington that the Ruby transcript "did not come out of the Commission."]

Ruby stepped out of a crowd of newsmen and onlookers in the basement of Dallas Police Headquarters on Sunday, Nov. 24, and fired a single fatal bullet into Oswald, who had been formally charged as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Condemned to death by a Dallas jury last March 14, Ruby is now being held in the Dallas County Jail pending an appeal of his conviction. Chief Justice Warren interviewed him there June 7 in connection with his investigation into all phases of the presidential assassination.

The next day, the Associated Press quoted a reliable source as saying that Ruby testified at the time that he had no connection with Oswald before he shot him.

As early as last December, it became known that the FBI and cooperating state, Federal and local authorities had concluded that Oswald was the solitary and unaided assassin.

Miss Kilgallen said in her Journal-American story that she obtained the actual transcript of Warrens interview with Ruby "from sources close to the Warren Commission in Washington."

Most of the first installment of the transcript covered the period from Mr. Kennedy's assassination in midday of Nov. 22 to early the next morning. Ruby's account of his activities during that period tallied closely with testimony introduced at his trial.

By letter dated August 17, 1964, J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission referred a letter addressed to himself from Mrs. Marina Oswald dated August 14, 1964, and requested that it be translated from the Russian language.

Mrs. Oswald's letter informed that Mr. McKenzie will no longer represent her, and that she be addressed personally should her services be needed by the Commission. She requested that she be furnished with a transcript of her testimony before the Commission and that her belongings, as well as those of her husband, be sent to her upon the conclusion of the Commission's work. She concluded by asserting that the rifle should become the property of the U. S. Government, but asks that it not be exhibited for public view during her lifetime.

Honorable J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President's Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, N. E.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated July 7, 1964, requesting additional examination of the mark appearing on the curbing on the south side of Main Street near the triple underpass at the assassination site in Dallas, Texas. This mark was located and was found to be 23 feet, 4 inches from the abutment of the triple underpass. The laboratory comparison of the mark as it now appears with the photographs made by James Underwood, newsman for KRLD-TV in Dallas, and Tom Dillard, a photographer for the Dallas Morning News, establishes they are photographs of this same mark. Four copies of the results of the interviews with Mr. Underwood and Mr. Dillard are attached.

In response to your inquiry, assuming that a bullet shot from the sixth floor window of the Texas School Book Depository Building struck the curb on the south side of Main Street at the location of the mark described above and assuming it passed directly over the President, the bullet would have passed over the President at approximately frame 410 on the Zapruder film. This is 97 frames after the shot that struck the President in the head which is frame 313. At 18.3 frames per second, this represents a lapse of time of 5.3 seconds between frame 313 and frame 410. Based on a direct shot from the sixth floor window to the curb on Main Street, this bullet would have passed over the center of Elm Street at an elevation of about 18 feet from the street level. It is noted that in frame 410 of the Zapruder film, Mrs. Kennedy has returned to the seat beside the President and Secret Service Agent Hill is about midway from the back bumper to the President crawling across the trunk lid.

The piece of curbing containing the mark was removed on August 5, 1964, and examined in the FBI Laboratory. This curbing has been designated as Item C321 by the Laboratory. Small foreign metal smears were found adhering to the curbing section within the area of the mark. These metal smears were spectrographically determined to be essentially lead with a trace of antimony. No copper was found. The lead could have originated from the lead core of a mutilated metal-jacketed bullet such as the type of bullet loaded into 6.5 millimeter Mannlicher-Carcano cartridges or from some other source having the same composition.

The absence of copper precludes the possibility that the mark on the curbing section was made by an unmutilated military-type full metal-jacketed bullet such as the bullet from Governor Connally's stretcher, C1, or the bullet or bullets represented by the jacket fragments, C2 and C3, found in the Presidential limousine. Further, the damage to the curbing would have been much more extensive if a rifle bullet had struck the curbing without first having struck some other object. Therefore, this mark could not have been made by the first impact of a high velocity rifle bullet.

It was also determined from a microscopic study that the lead object that struck the curbing causing the mark was moving in a general direction away from the Texas School Book Depository Building. Assuming this mark was made by a fragment of a bullet from the assassin's rifle, the evidence present is insufficient to establish whether it was caused by a fragment of a bullet striking the occupants of the Presidential limousine, such as the bullet that struck the President's head, or whether it is a fragment of a shot that may have missed the Presidential limousine.

This completes the request in your letter dated July 7, 1964. The piece of curbing is available in the FBI Laboratory. A photograph of the mark on the curbing before removal and a photograph of the curbing after removal are attached.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On June 30, 1964, you forwarded to the Commission two photographs obtained by your Dallas office from James Underwood, a newsman with KRLD-TV in Dallas. Enclosed herewith is a photograph forwarded to the Commission from Martha Joe Stroud, Assistant United States Attorney in Dallas. We are also enclosing a copy of a letter from Miss Stroud indicating the conditions under which this photograph was obtained.

Since the photographs taken by Underwood purport to indicate the exact point on the curb where this niche is located, we request that your Bureau perform the following investigatory steps:

(1) Using either the model of the assassination scene or a diagram, please trace the path which a missile would have taken if it traveled from the sixth floor southeast corner window to the point on the curb indicated in these photographs, and then advise us of the approximate frame in the Zapruder film which would correspond to the point at which this missile would have passed over the President's car.

(2) We would like an analysis made of this mark on the curb to determine whether there are any lead deposits there or any other evidence upon which a conclusion can be reached as to whether this mark was caused by the striking of a bullet.

(3) Please determine whether the photograph forwarded to us by Miss Stroud is a photograph of the same curb mark represented in the Underwood photograph. We suggest that Tom Dillard of the Dallas Morning News be shown the spot on the curb from which the Underwood photograph was taken in order to determine whether the two men had photographed the same mark.

The President's Commission has requested further investigation regarding the nick in the curb along the south curb of Main Street as shown in the photographs you submitted with airtel 6/16/64. Copies of the Commission letter and the photographs you submitted are attached for your guidance. There is also attached a copy of a letter to the Commission from Assistant United States Attorney, Martha Joe Stroud, Dallas, Texas, and an accompanying photograph of a nick in the curb taken by Tom Dillard of the Dallas Morning News on 11/22/63.

You should first attempt to locate the nick in the curb and sutel the Bureau whether or not you can locate it. Since the nick area, if located, will be analyzed spectrographically in the Laboratory, you are cautioned not to clean the curb area or otherwise make any alterations that would effect such a Laboratory examination. If the nick is located, you will be furnished detailed instructions regarding photographs to be made before removal of this portion of the curbing as well as instructions for removal after the pictures are made. You should determine through contact with appropriate Dallas officials whether or not there is any objection to the removal of a portion of the curbing. For the spectrographic examination, it will be necessary to have the nick and the curbing approximately four to six inches around it intact. The amount of curbing removed beyond this will be determined by the method of removal that is used in order to retain the pertinent area intact.

To locate the nick in the curb on the south side of Main Street, you should use the photograph made by Mr. Underwood taken from the nick toward the sixth floor window of the Texas School Book Depository Building (TSBDB). If you move along the south curb of Main Street until all objects in view are aligned as they are in the picture, that point should be within inches of the nick in the curb providing Mr. Underwood actually made the picture from the nick as he stated. The best guide to use initially is the lamp post between the two buildings on the right side of the photograph. After that is aligned, other objects can be checked such as the sign on the left and its relation to the steps and the TSBDB as well as the lamp posts on the north side of Elm Street and their relation to specific areas of the TSBDB. Sutel results of efforts to locate the nick on the curb.

The photographers, James Underwood and Tom Dillard, may be of assistance to you in locating the nick in the curb. In this regard, you should interview both photographers and submit letterhead memoranda in compliance with Item 3 of the attached letter from the Commission. For your further information, Item 1 of the Commission's letter is being handled by the Laboratory. Item 2 will be handled by the Laboratory depending upon whether or not the nick in the curb can be located after which you will be furnished further instructions relative to submission of the piece of curbing. The Laboratory will also make a comparison of photographs to be made after the nick is located, with photographs made by Underwood and Dillard as requested in Item 3.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

In her deposition before a Commission staff member, Mrs. Wanda Yvonne Helmick stated that on Saturday night, November 23, at about 9:00 p.m. or later, she overheard Ralph Paul receive a telephone call from Jack Ruby in which Paul made a remark about Ruby's possessing a gun and was heard to exclaim "Are you crazy!" According to Mrs. Helmick, Paul repeated the substance of that conversation to various employees of the Bull Pen Drive-In shortly after Ruby shot Oswald. Mrs. Helmick further recalled that Paul may have mentioned that he saw Ruby Saturday night.

The Commission would appreciate your conducting the following investigation:

1. Please interview a woman whose first name is Rose (cashier at the Bull Pen Drive-In on November 23) and Bull Pen waitresses named Toyo (a Japanese girl believed to have an American last name and perhaps living in Grand Prairie, Texas), Bonnie (LNU), Curly (LNU), and Joe (described by Mrs. Helmick as a blond female car hop).

2. In addition to ascertaining from the above persons whether or not they heard the telephone call and conversation related by Mrs. Helmick, please also inquire whether or not Ralph Paul is referred to by any of the employees as Johnnie and if not please determine which employee is Johnnie and interview him concerning the telephone call Mrs. Helmick alleges was received by Ralph Paul.

3. Please also ask the above persons whether or not they saw Bruce Carlin, Little Lynn, or Tammi True at the Bull Pen Drive-In Saturday night, November 23, or the following day.

In your letter you requested we interview Officer G. M. Tippit of the Dallas Police Department to determine the extent of his relationship, if any, with Jack Ruby. For your information, Officer G. M. Tippit was interviewed on December 16, 1963, by Agents of this Bureau regarding his relationship with Jack Ruby. The report of this interview is recorded on Page 153 of the Dallas report of Special Agent Manning C. Clements dated December 19, 1963, captioned "Jack L. Ruby, aka.; Lee Harvey Oswald, aka. - Victim, (Deceased); Civil Rights." For your convenience, the ReBulets to the Commission dated 8-13-64 and 8-25-64, copies of which were furnished to Dallas.

For the information of Dallas, the only other outstanding lead is the reinterview of Curtis LaVerne Crafard by the Portland division. This matter must receive close and continuous attention.

NOTE: Commission by let 8-3-64, refers to testimony of Mark Lane before Commission, in which he alleged there was meeting at Jack Ruby's Carousel Club on 11-14-63, between Bernard Weissman, J. D. Tippit and Ruby. Weissman placed controversial full page ad in DL newspaper prior to President Kennedy's visit. Tippit, was shot and killed by Oswald. We have investigated this allegation in the past and no proof of such meeting was developed. It appears the Commission is taking every precaution to preclude possible future criticism. Commission request requires displaying photographs of Weissman and Tippit to 6 individuals associated with the Carousel Club to insure neither were seen in the club. The Portland Division is being followed separately to insure the reinterview is handled at the earliest possible time. When Portland results are received and the Commission is advised, it will conclude our inquiries in this particular matter.

NOTE:

By letter dated 8/11/64 the Commission requested reinterview of Robert L. Norton who is the owner of Pago Club, Dallas, Texas, which was visited by Ruby on the night of 11/23/63 as established by previous investigation. Wanda Helmick was a waitress at the drive-in operated by Ralph Paul, a close associate of Ruby's. She reportedly wrote a letter to her sister-in-law Rosemary Helmick wherein she thought she had mentioned Ralph Paul's end of a telephonic conversation with Ruby which she had overheard on the night of 11/23/63. Rosemary Helmick did not recall receiving such a letter from Wanda but furnished a letter wherein Wanda made mention of Ruby's trial.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated August 20, 1964, concerning the publication of excerpts from Lee Harvey Oswald's diary in "The Dallas Morning News" and "Life" magazine.

During the course of our investigation in this matter, an allegation was made that Congressman Gerald R. Ford of the President's Commission leaked information concerning the diary to news media.

As a result of this allegation, Congressman Ford indicated his desire to be officially interviewed. On August 17, 1964, Congressman Ford was interviewed by a representative of this Bureau. He said he desired to unequivocally state, and to furnish a signed statement if necessary, that he did not leak the information in question.

Congressman Ford confirmed the fact he did previously talk with representatives of "Life" magazine and further stated that under no circumstances had he given "Life" representatives any information concerning Oswald's diary.

NOTE: We have conducted extensive investigation regarding the leak of Oswald's diary to news media. The Commission has been furnished two reports regarding this matter and the results of our Laboratory examination which concluded the copy of Oswald's diary in possession of "Life" magazine originated from the Office of the Dallas County Attorney. William F. Alexander, Assistant County Attorney in Dallas alleged Congressman Ford of the President's Commission leaked the information to news media. This allegation was completely erroneous and when this information was brought to the attention of Congressman Ford, he requested to be interviewed for the record. Congressman Ford was interviewed by Mr. C. D. DeLoach, see memo C. D. DeLoach to Mr. Mohr dated 8-24-64, which now concludes our inquiries into this matter as our investigation indicates the leak originated from the Dallas County Attorney's Office and not by any Federal agency or the President's Commission.

The President's Commission by letter 6/5/64 advised that former Sheriff Steve Guthrie of Dallas and Lt. Butler of Dallas PD had made conflicting statements as to why Ruby left Chicago to come to Dallas. Guthrie and Butler conducted an investigation of crime conditions in Dallas in 1947 and 1948 and Guthrie indicated that Ruby was connected with the gambling element and came to Dallas to operate a gambling establishment for a syndicate. Commission requested that we locate and review some recordings allegedly made during the investigation to determine if Ruby's name was ever mentioned or indexed in connection with the investigation. Extensive investigation has been conducted to locate the desired material and the Commission was advised of progress by letters of July 16 and August 5. We reviewed the recordings and transcripts of the recordings made by the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations but Ruby's name was not mentioned.

There is being returned herewith the letter to you from Mrs. Samuel D. Ruby dated August 18, 1964, which was furnished to this Bureau by your office on August 22, 1964. The FBI has never at any time placed or caused to be placed a monitoring device or so-called "wire tap" on the telephone line of Samuel D. Ruby or Mrs. Eva Grant, the brother and sister of Jack L. Ruby, nor have we placed or caused to be placed any such device on the telephone lines of any other members of Jack L. Ruby's family.

It is suggested that you may wish to advise Mrs. Samuel D. Ruby that the FBI has never at any time monitored any calls or conversations of Samuel D. Ruby or any other members of the Ruby family and that she may desire to contact the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and have them check her lines to determine if a monitoring device is attached thereto. I am sure the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company would be willing to perform this service for her.

For your information, a complete check of the telephone lines of Samuel D. Ruby and Mrs. Eva Grant was conducted by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company on August 25, 1964, and no evidence was located to indicate that any monitoring device has ever been used on either of the telephone lines.

Inasmuch as the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy has an interest in Jack L. Ruby, I am taking the liberty of forwarding to the President's Commission for its information a copy of Mrs. Samuel D. Ruby's communication and a copy of this letter.

NOTE:

Mrs. Samuel D. Ruby, who is the wife of Ruby's brother Samuel, in a letter to the Attorney General dated August 18, 1964, stated that she and her husband had become increasingly aware that their telephone was tapped. She said she did not mind the FBI or other branches of the Federal Government monitoring their calls but laboring under this handicap it was harmful to her husband's business and creating a nerve-racking situation and an invasion of privacy. The aid of the Attorney General was requested. She also stated that Ruby's sister, Eva Grant's, phone was also tapped. The Bureau has never at any time maintained a telephone tap on Ruby, any of his relatives or anyone else in connection with the Ruby investigation or otherwise. At our request the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company checked the lines of Samuel Ruby and Eva Grant on 8/25/64 and stated that there was no evidence to indicate that there had ever been a tap on either of these lines. In view of the interest of the President's Commission in Jack Ruby, a copy of Mrs. Ruby's letter along with our reply is being furnished to the President's Commission.

The President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy has requested that an investigation be conducted to determine how a transcript of the Commission's interview with Jack L. Ruby came into the possession of Dorothy Kilgallen and the "New York Journal-American."

Joseph Kingsbury-Smith, Publisher of the "New York Journal-American", on August 21, 1964, advised that previous to that date, he asked Dorothy Kilgallen to identify the source who furnished her the transcript of Jack Ruby's interview by the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy. Mr. Smith stated that Miss Kilgallen refused to reveal her source, but did indicate to him that the source was someone inside the Commission who was a friend of hers of long standing.

Mr. Smith stated that he questioned Miss Kilgallen thoroughly and she told him that she would stake her reputation on the fact the transcript of Ruby's interview definitely was not stolen, not bought and nothing illegal was done in obtaining it. Miss Kilgallen told Mr. Smith that she would give her word of honor on this point. Mr. Smith stated that on the basis of the above facts, the Journal-American's attorneys decided that publication of the Ruby transcript did not violate the law since the President's Commission was not conducting a trial and was not trying Ruby. According to Mr. Smith, the attorneys for the newspaper said the transcript could be regarded as a journalistic matter.

ENCLOSURE

Joseph Kingsbury-Smith
Dorothy Kilgallen

Dorothy Kilgallen was interviewed on August 21, 1964, at her Town House located at 45 East 68th Street, New York, New York.

Miss Kilgallen stated that she refused to reveal the source who gave her the transcript of the Jack Ruby interview by the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy.

Miss Kilgallen stated that she would identify the source only as a "responsible person who had a legal right to the transcript." She stated that she was the only person who knew the identity of the source and that she "would die" rather than reveal his identity. Miss Kilgallen said that she based her refusal to identify her source on the right of a newspaper reporter to protect his sources of information.

Miss Kilgallen specifically was asked whether or not the source was a member of the President's Commission itself or a staff member or employee. She refused to answer.

Miss Kilgallen specifically was asked if the source was someone not on the Commission, such as Ruby's defense counsel or someone else who was present during the interview or who might legally have received a copy of the transcript. She refused to answer.

Miss Kilgallen also said that she would refuse to give the date on which she received the Ruby transcript and would refuse to identify the city in which she obtained it.

Miss Kilgallen did state that her source was a man and not a woman. She said her source is a friend of hers of long standing. She stated that the source gave her the transcript as a "friendly gesture."

Joseph Kingsbury-Smith
Dorothy Kilgallen

Miss Kilgallen stated that she would swear that the transcript was not stolen and nothing illegal was done in obtaining it. She stated that she did not pay money for the transcript and did not give or promise her source anything else of value in exchange for the transcript.

Miss Kilgallen refused to say if she first approached the source or if the source first approached her about the transcript.

She stated this source gave her a typed transcript of the Ruby interview. She kept the transcript several days and had copies made including photostats. Miss Kilgallen then gave the transcript back to her source.

Miss Kilgallen recalled from memory that the transcript she received was numbered from Page 1 to Page 103. She said that one page was missing. She believes the missing page was numbered 59, otherwise the transcript appeared to be complete. Page 103 of the transcript was a notarized statement from the stenographer who was present during the interview.

Miss Kilgallen stated the "New York Journal-American" does not know the identity of her source and in fact, she told the newspaper less than she told the interviewing agents.

Miss Kilgallen did not furnish any other information of value. She stated that she is the only person who knows the identity of her source and she will never reveal it.

Miss Kilgallen volunteered to go to Washington, D.C. to testify on this matter before the President's Commission. She emphasized, however, that she also will refuse to identify her source to the Commission or anyone else. She stated that regardless of the consequences, she will never identify the source to anyone.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

This will confirm your conversation of August 20, 1964, with Mr. J. R. Malley of this Bureau wherein you requested that the Federal Bureau of Investigation conduct an investigation to determine how the transcript of Jack L. Ruby's testimony before the President's Commission on June 7, 1964, came into possession of Dorothy Kilgallen and the "New York Journal-American."

Enclosed herewith are two copies of a memorandum dated August 24, 1964, at New York City setting forth the results of interviews with Joseph Kingsbury-Smith, publisher of the "New York Journal-American," and Dorothy Kilgallen on August 21, 1964.

In the absence of a specific request from the President's Commission, no effort will be made to conduct interviews of Commission members or its staff or to conduct any other indicated investigation within the confines of the authority of the Commission over its personnel and activities, as it is felt that the Commission itself may wish to resolve any such matters.

The investigation as requested is continuing and you will be promptly advised of the results.

Mr. Rankin of the Commission telephonically contacted Mr. Malley 8/20/64, and requested that we conduct an investigation to determine how Kilgallen and the "Journal-American" obtained this transcript. Kingsbury-Smith, publisher of the "Journal-American", said he had questioned Kilgallen before printing the article and that she had assured him that the transcript came into her possession legally but would not reveal her source. Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated August 20, 1964, relating to Mrs. Mark E. Martin of Hominy, Oklahoma.

Enclosed for your information are two copies each of four communications furnished our Kansas City Office by Mr. Donald Janson, Correspondent of "The New York Times" at Kansas City, Missouri. These communications all bear the name of Mrs. Mark E. Martin, Hominy, Oklahoma.

A communication containing substantially the same information as the enclosure dated July 17, 1964, was enclosed with my letter to you dated July 29, 1964. The enclosure dated July 22, 1964, was furnished to you with my letter dated July 28, 1964. The other two enclosed communications have not been previously furnished to you by this Bureau.

Your attention is directed to the enclosure addressed to Mr. Bishop, specifically paragraph five, wherein it is alleged an unidentified Dallas female had been threatened by the FBI with economic reprisal if this individual held any further conversations with New York Attorney Mark Lane. It is also alleged Lee Harvey Oswald's associate Nelson Delgado was pressured by the FBI.

SEE NOTE PAGE THREE

79 AUG 27 1964

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

In a letter to you dated June 18, 1964, the allegation concerning Mr. Delgado's being "pressured" by the FBI was fully discussed and it was pointed out there was no basis for Mr. Delgado's assertion. I have been further advised that none of the personnel in our Dallas Office ever threatened anyone with economic reprisal. Therefore, it is apparent this allegation is completely unfounded.

It is possible the unidentified Dallas female is Mrs. Jean Lollis Hill. On page forty-five of the Dallas report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated April 15, 1964, it was reported that Mrs. Hill during interview on March 13, 1964, stated that about a month earlier she had been telephonically interviewed by Mr. Lane. Mrs. Hill stated after reading Mr. Lane's statements regarding this conversation she was of the opinion Mr. Lane had taken some of her remarks out of context, changed the meaning of her replies, had not used her full answers and misquoted her. Further, in my letter dated April 29, 1964, I furnished you a communication from our Dallas Office wherein Mrs. Hill reported that on the afternoon of April 22, 1964, she was telephonically contacted by an unidentified woman in Oklahoma who persisted in questioning her about the assassination and made some reference to Mr. Mark Lane a New York Attorney. Mrs. Hill stated this conversation concluded with the unknown woman stating she was only trying to be friendly with Mrs. Hill, as Mrs. Hill might later need a friend.

The above is being furnished in view of your prior interest in Mrs. Martin.

Sincerely yours,

ReBuairtel to Dallas and Kansas City 8-17-64 and Dallas airtel 8-19-64.

The above is being furnished for your information.

NOTE:

KClet 8-10-64, furnished Bureau with the 4 lets authored by Martin. Janson who furnished these lets to KC stated he is apparently on the mailing list of Martin. This is our 24th let to the Commission on Martin who is the subject of SAC Letter 64-23 (B) dated 4-28-64, based on her continuing prolific letter writing campaign to vilify the Director and the FBI. She has been described as a "bright nut" and since the assassination has been conducting her own investigation endeavoring to show Oswald is innocent. She apparently has been associated in some degree with Mark Lane, the oft married New York Attorney [redacted] and who has been associated with communist dominated organizations. In one of these lets not previously disseminated to the President's Commission Martin implies Oswald's diary was "intentionally leaked" and that even after reading it she does not feel it disclosed anything of pertinence to the Commission's investigation. In the other let she made several allegations which are completely unfounded and which are answered in our current let to the Commission. The communication regarding Nelson Delgado can be found in 105-82555-4148. Delgado is a proven opportunist and liar. These communications are being furnished to the Commission in line with similar prior dissemination of Martin's works.

Memorandum

TO : Mr. DeLoach

DATE: August 3, 1964

FROM : M. A. Jones

SUBJECT: PROPOSED FOREIGN TELEVISION PROGRAM
ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY
UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY (USIA)

You will recall that in your (Mr. DeLoach's) memorandum to Mr. Mohr on /20/64 you advised that Ann Shafer of the Television Division of the USIA called and spoke o Inspector Kemper to inform him that her organization was preparing a television show of 30 minutes duration to be released after the Warren Commission report is made. The tele- ision show would be designed for foreign consumption and would set forth the results of the eport and attempt to clarify the situation as far as foreign outlets were concerned.

At that time, Miss Shafer stated they would like to show the role of the FBI in he Commission's investigation, particularly in regard to laboratory matters. This would ntail a shot in the ballistics section, as well as some other shots in the FBI Laboratory, o illustrate this phase of the report. She also desired several shots of Agents interviewing ersons, both inside and outside. Regarding this request for assistance, Mr. Tolson noted, "I think we should stay out of this until Warren report is issued." The Director concurred. We so firmly advised Miss Shafer. She, nevertheless, stated that a script had already been nailed to us and that she would appreciate our taking a look at it.

CURRENT DEVELOPMENTS:

We now have received the television script (attached) proposed for use in this elevision program on the assassination. USIA has advised that the Commission has pledged ts support in this matter, and they hope to proceed with the filming in the near future.

The script has been reviewed and it is far from complete as to the actual ialogue to be recorded. On pages 19, 21 and 26 various scenes are noted wherein USIA would like to show films as follows:

PAGE 19: Sequence of shots of FBI and State Police officials entering Commission offices.

M. A. Jones to DeLoach Memo
RE: Proposed Foreign Television Program on the Assassination of President Kennedy

PAGE 26: Film showing a fingerprint expert displaying fingerprint records. It is noted that this will entail a narration by the fingerprint expert according to the script.

The script does not contain a great deal directly relating to the FBI. However, on page 40 the narrator will ask the question, "Another question on security... Is it true the FBI had Oswald on its suspicious list - actually questioned his wife a few days before the assassination? If so, why wasn't he watched during the President's stay in Dallas?" No narration is listed thereafter, but it will be recorded during the filming. This, of course, is a question which is quite ticklish, and we should make every effort to assure that the FBI is represented in a favorable light in this regard.

OBSERVATIONS:

Inasmuch as the Warren Commission has pledged its support to USIA in the production of this television show, it is felt the Bureau should cooperate in this matter in order to protect our own interests. Every effort should be made to assure that the Bureau is presented in a favorable light in this most complex matter, and our cooperation in the production should enable us to exert some control. If our cooperation is withheld, we will have no opportunity whatsoever to have any voice in how we are portrayed.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That Inspector James Malley take this matter up with Mr. Rankin before any decision is made to cooperate in this program.

OK

(2) That Miss Shafer be informed of our decision following determination in (1) above.

Shaneyfelt this morning and advised him that he had set Tuesday, September 1, 1964, at 9:00 a.m., as the time to take a deposition from him regarding various examinations that he had made since last testifying before the Commission. Mr. Redlich stated that he would send a confirmatory letter to the Bureau regarding this testimony. He pointed out that he would like testimony on the following matters:

The identification of a photograph made of the alley(made in the back of General Walker's house)that was obtained from Oswald's possessions with the Duo-Reflex camera obtained from Oswald's possessions. (Bulet to Commission 6/9/64).

The identification of the papers held by Oswald in the photograph in which he is holding two papers and a rifle as being the March 24, 1963, issue of "The Worker " and the March 11, 1963, issue of "The Militant." (Bulet to Commission 6/29/64).

The examination of a photograph made by Mr. Phil Willis that purports to show the photograph of the President's limousine at the instant the first shot was fired. (Bulet to Commission 6/29/64).

Examination of the retouching on the original Life Magazine photograph of Oswald holding the rifle that was used by them to prepare the cover for the 2/21/64 issue. (Bulet to Commission 7/22/64).

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, aka.
IS - R - C

At the request of J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel, President's Commission, Mr. Sebastian F. Latona, Latent Fingerprint Section, Identification Division, and Malley met with Mr. Rankin, Mr. James Wesley Liebeler and Mr. Burt Griffin at the Commission office today.

Mr. Rankin advised that the members of the President's Commission were rather anxious to try to resolve a question that existed relative to the palm prints and latent fingerprints that had been developed on four cartons that were located on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository Building in the area of the window from which it is believed Oswald shot President Kennedy.

Mr. Rankin advised that the Commission had received from the Bureau a number of pieces of correspondence concerning this matter wherein it was set forth that Oswald's prints had been found among the latent fingerprints and palm prints located on the cartons but they were concerned over the identity of the latent prints which had not been identified. He commented that the Bureau had obtained prints for elimination purposes from the employees of the Texas School Book Depository Building which Mr. Truly, the manager, believed might logically have a reason to have been in the area of these boxes. Mr. Rankin commented that Truly had strenuously objected to all of his personnel being printed at that time due to the loss of work being sustained by his company.

Mr. Rankin stated that the situation now exists where the Commission has not resolved the identity of these prints and it leaves room for the allegation and speculation that Oswald had a co-conspirator in killing President Kennedy. For this reason Mr. Rankin desired the Bureau to attempt to resolve this issue by whatever additional investigation was necessary, fully realizing the scope of the investigation that might be necessary.

Mr. Rankin stated that he would appreciate the Bureau's making an effort to obtain Mr. Truly's permission to print all of the employees of his company for elimination purposes. He advised that in the event there were any objections on Truly's part he would appreciate being told so that either he, Mr. Rankin, or Chief Justice Warren could contact Mr. Truly to advise him of the importance of this matter to the Commission in order to obtain his full cooperation.

JBM:job (6) SEP 17 1964

CONTINUED - OVER

A detailed letter is being prepared by Mr. Rankin's office outlining the investigation that is desired and will be sent to the Bureau as soon as it is ready. In the meantime, the Dallas Office has been filled in concerning the request of the President's Commission in order that they could get started on this rather large request for additional investigation.

In addition to the foregoing, Mr. Rankin requested relative to the latent fingerprint and palm print impressions that a chart be made visually demonstrating the location of the latent fingerprints and palm prints developed on the four cartons. He stated that he would appreciate it if this chart would show the latent finger and palm prints that actually belonged to Oswald as well as the other impressions that were developed and remain unidentified. He stated he would appreciate these being numbered in such a manner that it would be easy for the Commission members or anyone else reviewing this matter at a subsequent date to follow the complete picture relating to these latent prints. Mr. Latona is proceeding with the preparation of the chart as requested.

Request for Additional Data Re Palm Print on Barrel of Assassination Rifle

Mr. Rankin advised several questions had been raised relative to the palm print found on the barrel of the assassination rifle located on the portion of the barrel which was attached to the wooden foregrip of the rifle. Mr. Rankin stated as he understood the matter the palm print located on the rifle barrel had been located by Lieutenant Day of the Dallas Police Department and had been lifted from the rifle by Lieutenant Day. He noted that the Dallas Police Department made no mention of this latent palm print for a number of days following the assassination. He commented that on November 23, the day following the assassination, Chief of Police Curry, when questioned by news media, answered that fingerprints had been found and when asked further questions about identification stated the rifle had been forwarded to the FBI Laboratory. On Sunday, November 24, District Attorney Henry Wade, when questioned before news media, made the statement that a palm print had been found. Mr. Rankin states that based on the information made available to the Commission the existence of this palm print was not volunteered to the Bureau until a specific request was made of the Dallas Police Department.

Memorandum to Mr. Belmont
Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mr. Rankin further advised that when Lieutenant Day testified before the President's Commission he stated on finding the print he considered photographing it and had intended to do so and then lifted the latent palm impression. The Commission testimony does not show whether Lieutenant Day did or did not photograph the palm impression that hr located prior to lifting the palm print impression.

In view of the foregoing, Mr. Rankin desired that Lieutenant Day of the Dallas Police Department be contacted to ascertain from him whether or not he did or did not make photographs of the latent palm impression that he found on the rifle barrel and if he did, in fact, make photographs to obtain such photographs and make them available to the President's Commission.

Mr. Rankin advised because of the circumstances that now exist there was a serious question in the minds of the Commission as to whether or not the palm impression that has been obtained from the Dallas Police Department is a legitimate latent palm impression removed from the rifle barrel or whether it was obtained from some other source and that for this reason this matter needs to be resolved.

During this discussion about the location of this latent palm impression there was considerable conversation about the use of fingerprint dusting powder, the procedure used by Mr. Latona in his examination of the rifle, and Mr. Rankin requested that an examination be made even at this late date to determine if any trace of a dusting powder other than that used by Mr. Latona could be located on the wooden foregrip of the assassination rifle. The Laboratory has been advised and is handling the requested examination.

Submitted for information.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

As a result of the depositions of Harry Olsen and his wife, former dancer, Kathy Kay Coleman, it appears that a man named "Johnnie" (LNU), who was employed in November 1963 at a parking garage near the corner of Jackson and Fields. Streets in Dallas, was also a witness to the hour-long conversation which Ruby had on Saturday morning, November 23 with Olsen and Kathy Kay.

The Commission would appreciate your attempting to locate "Johnnie" and interviewing him in connection with Ruby's conversation. In particular, please ascertain whether or not the Olsens stated that Oswald should be lynched, dragged through the streets, or otherwise punished without due process of law. Please also inquire as to any other statements that he may have heard made by Ruby or the Olsens.

NOTE: Ruby has stated that he had a conversation on the early morning of 11/23/63 with Harry Olsen, who was then a Dallas Police Officer, and Kathy Kay Coleman, a former stripper at Ruby's Carousel Club. We have interviewed Olsen and Coleman and conducted extensive investigation to verify this meeting. Commission states that as a result of dispositions taken from Olsen and Coleman it appears that an unidentified "Johnnie" was a witness to the conversation.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

In the Clements report of June 26, 1964, Mr. William Downey has reported that George Senator called him about a half-hour before it was known that Ruby had shot Lee Oswald and offered to make breakfast for Downey and his wife. According to Downey, Senator also said that he was alone at Ruby's apartment. Please re-interview Mr. Senator and ask him why he called Downey after Ruby left and why he offered to make breakfast for Downey but did not eat with Ruby earlier in the morning when Ruby had a full breakfast in the apartment.

Please also ask Mr. Senator whether or not Jack Ruby said anything to Senator on Sunday morning about intending to shoot Lee Oswald. Ruby has told a member of the Commission staff that he decided to shoot Oswald at 9:15 Sunday morning and has given further testimony that Senator may have been aware of such intent.

Mr. Senator was last known to be employed at a Delicatessen at 150 W. 49th Street, New York City, known as Mr. Kishka, and can also be contacted through his sister, Mrs. A. J. Weisberg, 2255 Grand Concourse, Bronx, New York.

TO: Mr. Belmont

DATE: August 25, 1964

FROM: C. A. Evans

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

On the morning of August 25, 1964, a Mr. George Miller in the office of Mrs. Lincoln, the late President Kennedy's secretary, called my office. Mr. Miller stated Mrs. Lincoln, who has offices at the Archives, at the request of Mrs. John Kennedy is seeking information as to the location and availability of the clothing worn by the late President Kennedy at the time he was assassinated.

According to Miller, Mrs. Kennedy desires to obtain this clothing.

ACTION:

Since the clothing in question is part of exhibits under the jurisdiction of the Warren Commission, it was suggested to Mr. Miller that the proper place to obtain the desired information was the Warren Commission. He stated he appreciated this advice and would contact the Warren Commission.

NOTE: Paracelsus sent a letter to Senator Russell (D - Georgia) dated 7-27-64, which was furnished to the Bureau by Commission letter 8-11-64. Paracelsus alleged 4 prominent individuals in the entertainment world possess information concerning the Jack Ruby case. He also bemoaned the fact Norman Redlich is on the Commission staff. The Commission requested we locate and interview Paracelsus to determine the nature and extent of his information and no request was made to interview the 4 prominent individuals. The information supplied by the Commission was extremely limited in that no address for Paracelsus was furnished nor was the transmittal envelope furnished. Philadelphia conducted extensive logical investigation to identify and locate Paracelsus negatively. It is not felt that further investigative effort is warranted and unless specifically advised to the contrary by the Commission, this ends our inquiry.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letters dated July 30, 1964, and August 5, 1964, and my letter to you dated August 20, 1964, regarding the comparison of the shirt that is Commission Exhibit 150 with the shirt being worn by Lee Harvey Oswald at the time of his arrest as shown in photographs designated as Gerald L. Hill Exhibits A and B and Yarborough Exhibit A.

We have obtained another photograph that was made by Photographer John Mazziotta of The Dallas Times Herald who took the original photograph referred to above as Yarborough Exhibit A. This new photograph was taken a few seconds prior to the Yarborough Exhibit A photograph and shows the shirt being worn by Oswald with better detail. A copy of this photograph is attached for your information. There is also attached a print from the original negative of the Yarborough Exhibit A photograph.

As previously pointed out, the original color slide of Gerald L. Hill Exhibit B is not available but a duplicate color transparency was obtained and an eight-inch by ten-inch color print of that transparency is attached. There is also attached an eight-inch by ten-inch color print of Gerald L. Hill Exhibit A that has been furnished by Life magazine which has the original color transparency. The above four photographs are furnished for your records.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE FOR DALLAS AND NEW YORK:

The duplicate color slide of Gerald L. Hill Exhibit B furnished by Dallas airtel 8/5/64 is returned herewith to Dallas. The negative of the Yarborough Exhibit A photograph that was furnished with New York airtel 8/18/64 is being sent herewith to Dallas as requested in New York airtel.

The Commission request has been handled using the duplicate color slide furnished by Dallas and the prints furnished by Life magazine. Therefore, Dallas can discontinue efforts to locate the original color slides of Gerald L. Hill Exhibits B and C.

NOTE: Mr. Norman Redlich of the Commission has telephonically advised SA Shaneyfelt on 8/20/64 that further efforts to locate the original color slides of Gerald L. Hill Exhibits B and C can be discontinued since an identification has been made of the shirt worn by Oswald in one of the arrest pictures (Yarborough Exhibit A).

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Pursuant to the request from the office of Mr. W. David Slawson of your staff, there are enclosed three sets of photographs comprising Item Number 113 in the Lee Harvey Oswald case. This exhibit is comprised of ten photographs depicting a booklet entitled "Certificate of a Hunter and Fisherman." Attached to each of the photographs enclosed herewith is a full translation thereof.

This booklet is described in summary form on pages 359 and 360 in the January 7, 1964, report in the Oswald case made at Dallas, Texas.

A full translation of the photograph enclosed herewith designated Item Number 113-2 was previously furnished to you by our letter dated February 26, 1964. The translation previously furnished referred to that photograph as Item Number 113-3. This was occasioned by the fact that the cover of the booklet (Item 113-1) was originally photographed twice. In preparing the enclosures we have deleted from Item Number 113 the duplicate of Item 113-1 and have accordingly renumbered the remaining photographs.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE:

On 8/25/64 Mrs. Hennigan of Slawson's office requested Inspector Malley to furnish the Commission with 5 additional photographs comprising a portion of Item 113. Heretofore, Commission only requested one of the pictures comprising Oswald's hunting license, namely the page upon which his photographs and some Russian stamps appeared. As this exhibit consists of 10 photographs, we are furnishing the entire item to the Commission at this time. Enclosures count as follows: 30 photographs to each of which is attached a translation.

Subject: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS

Enclosed is one copy of a memorandum dated August 19, 1964, Chicago, Illinois, captioned "Assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, November 22, 1963, Dallas, Texas." The memorandum pertains to a Five Dollar Federal Reserve Note, Series 1950 C, Serial Number G58070975D, bearing on the reverse side the handwritten notation "will be murdered Nov 22" and the names "Jackie Kennedy" and "John F Kennedy." Also enclosed are two photographs displaying the front and reverse side of this Federal Reserve Note which were prepared by the FBI Laboratory.

The Five Dollar Federal Reserve Note referred to by the FBI Laboratory as Q614 has been designated as Exhibit D236. The results of the examination conducted by the FBI Laboratory determined the handwriting on Q614 was not identified in the Anonymous Letter File. A photograph of this handwriting has been added to this file.

It was concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald, K4 and K3 in this case, did not prepare the handwriting on Q614.

Specimen Q614 will be retained in the Laboratory pending a determination as to when it can be properly released.

No further action is being taken in this matter. However, the information concerning this Federal Reserve Note is being furnished to the President's Commission.

RE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Sebastian F. Latona, Latent Fingerprint Section Supervisor, received a telephone call at home at approximately 8:00 P. M. last night, 8-27-64, from Night Supervisor S. F. McInerney, General Investigative Division, instructing him to be at the Office of J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel, The President's Commission, 200 Maryland Avenue, N. E., Washington, D. C., at 9:00 A. M. this morning, 8-28-64, with Exhibit 636. This exhibit is a charted enlargement of a latent palm print identified as Oswald's. The palm print was developed by Latona on the wrapping paper in which the rifle, reportedly the murder weapon, was carried. As you are aware, Latona had previously testified before the Commission concerning this exhibit and other latent fingerprint exhibits. The reason for Latona's requested appearance this morning is not known, however, McInerney did advise that Inspector J. B. Malley, #1 Man, General Investigative Division, has also been requested to be in Rankin's office at 9:00 A. M. When more details become available you will be further advised.

Subject: Investigation of President Kennedy's Assassination

Mr. Chairman:
Gentlemen:

I am writing to you in connection with President Kennedy's assassination with reference to circumstances which are surely different from those with which you have concerned yourselves heretofore. I am an independent criminologist with no official capacity and work internationally in a major, very specialized field.

I am the author of a work entitled: "Telehypnotism," the French edition of which was published by Maloine of Paris, which is, after Masson & Cie., the largest publisher of medical works in France. The subject does not have anything mystic in itself: the phenomenon and process are based upon physics and neurophysiology and this major problem mainly concerns medicine and world-wide criminology. For instance, by using as a basis certain comparisons which I caused to be performed in Switzerland, I estimate that the human beings who, at the present time, are regularly victimized throughout the world by telehypnotic actions are over 100,000,000. Telehypnotism is the secret means - known for centuries now - of secret associations and other organizations with which we are well familiar.

Within the framework of my criminological activities, I have already had occasion to contact U. S. authorities. This was in 1957 when I was living in Brussels, Belgium, and in 1958, from Geneva. Both times, I contacted them through your embassy in Belgium, then, likewise in Geneva, through the good offices of your Consulate General. (sic). I am certain that the former correspondence (from Brussels) was remitted to Mr. John Foster Dulles. On December 17, 1959, I sent a copy of my book to the President of the United States, Mr. Dwight Eisenhower. He acknowledged receipt of it through your Consulate General at Strasbourg.

In 1950, as part of a statement I made to the Canton Police of Lausanne, Switzerland, I let it be known that President Franklin Roosevelt had been telehypnotically assassinated as a result of an action directed from Europe. I also mentioned this fact in the correspondence I have discussed previously. The case of President John Kennedy is not without analogy from several standpoints. Lest the details may prove tedious, I shall outline the essential points I wish to discuss in this letter.

On October 8, 1963, I became personally acquainted with a sharply marked telehypnotic effect at Fribourg-en-Brisgau (Bade, West Germany). It was a fact which a few days later would have a macabre correlation in another border area. On Friday, November 15, 1963 - exactly one week before President Kennedy's assassination - another very sharp telehypnotic effect took place at Mulhouse under a very special circumstance. This incident immediately directed my thoughts toward the U. S. A. But what was I to do? Nobody had asked me for years to take a more active part in this immense criminal affair in spite of all that I had undertaken in this world. Moreover, I did not know where, when and in which form a criminal act could occur.

I know the Kennedy case only through the press. I lack a few factors for a more thorough interpretation of the facts that I have just mentioned. However, since I am familiar with approximately 80,000 cases, I am in a position to tell you what I have deduced:

(1) Without a doubt, Lee Harvey Oswald lived all his life, even when he still was in his mother's womb, under telehypnotic contact. Any capable psychiatrist should have had no trouble in ascertaining this circumstance. Moreover, every Free Mason, from a certain degree up, should have certainly realized that this was the case.

(2) It is certain that during the years that Lee Harvey Oswald lived in the United States of America and also during those that he spent in the USSR, there were circles which took advantage of this circumstance. By this, I mean that Oswald was the tool of espionage and counterespionage services and perhaps also of criminal organizations.

(3) The person who was the object of the two telehypnotic effects which took place at Fribourg-en-Brisgau and at Mulhouse was, therefore, within the telemagnetic circuit established between a European telehypnotizer and Oswald. Surely, it will be possible to recognize that Oswald, as far as his aggressiveness, assurance and determination are concerned, both in the action and in the choice of the victim, was invisibly directed in his act by a telehypnotic channel.

(4) It is not to be excluded, perhaps even probable, that Rubinstein was on the same telehypnomagnetic circuit.

(5) The circumstance of the choice of the person who was the object of the two above-mentioned telehypnotic effects encourages us to admit the possibility of a complementary interpretation to the effect that other people may also have found themselves on the telehypnomagnetic circuit. They may have been police officials or personnel of the intelligence services of one or two western countries to whom the telehypnotizer wanted to transmit the warning of what he was about to do under compulsion. In this particular case, the warning may not have been understood or may have been ignored for reasons which may be attributable, for example, to Masonic laws.

(6) As for President Kennedy's assassination and the succession of events which I see, there must have been at least two motives totally foreign to Oswald, that is, two motives which this latter could not fathom at all. The very special circumstances which I am describing herein lead me to a personal conviction that there exists in the western world a number of people who must have known what was about to happen.

(7) The air crash in which Senator Edward Kennedy was involved does not exclude the possibility of a telehypnomagnetic criminal action. Anybody who reads my book can understand the functioning of such an action no matter how extraordinary it may appear.

Since I do not know in what consideration you will hold this letter, I will refrain from further details or clarifications. However, I remain at your disposal. On the other hand, I am sending enclosed herewith a copy of my work, regretting that it cannot be in English because the book has not been published in your language.

This immense affair, whose object is crime organized in all its forms with telehypnotism as its principal instrument, causes ravages throughout the world daily. Thus, it is extremely astonishing that such a great power as the U. S. A. has not yet been able to secure positive results in the combat against this scourge a good 19 years after the end of the war and that I am still compelled, in spite of the fact that I am one of the greatest specialists in the subject matter, to finance all my own works while billions are being spent or wasted on campaigns which are a hundred times less important. I have in mind, for example, the anticommunist struggle as it is being conducted, which, in certain American circles, conveys the impression that it borders on hysteria. I also have in mind certain aids which are being granted to underdeveloped countries and it is my contention - even though I am without (financial) reserves for the actions and the credits which should make it possible to sponsor the development of this science and its techniques - that this far-reaching criminal affair is much more urgent than the on-time major space programs both in the U. S. A. and in the U. S. S. R.

In my research and work within the criminological field, I am privileged to have had a rather special training. Apart from the theoretical aspect, I am equipped, for instance, with the experience which I have accumulated during several years of work in economic pursuits (banking, commercial organization of a major industrial "trust," industry and management). On the other hand - strange as it may appear - I am also well-versed in psychiatry and had a practice in Switzerland for almost eight years until the outbreak of the last war. Since diagnosis was my forte, I had specialized myself in the application of active psychoanalysis and suggestion. I worked for the most part with complicated cases and I am referring, for the sake of exemplification, to the case of a female patient who had been suffering from a persecution complex and had been kept in an institution for several years. I had her released and after four months of daily treatments, she recovered to the extent that she was able to accept, a month later, a position as hotel clerk; a position which she held for several years. As far as this major criminal affair is concerned, I have organized my work wherever it was necessary. I am a Swiss citizen, but have been living abroad for several years now. Even though I have been living here at Mulhouse for a number of years, I still consider myself a temporary resident.

Besides my work, I have devoted my energies to commercial organization problems and, during the last 18 months,

I have been working in a special field connected with the administration of justice.

As I have mentioned previously, I am at the disposal of your commission. With my best regards, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

(Signed)* Amberg

DESCRIPTION OF BOOK:

The enclosed book is a 101-page introduction to telehypnotism, which is defined as encompassing telemagnetohypnotism and telehypnomagnetism. Telemagnetohypnotism is used on human beings and animals and telehypnomagnetism is used on matter, such as metals, materials and products of all description.

After describing magnetism, the author discusses human magnetism and hypnotism, to concentrate his attention on telehypnotism which he calls the most important part of hypnotism.

After giving a short history of what man has learned about telehypnotism and its general applications, the author discusses "telehypnotism in the service of crime." This chapter is divided into the following subjects:

Diseases and Epidemics

Accidents on the Job and Traffic Accidents - Air Crashes

Criminality and Justice

Sex

Espionage and Sabotage

Political Economics

Politics

Religions, Occultism, Clairvoyance, Telepathy

Meteorology

The book closes with: "A Word About Cancer."

In these few pages, the author seems to find it significant that science has not been able to isolate a cancer virus in man. He suggests that magnetism may be the cause.

INFORMATION REGARDING LIFTED
PALM PRINT FROM GUN

This memo is submitted to report the receipt of a telephone call at approximately 11:45 A. M., today, 8/26/64, from Mr. Norman Redlich, of the General Counsel's Staff of the President's Commission. As you are aware, I testified before the Committee concerning certain latent print identifications. One of the latent palm prints identified appears on a lift submitted by the Dallas, Texas, Police Department, reportedly lifted from the underside of the barrel of the rifle identified as the murder weapon.

Mr. Redlich asked me if I were able to tell from my examination of the rifle whether there was any indication of a latent print having been lifted from the underside of the barrel. I told him, on the basis of taking the gun apart and my examination and inspection of the weapon, I could not tell. He then posed several hypothetical questions as to whether prints could be lifted and no trace left. I told him that it was possible that prints could be developed and lifted and no trace left.

Mr. Redlich said he would follow his call with a letter.

Your Bureau has submitted to the Commission a booklet entitled "Texas School Book Depository, Dallas, Texas, Photographs, Floor Plans, Parking Lots." We call your attention to the floor plan of the first floor designated as "Diagram B" and the floor plan of the second floor designated as "Diagram C."

We would like your Bureau to submit to us these diagrams, deleting the numerical references appearing in each of these diagrams. We would like included in the diagrams the scale which appears in the lower right hand corner of each diagram but the material in the lower left hand corner which has reference to camera locations should be deleted.

Your continued cooperation in the work of the Commission is appreciated.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin

NOTE: At the request of the President's Commission, Ruby was afforded a polygraph examination at the Dallas County Jail on 7/10/64 by SAs Herndon and Wood. The questions used in the examination were prepared by the Commission and all arrangements as to who would be present were made by the President's Commission. On 7/22/64 "The Dallas Times Herald" printed an article which set forth what was purported to be the complete questions and answers from the polygraph examination and the President's Commission by letter 7/30/64 requested investigation to determine how "The Dallas Times Herald" learned of the questions and answers which were published. With this interview of Oliver we have completed interview of all persons present during the interview with the exception of the President's Commission's representatives, and all denied releasing the information. Officials of "The Dallas Times Herald" declined to reveal their source of information.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

At approximately 12:10 p.m. on August 24, 1964, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, telephonically contacted the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and asked to speak to Special Agent in Charge J. Gordon Shanklin. Mrs. Oswald was advised that Mr. Shanklin was then not available, whereupon she stated that perhaps she should contact "Herbert Hoover."

Mrs. Oswald stated she wanted it known that she had nothing to do with the assassination of President Kennedy, but that as far as she was concerned, everyone else was under suspicion. She added that she had information which might involve an Agent of the FBI.

When questioned as to the identity of the Agent, she refused to divulge same over the telephone. She indicated a desire to give a deposition concerning the information in her possession and consented to be interviewed by our Agents from Fort Worth, Texas.

At approximately 1:15 p.m., August 24, 1964, Mrs. Oswald telephonically contacted Assistant Director William C. Sullivan. She stated that she desired to furnish some information, whereupon Mr. Sullivan told her he would accept the information. She then told Mr. Sullivan that she was not going to pay for the telephone call as she had considerable to say and it would be costly. She stated that she did not want to furnish her information to our local office in Texas and desired to be called back. She then furnished to Mr. Sullivan an indistinct telephone number and, when asked for the address from which she was calling, she discontinued the conversation.

At approximately 2:23 p.m., August 24, 1964, a woman identifying herself as Margaret (phonetic) Oswald of Fort Worth, Texas, and who claimed to be the mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, telephonically contacted Special Agent Robert P. Finzel of our Washington Field Office. Mrs. Oswald claimed to have received an anonymous telephone call on August 24, 1964, to the effect that the hotel bill of Mr. Hugh Aynesworth, a writer for "The Dallas Morning News," "was being paid by the FBI."

She continued that she thereafter telephoned Aynesworth at LA 7-3015 and the conversation was as follows:

Mrs. Oswald: Hello Hugh.

Aynesworth: How are you Lu (phonetic)?

Mrs. Oswald: How would you like another FBI scoop?

Aynesworth: Oh, it is you Mrs. Hosty (phonetic).

At this point Mrs. Oswald claims she hung up.

She identified Hosty as an FBI Agent of the Dallas Office and stated her belief that Hosty or Mrs. Hosty is furnishing information to Aynesworth.

She identified Aynesworth as a newspaperman who published Lee's (Oswald's) diary and other unauthorized articles connected with the Warren Commission Report.

Mrs. Oswald further advised that she learned from her informant, whom she refused to identify, that a former Agent of the FBI, John Fain, 52 years of age, retired, residing at Houston, Texas, "was in New Orleans and paid Lee's (Oswald's) fine at the time he was arrested on the Fair Play for Cuba charge."

Mrs. Oswald furnished no additional information and terminated the conversation.

On the afternoon of August 24, 1964, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, 2220 Thomas Place, Fort Worth, Texas, was contacted by Special Agents Robley D. Madland and Richard L. Wiehl of our Dallas Office. She refused to be interviewed by the Agents stating that she gave the information in her possession to Mr. Sullivan of the FBI in Washington, D. C., by long distance telephone conversation on that date. Mrs. Oswald said she "decided to go to the top" with the information she had as it concerned a local problem in connection with "the case," and she did not want "to get involved." Mrs. Oswald said that the information she gave Mr. Sullivan would have to come from him as she had spent her money in order to call Washington, D. C., and she would not give the information to "ordinary Agents."

She volunteered that she did have some "gossip" which she desired to pass along. In this regard she said that some two weeks ago she was invited to New York to appear on the Les Crane television program. She said that on August 7, 1964, she was taping the program for the Les Crane show in New York City and was on a panel with Crane and Melvin Belli, former attorney for Jack Ruby. She stated that she "outsmarted" Belli on five different occasions during the program and the audience "absolutely loved it." Mrs. Oswald said she learned after this program that Belli came to Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas, to confer with Jack Ruby in his cell which act she did not think was proper because he, Belli, no longer represented Ruby.

For purposes of clarity all times indicated herein are expressed as Eastern Daylight Saving Time.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, aka
IS - R - CUBA

By letter dated August 25, 1964, J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission referred a letter and a book received by the Commission, and requested that the letter be translated and the book described. Both articles were in French.

The letter is from Edouard Amberg, 47 Boulevard Gambetta, Mulhouse, Ht-Rhin, France, dated July 7, 1964. The writer advised that prior to the assassination of the President he intercepted two "telehypnotic" messages of an impending tragedy in America. He claims that he is one of the world's greatest authorities on "telehypnosis" and that it is his belief that Oswald was being influenced through "telehypnosis" by one or more persons. He offers his services to the Commission to clear up the assassination and to combat crime.

The book is a treatise on "telehypnosis" which is the power to control and manipulate people at a distance.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated August 12, 1964, concerning the scope of this Bureau's investigative efforts since the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Reference is also made to a telephone conversation between Mr. Howard P. Willens of your staff and Mr. J. R. Malley of this Bureau on September 2, 1964, relative to our making an estimate of the number of interviews conducted by personnel of this Bureau since November 22, 1963.

As you were previously advised in my letter dated August 12, 1964, we did not keep track of the number of interviews conducted by virtually every one of our fifty-six continental field offices and our representatives abroad. Based on the most recent request of Mr. Willens, an effort was made to arrive at a reasonable estimate of the number of such interviews conducted, without resorting to a physical count or engaging in a laborious, time-consuming research project. In line with the above, it is estimated FBI personnel conducted 25,000 interviews since November 22, 1963. It is pointed out this figure took into consideration interviews and reinterviews in all matters investigated by this Bureau arising from the assassination of President Kennedy.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION
REQUESTS FOR VISUAL AIDS

During the past several weeks the Bureau completed 23 visual aids which were requested by Mr. Rankin to be used by the Commission to assist report writers in clarifying obscure, technical points which will appear in the text of the finished report estimated to consist of 30 volumes upon completion. On 9-3-64, Staff members Redlich, Willens, Slawson and Griffin requested fifteen (15) additional visual aids dealing with Oswald's life in the USSR, Ruby's killing of Oswald and the assassination site. No deadline date was set at that time, however, their requests were given expeditious attention by the Exhibits Section and within two working days plus several hours overtime, preliminary rough draft sketches were completed and discussed with these attorneys on 9-9-64.

Mr. Willens, Administrative Assistant to Mr. Rankin, advised me on 9-9-64 that he had been instructed to have the completed text and visual aids in the hands of the Government Printing Office by noon Friday, 9-11-64. He instructed his staff to get me all the information necessary to complete new exhibits and to approve all rough sketches already submitted to the Commission. The 15 rough drafts were approved by 4:00 p.m., on 9-9-64. Two additional visual aids were requested making a total of 17 to be completed in a matter of one working day, an assignment which normally would be handled in four working days. Material for two visual aids is still to be obtained by the Commission from the Defense Department and made available to the Exhibits Section early on 9-10-64.

Mr. Willens was advised that the visual aids would be completed and delivered to him by noon on Friday, 9-11-64.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Enclosed are two copies of a memorandum dated August 19, 1964, Chicago, Illinois, captioned "Assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, November 22, 1963, Dallas, Texas." The memorandum pertains to a Five Dollar Federal Reserve Note, Series 1950 C, Serial Number G58070975D, bearing on the reverse side the handwritten notation "will be murdered Nov 22" and the names "Jackie Kennedy" and "John F Kennedy." Also enclosed are two photographs each of the front and reverse side of this Federal Reserve Note which were prepared by the FBI Laboratory.

The Five Dollar Federal Reserve Note referred to by the FBI Laboratory as Q614 has been designated as Exhibit D236. The results of the examination conducted by the FBI Laboratory determined the handwriting on Q614 was not identified in the Anonymous Letter File. A photograph of this handwriting has been added to this file.

It was concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald, K4 and K5 in this case, did not prepare the handwriting on Q614.

Specimen Q614 will be retained in the Laboratory pending a determination as to when it can be properly released.

Mrs. Oswald on 8/24/64 volunteered that she was on the Crane show, that she "outsmarted" Belli on five occasions and that the audience "absolutely loved it." Enclosure hereto is a 33-page letterhead from New York setting forth that is described as a verbatim transcription of indicated portion of the show. This will be of interest to the Commission for during her appearance Mrs. Oswald rambled at length and at times was incoherent. There are many grammatical errors in the speech of the individuals recorded in the transcript. New York attempted to show this by, in part, underscoring these errors. To be consistent we have deleted all underscoring as the document has been described as verbatim.

Reference memorandum dated February 26, 1964, from W. D. Griffith concerning a continuing project wherein the Bureau has undertaken to furnish the Commission with photographs of all Commission exhibits.

On August 31, 1964, Miss Mary A. Rowcotsky, called SA Cortlandt Cunningham, Physics and Chemistry Section, and advised that in the course of this project the Commission had inadvertently failed to request three copies of Commission Exhibit 364. She noted that this exhibit was in the custody of this Bureau and requested that three photographs be delivered personally to the Commission at the earliest possible time.

This work will be handled by an Agent Examiner of the Document Section.

ACTION: The Exhibit will be photographed and three copies will be supplied to the Commission as requested. This exhibit will be retained in Bureau custody.

MARINA OSWALD today advised PRISCILLA JOHNSON, the newspaper reporter who interviewed LEE HARVEY OSWALD in Moscow, is presently in Dallas and is conferring with her concerning the writing of a book to be authored by MARINA OSWALD.

MARINA advised she no longer retains WILLIAM MC KENZIE as her attorney as the litigation between her and her ex-manager JAMES H. MARTIN and her ex-attorney JOHN M. THORNE has now been settled. She said if she enters into a contractual arrangement with PRISCILLA JOHNSON or with publishers concerning her book, she will have another attorney examine any contracts or other legal documents which might be pertinent.

MARINA has requested that she be furnished with a list of all property belonging to her or her late husband and which is now in possession of the Bureau or the President's Commission. The Bureau is requested to advise if it will be satisfactory to furnish such a list to MARINA and if so, will such a list be furnished to Dallas by the Bureau or should it be made up from the files available at Dallas.

Reairtel 8/26/64 concerning request of Marina Oswald to be furnished with list of all property belonging to herself and subject which is now in possession of Bureau or Commission. Prepare a list of all material obtained by Bureau from all sources believed to be the property of Oswald and his wife. Show in the list the source from which this material was received. Do not attempt to show whether this material is presently in possession of Bureau or Commission. Note in this regard, it will not be possible to indicate in the listing who currently retains possession of the articles as this changes daily due to Commission's requesting exhibits and returning others to the Bureau.

The list should be preceded by statement to effect that it is a listing of all material believed to be the property of Lee Harvey Oswald and/or Marina Oswald which was obtained by the Bureau from indicated sources. Upon compilation of list, furnish same to Bureau. Do not furnish any listing to Marina Oswald until advised to do so by Bureau.

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

Your attention is invited to the fact that photographs of two other portions of Transportes del Norte bus ticket Number 13683 were furnished to you by our letter dated April 22, 1964. The two portions of this ticket previously furnished to you have been designated Exhibit Number D-202. Exhibits D-237 and D-242 have been processed for latent finger impressions; however, no impressions of value for identification purposes were developed thereon.

The various exhibits enclosed herewith are, where appropriate, being translated and afforded cryptanalytic examination. Photographs of pages 29, 50, 54 and 78 of Exhibit Number D-238 are being prepared and will be furnished to you in the immediate future.

The markings and notations depicted in Exhibits D-238 and D-240 have been noted and investigation pertinent thereto is underway. The results of this inquiry will be furnished to you as received.

The number 15-60-55, which has been written at the top of page 33 of Exhibit Number D-238, appears in Oswald's address book (Exhibit Number D-29). As you have previously been advised, Mexico City Telephone Number 15-60-55 is listed to the Chancellery of the Soviet Embassy, Mexico, D. F., Mexico.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Rankin:

On July 29, 1964, Mr. Aubrey Ray Lindsey, Richardson, Texas, advised Special Agents of our Dallas Office that a business acquaintance, one Malcolm J. Hoy, told him on November 22, 1963, he saw the President Kennedy motorcade. Hoy advised Lindsey President Kennedy had been shot twice "because he was there watching it." Mr. Lindsey thought this remark was unusual and added he did not know Hoy's present location. Mr. Lindsey said Hoy formerly worked at the General Motors plant in Arlington, Texas.

Investigation at Arlington, Texas, determined inquiries had been received concerning Hoy from the General Motors plant at South Gate, California.

Enclosed for your information are two copies of the report of Special Agent Robert H. Karl dated August 24, 1964, at Los Angeles, California, captioned "Lee Harvey Oswald, Internal Security - R - Cuba." It contains the results of an interview with Mr. Hoy.

No further action is being taken in this matter.

Helen Markham to get her to identify Oswald and by inference he has claimed that Dallas police used brutality when arresting Markham's son James. Fact is Markham jumped out of an upstairs window of his mother's home and was injured in the fall. He admitted this during prior interview. The 8/12/64 enclosure records that James Markham now claims he was pushed out of the window by police. He claims he lied when previously interviewed as the police promised him probation, but as he has not been indicted, he wants to tell the "truth" now. The enclosure shows James Markham to be a liar. The 8/17/64 letterhead recounts Lane's activities when in Denmark. Classified "Confidential" as Legat, London, classified his letterhead to protect the foreign source.

In response to a telephonic request today from Mr. J. Lee Rankin, President's Commission, I conferred with Mr. Rankin in his office concerning the latent print lift (identified as Oswald's) from the assassination rifle and concerning the 25 latent prints remaining unidentified which were developed on the four book cartons recovered at the Texas School Book Depository. SA Robert A. Frazier, Firearms Unit, FBI Laboratory, and Section Chief Sebastian F. Latona, Latent Fingerprint Section, Identification Division, also participated in this conference.

As set forth in Mr. Rosen's memo of 8-28-64, Mr. Rankin had previously inquired if we could determine whether the latent lifted by Lieutenant Day, Dallas Police Department, was in fact lifted from the assassination rifle. I informed Mr. Rankin that the FBI Laboratory was able to positively identify this lift as having come from Oswald's rifle in the area under the wooden foregrip.

Mr. Rankin informed me that he had made an official request by letter in this regard. This letter will be answered upon its receipt and upon the completion of a photograph illustrating the identification.

Mr. Rankin stated he would also request by letter that the FBI attempt to identify the latent prints on the cartons referred to above with particular reference to eliminating the prints of Dallas police officers, Secret Service Agents and Texas School Book employees. Mr. Rankin was informed that six of the latents were palm prints which would necessitate acquiring "major case" type prints for comparison purposes. I advised Mr. Rankin that this phase of the investigation would be handled upon receipt of the letter defining the objectives.

This discusses request of Marina Oswald that she be furnished with a list of all property belonging to her or her late husband which is now in the possession of the Bureau or the President's Commission.

On 8/26/64 Marina Oswald advised Dallas that she is currently working with Priscilla Johnson, a free lance writer, in the preparation of a book. Priscilla Johnson is a former newspaper woman who represented the North American Newspaper Alliance in Moscow in 1959 and interviewed Oswald at that time. Since the assassination she has authored an article on Oswald which appeared in the April, 1964, issue of "Harper's" magazine.

Marina Oswald, apparently in connection with the preparation of her book, requested Dallas to furnish her with a list of all property belonging to her or her late husband which is now in the possession of the Bureau or the President's Commission. Dallas inquired if it will be satisfactory to furnish such a list to Marina Oswald and if the list should be made up from the files available at Dallas.

We received, principally from the Dallas Police Department, a large number of articles which are clearly the property of Oswald and/or his wife. Dallas is in possession of a complete inventory of this material. It appears that Marina Oswald is within her rights to request a listing of material belonging to her late husband and herself which was obtained by the Bureau. Should we refuse to furnish such a listing, we may be placed in an unfavorable light and in view of these factors, it is believed advisable to accede to Mrs. Oswald's request. It will not be possible, however, to distinguish between the items in the possession of the Bureau and the President's Commission as this changes daily; i.e., the Commission constantly calls for exhibits and returns others to us. In addition, the Commission undoubtedly has material belonging to the Oswalds which it has received from Secret Service and other agencies.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Commission would appreciate your recontacting Mrs. Virginia Louise Davis, 2225 By Way, Dallas, Texas who, with her husband, operates the Sports Drome Rifle Range in Dallas. When interviewed by Special Agents Carter and Brown on December 1, 1963, she apparently indicated that no written "register" was maintained at the rifle range during the period in September through November 1963, when Oswald is alleged to have practiced at the rifle range. However, during the course of her deposition before Mr. Liebeler on April 1, 1964, the following colloquy took place:

"Mr. Liebeler. Can you tell us the date that Mr. Price said he took Oswald in, or this man who he thought was Oswald, who was the last customer?

"Mrs. Davis. I don't know the exact date, but I wrote it in my journal, but I don't have it with me.

"Mr. Liebeler. When you refer to the journal, what do you mean?

"Mrs. Davis. It is a daily record I keep of everything that happens at the range. When we first opened, everyone had to sign it. But the FBI picked up the sign-in slips and checked it out, and, of course, Lee Harvey Oswald wasn't on it, but at the time we did not have fences up and anyone could get on the range without us knowing it.

In the interview report prepared by Special Agents Carter and Brown on December 2, 1963, covering their interview with Mrs. Davis' husband, Floyd Guy Davis, it is stated that Mr. Davis "furnished a list of members who have registered to shoot at the range"; I do not believe that the Commission is in receipt of this membership list.

From the several statements obtained from the Davises, it is not clear precisely what records were maintained at the rifle range during 1963. Hence, we request that you have them clarify exactly what records they did maintain during October through November, 1963, which in any way reflect the names of persons present at their rifle range during those months, and that you attempt to get for the Commission a copy of all such records which you have not previously obtained. In addition, please attempt also to obtain a copy of the "journal" or "daily record," to which Mrs. Davis referred, for the months of September, October and November 1963. The Commission is particularly interested in any entries in Mrs. Davis' journal which she may have made on September 28, October 13, November 10, 13, 16, and 17, 1963, and a few days on either side of these dates.

If your Bureau previously has obtained any membership lists or other similar records from the Davises, we would appreciate receiving a copy of them, so that we will have a complete set of everything which has been obtained in regards to the rifle range.

Your continuing cooperation with the Commission is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Commission by letter 8-3-64, refers to testimony of Mark Lane before Commission, in which he alleged there was meeting at Jack Ruby's Carousel Club on 11-14-63, between Bernard Weissman, J. D. Tippit and Ruby. Weissman placed controversial full page ad in DL newspaper prior to President Kennedy's visit. Tippit, was shot and killed by Oswald. We have investigated this allegation in the past and no proof of such meeting was developed. It appears the Commission is taking every precaution to preclude possible future criticism. Commission request requires displaying photographs of Weissman and Tippit to 6 individuals associated with the Carousel Club to insure neither were seen in the club. Weissman during interview indicated he was employed during pertinent period. Commission requests verification, and when it is received results will be furnished to President's Commission.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Inspector Tom Kelley, U. S. Secret Service, called Malley today and advised he had been in touch with J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel, President's Commission, late on the afternoon of 9/1/64, and Rankin stated he was going to accompany Senators John Sherman Cooper (R.-Ky.) and Richard B. Russell (D.-Ga.) and Congressman Hale Boggs (D.-Ga.), to Dallas on Sunday, 9/6/64, leaving Andrews Field in a Jet Star Presidential Plane at 9:00 a.m., and would probably return to Washington the same evening. Kelley indicated that Rankin requested that he, Kelley, advise Malley of this trip in order that consideration could be given to whether or not Malley would accompany the aforementioned individuals to Dallas.

Following receipt of this information from Inspector Kelley, Malley talked with Rankin, at which time Mr. Rankin stated that there was no real purpose for Malley making the above-mentioned trip unless he desired to do so. He stated that Senator Russell and Congressman Boggs had not previously been to Dallas and were desirous of making a firsthand check of the various locations of interest in Dallas.

In addition, Mr. Rankin advised that since Senators Cooper and Russell were of the opinion there were a number of questions which should be asked of Mrs. Marina Oswald which were not asked when she appeared before the President's Commission to furnish testimony, they desired to interview her in Dallas under oath rather than have her again return to Washington for testimony.

RECOMMENDATION:

Based on the information made available by Mr. Rankin, there does not appear to be any reason for Malley to make the above-mentioned trip to Dallas on Sunday 9/6/64. Unless advised to the contrary, Malley does not plan to make this trip to Dallas, based on the specific comments of Mr. Rankin.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
Department of Justice
Washington, D. C. 20535

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Commission would appreciate your conducting the following additional investigation for us:

1. Mr. Carland Slack, 3130 de Lee Street, Dallas, Texas, has testified before the Commission that on November 17, 1963, he was present at the Sports Drome Rifle Range in Dallas where he observed a man whom he thought to be Lee Harvey Oswald. He testified that while there he became involved in an altercation with this man because this person was firing at his target. Slack also said that he observed "a tall boy" wearing a beard accompanying the man he thought to be Oswald, and that the two of them left together in an older model 4-door sedan. Mr. Slack testified that his wife, Lucille, was present with him on this occasion at the firing range.

Please interview Lucille Slack and obtain from her all information which she has in regard to the above incident at the firing range. Among other questions, you should be sure to ask Mrs. Slack to describe the person who became involved in the argument with her husband, whether she believes that the man was Lee Harvey Oswald, and whether she believes that the bearded person at the firing range was a companion of the man her husband believes to have been Oswald. Also ask Mrs. Slack to describe the gun that the man believed to be Oswald was firing, and determine whether Mrs. Slack noticed any unusual blast or flames when the rifle was fired. Did the gun have a scope or a sling? If so, of what type? Also ask Mrs. Slack when she believes her husband first noted the similarity between the man he had seen at the firing range and Lee Harvey Oswald; if she believes that the man was Oswald when did she first notice the similarity? You might also in a subtle manner attempt to obtain from Mrs. Slack an evaluation of her husband's veracity.

2. In the report from the Dallas Office of your Bureau dated February 25, 1964, it was reported that on the preceding day Special Agent C. Ray Hall, with the use of a polygraph, interviewed Albert Guy Bogard in regard to his allegation that on November 9, 1963, he gave a demonstration ride to a man who visited the Downtown Lincoln-Mercury salesroom in Dallas and gave his name as Lee Oswald. The report indicates that the emotional responses recorded by the polygraph were those normally expected of a person telling the truth. However, the report provides only a summary of the questions which were asked Mr. Bogard. Would you please provide us with as detailed a report as possible concerning the precise questions asked of Mr. Bogard and his answers to these questions.

3. In the report prepared by Special Agents C. Ray Hall and Maurice J. White on December 11, 1963, covering an interview with Mr. Oran Paul Brown, 101 Savannah, Waxahachie, Texas, it appears that Mr. Brown provided corroboration for the testimony of Mr. Bogard. Mr. Brown stated that one to two weeks before the assassination Bogard asked him to service Oswald if he appeared in the salesroom while Bogard was not in, and that Brown wrote Oswald's name on a slip of paper which at some time he brought home with him. Mr. Brown further stated that when he returned home on the evening of November 22, 1963, his wife asked him what he knew about Oswald since she had seen Oswald's name on a piece of paper among his effects. Please interview Mrs. Brown to determine whether or not she ever observed the name "Lee Oswald" on a piece of paper among Brown's effects and whether or not she ever made the remark to her husband which he ascribed to her.

Also, reinterview Oran Brown to determine whether or not on November 22 he himself saw Mr. Bogard remove a business card from his wallet which he claimed bore Oswald's name and throw this card in the refuse.

4. Also in connection with the testimony of Mr. Bogard, please interview a Mr. Wilson who was a salesman at the Downtown Lincoln-Mercury at the time of the assassination, and reinterview Jack A. Lawrence, 144 10th Avenue, South Charleston, West Virginia, and Robert V. Teter, 3737 Higgins, Dallas, who also previously were salesmen at this showroom. Determine from all three men the circumstances under which they first learned of Mr. Bogard's allegation that Oswald had been a prospective customer; in particular, determine whether any of these men themselves saw Bogard take a card from his wallet, announce that Oswald's name was upon it, and tear up the card and throw it in the trash.

As to Mr. Wilson, also determine whether he has any knowledge about Mr. Bogard's having used Wilson's demonstrator car to make a demonstration to a prospective customer on November 9, 1963. Before the assassination, did Bogard ever mention anything to Wilson about such a demonstration or about the customer to whom he made the demonstration?

As to Mr. Lawrence, he has previously stated to Special Agents John B. Woodruff and Leon H. Graben, on December 11, 1963, that Bogard "wrote up papers covering the sale of this car to Oswald"; determine precisely what "papers" Lawrence was referring to and the basis upon which he made such statement. Mr. Lawrence also stated that "as a result" of his calling Mr. Bogard's allegation to the attention of the FBI "his leaving his employment in Dallas at the Downtown Lincoln-Mercury Company was speeded up and occurred the same day he made the call." Determine the basis upon which he believes that his discharge was connected with his calling this matter to the attention of the FBI; when he called the FBI, did Mr. Bogard or Mr. Pizzo, the assistant sales manager, or anybody else oppose his doing so? Ascertain the surrounding circumstances.

As to Mr. Teter, who has previously informed your Bureau that Lawrence had at one time told him that he had received a bad conduct discharge, determine whether and when he related this fact to Mr. Pizzo; if he did so inform Mr. Pizzo, what was Pizzo's reaction to this information?

Also, please reinterview Mr. Bogard himself to determine whether he spoke to anybody other than Mr. Pizzo about the prospective customer he believes was Oswald prior to the date of the assassination. If Mr. Bogard does not recall doing so, ask him, in particular, whether or not he ever spoke to Mr. Brown about this customer and asked Brown to service the customer for him if the customer should appear in the evening when Bogard was not in the showroom. Also ask Mr. Bogard whether he prepared a write-up sheet on the customer or merely wrote his name on the back of his business card. If he did not prepare a write-up sheet, why did he not do so?

5. Clifton M. Shasteen, 2214 Fairfax, Irving, Texas, who owns Cliftons Barber Shop, 1321 South Storey, Irving, has testified before the Commission that a man he believes to have been Lee Harvey Oswald was in his barbershop on several occasions prior to the assassination for haircuts. He testified that on at least two occasions the person believed to be Oswald was accompanied by a 14 year old boy, who was also in the barbershop by himself on other occasions, and also that he saw the man thought to be Oswald drive to the barbershop in Mrs. Paine's station wagon. Please interview the barbers who worked for Mr. Shasteen during October and November of 1963. A Mr. Burt Clover and a Mr. Buddy Love (or Lav) were employed by Shasteen during this period; it is not clear whether or not there were other barbers in Shasteen's shop during this [illegible] the other barbers recall a customer in the shop testified that the person he believes was Oswald was in the shop on one occasion on a Friday evening close to 7:00 p.m. at about the time that Shasteen was leaving for a high school football game; this was either on November 1 or November 8, 1963. Referring to the occasion on which Mr. Glover cut this person's hair, Shasteen testified as follows:

> "he went around and instead of using his back bar to look in the mirror and comb his hair, he went down to the one at the middle chair and just rudely pushed out of the way and he go up there and combed his hair and turned his water on, you know, and got some more oil and put on it, on his hair, and he didn't say thank you or excuse me or nothing. He just pushed in there---those things make you remember."

Obtain from the barbers as complete a description as possible of the physical appearance of any person they believe resembled Oswald, including a full description of his apparel; also ascertain as much information as possible about any person who may have accompanied a man resembling Oswald to the barbershop and also ascertain whether the man resembling Oswald was seen driving a car to the barbershop, and if so, obtain a description of the car.

Mr. Shasteen also testified that his "brother-in-law used to live right across the street from" Mrs. Paine; he also testified that he owned some property in Irving which he rents to others. Please re-interview Mr. Shasteen in order to obtain the addresses of his brother-in-law's former residence and the rental property which he owns, and then attempt to verify the information which he provides you.

The Commission appreciates the continuing cooperation of your Bureau.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin

CONCERNING

Enclosed for Dallas are two copies of a self-explanatory letter from the President's Commission dated 9/1/64 requesting considerable investigation. Every effort should be made to expedite the request of the Commission and furnish same in an appropriate letterhead memorandum for dissemination.

It is recognized that all of the investigation requested cannot be completed at one time and it is suggested that as each phase is completed that an appropriate letterhead memorandum be submitted so that the Commission can be kept advised of our progress without waiting for the entire matter to be handled.

NOTE: The Commission's letter is four pages in length and requests collaborative investigation concerning early developments in the assassination primarily dealing with allegations that generally do not adhere to facts developed by us. For example, additional investigation concerning Oswald being seen at a rifle range practicing, additional investigation regarding Oswald allegedly driving a demonstrator car prior to the assassination at speeds in excess of 70 miles an hour, allegations concerning his being seen in a barber shop. None of these allegations appear to have any basis. As the results are received the Commission will be notified.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your request of August 20, 1964, that this Bureau conduct an investigation to determine how the transcript of Jack L. Ruby's testimony before the President's Commission on June 7, 1964, came into possession of Dorothy Kilgallen and the "New York Journal-American" and my letter to you of August 20, 1964, confirming this request.

Enclosed herewith are two copies each of a memorandum dated August 25, 1964, at Dallas, Texas; a memorandum dated August 24, 1964, at Houston, Texas; and a memorandum dated August 27, 1964, at Newark, New Jersey, setting forth results of the desired investigation.

The investigation is continuing and you will be advised of the results.

On 8/20/64 Mr. Rankin telephonically requested investigation to determine how this transcript came into possession of Kilgallen and the "Journal - American." By letter 8/26/64 we confirmed Rankin's request, and furnished results of interviews of the publisher of the "Journal - American" and Dorothy Kilgallen, both of whom refused to identify their source. We also advised the Commission that we would not interview any personnel of the Commission in absence of a specific request. We have interviewed all others present except Commission members who deny any knowledge of how the transcript came to be printed.

Dallas has been instructed to reinterview court reporter Laidrich for details re security of her original notes and United States Attorney Sanders whom she turned transcript over to for mailing to the Commission for information re his handling of the transcript.

DATE: 9/2/64

FROM : R. H. Jevons

1 - Mr. Stombaugh

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY, DALLAS, TEXAS, 11/22/63

Mr. Melvin Eisenberg of the President's Commission telephonically contacted SA Paul N. Stombaugh on 9/1/64, relative to certain questions regarding fiber examinations conducted in this case for inclusion in an affidavit he is preparing for SA Stombaugh's signature. A resume of this conversation is as follows:

Mr. Eisenberg desired to know what mercerized cotton is. He was told this is cotton that has been chemically treated and which process removes much of the twist naturally present in cotton.

He inquired as to whether or not the degree of twist in cotton was regarded as a main characteristic used for comparison purposes. SA Stombaugh answered that the twist was a minor individual characteristic used, the shade of the fiber being the main characteristic.

He asked what delustered fibers were and the significance of the spots on these fibers. The answer given was that delustered synthetic fibers are those that have been chemically treated to remove the luster or shine from the fiber. The resulting spots from this chemical action are fairly uniform in size and are used as a major individual characteristic for comparison purposes.

Mr. Eisenberg then inquired if the small tuft of cotton fibers removed from the butt of the assassination rifle contained several different shades of each color. He was told that the gray-black and orange-yellow cotton fibers each contained one shade; however, the blue cotton fibers contained two different shades of blue.

Re: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT

He then asked the approximate number of fibers in the tuft, whether or not these matched those in Oswald's shirt, and whether or not the cotton in this shirt was mercerized. The answer was there were six or seven fibers in the tuft. The blue fibers matched two of the three shades present in the shirt and the gray-black and orange-yellow fibers matched the gray-black and orange-yellow fibers present in the shirt. The cotton in the shirt was mercerized, the twist of the cotton fibers in both the shirt and the tuft from the rifle being fairly uniform.

Mr. Eisenberg then asked how many different shades of green cotton fibers were in the blanket (found in Paine's garage) and was told approximately seven. He then inquired if the several green cotton fragments removed from the paper bag (found near the rifle) matched any of these. He was told they matched one of the shades.

He inquired whether or not the delustered brown viscose fibers present in the blanket had uniform delustering spots. He was told the spots varied in size with the various fibers as the fibers were of different diameters. However, the brown viscose fiber fragment from the paper bag microscopically matched some of these fibers in diameter and delustering characteristics.

Mr. Eisenberg the.. stated that he had neglected to place into evidence the glass microscope slides containing the fibers removed from the gun and the paper bag, the hairs removed from the blanket and the known hair samples obtained from Oswald. He inquired whether or not these are still available and upon receiving an affirmative answer, stated the introduction of these would be included in the affidavit.

SA Stombaugh is to be contacted by a representative of the President's Commission in the near future to obtain his signature on the affidavit and to turn over the glass slides for evidentiary purposes.

During a recent conversation with J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel, the President's Commission, Mr. Rankin mentioned that there had been three specific leaks of information which the Commission had requested the Bureau to investigate, these being the leak of the Oswald diary; the polygraph interview with Jack Ruby and the interview by Chief Justice Warren with Ruby at the Dallas County Jail. Mr. Rankin noted that the Bureau in its correspondence had pointed out that with the exception of an interview with Commission member Congressman Gerald R. Ford of Michigan no interviews had been conducted with other Commission members or members of the President's Commission staff. Mr. Rankin indicated that he desired the Bureau to conduct such investigation as was necessary regardless of what members of the staff or members of the Commission it would be necessary to interview. Mr. Rankin advised that this request would be made in writing and he was told that the investigation would be conducted upon receipt of such a letter. In the absence of such a letter being received from the Commission, Malley on two occasions, the latter being 9/9/64, advised Mr. Rankin's office (Mrs. Eide, Mr. Rankin's secretary, inasmuch as he was unable to talk to Mr. Rankin) of the fact that no letter concerning this matter had been received. On 9/9/64, Mrs. Eide noted that Mr. Rankin had dictated such a letter, that it was being typed and that she would see that it would be delivered to the Bureau as quickly as possible.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN:

Upon receipt of the letter as described above, appropriate instructions will be issued to conduct the necessary interviews with the President's Commission members and staff.

NOTE: Commission stated that the interviews of the above individuals to be used in its published report relating to the murder of Officer Tippit and they desired affidavits from each specifying that our report of the interview was a correct representation of what each witnessed on 11-22-63. Lewis, a wholesale car dealer, and Patterson, a cafeteria employee, were on a used car lot along the escape route, from where Officer J. D. Tippit was murdered. Each heard shots and saw a white male carrying a gun, pass the used car lot. Lewis could not identify Oswald. Patterson did identify Oswald and also saw him discard his zipper jacket. Neither of these individuals were actual witnesses to the shooting. Each of the above reviewed our report of their interview and certified it was materially correct, however, made clarifications to original comments. In Patterson's affidavit he stated he did not specifically recall having been exhibited a photograph of Oswald during his interview of 1/22/64, and desired this paragraph to be deleted as an official reporting of that interview.

During Patterson's interview on 8-26-64, he observed two different photographs of Lee Harvey Oswald, at which time he advised this person (Oswald) is positively and unquestionably the same person he saw at approximately 1:30 PM, 11/22/63. This information is contained in the LHM furnished to the Commission and no further action necessary.

In the L. J. Lewis affidavit he stated upon hearing the gunshots (which were connected with the shooting of J. D. Tippit), Lewis indicated he immediately called the Dallas Police Department, followed by the comments he observed a white male running south on Patton Avenue carrying either an automatic pistol or revolver in his hand and was attempting to reload same. In Lewis' original interview on 1/21/64, he indicated he heard the shots, observed a white male with a pistol or revolver in his hand, running and was either attempting to reload or conceal the weapon in his belt line, followed by the comment that he then went into the office of a used car dealer and called the Police Department. Therefore, Lewis' affidavit is nothing more then the clarification of when he called the Police Department.

NOTE: Miss Miller by letter 12-4-63, posed several questions concerning the assassination and made substantially the same allegations as in her 7-27-64, letter. She claims to have met an individual in Louisville on 9-7-63, who she feels was Oswald. Louisville was instructed to interview Miller inasmuch as the whereabouts of Oswald during September, 1963, are not positively known although it is suspected he was in New Orleans during this month. Louisville interviewed her on 8-7-64, and she maintains on the night of 9-7-63, she and a friend Harold Caddell met three young men, one of whom resembled Oswald, and to whom Caddell spoke to possibly in the Russian language. She claims this man was carrying a case, and she feels it could have held the assassination rifle.

Additional investigation of Louisville has been completed and it appears Miss Miller may have furnished inaccurate information since she is known to become intoxicated and has a propensity for writing letters to public officials. Her allegations appear adequately refuted and no further action appears warranted. This concludes our inquiry.

UNIDENTIFIED LATENTS ON CARDBOARD CARTONS

Four cardboard cartons recovered from the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository Building in Dallas after the assassination of President Kennedy were examined in Ident in November, 1963. Twenty latent fingerprints and seven latent palm prints were developed on these cartons. One of the latent fingerprints and one of the latent palm prints were subsequently identified as those of Lee Harvey Oswald. This left nineteen latent fingerprints and six latent palm prints unidentified.

Mr. Rosen's memorandum to Mr. Belmont, 8-28-64, and Mr. Conrad's memorandum to Mr. Belmont dated 9-1-64 reported that J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel of the President's Commission is anxious to try to resolve the identity of the remaining latent fingerprints and palm prints on the four cardboard cartons. The Commission now feels that if the identity of these prints is not resolved, it leaves room for the allegation and speculation that Oswald had a co-conspirator in killing President Kennedy. Mr. Rankin said he would bequest by letter that the FBI attempt to identify the latent prints on the cardboard cartons with particular reference to eliminating the prints of Dallas Police Officers, Secret Service Agents and Texas School Book Depository employees. Today we received from the Dallas FBI office the fingerprints and palm prints of two agents and three clerical employees who processed evidence in this case for transmittal to the Bureau. Five of the latent fingerprints and one of the latent palm prints on the cartons were identified with the prints of Forest L. Lucy, a clerical employee.

At the present time, fourteen latent fingerprints and five latent palm prints on the cartons still remain unidentified.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Special Agent Lyndal L. Shaneyfelt of the FBI Laboratory furnished a deposition at the Commission offices on the morning of September 1, 1964. At the conclusion of the deposition, Mr. Norman Redlich of your staff requested that Special Agent Shaneyfelt furnish a letter advising the distance from the President at the time he was struck in the head by a bullet (frame 313 of the Zapruder assassination film) to the mark on the curbing removed from the south side of Main Street that has been referred to in previous testimony as Shaneyfelt Exhibit number 34. Special Agent Shaneyfelt has determined that the distance from the President's location in frame 313 of the Zapruder film to the mark on the curb on the south side of Main Street near the underpass is approximately 260 feet.

NOTE: During the testimony of SA Shaneyfelt at the Commission on 9/1/64, he was asked the distance from the mark on the south curb of Main Street to the President at the time the President was hit in the head by a bullet. SA Shaneyfelt did not have this figure available and therefore, was requested to furnish it by letter so that it can be made a part of his testimony.

Reference memorandum dated 2/26/64, from W. D. Griffith to Mr. Conrad concerning a continuing project wherein the Bureau has undertaken to furnish the President's Commission with photographs of all Commission exhibits.

On 9/2/64, Miss Mary A. Rowcotsky, Commission employee, delivered to SA Robert E. Neill the Commission exhibits which are listed and described on the attached sheet. Miss Rowcotsky requested that these exhibits be photographed and that three photographs of each exhibit be furnished to the Commission. Subsequently, Miss Rowcotsky requested telephonically that all exhibits be returned to the Commission after being photographed with the exception of that portion of Shaneyfelt Exhibit No. 34 which consists of a piece of concrete curbing.

This work will be handled by an Agent examiner of the FBI Laboratory's Document Section.

ACTION:

Exhibits will be photographed as requested. It is noted that Shaneyfelt Exhibit No. 34 consists of one photograph of a section of concrete curbing and one section of concrete curbing. The section of concrete curbing will be retained in the Bureau's custody whereas all other exhibits are to be returned to the Commission, along with the requested photographs.

The letters contained a list of named individuals alleged by the anonymous writer they had knowledge of the assassination. Indications were the anonymous writer might have been a mental patient at Kings Park State Hospital, Long Island, N.Y., as several references were listed for Buildings C and D at the above hospital. Investigation did not establish the identity of the writer and the Laboratory examination did not establish the identity either. The supervising psychiatrist of Buildings C and D, Kings Park State Hospital, indicated there are approximately 657 mental patients in these buildings whose mental conditions would preclude interviews. Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to the telephone call of Mr. Norman Redlich of your staff on July 22, 1964, requesting the preparation of visual aids depicting the whereabouts of Lee Harvey Oswald after the assassination and the location of eyewitnesses who saw Oswald in the vicinity of the Tippit killing.

Enclosed are four glossy prints each of the following visual aids which were prepared from information selected by the Commission from documented records:

1. Whereabouts of Lee Harvey Oswald between 12:32 P. M. and 1:50 P. M. on November 22, 1963. The distances indicated are based upon speedometer readings recorded by Inspector Lee J. Gauthier while tracing the described route in an automobile on August 17, 1964.

2. Location of eyewitnesses to the movements of Lee Harvey Oswald in the vicinity of the Tippit killing.

The enclosed visual aids were previously approved by Mr. Redlich and comply with his referenced telephone call.

NOTE: The Commission's request in this matter was followed continuously resulting in conferences held with Redlich on July 23, 1964 (Memo, Gauthier to Callahan 7-24-64). A preliminary chart was submitted to Redlich on 7-28-64 at which time he decided to hold this matter in abeyance until such time as the Commission could furnish additional information. This matter was again discussed with Redlich on 8-12-64 and on 8-26-64. He approved the preliminary charts. It is to be noted that all materials selected by the Commission for visual aids are basically subject matter already submitted to the Commission by the FBI prepared in report volumes, visual aids, scale models, etc. Indications are the requests for visual aids will continue until all information needed for the preparation of the Commission's final report has been submitted with possible extensions to cover additions to and modifications of material already submitted right up to the time of final printing. Requestsfor visual aids are being made by report writers approved by Mr. Rankin for additional graphic illustrations which will be used to clarify obscure technical points which will appear in the final report.

For your information, the interview of Mr. Bowers on November 22, 1963, is recorded on page forty-three in the Dallas report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated November 30, 1963, captioned "Lee Harvey Oswald, Assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, November 22, 1963, Dallas, Texas, Assaulting Federal Officer."

During interview on August 28, 1964, Mr. Bowers was assured that the information related by him to the FBI had not been furnished to Mrs. Mark E. Martin of Hominy, Oklahoma.

Subsequent reporting of the information furnished to the President's Commission by Dallas is not desired.

NOTE: This is the 25th letter to the Commission on Martin who is the subject of SAC Letter 64-23 (B) dated 4-28-64, based on her continuing prolific letter writing campaign to vilify the Director and the FBI. She has been described as a "bright nut" and since the assassination has been conducting her own investigation. Bowers was a "tower man" for the Union Terminal Company of Dallas and was assigned to the "north tower" close to the Texas School Book Depository building on 11-22-63. He heard 3 shots reported what he had seen which does not appear to have much significance to our investigation. Bowers advised on 8-20-64, he was telephonically contacted by one Mrs. Mark Martin of Tulsa, Oklahoma, who questioned him about the assassination. Bowers stated it was "quite evident" to him Mrs. Martin was in possession of information he previously furnished to the Dallas PD and FBI. Martin was persistent in her questioning of Bowers and although he refused to answer most of her questions he did give it some information to her. It appears Martin will continue to conduct her own investigation. The above information is being furnished in line with our prior dissemination of similar data.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

In reference to inquiry by Mr. W. David Slawson of your staff concerning interview of Rolando Barrios, former employee of the Chihuahuenses Travel Agency, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, this is to advise that Mr. Barrios was interviewed on one occasion, namely April 2, 1964, by Special Agent Rolf L. Larson.

References to Special Agent Larson's interview of Mr. Barrios are contained in our letter dated April 6, 1964, and our memoranda dated April 7, April 28, and May 18, 1964.

During the interview, Mr. Barrios was shown photostats of the exchange orders (Exhibit 202) issued in connection with the travel of H. O. Lee from Mexico, D. F., Mexico, to Laredo, Texas, via the Transportes del Norte bus line on October 2-3, 1963. A photograph of Oswald's tourist card (Exhibit J-3) was also displayed to Mr. Barrios. He stated that he would interpret the comma following the name "Lee" on the tourist card to indicate the surname of the traveler to be "Lee" and in order to avoid unnecessary writing on the exchange orders, he would have used the initials of the first and middle names appearing on the tourist card which he considered to be "Harvey Oswald." not recall Lee Harvey Oswald or his dealings with him. On viewing the above-described documents, he affirmed that he would have written the name of the traveler as "H. O. Lee" had he copied this name from Oswald's tourist card.

On April 2, 1964, Mr. Barrios stated that he would attempt to reconstruct the events surrounding his issuance of the exchange orders in question. However, on April 6, 1964, he telephonically contacted Special Agent Larson and advised that he was unable to recall his contact with the traveler for whom he issued the exchange orders in the name "H. O. Lee."

For the completion of your records, it should be noted that the second confidential source abroad referred to in our April 7, 1964, memorandum and source designated as T-13 in our May 18, 1964, memorandum is Special Agent Rolf L. Larson.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to our letter dated September 1, 1964, transmitting six exhibits obtained from Marina Oswald on August 27, 1964.

Pursuant to the request of Mr. William T. Coleman of your staff, there are enclosed two copies of page 20 of Exhibit D-238 on which page appears a listing for the Cuba Hotel.

Concerning the markings on the large and small maps depicted in Exhibit D-240, we have been advised that the central markings in the J-7 and the H-3 areas of these maps define Lee Harvey Oswald's place of residence at the Hotel del Comercio at Bernardin de Sahagun Street Number 19, Mexico, D. F., Mexico. Inquiry at other areas marked on Exhibits D-240 and D-238 is under way and the results thereof will be furnished to you in the immediate future.

Our Laboratory's examination of Exhibit D-237, the portion of the Transportes del Norte bus ticket, obtained from Mrs. Oswald, has established that D-237 was originally connected to the two ticket stubs depicted in Exhibit D-202. The examination has further established that the D-202 ticket stubs were originally connected. 62-109060-

Mr. Ricardo Medina, Mexico City manager of the Transportes del Norte line, has advised that tickets issued by his company for travel from Mexico City, Mexico, to Laredo, Texas, consist of three sections which are delivered to the purchaser. Each of these sections bears the same number. According to Mr. Medina, one section is for travel from Mexico City to Monterrey and the second is for the travel between Monterrey and Laredo, Texas. The third section, recording the total travel from Mexico City to Laredo, Texas, is retained by the passenger. This section (Exhibit D-237) records the price of the ticket to be 93 pesos and 75 centavos. The tickets of the Del Norte line are pink in color and are torn from a bound, numbered book of tickets in which a stub remains to record the sale thereof.

NOTE: CONFIDENTIAL as this shows our investigative activity in Mexico City.

Marina Oswald, 8-27 turned over six items believed to have been in Oswald's possession when he was in Mexico. Among these were a portion of his bus ticket from Mexico City to Laredo which definitely places him on the Del Norte line bus and a street map and tourist card. On 9-2-64 Mr. Coleman of Commission inquired of J. C. Stokes if the Hotel Cuba was listed in the tourist guide. This is of significance as Oswald spoke to 2 passengers on the bus going into Mexico about the Hotel Cuba. He probably noted its existence from the travel guide which he likely picked up at Laredo on the way to Mexico. Joining of ticket stubs per Lab report 9-2-64.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of August 10, 1964, wherein you requested assistance in preparing visual aids for use in dealing with allegations that the motorcade route which took the President's car past the Depository at the intersection of Elm and Houston Streets was unnecessary and departed from normal practice.

Enclosed are four glossy prints each of the following visual aids which were prepared from information selected by the Commission from documented records:

1. Aerial view (500 feet altitude) of Freeway convergence west of Triple Underpass, Dallas, Texas
2. Freeway convergence at Triple Underpass, Dallas, Texas
3. Photographic views of highway markings in the vicinity of the assassination

This was initially reported by an employee of the store, Dial D. Ryder who allegedly found a repair tag with the name Oswald on it. This allegation has been somewhat supported by two women Mrs. Gertrude Hunter and Mrs. Edith Whitworth, who claimed they saw the Oswalds and directed them to the sport shop. Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated August 27, 1964, concerning the display of photographs of Officer J. D. Tippit and Mr. Bernard Weissman to six individuals having a connection with the Carousel Club.

Enclosed are two copies each of two communications from our Portland Office dated August 21, 1964, and August 31, 1964. In the enclosed communications you will note Mr. Crafard states Mr. Jack Ruby told him that he knew Officer Tippit and that he, Crafard, had seen Mr. Weissman at the Carousel Club on a number of occasions.

For your information, my letter dated August 27, 1964, enclosed a communication from our Dallas Office dated August 21, 1964. On page two of the Dallas communication Mr. Andrew Armstrong, Jr., during an interview on August 20, 1964, stated after viewing photographs of Officer Tippit and Mr. Weissman that he had never seen either individual before. Mr. Armstrong also stated that Mr. Ruby had told him that the "Tippit" who was shot was not the one he knew. Further, beginning on page three of the Dallas communication Detective Gayle M. Tippit, during interview on December 16, 1963, acknowledged that he was very well acquainted with Mr. Ruby.

ReBurad dated 9-2-64, concerning a request to verify Bernard Weissman's employment at Carpet Engineers Inc., Dallas, Texas, on 11-14-63.

Every effort should be made to expedite this investigation so that the Bureau can conclude its inquiries and advise the Commission at the earliest possible time.

NOTE: Commission by let 8-3-64, referred to testimony of Mark Lane before Commission, in which he alleged there was meeting at Ruby's Carousel Club on 11-14-63, between Weissman, J. D. Tippit and Ruby. Weissman placed controversial full page ad in Dallas newspaper prior to President Kennedy's visit. Tippit, was shot and killed by Oswald. We have investigated this allegation in the past and no proof of such meeting was developed. It appears Commission is taking every precaution to preclude possible future criticism. Commission request required displaying photographs of Weissman and Tippit to 6 individuals associated with the Carousel Club to insure neither were seen in the club.

With the transmission of the enclosed letterhead memoranda from Portland, we conclude our inquiries based on requests set out in the Commission letter dated 8-3-64. It is pointed out Crafard, although interviewed on numerous occasions, never previously furnished the above information. Crafard is an itinerant by nature and was employed by Ruby as a handy man. He is not considered reliable, is prone to exaggerate and there is some indication he has enjoyed the notoriety occasioned by his association with Ruby. During interview on 8-10-64 by New York Agents Weissman stated he believed he was employed on the evening Lane alleged the controversial meeting took place. The Commission by letter 8-31-64, requested efforts be made to verify this employment and when the results are received, all inquiries in this particular phase will have been completed. This matter is being closely followed and the Commission will be promptly advised when the results are received.

Mr. Albert Jenner, President's Commission, telephonically stated the U. S. Marshal's Office in Denver, Colorado, had been unable to serve Professor Revilo Oliver of Illinois University while in Denver in that he had departed prior to receipt of the subpoena. Jenner stated information available indicated Professor Oliver may have gone to Seattle, Washington, or to Chicago, Illinois, prior to returning to his home in Urbana, Illinois. Jenner advised he had been in telephonic contact with Mrs. Oliver on Friday evening at which time Mrs. Oliver stated she did not know when her husband would be returning to Urbana but expected him either Sunday, Monday or Tuesday.

Mr. Jenner advised that the President's Commission was extremely desirous of obtaining a deposition from Professor Oliver and would prefer, if at all possible, to handle this interview in Washington, D. C. In view of this he requested the Bureau attempt to ascertain Professor Oliver's present whereabouts and requests Oliver to come to Washington on Sunday, September 6 or the following two days, September 7 or 8, whenever it would be possible for him to arrive in Washington. Mr. Jenner advised that he could be reached at the President's Commission, telephone number 543-1012; if this number does not answer call 543-1400 where the security guard will answer during the holiday and tell him to locate Mr. Jenner to take the call. Jenner is presently residing at the Madison Hotel, Washington, D. C., telephone number 483-6400. Jenner requested that if any arrangements of any nature were successfully worked out with Professor Oliver, he would appreciate being called. If he decides to do anything where he will be unavailable at his office or hotel, he will call for Malley and leave information where he can be located.

Mr. Albert Jenner, President's Commission, at 8:05 p.m., 9/5/64, was telephonically advised that Mrs. Revilo P. Oliver, wife of Professor Revilo Oliver of Illinois University, advised Agents of our Springfield Office that her husband left Denver, Colorado, 9/5/64, by train. She believed the earliest he would return to Champaign, Illinois, would be Sunday night and he may not return until as late as Tuesday night, 9/8/64. Mrs. Oliver said she had telephonically furnished this information to Jenner at noon, 9/5/64 and arranged to have her husband call Jenner at his earliest opportunity. (Refer Springfield teletype 9/5/64.)

Mr. Jenner requested that we maintain constant contact with Mrs. Oliver and as soon as Professor Oliver is located, that the telephone number at which Jenner can contact him be determined.

Mr. Jenner said he planned to travel to New York City on 9/6/64; however, he would maintain contact periodically with Mr. Malley's Office. During remainder of time he can be located at the President's Commission or at his hotel. (Refer Malley to Rosen memorandum 9/5/64.)

PURPOSE:

To advise of the receipt of an additional President's Commission request on Sunday, 9/6/64, and action taken.

BACKGROUND:

At 12:55 p.m., 9/6/64, Mr. Norman Redlich of the President's Commission advised SA K. H. Raupach he had an additional request concerning a recontact with Mr. B. H. Patterson of Dallas who was one of the individuals witnessing the flight of Lee Harvey Oswald from the scene of the J. D. Tippit shooting.

We previously completed a Commission request wherein the Commission desired affidavits from Patterson and the other individual witnessing Oswald's flight, J. L. Lewis. The affidavits and an additional letterhead memorandum were furnished to the Commission by letter dated 9/2/64.

Patterson in his affidavit had stated he did not specifically recall having been exhibited a photograph of Oswald during his original interview conducted on 1/22/64, and had desired this paragraph to be deleted as an official report of that interview.

Patterson was reinterviewed on 8/25 and 26/64, and on 8/26/64, he observed two different photographs of Lee Harvey Oswald at which time he advised this person displayed in the photograph (Oswald) was positively and unquestionably the same person he saw at approximately 1:30 p.m., 11/22/63. This information was contained in the 8/27/64, letterhead memorandum furnished to the Commission.

On 9/6/64, Mr. Redlich advised that for the completion of the report it would be necessary to obtain from Patterson an affidavit that the information he furnished on 8/26/64, and contained in the memorandum dated 8/27/64, at Dallas represented a true report of his interview.

Reference is made to your letter of August 28, 1964, wherein the Commission requested two visual aids--one involving a composite of photographs of Lee Harvey Oswald immediately after his arrest, and the other a composite of photographs of the documents used in connection with the purchase of the rifle used in the assassination.

Enclosed are four glossy prints each of the following visual aids which were prepared from information selected by the Commission from documented reports:

1. Documents establishing purchase of rifle by Lee Harvey Oswald

2. No title (photographs of Hill Exhibit 8, Frank Fires Exhibit 400-C and Commission Exhibit 1797)

These visual aids were previously approved by Mr. Redlich and this complies with the Commission's request contained in referenced letter.

All the material utilized for preparation of these exhibits was selected by the Commission's [redacted] Supervisors from information already furnished by the FBI, prepared in report volumes, visual aids, scale models, etc. Redlich indicated that additional aids will be needed from time to time, right up to the final report. Redlich also stated that graphic illustrations prepared by the FBI are indeed necessary in order to clarify obscure technical points which will appear in the final report. Dear Mr. Hoover:

On August 7, 1964 you forwarded an English translation of a letter in Spanish which has been marked Sylvia Odio Exhibit One in proceedings before this Commission. In her deposition Mrs. Odio translated that portion of the Spanish language material which was underlined in the original. As set forth at pages 373-74 of the transcript of her testimony, a copy of which was forwarded with our letter of August 28, 1964, her translation was as follows:

> "Please tell me again who it is that calls himself my friend. Be careful. I do not have any friends that have been near me lately, not even in Dallas, so do not establish any friendships until you give me their full names again."

You will note that the translation of that material which appears on page 3 of your translation is somewhat different than the translation made by Mrs. Odio. Would

Dear Mr. Rankin:

In reply to your communication dated September 3, 1964, the translation of a letter in Spanish which was furnished to you by this Bureau on August 7, 1964, is a literal translation of the original Spanish text. The several differences between this version and the translation prepared by Mrs. Odio would appear to result from certain liberties taken by the latter in her interpretation.

For instance, in the second line of Mrs. Odio's translation, as furnished by you on page one of your letter, the word "friends" appears in the original Spanish as a singular noun, "friend." In line three, "not even in" is an erroneous interpretation. The original Spanish word is "por" which means "through" rather than "not even in."

With reference to your specific inquiry regarding that portion of Mrs. Odio's translation which refers to "their full names," the literal translation is "his name."

The enclosures which you forwarded are being returned herewith.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Commission would appreciate your conducting the following additional investigation for us:

1. Re-interview Ruth Paine to determine whether she was ever a customer in Hutch's Supermarket, 2333 West Shady Grove, Irving, Texas; if so, determine approximately when and how often and with whom, if anybody, she was accompanied. Also ask Mrs. Paine whether to her knowledge Lee Harvey Oswald used to take a bag of lunch with him during October and November, 1963, when he left her home on Monday morning after having spent the weekend at her house. Also, ask Mrs. Paine whether to her knowledge Lee Harvey Oswald had a habit of eating cinnamon rolls with large quantities of milk.

2. Re-interview Marina Oswald and Marguerite Oswald and ask them the same questions as those addressed to Ruth Paine referred to above. In particular, determine whether Marina, Marguerite and Lee Harvey Oswald shopped together at Hutch's Supermarket on a Wednesday evening sometime during October or November, 1963.

In her testimony before the Commission, Marina Oswald has stated that Lee Harvey Oswald at no time had a check for $189.00 and that he did not attempt to cash such a check at Hutch's Supermarket. In re-interviewing Marina, please determine whether she recalls an incident in which Lee Harvey Oswald attempted unsuccessfully to cash a check at Hutch's Supermarket for any amount. On October 31st or November 1st, Oswald did cash an unemployment check for $33.00 at the Atlantic and Pacific store, 209 Williamsburg Center, Irving, Texas. Determine whether Marina Oswald has any familiarity with the cashing of that check which would bear upon the possibility that Oswald first attempted to cash that check at Hutch's Supermarket.

One of his remarks was to the effect that Secretary of Defense McNamara ordered the Department of the Army to rehearse for the President's funeral one week before the funeral took place. Oliver claimed he obtained this data from a newspaper article in the "Clarion Ledger." We reviewed such article and noted that there was nothing to substantiate Oliver's statement. Instead, an Army officer indicated the Army was in a state of readiness for the funeral because it had finished funeral rehearsal because there was grave concern for President Hoover's health at that time. The President's Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, Northeast
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated August 28, 1964, concerning a recontact with Mrs. Virginia Louise Davis who, with her husband, operates the Sports Drome Rifle Range in Dallas, Texas.

Enclosed are two copies of a memorandum dated September 4, 1964, Dallas, Texas, captioned "Lee Harvey Oswald" which reveals interviews with Mr. and Mrs. Davis. Also enclosed are six pages, 12 by 8½ inch lined tablet paper and two sheets of 7 by 8½ inch memorandum paper of the "F. B. McIntire Equipment Company" referred to by Mr. and Mrs. Davis as the "sign-in" register.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis have requested the "sign-in" register be returned to them upon the completion of its use by the President's Commission.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE:

The Commission requested Mr. and Mrs. Davis, operators of the Sports Dromo Rifle Range, be reinterviewed to clarify records they maintained at the rifle range during October through November, 1963, which would reveal the names of individuals present at the range during those months. The Commission was interested in the entries in Mr. and Mrs. Davis' journal and they indicated the desire to have a set of documents which have been obtained in regard to the rifle range. No further action necessary.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Page 12 of Agent Callender's Report of December 24, 1963, provides a schedule of Continental Trailways buses from New Orleans to Houston as of September, 1963. Pages 10-11 of Agent Fults' Report of December 11, 1963, similarly provide what appears to be a schedule of all Greyhound buses from New Orleans to Houston as of September, 1963.

It would be helpful to the work of the Commission if you could inform us whether pages 10-11 of Agent Fults' Report do in fact provide a schedule of all Greyhound buses running from New Orleans to Houston. If not, could you furnish such a full schedule? Also, are Continental Trailways and Greyhound the only buslines which operated buses from New Orleans to Houston during September, 1963? If not, could you please furnish schedules for the additional lines?

Your continued cooperation is appreciated.

Reference is made to our letter dated September 1, 1964, with which were enclosed photographic copies of Exhibits D-237 through and including D-242.

There are enclosed two copies each of translations from the Spanish language of Exhibit D-237 and from the Russian language of Exhibit D-242.

Exhibits D-237 through and including D-242 were afforded cryptanalytic examination. While aforementioned exhibits or any similar material could conceivably involve code or cipher, on the basis of the material and information for analysis, no valid codod message could be established as being present. There was no indication that the Russian grammar book containing the alphabetical vocabulary (Exhibit D-[illegible]) was being used for coding purposes.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Enclosed for your information are two copies each of two newspaper articles. One article by Dorothy Kilgallen appeared in the September 3, 1964, issue of the "New York Journal - American" and the other article by Paul Hathaway appeared in the September 3, 1964, issue of the "New York World - Telegram and the Sun."

Both articles are primarily concerned with public assertions made by Mr. Mark Lane concerning his theories on the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Considerable information regarding Mr. Lane has been previously furnished to you.

No further action is being taken with regard to these articles unless specifically advised to the contrary by you.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
11-22-63, DALLAS, TEXAS
MISC. - INFO CONCERNING

Reairtel dated 9/3/64 enclosing copies of the above referred to newspaper articles. One copy of New York's airtel and the enclosed articles are furnished for your information. Subsequent reporting of this material is not desired.

NOTE: Lane is the New York attorney who injected himself into the Oswald case through the "National Guardian" newspaper. Lane has been married often, [redacted] and is known to be associated with communist dominated organizations. He has been making speeches around the country and particularly in New York endeavoring to prove that Oswald was innocent. His material is based on malicious half truths and theories. The article by Kilgallen relates to a thoroughly investigated allegation made by Lane in his testimony before the President's Commission that a meeting took place at Jack Ruby's Carousel Club on 11/14/63 between Barnard Weissman, officer J. D. Tippit and Ruby. Weissman placed the controversial full page ad in the Dallas newspaper prior to President Kennedy's visit. Tippit was shot and killed by Oswald. We have investigated this allegation in the past and no proof of such meeting was developed. The Kilgallen article rehashes this allegation and adds a new dimension in that a fourth individual allegedly attended this meeting at the Carousel Club who is identified by Kilgallen as a "rich oil man." The article by Hathaway briefly discusses Lane's continuing lectures on the assassination and their effect on the general public. Hathaway claims Lane speaks with logic and many people come away believing his theories. We have furnished the Commission numerous items relating to Lane's speeches, newspaper articles and the like. It is not felt any additional investigation is warranted.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

This will confirm a telephonic request received by Mr. George H. Scatterday of this Bureau from Mr. Howard P. Willens of your staff on September 12, 1964, concerning up-to-date statistical data on the scope of our investigative efforts.

As of September 11, 1964, we had submitted over 2,300 investigative reports comprising over 25,400 pages. In addition, over 3,700 items of physical evidence were received in the FBI Laboratory for technical examination.

Mr. Scatterday furnished the above information telephonically to Mr. Willens on September 14, 1964, pursuant to Mr. Willens' request.

IMPLEMENTATION OF
WARREN COMMISSION
RECOMMENDATIONS

At your request we have looked over the document pertaining to the Secret Service plans to improve their coverage regarding the protection of the President and the Vice President. It is obvious that this document was prepared following a detailed study of future Secret Service requirements and needs. Since these are internal matters of Secret Service, we do not feel we can comment on them.

We note with interest that on pages 11 and 11a of the document Secret Service acknowledges the burden placed on other Federal law enforcement agencies by borrowing their manpower. Secret Service stresses that their own trained agents are better qualified to perform protective duties because of their specialized training. I consider this most advisable. From November 25, 1963, to September 28, 1964, we have loaned Secret Service 358 men from nineteen field offices on forty-two occasions to assist them in Presidential protection.

Due to the fact that our own investigative responsibilities have increased tremendously during this same period, the loaning of our Special Agents to Secret Service has placed a heavy drain on our manpower. We must be relieved of the burden of furnishing our personnel to Secret Service.

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION
ASSASSINATION OF THE PRESIDENT

During a discussion with J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission by J. R. Malley on 9/22/64, Mr. Rankin indicated the Commission would go out of existence just as quickly as possible following release of its report, which was contemplated on 9/28/64.

In view of this comment on Mr. Rankin's part, Malley inquired of him as to whether any consideration had been given to what disposal would be made of additional reports which would be submitted by various Bureau field offices and pointed out to Mr. Rankin that we were continuing to receive many miscellaneous allegations relating to the assassination of President Kennedy, which were being run out to the fullest extent and, as the investigative agency, we would like to be advised to whom such information should be passed on following the termination of the Commission. It was also mentioned to Mr. Rankin the possibility that following release of the Commission's report there might be a large amount of correspondence and telephone calls from various individuals concerning matters relating to the President's assassination which would necessitate additional inquiries and that these, too, would be the subject of correspondence in many instances and, consequently, there should be some authority designated that would be the proper place to furnish information concerning such matters.

Mr. Rankin advised he had been giving this matter some attention and that he certainly agreed with the observations that the Bureau would not be the proper place to merely retain such information in its files without calling it to someone's attention. He stated that while he felt the Bureau would undoubtedly properly evaluate such material and would certainly explore all possibilities, we should not be charged with conducting investigation and not passing the information along to someone who would be designated to receive such information. Mr. Rankin advised that this matter would be given further consideration and the Bureau would be advised.

EX-103 REC 5 - 207

ACTION: In order to properly look after the Bureau's interests in connection with this matter, it is believed advisable to call this matter to the attention of the President's Commission by letter. If approved, the attached letter should be sent.

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION CONCERNING

On 9/25/64, SA LAURENCE E. DANBOM obtained ten copies of the Warren Report from the Government Printing Office. When Agent DANBOM returned to the office, an inquiry was received from a Miss HUTCHINS, Code 187, Extension 3132, Department of Justice. She desired to know how many copies were obtained, and if they were copies of the Warren Report or copies of the Hearings of the Warren Commission. She stated she wanted to change her records since ten copies of the Warren Report had already been obtained. The above is for information.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
11-22-63, DALLAS, TEXAS
MISC. - INFO CONCERNING

Rerep of SA Robert P. Gemberling at Dallas dated 9-18-64. The following corrections noted below have been handled by the Bureau and should be appropriately corrected by receiving offices:

On Page 4, Paragraph 2, Line 1, Word 5; Paragraph 3, Line 1, Word 1; and Paragraph 4, Line 1, Word 4, quotation marks were placed around "Harry."

Your attention is invited to Page 4, of rerep relating to an alleged threat against Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Upon receipt of this information Senator Dirksen's Office, Capitol Police and local Washington, D. C., police were notified. This information was also furnished to the U. S. Secret Service.

Provided all corrections referred to above have been made authority is granted for Dallas to disseminate one copy of rerep to U. S. Secret Service locally.

For the information of Dallas, two copies of rerep were furnished to the President's Commission and one copy each was furnished to the Department of Justice and U. S. Secret Service Headquarters Washington, D. C.

NOTE FOR FILES & COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION, (CONSOLIDATION UNIT)

The four copies of rerep which have been disseminated as indicated above have been corrected. The remaining six copies including the original should be corrected as indicated in this communication. Please handle.

NOTE:

The referenced 57 page report is the eighth such report received at the Bureau containing the results of investigation relative to allegations against persons other than Lee Harvey Oswald since the assassination. The information relates to remarks and threats allegedly made by individuals concerning their feelings about President Kennedy, other officials and the policies of the administration. The complaints are initiated by cranks, mental cases and patriotic citizens. Copies of this report have been disseminated to the President's Commission, the Department and Secret Service.

Dallas in the cover pages accompanying rerep requested Bureau authority to disseminate copy of this report locally. In view of this request, above communication is being sent.

Information concerning the dissemination of the threat against Senator Dirksen can be located in 62-109060-3725.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Enclosed for your information are two copies of a memorandum captioned "Assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, November 22, 1963, Dallas, Texas," dated September 18, 1964, Omaha, Nebraska. The memorandum contains information concerning one Warren Egbert Hefflon who following arrest for a Federal violation claimed he killed President Kennedy.

Mrs. Elaine Hefflon, wife of Warren Egbert Hefflon, has indicated she believes her husband is a mental case and it was her understanding her husband has undergone mental treatment in the past.

No further action is being taken by this Bureau concerning Hefflon's statement that he killed President Kennedy. I have enclosed for your additional information two copies of FBI Identification Record Number 68 988 C, which appears to relate to Warren Egbert Hefflon.

NOTE:

By airtel 9-18-64, Omaha furnished a letterhead memorandum concerning Warren Egbert Hefflon who was arrested September 15, 1964, in violation of Title 18, Section 2312, (ITSMV). Following his arrest he was very uncooperative, would not allow himself to be printed by the U. S. Marshal and also made irrational statements. He claimed he was deaf and was unable to hear the U. S. Marshal. He further stated he was going to avail himself to all the "foolish rights" bestowed upon him by the Government. While in the Marshal's Office observed a picture of the President, at which time he said "I killed him." Hefflon's wife stated she believes her husband is a mental case and that he had told her he intended to "fake" mental instability. The USA is giving serious consideration to requesting a psychiatric examination of Hefflon. We formerly had a selective service case on Hefflon, and several referrals on deserter cases. The Commission is being furnished the copy of an Identification Record regarding Hefflon.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated September 11, 1964, which enclosed two copies of the report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated August 28, 1964, at Dallas, Texas, captioned "Assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, November 22, 1963, Dallas, Texas." This report contained the results of investigation conducted by this Bureau relative to allegations against persons other than Lee Harvey Oswald.

Enclosed for your assistance are two copies of another similar report prepared by Special Agent Gemberling dated September 18, 1964. Dissemination of this report has been made to Assistant Attorney General Herbert J. Miller, Jr. and U. S. Secret Service since it contains information of possible interest to them.

Your attention is invited to page four of the enclosed report relating to an alleged threat against Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Upon receipt of this information Senator Dirksen's Office, Capitol Police and local Washington, D. C., police were notified. This information was also furnished to the U. S. Secret Service.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Enclosed for your information are two copies of a self-explanatory communication captioned "Leo A. Gorman" dated September 18, 1964, Los Angeles, California.

In connection with Mr. Gorman's writing captioned "An Analysis of the Character of the Assassin of President John F. Kennedy," this information is contained in the report of Special Agent Chester C. Orton dated July 30, 1964, Los Angeles, captioned "Lee Harvey Oswald, aka., IS - R - Cuba" which was furnished to you on August 7, 1964.

Your attention is directed to pages 28, 29 and 30 of the enclosed memorandum which reveals investigation conducted by our Los Angeles Office. In view of the observations of Gorman's acquaintances concerning his mental instability, no further action is being taken by this Bureau. However, appropriate copies of the enclosed memorandum are being furnished to Assistant Attorney General Herbert J. Miller, Jr., and United States Secret Service.

NOTE:

The Department furnished the Bureau a letter written by Gorman comprising fifteen handwritten pages including enclosures, two of which were acknowledgement letters from SAC, Los Angeles, and also two printed copies of writings by Gorman, one of which has previously been in a report and disseminated to the President's Commission. Essentially, Gorman's letter was a "help me" letter to the Attorney General which was completely unrelated. Los Angeles investigation has determined there is definite indication Gorman is mentally unbalanced as he has indicated on several occasions he has been followed by "Federal Agents." In view of Gorman's background, no further action is necessary and the LHM is being disseminated to the Department and Secret Service separately.

As a result of a letter received from the President's Commission dated 9-10-64, immediate investigation was initiated to interview Commission members, Commission staff and former attorneys of Jack L. Ruby relating to the leak of Oswald's diary, Ruby's polygraph examination and Ruby's testimony before Chief Justice Earl Warren to news media. At this time we are awaiting results from New York concerning the possibility of obtaining copies of Ruby's transcript with Warren which was published in the "New York Journal American." If received from New York, these documents will be compared in the Laboratory with those obtained from the President's Commission.

Efforts are currently being made to locate and interview additional members of the Commission and staff. The enclosed letterhead memoranda concern interviews with Mr. Arlen Specter, Assistant Counsel, President's Commission; Mr. Philip Barson of Internal Revenue Service and President's Commission staff member; Mr. Francis W. H. Adams, Legal Consultant to the President's Commission; and Miss Sharon Kegarise, former stenographer for the Commission. Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated September 3, 1964, concerning the property of Lee Harvey and Marina Oswald. Your letter requested that steps be taken to insure that no property in the possession of the Oswalds as of November 22, 1963, the existence of which is not known to the Commission, still remains in the possession of Marina Oswald, Robert Oswald, Michael or Ruth Paine or any other person.

In this connection, there are enclosed two copies each of a memorandum dated September 15, 1964, and the four attachments thereto. The attachments to the September 15, 1964, memorandum record results of interviews of Michael and Ruth Paine, Robert Oswald and Marina Oswald in accordance with the request in your letter of reference. It will not be possible for us to comment concerning the possibility of property of Lee Harvey and Marina Oswald being in possession of individuals whose identities are unknown to us.

NOTE FOR SAC, DALLAS:

Enclosed for your inclusion in your files are seventeen photographs of Exhibits D-254 through and including D-262 described herein.

NOTE:

Referenced letter asked for assurance that no property of the Oswalds as of 11-22-63 existence of which is not known to the Commission still remains in the possession of Marina and Robert Oswald, the Paines or any other person. We have covered Marina and Robert Oswald and the Paines but, of course, cannot speak in the broad sense for any other person. For example, it is possible Oswald on November 23 may have lost property or had property stolen from him about which we know nothing. Marina on 9-11-64 interview assured us that all the property of Oswald as far as she knows as of 11-22-63 is in the possession of officials investigating the assassination. As to her own property exclusive of personal items such as wearing apparel she assured us that all such property has been presented for our perusal. The items depicted in enclosed photographs were items that Dallas picked up on 9-11 as material of some possible interest to the Commission. It is unlikely that this is so. However, in view of Commission's request, we are enclosing the photographs and are conducting cryptanalytic examination and are doing translations concerning this material. Microdot examination results per Laboratory 9-23-64 report. Enclosed memorandum and attachments have been approved for dissemination by Messrs. Belmont and Malley.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated September 4, 1964, concerning the possibility Lee Harvey Oswald had a telescopic sight mounted and sighted at the Irving Sport Shop, Irving, Texas.

Enclosed for your information are two copies of a self-explanatory communication from our Dallas Office dated September 21, 1964, relating to information furnished by Mrs. J. T. (Gertrude) Hunter.

NOTE: Hunter and Edith Whitworth have somewhat substantiated an allegation that Oswald had the sight mounted at the Sport Shop. Both women stated they saw Oswald, his wife and child at a furniture store owned by Whitworth and directed the family to the gun shop. The circumstances of this situation indicate the allegation is false and the women are mistaken in their identification. Hunter is reportedly known to exaggerate and to have an "obsession" to inject herself into any big event. The enclosed communication discloses on 9-12-64, Hunter was contacted by an NBC reporter who indicated he previously spoke with Whitworth and wanted to interview Hunter. Hunter stated she didn't desire to be interviewed and suggested Whitworth was seeking publicity. In view of the Commission's prior interest in these women the above communication and enclosure are being furnished.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated September 22, 1964, relating to the interview of Mrs. Mark E. Martin of Hominy, Oklahoma, by Agents of this Bureau on September 17, 1964.

Enclosed are two copies of a communication with attachments from our Oklahoma City Office dated September 21, 1964, relating to the above interview. For your information the FBI personnel referred to by Mrs. Martin are assigned to our Oklahoma City Office and are identified as Special Agent in Charge Lee O. Teague and Special Agents David H. Barry and Warren G. Long who interviewed Mrs. Martin.

This is being furnished in view of your interest in Mrs. Martin.

NOTE:

This is the 27th letter to the Commission on Martin who is the subject of SAC Letter 64-23(B) dated 4-28-64, based on her prolific letter writing campaign to vilify the Director and the FBI. Based on a Commission request, we interviewed Martin on 9-17-64 for approximately 10 minutes at which time she refused to furnish any information. The Commission was furnished the results of this interview by our letter dated 9/22/64. Oklahoma City has now received two communications from Martin, one of which is rather comical. In the interview on 9-17-64 our Agents remarked they had considerable difficulty getting into her residence as there were a number of vicious dogs present. Nevertheless, they conducted the interview. One of the communications just received from Martin makes reference to this situation and states that while the FBI failed to protect the President in Dallas, she, nevertheless, was pleased that two of our Agents (Oklahoma City Office) walked through her yard where she has eight dogs. Of course, she is being extremely sarcastic. The other communication from Oklahoma City is a copy of a letter she presumably sent to the Commission explaining why she did not furnish any information to the FBI and berating the Commission for not answering her prior communications and not sending a representative to take a deposition from her.

It appears Mrs. Martin is becoming more emotionally disturbed as time goes on.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated August 28, 1964, dealing with the claim of Sylvia Odio that Lee Harvey Oswald and two other individuals visited at her apartment in Dallas, Texas, on September 26 or 27, 1963. Sylvia Odio in testifying before the Commission stated that the man believed by her to be Lee Harvey Oswald was introduced to her as "Leon Oswald."

In connection with investigation requested in letter of reference, there are enclosed two copies each of memoranda dated September 8, September 10 and September 11, 1964. There are also enclosed two copies each of a memorandum dated September 14, 1964, and the eighteen attachments thereto.

On September 16, 1964, we located one Loran Eugene Hall at Johnsondale, California. Hall has been identified as a participant in numerous anti-Castro activities. He advised that in September, 1963, he was at Dallas, Texas, soliciting aid in connection with an anti-Castro cause. He recalled meeting a Cuban woman, Mrs. Odio who lived in a garden-type apartment at 1030 Magellan Circle, Dallas, Texas. He said that at the time of his visit he was accompanied by Lawrence Howard, a Mexican-American from East Los Angeles and William Seymour from Arizona. He denied that Lee Harvey Oswald was with him during his visit to Mrs. Odio's apartment in September, 1963.

Hall stated that William Seymour is similar in appearance to Lee Harvey Oswald and that Seymour speaks only a few words of Spanish. In connection with the revelation Hall, you will note that the name Loran Hall bears some phonetic resemblance to the name Leon Oswald.

We have obtained photographs of Loran Hall and will attempt to obtain photographs of William Seymour and Lawrence Howard for display to Mrs. Odio. We are continuing our investigation into the claims of Sylvia Odio with particular emphasis on efforts to determine if Hall, Howard and Seymour may be identical with the three individuals who visited her in late September, 1963. The results of our inquiries in this regard will be promptly furnished to you.

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE:

b7(C) Odio is a Cuban exile ~~who has been undergoing psychiatric treatment~~) Odio claimed that Oswald and two other men visited her in her Dallas apartment on evening of 9-26 or 27-63. It is not possible that Oswald was among this group as he was on 9-26 and 9-27 on busses en route to Mexico City. It appears reasonably certain, however, that Odio was visited in late September, 1963, by three men for her younger sister was present and confirms the visit although she did not talk to or meet the men. ~~It appears now to a point of some certainty that Hall, an extremist and Castroite, with his associates Seymour and Howard were the men who visited Odio.~~ Enclosed material has been approved for dissemination by Messrs. NOTE:

As a result of a letter dated 9/10/64, immediate investigation was initiated concerning this matter. This is an intensive investigation requiring numerous interviews regarding the various leaks. WFO's investigation to date discloses a complete lack of organization within the Commission concerning handling of records, and there was found to be no document control and no accountability for documents whether classified or not. It has been determined there were 62 people employed by the Commission, the majority of whom have now been interviewed. Copies of Ruby's testimony before Chief Justice Warren has been obtained from the Commission. This was the document which appeared in the "New York Journal American" under the by-line of Dorothy Kilgallen. We are currently endeavoring to obtain from the "New York Journal American" and Dorothy Kilgallen any copies of the transcript of Ruby's testimony so that these documents can be compared with the transcripts now in the possession of the Laboratory obtained from The President's Commission. The results of this examination will be furnished to the President's Commission. It is noted that the memoranda enclosed comprise 248 pages. The two memoranda dated 9/21/64, Washington, D. C. captioned "Lee Harvey Oswald" and "Jack L. Ruby - Lee Harvey Oswald" have been reviewed by Mr. Belmont, Mr. Malley and appropriate supervisors. Additional memoranda attached have been reviewed by supervisor only.

NOTE:

Tho four cartons were recovered from the sixth floor of the TSBD after the assassination and were believed to have been used by Oswald to support his rifle. The DL PD developed one palm print which was identified as Oswald's. When the cartons were delivered to us for examination, we developed an additional 20 latent fingerprints and 7 latent palm prints, one fingerprint and palm print was identified as Oswald's, one palm print and 5 fingerprints were identified as those of Dallas clerk, Forest L. Lucy, who wrapped the cartons. The 14 remaining fingerprints and 4 palm prints were identified as those of DL PD Officer Robert Lee Studebaker. One latent palm print remains unidentified. The Commission has stated that as many latents as possible should be identified to preclude speculation that Oswald had a coconspirator. This is a tremendous undertaking as the one palm print remaining could have been left by any one of numerous individuals not connected with the TSBD such as reporters. This problem has been presented to the Commission; however, they still desired all TSBD employees be printed. We are insuring that all FBI personnel in Dallas during the pertinent period are eliminated as well as local police officers.

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION REPORT TO PRESIDENT JOHNSON

By letter dated August 23, 1964, the General Services Administration (GSA) advised the Attorney General that the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy expected to release its report to President Johnson within the next few weeks and requested GSA to assist in its distribution within the Government.

The letter states that it is anticipated the report will consist of a one-volume publication and the hearings may consist of 19 or 20 volumes. The plan is to have the Government Printing Office deliver 1304 copies of the report and 204 sets of the hearings to the Attorney General's office. The Commission has requested that 600 copies of the report and 100 sets of the hearings be assigned to the FBI for its use. The letter suggests that if the number of copies is more than is necessary, revisions of the quantity should be made no later than September 9, 1964.

This letter was made available to Mr. Mohr by Mr. Andretta's office for any suggestions the Bureau might have. The following recommendations are being made as to the number of copies of the report and the hearings which should be made available for the Bureau's use:

1 - The Director
1 - Mr. Tolson
1 - Mr. Belmont
1 - Mr. Mohr
5 - Domestic Intelligence Div.
5 - General Investigative Div.
3 - Laboratory
3 - Crime Records
5 - Files and Communications
1 - Administrative Division
1 - Identification Division

In addition to the foregoing, it can be anticipated that upon release of the President's Commission report and hearings, when they become a matter of public knowledge, many questions will be raised which will result in considerable correspondence for the various field offices as well as the Seat of Government. In view of this it appears desirable for each field office to have available a copy of the report and the hearings for reference purposes, which will not be indexed in each of the field offices.

Memo to Mr. Belmont from A. Rosen
Re: President's Commission Report to President Johnson

It is felt that any matters concerning the assassination of the President which come to the attention of the field offices will undoubtedly of necessity be referred to the Bureau and one complete index at the Seat of Government will suffice rather than have every office index the report and hearings of the President's Commission.

In view of the fact that the Dallas and New Orleans Offices handled the bulk of the investigative activity, it is felt each of these offices should have three copies for reference purposes. This will make a total of 60 copies of the report and hearings for the field. In addition to the Bureau's field offices, it is believed advisable that a copy of the report, but not the hearings, be made available to each of the Legal Attache offices, making an additional ten copies of the report needed. This comes to a total of 97 copies of the report and 87 copies of the hearings which would be adequate for the Bureau's needs.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) If approved, Mr. Andretta will be advised that 97 copies of the report and 87 copies of the hearings will be adequate for the Bureau's needs.

100 copies for each

(2) Upon receipt of the report and hearings, an appropriate communication will be sent to all field offices and Legats concerning this matter.

(3) A tickler will be set up for six months after the receipt of this report and hearings in order that a determination can be made as to the necessity of the various Divisions at the Seat of Government retaining the copies which are being made available to them.

Honorable Robert F. Kennedy
Attorney General
Washington, D. C. 20530

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

The President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy will release its Report to President Johnson within the next few weeks and has asked General Services Administration to assist in its distribution within the Government.

It is anticipated that the Report will consist of a one-volume publication and the Hearings may consist of 19 or 20 volumes. The plan is to have the Government Printing Office deliver 1,304 copies of the Report and 204 sets of the Hearings to your office. The Commission has requested that 600 copies of the Report and 100 sets of the Hearings be assigned to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for their use. The Commission also reserves the right to assign ten percent of the copies indicated above to individuals in the Department who have participated or assisted in the work of the Commission.

One complete set is for your office, and a recommendation has been made that one set be given to each of your assistants. Copies should also be placed in libraries of your Department, and the balance of the copies distributed to the Heads of the Bureaus, Staff, or Service Offices in Washington and in the field. This suggested distribution can be modified, as may be necessary, to place these publications in offices or with officials who will have use for them.

If your review of the Department's requirements for these publications indicates the above quantities are more than necessary, please feel free to revise the quantities in your acknowledgement of this letter by September 9, 1964. For additional information, contact Mr. Dwight E. Smith, Director, Printing and Publications Division, General Services Administration, Washington, D. C. 20405; telephone, Government dial code 183-4851 (343-4851).

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to our letters dated September 1 and September 4, 1964, dealing with material obtained from Marina Oswald on August 27, 1964. This material has been designated Exhibits D-237 through and including D-242.

In this connection there are enclosed two copies of a memorandum dated September 11, 1964, setting forth the results of our inquiry at points marked on Exhibits D-238 and D-240. In response to the inquiry of Mr. William T. Coleman of your staff concerning the availability of the pamphlet "This Week - Esta Semana" in the Laredo area on September 26, 1963, we have reaffirmed the information obtained from Juan Miranda as set forth on page three of the enclosed memorandum. In this connection Rosa Maria Pereda, assistant to the editor of the pamphlet, and Manual Velez, shop foreman at Editorial Cultura, the firm printing the pamphlet, confirmed that the publication is printed each week on the Thursday immediately preceding the initial date of publication and that it is mailed on the day it is printed with the hope that it arrives at its principal destinations by the following Saturday.

The information reported herein and in the enclosed memorandum concludes our investigation relative to the material turned over by Marina Oswald on August 27, 1964.

Classified "Confidential" as Legat has so classified enclosure to protect our operations abroad. On 8-27-64 Marina Oswald turned over to us six items which was the property of Oswald which she heretofore overlooked. Among these items were a tourist guide of Mexico (D-238) and a street map of Mexico City (D-240). Both of these documents had inked markings on them indicating probable Oswald interest in the areas or establishments marked. When we furnished this material to Commission, we told them we were conducting investigation at those points to determine if anything of significance could be developed. Legat's 9-11 memorandum accomplishes this. Results were negative and the principal markings were easily explained, as they defined the location of his hotel, the Soviet and Cuban Embassies and other areas in Mexico City of possible interest to a tourist. Coleman of Commission on 9-2 inquired if the Hotel Cuba was listed in the tourist guide and if the issue in question could have been picked up by Oswald in Laredo on 9-26. This was of significance as Oswald spoke to fellow passengers on bus into Mexico about the Hotel Cuba and it was reasoned that he may have learned of its existence by seeing its name in the travel guide. Investigation by Legat, Mexico City, establishes that Oswald could not have picked up the pamphlet in Laredo area on 9-26 as this was the date it came off the presses in Mexico City and was mailed. Letterhead has been approved for dissemination by Messrs. Belmont and Malley. Reaffirmation re printing and mailing date of pamphlet per Legat 9-18-64 cable.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Enclosed herewith is a copy of a letter from Seth Kantor to Jack Ruby dated August 31, 1964, which may be of interest to you. This letter was furnished to the FBI by the Sheriff's Office, Dallas County, Texas.

You may also be interested to know that Mrs. Eva Grant, Jack Ruby's sister, advised our Dallas Office on September 14, 1964, that one John Kaplan has been in Dallas on behalf of Northwestern University working under a $15,000 grant to the University. She stated that she understood the grant was from one Meyers, first name unknown, and was for the purpose of making a study of "all the things wrong with the trial" of Jack Ruby.

No investigation will be conducted on the basis of the above matters in the absence of a specific request from the President's Commission.

NOTE:

Seth Kantor is a Scripps Howard reporter, Washington, D. C., who filed a story after the assassination that he had seen Jack Ruby at the Parkland Hospital on the afternoon of 11/22/63. Upon interview by Agents and in his testimony before the Commission he has consistently stuck to his story. Ruby denies that he was at the Hospital and extensive investigation on this point tends to establish that he could not reasonably have been there. The source of the letter was J. H. Kitching, Deputy Sheriff, Dallas County, who on instructions of Sheriff J. E. Bill Decker has furnished copies of all correspondence to Ruby. Source is not considered confidential.

PURPOSE:

To advise status of investigation requested by the President's Commission letter September 10, 1964, for Commission members and staff and Sol A. Dann and Melvin Belli, former Ruby attorneys, to be interviewed regarding leak of Oswald's diary, Ruby's polygraph examination and Ruby's interview with Chief Justice Warren and the Commission.

BACKGROUND:

We have previously conducted extensive investigation regarding the three leaks with exception of investigation within the Commission itself. Results were furnished to the Commission with the advice that investigation at Commission itself would not be conducted in the absence of a specific request. The Commission has now requested investigation within the Commission regarding the three leaks by letter dated September 10, 1964. Washington Field Office (WFO) was instructed to conduct requested inquiries.

WFO has advised investigation to date discloses a complete lack of organization within the Commission concerning handling of records. There was found to be no document control whatever and no accountability for documents whether classified or not. It was also determined out of 62 persons employed by the Commission 32 are no longer employed or living in the Washington, D. C. area. Efforts are being made to locate these individuals for interviews by field offices covering their present location.

With respect to the leak to Dorothy Kilgallen and the "New York Journal American" of the transcript of Ruby's interview, it has been determined an unknown number of copies of this document were made from the original upon receipt at the Commission. Only five copies are known to have a confidential stamp on page 103, which is the stenographer's certification. The published transcript in Kilgallen's column also contains a confidential stamp indicating the possibility that one of these five copies was the source of the leak. The five copies bearing the "confidential" notation were distributed within the Commission to:

1. Norman Redlich, Legal Consultant
2. Senator Richard B. Russell, Commission member
3. Burt W. Griffin, Legal Consultant
4. Retained for use of Commission staff
5. Congressman Gerald R. Ford, Commission member

Kilgallen, during a previous interview, advised she would not reveal the source from whom she received copies of the transcript. However, she did not indicate she would not be of assistance. She mentioned she made copies of the Ruby transcript and also had Photostat copies made. She also mentioned she did not tell the newspaper the source of her information. It is recommended efforts be made to obtain from Kilgallen the copy of the transcript she has in her possession. Also, that the "New York Journal American" be contacted and attempt to obtain the photograph used to reproduce page 103 of the transcript and to determine if the newspaper has a copy of the transcript Kilgallen used in preparing her article. If these documents are obtained, they will be compared with the questioned five copies.

The Commission also furnished one copy of the transcript to Ruby's attorney, Joe Tonahill. An effort will be made to obtain his copy to determine if it bears the confidential stamp and merits comparison.

ACTION:

By teletype attached, New York and Dallas are being instructed to obtain the material from Dorothy Kilgallen, "New York Journal American" and Joe Tonahill.

The five confidential transcripts and original transcript obtained from the President's Commission have been furnished to the Laboratory for examination.

NOTE:

This is the 26th letter to the Commission on Martin, who is the subject of SAC Letter 64-23 (B) dated 4-28-64, based on her continuing prolific letter writing campaign to vilify the Director and the FBI. Martin has been described as a "bright nut" and since the assassination has been conducting her own investigation. The Commission received a telegram from Martin indicating she possessed pertinent information relating to the assassination rifle and the shots fired at the President. While expressing reluctance, Willens stated he felt Martin must be interviewed. Agents of our Oklahoma City Office interviewed her on 9-17-64, for approximately 10 minutes at which time she refused to furnish any information indicating she did not have to speak with FBI Agents if not "emotionally oriented." She also denied the wording in the telegram and stated she would continue to wait for a proper reply from the Commission and if they wanted the information in her possession, they could subpoena her. Martin was not abusive to our Agents at this time; however, her actions were very erratic and suggested emotional instability.

Enclosures - 6

NOTE:

Mark Lane is the attorney in New York City who has been making his own investigation of the assassination and has been highly critical of the Commission and the FBI. The enclosures set forth results of Lane's recent lectures in New York City wherein he has continued to make false allegations in connection with the assassination. He also alleged that he has obtained data from a "black book" which he states he received from an INS employee. We have checked this out with INS and it appears Lane has obtained documents of INS regarding stops placed by INS as listed in its "lookout book." INS is instituting investigation to determine if an INS employee is furnishing restricted data to Lane. Data in question is not classified but disclosure of such data to unauthorized persons constitutes serious violation of INS internal rules and regulations. We have disseminated such data to both local and Headquarters of INS. Letter classified "Confidential" inasmuch as it transmits enclosures containing data from a number of our security informants of current and continuing value. If such data were divulged to unauthorized individuals, it could disclose identities of our informants and thus be detrimental to interests of U. S. Confidential source mentioned in transmittal letter is [redacted].

RECORDING ROOM

Honorable J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President's Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, Northeast
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

In your letter dated August 31, 1964, you requested information as to the extent of the firearms identification examinations conducted by the FBI Laboratory to determine whether cartridge cases found at various locations in the vicinity of Dallas, Texas, were fired from the Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, Serial No. C2766, Commission Exhibit 139.

Thirteen hundred thirty-six rifle cartridge cases, other than the three rifle cartridge cases recovered in the Texas School Book Depository Building, have been submitted to the FBI Laboratory for examination. Eighty of them were 6.5 mm Mannlicher-Carcano cartridge cases. The sources of these cartridge cases, the dates on which they came into possession of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the results of the Laboratory examinations made on them and where this information is recorded in investigative reports are being furnished to you in summary form in the attached list.

ENCLOSURE

The rifle cartridge cases listed are the only ones received in the FBI Laboratory for examination in this case with the exception of the three rifle cartridge cases recovered on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository Building. Only those three cartridge cases recovered in the Texas School Book Depository Building were identified as having been fired in the 6.5 mm Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, Serial No. C2766.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Commission would appreciate your Bureau providing us with a letter indicating the extent of the ballistics examinations which you have conducted to determine whether shell casings found at various locations in the vicinity of Dallas, Texas, were fired from the Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, serial number C2766, used to assassinate President Kennedy, and the results of all such tests.

In particular, several reports prepared by your Bureau and submitted to the Commission have indicated that shell casings have been turned over to you for analysis. Such reports appear in the report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated December 10, 1963, at page 269, and in the Gemberling report dated December 23, 1963 at pages 95, 98, 101, 104, and 117. In the Gemberling report of December 10 at page 355 there appears a partial report of the laboratory tests conducted as of the date of that report; however, although this report indicates that the 6.5 mm Mannlicher-Carcano cartridge cases that were tested came from the Sports Drome Rifle Range, it does not indicate the report in which you informed us that your Bureau had received possession of these cartridge cases.

We would thus appreciate receiving a letter which will allow us to follow forward from any given report indicating that cartridge cases had been turned over to your Bureau to the conclusion that those particular cartridge cases were or were not fired from the Mannlicher-Carcano rifle C2766. If the records which your laboratory maintains are such that you are prepared to state that none of the cartridge cases examined by your laboratory, other than the three found on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to separate informal requests on September 14, 1964, by Miss Jane Vida and Miss Mary A. Rowcotsky, Commission employees, to representatives of this Bureau concerning the reproduction of certain Commission exhibits. The exhibits were furnished to Special Agents of this Bureau on the same date as the requests.

In accordance with these requests, there are enclosed herewith three sets of photocopies each of Oliver Exhibits numbered 1, 2, 4 and 5, along with the originals of these exhibits, and the originals of Commission Exhibits numbered 2422, 2425, 2427 and 2441. Three sets of photographs of the latter mentioned Commission exhibits were delivered to the Commission by a Special Agent of this Bureau on September 15, 1964.

NOTE: The requests of 9/14/64 mentioned above were made by Miss Vida and Miss Rowcotsky, respectively, to SA Robert A. Frazier and SA Roy H. Jevons, Laboratory Division. Commission Exhibits numbered 2422, 2425, 2427 and 2441 were sent by courier to SA Frazier and Oliver Exhibits numbered 1, 2, 4 and 5 were received at the Commission by SA Robert E. Neill on the same date as the requests.

The three sets of photographs of Commission Exhibits, mentioned above, which were furnished to the Commission on 9/15/64, were personally delivered by SA Neill.

All of the exhibits mentioned above originated from sources other than the Bureau and are therefore being returned to the Commission.

It is noted that several of the exhibits reproduced consist of multiple pages or multiple portions and in order to avoid confusion the three sets of photocopies are being considered as three enclosures.

INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA

By letter dated September 11, 1964, J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission referred a letter addressed to himself from Mrs. Marina Oswald dated September 9, 1964, and requested that it be translated from the Russian language.

Mrs. Oswald's letter reiterated a previous request that all of her husbands documents and belongings be returned to her and that she be furnished with a transcript of her testimony before the Commission. She said that she is working on a book of her life with Lee Oswald in collaboration with Priscilla Johnson.

ACTION:

Attached for approval is a proposed reply to Rankin's letter dated 9/11/64 furnishing the required translation.

Enclosed for each office is a copy of a letter which was directed to the President's Commission by Congressman John R. Pillion of New York. For the information of the WFO, Mr. J. Lee Rankin contacted the Bureau 9/10/64 and indicated that he desired the FBI to interview Congressman Pillion concerning certain data in his letter. Mr. Rankin underlined the specific items that he desired Congressman Pillion be questioned about. He asked that the Bureau determine from Congressman Pillion the basis or proof of each of the underlined items.

WFO should immediately have two experienced mature Agents who are familiar with the Oswald investigation contact Congressman Pillion in connection with his letter. For the information of the WFO, Mr. Rankin telephoned Congressman Pillion and requested that he be available for interview by the FBI and Congressman Pillion indicated he was perfectly willing to be interviewed by Bureau Agents.

In your interview of Congressman Pillion in addition to the specific items underlined by Mr. Rankin in the enclosure, the WFO should also question Congressman Pillion concerning his statements which appear on page eight of the enclosure which are as follows: "There is an abundance of direct evidence linking Oswald to the Soviet Secret Police. Evidence already available establishes Oswald's close association with the Soviet Secret Police and other Communist agencies and terroristic groups."

Results of WFO's interview with Congressman Pillion should be immediately furnished to the Bureau in a letterhead memorandum suitable for dissemination to the President's Commission.

SUBJECT: RADIO PROGRAM THREE STAR EXTRA

The radio broadcast, Three Star Extra, on September 14, 1964, announced that the Warren Commission Report of more than 600 pages is to be made public this week.

In addition, this newscast stated that the report by the Warren Commission concerning the assassination of President Kennedy will set at rest many unfounded rumors and specifically point out that Oswald acted as an individual and that Ruby also performed on his own.

The report is to be in the President's hands soon and thereafter will be published in a paperback book which will be made available to the public for approximately $2.25 a copy. It was stated that the only difficulty of publication is editing the voluminous testimony that has been accumulated.

This newscast in mentioning the Warren Commission Report made no mention of the Bureau in relation to this inquiry.

It is noted that, as set forth by earlier memoranda, Court reporters' copies of testimony by Laboratory representatives before the President's Commission were obtained and reviewed for accuracy and suggested corrections and changes were furnished to the Commission in the form of corrections in the manuscript itself. In some instances these changes were required by inaccurate reporting on the part of the Court reporter and in other instances they were considered desirable to supply details and clarification for those reading the transcript and not having the benefit of the atmosphere and conditions of the actual testimony, such as reference to specific exhibits used in illustrating the testimony. Where the attorney handling the examination was available, these changes were discussed directly with the attorney; in the majority of cases, however, the attorneys were not available and, therefore, the corrected manuscripts were left with Mr. Willens of the Commission in order that he might forward them to the appropriate attorney for concurrence in the proposed corrections. Mr. Eisenberg handled the bulk of the testimony for the Commission and we were advised that, in the event any of the suggested changes were questioned, we would be further advised.

However, as set forth in Mr. Malley's memorandum of July 27, 1964, Mr. Willens subsequently advised that some of the changes were acceptable and some were not, without specifying which were accepted and which were not. Accordingly, immediate efforts were undertaken to determine which of the suggested changes were disapproved. We have been successful to date in obtaining testimony transcripts of only two of the Laboratory witnesses and a review of these indicates that uncorrected errors in reporting still existed in both transcripts. These uncorrected errors have again been called to the Commission's attention.

Where we have suggested changes for the purpose of clarity, it is purely a matter of the Commission's decision whether to make such changes. The testimony as given is correct. Where the suggested changes were due to typographical errors and errors in court reporter transcription, the responsibility rests with the Commission to make the changes. We have called the errors to the attention of the Commission, and in the event any question arises at a later date, we can so state.

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

At 5:15 PM, 9/17/64, Mrs. Sally Hennigan of the President's Commission telephoned. She stated in connection with some of the material furnished by the Bureau to the Commission this material was being prepared for transmittal to the printer for use as exhibits in connection with the Commission report.

Mrs. Hennigan stated she desired to know whether certain reports, copies of which had been furnished to the Commission by the Bureau, were classified or had been declassified. The reports in which she was interested were as follows:

Report dated 5/12/60 at Dallas by SA John W. Fain captioned, "Funds Transmitted to Residents of Russia, IS-R" (Bureau file 105-976); report of SA Fain dated 7/10/62 at Dallas captioned, "Lee Harvey Oswald, IS-R"; and report of SA Fain dated 8/30/62 at Dallas in the Oswald case. (Bureau file 105-82555)

A review of the file reveals these three reports have been declassified.

ACTION

On the afternoon of 9/18/64 Mrs. Hennigan was advised by SA George H. Scatterday that none of the above three reports in which she was interested are classified.

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION
REQUEST FOR VISUAL AIDS

Additional visual aids have been requested by the Commission's staff after their deadline for exhibits was met last Friday, 9-11-64.

Mr. Wesley J. Liebeler, who is writing the chapter which deals with Oswald's motives, selected certain photographs of Oswald which he desires to be arranged into five visual aids. According to Liebeler, it is intended that these photographs reveal the defiant expression on Oswald's face after his arrest. One interesting outcome according to Liebeler was the refusal of Messrs. Rankin, Willens and Redlich to authorize the use of a photograph showing Oswald handcuffed with clenched fist upraised for the reason that the appearance of the photograph in the report would bring up the question of the "Communist salute." (see attached). Liebeler felt the photograph should be used to show Oswald's general attitude of defiance to the circumstances of his arrest because it was germane to Oswald's motives. However, he understands that the Commission's policy with reference to the use of visual aids was the exhibits should have a material significance to the text and not be used merely for illustrations that do not in any way assist the reader to understand the text.

Mr. W. David Slawson of the Commission's staff, who is handling the chapter covering Oswald's foreign conspiracy, requested three additional exhibits depicting Oswald while in U.S.S.R.

The last of the material needed to complete this request was received from Liebeler at 11:00 a.m., 9-15-64. Mr. Willens advised that he had cut off all requests for additional charts by his staff

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION

This morning Mrs. Jane Peter, Room 404, President's Commission, telephonically advised as follows:

Under date of 9/4/64 the Bureau furnished Mr. Rankin a four-page letter with enclosures, which letter concerned the activities of Revilo P. Oliver. Mrs. Peter stated the Commission was unable to locate the original of this letter or the newspaper clipping enclosed therewith. She advised she was utilizing a Xerox of that letter which was not clear with the exception of page 4. She requested she be furnished a Xerox (on Bureau letterhead) of pages 1, 2, and 3 of the letter together with a Xerox of the newspaper clipping which was enclosed.

ACTION

On the afternoon of this date Mrs. Peter was furnished by courier service with the copies she requested.

General Counsel
The President's Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, N. E.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your request on September 10, 1964, that we interview Congressman John R. Pillion concerning certain data which appeared in a letter Congressman Pillion directed to the Commission dated September 10, 1964. You made available to this Bureau a copy of Congressman Pillion's letter wherein you underlined the specific items which you desired we discuss with Congressman Pillion.

Enclosed are two copies of a memorandum dated September 17, 1964, at Washington, D. C., which sets forth results of our interview with Congressman Pillion in this matter. Your specific attention is directed to the last paragraph of the enclosed memorandum wherein we report that Congressman Pillion requested that his letter of September 10, 1964, to the Commission be included in the record of the Commission. He also mentioned that he might produce a paper similar to his letter of September 10, 1964, but dealing mainly with his thoughts on the connection of Lee Harvey Oswald and the American Civil Liberties Union.

In connection with Congressman Pillion's statements as set out in the enclosed memorandum that much of the data he used as a basis for statements in his letter to the Commission was the "Washington Report" of the American Security Council dated March 16, 1964, which contained an article entitled "Background for Assassination," our letter of May 27, 1964, transmitted to the Commission a copy of this publication. For your ready reference, another copy of this publication is enclosed herewith.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE:

Re memorandum 9-11-64 (attached) which sets forth background data regarding Bureau's interview with Congressman Pillion. Congressman Pillion was highly critical of the Commission and maintained Oswald's action in killing the late President Kennedy was a communist-motivated plot. In our interview of Congressman Pillion as set forth in the enclosed memorandum to the Commission, Congressman Pillion indicated that the basis for his statements were largely from what he had read in newspapers and periodicals and from his own assumptions. Congressman Pillion told the interviewing Agents he had no direct evidence of any association of Oswald with communism or the Soviet Intelligence Service (KGB). Interviewing Agents advised that Congressman Pillion was congenial throughout interview and initiated the conversation by stating he was a great admirer of the Director and thought that the FBI was a great organization. The article "Background for Assassination" which was published by the American Security Council is a highly speculative article intimating the assassination was a Soviet plot and that Oswald was a Soviet agent. Other people interviewed in our investigation have used this same article as a basis for statements concerning the assassination and we have furnished the Commission a copy of such publication.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - R - CUBA

It will be recalled that the Honorable John R. Pillion, Member, United States House of Representatives, directed a letter to the President's Commission dated September 10, 1964. The President's Commission requested that Congressman Pillion be interviewed concerning certain data in his letter. The specific items about which the Congressman was to be questioned were underlined with the request to determine from him the basis or proof of each of the underlined items.

On September 16, 1964, Congressman Pillion was interviewed in his office in the House Office Building, Washington, D.C., in the presence of his Administrative Assistant, Russell A. Rourke, by representatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

When the purpose of the interview was explained to the Congressman, he stated that he had talked to Mr. Rankin of the President's Commission who had indicated that the Congressman's letter would be placed in the "Archives" and not in the Commission's record. Mr. Pillion also stated that he could not see any point to the interview, that since it had been reported that the investigation had been completed, the interview would serve no useful purpose. However, since he wished to cooperate in such an important matter, he said he would answer any questions raised by the Commission as to his letter.

As an explanation for his letter, he stated that from what he had read in newspapers and periodicals he thought that about eighty per cent or more of the Commission's investigation would deal with events subsequent to the assassination; for example, with such items as the determination of blame on various government or local agencies. That meant to him that not enough of the investigation would deal with the motivation of Oswald, which motivation he thought was communist-inspired as indicated in his letter to the Commission. He also stated that he did not like the thought of the Commission possibly trying to place any blame for President Kennedy's death on the FBI, the Secret Service or the Dallas Police Department. Instead, he felt the blame for the assassination should be placed on the communist conspiracy.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

In his letter Congressman Pillion stated that the anticipated conclusions of the Commission as related in news reports would absolve internal and international communism from complicity in and guilt for the assassination; that these anticipated conclusions were contrary to the known facts. By known facts he said that he meant the background data of Oswald which has appeared in various publications and public source material, which to him painted a picture of a dedicated communist thoroughly trained and indoctrinated by the communists and Soviet Secret Police or KGB; that the assassination by Oswald would be one result of such training. He thought the blame for the assassination should be placed on the communist conspiracy and the Soviet Secret Police whose doctrines and teachings were directed toward world domination through assassination, sabotage, and all other means short of armed conflict.

In his letter the Congressman stated that American official and private investigative agencies have been silenced during this nine month period and, further, that the Commission's inquiries have suppressed the free flow of available information and prevented the American public from rendering a true and balanced judgment as to the communist role and involvement. The Congressman stated that by these statements he meant that the American people had been promised by the President the results of the FBI's investigation; that the results have not been published to date; that the FBI was not permitted to divulge any information from its reports; that independent investigations by Congress, the State of Texas, by county and city authorities, and even private individuals, had also been stalemated by the priority of the Commission. As a result of this, in his opinion, the Commission had, in effect while not intentional, suppressed any other source of information to the American public in this regard. He reasoned that the communists were using this delay to direct blame for the assassination on the rightist groups, rather than the leftist groups. In this respect, he cited Oswald's reported contribution of two dollars to the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), which to him meant Oswald was a member of that group. He thought that Oswald's connections with the ACLU had not been fully explored; that such exploration would tend to prove his leftist leanings and would fit in with his reported communistic background. He explained that his office had telephonically contacted the ACLU some time ago and was informed that the two dollars forwarded by Oswald was a contribution; that normally for such contribution he would have in time been mailed a membership card. He added that he had not seen published any elaboration on possible connection of Oswald and the ACLU, and it was his understanding at the time of his contact in the past with the ACLU that no investigative inquiry had been made at the ACLU concerning Oswald.

With regard to his statement that Oswald voluntarily became associated with the Soviet Secret Police, known as the KGB, he indicated that his source for this statement was a publication of the American Security Council, possibly unrecalled magazine articles, and published material in general on the case.

The Congressman also stated in his letter that following Oswald's arrival in Moscow the KGB arranged press conferences to publicize Oswald's defection. He also stated that the KGB provided Oswald with a job in a sheet metal shop of a radio factory in Minsk, which job was a sham "cover" job. The Congressman stated that the source for these statements was the "Washington Report" of the American Security Council dated March 16, 1964, entitled, "Background for Assassination." This report is the same as the publication of the American Security Council to which reference has been previously made.

With regard to his statement that Marina Oswald was "planted" by the KGB and induced to marry Oswald as part of a KGB operation, he stated that he indicated in his letter that this was a probability, hence conjecture on his part. He added that from his public source research of KGB methods of operation, this would seem to be a distinct possibility in his opinion. The Congressman also stated in his letter that the grant of an exit visa to Oswald and to his wife, Marina, was a most extraordinary Soviet act. He also stated that there could be no question but that Oswald and Marina were considered by the KGB to be potential agents for either specific or future assignments. He said that he based these statements on the fast service that the Oswalds reportedly received on their exit visas, and on comments reported in the previously described the "Washington Report" of the American Security Council.

Concerning the statement that the KGB had allowed Oswald to engage in target practice and shooting during his more than two years stay in Minsk, he stated that any KGB direction would be conjecture on his part consistent with his previously outlined thoughts regarding his understanding of KGB operations; that Mrs. Michael Paine of Irving, Texas, told his office about Oswald engaging in target practice with a rifle while in the Soviet Union. Mrs. Paine in turn received that information from conversations with Marina Oswald and the subject. The Congressman believed that the Reference Section of the Library of Congress, upon inquiry, was the source of his statement that the use of a rifle and practice privileges were absolutely forbidden by foreigners in the Soviet Union. He also mentioned that Mrs. Paine had advised hearing from either Marina or Oswald that Oswald had practiced "dry sighting" with a rifle in New Orleans. The Congressman explained that his office had telephonically contacted Mrs. Paine about three times last June or July.

The Congressman stated in his letter that a KGB directed school in terrorism, sabotage and assassination is located in the Minsk area. He said that the source of this statement was research at the Library of Congress which indicated that there was such a school at Minsk. Since Oswald was at Minsk and such a school was in the same vicinity, it seemed logical to Mr. Dillion to assume that Oswald received training there at such a school. He added that he had indicated in his letter that this receipt of specialized training and indoctrination from the KGB by Oswald during his extended assignment in Minsk was an assumption.

With regard to the statement in his letter that "Oswald's mind and body was only an instrument for death, manipulated by sinister sources and vicious men," he meant no specific individuals but rather meant communists in general, or the KGB, since he assumed the KGB was involved in the direction of Oswald's activities.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Regarding the statement that Oswald became a cold, calculating, professional, paranoid killer who was intimately associated with the communist apparatus, this was a conclusion of the Congressman. Based on his experience in the past of observing communist techniques as a judge and practicing attorney, augmented by his interest and knowledge in and of communist conspiracies from youth, Oswald, in his opinion, fitted the classic pattern of the antisocial dedicated communist. The Congressman said he had no direct evidence or knowledge of any actual association of Oswald with any communist apparatus.

The Congressman indicated in his letter that Oswald made a number of trips to Mexico, where he consorted with communists. He also indicated in part that Oswald gravitated precisely to Mexico, not once, but on several occasions. In regard to these statements, the Congressman stated that he had no information indicating that Oswald had made more than one trip to Mexico. With regard to Oswald consorting with communists, it was his opinion that the fact Oswald visited the Soviet Embassy in Mexico would tend to substantiate such a statement. He pointed out also that there had been efforts made by some unrecalled individuals and organizations to seek out information concerning communist groups in Mexico but such efforts to his knowledge had been thwarted although it was commonly conceded that such groups did exist in that country and that Mexico was conceded as a hotbed for communist activities.

The Congressman also stated in his letter that Oswald was trained to kill for an attainment of a political objective. The Congressman related that this would appear to be self-evident because Kennedy was the President, Nixon was a former Vice President; Walker was a member of a rightist group; and Connally was a Governor. He stated that Oswald's action would fall into what he feels is a communist pattern of political assassinations. Since he previously expressed his opinion that Oswald fitted the classic pattern of a communist, the Congressman was of the opinion that Oswald's actions would have been communist-motivated, hence the reason for the statement in his letter that the sole and whole incitation and motivation of Oswald in all these killings and attempted killings were the communist ideology and the Communist Party world apparatus.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

The Congressman also indicated in his letter that there was an abundance of direct evidence linking Oswald to the Soviet Secret Police and further that evidence already available establishes Oswald's close association with the Soviet Secret Police and other communist agencies and terroristic groups. The Congressman said that he had no direct evidence of any such connection between Oswald and the groups described. He stated that he believed there was a great deal of circumstantial evidence to warrant such a statement such as Oswald's background, his residence in Russia, his probable association with the KGB, the statements in the published portion of his diary, the information set forth in previously described reports of the American Security Council, his participation in such organizations as the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, and his contribution to the ACLU. He said that while this evidence described would not satisfy legal requirements, he felt it was sufficient to be logically correct and in that sense, evidentiary for all other purposes except legal purposes.

Among the conclusions in his letter the Congressman indicated that Oswald's assassination of President Kennedy was part of a pattern of political assassinations and criminal anarchy; that in this homicide, Oswald was wholly influenced and motivated by his communist ideology, training, associations and objectives. He further concluded that the circumstantial evidence was sufficient to exclude to a moral certainty, any other hypothesis, except that Oswald assassinated President Kennedy to advance the world communist plan designed to ultimately destroy the United States and the free world. The Congressman also concluded that the lack of available direct evidence does not exclude the reasonable presumption that the KGB indoctrinated, trained and prepared Oswald as a professional specialist for future use as an assassin or terrorist. With reference to these conclusions, the Congressman stated that these would logically follow from his answers to the questions posed to him and which are set forth previously.

He again reiterated that he had no direct evidence of any association of Oswald with communism or the KGB.

At the conclusion of the interview Congressman Pillion requested that his letter of September 10, 1964, to the Commission be included in the record of the Commission. He also mentioned that he might produce a paper similar to his letter of September 10, 1964, but dealing mainly with his thoughts on the connection of the subject and the American Civil Liberties Union.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated September 7, 1964, concerning the Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, Serial Number C2766 and Lee Harvey Oswald's rubber stamping kit.

Enclosed are two copies each of two communications both dated September 11, 1964, from our Dallas and Chicago Offices relating to the information requested by you.

For your assistance, the conclusion that Oswald's rubber stamping kit, Commission Exhibit 115, was used to make the line "NEW ORLEANS, LA." on the vaccination certificate, Commission Exhibit 813, was based on the characteristics of size, style, spacing and alignment of the individual rubber type faces plus the imperfections in some of the rubber type faces in the stamping kit, Commission Exhibit 115. These same characteristics were found in the impression on the vaccination certificate, Commission Exhibit 813.

This concludes our inquiries into these matters.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to the inquiry of Mr. Norman Redlich by telephone today regarding the latent prints developed on the four cardboard cartons which were found near the sixth floor window of the Texas School Book Depository Building.

In addition to the twenty latent fingerprints and seven latent palm prints of value for identification purposes which were developed on the boxes, many extremely fragmentary latent impressions of no value for identification purposes were located. It is possible that some persons could have handled these cartons without leaving latent prints on them.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to a conversation between you and Mr. J. R. Malley of this Bureau on August 28, 1964, concerning the identification of latent fingerprints and palm prints developed on the four cardboard cartons found on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository.

Enclosed for your information are two copies of a self-explanatory communication with attachments from our Dallas Office dated September 14, 1964, bringing you up to date on our efforts to identify the latent fingerprints and palm prints. It is pointed out that only one latent palm print remains to be identified.

Your attention is directed to my letter dated June 16, 1964, concerning efforts of our Dallas Office to print employees of the Texas School Book Depository who were present on November 22, 1963. At this time I advised you that Mr. Roy S. Truly, Warehouse Superintendent, strongly objected to the printing of all employees as he felt it would seriously handicap the work of his firm; however, he did make available those employees who would have had occasion to handle the cartons in question. The enclosed communication discloses that the prints of those employees were compared against the latent prints on the cartons and no identifications were effected.

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

We have been vigorously pursuing this matter in an effort to identify the one remaining palm print and in this connection, Mr. George H. Scatterday of this Bureau had a conversation with Mr. Norman Redlich of your staff on September 14, 1964. It was agreed that if current efforts to identify the one remaining palm print were negative the most logical approach would be to again endeavor to print all persons employed in the Texas School Book Depository who had not been previously printed. On September 17, 1964, Mr. Truly and Mr. Ochus Virgil Campbell, Vice President of the Texas School Book Depository, were interviewed at which time their cooperation in this endeavor was again sought. Both gentlemen refused to permit the printing of females employed in the Texas School Book Depository calling it "unreasonable and unfair" and furnished the following reasons for their refusal:

1. None of these employees had access to or were ever known to have been in the area where the cartons were stored nor were they ever permitted, according to company rules, to go in the warehouse area.

2. They had previously cooperated fully with the President's Commission and the FBI, having made available for printing those employees who could have had access to the cartons.

3. September is the busiest time of the year for their company and taking prints of the female employees could result in those employees being insulted, causing them to resign.

Mr. Campbell stated in view of the above he would not comply with this request unless a subpoena was issued. Mr. Truly further pointed out that taking the prints of female employees from other publishing companies located in the Texas School Book Depository Building could very likely result in one or more of these companies vacating the premises as had happened previously when one publishing firm left following the assassination, fearing adverse publicity might embarrass its employees.

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

While refusing to permit female employees to be printed, Mr. Campbell did make available two male employees and himself for printing. These prints will be compared with the one remaining latent palm print.

In view of the refusal of the above gentleman to permit the further printing of employees, no further action is being taken by this Bureau in this regard unless specifically advised to the contrary by you.

For your information, this Bureau is presently processing several other palm prints obtained in connection with this project and if an identification is effected, you will be immediately notified.

Sincerely yours,

ReDLairtel and enclosed LHM dated 9-14-64, relating to the latent print project.

The above letter to the President's Commission is being furnished for your information. Every logical effort must be made to identify the one remaining palm print. You should intensify your efforts to obtain the palm prints of Captain Will Fritz of the Dallas PD and any other police officers who logically could have handled these cartons.

NOTE:

San Diego PCI furnished information that Frank Cherry had learned that LeowSnyder had secured a copy of President Kennedy's death certificate and was going to duplicate this certificate in an effort to sell copies at a profit. Snyder admitted receiving a copy of the certificate from a friend, whom he refused to identify. Snyder stated after discussions with his attorney he determined he was on safe legal grounds. However, it would be in bad taste to continue with this scheme and he decided against any further action. Upon initial receipt of fragmentary information, the President's Commission and Secret Service were immediately advised. With the furnishing of the enclosed communication from San Diego, it is felt we have handled our responsibilities in this matter and no further action appears warranted and none is recommended. Dear Mr. Rankin:

On September 15, 1964, the Office of Special Investigations, Department of the Air Force, informed this Bureau that John Edward Pic, half brother of Lee Harvey Oswald, reported to the Office of Special Investigations that he received a telephone call from his mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, that date. Pic stated that his mother was distraught, emotional and not too coherent in her conversation with him. She told Pic that her life was possibly in danger and indicated that an attorney by the name of Fred Roff (phonetic) is the person responsible for "framing" Lee Harvey Oswald in connection with the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy. Mrs. Oswald also told Pic that Roff was responsible for the type of discharge Lee Harvey Oswald received from the U. S. Marine Corps. She added that Roff was discharged from the [illegible] with the U. S. Navy Department on November 22, 1963.

FBI COURIER SVC. 01 SEP 17 COMM-FBI

Mr. Pic explained to Office of Special Investigations that Roff had been an attorney for Mr. Edwin A. Ekdahl, a former husband of Mrs. Marguerite Oswald. Pic indicated Ekdahl instituted divorce proceedings in 1963 against Mrs. Oswald. Pic further informed Office of Special Investigations that he testified for his mother in these proceedings concerning a "raid" Mrs. Oswald and Pic made approximately 1947 at which time they discovered Ekdahl in an apartment with a woman. woman were not found in a compromising position. Pic added that subsequently Roff became an employee of the Navy Department at the time the Navy Department was under the supervision of John Connally, present Governor of Texas.

According to the Office of Special Investigations, Pic was not worried over his mother's telephone call. However, he requested to speak to Mr. Lula Benavides, Special Agent in Charge of the U. S. Secret Service in San Antonio, Texas.

A check of the files of this Bureau disclosed no information identifiable with Fred Roff. It appears this individual may be identical to Mr. Fred Korth, former Secretary of the Navy. Mr. Korth was Secretary of the Navy at the time Mr. John Connally referred to the Navy Department a letter Mr. Connally received from Lee Harvey Oswald from Russia dated June 30, 1961. In this letter Oswald requested that Mr. Connally look into the facts surrounding Oswald's "dishonorable discharge" from the U. S. Marine Corps. Oswald addressed his letter to Mr. Connally as Secretary of the Navy.

The above is being furnished for the information of the Commission and no additional action is contemplated by this Bureau in this matter in the absence of a specific request from the Commission.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE:

During our recent contacts with Marguerite Oswald, she has given definite indications of being mentally ill. Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of July 6, 1964, requesting investigation to locate and photograph certain property in Ruby's possession at the time of his arrest which had not previously been photographed. By letter dated August 20, 1964, you were forwarded Xerox prints of certain items of Ruby's which were furnished by Ruby's sister, Eva Grant.

Enclosed herewith are two copies of a letterhead memorandum dated September 11, 1964, at Dallas, Texas, which sets forth the results of this Bureau's efforts to locate and photograph the property as requested. Also enclosed are the following items which are mentioned in the memorandum.

One set of photographs of items photographed in the office of Captain Will Fritz, Dallas Police Department, on December 3, 1963, and referred to in enclosed memorandum as photographs A.

One set of photographs of items produced for photographing by Samuel Ruby on September 10, 1964, which are referred to in enclosed memorandum as photographs B.

Four Xerox reproductions which include the eight items referred to on pages 4 and 5 of enclosed memorandum.

One clipping from the "Fort Worth Star Telegram" of November 20, 1963, one copy of the "Dallas Morning News" of November 20, 1963, and one copy of the "Wall Street Journal" of November 18, 1963, as referred to on page 10 of enclosed memorandum.

As you are aware, the FBI did not seize any of Ruby's property nor has this Bureau ever had custody, control or responsibility for the maintenance of any such property seized by local authorities in connection with their investigation. In compliance with your request this Bureau has made every reasonable effort to locate the property in possession of Ruby at the time of his arrest for photographing. No further investigation will be conducted in the absence of a further specific request from the President's Commission.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE:

Commission by letter dated 7/6/64 advised our previous reports reveal certain items were in possession of Ruby at the time of his arrest. They advised that photographs of property in Ruby's possession which were previously furnished to them did not contain some of these items. It was requested that we make an effort to locate and photograph the items which were missing between the time they were inventoried in November, 1963, and photographed in June, 1964, and, if they could not be located, that we obtain copies of same wherever possible.

Investigation at President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy on 9/16 and 17/64 was initiated through interview of J. LEE RANKIN, General Counsel, and expanded to members of his immediate staff and staff attorneys available. It will be noted that instead of the 31 personnel, in addition to Commission members, originally indicated as employed by the Commission in the list furnished by Bureau, inquiry has disclosed a total of 62 personnel members aside from Commission members have been involved in work during the pertinent period and, in addition, there are 3 personnel presently assigned by Government Printing Office (GPO) to work regularly at Commission Headquarters under supervision of a GPO printing supervisor.

Investigation thus far has disclosed a complete lack of organization insofar as records are concerned, and a system initiated for handling documents as "TOP SECRET" was discontinued early in the operation of the Commission and subsequent documents have borne classification of "CONFIDENTIAL" on occasion, particularly when they are relating to depositions or testimony. There was found to be no document control whatsoever and no accountability for such documents, classified or not. In addition, there are two Xerox machines located in the basement of the building which are used constantly by any member of the staff or any employee if the need arises for extra copy or copies of any given paper.

It will also be noted that on the list of employees of the Commission now available to WFO, 32 of those out of 62 are now no longer employed or living out of Washington, D. C. Effort is being made to locate these persons; however, their exact whereabouts is unknown to the Commission, and WFO may not be able to have them interviewed by the deadline set by referenced Buairtel. Every effort is being made by WFO to complete this investigation in conformance with Budec.

Enclosed for offices receiving leads to interview persons now or formerly associated with the Presidential Commission are memoranda containing background information re this matter. Also enclosed for all offices, except Dallas and San Francisco, is one copy of refBuairtel containing additional information and Bureau instructions pertaining to this investigation. It is noted Dallas and San Francisco have previously received copy of Buairtel.

Investigation at the Commission discloses original typewritten transcript of interview of JACK L. RUBY by Chief Justice WARREN on 6/7/64 at Dallas, Texas, received in office of Chief Counsel of the Commission on 6/17/64 or 6/18/64. This original sent to Ward and Paul, Court Reporters, 917 G Street, N. W., on 6/18/64 for duplication. Ward and Paul returned the original transcript, along with five Xerox copies thereof, to the Commission on 6/18/64.

Inquiry of Mrs. BEVERLY ANN HECKMAN, Secretary to General Counsel, discloses following distribution made of these five Xerox copies:

44-520

Copy 1 of 5: furnished to NORMAN REDLICH, Legal Consultant

Copy 2 of 5: furnished to Senator RICHARD B. RUSSELL, Commission member

Copy 3 of 5: furnished to BURT W. GRIFFIN, Legal Consultant

Copy 4 of 5: retained for general use of Commission staff

The above distribution was made on 6/18 or 19/64.

It is noted the five Xerox copies prepared by Ward and Paul bear classification "CONFIDENTIAL" on top and bottom of each page of the transcript, as well as on the cover to this transcript. The original typed transcription, prepared by court reporter in Dallas, bears no classification on any page or on the cover.

Inquiry has also determined additional Xerox copies of this transcript were made by Commission employees. These copies apparently made from the original typed transcript, since none located to date have classification. These copies were made for purpose of distributing same to Commission members and for providing material to GPO representatives. The exact number of Xerox copies made by Commission employees is not known; however, Mrs. HECKLAN said she normally has ten copies of material of this type duplicated.

Mrs. HECKLAN advised JOE H. TONAHILL, Attorney, Jasper, Texas, directed a letter 6/23/64 to Mr. RANKIN requesting a copy of a transcript of the Ruby testimony 6/7/64, advising it was for the use of Dr. JOYLON WEST in connection with his diagnosis and recommended treatment for RUBY. By letter 6/27/64, over RANKIN's signature, handled by BURT GRIFFIN, Staff Attorney, a letter was directed to TONAHILL enclosing a copy of the transcript requested. Mrs. HECKLAN does not know whether or not a Ward and Paul transcript was Xeroxed or whether a Xerox copy of the original transcript not bearing a classification was

An examination of page one of the 8/10/64 edition of the "New York Journal American", in which columnist DOROTHY KILGALLEN wrote a story publishing what she reports to be the transcript of the Chief Justice WARREN - JACK L. RUBY interview, disclosed her article is headed:

Confidential
President's Commission
on the Assassination of President Kennedy

Dallas, Texas
Sunday, June 7, 1964
11:45 A.M. - 2:30 P.M.

A comparison of the heading appearing in the news article with the heading appearing on page two of Xerox copies prepared by Ward and Paul determined the news article is in conformity with the transcript, with the exception of the horizional spacing of the classification.

Page seven of this newspaper carries a reproduction of page 103 of the transcript of this interview. Page 103 consists of the certificate prepared by HELEN LAIDRICH, the court reporter who recorded the interview between Chief Justice WARREN and JACK L. RUBY.

A comparison of page 103, as it appears in the five Xerox copies prepared by Ward and Paul, with the reproduction appearing in the "New York Journal American", discloses margins on the top, bottom, and left side were reduced in size at the time it was printed in the news article.

It is noted the classification "CONFIDENTIAL" appears some distance above line one, and below line twenty-five, on the Xerox copies made by Ward and Paul. It is further noted this portion of the top and bottom margins appears to have been deleted in the newspaper reproduction; however, as stated above, the newspaper reproduction does bear the "CONFIDENTIAL" classification, which is located between lines 24 and 25.

All five of the Xerox copies prepared by Ward and Paul have been located as result of investigation at the Commission and through contact with persons to whom these copies furnished. None of these copies have the classification stamp above line twenty-five on page 103.

In view of the above, it appears possibility exists KILGALLEN prepared her article after having available for her review a copy of the transcript prepared by Ward and Paul, or a reproduction of such a copy. This is based on the fact the "CONFIDENTIAL" classification appears only on Xerox copies prepared by Ward and Paul.

It is realized the person who made this material available to KILGALLEN could have told her of the classification; however, it is noted the classification appearing in the newspaper reproduction of page 103 is horizontally spaced the same as the Xerox copies made by Ward and Paul, and the vertical spacing and lack of classification on top of pages appear to be the only differences.

The possibility that page 103 of this transcript reproduced in the "New York Journal American" was altered in the printing process should not be overlooked. It is believed the possibility exists the newspaper, through a photographic or some other process, raised the classification stamp appearing on page 103 from its original position to one higher and space considerations and balance were the reason for such change.

A review of the original typewritten transcript, the Xerox copies made by Commission employees, and the Ward and Paul Xerox copies disclosed only copy 3 of 5 of Ward and Paul copies (obtained from office of BURT W. GRIFFIN, Legal Consultant) has name of HARRY CARLSON corrected to HARRY OLSEN on pages 32 and 33. It is noted the article written by KILGALLEN carries name of CARLSON.

REQUEST OF BUREAU

Enclosed for the Bureau is the original transcript and five copies of transcript that were reproduced by Ward and Paul. The FBI Laboratory is requested to conduct the following examinations of this material:

(1) Examine knots tied in binding of copies to determine, if possible, whether any evidence present indicating one of these transcripts has been taken apart.

(2) Examine the "CONFIDENTIAL" classification appearing on pages 103 of each transcript copy to determine if this classification appears to be handstamped or machine stamped, and whether or not the same stamp was used for all copies.

To know original Stamp?

(3) Compare each page 103 classification stamp on transcript copies with that appearing in newspaper reproduction of page 103. Information received Bureau in possession of 8/18/64 issue of "New York Journal American". Appropriate examination should be done to determine if the same stamp was used to classify the Ward and Paul copies as was used in the newspaper reproduction.

(4) Compare the printing on pages 103 of Ward and Paul transcripts with each other to determine if any characteristics appear that would make one copy identifiable from another. Thereafter, compare printing of newspaper reproduction of page 103 in effort to isolate copy from which newspaper reproduction made. Also compare with original transcript.

Proceeding on the theory KILGALLEN obtained a transcript from the Commission, specifically one of the Ward and Paul Xerox copies, the Bureau is requested to consider having the following inquiry conducted:

(1) Recontact KILGALLEN in effort to obtain at least one of the copies of the transcript she had made from the copy given to her, and which she claims to have since returned to her source. In event KILGALLEN refuses to furnish such a copy, an effort should be made to review one she has available to determine whether or not the pages are classified.

(2) Recontact officials at the "New York Journal American" and attempt to obtain photograph used to reproduce page 103 of this transcript. If this photograph obtained, it should be forwarded to FBI Laboratory for examination and comparison with material enclosed herewith.

(3) Inquiry should be conducted at the "New York Journal American" to determine if the newspaper has a copy of the transcript used by KILGALLEN in preparing her article, and if so, obtain the copy or review same for information regarding classification appearing thereon.

The Bureau should also consider authorizing Dallas to re-interview Attorney JOE TONAHILL for the purpose of determining whether or not the copy of the transcript provided him reflecting interview of JACK L. RUBY by Chief Justice WARREN, bears any type of a classification stamp.

For information of Bureau, interviews of Commission personnel being conducted. Leads being set out for interviews of Commission personnel who are not currently in Washington.

You were advised by memorandum of 9-14-64 Mr. Norman Redlich of the President's Commission requested Special Agent Gallagher to appear at the Commission on 9-15-64 for the purpose of conference and to take a deposition concerning the results of neutron activation analyses conducted on the paraffin casts from Lee Harvey Oswald.

SA Gallagher met with Mr. Norman Redlich and after a conference with Redlich a deposition was taken. As soon as the recorded material of the deposition has been typed, it will be furnished the Bureau for review.

In essence, SA Gallagher deposed that deposits characteristic of primer residues were found on the Oswald casts, which were taken from his hands.

The deposits found on the paraffin casts could not be specifically associated with the rifle cartridges since the primer deposits from the rifle cartridges contained the same elements as the primer residues from the revolver cartridges which were reportedly fired from Oswald's revolver subsequent to the assassination.

Mr. Redlich introduced as an exhibit a letter which the Bureau furnished the Commission on March 18, 1964, a copy of which is attached. In view of the fact that this letter points out that barium and antimony occur in some common items, he was interested in knowing if neutron activation analysis did not suffer from the shortcomings of the chemical tests for nitrates. SA Gallagher deposed that the chemical tests were not specific for nitrates. Neutron activation examinations were specific for antimony and barium. Furthermore, although antimony and barium are found in some common items, they are not in a form that is readily accessible for mechanicaladhesion to t he body as are items which give positive chemical tests for nitrates. Dear Mr. Rankin:

During the course of discussion of neutron activation analyses between Mr. Melvin Eisenberg of your staff and Special Agent John F. Gallagher of this Bureau on March 16, 1964, Mr. Eisenberg requested the following information:

1. What are some items in common usage which contain barium? Some items that may include barium are: grease, ceramics, glass, paint, printing ink, paper, rubber, plastics, leather, cloth, pyrotechnics, oilcloth and linoleum, storage batteries, matches and cosmetics.

2. What are some items in common usage which contain antimony? Some items that may include antimony are: matches, type metal, lead alloys, paints and lacquers, pigments for oil and water colors, flameproof textiles, storage batteries, pyrotechnics, rubber, pharmaceutical preparations and calico.

3. What are some items in common usage which contain both barium and antimony? Barium and antimony may be found in the following items: printed paper and cloth, paint, storage batteries, rubber and matches, pyrotechnics and possibly other items.

4. Would neutron activation analyses show if a bullet passed through the hole in the front of President Kennedy's shirt near the collar button area and also if a bullet passed through the material of his tie? Neutron activation is a sensitive analytical technique to determine elements present in a substance. During the course of the spectrographic examinations previously conducted of the fabric surrounding the hole in the front of the shirt, including the tie, no copper was found in excess of that present elsewhere in undamaged areas of the shirt and tie. Therefore, no copper was found which could be attributed to projectile fragments.

It is not felt that the increased sensitivity of neutron activation analyses would contribute substantially to the understanding of the origin of this hole and frayed area.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

On September 14, 1964, Mr. W. David Slawson of your staff telephoned with regard to the handwriting examinations conducted on Commission Exhibits 24, 25, 94, 100, 101, and 1438.

Commission Exhibits 24, 94 (first two handwritten pages), 100, and 101 are part of FBI Item 116 further designated as Q101. The typewritten portion of Commission Exhibit 94 was designated as FBI Item 387 (Commission Exhibit 92). The handwritten version of this typewritten portion is part of FBI Item 116 (Q101). The results of the handwriting examination of FBI Item 116 (Q101) are set forth on page 103 of the report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated December 23, 1963, at Dallas, Texas.

Commission Exhibit 25 was designated as FBI Items 123, 124 and 125 and further designated as Q51. The results of the handwriting examination of Commission Exhibit 25 are set forth on page 228 of the report of Special Agent Gemberling dated December 10, 1963, at Dallas, Texas. Commission Exhibit 1438 was designated as FBI Exhibit D-220 and further designated as Q588. The results of the handwriting examination of Commission Exhibit 1438 are set forth on page 39 of the report of Special Agent Gemberling dated July 2, 1964, at Dallas, Texas.

The foregoing reports of Special Agent Gemberling state that the handwriting and hand printing on Q101, Q51, and Q588 were written by Lee Harvey Oswald. Two copies of the reports of Special Agent Gemberling were previously furnished to The President's Commission.

On the late afternoon of 9/14/64 Mr. Dave Slawson of the President's Commission telephoned with regard to handwriting examinations conducted of certain Oswald material.

Mr. Slawson identified the material in which he was interested by both the Commission's number and the Bureau's exhibit number (as such numbers appear in the blue bound volumes of exhibits prepared by the Bureau.) These are identified as follows:

Commission Exhibit Number	Bureau Exhibit Number
94	38
1438	None

With regard to Commission exhibit number 94 (Bureau number 38), Mr. Slawson stated he was interested in actual handwritten version of this exhibit it being noted that the Bureau exhibit is primarily typed material with handwritten corrections).

With reference to Commission exhibit 1438, Mr. Slawson stated that this was the original piece of paper containing telephone numbers and names found amoung Oswald's effects being the same piece of paper which was copied by Lieutenant Martello of the New Orleans Police Department.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of September 12, 1964, requesting the preparation of visual aids dealing with photographs of Lee Harvey Oswald taken after his arrest.

Enclosed per your request are four glossy prints each of the following visual aids which were prepared from information selected by the Commission from documented records:

1. Photographsof Lee Harvey Oswald after his arrest.

2. Oswald at press conference in Assembly Room, Friday night.

3. Oswald distributing Fair Play for Cuba handbills in New Orleans, August 16, 1963 - - insets show samples of his handbills on which he had stamped his name and the name of "A J Hidell."

4. No title (Commission Exhibits 2891, 2892 and 2788).

5. No title (Commission Exhibits 2893, 2894 and 2963).

These visual aids were previously approved by Mr. Wesley J. Liebeler of the Commission staff and this complies with the request contained in referenced letter.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

This will confirm telephone conversations between Mr. Wesley J. Liebeler and Special Agent Leo Gauthier concerning the preparation of certain photographs for inclusion in our Report. We would appreciate it very much if you would prepare materials suitable for transmittal to the Government Printing Office in accordance with the conversations between Mr. Liebeler and Special Agent Gauthier.

Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of September 11, 1964, wherein the Commission requested a visual aid relating to Lee Harvey Oswald's residence in the Soviet Union.

Enclosed per your request are four glossy prints of a visual aid captioned "Photographs of Oswald in U. S. S. R." which were prepared from information selected by the Commission from documented records.

The change in the spelling of the name of "Zieger" to "Ziger" was made and revised exhibits were delivered to the Commission on September 14, 1964.

The captioned visual aid was previously approved by Mr. W. David Slawson of your staff and this complies with the request contained in referenced letter.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I would like to confirm the request to Mr. Lee Gauthier of the Bureau made by Mr. W. David Slawson of the Commission staff on September 11 in regard to preparing a display composed of the following exhibits, with the captions as indicated:

Commission Exhibit No.	FBI Item No.	Caption
2609	D33-10	Rosa Kuznetsova, Ella German, Lee Harvey Oswald, and Pavel Golovachev
2612	D33-24	Oswald and Alfred (last name unknown), a Hungarian friend of Anita Ziger
2606	B3-23	View overlooking the Svisloch River from the balcony of the Oswalds' apartment in Minsk.

The title of the entire display should be "Photographs of Oswalds in U.S.S.R."

Also as explained to Mr. Gauthier, the previous exhibits you furnished spell "Ziger" with an e, "Zieger." The spelling which the Commission is going to use is simply "Ziger." Mr. Gauthier agreed to make this change.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated September 1, 1964, and my letter dated September 4, 1964, concerning the circumstances under which Lieutenant J. C. Day of the Dallas Police Department processed the assassination rifle for latent fingerprints and palm prints.

Enclosed are two copies of a memorandum dated September 11, 1964, Dallas, Texas, captioned "Lee Harvey Oswald" which contains the information you requested. Also enclosed is a copy of the report of Lieutenant J. C. Day dated January 8, 1964, the original of which he furnished to Mr. G. L. Lumpkin, Deputy of Police, Dallas Police Department.

NOTE: By letter dated 9-1-64, the Commission referred to palm prints lifted from the under side of the assassination rifle barrel which was concealed by the fore grip by Lt. J. C. Day of the Dallas Police Department on 11-22-63. Certain circumstances indicated Day did not follow usual procedure in the lifting of this print and some questions were raised by the Commission in this matter. The palm print which was obtained was compared with the assassination rifle in the FBI Laboratory and the examiners were able to positively identify this lift as having come from the assassination rifle. This was furnished the Commission by let 9-4-64. Commission had desired Lt. Day be questioned further regarding how he obtained palm prints and other related information and LHM reveals this information which is being furnished the Commission.

This morning Mr. Howard Willens of the President's Commission telephoned stating that the Commission had received a telegram from Mrs. Shirley Martin, Hominy, Oklahoma, addressed to Mr. Rankin which reads as follows:

"We have testimony from assassination witness concerning strange time sequence of shots. Use of Italian rifle negated by this testimony and by testimony of Zapruder."

Willens stated that in view of Mrs. Martin's background, the Commission has been reluctant to have her interviewed but in view of the contents of the telegram Mr. Rankin has requested that the FBI interview Mrs. Martin concerning the contents of the telegram.

Martin is subject of NLC Letter 64-23(B) dated 4/28/64 based on her continuing prolific letter writing campaigning to vilify the Director and the FBI. She has been described as a "bright nut" and since the assassination has been conducting her own investigation. We have sent twenty-five letters to the Commission based on her activities.

In spite of Mrs. Martin's background, since the Commission has specifically requested she be interviewed concerning this one item, it would appear we have no alternative other than to interview her.

Reference memorandum dated 2/26/64, from W. D. Griffith concerning a continuing project wherein the Bureau has undertaken to furnish the President's Commission with photographs of all Commission exhibits.

On 9/14/64, Miss Mary A. Rowcotsky called Section Chief Roy H. Jevons, Physics and Chemistry Section of the Laboratory, and requested that a Bureau representative take custody of the exhibits listed herein. She further requested that the Commission be furnished with three copies of each exhibit and that all copies plus the original of each exhibit be returned to the Commission upon completion of this work.

In a subsequent telephone call, Miss Rowcotsky advised that it would be satisfactory to reproduce these exhibits by Xerox with the exception of the cover pages of Oliver Exhibits numbered 1 and 2 which are to be photographed.

As a matter of record, custody was taken of the following described exhibits by SA Robert E. Neill on the date of the request:

Exhibit Number	Description
Oliver Exhibit No. 1	March, 1964, issue of "American Opinion"
Oliver Exhibit No. 2	February, 1964, issue of "American Opinion"

Mr. Norman Redlich of the President's Commission called SA John F. Gallagher of the Laboratory today and requested his presence at 9:30 a.m. on 9/15/64, to depose on matters relating to neutron activation analyses conducted on the paraffin casts from the hands and cheek of Lee Harvey Oswald. A written copy of the letter requesting SA Gallagher's testimony is attached.

As you will recall, paraffin casts taken from Lee Harvey Oswald were examined by neutron activation analyses at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, to determine if these casts bore any deposits which could be specifically associated with the rifle cartridges found in the Texas School Book Depository Building following the President's assassination. As a result of these examinations, deposits found on the paraffin casts from the hands and cheek of Oswald could not be specifically associated with the rifle cartridges. In view of the fact that the paraffin casts were not made until after the reported firing and handling of the fired revolver, no significance could be attached to the residues found on the casts other than the conclusion that barium and antimony in these residues are present in amounts greater than would be expected to be found on the hands of an individual who had not recently fired a weapon or handled a fired weapon.

SUBJECT:

LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA - CUBA

This afternoon Mr. Howard Willens of the President's Commission telephonically requested an interview by Bureau Agents of Mrs. Johnnie Walker, 2437 Varsity, Grand Prairie, Texas.

Willens stated Mrs. Walker had telephonically contacted the Commission on Sunday, 9/13/64, and today reporting that on October 24, 1963, she had attended a meeting with Oswald and other individuals which was a conspiratorial meeting of some kind.

She also advised the Commission that she had a friend at the post office where Ruby and Oswald had their post office boxes. Mr. Willens stated he did not know the significance of the information regarding this friend.

Willens stated Mrs. Walker had advised she was willing to appear and testify before the Commission but had indicated some reluctance to be interviewed by the FBI.

Mr. Willens stated Mrs. Walker could be contacted at the above address or through the telephone of a neighbor whose number is AN 2-0390.

SEP 16 1964

Willens indicated he felt Mrs. Walker might be a "crackpot" but indicated that he desired she be interviewed by the FBI for any pertinent information in her possession.

By letter dated September 10, 1964, the President's Commission requested that in conducting the investigation concerning the leaks of the Lee Harvey Oswald diary, the Jack L. Ruby polygraph examination and the Jack L. Ruby testimony before Chief Justice Warren, that Mr. Sol A. Dann of Detroit and Mr. Melvin Belli of San Francisco, the members of the Commission staff and the Commission be interviewed and report the results of these inquiries.

Enclosures comprising reports and memoranda are being furnished to WFO only as WFO will be handling the bulk of this investigation. In this respect WFO is to assign mature, experienced personnel to this matter. The fact that the Commission has requested the investigation must not lend itself to any reluctance on the part of the investigative Agents to fully explore and pin down any and every possibility that the questioned leaks might have occurred within the Commission. The results of the investigation must meet the highest Bureau standards. All interviews are to be thorough, business like and conducted with circumspection.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Personnel assigned are to thoroughly review the enclosed memoranda and reports which reveal previous investigation conducted in this matter before instituting investigation.

For the information of all offices, results of investigation for each phase must be submitted separately by a letterhead memorandum suitable for dissemination as follows:

Pertaining to the leak of Oswald's diary, this information is to be contained in a letterhead memorandum under the caption "Lee Harvey Oswald, Internal Security - Russia - Cuba."

Pertaining to the Ruby interview and polygraph examination, results of this investigation are to be reported under "Jack L. Ruby, Lee Harvey Oswald - Victim, Civil Rights."

For the information of Detroit and San Francisco following is a summary of investigation previously conducted concerning the leaks:

By letters dated June 30, 1964 and July 10, 1964, the President's Commission requested the Bureau to conduct investigation of the publication of Lee Harvey Oswald's diary by "The Dallas Morning News" and "Life" magazine.

On June 27, 1964, "The Dallas Morning News," Dallas, Texas, carried an article by Carl Freund concerning information furnished by Jack Ruby at the time of his interview by Chief Justice Earl Warren at Dallas, Texas, on 6-7-64. A copyrighted article by Hugh Aynesworth concerning Oswald's diary together with a photograph of a page of this diary also appeared. On June 28, 1964, the same paper carried the second article by Hugh Aynesworth concerning the diary, also a photograph of a CP U. S. A. letter dated 7-31-63, addressed to Oswald, a photograph of Oswald's undesirable discharge from the U. S. Marines dated 9-13-60 and a photograph of an International Certificate of Vaccination in the name of Oswald bearing the signature "A. J. Hidell" bearing date stamp 6-8-63. Those items were among materials seized by the Dallas Police Department on 11/22 - 23/63, in a search of Oswald's room at 1026 North Beckley Street, Dallas, Texas, and his effects at the residence of Ruth Paine, 2515 West Fifth Street, Irving, Texas.

The investigation indicated Assistant District Attorney William F. Alexander, Dallas, Texas, was the possible source of material published. It was determined Alexander obtained film of the above-mentioned documents from Dallas Police Department on June 1, 1964, and had copies of the film and hard copy photographs made at the Dallas Recordak Corporation in Dallas, Texas. Officials at "The Dallas Morning News" refused to divulge the source of the material for their articles. Interviews with officials of the Dallas Police Department failed to establish the source of material published, although Chief of Police, Jesse E. Curry, had the immediate reaction the information was made available by Alexander. Also Mr. Henry Wade, District Attorney, Dallas, Texas, indicated he suspected Alexander but could furnish no specific proof.

When Alexander was interviewed by Agents of the Dallas Office, he denied being the source of the material published. However, Alexander alleged that Representative Gerald R. Ford, a member of the President's Commission, leaked the information to "Life" magazine. Alexander made other allegations which he stated he obtained from a source that he would not identify.

Mr. Henry Wade, District Attorney, made available for examination a folder containing hard copy prints of the evidence, which folder he stated was obtained from the office of William F. Alexander during late June of 1964.

On July 17, 1964, Mr. Holland McCombs, Dallas correspondent for "Life" magazine advised he contacted Hugh Aynesworth, reporter for "The Dallas Morning News" on June 25 or 26, 1964, concerning the purchase of a copy of Oswald's diary, at which time he was referred to Aynesworth's wife Paula. Mr. McCombs purchased from

Airtel to SAC, WFO
RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AKA.

Paula Aynesworth the copy of Oswald's diary for $2500. Neither Aynesworth nor his wife revealed the source of the diary. Thereafter "Life" magazine obtained permission from Marina Oswald for the publication of the diary for $20,000 plus one-half share of all foreign sales of the issue containing the diary.

Disposition of the film and prints in possession of the Dallas Police Department were accounted for. The FBI Laboratory conducted an examination of the material obtained from the office of Mr. Henry Wade, Dallas, Texas, and a copy of Oswald's diary obtained from "Life" magazine. The examination established that "Life" magazine's copy which was published, was made from the film obtained from the Dallas District Attorney's Office.

On August 17, 1964, Congressman Gerald R. Ford was interviewed by a representative of this Bureau. He said he desired to unequivocally state, and to furnish a signed statement if necessary, that he did not leak the information in question. He also stated that he did talk to "Life" magazine previously, but under no circumstances had he given "Life" magazine any information concerning Oswald's diary.

Ruby was afforded a polygraph examination at the Dallas County Jail on 7-18-64 by Special Agents Bell Herndon and W. James Wood at the specific request of the President's Commission. Present during various phases of the examination were E. L. Holman of the Dallas Sheriff's Office, Clayton, Fowler and Joe M. Tonahill, Ruby's attorneys, Assistant District Attorney William Alexander, Dr. William Robert Beavers, Court Reporter Odell Oliver and Jack Ruby. On 7-22-64, the "Dallas Times Herald" printed an article purporting to be the complete questions and answers from the polygraph examination and on 7-30-64, the Commission requested that we conduct investigation to determine how this information came into the hands of the "Dallas Times Herald."

Enclosed are letterhead memoranda setting forth results of this investigation with the exception of an interview with Arlin Specter of the President's Commission, who has not been interviewed.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AKA.

On June 7, 1964, Chief Justice Warren and members of the President's Commission interviewed Jack Ruby at the Dallas County Jail. On 8-18-64, a copyright story by Dorothy Kilgallen appeared in the "New York Journal-American" which set forth verbatim the transcript of Ruby's testimony. On 8-20-64, the Commission requested that we conduct investigation to determine how this transcript came into the possession of Dorothy Kilgallen, and the Journal-American. Enclosed are letterhead memoranda setting forth results of investigation conducted with the exception of investigation within the President's Commission itself. It will be noted that in addition to persons interviewed who were present, Chief Justice Earl Warren, Congressman Gerald Ford of the Commission, Commission Counsel J. Lee Rankin, Commission Staff Counsel Joseph H. Ball and Arlin Specter and Elmer W. Moore, Special Agent, U. S. Secret Service assigned to the Commission were also present during this interview.

All persons who were present at the interview of Ruby and during the conduct of the polygraph examination who have not been interviewed must be thoroughly interviewed for all information they may have concerning the leaks. Any other indicated investigation within the Commission itself must also be conducted; particularly in connection with the transcript of the Ruby interview, it must be determined how many copies were reproduced by the Commission, what was done with them and all persons having access to them within the Commission must also be interviewed. Every effort must be made to pin down the specific handling and disposition of each and every copy known to exist. It is noted that one copy of this transcript was furnished by the Commission to the Bureau and the Commission has been advised of the security of this copy.

With respect to the interview of Melvin Belli, it was noted that he was the attorney who defended Ruby during his trial in Dallas, Texas, however, he was discharged prior to the Commission's interview of Ruby and the polygraph examination and was not present on either occasion. He should be thoroughly interviewed for any knowledge he might have concerning the leaks of the Oswald diary, interview of Ruby and polygraph examination.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AKA.

With respect to Mr. Sol A. Dann, he is a Detroit attorney who was hired by Ruby's family subsequent to Ruby's trial. There has been animosity between Dann and Ruby's Dallas attorneys, Fowler and Tonahill. Dann hired a psychiatrist to examine Ruby prior to the polygraph examination and on the basis of his recommendation was strongly opposed to allowing Ruby to take the examination. This should be considered in the interview of Dann at Detroit and any information he has concerning any of the three leaks in question should be obtained. Leads arising from either of these interviews should, of course, be set out by teletype and promptly pursued to their logical conclusion.

The Bureau has received indications the President's Commission is concluding its investigation. Therefore, this matter is to be handled immediately.

Detroit and San Francisco are to submit the results of their investigation to reach the Bureau on or before September 18, 1964. WFO is to submit results of investigation to reach the Bureau by 9 a.m. September 21, 1964.

All offices are to submit one copy revealing results of investigation to Dallas for their information as office of origin. The Bureau will handle dissemination to the President's Commission.

Persons contacted should be initially and specifically advised that these interviews are being conducted upon the specific request of the President's Commission. In addition, receiving offices are instructed this is a limited investigation restricted to Commission members, Commission staff and the two former Ruby attorneys.

Upon completion of interviews with Commission members and staff, WFO is instructed to advise the Bureau and do not interview Chief Justice Warren pending further instructions.

his book "The Red Roses of Dallas" and furnished the Commission a detailed memorandum refuting his claims. He recently wrote an article in the French newspaper setting forth his results of an interview with Marina Oswald. The information he attributes to Marina generally conforms with the data she has furnished this Bureau. His interview with Marina presents her in a very good light as the victim of an assassin who is trying her best to make a successful life for herself and her children in America. Marina reportedly told Gun that she was convinced Lee Oswald had killed Kennedy because he wanted to become a "big shot, a celebrated person, a somebody."

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated September 9, 1964, concerning an allegation that Special Agent in Charge J. Gordon Shanklin of our Dallas Office made a public statement about a paraffin test performed on Lee Harvey Oswald.

Special Agent in Charge Shanklin advises me that he made no such statement and that the allegation is completely unfounded.

With my letter to you dated August 21, 1964 concerning the appearance of Mark Lane on the Barry Gray Radio Program in New York City, I furnished you a twenty-seven page transcript of this program. On page four of this transcript substantially the same allegation as set out in your letter dated September 9, 1964, was made by Mr. Lane. At that time this Bureau immediately questioned Special Agent in Charge Shanklin as to the truthfulness of this allegation. In this same letter to you dated August 21, 1964, on page two, I specifically stated, "The alleged announcements made by representatives of this Bureau, which are discussed on pages three and four of the enclosed transcription, are completely without foundation as no such announcements were made."

To further substantiate Special Agent in Charge Shanklin's denial I direct your attention to my letter dated February 26, 1964, wherein I furnished you another transcript of a meeting which took place at Town Hall, New York City, on February 18, 1964, where Mark Lane was the principal speaker.

On page twenty-six of this transcript Mr. Lane is reported to have stated to his audience, "Now you may recall that on Saturday, November 23rd, we were told by Chief Curry, told the press of the nation, told the press of the world, that the paraffin test had come back. It was positive. It proved that Oswald had fired a weapon, it proved that Oswald was the assassin." You can readily see in this instance Mr. Lane attributes this statement concerning the paraffin test to Chief Curry of the Dallas Police Department.

For your further information the report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling at Dallas dated November 30, 1963, commencing on page 145 discloses that the paraffin tests were conducted by members of the Dallas Police Department and the technical examinations were made by two members of the Dallas City - County Criminal Investigative Laboratory on November 23, 1963.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT

At 11 A.M. this date Mr. Norman Redlich of the President's Commission telephoned. He stated that he had another expedite request which he would like to have handled as soon as possible. He stated that a member of the Commission staff had contacted Mr. Truly of the Texas School Book Depository and had advised Mr. Truly he would be interviewed by the Bureau for the following information:

1. The approximate weights of the rolling readers cartons with their contents.
2. The approximate weights of the other two cartons at the window with their contents.
3. Ask Truly whether there were any cartons on the sixth floor of the Depository which could not be handled by one male individual.

Mr. Redlich stated they desired this information in order to support a statement that the assassin could have moved any of the cartons on the sixth floor of the Depository Building without assistance.

Mr. Redlich will be orally advised of the results of the investigation with written confirmation to follow.

ACTION:

SAC Shanklin was telephonically advised of the material desired by Redlich and instructed to handled the matter expeditiously; advise of results telephonically followed by letterhead memorandum appropriate for dissemination to the Commission.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated September 2, 1964, which enclosed affidavits from Mr. B. M. Patterson and Mr. L. J. Lewis and also enclosing a memorandum dated August 27, 1964, captioned "Lee Harvey Oswald." The memorandum revealed the results of interviews with Mr. Patterson and Mr. Lewis conducted on August 25 and 26, 1964.

On September 6, 1964, Mr. Norman Redlich of your staff was in telephonic contact with a representative of this Bureau. Mr. Redlich requested that an additional affidavit be obtained from Mr. B. M. Patterson. This affidavit was to indicate that the written report of August 27, 1964, revealing the results of his interviews on August 25 and 26, 1964, represented a correct report. Mr. Redlich's request was confirmed by your letter of September 8, 1964.

Enclosed are an original affidavit and one copy signed by Mr. Patterson and dated September 7, 1964, which were obtained by representatives of our Dallas Office.

NOTE:

We previously completed a Commission request wherein we obtained sworn affidavits from B. M. Patterson and L. J. Lewis which concerned a recontact with these men who were the individuals witnessing the flight of Lee Harvey Oswald from the scene of the J. D. Tippit shooting. Patterson and Lewis were reinterviewed on August 25 and 26, 1964, at which time Patterson made a change in his statement from that which he previously furnished during his original interview on January 22, 1964. This change concerned display of Lee Harvey Oswald's photograph to him.

When Patterson was reinterviewed on 8-25 and 26-64, he observed two photographs of Oswald at which time he advised this person displayed in the photograph (Oswald) was positively and unquestionably the same person he saw at approximately 1:30 p.m. on 11-22-63. This information was contained in the 8-27-64, letterhead memorandum furnished to the Commission by letter 9-2-64.

On 9-6-64, Mr. Redlich of the President's Commission telephonically advised SA K. M. Raupach that for the completion of the Commission's report it would be necessary to obtain from Patterson an additional affidavit to the effect that information he furnished on 8-25 and 26-64, represented a true report of his interview. On 9-8-64, Mr. Redlich was telephonically advised that this affidavit had been obtained and was forthcoming. On 9-6-64, Mr. Redlich stated he would confirm this request in writing. This letter was dated 9-8-64, received 9-9-64. No further action necessary.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

This letter confirms a conversation between Mr. Norman Redlich of the Commission staff and Agent Kenneth M. Raupach of your Bureau on September 6, 1964.

By covering letter of September 2, 1964, you forwarded to us an affidavit executed by Mr. B. M. Patterson, a witness to the flight of Lee Harvey Oswald from the Tippit shooting. Also enclosed was a memorandum dated August 27, 1964 from your Dallas, Texas, office entitled "Lee Harvey Oswald." We have requested that your Bureau contact B. M. Patterson once again, ask him to review pages 2 and 3 of the aforementioned memorandum of August 27, 1964 and secure a new affidavit that your memorandum represents a correct report of the interview described therein.

PURPOSE

To advise the Bureau received a President's Commission request which requires interviews with members of the President's Commission and staff, Sol A. Dann of Detroit and Melvin Belli of San Francisco, the latter two, are former Ruby attorneys. The interviews are to relate to the leak of information to news media of Oswald's diary, Ruby's polygraph examination and Ruby's interview with Chief Justice Warren.

BACKGROUND

At the request of the Commission we have conducted extensive investigation concerning the leak of information to news media regarding Oswald's diary, Jack Ruby's polygraph examination and Ruby's interview with Chief Justice Warren. The results of the investigations have been furnished to the President's Commission.

Congressman Gerald R. Ford was the only member of the Commission interviewed as it was alleged he leaked information regarding Oswald's diary. This allegation was completely erroneous. The Commission was advised other members and staff would not be interviewed in the absence of a specific request.

By letter dated September 10, 1964, the Commission requested that members and staff be interviewed; also that Mr. Sol A. Dann and Melvin Belli, former Ruby attorneys, be interviewed.

Consideration was given as to whether these interviews should be conducted by members of Mr. DeLoach's Office since some of the Commission employees are members of Congress. It is felt that in view of the investigative nature of the requests it would be preferable to utilize experienced personnel of WFO.

ACTION

If approved, the attached airtel is to be forwarded to WFO with instructions to interview Commission members and staff, who were present during Ruby's interview and his polygraph examination, and conduct further investigation to fully explore and pin down any such leaks of information pertaining to Oswald's diary, Ruby's interview and polygraph examination within the Commission.

Receiving offices are being instructed this is a limited investigation restricted to Commission members, Commission staff and the two former Ruby attorneys. When personnel of the Commission have been interviewed, WFO has been instructed to advise the Bureau prior to conducting an interview with Chief Justice Warren, for further instructions.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA - CUBA

On the afternoon of September 10, 1964, Mr. J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission telephoned. Mr. Rankin stated the Commission had received a letter from Congressman John R. Pillion, Republican from New York, stating certain action which he thought the Commission should take. Mr. Rankin stated he had talked to the Congressman concerning the letter and the Congressman was willing to be interviewed by the FBI.

Mr. Rankin stated that while many of the items in the letter were of no interest to the Commission, there were certain items concerning which he desired the Bureau to interview the Congressman. (Mr. Rankin indicated he would underline on the material sent to the Bureau the items he specifically desired the FBI to question the Congressman.) At Mr. Rankin's request a courier was dispatched and a copy of the Congressman's letter to Mr. Rankin was obtained.

A check of Bureau files disclosed Congressman Pillion was born August 10, 1904, in Conneaut, Ohio, and is a graduate of Cornell University. He was elected to the 83rd Congress, November 2, 1952, and re-elected to succeeding Congresses. He currently is serving on the Appropriations Committee.

We have had limited, though friendly, relations with Congressman Pillion. In June, 1961, his office contacted the Bureau advising that he had introduced a resolution declaring war on communism. This resolution emphasized the danger of the communist conspiracy and resolved that the United States declare a state of war exists between this country and the 98 Communist Parties of the world.

On April 20, 1964, an assistant to Congressman Pillion contacted Mr. DeLoach's office and requested details regarding Oswald's relationship with the American Civil Liberties Union and with Attorney John Abt in New York City. No data was furnished the Congressman's assistant and he was told that results of our investigation were being furnished to the President's Commission and release of such material rested with the Commission. Congressman's assistant recognized the Bureau's position and stated they would just wait until the report was released by the President's Commission.

A review of the letter sent to the Commission by Congressman Pillion which was obtained from Mr. Rankin takes the theme that Oswald was definitely a tool of the communist conspiracy and that in his murder of President Kennedy, Oswald was wholly influenced and motivated by his communist ideology, training, associations and objectives. In his document, Congressman Pillion states that if the Warren Commission in the final report excludes communism as the prime motivating factor in Lee Oswald's crime, then, this report would, in effect, provide a "cover-up" and "whitewash."

Congressman Pillion makes a number of statements in his document which have not been substantiated by our investigation. He alleges that Oswald was associated with the Soviet Secret Police in Russia; that Marina Oswald was "planted" by the Soviet Secret Police and induced to marry Oswald as part of the Soviet intelligence operations; and that there could be no question that Lee and Marina Oswald were considered by Soviet intelligence to be potential agents for either specific or future assignments. Further, that Oswald made a number of trips to Mexico where he consorted with the communists and that Oswald was trained to kill for the attainment of a political objective and, thus, his killing of President Kennedy was a communist political killing.

In his document, Congressman Pillion also charged that the Commission's inquiries have suppressed the free flow of available information and prevented the American public from rendering a true and balanced judgment as to the communist role and involvement. He also alleged that American official and private investigative agencies have been silenced during the nine-month period the Commission has been working on its report.

OBSERVATIONS:

The data set forth in Congressman Pillion's document follows the same line as data which has appeared in the press from avid rightists and members of the John Birch Society. Much of Congressman Pillion's information appears to have been taken from public source material, particularly the data in Oswald's diary which was published in "Life" magazine. As a matter of cooperation with the Commission, it is felt we should interview Congressman Pillion but we will make it clear to him we are there at the specific instructions of the President's Commission.

ACTION:

Attached is an airtel to WFO instructing that two mature experienced Agents familiar with the Oswald case interview Congressman Pillion concerning data in the document he sent to the Commission. We are instructing WFO to ascertain the basis or proof for the various remarks in his document (those underlined by Mr. Rankin as described above). We are specifically instructing WFO to inform Congressman Pillion that we are conducting the interview at the specific instructions of the President's Commission.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

This will confirm delivery to the Commission on September 11, 1964, of two copies of a memorandum dated September 10, 1964, at New Orleans, Louisiana, concerning data made available to this Bureau by Lieutenant Francis L. Martello, Platoon Commander, First District, New Orleans, Louisiana, Police Department. This memorandum set forth circumstances surrounding Lieutenant Martello's acquisition of a small piece of white paper which contained certain notes from Lee Harvey Oswald during Lieutenant Martello's interview with Oswald on August 10, 1963.

This will also confirm delivery to the Commission on September 11, 1964, of the original notes prepared by Lieutenant Martello from the aforementioned small piece of white paper which he obtained from Oswald.

The above-described material was furnished to the Commission at the specific request of Miss Mary A. Rowcotsky of your staff.

Lieutenant Francis L. Martello, Platoon Commander, First District, New Orleans, Louisiana, Police Department, on September 9, 1964, advised that on August 10, 1963, he interviewed a prisoner, Lee Harvey Oswald, at the First District, who had been arrested on August 9, 1963, for creating a disturbance while distributing Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature on Canal Street, New Orleans.

At the time Oswald was questioned, Lieutenant Martello said he examined identification papers furnished him by Oswald which Oswald had removed from his wallet. At the conclusion of the interview, Oswald was returned to his cell. Lieutenant Martello stated he then placed his notes, along with several copies of the Fair Play for Cuba literature, in a file folder and placed the folder in a file cabinet.

Lieutenant Martello further advised that at approximately 3 p.m., November 23, 1963, he was interviewed by Mr. Adrian G. Vial, United States Secret Service at the First District, as Mr. Vial desired to secure from him any information be possessed regarding his, Lieutenant Martello's, interview of Oswald on August 10, 1963. Lieutenant Martello stated that at the outset of this interview he secured the original file folder on Oswald and turned over to Mr. Vial all the literature which had been secured from Oswald at the time of his arrest on August 9, 1963. Lieutenant Martello said that upon going through this folder he discovered a small piece of white paper which contained handwritten notes in English and some writing which appeared to him to be in a foreign language which he could not identify. He added that such paper had inadvertently become misplaced in the folder following his interview with Oswald. This piece of paper was turned over to Mr. Vial, but before doing so, Lieutenant Martello said he made a longhand copy of the information contained thereon. A Xerox copy of the original piece of paper, on which Lieutenant Martello recorded these notes, is attached to this memorandum.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated August 12, 1964, which enclosed two copies of the report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated August 7, 1964, captioned "Assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, November 22, 1963, Dallas, Texas." This report contained the results of investigation relative to allegations against persons other than Lee Harvey Oswald.

Enclosed for your information are two copies of another similar report prepared by Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated August 28, 1964. This report has also been disseminated to the United States Department of Justice and U. S. Secret Service as it contains information of possible interest to them.

Your attention is directed to pages fifty-nine through ninety-five of the enclosed report, which reveal results of investigation to locate James M. O'Brien, an itinerant. O'Brien has not been located and further attempts to locate him are not being made unless advised to the contrary by you.

Similar reports are continuing to be received by this Bureau and subsequently will be furnished to you.

NOTE:

Numerous complaints have been received indicating individuals other than Lee Harvey Oswald were involved in the assassination. The majority of these complaints have been initiated by cranks, mental cases and patriotic citizens. Concerning James O'Brien, the Gemberd ing report of 12-10-63, captioned "Lee Harvey Oswald" pages 624-625, revealed that O'Brien, when registering at the Caroling Hotel, Chester, South Carolina, on 11-22-63, commented following a conversation with a roomeclerk about the assassination,"Yes, it was planned but the assassination was supposed to happen in December." Extensive investigation was conducted to locate and interview O'Brien. It was determined O'Brien is 65-70 years old and an itinterant with no known relatives. He has traded cars on several occasions some of which he abandoned. There were no stolen reports on the vehicles and [illegible] one abandoned car, according to police officials, contained a bottle of narcotics and burglarly tools. Several checking accounts of O'Briens were reviewed without results. It was noted, based on information obtained, O'Brien does not appear to be involved in any activities or crime over which we have jurisdiction. No apparent benefit would be derived in continuing efforts to locate him.

This is the 7th report disseminated to the President's Commission under the assassination caption. A copy will be dissominated to the Department and U. S. Secret Service separately. The enclosed report has been reviewed by Mr. Belmont, Mr. Malley and appropriate Bureau supervisor.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of September 7, 1964, requesting that the files of the FBI be examined with respect to Eva Grant, Ralph Paul, George Senator, Breck Wall, Karen Bennett Carlin, Bruce Ray Carlin, Harry N. Olsen and Kay Helen Coleman (Mrs. Harry N. Olsen) for any information therein indicating that these persons were possible members of the Communist Party or engaged in other subversive activities.

By letter dated June 1, 1964, the President's Commission previously requested a similar check of our files with respect to Ralph Paul, George Senator and Breck Wall and you were advised by my letter of June 15, 1964, that the files of this Bureau do not contain any information of a subversive nature or otherwise concerning these individuals other than information which has been furnished to the President's Commission in connection with the investigation regarding Jack L. Ruby.

With respect to Eva Grant, Karen Bennett Carlin, Bruce Ray Carlin, Harry N. Ralph Paul, George Senator and Ereck Wall are associates of Ruby. Karen Bennett Carlin is the stripper Little Lynn to whom Ruby sent the money order on the morning of 11/24/63. She is living in a common-law state with Carlin. Kay Helen Coleman was also a former stripper at Ruby's nightclub who is now married to Olsen who was a former Dallas PD Officer. We have conducted extensive investigation of these persons and their association with Ruby and developed no information indicating CP or subversive activity. A search of our files does not develop any information identifiable with them which would indicate any CP or subversive activity on their part.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

This is to confirm the request made on September 3, 1964, by W. David Slawson of the Commission staff to Inspector Leo Gauthier of the Bureau that the Bureau prepare approximately nine visual aids dealing with the foreign conspiracy aspect of the Oswald investigation, specifically, relating to Oswald's trip to Mexico and his residence in the Soviet Union. Mr. Slawson identified certain documents and photographs to Mr. Gauthier at this conference and the two individuals discussed the manner in which they would be put together for visual aids.

In addition, we would like the following photographs grouped on one or two pages, with the captions as indicated. I believe that Nos. B3-2, D33-27, D33-5, and B3-30 might be cropped slightly if this would facilitate the grouping. The pictures, with their captions, are as follows:

B3-2. The Oswalds with Marina's Uncle Vasily Aksionov and Aunt Lubova Aksionova.

B3-7. Lee Oswald with Anatole (last name unknown) and Alexander Romanovich Zieger.

D33-46. Lee Oswald (in dark glasses) with fellow workers at the Minsk Radio and TV Factory.

D33-27. Lee Oswald with Intourist guide Rosa Kuznetsova, his guide and language instructor in Minsk during 1960.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated September 8, 1964, concerning interview of Francisco Morales relative to the claims of Ernesto Lima Juarez.

In this connection there are enclosed two copies each of a report in the Lee Harvey Oswald case of Special Agent John H. Kenny dated August 24, 1964, at San Antonio, Texas, and a memorandum of evaluation of said [illegible] relating to the sources concealed in the report. Special Agent Kenny's report deals in part with interview of Francisco Morales by a confidential source abroad on June 23, 1964.

As you were advised in our letter dated September 10, 1964, we do not contemplate any further action in connection with this phase of our investigation in view of the results of our reinterrogation of Mr. Lima Juarez on August 20, 1964.

Upon detachment from the classified enclosures, this letter may be regarded as unclassified.

Commission 9/8/64 letter asked if steps could be taken to locate and interview Francisco Morales who was named by Lima Juarez, a Mexican, as a person who may have observed Oswald while at the Del Comercio Hotel to have been in the company of two Cubans. Lima's claims have been thoroughly investigated and discredited and on 8/26/64 he recanted and said that he was quite certain he had never seen Oswald. The enclosure shows that Morales was interviewed on 8/28/64 and denied ever seeing Oswald.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Your letter of July 1, 1964, indicated that steps to locate and interview Francisco Morales were being undertaken. In order fully to investigate the allegation of Ernesto Lima Juarez that Lee Harvey Oswald was seen in the company of Cubans at the Hotel del Comercio in Mexico City, it would be desirable for the Commission to be able to cite a report of an interview with Morales. Your efforts toward this end would be greatly appreciated.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated September 5, 1964, concerning schedules of the Continental Trailways and the Greyhound bus lines in September, 1963, for the route from New Orleans, Louisiana, to Houston, Texas.

The information reported on pages 10 and 11 of the report in the Lee Harvey Oswald case of Special Agent Daniel W. Fults, Jr., dated December 11, 1963, at Houston, Texas, does not represent a schedule of all Greyhound buses running from New Orleans to Houston in September, 1963. The full schedule of Greyhound buses making that trip on September 25, 1963, is set forth on page 3 of the December 24, 1963, report of Special Agent Stephen M. Callender in the Oswald case.

1 SEP 11 COMM-FBI

On September 9, 1964, Mr. E. A. Reimherr, Terminal Manager, Southern Greyhound bus lines, New Orleans, and Mr. Major Green, Terminal Manager, Continental Trailways bus lines, New Orleans, confirmed that their respective companies are the only interstate bus lines operating between New Orleans and Houston. Messrs. Reimherr and Green also confirmed that the schedules of trips by their companies between New Orleans and Houston as set forth on pages 3 and 12 of the report of Special Agent Callender dated December 24, 1963, are correct and complete. According to Mr. Reimherr, the time differential in connection with several of the Greyhound lines' runs between New Orleans and Houston is occasioned by different routes utilized and the number of stops made en route.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE: Commission's 9-5-64 let asked if info re Greyhound bus schedules between NO and HO in Agent Fults' report provided a full schedule. It did not as Fults' report did not deal with bus schedules, it dealt with efforts to locate bus drivers in the HO area. The info concerning the Greyhound schedules was reported on page 3 of NO 12-24-63 report which was apparently overlooked by Commission. Commission also asked if other bus lines operated between HO and NO in 9-63 and asked to be assured that the Commission was provided with the full schedules of= Greyhound and Continental. NO 9-9-64 tel establishes this to be the case and shows that no other bus lines operated between points in question in 9-63.

This afternoon Mr. W. J. Liebeler of the President's Commission telephoned.

Mr. Liebeler stated that in connection with the arrest of Oswald on August 9, 1963, by the New Orleans Police Department it was ascertained that Oswald had in his possession a pamphlet entitled "The Crime Against Cuba" written by Corliss LaMont. On the pamphlet by rubber stamp was the following, "FPCC, 544 Camp Street, New Orleans, La."

Mr. Liebeler stated that Secret Service had conducted extensive investigation to ascertain relationship to and association by Oswald with the Camp Street address and had developed no pertinent information. According to Liebeler, the Secret Service had checked with the New Orleans FBI Office and had been advised that the FBI in New Orleans had also checked on Oswald's relationship to the Camp Street address with negative results.

Mr. Liebeler stated that he had the two following requests:

1. He would like to be furnished with copies of any FBI reports setting forth the investigation conducted by the FBI regarding Oswald's association with the Camp Street address. (Liebeler stated such reports may have been furnished to the Commission but his file room could not locate any.)

2. Mr. Liebeler would like to have furnished the original pamphlet which Oswald had in his possession at the time of his arrest on 8/9/63. Mr. Liebeler identified their Secret Service report of the investigation of this matter as Secret Service Control Number 517, report dated 12/9/63, at New Orleans, by Agent Gerrets.

ACTION:

Supervisor Lenihan of the Domestic Intelligence Division was advised of Mr. Liebeler's request and after checking advised the Bureau investigation of Oswald's association with the Camp Street address was covered on Pages 680-683 of Dallas report 12/2/63 in the Oswald case which report was by SA Warren C. DeBrueys. This same report on Page 371 sets forth that Lieutenant Martello of the New Orleans Police Department turned over all material including the original pamphlet taken from Oswald at the time of his arrest to Agent Adrian G. Vial of Secret Service.

This information was furnished to Mr. Liebeler who stated he would locate the above-mentioned report and as to the original document he would contact Secret Service to obtain it and no further action needed to be taken by the Bureau.

Malley advised Shanklin that all of the latent fingerprints and all but one of the palm prints had been identified and that Dallas should continue to press in obtaining palm prints from those individuals who logically might have touched the cartons. He was instructed to insure that all FBI personnel were appropriately eliminated.

Shanklin advised they have several good possibilities in Dallas. From the Dallas Police Department one Bobby Gene Brown has indicated he may have touched the cartons. Shanklin also stated some employees of the Sheriff's Office in Dallas have also stated they may have touched the cartons. When the major case prints from these individuals are received, they will be appropriately checked against the remaining palm print.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY
MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

At 1:18a.m., Mr. Albert Jenner, President's Commission, telephonically advised that the process relative to Professor Revilo Oliver has been forwarded to U. S. Marshal Henry C. George, Post Office and Federal Court Building, Danville, Illinois. George's home address is 917 Kingdom Avenue, Danville. Jenner stated George has been informed that Professor Oliver's whereabouts if established he, George, will be so advised either by Jenner or the Springfield FBI Office. According to Jenner, George will then promptly serve the process on Oliver.

Jenner requested that the Springfield FBI Office be advised of the above information. He requested that George be notified when Oliver is located.

ACTION:

At 1:40 a.m., Duty Clerk Dave Kapp of the Springfield Office was furnished above information and instructed to promptly advise the Bureau and then U. S. Marshal George when Professor Oliver is located.

ADDENDUM:

Jenner called from New York at 12:50 p.m., 9/6/64, stated he was now in New York City and would remain in periodic telephone contact with the Bureau.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Pursuant to the conversation of Miss Jane Vida of your staff with Special Agent Robert R. Lenihan of this Bureau on September 22, 1964, there were delivered to the Commission on September 22, 1964, the following data:

(1) Two copies of amended page seven of the report of Special Agent James J. O'Connor dated April 21, 1964, at Miami, Florida, entitled "Lee Harvey Oswald, Aka; IS - Russia - Cuba." These amended pages are to replace the two copies of pages seven and eight of the report of Special Agent O'Connor dated April 21, 1964, which is in the possession of the Commission.

With the insertion of the amended pages, Special Agent O'Connor's report becomes unclassified.

This will confirm delivery of the aforementioned data to the Commission on September 22, 1964.

Sincerely yours,

V. Edgar Hoover

Enclosed herewith for Dallas and New York are two copies of a self-explanatory memorandum from the President's Commission requesting that we have certain photographs of Ruby identified and that we obtain certain additional photographs as specified. Also enclosed for Dallas are the film pictures furnished by the Commission. They are to be returned along with the results of your investigation.

Dallas exhibit the pictures to those persons named and obtain the photograph printed on page 4-25 of the "Dallas Morning News" on 11/25/63.

New York will obtain the photograph of Ruby published on page 12 of the "New York Times," November 25, 1963.

You will note that the Commission desires receipt of the results of this investigation by September 10, 1964. Both offices must, therefore, submit results by appropriate letterhead memorandum to reach the Bureau no later than 9/8/64.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Enclosed are six pictures believed to show Jack Ruby. The Commission would appreciate your asking the following persons to identify Ruby in those pictures:

George Senator
Andrew Armstrong
Dr. Bruce McLean, Dallas, Texas
Officer Clyde F. Goodson (Clements Report June 26, 1964, p.164.)
Victor Robertson Jr., Dallas, Texas (Clements Report June 26, 1964, p.160.)

In photographs 1 and 2 Ruby is believed to be the man standing in the last row, right-hand side, dressed in a dark suit and tie and carrying a handkerchief in his breast pocket. In photograph 3, Ruby is believed to be the slightly bald man in the center of picture shown walking out of the door. In photograph 4, Ruby is believed to be the bald man in the foreground with his right hand in his pocket and back to the camera. Photographs 5 and 6 show what is believed to be a profile view of Ruby who is standing in the foreground in about the center of the photographs.

In photograph 6, please also identify the police officer who appears on the right-hand side of the picture and is moving in the direction of the man believed to be Ruby. Please interview that officer to determine whether or not he remembers seeing Ruby on the third floor of the Dallas Police Department on Friday evening, November 22, and obtain from him any further details he can offer.

The Commission would also appreciate your obtaining glossy photographs of the following newspaper pictures:

he received additional messages indicating the President had selected his burial spot in Arlington, and that the name "Ruby" appeared in the message. From the investigation conducted by Los Angeles, it appears that Curran, a naturalized American has been having considerable marital and financial problems and has been unable to hold a job. While there is no direct information that he is suffering from mental illness, his interview does suggest he is suffering from some latent malady. It is not felt further investigation of this allegation is warranted. Dissemination of this communication has been made to Secret Service by O-14i.

Honorable J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President's Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, Northeast
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of September 3, 1964, enclosing six photographs of Jack L. Ruby and requesting that we have certain named persons identify Ruby in those photographs. It was also requested that we obtain a photograph of Jack L. Ruby published on page 12 of the "New York Times" on November 25, 1963, and a photograph of Lee Oswald printed on page A-25 of the "Dallas Morning News" on November 25, 1963.

Enclosed herewith are two copies each of a memorandum dated September 7, 1964, at Dallas, Texas, and a memorandum dated September 9, 1964, at New York, New York, setting forth investigation in response to your request. Also enclosed are the six pictures which were furnished by you to be exhibited. One copy of the requested photograph which appeared in the "New York Times," page 12 on November 25, 1963, is enclosed herewith. One copy of this photograph has been furnished to the Exhibits Section of the FBI for their use in preparation of an exhibit of which you are aware.

By Courier Svc. 10 SEP 11 COMM-FBI

With regard to the photograph appearing on page A-25 of the "Dallas Morning News" on November 25, 1963, Mr. Griffin of the President's Commission was previously advised on September 8, 1964, that such a picture does not appear in the "Dallas Morning News" of that date but rather it appeared on page 4-B of the "Dallas Times Herald." Mr. Griffin was advised that the photograph in the "Dallas Times Herald" was the one desired.

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

Contact with the "Dallas Times Herald" disclosed that the photograph desired was a United Press International (UPI) photograph and would have to be obtained from UPI Headquarters, New York, New York. Mr. Frank Tremaine, Vice-president in Charge of Photographs, UPI, New York City, upon contact September 9, 1964, advised that he would not release the photograph in the absence of a stipulation from the President's Commission that neither the picture nor any copies thereof would be made available to any media for reproduction or use in any way and that the picture would be published only in the President's Commission's report with a credit to UPI and that the picture would be protected against copying by any one from the report by proper notice to that effect printed in the report. Mr. Griffin was telephonically advised of this by Special Agent J. William Hines of this Bureau on September 10, 1964, at which time Mr. Griffin stated that the matter of obtaining the UPI picture would be handled by the President's Commission directly with Mr. Tremaine of UPI. No further efforts will be made by the FBI to obtain this picture in the absence of a further request from the President's Commission.

This concludes the investigation requested in your letter of September 3, 1964.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Rankin:

There are enclosed two copies each of memoranda dated August 25 and August 23, 1964, dealing with the claims of Ernesto Lima Juarez.

The group photograph referred to in the enclosed memoranda was designated Exhibit D-231, two copies of which were furnished to you as an enclosure to the report in the Lee Harvey Oswald case of Special Agent Robert E. Shortello dated July [illegible], at New Haven, Connecticut. Our letters dated July 2 and July 16, 1964, set forth further information concerning the statements of Mr. Lima Juarez. In view of the results of the reinterrogation of Mr. Lima Juarez on August 23, 1964, no further action is contemplated in connection with this phase of our investigation.

Upon detachment from the classified enclosures, this letter may be regarded as unclassified.

NOTE:

The enclosures are letterheads from Legat, Mexico City, which have been approved for dissemination by Messrs. Belmont and Malley. The Lima Juarez aspect dealt with his claims to have seen a man he thought was Oswald at the Del Comercio Hotel in Mexico City in September - October, 1963. He said this person associated with a group of four Cubans who were registered at the hotel and that two of the Cubans were depicted in a groupphotograph taken at the time by a street photographer. His claims have been thoroughly discredited. There was only one Cuban at the hotel at the time. He has been interviewed by New Haven and denies any knowledge of Oswald. The group photograph was located and Lima now admits he was mistaken in that only the Cuban interviewed by New Haven was in the picture. On 8/26/64 he recanted and told Legat that he is now quite certain he has never seen Oswald. Classified "Confidential" as Legat has so classified letterheads to protect our operations in Mexico.

In addition to above requests Commission desired to obtain FBI basis for concluding that rubber stamp used on Oswald's vaccination certificate was made by the rubber stamp in Oswald's possessions. The Laboratory Division is handling this matter. Based on information available to the Bureau, the clip in the assassination rifle was empty although one cartridge was in the rifle chamber. Further Oswald's original order and envelope were apparently destroyed by Kleins after they were microfilmed. Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Commission requests that you prepare for its use two diagrams of the basement of the Dallas Police and Courts Building. These diagrams should show the exit route taken by Oswald and the entry route of Jack Ruby. These diagrams have been discussed with Inspector Gautier of your staff who is acquainted with the requirements.

Your continuing cooperation with the Commission is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin

NOTE:

George Senator was a close friend and the roommate of Ruby's at the time of the assassination and Ruby's shooting of Oswald. The Commission indicates that Ruby in his interview on June 7, 1964, indicated that he made up his mind to shoot Oswald at 9:15 that morning. Senator was at the apartment when Ruby left to go to the Western Union Office and one William Downey has reported that Senator called him to come over to his house for breakfast shortly before the shooting. The Commission desires reinterview of Senator to determine if Ruby expressed any indication that he was going to shoot Oswald prior to leaving the apartment and to determine why Senator called Downey. Senator says Ruby didn't say anything about killing Oswald and that he, Senator, did not call Downey that morning.

PAUL MORGAN STOMBAUGH, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

1. This affidavit is made at the request of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy, for the purpose of supplementing the testimony I gave before the Commission concerning certain hairs and fibers I examined.

2. The principal characteristics of cotton fibers used for comparison purposes are color and shade; and degree of twist. Of these, color and shade are by far the most significant. The principal characteristics of viscose used for comparison purposes are color and shade, diameter, and size and distribution of delustering agent.

3. The orange-yellow and grey-black cotton fibers in the shirt, Commission Exhibit 150, were respectively of uniform shades; the dark blue cotton fibers in the shirt were of three different shad. All the fibers in the shirt were mercerized, and of a substantially uniform twist.

4. The green cotton fibers found in the paper bag, Commissio[illegible] exhibit [illegible], varied in shade, but were of a uniform twist. The brown viscose fibers in the blanket, Commission Exhibit 140, varied in [illegible] luster, shade, size and distribution of delustering agent.

5. Stombaugh Exhibits 1-3 consist of the following items:

(a) Stombaugh Exhibit 1 consists of the hairs I found on the blanket, Commission Exhibit 140.

[illegible]

(b) Stombaugh Exhibit 2 consists of the known sample of Lee Harvey Oswald's hairs sent to me by the Dallas Office of the FBI.

(c) Stombaugh Exhibit 3 consists of the fibers I found in the paper bag, Commission Exhibit 142.

(d) Stombaugh Exhibit 4 consists of a sample of fibers from the blanket, Commission Exhibit 140.

(e) Stombaugh Exhibit 5 consists of the fibers I found on the rifle, Commission Exhibit 139.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated September 1, 1964, concerning a palm print which Lieutenant J. C. Day of the Dallas Police Department testified he lifted from the barrel of the assassination weapon, Commission Number 139.

This palm print lift has been compared with the assassination rifle in the FBI Laboratory. The Laboratory examiners were able to positively identify this lift as having come from the assassination rifle in the area of the wooden forearm. This conclusion is based on a comparison of irregularities in the surface of the metal of the barrel with the impressions of these irregularities as shown in the lift.

A photograph marked to show several of the irregularities referred to is attached.

The results of the other investigation requested in your letter will be subsequently furnished.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Rankin:

An article captioned "California Crowd Hears Harangue by Bircher" written by Julius Duscha, staff reporter, under the date line of Santa Ana, California, August 29, appeared in the "Washington Post" on August 30, 1964. This article stated that Professor Revilo P. Oliver of the University of Illinois spoke for more than one hour before 1,300 men and women in the auditorium of the Santa Ana Valley High School. A copy of this article is enclosed.

In response to your request of Inspector James R. Malley of this Bureau on September 2, 1964, that we locate and interview Mr. Oliver for the purpose of determining the basis for the remarks attributed to him in the aforementioned article, we determined Mr. Oliver is staying at the Argonaut Hotel, Denver, Colorado, until September 5, 1964. Accordingly, we contacted Mr. Oliver in Denver at which time he advised that his speech for the most part contained the same material that was published in his articles which appeared in the "American Opinion" magazine in February and March, 1964. Mr. Oliver identified this magazine as an organ published by the John Birch Society. Mr. Oliver further stated that all of his material used in his articles was obtained by him from public sources and he added that he has no confidential sources.

Mr. Oliver advised that the source of his statement that communists, with the help of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), were responsible for the assassination, was a book entitled "Oswald: Assassin or Fall Guy?", written by Joachim Joesten which was published by Marzani and Munsell Publishers, Inc., New York City.

DECLASSIFIED

REL hrg SP

SEP 16 1964

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

Mr. Oliver advised that in connection with his statement that he did not know whether Oswald was paid by CIA or by the Soviet secret police and that it might be just a matter of bookkeeping anyway, he believed his source for this statement was either the aforementioned book by Joesten or an article by John Henshaw which appeared in the "National Enquirer." Mr. Oliver also stated that his source for the statement that under orders from Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara the Army "began to rehearse for the funeral more than a week before the funeral," was a news article which appeared in the "Clarion Ledger" on February 21, 1964. He identified the "Clarion Ledger" as a newspaper published in Jackson, Mississippi. According to Mr. Oliver, this article pertained to statements made by Army Captain Richard Cloy who reportedly was in charge of protocol for state funerals.

In conclusion, Mr. Oliver stated that he always furnishes the sources of his material during his speeches but that, unfortunately, the newspaper accounts usually do not identify these sources.

In connection with Mr. Oliver's statements that material in his speech was for the most part contained in his articles which appeared in the "American Opinion" magazine, there is enclosed for the information of the Commission a copy of a pamphlet entitled "Dallas Marksmanship by Revilo P. Oliver, Parts I and II," which was furnished this Bureau by Mr. Roy J. Evans, President of the Evans Distributing Company, Shreveport, Louisiana. Mr. Evans stated he received this pamphlet through the mail and upon reading its contents, he did not agree with it and consequently desired to furnish it to this Bureau for information.

You will note that Part I of the enclosed pamphlet appeared in "American Opinion" magazine for February, 1964, and Part II of the pamphlet appeared in the March, 1964, issue of "American Opinion" magazine.

In connection with Mr. Oliver's statements that certain material in his speech was based on the book "Oswald: Assassin or Fall Guy?" your attention is directed to chapter 16 of Mr. Joesten's book entitled "Oil Thicker Than Blood," which contains a number of statements alleging a conspiracy in connection with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Your attention is also directed to the report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated May 15, 1964, at Dallas, Texas, captioned "Assassination of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 11/22/63, Dallas, Texas; Miscellaneous - Information Concerning." This report, which is in the possession of the Commission, sets forth information on pages 561 through 595 concerning Joachim Joesten.

In connection with Mr. Oliver's statement that some of the material in his speech may have been based upon an article by John Henshaw which appeared in the "National Enquirer," your attention is directed to the Commission's letter of May 5, 1964, requesting this Bureau to make certain inquiries in connection with Mr. Henshaw's article. Your attention is also directed to our letter of May 8, 1964, which furnished the Commission with results of our inquiries in such matter.

In connection with Mr. Oliver's statement that data in his speech alleging that under orders from Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara the Army "began to rehearse for the funeral more than a week before the funeral" was based upon an article in the "Clarion Ledger" for February 21, 1964, please be advised that we have determined that the Friday, February 21, 1964, issue of the "Clarion Ledger," Jackson, Mississippi, daily newspaper, contained an article entitled "A Lotto Remember." This article reported an interview with Captain Richard C. Cloy and identified Captain Cloy as being in charge of the caisson section which carried the President's coffin, the saluting battery which fired the 21-gun final salute and the fife and drum corps which marched with the cortege. Captain Cloy is quoted as saying, "We were preparing the actual funeral arrangements less than an hour after the President was shot." Captain Cloy is also quoted as saying, "We were in a state of readiness and had just finished a funeral rehearsal because there was grave concern for President Hoover's health, but we never expected that our practice was preparing us for President Kennedy."

The article also reported that Captain Cloy had been visiting in Mississippi but was en route to his new assignment with the General Staff of the Third Infantry Division in Germany.

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

For your information, we are obtaining a copy of the news article which appeared in the "Clarion Ledger" for February 21, 1964, and such article will be immediately forwarded to the Commission upon receipt.

For your added information, Mr. Albert E. Jenner, Jr., of your staff, has requested that he be immediately apprised of data in this letter upon receipt by the Commission.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE: Oliver, an avid rightest and member of John Birch Society, has engaged in writings and speeches alleging number of false allegations in connection with assassination. He recently made speech in California wherein he used such phrases as "The Warren Gang," "Bobby Socks Kennedy," "a hole called Harvard University," and the like. The Commission requested we immediately interview Oliver and pin him down as to the basis of his allegations re the assassination.

On 9-3-64 Commission informed Malley that Mr. Jenner has been instructed to contact Oliver immediately and obtain deposition from him. Mr. Jenner specifically requested he be furnished any info in Bureau's possession re articles of Oliver. Enclosures are responsive to Mr. Jenner's request.

NOTE: Commission, in 9/1/64 letter, refers to the palm print lifted from the underside of the assassination rifle barrel concealed by the foregrip by Lieutenant J. C. Day, of the Dallas Police Department, on 11/22/63. The tone of the Commission's letter appears to question Day's veracity and suggests the palm print, which was positively identified, as belonging to Oswald, came from another source than the assassination rifle. Certain circumstances indicate Day did not follow usual procedure in handling this lift and some of the pertinent questions raised in the Commission's letter are:

1. Why did Day wait until 11/26/63 to give the FBI this when the rifle and other evidence relating thereto was furnish on 11/22/64?

2. Why wasn't the area where the lift was taken from protected with cellophane as other areas were protected?

3. Why didn't he photograph the impression before making the lift as is customary; and, if he did take a photograph, why wasn't the photograph furnished?

4. Our FBI Identification Expert has testified the absorbent quality of the metal in the rifle would not be conducive to getting a good lift.

5. How was it possible to identify the palm print when other prints on the rifle could not be identified?

Inasmuch as the positive identification of Oswald's palm print on an unexposed portion of the assassination rifle indicates Oswald handled the weapon in a disassembled state, it is very pertinent that the above questions be answered. When the results are obtained, the Commission will be appropriately notified.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I enclose a copy of a memorandum dated August 28, 1964 to me from Mr. Wesley J. Liebeler of the staff of this Commission. The memorandum relates to certain problems raised by a conflict between the testimony of Special Agent Latona of your Bureau and Lt. J.C. Day of the Dallas Police Department concerning a palm print which Lt. Day testified he lifted from the barrel of the assassination weapon, apparently on November 22, 1963. Those problems were discussed with Inspector Malley and Agent Latona at a conference held on August 28, 1964 between those gentlemen, Mr. Burt W. Griffin of our staff, Mr. Liebeler and myself.

Would you please conduct the investigation necessary to resolve the questions raised in the attached memorandum. We would also like to have a statement from Lt. Day setting forth specifically and in detail what steps he took in processing the weapon for prints together with a description of any instructions he may have received in that connection and a statement as to from whom he received them. We would also like to have his statement as to when and why he turned the weapon over to the F.B.I. and the exact circumstances under which he did so. We would also like to know when Lt. Day first identified the palm print as being that of Lee Harvey Oswald and who, if anyone, he told about it at the time. We would like to have copies of any written reports Lt. Day may have made about the palm print as well as any photographs which he may have taken of the print while it was on the rifle.

Lt. Day should be questioned concerning his usual practice in photographing prints and in establishing beyond question that a print in fact appeared on a particular object from which it was claimed to have been lifted. If he did not follow his usual practice in the instant case, we would like to know why he did not. We would also like to know what precautions he took to protect the palm print which he claimed still remained on the rifle when he turned the rifle over to your Bureau, and why the protection afforded to the palm print differed from that given to the unidentifiable fingerprints that appeared on the rifle.

In connection with the above we call your attention to pages 166-167 of the report of Special Agent Gemberling dated November 30, 1963 at Dallas, Texas. Perhaps the Special Agent who made the reports there set forth could expand on what Lt. Day told him at that time.

Any other steps that you could take to establish whether or not the palm print in question was actually lifted from the assassination weapon would be greatly appreciated.

In view of our schedule we would appreciate receiving as prompt a reply as is possible. Your continued cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin

MEMORANDUM

August 28, 1964

To: J. Lee Rankin

From: Wesley J. Liebeler

Messrs. Griffin and Slawson and I raise questions covering the palmprint which Lt. Day of the Dallas Police Department testified he lifted from the underside of the barrel of the K-1 rifle on November 22, 1963. That story is set forth on pages 7-10 of the proposed final draft of Chapter IV of the Report, copies of which are attached.

We suggest that additional investigation be conducted to determine with greater certainty that the palmprint was actually lifted from the rifle as Lt. Day has testified. The only evidence we presently have on that print is the testimony of Lt. Day himself. He has stated that although he lifted the palmprint on November 22, 1963, he did not provide a copy of the lift to the FBI until November 26, 1963 (9 H 260-61). He also testified that after the lift he "could still see traces of the print under the barrel and was going to try to use photography to bring off or bring out a better print." Mr. Latona of the FBI testified with respect to the lift of the palmprint, that "evidently the lifting had been so complete that there was nothing left to show any marking on the gun itself as to the existence of such--even an attempt on the part of anyone else to process the rifle" (Id. at 24).

Additional problems are raised by the fact that:

1) Mr. Latona testified that the poor finish of the K-1 rifle made it absorbent and not conducive to getting a good print;

2) None of the other prints on the rifle could be identified because they were of such poor quality;

3) The other prints on the rifle were protected by cellophane while the area where the palmprint had been lifted was not, even though Lt. Day testified that after the lift the "/palm/ print on gun was their best bet, still remained on there," when he was asked why he had not released the lift to the FBI on November 22, 1963.

We should review the above circumstances at our conference with Agent Latona and Inspector Malley. The configuration of the palm print should be reviewed to determine, if possible, whether or not it was removed from a cylindrical surface. The possibility that the palm print or evidence of the lift was destroyed while the rifle was in transit should be reviewed with them. The exact condition of the rifle at the time it was turned over to the FBI Dallas office should be ascertained. Agent Latona should be asked if he can think of any explanation for the apparent conflict in the above testimony.

We should also:

1) Determine whether or not Lt. Day had assistance when he worked with the prints on the rifle. If he did, we should obtain statements from those who assisted him.

2) Lt. Day should be asked why he preserved the fingerprints on the rifle, which were not sufficiently clear to make positive identification, and yet did not preserve the palm print, which was clear enough for that purpose.

3) Lt. Day should also be asked why he removed only the palm print and should be questioned again concerning his recollection that he saw the palm print still on the rifle after he made the lift.

4) Lt. Day should be asked if he took any photographs of the palm print on the rifle after the lift. He may have done so, since he did photograph the less valuable fingerprints, and the palm print on the rifle, according to his testimony, was still the "best bet" for identification. It is also significant that Lt. Day stated that he was going to attempt to get a better print through use of photography.

of an organization of which Oswald was the only member.[24]

When seeking employment in New Orleans, Oswald listed a "Sgt. Robt. Hidell" as a reference on one job application[37a] and "George Hidell" as a reference on another.[37b] Both names were found to be fictitious.[37c]

The frequent use of "Alek" as a first name for Hidell is a further link to Oswald because "Alek" was Oswald's nickname in Russia.[38] In possession of the Commission are letters from friends of Oswald, addressing him with the familiar "Alek," and letters to Marina Oswald from her husband signed "Alek."[39]

OSWALD'S PALMPRINT ON RIFLE BARREL

Oswald's purchase of the rifle was determined within 24 hours after the assassination and confirmed later by expert witnesses before the Commission.[40] Additional proof of ownership was provided in the form of palmprint identification.

A few minutes after the rifle was discovered on the sixth floor of the Depository[40a] it was examined by Lieutenant J. C. Day of the Identification Bureau of the Dallas Police. He lifted the rifle by the wood stock after determining that the wood was too rough to take fingerprints. Captain J. W. Fritz was then permitted to eject a cartridge by operating the bolt, but only after Day viewed the knob on the bolt through a magnifying glass and found no prints.[40b] The rifle was then dusted with fingerprint powder and traces of prints could be seen on the side of the metal housing near the trigger.[40c] At 11:45 p.m. on November 22, the rifle was released to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and forwarded to Washington where it was examined on the morning of November 23 by Sebastian F. Latona, Supervisor of the Latent Fingerprint Section of the FBI's Identification Division.[41]

In his testimony before the Commission, Latona stated that when he received the rifle, the area where prints were visible was protected by cellophane.[42] He examined these prints, as well as photographs which the Dallas police had made of them, and concluded that "the formations, the ridge formations and characteristics, were insufficient for purposes of either effecting identification or a determination that the print was not identical with the prints of people. Accordingly, my opinion simply was that the latent prints which were there were of no value."[42a]

Latona processed the complete weapon but developed no identifiable prints.[42a] He stated that the poor quality of the metal caused absorption of the moisture from the skin, thereby making it difficult to obtain a clear print.[43] Moreover the rough quality of the wood made it unlikely that the stock could take a good print.[42a]

On November 22, however, before surrendering possession of the rifle to the FBI laboratory, Lieutenant Day of the Dallas Police Department had "lifted" a palmprint from the underside of the gun barrel "near the firing end of the barrel about three inches under the woodstock when I took the woodstock loose."[44] "Lifting" a print involves the use of adhesive material to remove the fingerprint powder which adheres to the original print. In this way the impression is actually removed from the object.[44a] The lifting had been so complete in this case that there was no trace of the print on the rifle itself when it was examined by Latona.[44b]

Day apparently assumed that sufficient traces of the prints had been left on the rifle, because he did not release the lifted print until November 26.[44c] When received in the Bureau laboratory in Washington on November 29, the print had been mounted on a card on which Lieutenant Day had written the words "off underside gun barrel near end of foregrip C2766."[48]

Latona testified that this palmprint was the right palmprint of Lee Harvey Oswald.[49] At the request of the Commission, Arthur Mandella, fingerprint expert with the New York City Police Department, conducted an independent examination and agreed that this was the right palmprint of Oswald.[52] Latona's findings were also confirmed by Ronald G. Wittmus, another FBI fingerprint expert.[53] Moreover, experts testifying before the Commission agreed that palmprints are as unique as fingerprints for purposes of establishing identification.[53a]

Oswald's palmprint on the underside of the barrel demonstrates that he handled the rifle when it was disassembled. A palmprint could not be placed on this portion of the rifle, when assembled, because the wooden foregrip covers the barrel at this point.[45] The print is additional proof that the rifle belonged to Oswald.

FIBERS ON RIFLE

In a crevice between the butt plate of the rifle and the wooden stock were several cotton fibers of dark blue, grayish black, and orange-yellow shades.[54] On November 23, 1963, these fibers were examined by Paul M. Stombaugh, a special agent assigned to the Hair and Fiber Unit of the FBI laboratory.[56] He compared them with the fibers found in the shirt which Oswald was wearing when arrested in the Texas Theatre.[55] Stombaugh testified that the colors and twist of the fibers found on the rifle matched those in Oswald's shirt. The three basic colors in the shirt were present in the fibers on the rifle, and there was a match of shades within each color.[57]

Mr. Stombaugh explained in his testimony that in fiber analysis, as distinct from fingerprint or ballistics analysis, it is not possible to state with scientific certainty that a particular small group of fibers come from a certain piece of clothing to the exclusion of all others because there are not enough microscopic characteristics present in these fibers.[58] Judgments as to probability will depend on the number and types of matches.[58a] He concluded that the fibers "could easily have come from the shirt."[59] Moreover, he stated, "In my mind I feel that these fibers came from this shirt, but I know of no scientific method to prove this, so therefore I am unable to say this."[60]

On the basis of Stombaugh's testimony the Commission has concluded that the fibers on the rifle most probably came from the shirt worn by Oswald when he was arrested. The Commission has also found that Ann Shafer, Television Division of the United States Information Agency, Code 13, extension 22014, called and talked to Kemper in my office. She said the U. S. Information Agency is preparing a television show of 30 minutes duration which will be released after the Warren Commission report is made. This television show will be for foreign consumption and will set forth the results of the report and will be an attempt to clarify the situation as far as the foreign outlets are concerned.

She said they would like to show the role of the FBI in our investigation, particularly in regard to Laboratory matters. She said they would like to make a shot in the ballistics section and some other shot in the Laboratory which would illustrate some phase of the report. She also said they would like to have several shots of Agents interviewing persons, both inside and out.

She pointed out that they are trying to get this material together because they want to get it to their foreign outlets as fast as possible after the Warren report is made.

RECOMMENDATION:

That we get the script from Miss Shafer and cooperate with the U. S. Information Agency office in this matter.

SA L. L. Shaneyfelt was at The President's Commission on 9/1/64, from 9:00 A.M., until approximately 1:15 P.M., and furnished testimony in the form of a deposition to Mr. Norman Redlich, Attorney for the Commission. The testimony covered the following items:

The identification of a photograph made of the alley (made in the back of General Walker's house) that was obtained from Oswald's possessions with the Duo-Reflex camera obtained from Oswald's possessions. (Bulet to Commission 6/9/64)

The identification of the papers held by Oswald in the photograph in which he is holding two papers and a rifle as being the 3/24/63, issue of "The Worker" and the 3/11/63, issue of "The Militant." (Bulet to Commission 6/29/64)

The examination of a photograph made by Mr. Phil Willis that purports to show the photograph of the President's limousine at the instant the first shot was fired. (Bulet to Commission 6/29/64)

Examination of the retouching on the original "Life" magazine photograph of Oswald holding the rifle that was used by them to prepare the cover for the 2/21/64, issue. (Bulet to Commission 7/22/64)

Location and examination of the mark on the south curb of Main Street at the assassination site. (Bulet to Commission 8/12/64)

The identification of Oswald's shirt, Commission Exhibit 150, with the shirt being worn by Oswald in photograph made at time of his arrest. (Bulet to Commission 8/20/64)

SA Shaneyfelt furnished several exhibits that were marked and included in the record. These exhibits were used to point out the basis for his conclusions. One copy of each of the exhibits is attached.

In addition to the items described above, SA Shaneyfelt was asked to review some correspondence by the Commission and "Life" magazine, the "New York Times" and "Newsweek" magazine. This correspondence pointed out to the various publications the testimony of SA Shaneyfelt that had been given to the Commission previously regarding the retouching on the photograph of Oswald holding the rifle that has been published in each of these publications. All of the replies from the publishers advised the Commission that the only retouching done to the photographs was normal reproducing retouching that is always done so that the photographs will reproduce better in the printed publication.

SA Shaneyfelt testified that he had reviewed the correspondence and that the correspondence conforms to testimony previously given by him to the effect that the retouching on the photographs is a normal operation in the reproduction of photographs in publications.

Mr. Rodlich advised that the transcript of the deposition would be available for review by SA Shaneyfelt on the morning of 9/2/64.

11-22-63, DALLAS, TEXAS
MISC. - INFO CONCERNING

Mr. Howard P. Willens of the President's Commission telephonically advised the Bureau on 9-15-64, that the Commission is in receipt of a telegram from Mrs. Shirley Martin of Hominy, Oklahoma, addressed to Mr. J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel of the President's Commission, which reads as follows:

"We have testimony from assassination witness concerning strange time sequence of shots. Use of Italian rifle negated by this testimony and by testimony of Zapruder."

Mr. Willens did not furnish the date of this telegram but requested Mrs. Martin be interviewed concerning the information in her telegram.

For your information, Mr. Abraham Zapruder was adjacent to the Presidential motorcade on 11-22-63, when President Kennedy was assassinated. He took 8 mm. color film of the motorcade which clearly showed the President being shot. The Zapruder film has been used extensively by the Commission in reconstructing the events of the President's assassination.

Your attention is again directed to SAC Letter 64-23 (B) dated 4-28-64, concerning Mrs. Martin and you are reminded of the unsatisfactory dealings your office has previously had with her.

Airtel to SAC, Oklahoma City
RE: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

In view of the Commission's request, Oklahoma City is instructed to promptly locate Mrs. Martin and make appropriate arrangements for interview specifying at the outset that this interview was requested by the President's Commission concerning her telegram. You will recall that Mrs. Martin previously objected to the interview conducted by Bureau Agents because they did not telephonically arrange for same beforehand. During interview her telegram to the President's Commission should be acknowledged and she should be interviewed concerning her allegation. However, the interview should be limited to the allegation in the telegram. This interview must be well planned and handled by two mature, experienced Agents in a courteous and diplomatic manner. The Agents should be alert to the possibility Mrs. Martin may endeavor to record the interview, provoke an argument or otherwise use this interview to embarrass the Director, the Agents or the Bureau.

The Bureau does not intend that its personnel be subjected to personal or other abuse and should Mrs. Martin endeavor to use this interview as a sounding board to continue her vilification of the Director and the FBI or otherwise make a mockery of this investigation, the interview should be courteously terminated at once.

Immediately upon completion of the interview, the Bureau should be furnished a teletype summary including any information indicating possible embarrassment. This should be followed with an appropriate letterhead memorandum for dissemination without property stamp or need for corrections and/or revision . Your letterhead memorandum should also include a short paragraph concerning the referral of this matter to the Bureau for investigation. In the event it is necessary to terminate the interview, appropriate details should likewise be included in your letterhead memorandum.

This matter must be handled immediately.

NOTE: The above SAC Letter alerted the field to Martin's continuing prolific letter writing campaign to vility the Director and the FBI. She has been described as a "bright nut" and since the assassination has been conducting her own investigation. We have already sent 25 letters to the Commission based on her activities. When the results of this interview are received, the Commission will be promptly notified. For further details, see Rosen to Belmont memo captioned as above, dated 9-15-64, GHS:pab.

The Commission by letter 9/9/64, states in a handbill advertising a lecture by Mark Lane in New York the question is asked "Why did the FBI chief in Dallas, Gordon Shanklin, state that the paraffin test run on Oswald's face was positive when the actual laboratory affidavit shows it to be negative on the face -- and thus that he couldnot have fired a rifle?"

The Commission requested we determine if SAC Shanklin made any remarks on the subject of the paraffin test. He did not.

BACKGROUND:

Mark Lane reportedly has engaged in [redacted] and is reported to be closely associated with communist-dominated organizations. Since the assassination he has been making speeches throughout the country endeavoring to discredit the FBI and other investigative agencies.

In connection with another Commission inquiry, substantially the same allegation as set forth in the most recent Commission request was refuted, and the Commission advised by Bureau letter 8/21/64. The Commission has received numerous communications regarding Lane's activities and on 2/26/64, we furnished the Commission a transcript of his lecture at Town Hall, New York City, on 2/18/64, wherein he attributed the statement regarding the paraffin test to Chief Curry of the Dallas Police Department.

The report of SA Robert P. Gemberling at Dallas dated 11/30/63, which has been furnished to the Commission, pointed out the paraffin tests were made by members of the Dallas Police Department and by Doctor M. F. Mason and his associate of the Dallas City - County Criminal Investigative Laboratory.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter be furnished the Commission refuting the allegation that SAC Shanklin made a statement concerning the paraffin tests.

It was a panel discussion of the assassination and Oswald's participation therein on "The Amazing Randi Show." Participants were Lane, Sidney Siller, Joseph Butler and Florynce Kennedy, attorneys, and "The Amazing Randi," who appeared as Master of Ceremonies. The verbatim transcript which appears in the letterhead is by and large a long harangue by Lane in which he repeats his oft stated inaccuracies and falsehoods in support of his position that Oswald was not the assassin.

SUBJECT: COURIER SERVICE TO PRESIDENTIAL COMMISSION
ASSASSINATION PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY

Bureau Courier Service has been delivering Bureau correspondence to the Warren Commission. Josephine Farrar, employed by the Commission, advised Courier personnel on this date that there will be no one in Commission space after 5:30 p. m. and in the future material delivered after that hour could be left with the General Services Administration building guard. In view of the above Bureau Courier Service will make its last scheduled run to the Commission at 4:30 p. m. each day. Material received in the Mail Room after 4:30 p. m. will be held until the next work day for delivery.

By letter dated 9-23-64 it was pointed out to the Commission that the Bureau's investigative activities would continue in connection with this matter and it was requested that some authority be designated to receive the Bureau's investigative material after the Commission is disbanded. The Bureau has not yet received a reply to this correspondence.

ACTION:

Correspondence for the Warren Commission will continue to be delivered by Courier Service until 4:30 p. m. each day. After that hour material will be held for delivery the next morning.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
Department of Justice
Washington, D. C. 20535

Dear Mr. Hoover:

During the course of the work pursued by the President's Commission your Bureau has provided invaluable assistance investigating, among other things, the possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald had some affiliation with various subversive underground activities. In concluding its work, the Commission is now concerned, however, that its records contain an indication of the scope of the investigation which your Bureau has conducted into these particular matters and a clear statement of the results of that investigation.

In particular, we would appreciate receiving from you a letter indicating whether or not as a result of an examination of your complete nation-wide files and all investigation which you have conducted you have obtained any evidence that Lee Harvey Oswald was at any time a member of or otherwise affiliated with the Communist Party, U.S.A., the Socialist Workers Party, or any other extreme leftist organization. To the extent to which you are able to do so, we would appreciate your including in the letter a statement indicating the range of informants which you have contacted in this regard, and the scope of other investigation which you have conducted.

In your letter of May 26, 1964, you informed the Commission that your Bureau had "thoroughly explored" the question "of possible contacts between Lee Harvey Oswald and any representative of or known sympathizer with the Castro Government of Cuba" and that "no information has been developed indicating Oswald was controlled, directed or employed by any individual so identified." Would you please inform the Commission whether or not this statement remains true as of this date and, to the extent feasible and in the same manner as above, the scope of the investigation which has been conducted upon which this statement is based.

(3) We would further appreciate similar information in regard to the possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald at any time had contacts with persons or organizations active in underground activities directed against the Government of Premier Fidel Castro.

In making these requests, we are of course fully aware of the extensive investigation which has been conducted by your Bureau into all aspects of the assassination and we do not wish you to prepare a summary covering the many hundreds of investigative reports which you have thus far provided the Commission. However, what we do wish to obtain is a statement that the nation-wide files of your Bureau have been thoroughly examined with regard to the three matters mentioned above, if this is the case, and an indication of the extent to which informants and other such persons likely to be in possession of any pertinent information have been contacted by your Bureau in the course of developing possible leads to the above persons and organizations with whom Oswald might have had some connection.

This letter will confirm conversation between Mr. Pollak of the Commission staff and Mr. Malley. Since the Commission is about to submit its final report, we would appreciate receiving a response to this request as soon as possible.

The Commission once again wishes to thank your Bureau for its continuing cooperation.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin

Honorable J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President's Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, N. E.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of September 21, 1964, regarding the investigation that was conducted concerning the possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald had some affiliation with various subversive underground activities. You indicated that the Commission is concerned that its records contain an indication of the scope of the investigation which this Bureau conducted into these particular matters and a clear statement of the results of that investigation.

In connection with the first matter mentioned in your letter, please be advised that we made a complete review of our files, both at Headquarters and in each of our offices, and we also made a nation-wide canvass of all of our security informants to determine if there was any evidence that Lee Harvey Oswald was at any time a member of or otherwise affiliated with the Communist Party, USA, the Communist Political Party, or any other extreme leftist organization. Results of such file reviews and canvass of all of our security informants have been fully reported to the Commission and has all other investigation we have conducted in this particular matter.

You will note in our letter of April 29, 1964, we assured you that the Commission had been furnished all information developed by this Bureau concerning the association of Lee Harvey Oswald with any communist or subversive organization and that all informants of this Bureau had been contacted for any information they could furnish concerning any connection Oswald may have had with the Communist Party. This same statement is true as of the current date. All information this Bureau has developed in this particular matter has been furnished to the Commission.

In regard to the second matter in your letter, our statement in our letter of May 23, 1964, indicating this Bureau had "thoroughly explored" the question "of possible contacts between Lee Harvey Oswald and any representative of or known sympathizer with the Castro Government of Cuba" and that "no information has been developed indicating Oswald was controlled, directed or employed by any individual so identified" is also true as of the current date. The scope of our inquiries upon which such statement is based includes a check of our files, both at Headquarters and in each of our offices and a canvass of all of our security informants on a nation-wide basis.

In connection with your request that you be furnished similar information in regard to the possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald at any time had contacts with persons or organizations active in underground activities directed against the Government of Premier Fidel Castro, please be advised that complete results of all of our investigation in this particular matter has also been furnished to the Commission. The scope of such investigation conducted in this particular matter includes a check of our files, both at Headquarters and in our offices and a canvass of all of our security informants on a nation-wide basis.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE:

Commission is winding up its investigation and wants assurances that all information developed by this Bureau concerning possibility Lee Harvey Oswald had some affiliation with various subversive underground activities has been furnished to Commission. Commission also desires to know the scope of our investigation in ascertaining such data concerning Oswald. We have conducted extensive investigation regarding this particular point and have furnished results to the Commission. We have informed the Commission of Oswald's contacts with individuals associated with the Communist Party, the Socialist Labor Party, the Fair Play for

NOTE:

As a result of the Commission's letter dated 9-10-64, investigation was initiated to interview Commission members, Commission staff and former attorneys of Jack L. Ruby relating to the leak of Oswald's diary, Ruby's polygraph and Ruby's testimony before Chief Justice Earl Warren to news media. In connection with Ruby's interview with Chief Justice Warren printed in the "New York Journal American" under the by-line of Dorothy Kilgallen, we have obtained copies from the Commission and New York is expeditiously attempting to obtain copy from Dorothy Kilgallen so that appropriate laboratory examinations can be conducted to ascertain if the leak occurred within the President's Commission.

The enclosed letterhead memorandum contained intervie[illegible] with Mr. Richard M. Mosk, former staff member of the President's Commission; Mr. Joseph A. Mr. Howard Willens, assistant to Mr. J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission, called with regard to the three-dimensional models of the location where President Kennedy was assassinated and the model depicting the basement of the garage in the Dallas Police Department which are now being retained in the conference room on the first floor of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Building, 2d and Maryland Avenue, Washington, D. C. Mr. Willens stated the Commission was desirous of disposing of these exhibits and desired the Bureau to make appropriate arrangements for same.

Mr. Willens was advised that these exhibits were prepared for the exclusive use of the President's Commission in handling their work relating to the assassination and that they were turned over to the Commission for such use as they desired.

Mr. Willens was asked whether or not the Commission desired these exhibits to be retained on a permanent basis or whether he was asking that the Bureau pick up these exhibits for such disposal as the Bureau might see fit to make of them. Mr. Willens stated that these were questions which he was not in a position to answer. Willens was advised that J. R. Malley had had a discussion with Mr. Rankin within the past few days concerning exhibits, in general, at which time it was pointed out that the Bureau had neither the space nor manpower available to place the various exhibits which the Commission might desire to permanently maintain on display. Willens stated that in view of the information furnished to him he would have to check further as to whether or not the Commission desired these exhibits retained on a permanent basis.

Mr. Willens was told that in the event the Commission did desire these exhibits retained permanently, the Commission should instruct the Bureau as to the location where they desired the exhibits delivered to and the Bureau would handle the delivery of these exhibits to that location.

Until further word is received from the President's Commission, no further action need be taken.

CALL FROM THE HONORABLE DICK BERLIN
SEPTEMBER 28, 1964

By reference from the Director's Office, I talked with Mr. Dick Berlin at 12:00 noon today. He stated that the reason he was attempting to contact the Director was that he was very angry about the "unfair references" in the Warren report concerning the FBI. He wondered if he could be of any assistance to us.

I briefly outlined to Mr. Berlin the points made by the Director and Mr. Belmont during their appearances before the Warren Commission, particularly covering the fact that there was no information concerning a background of violence in connection with Oswald.

Mr. Berlin indicated his appreciation and stated that the Hearst Newspapers would be of assistance.

Enclosed to the Bureau are the original and five copies of LHM dated 9/18/64 and one copy to Dallas, as office of origin, covering interview of Mrs. MARK E. (SHIRLEY) MARTIN of Hominy, Oklahoma. This interview was conducted by SA's DAVID H. BARRY and KARREN C. LONG.

The LHM is self-explanatory. It is prepared under three subheadings: I. Predication, II. Results of Interview, and III. Circumstances Surrounding Interview -- Conduct and Demeanor of Mrs. Shirley Martin.

The latter heading was reported in view of Mrs. MARTIN's erratic conduct and irrelevent statements so that the President's Commission can make its own evaluation of the emotional stability of Mrs. MARTIN. It is believed important for the President's Commission to make its evaluation of her emotional stability to possibly avoid future needless interviews. It is also likely that Mrs. MARTIN has already wired the Commission her version of this interview.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS
MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

I. PREDICATION

On September 15, 1964, Mr. Howard P. Willens of the President's Commission requested interview of Mrs. Shirley Martin of Hominy, Oklahoma, concerning a telegram which she had directed to Mr. J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel of the President's Commission, a telegram which reads as follows:

"We have testimony from assassination witness concerning strange time sequence of shots. Use of Italian rifle negated by this testimony and by testimony of Zapruder."

II. RESULTS OF INTERVIEW

Mrs. Mark T. (Shirley) Martin was interviewed at her residence north of Hominy, Oklahoma, on September 17, 1964, by two Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mrs. Martin's telegram to the President's Commission was acknowledged and read to her upon her request. She denied that this was the wording she had used in her telegram and stated she had sent a telegram to the Commission expressing her hope that the report by this "Blue Ribbon" Commission would include the testimony regarding the strange sequence of shots and the fact that the use of an Italian rifle is negated by this testimony and by the testimony of Zapruder. She refused to furnish any information in amplification of her telegram stating that the FBI does not have the authority to ask her questions concerning this matter. She further stated, "A citizen does not have to answer questions asked by the FBI if he does not feel emotionally oriented to do so."

ENCLOSURE

Mrs. Martin stated that if the President's Commission desires to know of any information which she may have in her possession, the Commission should subpoena her to Washington, D. C., for her testimony under oath.

She stated she would continue to await replies from the President's Commission itself regarding her wires.

Mrs. Martin stated she does not have any information which the President's Commission presumably does not already have. She only hoped that the President's Commission would publish its entire findings.

III. CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING INTERVIEW -- CONDUCT AND DEMEANOR OF MRS. SHIRLEY MARTIN

The following information may be of interest to the President's Commission.

The Special Agents arrived at the home of Mrs. Martin at approximately 5:26 P.M., after reaching her on the telephone to make an appointment. On the telephone she had said, "Why don't you come right on out?" Mrs. Martin and a daughter were standing in her front door as Agents approached the gate to the wire-type Cyclone fence surrounding her house; however, she made no motion and spoke no word to reassure some five barking, growling dogs in her yard. In evident amusement, Mrs. Martin stepped from her house as the Agents, who had ignored the dogs, approached. She announced, "Well, you have passed the first test. You are the first people who have not shown fear of my dogs."

Mrs. Martin invited one Agent to sit on the divan, and she requested the other Agent to sit in her "Kennedy rocker, provided you have no aversion to doing so." Immediately she requested one of her daughters to turn on the TV for a specific

National news program. When the commentator appeared on the television screen, Mrs. Martin remarked, "Don't you think he is cute?" During the interview, Mrs. Martin darted about the room and constantly disrupted the interview with irrelevant and disconnected questions and statements, including the following:

"I have an excellent roast in the oven. It's too bad you can't stay for dinner," though not extending an invitation.

"Did the President's Commission pay for your lunch?"

Throughout the interview, Mrs. Martin referred to the President's Commission as "that blue ribbon Warren Commission," and complained that the Commission has not acknowledged any of her many communications except for one letter from a member of the Commission, which letter she said was discourteous.

Mrs. Martin asked Agents if they read certain out-of-state publications which she exhibited on her coffee table, and she wanted to know the Agents' opinions of these publications.

Mrs. Martin was not personally abusive as she had been to a Special Agent during a previous interview, but since she made it clear that she intended to furnish no information and in view of the fact that she was openly derisive and sarcastic of the President's Commission, particularly in her implication that the Commission would not have the integrity to publish its entire findings, the interview was politely terminated after approximately ten minutes.

SUBJECT: THREE STAR EXTRA NEWS REPORT (WRC), 9-28-64, 6:45 P.M.

The high lights given in the news reflected several topics including the Warren Commission Report and its effects on plans to protect the President. Three Star Extra had a special report on Commission views.

Ned Brooks made a special report. Brooks stated that Congress will generally backs up the measures suggested by the Warren Commission. Brooks stated that the general public, until the Warren Commission Report, did not know there was no Federal law against assassination of the President and that only state laws applied.

Brooks advised that there was much discussion regarding keeping Congress in session until a Federal law covering Presidential assassination could be passed but consensus of opinion, however, was that it was impossible to keep Congress in session and that a new law would be the first order of business in the new Congress.

Ned Brooks reiterated statements made by Everett Dirksen (Rep. - Illinois) to the effect that the staff of the Warren Commission was a group of the most competent people ever assembled and not enough had been said about them. Dirksen, however, advised that the criticism leveled at the Secret Service and the FBI was one part of the report which was in question as far as he was concerned. Dirksen said that J. Edgar Hoover should give his views on the matter.

The Report of the President's Commission on the assassination of President Kennedy was reviewed by me with particular attention given to the visual aids prepared by the Exhibits Section based on material selected by the Commission from documented records. All charts printed in the report appear as originally designed and approved by the Commission's staff prior to being sent to the Government Printing Office.

The testimony given by me before the President's Commission on 6-8-64 regarding visual aids is listed in Appendix V, Page 483 of the report as being reported in Volume V, Page 135. Volume V is not available for review at this time. There is no testimony of mine before the Commission which appears in the report (Volume I).

The extent of the services rendered the President's Commission by the Exhibits Section is set forth in the attached list.

PURPOSE

To recommend the attached letter be sent to the President's Commission pursuant to its inquiry advising them that personnel of this Bureau conducted an estimated 25,000 interviews since the assassination on 11-22-63.

DETAILS

On 9-2-64, Howard P. Willens, Staff Member of the Commission, telephonically contacted J. R. Malley and requested to be advised of the estimated number of interviews conducted by this Bureau since 11-22-63. Willens made specific reference to a prior Bureau letter dated 8-12-64, wherein the Commission had been advised we did not keep track of the number of such interviews conducted and that to obtain this figure would be an enormous undertaking. Willens nevertheless stated it would greatly aid the Commission in endeavoring to give the Bureau credit for work performed if the Commission could be furnished some rough estimate of the number of interviews conducted without resorting to a physical count or other time consuming project.

BACKGROUND

The Commission by letter 8-7-64, stated it intends to incorporate in its final report the extent of the "excellent" investigative efforts undertaken by the Bureau since 11-22-63, and in this regard requested certain statistical data, including the number of interviews conducted by this Bureau. By letter 8-12-64, we advised the Commission that over 1750 investigative reports comprising more than 17,200 pages had been furnished to the Commission and we also summarized some of the major special services and projects handled for the Commission. The Commission was specifically advised we did not keep track of the number of interviews conducted by virtually every FBI field office and representatives abroad and that to develop this information would be an extremely laborious and time consuming project.

Memorandum to Mr. Belmont
RE: THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION

BASIS FOR ESTIMATE OF 25,000 INTERVIEWS CONDUCTED

This matter was discussed with Bureau supervisors in the Domestic Intelligence Division and General Investigative Division who have handled the three distinct phases of this matter since its inception. These phases are generally referred to as the Lee Harvey Oswald background investigation, assassination investigation and the Jack L. Ruby Civil Rights investigation. Based on the supervisors intimate knowledge of these matters an estimated figure of 25,000 interviews conducted was arrived at which they feel is conservative.

RECOMMENDATION

That the attached letter be sent to the Commission advising that this Bureau conducted an estimated 25,000 interviews since the assassination of President Kennedy on 11-22-63.

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION
ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Richard Harkness, news commentator on NBC Television here in Washington, telephoned at 11:20 a.m. today. He made reference to the forthcoming release of the President's Commission report. He said NBC planned a one-hour long program Sunday evening, 9/27/64, covering the report. He would like a representative of the FBI to speak for about ten minutes on the tremendous job the FBI has done outlining data from the Commission report such as number of pages submitted, man hours expended, exhibits gathered, number of witnesses interviewed, etc. Everything the FBI representative said would, of course, said Harkness, be confined to the contents of the Commission report. Harkness said he is approaching other agencies who had anything to do with the report and also some of the Commission members and staff personnel to secure their assistance in presenting this program.

ACTION TAKEN:

Wick told Mr. Harkness it would not be possible for anyone from the FBI to appear on this program, that the FBI's work stood on its own two feet and it was believed it would be most inappropriate for the FBI to appear. Mr. Harkness said he is having difficulty with the Commission members also since they have a reluctance to appear.

Harkness said that at a later date he might come back to us with a request that some of the exhibits be shown on television since he understood the FBI had done a "tremendous job" in the exhibit field, and in pictorially presenting aspects of the investigation. Harkness said if he can be of any help to us all we need do is let him know. He wanted his best regards be given to Mr. Hoover.

For record purposes, SAC Shanklin of the Dallas Office was instructed by Wick at 4:55 p.m. today to have "no comment" whatsoever on all of the inquiries received in connection with captioned report.

Shanklin said also that he understands Congressman Ford is the author of a story coming out in the issue of "Life" on the streets Monday, 9-28-64, about the assassination, complete with photos.

In previous memoranda submitted 9/22 & 23/64, information was set forth concerning conversations with J. Lee Rankin and Howard Willens of the President's Commission concerning exhibits which were being retained by the Bureau, as well as the Commission's desire that the Bureau consider retaining the Commission's exhibits in Bureau space. It was clearly pointed out to both that the Bureau did not have such facilities and there has been no further conversation along these lines.

At the present time the Bureau has in excess of one thousand exhibits relating to the captioned case in its possession. Of this number, in excess of five hundred have been assigned Commission exhibit numbers. In order to try and relieve the Bureau of the responsibility of retaining such exhibits in its space, there is attached a letter to Mr. Rankin setting forth the situation which exists and asking for instructions as to what action can be taken to remove these exhibits from Bureau custody.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
DALLAS, TEXAS
NOVEMBER 22, 1963
MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

Supervisor Jack Danahy, New York Office, telephonically advised that Dorothy Kilgallen has come out with an article mentioning the FBI which appears in the 9-30-64, issue of the "New York Journal-American."

According to Danahy, the article indicates Kilgallen has been asked what her reaction is to the Commission report. She acknowledged not having read it completely as of yet but was aware the FBI and Secret Service has been criticized.

In connection with our current inquiry regarding Kilgallen specifically requested by the President's Commission to determine where she obtained the verbatim testimony of Jack Ruby's interview in Dallas, Kilgallen stated in part, "I'm inclined to believe that the FBI might have been more profitably employed in probing the facts of the case rather than how I got them which does seem a waste of time to me." Kilgallen in her article also stated she did not feel the press should have been so severely criticized by the Commission inasmuch as Ruby killed Oswald and not the press.

Danahy stated Kilgallen is fully aware that our inquiry is based on a specific Commission request.

It is pointed out Kilgallen has promised to furnish our Agents a photostat of a page of the Ruby testimony which was published under her by-line so the markings on the photostat can be examined by our Laboratory. She has given all sorts of excuses for not furnishing the photostat.

ACTION:

11 OCT 5 1964

Danahy was instructed to promptly submit the article and to be alert to further articles. He was told to take no further action in this matter.

THE VOICE OF BROADWAY

A Personal Reaction to the Warren Report

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Maybe You Don't Know

NUMEROUS READERS have written to ask about this column's reaction to the Warren Commission report. My only possible answer:

I have not read the entire Warren Commission volume—I have seen only what appeared in the newspapers, and that seemed fragmentary—so I do not consider myself qualified to evaluate the tragic picture. However, from what I have read, I would be inclined to believe that the Federal Bureau of Investigation might have been more profitably employed in probing the facts of the case, rather than how I got them — which does seem a waste of time to me.

At any rate the whole thing smells a bit fishy. It's a mite too simple that a chap kills the President of the United States, escapes from that bother, kills a policeman, eventually is apprehended in a movie theatre under circumstances that defy every law of police procedure, and subsequently is murdered under extraordinary circumstances.

The Warren Report made a great effort to note that the FBI and the Secret Service were delinquent in their duty, and that the press media—TV, radio and newspaper—also were responsible for the confusion that made Oswald's murder possible.

Baloney.

Oswald was not killed by a newspaperman. He was

CHRISTINE NORDEN, who appears as Darren McGavin's love interest in "Destry Rides Again" at the Meadowbrook, doesn't adore him offstage and that's for sure. It's a mystery, too, beause he's such a darling . . . The final editing of "Zorba the Greek" is being rushed by 20th Century-Fox to get it in under the wire as a contender for the Film Critics' Award and the Hollywood Oscar race. The cinema executives think it is Anthony Quinn's finest film performance since his contribution to "Lust For Life"—and lots of luck to them, because he was really pretty bad in that, let's face it.

Another anti-Castro invasion army is being organized in Central America, which explains the exodus of so many Cubans from Manhattan . . . Jacqueline Kennedy was the rage of Shepheard's discotheque the other night when she appeared at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. T. Smith. She was wearing a simple black dress, but it could have been draped of neon judging from all the attention she caused.

BARBARA STANWICK is close to signing on the dotted line for her own TV series . . . Harry apparently becomes tired when Debbie does—he certainly isn't exhausted from selling all those shoes . . . Picture if you can a man without a theatre. Producer Sid Bernstein is walking around with $16,000 in advance ticket sales for his scheduled Oct. 24 and 31st concerts with the Rolling Stones and the Dave Clark Five, but so far he has no place for either performance. They were supposed to be held at the Para-

The new artist to make a big noise in Greenwich Village is Harry McCormack, whose paintings at the Martin Gallery drew a flock of celebrities. Half his show sold out opening night . . . The execs at El Morocco would like it known that the "LBJ Discotheque" will swing only in the John Perona Room, so Republicans can enter the main dancing place without fear of contributing to the Johnson campaign.

Can We Protect Our President's Life?

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (UPI). — Lyndon Johnson should — and must — mingle with the American people simply because he is their President. But there is an "unnecessary danger" when he makes impromptu stops, and certain steps must be taken to protect his life.

This, in essence, is the burden of the Warren Commission's warning to President Johnson, a gregarious man who loves to plunge into a crowd and shake hands — and who last Friday mounted Palomino horse and galloped alone in front of the crowd at the Oklahoma State Fair.

Mr. Johnson is not mentioned by name in the report on John F. Kennedy's assasination. But its recommendations are meant to apply to anyone who occupies the White House. And the mesage seems clear that Mr. Johnson himself should pay more attention to security restrictions.

BOTH LOVED CROWDS

As one specific example, the Commission recommended that "the President's physician always accompany him during his travels and occupy a position near the President where he can be immediately available in case of any emergency."

As was the case with Mr. Kennedy, President Johnson loves crowds. He cannot resist moving among the people and shaking hands. On that fatal day in Dallas last November, Mr. Kennedy stopped his motorcade twice to do just that.

The Warren report said:

The Commission regards such impromptu stops as presenting an unnecessary danger, but finds that the Secret Service agnts did all that could have ben done to take protective measures." The sentence was both a commentary on the Kennedy mortorcade and a warning to President Johnson.

The Commission, in a 44-page chapter titled "The Protection of the President," made clear its view that both the Secret Service and the FBI should have performed better in their security tasks prior to Nov. 22. It said these tasks could be carried out without hindering the President, and without creating a "garrison state."

Basically, the Commission was upset because Lee Harvey Oswald's name was not among the list of approximately 50,000 individuals—collected over a 20-year period—that the Secret Service knows about.

12 HIGHLY DANGEROUS

When President Kennedy was killed, there were some 400 individuals being kept under peridoic review. Some 100 of these were regarded as "serious risks" to the President's life, and 12 to 15 more as "highly dangerous" risks.

Oswald's name was not among them, despite the fact he was a defector, a man of known Marxist leanings, an individual who had lied to the FBI. On top of this, the FBI was aware that he worked in the School Book Depository Building.

Admitting that it had the view of hindsight, the Commission said it believed that "an alert agency" such as the FBI should have regarded this information as important enough to "list Oswald as a potential threat to the President."

To remedy this, the Commission called for closer liaison between the FBI and the Secret Service, and a drastic overhaul of the Service's "Protective Research Section," which lists the names of individuals who may have the capacity to kill the President of the United States.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Mr. J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel, President's Commission, telephoned today and advised that the report of the Commission would probably be released Monday, September 28, 1964. Mr. Rankin stated that with the release of the report, it was anticipated that the President's Commission would be receiving a large number of requests from the press and other news media to see various exhibits which are referred to in the report. Mr. Rankin did not feel that the Commission should handle this and that it should be handled by the Department of Justice. Mr. Rankin desired to know the Bureau's feelings concerning this matter.

Mr. Rankin was advised that the Bureau had literally thousands of exhibits on hand relating to the various phases of the assassination of President Kennedy and that the Bureau was not in a position to know at this time which exhibits were referred to in the report being released by the President's Commission. At this point Mr. Rankin also commented that he was desirous of relieving the Bureau of the responsibility of retaining the voluminous exhibits which were in our possession and would therefore like to give consideration to returning as many as possible of these exhibits to the original contributors. He inquired as to the normal procedure followed by the Bureau in handling its regular cases as to the disposal of exhibits.

Mr. Rankin was advised of the policy followed in Bureau cases: namely, that when an exhibit had served its purpose in a trial or it was permissible to return the item due to other situations in the case, it was returned to the original contributor. In those instances where, because of the possibility of an appeal or other circumstances, it was desirable to retain exhibits for evidentiary purposes, appropriate arrangements were made by orders issued by the court for the retention of such exhibits.

Mr. Rankin commented that there was an additional problem with respect to exhibits involved in instant matter in that the disposal of exhibits might result in allegations on the part of individuals reviewing the report that the exhibit was disposed of so that it could not be reviewed by the public in general. He stated he would appreciate the Bureau giving its consideration to this matter in order that it could be handled in the most practical manner.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) With reference to the viewing of exhibits by news media (and we are only concerned with exhibits in possession of the FBI), it is recommended Mr. Rankin be advised:

(a) that the selection of any exhibits for the news media to see would be one which would necessarily be made by staff members of the President's Commission;

(b) Upon advice of what exhibits the Commission desired to have made available, the Bureau would make arrangements for them to be delivered to the Commission or any authority desired but that the Bureau was not in a position to have a large number of news media coming into the Bureau and making requests to see specific exhibits.

(2) Relative to the disposition of exhibits or permanent retention of same, if approved Mr. Rankin will be advised that the Bureau will be glad to cooperate in the disposal by returning to the original contributors any exhibits in possession of the Bureau that the Commission desires be returned, but that the selection of those items which will be retained on a permanent basis, as well as those to be returned, must be made by the Commission staff inasmuch as this staff is the only one who has full knowledge of the Commission's report and would be in a position to make such a selection.

(3) With regard to those exhibits which the President's Commission feels should be permanently retained, it is recommended that within a given period of time, for example - six months after the President's report is issued, such exhibits should be turned over to the National Archives for retention or to whomever the President's Commission should designate.

Dear Ed:

The Warren Commission's report on the Kennedy assassination really has me confused!

The Commission has criticized the Secret Service and the F.B.I. I am wondering why Judge Warren has no criticism of his own judgements within the Supreme Court?

Stop me if I'm wrong in remembering that the Warren Court turned loose 11 Communists who had been apprehended by the F.B.I. and convicted after many months of trial in Judge Medina's Court.

Betcha sure that had the F.B.I. reported the many special favors Oswald received by officials of our Government --- the Warren Court would have called that this was plain McCarthyism -----

ONE MAN'S TOWN:

Their Nightmare Came True

By BILL SLOCUM

THE WARREN REPORT, quite justly, was not published with the bad reading habits of so many people in mind. But a lot of people read too fast, and too little, and form rather shaky conclusions thereby.

SLOCUM

The United States Secret Service stands today in a bad light. Not so much as the result of what the Warren Report said but because quick reading, and particularly headline reading, gave the impression that the Secret Service agents were drinking the night before the Dallas tragedy.

Some of them were drinking, if a couple of glasses of beer or a highball after a long-hard and tension-loaded day's work is drinking. The Warren Commission accused nobody of being drunk or even slightly tipsy. It merely said seven of the lads had a drink.

But the quick readers will read far more into the accurate charge than exists. And who dares guess what the legend will be in 20 years?

The young men in the White House Detail of the Secret Service are tough, human, thoroughly trained and perhaps the most dedicated civil servants we have. The pay is bad and there is no glory. Only disgrace.

No newspaper ever wrote, "The Secret Service today returned the President of the United States safely to the White House. Advance work was brilliant and the President was protected as he traveled through cities and countries filled with his enemies and just plain madmen."

But that happened every time the President moved. Whether it was to Burning Tree or to the battle areas of World War II. Anywhere he went he was in danger. Particularly at home.

Since the Secret Service took over Presidential protection after McKinley was killed in 1901 there have been three attempts on the lives of men in the Service's charge. FDR had a small guard as President-elect when Zangara fired at him in Miami. Truman's life was endangered in Washington by would-be assassins. Kennedy died in Dallas.

The White House job guarding the President is indeed the glamor post of the Service. And you couldn't get a lot of Secret Servicemen to take it for anything. It almost always costs a Secret Serviceman money to travel with the President. He must dress well, he must reflect credit upon the President so he tips well, eats in the best places, does everything first class on a government per diem expense account that is completely unrealistic.

When he is on the road with the man he always calls "The Boss," he lives a tension-laden day and night, ever at war with an invisible enemy he knows is everywhere.

Everybody in the world was breathless with astonishment when word of Kennedy's assassination spread. Secret Servicemen were the lone exception. They knew he was always in danger. When that danger exploded into fact they got no satisfaction, of course, in knowing that it developed precisely as they always expected it would.

The madman with a rifle in a high building overlooking a slow motorcade has always been the Service's major dread although there are a lot more ways of killing a President than the way Oswald did it.

The White House Detail did everything it could to guard against that lethal setup. They didn't have the manpower, which wasn't their fault; they didn't have the information, which wasn't their fault; they didn't have the luck.

There is nothing anyone can say to make them sadder than they are. There is not one of them who wouldn't have given up his own life if that would have avoided the inevitable.

It's all very sad because we are all told "Doing the best you can is all that can be expected of any man." It sounds great but it's the bunk and the United States Secret Service is not the first to discover that.

The main topic of Morgan Beatty's headline news was the Warren Commission report. He advised that some interpretations of the report had ramifications of a police state.

Beatty advised that Congress "backs off" any immediate action on laws to intensify protection of the President. The reason is that the Secret Service and the FBI need to request laws similar to those existing in a dictatorship in order to adequately protect the President--they will not ask for such power. The President would not want such laws. The constitution protects people from arrest without provocation and does not allow Federal authorities to make people move on or be removed for any reason from the close proximity of the President, said Beatty. Laws permitting such action would be directly contrary to the constitution.

Beatty said that John Edgar Hoover points out that "revolutionary revisions" of the law would be necessary. Experience in law enforcement would lead one to believe that the Supreme Court would "throw out" such laws as the rights of the people under the constitution would not adequately be protected. Beatty also pointed out that it was the right of the President to walk among the people.

Beatty advised that the same constitutional rights protecting all people prevented the only derogatory report regarding Oswald in existence to be turned over to Federal authorities. This was a psychologists report concerning his possible violence which remained locked up in a school room due to a law that protects juveniles and prevented the record from reaching Federal authorities. This kept Oswald and others like him off the "Secret Service list." Beatty advised that the Warren report concluded that the task of protecting the President is "impossible" but can be improved upon. Congress faces an impossible task in revising the laws.

Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD appeared at the Fort Worth Resident Agency at 7:55 a.m., 9/29/64. Special Agents ROBLEY D. MADLAND, RICHARD T. RABIDEAU and DURWOOD TOM CARTER were present. Mrs. OSWALD stated that she has just received a copy of the Warren Commission's report. She stated she had only read a few pages of the report and had already discovered that the report was full of inaccuracies. She stated she was still convinced in her own mind that even if her son, LEE HARVEY OSWALD, was responsible for the assassination that he was being used by others. She stated she was still attempting to discover who the others were.

Mrs. OSWALD also complained about the action of the Warren Commission. She stated that several members of the Commission, including Mr. RANKIN, were in Dallas during the early part of September, 1964. She stated she repeatedly called their room and on one occasion talked to a Mr. Kelly who was with the group. She asked that Mr. RANKIN contact her.

She stated the members of the Commission left Dallas without ever contacting her. Mrs. OSWALD stated that "as usual she had vital information for the members of the Warren Commission". She did not elaborate on what the information was.

Mrs. OSWALD also stated she has just received a two-page telegram from some Government official but stated she did not recall the name or the agency with which this person was connected. This telegram invited her to appear on a television program at Washington, D.C., on October 5, 1964. She stated that the telegram explained that the President and Mr. RANKIN of the Warren Commission and other high officials of the Government would also be on this program. She stated that she was investigating this and was not at this time sure that she would attend this television program. She explained that she was afraid that it might possibly be a plot on her life. She also explained that this was based mainly on her "intuition".

Reference Sullivan to Belmont memorandum 9-21-64, which set forth that Congressman John R. Pillion (R. - New York) had written the President's Commission and subsequently been interviewed by us. We have had limited, though friendly relations with Congressman Pillion who is serving on the Appropriations Committee. The results of our interview were incorporated in a letterhead memorandum from the Washington Field Office (WFO) dated 9-17-64. A copy of this was furnished to Congressman Pillion in accordance with the recommendation in referenced Sullivan to Belmont memorandum, which was approved.

In substance, Congressman Pillion advised in his letter to the Commission and in the interview that it was his belief that Oswald was a tool of the communist conspiracy and was motivated by his communist ideology, training, associations, and objectives. He said he had no confidential sources and that his beliefs and conclusions were based on public source data. He stated in his interview he did not like the thought of the Commission possibly trying to place any blame for President Kennedy's death on the FBI, Secret Service, or the Dallas Police Department. Instead, he felt the blame for the assassination should be placed on the communist conspiracy.

On 9-29-64 the Congressman's Administrative Assistant, Russell A. Rourke inquired if the memorandum of 9-17-64 setting forth the results of our interview with the Congressman could be released to the press. He was advised the FBI maintains the interview in confidence. Rourke stated the Congressman was very upset upon reading the Commission's report, particularly regarding attacks on the FBI and Secret Service, which he considered wholly unjustified. Rourke stated this convinced the Congressman he should make his own feelings known to newspapermen. Rourke indicated the Congressman would mention to newsmen, as a side issue, that he had been interviewed by the FBI.

SEPTEMBER 28, 1964

Mr. Beatty has furnished a tape recording of his broadcast of the evening of 9-28-64, in which he comments on the Warren Commission Report. A transcript of that portion of his broadcast has been prepared and is attached. The recording is being retained in the Crime Research Section. Mr. Beatty's comments have been previously acknowledged by a letter over the Director's signature.

SUMMARY OF PERTINENT COMMENTS:

Mr. Beatty stated that all Federal law enforcement agencies, including the FBI and the Secret Service, are convinced that maximum protection for the President would violate Constitutional safeguards and would require laws which exist only in police states. Mr. Beatty mentioned the Director's testimony before the Warren Commission, soon to be released, in which the Director commented on the revolutionary revisions of law that would be required. Mr. Beatty pointed out the Director's testimony contained a hint that law enforcement officers' experiences indicated that the Supreme Court would throw out such laws.

Mr. Beatty commented also on the problems involved in maintaining checks on thousands of suspicious individuals and on the fact that only one record regarding Lee Harvey Oswald would have revealed Oswald's dangerous tendencies, and that record was not available to Federal agencies because it was kept under lock and key by juvenile authorities.

NOTE: Based on Commission's request to interview Commission Staff members and Ruby's attorneys regarding various leaks to news media, to date we have conducted 79 interviews. We have obtained copies of Ruby's interview with Chief Justice Warren from the President's Commission which are in possession of the Laboratory. We are attempting to obtain a photostat copy of page 103 of this transcript from Dorothy Kilgallen which was published in the "New York Journal American." New York is following this matter closely and has had several contacts with Kilgallen, the last contacts were on 9/28-29/64. However, she has advised on both occasions she was still attempting to locate the photostats.

The enclosed letterhead memoranda contain interviews with Mr. Ray Fornald Shurtleff, former employee in the File Section of the Warren Commission, Mr. Joe M. Tonehill, attorney for Ruby and Mr. Joseph Kingsbury Smith, publisher of the "New York Journal American" and Mr. Paul Schoenstein of the "New York Journal American" who was liaison between the paper and Kilgallen at the time the article was published.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

In oral conversations with you on September 22, and with Mr. Howard Willens on September 23, 1964, by J. R. Malley, the subject of exhibits in the possession of the Commission, as well as exhibits in the possession of the Bureau, was discussed.

At that time it was pointed out that this Bureau did not have the facilities nor the manpower to retain on a permanent basis for display purposes the various exhibits which the Commission might desire to keep on a permanent basis. It was also mentioned that this Bureau would like to return to the original contributors those exhibits which the Commission did not intend to retain on a permanent basis.

We are in receipt of correspondence asking that various exhibits be returned at such time as the Commission has no further need for them.

At the present time this Bureau is maintaining custody of exhibits in excess of one thousand and of this one thousand, more than five hundred have been assigned Commission exhibit numbers. An early reply is desired as to the disposition the Commission intends to make of the exhibits in order that this Bureau may carry out its responsibilities in answering inquiries from the original contributors, as well as returning to the original contributors the exhibits wherever it is possible to do so.

SUBJECT: WARREN COMMISSION REPORT
RADIO AND TELEVISION COVERAGE

Coverage of the release of the Warren Commission Report, scheduled for 6:30 p. m., 9-27-64, began at 5:00 p. m. over the Columbia Broadcasting System, heard locally over WTOP - TV, with a review of the conflicting questions surrounding the assassination and interviews of many of the persons who testified before the Commission. At 6:30 p. m., the Report itself was reviewed and the high lights presented: that Lee Harvey Oswald killed President Kennedy, that he appeared to have acted alone, and that he was not apparently involved in any kind of conspiracy with Jack Ruby or other persons.

REFERENCES TO FBI:

The narrator pointed out that neither the Secret Service nor the Dallas Police Department "was warned" by the FBI concerning Oswald. He said that one of the "three great flaws" emphasized in the Report was the "insufficient liaison between the Secret Service and other government agencies" and the "unduly restrictive role played by the FBI."

"Newsnight," a 30-minute regular news program heard at 7:00 p. m. over WTOP - TV, cited the general conclusions of the Report and noted the fact that "government agencies were criticized" for their handling of the President's security safeguards. The commentator said that in this regard, "WTOP contacted the Secret Service and the FBI and was given a 'no comment.'"

DREW PEARSON:

Pearson is heard each week on "Newsnight." He recalled that on 12-1-63, he had broadcast that Secret Service Agents were "out drinking" the night before the assassination. He noted that later Secret Service denied that these Agents were the ones assigned to guard the President. Pearson said he had also reported that "the FBI and the Secret Service had failed to spot Oswald." He claimed that the Commission Report had confirmed the matters raised in his broadcast of December 1st and he wanted to go on record now as predicting that there would be "tough discipline for any FBI Agent who fails to give full information to the Secret Service and for any Secret Service Agent who is found drinking on the job."

OTHER NETWORKS:

The American Broadcasting Company and the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) also had special broadcasts starting at 6:30 p. m. which reviewed the early conflicts regarding the assassination and summarized the conclusions of the Commission. Frank McGee of NBC was careful to point out that the Commission had stated it admittingly was using "hindsight" regarding its criticism of the FBI and that the FBI had followed all procedures which had been set up at the time regarding its liaison with Secret Service.

REMAINING COVERAGE:

All news broadcasts on local radio and television stations were monitored Sunday night and early Monday morning. The Commission Report, of course, was the lead item. For the most part, these broadcasts reviewed the Commission's findings and mention of the FBI was usually limited to the fact that the Commission had criticized the Secret Service and the FBI because of ineffective liaison.

RECOMMENDATION:

None. For information.

At Last, the Warren Report

The Warren Commission report being released this week end is designed to still, once and for all time, the persistent rumors surrounding President Kennedy's assassination.

It was natural enough, two weeks after the President's death, for a pollster to find that only 29 per cent of the American people believed Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone, and that 52 per cent were convinced some conspiratorial group was behind the shooting. Yet long after the FBI conclusions on Oswald's lone guilt had been disseminated, this conspiracy notion persisted. Last April, another poll found that 40 per cent of the public believed there was some link between Oswald and Jack Ruby, apparently on the theory that Ruby killed the assassin to silence him.

The suspicion remains extremely strong in Europe that one man could not possibly have committed so great a crime unaided in such a random, irrational manner. There are so many loose ends—the lack of motive, the speculation about how many shots actually were fired and from where, the ease with which Ruby slipped into the Dallas jail to kill Oswald, and so on.

History and the people of this country deserve a clear answer. The Warren Commission, a panel chosen with care by President Johnson a week after the assassination, has prepared a report of impressive dimensions after ten months of inquiry and study. There will probably be few surprises in the report, but the purpose behind it contains a far more important mission: To present to posterity an officially recognized body of evidence answering the rumors and folklore that almost always spring up after any such national calamity.

Can Warren Report End Suspicion?

By MURREY MARDER
Special to The N. Y. Journal-American

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—It will be a near-miracle if world suspicions about the circumstances of President Kennedy's assassination are all set to rest by the forthcoming Warren Commission report.

The Commission's extensive report will be made public tomorrow.

The Commission was created primarily to resolve suspicions, particularly abroad, that the assassination was the result of a conspiracy, and to head off competing or conflicting congressional investigations.

ASSORTED 'PLOTS'

Suspicions about national or international conspiracies, especially political conspiracies, are not readily dispelled. They are doubly durable when they are nourished, as in this instance, by a combination of seeming plausibility plus propaganda.

Irritating or improbable as it may seem to Americans, much of the world has believed, or has been led to believe, that the shots that felled the President, and then silenced his accused assassin, were, variously, the result of a plot by:

Extreme right-wing or Fascist conspirators; racists determined to quench the cause of equality for Negroes in the United States; Communists of the Soviet, Chinese, or Trotskyite brand; American Zionists; gunmen hired by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro; an American crime syndicate; opposition politicians in the United States, and finally, "unknown conspirators."

AIM AT FACTS

For 10 months these differing, and contradictory, suspicions, have been circulating.

They have been fertilized by self-serving propaganda that feeds national political passions in Europe, in Asia, in Africa, and in Latin America.

What the report can do, however, and what its authors obviously hope that it will do, is eliminate, or virtually eliminate, the doubts that exist among those people in the world who are genuinely interested in ascertaining the discernible facts about the circumstances of the President's Assassination.

VITAL TO ALLIES

This would be most important in those nations that are allies of the United States, and in other non-Communist areas of the world.

Fortunately for the sake of the United States position in international relations, even without the Warren report the best argument against the various conspiracy theories is that these suspicions have not been borne out by subsequent events.

That is, there has not been any radical change in American foreign or domestic policy, vering to the left or to the right.

To a degree that caused general world surprise, the transition from the Kennedy administration to the Johnson administration has been remarkably smooth.

The United States has demonstrated that it is not in the grip of extremists. In East-West relations, the search continues for agreements to reduce tensions of the Cold War.

The United States has not abandoned the road to domestic racial equality; if anything, the quest has intensified, with passage of the civil rights bill.

50,000-Copy Run Made on Warren Study

By Martha Cole
Associated Press

The Government Printing Office is turning out 50,000 copies of the Warren commission report to go on public sale Monday. More will be printed as needed.

The report, of approximately 800 pages, is the Commission's exposition of the facts, as it found them, in the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

The Printing Office, in its big barn-looking red brick building on N. Capitol st. between G and H sts. nw., has kept its traditional secrecy on the contents of the report.

President Johnson received the first, special copy of the report Thursday from Chief Justice Earl Warren, head of the seven-man commission Mr. Johnson appointed to investigate the slaying.

Its contents will be made public Sunday at 6:30 p.m. for Monday newspapers.

As a Federal agency, the Government Printing Office has the first jump on the book that appears foredestined to become a best seller. Its copies will go on sale at 710 N. Capitol st. at 8:30 a.m. Monday. Mail orders will not be filled until after that time.

Copies may be ordered from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., at $2.50 per paper bound copy and $3.25 cloth bound.

Some newspapers will distribute a $1.50 hard-cover edition published by the Associated Press.

Apologists for U.S. Needn't Bother

By LEO MONSKY

SHE IS A VERY NICE LADY who is encased in a stainless aura of goodwill toward the world at large—an aura she has worn for the many years this writer has known her and which still remains untarnished after her recent year in Europe.

Over the dinner table she said:

"Oh, I do hope these findings of the Warren Commission will make the Europeans stop worrying about us. Those terrible, nasty suspicions they still have about that day in Dallas."

MONSKY

As noted, she is a very nice lady and it seemed a little like taking candy from a baby to raise the question of why she believed the Europeans—and the people in so many other parts of the world, too, my dear—were on the level about their so-called "suspicions."

She cited books and magazine articles which have been best-sellers in Britain and France and Italy and where-not. And indeed she was correct about the volume of currency and hot box-office appeal of the rumors and theories and suspicions of plots and counter-plots built around "that day in Dallas."

But what made her believe the Europeans really believed these maunderings of the imagination?

Why, they are always saying so, said the nice lady.

HOW DO YOU TELL NICE LADIES who have such utter trust in the world that it just might be advantageous for other peoples in their relations with Americans to pretend to be worried and suspicious of the soundness of our body politic? How do you convince her that people do not—in fact, quite often do not—necessarily believe what they say they believe?

And how above all do you convince nice ladies like her that all these expressions abroad about assassination plots and such make an excellent foundation for psychological one-up-manship to be practiced on Americans?

Is it possible for such nice ladies (and other apologists of both sexes) to understand that it really isn't necessary for the U.S. to justify itself at all to Europeans or Asians or Africans?

That the very attitude of apology and need to justify ourselves is exactly what has fouled the lines of American policy abroad for decades?

That it has caused us to give billions to two-bit jungle tyrants when housing and transportation and hospitals and schools are in shortage at home?

Even with their own backgrounds of political violence and conspiratorial assassinations, probably not a single foreign country really believed the tripe published abroad about "that day in Dallas."

Certainly the perpetrators of the written material raising deep suspicions of "plots" in the assassination of President Kennedy are merely hustling a fast shilling, franc or lira by cooking sensations which should better have been labeled fiction.

And if all the nice ladies like my dinner companion would quit worrying about what the Europeans or the Congolese think of us—and start thinking about more hospitals and schools at home—wouldn't we all be a lot better off?

Even if our ever-loving "friends" (and allies and enemies and in-betweens) abroad may be slightly chagrined to discover THEY had better start worrying about what we think of THEM instead.

KILGALLEN REFUSED TO REVEAL HER SOURCE BUT DID INDICATE TO SMITH THAT IT WAS FROM SOMEONE INSIDE THE COMMISSION AND A FRIEND OF HERS OF LONG STANDING.

SMITH STATED THAT HE QUESTIONED KILGALLEN THOROUGHLY AND SHE STATED THAT SHE WOULD STAKE HER REPUTATION ON THE FACT THE TRANSCRIPTION WAS DEFINITLY NOT STOLEN, NOT BOUGHT AND NOTHING ILLEGAL WAS DONE IN OBTAINING IT. SHE TOLD SMITH THAT SHE WOULD GIVER HER WORD OF HONOR ON IT.

SMITH STATED THAT ON THE BASIS OF THE ABOVE FACTS THE NEWSPAPER LAWYER- S DECIDED THAT PUBLICATION OF THIS TYPE OF TRANSCRIPT DID NOT VIOLATE THE LAW SINCE THE COMMISSION WAS NOT TRYING RUBY. THE LAWYERS SAID THE TRANSCRIPT COULD BE REGARDED AS A JOURNALISTIC MATTER.

DOROTHY KILGALLEN WAS INTERVIEWED TODAY AT HER TOWN HOUSE LOCATED AT FORTY FIVE EAST SIXTY EIGHTH STREET, NYC.

MISS KILGALLEN STATED SHE REFUSED TO REVEAL THE SOURCE WHICH GAVE HER THE RUBY TRANSCRIPT. SHE STATED THE SOURCE WAS A " RESPONSIBLE PERSON WHO HAD A LEGAL RIGHT TO THE TRANSCRIPT" SHE STATED SHE WAS THE ONLY PERSON WHO KNEW THE IDENTITY OF THE SOURCE AND THAT SHE " WOULD DIE" RATHER THAN REVEAL HIS IDENTITY.

MISS KILGALLEN SPECIFICALLY WAS ASKED WHETHER OR NOT THE SOURCE WAS A MEMBER OF THE PRESIDENT- S COMMISSION ITSELF OR A STAFF MEMBER OR EMPLOYEE. SHE REFUSED TO ANSWER.

MISS KILGALLEN DID STATED THAT THE SOURCE WAS A MAN AND NOT A FEMALE. SHE STATED HE IS A FRIEND OF LONG STANDING. SHE STATED THIS SOURCE GAVE HER A TYPED TRANSCRIPT OF THE RUBY INTERVIEW. SHE KEPT THE TRANSCRIPT SEVERAL DAYS AND HAD COPIES MADE INCLUDING PHOTOSTATS. KILLGALLEN THEN GAVE THE TRANSCRIPT BACK TO HER SOURCE.

MISS KILGALLEN RECALLED FROM MEMORY THAT THE TRANSCRIPT SHE RECEIVED WAS NUMBERED FROM PAGE ONE TO PAGE ONE ZERO THREE. SHE SATED THAT ONE PAGE WAS MISSING . SHE BELIEVES PAGE NUMBER FIFTY NINE WAS MISSING.

MISS KILGALLEN REFUSED TO SAY IF SHE FIRST APPROACHED THE SOURCE OF IF THE SOURCE FIRST APPROACHED HER ABOUT THE TRANSCRIPT. SHE DID STATE THAT THE SOURCE GAVE HER THE TRANSCRIPT AS A " FRIENDLY GESTURE". SHE STATED SHE WOULD SWEAR THAT THE TRANSCRIPT WAS NOT STOLEN AND NOTHING ILLEGAL WAS DONE IN OBTAINING IT. SHE STATED SHE DID NOT PAY MONEY FOR THE TRANSCRIPT AND DID NOT GIVE OR PROMISE HER SOURCE ANYTHING ELSE OF VALUE IN EXCHANGE FOR THE TRANSCRIPT.

MISS KILGALLEN STATED THE " NEW YORK JOURNAL AMERICAN " DOES NOT KNOW THE IDENTITY OF HER SOURCE AND IN FACT SHE TOLD THE NEWSPAPER LESS THAN SHE TOLD THE INTERVIEWING AGENTS.

MISS KILGALLEN FURNISHED NO OTHER INFO OF VALUE. SHE STATED THAT SHE IS THE ONLY PERSON WHO KNOWS THE IDENTITY OF THE SOURCE AND SHE WILL NEVER REVEAL IT.

SHE VOLUNTARILY TOLD THE INTERVIEWING AGENTS THAT SHE IS WILLING TO GO TO WASHINGTON DC, AND TESTIFY ON THIS MATTER BEFORE THE PRESIDENT COMMISSIION. Chief Edgar Hoover, F.B.I.
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

Having heard the "Warren Report" on the death of President Kennedy, these questions come to me, (That were not answered in the report) Where was Marina Oswald at the time Lee Harvey Oswald was supposed to have shot the President?

Did Marina Oswald at sometime work for Jack Rubenstein?

Is it possible that Oswald shot from the second floor of the building; and some one else from the sixth floor?

Please answer these questions, if it is permissable? Thank you.

Very sincerely,

(Mrs.) Susie Phillips Baker

CORRESPONDENCE

Executive Office

Navy Department
Washington
Dear Sir:

Having heard the news of the death of President Lincoln, I have given orders that the flags on the Navy Yard (Washington) and vessels in the harbor should be hoisted at half mast. Deeming it proper that the Navy should participate in the manifestations of respect due to the memory of our lamented Chief Magistrate, I have also directed that a gun be fired from the Navy Yard at intervals of half an hour during the day.

I have also directed that the flags on the several Navy Yards and vessels in commission on the different stations be hoisted at half mast, and that a gun be fired from the Navy Yard at each station at intervals of half an hour during the day.

I have communicated these orders to the Secretary of War, and requested him to have the same observed by the Army.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
Gideon Welles

SUBJECT: DISPOSITION OF WARREN COMMISSION FILES

On 9/29/64, Liaison Agent Bartlett was advised by Mr. Ralph Given, General Services Administration (GSA) that GSA has been asked to be the repository for the Warren Commission files. He indicated that there is to be a meeting in Mr. Rankin's Office at 11:00 AM, 9/30/64. Mr. Given said that he was passing on this information because he knew Bureau officials had testified before the Commission.

Also on 9/29/64, Inspector Thomas Kelley, U. S. Secret Service, advised Bartlett that he has been asked to attend the meeting at Rankin's Office at 11:00 AM, 9/30/64.

Inspector Malley has advised that he has received no indication to attend this meeting.

Similar dissemination will be made of subsequent volumes of the Commission's report when available. These subsequent volumes contain the completed testimony of all witnesses who appeared before the Commission or gave sworn depositions or affidavits, the accompanying documentary exhibits and other investigative materials which are relied upon in the report.

The field and/or Legats are being instructed to answer all inquiries with a "no comment" and to refer the matter to the Bureau for appropriate instructions, if necessary. Indexing will not be done in the field but at the Seat of Government.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the attached All SACs and All Legal Attaches airtel be approved, advising a copy of the report will be sent them under separate cover and instructing how to handle inquiries upon receipt,

2. Upon approval of the above, that the Administrative Division make appropriate arrangements to disseminate the reports as indicated above,

3. That the Administrative Division make similar dissemination of subsequent volumes of the report when available.

4. That the Files and Communications Division thoroughly index the Commission's report and subsequent volumes relating thereto, when received.

Under separate cover you will be receiving one copy of the above Commission's report. Dallas and New Orleans will receive three copies each.

Subsequent volumes of the Commission's report containing backup material, etc., will be furnished to you when available. You should not index the report or subsequent volumes as this will be done at the Bureau.

Inquiries received concerning the report should receive a "no comment" from you and referred to the Bureau. Those inquiries obviously not requiring a reply should be submitted with a recommendation that no further action will be taken by the Bureau.

Those inquiries appearing to require a reply should be similarly submitted; however, should include your specific recommendation as to how the particular inquiry should be answered and if readily available, reference should be made to the volume and page of the Commission's report relating to the inquiry in question.

You should be guided by the nature of the inquiry as to the means of referring it to the Bureau.

One copy of all inquiries should be sent to Dallas by all Immediate field offices including Anchorage, Honolulu, and San Juan. All attache referrals should be prepared so that one copy can be disseminated to Dallas by the Bureau.

September 29, 1964

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I read with interest and disgust the results of the Warren Commission report in which the FBI was condemned for not warning of Oswald's presence in Dallas. I cannot understand the chagrin of the Commission on this point when they state openly for all the Communist world to gloat over that Oswald was a lone assassin and that they are convinced there was no Communist conspiracy.

Mr. Hoover, please know that this ridiculous charge is certainly no blot on your impeccable record as far as the public is concerned. I so appreciate your constant vigil against Communism and your championing the cause of freedom. And don't think that we're not aware of the fact that more times than one can count, you have pointed out the presence of Communists and Communist sympathizers in much closer proximity than Dallas, only to have the Justice Department make a mockery of your efforts.

I don't understand whom the Warren Commission thinks they're kidding, but it can only be themselves. What a shame that it has to be at the tax payer's expense!

Yours truly,

Mrs. Carl Arends

Honorable J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President's Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, N. E.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to Dallas report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated November 30, 1963, pages 441, 442, and 443; Dallas report of Special Agent Gemberling dated December 10, 1963, page 330, concerning specimen "Q41"; and Dallas report of Special Agent Gemberling dated August 5, 1964, page 90, all in the Oswald matter.

These references concern a motel registration card made available during the course of this investigation by Mrs. Lois Sitz and Mr. Cecil Sitz, owners of the "Half-Circle J" Motel at Fort Worth, Texas. A handwriting examination was made of the handwriting on the card and it was concluded it was not written by Lee Harvey Oswald.

Mr. Cecil Sitz contacted our Dallas Office on September 20, 1964, and asked when the registration card would be returned to him. We would appreciate being advised if the registration card may now be returned to Mr. Sitz.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE: The owners of the motel believed Oswald registered there on November 20, 1963, but were mistaken, as the handwrit examination proved. Now they want the registration card back. 'Deficiencies'--The Rebuke to Secret Service and FBI

Probers Hint That Better Liaison Might Have Prevented Tragedy

Hearst Headline Service
Special to The N. Y. Journal-American
By LESLIE H. WHITTEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. Both the FBI and the Secret Service were under a virtual mandate today to tighten up their security procedures and begin working together more closely when protecting the life of the President.

While neither agency was held responsible for the death of President Kennedy in Dallas last Nov. 22, both came under sweeping criticism in the Warren Commission report for failing to coordinate their information and activities on the day of the assassination.

The Warren report even suggested that had there been a closer liason between the Secret Service and the FBI, Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused killer, might have been under scrutiny that day, and prevented rom firing the fatal shots.

KNEW BACKGROUND

Neither agency knew at the time that Oswald had tried to kill former Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, but the FBI knew of Oswald's defection to Russia, his pro-Castro tendencies, his hostility to the United States, his trip to Mexico and the fact that he had a job in a building along the President's motorcade

A real debunking of the FBI which will never live down.

FBI—WASH. FIELD

"All of these (facts), if we had them together, would have added up to pointing out a pretty bad individual," Secret Service official Robert L. Bouck told the Commission, "and I think that together hd we known he had a vantage point would have seemed somewhat serious to us."

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover sprang to the defense of his organization, however, telling the Commission "there was nothing up to the time of the assassination that gave any indication that this man was a dangerous character who might do harm to the President or the Vice President."

BOTH CRITICIZED

The Warren Commission singled out the Secret Service for being "seriously deficient" in its intelligence work, and the FBI for taking "an unduly restrictive view of its role" in failing to give Secret Service agents information on Oswald.

The Commission also cited "a breach of discipline" by nine members of the Secret Service in Fort Worth. The agents had up to three beers and a mixed drink and a half after midnight.

One stayed out until 5 a.m., Nov. 22. The report said there was no evidence these men could have averted the tragedy, but that "it is conceivable (they) might have been more alert in the Dallas motorcade."

Four American presidents in 100 years have been shot to death, the report noted: Abraham Lincoln, James A. Garfield, William McKinley and John F. Kennedy.

But the President's "very position as representative of the people prevents him from effectively shielding himself from the people. He cannot and will not take the precautions of a dictator . . ."

● A cabinet-level committee to oversee the Secret Service and other Federal agencies in their protection of a President. The committee might study whether protection should be removed from the Secret Service and put elsewhere.

● To make assassination, assault or plots against the President and Vice-President a Federal crime.

● A "complete overhaul" of Secret Service facilities to detect possible assassins before they can act. The most advanced data-processing machines, more personnel and funds, and markedly increased cooperation with the FBI, State Dept., CIA and others were urged.

Against this background of limited protection possibilities, however, the report still found troubling inadequacies in the Secret Service and to a lesser extent, the FBI.

The Secret Service, an arm of the Treasury Dept., which has protected Presidents since 1894, had only 12 specialists and three clerks in its Protective Research Section on Nov. 22. Their job was to keep tabs on all who might be a danger to the President.

Of the 400 indiiduals under regular surveillance, only 100 were seen as serious risks and 12 to 15 as highly dangerous. Although Ambassador Adlai Stevenson had been assaulted in Dallas the month before, no names in in the Fort Worth-Dallas this Secret Service file were [illegible] the report asserted.

It was in this crucial area of advance warnings that the breakdown occurred, said the Warren group. Altnough the FBI, the State Dept., the CIA, and Navy intelligence all had files on Oswald, none of them had tipped off the Secret Service he might be a danger.

Dallas FBI Agent James P. Hosty Jr. had such a file on Oswald, had learned 18 days before thae assassination that he worked in the Texas School Book Depository and had heard 17 days before that he was a "Trotskyite Communist."

But he testified that even if he had remembered that the President's route led past the depository building, he would not have cited him to the Secret Service as a threat.

Mr. Hosty swore he had no reason to think Oswald would kill the President, although a Dallas police lieutenant contradicted him in saying Mr. Hosty told him after the assassination that the FBI had information Oswald was capable of the killing.

DEFEND AGENT

Both J. Edgar Hoover and his assistant, Alan H. Belmont, defended Mr. Hosty. But the Commission found "the FBI took an unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work."

The report conceded the Secret Service's "request" to Federal agencies for tips were "vague," but it made this conclusion:

"There was much knowledge in the hands of the FBI about Oswald; the knowledge of his arrogance and hostility to the United States, his pro-Castro tendencies, his lies when interrogated by the FBI, his trip to Mexico where he was in contact with Soviet authorities, his presence in the School Boob Depository job and its location along the route of the motorcade.

"All this does seem to amount to enough to have induced an alert agency, such as the FBI . . . to list Oswald as a potential threat to the safety of the President."

The Warren group said the Secret Service's policy of not checking out buildings along a Presidential motorcade route and its watch on buildings from the street were "inadequate" and should be amended.

Mr. J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel for the President's Commission, was called today at his New York office to determine when the testimony of the various witnesses before the Commission would be released.

Mr. Rankin advised that the remaining material to be released by the Commission would consist of 21 volumes, the last three of which related to various Commission exhibits. He stated that it was the Commission's desire to release the first 18 volumes consisting of the complete testimony of all witnesses who appeared before the Commission or who gave sworn statements or affidavits. He advised that the White House did not agree with the release of these 18 volumes, feeling that allegations would be made if anything was held up that there was some ulterior motive in not releasing all of the material at the same time.

Rankin advised that he has only a small staff remaining at the Commission to work and that when he last checked, Mr. Howard Willens of his staff advised that there was still approximately 2,000 exhibits to line up to be included in the last three volumes and in his estimation it would require four weeks to complete this assignment and to have the material printed. Mr. Rankin stated he was not satisfied with this delay and that he would be in Washington on September 30, 1964, at which time he intended to check into this matter and see if it could not be expedited. He stated that as soon as he can get an approximate date for the release of these additional volumes, he would telephonically advise the Bureau the approximate date of the release.

No comments of any kind were made by Mr. Rankin concerning the report of the President's Commission or any other items relating to the over-all investigation.

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION REPORT

Re my memorandum of September 29, 1964, advising that Mr. J. Lee Rankin would be in Washington on September 30, 1964, at which time he intended to check on the progress of the additional material to be released by the Commission which would back up the report already issued by the Commission.

Mr. Rankin advised today that the additional material that is to be printed will run much longer than originally anticipated; that there may be as many as ten additional volumes rather than three. He stated that some of the material has already been sent to the printers and that everything possible is being done to expedite the completion of the Commission's material.

Mr. Rankin stated there are a number of items where there is a problem of declassification and letters are being sent out as rapidly as possible to various agencies involved in order to have this accomplished as soon as possible. In this regard a letter dated September 30, 1964, was received in the Bureau October 2, 1964, setting forth five pages of documents which the Commission desires declassified. This is being handled in the Domestic Intelligence Division.

Mr. Rankin advised that based on present calculations it would probably be at least a month before the additional material will be released by the President's Commission.

Submitted for information.

Honorable Walter W. Jenkins
Special Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Jenkins:

After careful consideration of the findings of the Warren Commission on the assassination of President Kennedy, we have concluded that the report is seriously inaccurate insofar as its treatment of the FBI is concerned.

For example, on Page 440 of the report, the Commission states "The Secret Service and the FBI differ as to whether Oswald fell within the category of 'threats against the President' which should be referred to the Service." The report then proceeds to quote a small portion of Mr. Robert Bouck's testimony as evidence that Secret Service disagreed with the FBI.

Clearly, this singling out of this portion of Bouck's testimony does not give a complete picture of the conclusions of Secret Service. Stress is placed on the point that knowledge that Oswald had a vantage point covering the procession was highly significant, and yet it is not made clear that the FBI did not have the responsibility of checking the route of the Presidential party to ascertain the identity of persons who were on the route and thus determine that one of the persons had a record in our files. In the event a check was made by Secret Service of our files, regarding persons employed along the route, we would have, of course, tied in Oswald with the route of the President.

As a matter of fact, we checked with Mr. James Rowley, the head of Secret Service, on April 17, 1964, to determine whether Secret Service would have taken action against Oswald if his name had been furnished to Secret Service. Mr. Rowley advised us that Oswald would not have been placed under surveillance as there was no information indicating possible violence on his part, and that, had Secret Service checked the building, it would have taken no action concerning Oswald inasmuch as he was employed in the building.

In his testimony, Mr. Bouck states that Secret Service would not take action on the basis that Oswald was a defector, but over the course of some ten pages of testimony he finally concludes that if all the information had been furnished which was available concerning Oswald, in the hands of various government agencies, which information was "spread from Moscow to Mexico," and this information was coupled with Oswald's location in this building, Secret Service would have taken action.

The Commission deals summarily with the essential position of the FBI, on Page 462, when it quotes "Director Hoover and Belmont" as expressing concern, shared by Secret Service, that referrals of information under "the new criteria" might result in some degree of interference with personal liberty of those involved. The Commission does not take into account the traditional position of the FBI that in security investigations we limit the investigation to that which is essential and we avoid harassment or infringement on the rights of the individual. It is most unfortunate that the detailed testimony of FBI representatives was not publicly released, concurrent with the report, so that the reader would not be forced to rely solely on the portions selected by the Commission.

The Commission states that the FBI took an unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work prior to the assassination, and states that "There was much material in the hands of the FBI about Oswald: The knowledge of his defection; his arrogance and hostility to the United States; his pro-Castro tendencies; his lies when interrogated by the FBI; his trip to Mexico where he was in contact with Soviet authorities; his presence in the School Book Depository job, and its location along the route of the motorcade." The Commission points out that this should have induced the FBI to list Oswald as a potential threat to the safety of the President.

Here again, the Commission is taking the position that, despite lack of evidence of potential violence on the part of Oswald, the FBI was constantly evaluating him as a possible threat to the President, and had checked the route of the Presidential procession to determine that Oswald was on that route. The Commission states that this conclusion may be tinged with hindsight, and with this statement I could not agree more.

Honorable Walter W. Jenkins

It would appear that the Warren Commission made up its mind to avoid criticism of its findings by drawing these conclusions concerning the FBI, and in order to support these conclusions selected only the portions of the testimony of witnesses which would support them.

I can only conclude from this approach that, instead of adopting a realistic and objective attitude, the Commission was more interested in avoiding possible criticism. The net result, of course, is to place the FBI in the completely untenable position that if a similar tragedy or event occurs in the future, and this Bureau has any information at all in its files concerning the assassin, the same gift of hindsight will permit a conclusion to be reached that somehow, some way, this information should have been transmitted to the Secret Service and other appropriate authorities.

The new criteria under which we are presently operating have resulted in funneling approximately 18,000 names to Secret Service since the assassination. Yet, I venture to say that there are 10,000,000 names in our files, with varying degrees of derogatory information. On the basis of the Warren Commission approach, with its transparent hindsight, this Bureau is in the unenviable position of being held responsible for the actions of such persons, regardless of the fact that there is no indication of potential violence against top Government officials.

FROM : M. A. Jones

SUBJECT: FULTON LEWIS, JR.
NEWS REPORT, 7 P.M. (WOL)

Fulton Lewis, Jr., spent most of his program on the Warren Commission report. He opened by saying the report said nothing new and that it could be considered "wasteful futility" except that it put to rest all questions regarding Lee Harvey Oswald once and for all. Lewis interpreted the Commission report as saying that a better exchange of information between the Secret Service and the FBI was necessary.

Lewis called for new Federal legislation covering Presidential assassination although he admitted that this would not deter unbalanced people who want to kill the President. The beneficial effect of such legislation, however, would be that the FBI and the Secret Service would have complete access to all such cases and there would be no overlap of authority between Federal and local agencies.

Lewis stated that it was known that there was an overlap between the FBI and the Dallas authorities. He criticized the Dallas authorities as cooperating in some matters and "somewhat less in others." Some statements made by local law enforcement officers can "mess up" the FBI's work. He said the same condition exists with respect to civil rights cases.

NOT RECORDED

Lewis advised that the President appointed a four-man commission to protect the President composed of C. Douglas Dillon, Nicholas Katzenbach ("who is over the FBI"), John A. McCone and George Bundy. Lewis pointed out, however, that the President must cooperate himself and went on to describe the recent convention in Atlantic City where in spite of elaborate precautions on the part of the Secret Service and the FBI "for that matter" the President arrived ahead of schedule and it was too early to put these precautions into operation. The President was surrounded by mobs, shook hands with everyone and created a nightmare for the Secret Service people.

25 OCT 7 1964

Lewis commented that the President's recent New England swing was equally difficult to handle as far as the Secret Service was concerned.

Transcript of Testimony before Warren Commission

I am returning herewith the transcript of my testimony before the Warren Commission on the Oswald case. You will note that I have made some changes to make the testimony read smoother since our discussion was understood, but in the case of written testimony, the references should be as clear.

At the conclusion of the testimony, you will recall that the Commission's Counsel, Mr. Coleman, as well as the Members of the Commission assured me that I could furnish a supplemental statement or any documentation which I felt would be of interest to them.

As you probably know, Mr. William J. Crockett at the instance of Mr. Abba P. Schwartz, ordered the Office of Security to conduct a survey of the Passport Office procedures and handling of the look-out file, particularly as these relate to the Oswald case. I was first informed of this project on Monday afternoon, June 22.

I orally informed Mr. Charles Rice, acting for Mr. Schwartz, that we had been very forthright with the Commission and had furnished detailed information on our handling of the Oswald citizenship determination, repatriation and issuance of a passport. I pointed out that I was astounded that SY had not made an investigation or check on the "temporary" employees which we are forced to use in the look-out file and other security areas of the Passport Office. In 1963, the Passport Office was on the ropes due to the drastic cut in personnel and the Department's failure to provide us with the employees we needed to process applications during the busy season. As far as I know, and this was confirmed on Monday by the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Security, no re-check has been made on the temporary employees who had access to the look-out file during the period Oswald was applying for a passport.

This may or may not to considered a serious oversight, however, insofar as this investigation ordered by Mr. Crockett is directed at the Passport Office, I would like to reserve judgment as to whether or not the survey report should be transmitted to the Commission and if it is, whether or not I should file a supplemental statement on it.

I was informed that the SY investigation was held up until the Warren Commission completed its hearings. It seems to me that if there is any significant finding in the SY report, it should be part of the Department's contribution to the Commission. Depending on the content of the SY report, I would expect the courtesy of being informed.

I defer to your judgment as to whether the Commission should now be advised of the new investigation

PROTECTION OF THE PRESIDENT

The degree of security that can be afforded the President of the United States is dependent to a considerable extent upon the degree of contact with the general public desired by the President. Absolute security is neither practical nor possible. An approach to complete security would require the President to operate in a sort of vacuum, isolated from the general public and behind impregnable barriers. His travel would be in secret; his public appearances would be behind bulletproof glass.

A more practical approach necessitates compromise. Any travel, any contact with the general public, involves a calculated risk on the part of the President and the men responsible for his protection. Such risks can be lessened when the President recognizes the security problem, has confidence in the dedicated Secret Service men who are ready to lay down their lives for him and accepts the necessary security precautions which they recommend. Many Presidents have been understandably impatient with the security precautions which many years of experience dictate because these precautions reduce the President's privacy and the access to him of the people of the country. Nevertheless, the procedures and advice should be accepted if the President wishes to have any security.

In addition to the measures now in force, consideration might be given to the following suggestions designed to improve the security of the President.

Travel:

1. Advise the Secret Service as far in advance as possible of travel plans and proposed itinerary.

2. Avoid publicizing exact routes of travel as long as possible.

3. Use specially armored cars with bulletproof glass and have such cars readily available in locations frequently visited.

ENCLOSURE

4. Avoid setting a specific pattern of travel or other activity, such as visiting the same church at the same time each Sunday.

Public Appearances:

1. Use maximum feasible screening of persons in attendance, including use of detection devices sensitive to the amount of metal required in a firearm or grenade.

2. Use a bulletproof shield in front of the entire rostrum in public appearances such as the swearing in ceremony at the Capitol, the Presidential reviewing stand in front of the White House on Inauguration Days, and on the rear of trains.

3. Keep to a minimum the President's movements within crowds. Remain on the rostrum after public addresses, rather than mingling with the audience.

4. In appearances at public sporting events, such as football games, remain in one place rather than changing sides during the halftime ceremonies.

5. Limit public appearances by use of television whenever possible.

6. Avoid walking in public except when absolutely necessary.

Legislation:

1. Add the President and the Vice President to the list of Federal Officers set out in Section 1114, Title 18, United States Code, assaults upon whom are punishable under Federal law.

2. Furnish the Secret Service improved authority to request assistance and cooperation from other United States agencies, including the military, particularly in connection with foreign travel.

PROTECTION OF THE PRESIDENT

3. Improve control of the sale of firearms, requiring, as a minimum, registration of every firearm sold, together with adequate identification of the purchaser.

4. Ban picketing in the vicinity of the White House as is now done at the United States Capitol and Supreme Court.

SUBJECT: PROTECTION OF THE PRESIDENT

As noted in the attached clipping from the New York Journal-American, the Director is quoted on advice as to how to protect the President.

This is taken by the newspaper from page 428 of the Warren Commission report, where it states, relative to the protection of the President, "The problem, and the reasonable approach to it's solution, were ably stated in a memorandum prepared by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover for the President soon after the assassination."

We prepared a memorandum on 12/2/63, with suggestions as to affording security to the President. This was sent to Mr. Jenkins, and subsequently, after the Director's testimony, a copy of it was sent to Mr. Rankin, of the Commission, on 5/14/64. Copies of our transmittal letter to Rankin and the memorandum itself are attached. You will note that the item in the newspaper, and in the Warren Commission report, consists of the first two paragraphs of our 12/2/63 memorandum.

J. Edgar Hoover's Advice

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has written what in effect is a brief guidebook for keeping Presidents alive.

Summed up, Mr. Hoover's advice to any Chief Executive is this:

Be careful, and do what your security people tell you to do.

Mr. Hoover's counsel is incorporated in the Warren Commission report. He says:

"The degree of security that can be afforded the President of the United States is dependent to a considerable extent upon the degree of contact with the general public desired by the President. Absolute security is neither practical nor possible.

Dear Mr. Pearson:

Frankly, I was very surprised when reading your column yesterday to see that you chose to revive your criticism of the FBI which was published on December 14, 1963.

It is completely false to state or even imply that we ever made any attempt to cover up our actions in the Oswald investigation. At no time did any representative of the FBI ask any friend of Oswald to conceal from the press that we had talked to him about Oswald. We have openly testified before the Presidential Commission concerning our complete activities. A review of the Commission's report would make this clear.

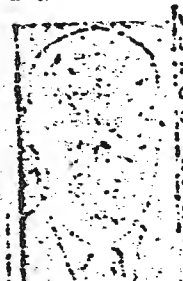
The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Secret Service Laxity Confirmed

By Drew Pearson

It is never pleasant to criticize such agencies as the FBI and the Secret Service, and last December this writer was subjected to considerable newspaper criticism for doing it.



Pearson

On Dec. 2, I reported that "six Secret Service men charged with protecting the President were in the Fort Worth Press Club the early morning of Friday, Nov. 22, some of them remaining until nearly 3 o'clock. They were drinking. When they departed, three were reported en route to an all-night beatnik rendezvous, The Cellar."

"Obviously men who have been drinking until 3 a.m. are in no condition to be trigger-aleart or in the best physical shape to protect anyone."

Publication of this column brought an angry call from Pierre Salinger, then in charge of White House press relations, plus concerted queries from some editors. The statement was made by Salinger and others that the members of the White House detail who stayed up late did not have to work next day.

The Warren Commission, after exhaustive investigation, has now reported to the contrary. It bears out the column of Dec. 2 except that nine, not six agents were involved, with seven going on to The Cellar.

"Most of the agents were there from about 1:30 or 1:45 a.m. to about 2:45 or 3 a.m.," the Commission reported. "One agent was there from 2 until 3 a.m."

Work Next Morning

"Each of the agents who visited the Press Club or the Cellar Coffee House had assignments beginning no later than 8 a.m.," the Commission found. "Four had key responsibilities as members of the complement of the follow-up car in the motorcade. Three of these o[illegible] the runn[illegible] fourth wa[illegible]

We are being clobbered by everybody & it will get worse just because we were too smug and took too restrictive view of our responsibilities. conceivable that these men who had little sleep, and who had consumed alecholic beverages, even in limited quantities, might have been more alert in the Dallas motorcade if they had retired promptly in Fort Worth.

FBI to Blame, Too

The column also reported on Dec. 14: "It is an indisputable fact that the FBI did interview Lee Oswald, the suspected assassin, in advance. Despite this, it did not report him to the Secret Service.

"The FBI at first tried to cover up the fact that it had interviewed Oswald," I reported, "and asked one of Oswald's friends not to admit to the press that the FBI had been around to see him.

"It would appear to have been a shocking oversight to permit an unstable, irrational young man who had lived in Russia, had passed out circulars favoring Castro, and quite recently had taken a trip to Mexico to contact the Cuban Embassy, to remain unwatched and unreported to the Secret Service," I reported.

"The FBI learned . . . that Oswald was working at the Texas School Book Depository, located along the usual parade route through Dallas," I also reported.

The Warren Commission, confirming this, stated: "The Commission believes that the FBI took an unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities" . . . There was much material in the hands of the FBI about Oswald, the knowledge of his defection, his arrogance and hostility to the United States, his pro-Castro tendencies, his lies when interrogated by the FBI, his trip to Mexico where he was in contact with Soviet authorities, his presence in the School Book Depository job, and its location along the route of the motorcade.

On this failure to coordinate between the FBI and the Secret Service, the Warren Commission concluded: "There was no fully adequate liaison between the two agencies."

Hoover Says Data Called Oswald Safe

Warren Probe Warned Against 'Police State'

By JERRY O'LEARY
Star Staff Writer

Copyright, 1964, by The Evening Star Newspaper Co.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover warned the Warren Commission against establishment of "totalitarian" security measures that might lead to a "police state" in efforts to protect presidents of the United States.

Hoover also disclosed in his testimony the existence of a State Department document indicating that Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, was a "thoroughly safe risk." He said the document furnished to the FBI was based on an interview conducted by the American Embassy in Moscow before the defector returned to the United States.

The testimony of the FBI director was alluded to but not given in detail in the report of the Warren Commission on the assassination made public last Monday. A transcript of his May 14 testimony, which has not yet been published by the Commission, was made available to The Star today.

The FBI has not commented on the commission finding that it took "an unduly restrictive view of its role in preventive intelligence work prior to the assassination." It is reported, however, that the bureau has been stung bitterly by the implication that it should have given more careful cooperation in the Oswald case.

Not Very Happy"

Hoover testified that "I am not very happy with the criteria expansion" affecting the lists of names of subversives and extremists being furnished by the FBI to the Secret Service as a post-assassination security measure.

He raised the question of "just how far are you going to go for his (the President's) protection and his security" and then continued:

"I don't think you can get absolute security without almost establishing a police state, and we don't want that."

Hoover said that in handling the security problem, "Certain chances have to be taken. You are dealing with a human being when you are dealing with the President of the United States. It makes the security problem all the more difficult but you can't bar him from the people."

With the expanded criteria for furnishing names of potential risks to the Secret Service, Hoover estimated the names of about 10,000 subversives and extremists will have been submitted by the FBI.

"That is what you would call totalitarian security. I don't think you can have that kind of security in this country without having a great wave of criticism against it."

36 Known Defectors

The veteran FBI chief testified that there are 36 known defectors to Communist countries now in the United States who have been under investigation. Last December, after the assassination of President Kennedy by defector Oswald, Hoover said, the criteria was expanded and all defectors now automatically go on the list furnished to the Secret Service.

Hoover told the commission that the FBI received a report from the State Department "that indicated this man (Oswald) was a thoroughly safe risk here, he had changed his views, he was a loyal man now and had seen the light of day, so to speak." He said he did not know how intensive the interview was with Oswald in Moscow but that "nevertheless, it was in a State Department document that was furnished to us."

There is no doubt that Oswald was a dedicated Communist, Hoover testified.

"I don't believe, as I look back on it, that he ever changed his views when he asked to come back to this country," Hoover said. "I personally feel that when he went to the American Embassy in Moscow originally to renounce his citizenship, he should have been able right then and there to sign the renouncement.

"He never could have gotten back here. I think that should apply to almost all defectors who want to defect. If they indicate a desire for it, let them renounce their citizenship at once."

None of the FBI's contacts with Oswald gave any indication of any tendency to commit violence, Hoover testified. He said many people read the Worker, the Communist Party organ, but cannot be branded as potential assassins or hazards to the security of the country.

"It is in that area that I am particularly concerned," he said, "that we don't become hysterical and go too far in restricting the citizens of our country from exercising their civil and constitutional rights. The mere fact that a person disagrees with you on communism doesn't mean he should be arrested."

At another point, Hoover declared, "I think the extreme right is just as much a danger to the freedom of this country as the extreme left."

Hoover testified that the first indication of an act of violence by Oswald came after the accused assassin was dead and his Russian widow, Marina, told the FBI about her husband's attempt on the life of Gen. Edwin Walker. There was no information prior to the Dallas tragedy that would have warranted the FBI reporting Oswald as a potential danger to the safety of the President, Hoover said.

Both the FBI and the Secret Service have emphatically denied privately any implication that there has been a lack of close liaison between the two organizations. James J. Rowley, chief of the Secret Service, is a former FBI agent and is a close personal friend of Hoover's.

THESE DAYS:

Any Stick'll Do To Beat FBI

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

PITY THE POOR FBI. In the past, it has gotten it in the neck for taking too severe a view of the Communist menace. Its chief, J. Edgar Hoover, has been criticized for seeing Reds under the bed. The Reuther brothers, Walter and Victor in their famous memo to Bob Kennedy (then the Attorney General), insisted that the danger from the Left wasn't in it in comparison to the danger from the Right, and called upon the Department of Justice to put a stop to Red witch-hunting by Federal sleuths.

CHAMBERLAIN

That, of course, was almost three years before Jack Kennedy was killed in Dallas. The Warren Commission report makes it plain that the assassination was the act of Lee Harvey Oswald, a loner whose background was well-known to the FBI. The "get J. Edgar Hoover" faction is now echoing the Warren Commission's criticism of the FBI for its "unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work."

The argument is that the Dallas police should have been tipped off by the FBI about Oswald's history of dalliance in the Soviet Union, his attempt to forswear his American citizenship, and his work for the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, in time to have him taken into detention before Jack Kennedy made the trip to Texas.

The Warren Commission report admits that criticism of the FBI on this score is "tinged with hindsight." As, indeed, it is. Moreover, it comes with exceedingly bad grace from a commission headed by the Chief Justice of the United States, for the Warren Court has been most zealous in its insistence that Communists have civil rights that must not be invaded.

The Court has also been over-solicitous of the rights of alleged criminals. In the Mallory case, for example, the Court insisted that a Negro who had been convicted in a lower court of choking and raping a woman should be freed simply because he had been held for some eleven hours for questioning before arraignment. The same man later choked and raped another woman and was jailed for it.

ALWAYS, up to the present, the liberals have insisted that "raw and unprocessed" material in the FBI files should not be used as the basis for proceeding against any person. But now we are suddenly offered the proposition that, before a President visits a given town, every suspected Red or psychotic whose "raw" record is known to FBI agents should be forcibly detained for a safe period.

This is idiotic on the face of it. For instance, on one of President Johnson's trips to New York City, LBJ's itinerary took him past the dwelling places or hangouts of 3,700 persons who might legitimately be suspected of subversive, psychotic or crackpot tendencies. Imagine the uproar from the civil libertarians if 3,700 people were put under police surveillance at one time. The FBI would be accused of making its "raw" data the basis of wholesale invasion of private rights.

The point is that Lee Harvey Oswald, before the Kennedy murder, had not been known for violent tendencies. He was merely one of thousands of people in America who are known to the FBI for having had relations with the Reds of one sort or another.

If the government couldn't even apply the Smith Act to control Communist subversion in a manner satisfactory to the Supreme Court, how could a big city police force justify the detention of every suspected Red or psychopath who might turn up to watch a Presidential motorcade go past a big building?

The police force that did that would be denounced from one end of the country to the other.

WASHINGTON — THE WARREN COMMISSION REPORT ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KEN.. HAS BEEN GREETED WITH GENERAL PRAISE. IN ITS RECONSTRUCTION OF THE EVENTS LEADING TO THE FATAL ATTACK IN DALLAS LAST NOV 22 IT HAS BEEN PAINSTAKINGLY THOROUGH.

THE FINDINGS THAT LEE HARVEY OSWALD ACTED ALONE, THAT HE WAS WITHOUT DOUBT THE KILLER AND THAT HE WAS NOT PART OF ANY CONSPIRACY HAVE BEEN GREETED BY GENERAL RELIEF.

BUT AS TIME PERMITS CLOSER EX.. EXAMINATION, SOME OF THE COMMISSIONS RECOMMENDATIONS AND CRITICISMS HAVE STIRRED UNEASINESS. PLS STINGING REBUKES FOR THE SECRET SERVICE AND THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION ARE CALLED " ENTHUSIASTIC HINDSIGHT" BY ONE CONGRESSMAN.

OTHERS HAVE VOICED FEARS THAT TRADITIONAL FOES OF THE TWO AGENCIES MIGHT SEIZE ON THE REPORT TO LAUNCH A SMEAR CAMPAIGN.

" AFTER ANY TRAGEDY, ONE ALWAYS HEARS THE PLAINTIVE WORDS " IF WE HAD DONE THIS OR IF WE HAD DONE THAT IT WOULDNT HAVE HAPPENED," SAID THE CONGRESSMAN. " THE FACTS ARE THAT BOTH THE SECRET SERVICE AND THE FBI CARRIED OUT THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES EXACTLY AS THEY WERE OUTLINED AND TO THE BEST OF THEIR ABILITY.

" CERTAINLY IF PROCEDURES HAD BEEN DIFFERENT, OSWALD MIGHT NOT HAVE BEEN SUCCESSFUL. BUT THE LESSON HERE IS TO MOVE AHEAD, TO TIGHTEN PROCEDURES, NOT TO THROW BLAME AROUND WILDLY AT MEN WHO HAVE BEEN DOING THEIR JOB."

" NO SYSTEM IS PERFECT. UNFORTUNATELY WE ARE MORTALS. WE MAKE MISTAKES. WE LEARN FROM OUR MISTAKES AND OUR TRAGEDIES."

THE COMMISSIONS VIEW OF SOME OF THE LESSONS LEARNED HOWEVER TROUBLES MORE THAN A FEW WASHINGTON OBSERVERS.

THE CALL FOR " MORE USEFUL AND PRECISE CRITERIA CRITERIA DEFINING POTENTIAL THREATS TO THE PRESIDENT" APPEARSSOUND, BUT IN IT LURKS THE DANGER OF UNBRIDLED POLICE INTERFERENCE IN INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS, EVEN POSSIBLE POLITICAL INTIMIDATION.

IN ITS REPORT THE WARREN COMMISSION CONCLUDED THAT THE FBI " TOOK AN UNDULY RESTRICTIVE VIEW OF ITS ROLE IN PREVENTIVE INTELLIGENCE WORK."

OSWALD KILLED PRESIDENT KENNEDY. THE FBI KNEW OSWALD. THEREFORE THE COMMISSION REASONS, THE FBI SHOULD HAVE FORESEEN THE CRIME AND PREVENTED IT.

THE FBI HOWEVER HAD NO INFORMATION SUGGESTING THAT OSWALD WAS A POTENTIAL THREAT TO MR KENNEDY. FEDERAL COURT RULINGS IN RECENT YEARS HAVE POINTEDLY DISCOURAGED AUTHORITIES FROM SPECULATING ON THE UNPROVED DESIGNS OF LEFTISTS AND OTHER SUBVERSIVES. DIRECTOR J EDGAR HOOVER TESTIFIED IN DETAIL TO THE COMMISSION ON THE EVALUATION OF OSWALD ALTHOUGH HIS FULL REMARSK WERE NOT INCLUDED IN THE REPORT.

ONE THING HOOVER POINTED OUT WAS THAT THE HISTORY OF OSWALDS PSYCHIATRIC TREATMENT WAS NOT AVAILABLE TO THE FBI BEFORE THE ASSASSINATION. ONLY A SPECIAL EXCEPTION TO LAW MADE THAT RECORD AVAILABLE TO THE COMMISSION.

THE WARREN REPORT IMPLIES A LACK OF CLOSE LIAISON BETWEEN THE SECRET SERVICE AND THE FBI. THIS HAD BEEN EMPHATICALLY DENIED BY BOTH AGENCIES. JAMES J ROWLEY, CHIEF OF THE SECRET SERVICE, IS A FORMER FBI AGENT AND A CLOSE PERSONAL FRIEND OF MR HOOVER.

THE COMUSSION SUMMARIZE THE TESTIMONY OF ROBERT I. BOUCK, CHIEF OF THE PROTECTIVE RESEARCH SECTION OF THE SECRET SERVICE AND CONCLUDES THAT HE BELIEVES THAT HAD ALL FBI FILES ON OSWALD BEEN MADE AVAILABLE, OSWALD WOULD HAVE BEENAPPREHENDED BEFORE THE ASSASSINATION.

~~ENCLOSURE~~

FORMER FBI AGENT AND A CLOSE PERSONAL FRIEND OF MR HOOVER.

THE COMUSSION SUMMERIZE THE TESTIMONY OF ROBERT I. BOUCK, CHIEF OF THE PROTECTIVE RESEARCH SECTION OF THE SECRET SERVICE AND CONCLUDES THAT HE BELIEVES THAT HAD ALL FBI FILES ON OSWALD BEEN MADE AVAILABLE, OSWALD WOULD HAVE BEENAPPREHENDED BEFORE THE ASSASSINATION.

IT HAS BEEN LEARNED THAT THIS CONCLUSION WAS DRAWN BY THE COMMISSION, NOT BY BOUCK WHO EMPHASIZED THAT THE FBI HAD FOLLOWED PROCEDURES AND HAD COOPERATED WITH THE SECRET SERVICE.

MR HOOVERS EMPHATIC STATEMENTS THAT THE FBI HAD NO INFORMATION THAT WOULD CLASSIFY OSWALD AS A POTENTIAL ASSASSIN , AND THE WARREN COMMISSIONS CRITICISM OF " AN UNDULY RESTRICTIVE VIEW" RAISE DISTURBING SUGGESTIONS.

IF THE SECRET SECRE/// SERVICE, FBI AND LOCAL POLICE ARE TO APPLY INTANGIBLE CRITERIA IN DETERMINING SUCH THREATS, THE PROBLEM OF POLICING PRESIDENTIAL APPEARANCES BECOMES STAGGERING. AND THE THREAT TO INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS BECOMES SERIOUS.

POLICE OFFICERS HAVE ESTIMATED THAT AS MANY AS 5000 PERSONS MIGHT HAVE TO BE DETAINED, ARRESTED OR WATCHED IN CITIES LIKE NEW YORK, CHICAGO AND LOS ANGELES. AND SUCH TACTICS WOULD BE CERTAIN TO RAISE A STORM OF CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES.

THE DRAGNET WOULD HAVE TO TAKE IN ALL SUSPECTED LEFT WING SUBVERSIVES, ULTRA RIGHTISTS, FASCISTS, THE EMOTIONALLY UNSTABLE AND IRRATIONAL, CONCEIVABLY EVEN POLITICAL CRITICS AND RIVALS.

" IT WOULD TAKE AN ARMY TO HANDLE SO- CALLED POTENTIAL THREATS IN MANY CITIES," ONE OFFCIAL REMARKED.

GOV EDMUND BROWN OF CALIFORNIA, A FORMER STATE ATTORNEY GENERAL, HAS TOLD REPORTERS HE KNOWS OF NO WAY TO DETAIN A DANGEROUS MENTALLY ILL INDIVIDUAL WITHOUT VIOLATING HIS CIVIL RIGHTS.

ITS/// IT IS EASY TO AGREE WITH THE WARREN COMMISSION REPORT AND ACCEPT ALL ITS FINDINGS. THE ASSASSINATION LEFT AN EMOTIONAL MARK ON THE NATION. THERE IS A HUNGER TO ASSESS BLAME, TO DEMAND FAR REACHING PREVENTIVE ACTION.

BUT PRESIDENT KENNEDY HIMSELF WOULD HAVE BEEN THE LAST MAN TO ASK FOR " POLICE STATE-" METHODS, MASS INTEROGATION, ARRESTS ON INTANGIBLE SUSPICION, ASSOCIATION OR HEARSAY. THE SECRET SERVICE AND THE FBI HAVE DILIGENTLY AVOIDED GESTAPO LABELS. THEY HAVE BENT OVER BACKWARD TO OBSERVE CIVIL AND INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS.

THERE IS MUCH MERIT IN THE COMMISSION REPORT. IN FACT MANY OF ITS RECOMMENDATIONS ARE ALREADY BEING PRACTICED.

BUT IN IT MAY LIE ALSO THE TEMPTATION TO INVOKE SWEEPING FEDERAL POWERS.

SEN EVERETT DIRKSEN OF ILLINOIS WHO EXPRESSED THE FIRST PUBLIC MISGIVE MISGIVINGS ABOUT TE CRITICISM OF THE SECRET SERVICE AND THE FBI, REMINDED THE NATION THAT " THERE WERE NO CHARGES AGAINST OSWALD AND NO GROUNDS ON WHICH TO HOLD HIM."

AND ON THE MORNING OF NOV 22, PRESIDENT KENNEDY SAID --

" IF ANYONE REALLY WANTED TO SHOOT THE PRESIDENT .... THERE WAS NOTHING ANYBODY COULD DO ..."

ALL ENDIT

Mr. Hoover's Testimony

J. EDGAR HOOVER'S testimony before the Warren Commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy now has been published.

Just as the Warren Commission did in its report, Mr. Hoover pinpoints the devilish problems involved in trying to protect a President.

"President Johnson," he said, for instance, "is a very down-to-earth human being, and it makes the security problem all the more difficult, but you can't bar him from the people."

The FBI director spoke out strongly against "police-state" methods in shielding the President from possible crackpots.

"I am particularly concerned," he said, "that we don't become hysterical and go too far in restricting the citizens of our country from exercising their civil and constitutional rights."

He deplored an incident in Chicago when some "extremists" practically were put under house arrest while President Johnson was there.

"I don't think there is any place in this country for that kind of thing," Mr. Hoover said.

Coming from a man who has spent his life in police work, this is an especially salutary attitude—as well as practical.

Mr. Hoover, however, did recommend some stringent restrictions on a President's travel: careful advance preparation for a trip, maximum delay in announcing the route of travel, a car equipped with bullet-proof protection. "He must never ride in an open car," Mr. Hoover said.

But these are restrictions most Presidents would shun.

The Secret Service, the FBI and the police combined cannot "case" every person who may be within striking distance of a President. As Mr. Hoover testified, they had cased Lee Oswald, but there was no indication of his homicidal intent.

The nub of Mr. Hoover's testimony, and the gist of the Warren Commission recommendations, is that protective measures for the President can be improved, but, as Mr. Hoover said: "We don't want a gestapo. We have got to, I think, find a balance."

And Presidents, as Mr. Kennedy believed, will continue to find it necessary to travel among the people, to see and be seen. The risk cannot be absolutely eliminated. But a President also has an obligation to the people to maintain his own safety—and Mr. Hoover's advice in this respect is highly pertinent.

Mr. Whited telephoned Bureau 8:41 p.m. and was referred to SA W. W. Warren, Special Investigative Division, by the Director's office. Mr. Whited said he wanted the Director to know that he, Whited, was shocked by the insinuations against the FBI in the Warren Commission report and feels that the report and its publicity in this regard are a great injustice to Mr. Hoover, the FBI, and the country. Whited and many others, he said, feel that the FBI is in many respects the backbone of what we stand for, and the false allegations or insinuations in the report came as a blow to Whited's pride as an American citizen. He said he believes that all thinking Americans consider the FBI to be one of the greatest contributors to our American heritage and he hopes that the public will see through the deception of the report and the publicity the report is receiving.

Mr. Whited said that false claims against the FBI such as that contained in the Warren Commission report must be very discouraging to the FBI in light of its great accomplishments. Whited feels that the overwhelming majority in the United States will not share the views of the Warren Commission in so far as it relates to the FBI

Mr. Whited was assured that the Director would be advised of his comments. He was thanked for his complimentary remarks concerning the FBI and for his interest in making his observations known. On basis of available information, Whited not identifiable in Bureau files. REC-42

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

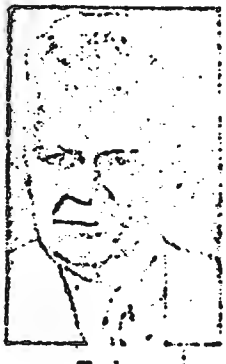
Warren Unfair in Criticism of FBI and Secret Service

Miss Gandy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—The President's commission on the assassination of President Kennedy, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, was something less than fair in its criticism of the secret service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The FBI was criticized for taking "an unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work prior to the assassination" and for lack of alertness in considering Lee Harvey Oswald "a potential threat to the safety of the President."



Trohan

The secret service was criticized for having insufficient trained personnel in its protective research work, for failing to recognize the necessity of identifying sources of danger to the chief executive, for "deficient" advance preparations for the late President's trip to Dallas, and for "insufficient liaison and coordination of information" with the FBI and other federal agencies.

This is hindsight of the highest order—but then what is hindsight for if not to make Monday morning quarterbacks and all-wise kibitzers? However, the cold facts are that the precautions the protective services were criticized for omitting couldn't have been performed, and if they could have been, Warren's Supreme court would have been quick to condemn them as interference with human rights.

23 Hardly Able to Watch Hundreds

WHAT THE COMMISSION'S criticism of the FBI means is is that the FBI failed to notify the secret service that Oswald was working in a building on the parade route. With only 23 agents in the detail on the President's visit, and almost every one of them concerned with proximity protection, the service could not have had a man stand beside Oswald and the hundreds of far right and far left crackpots and psychotics in any city.

If the secret service had been told about Oswald, it would have done nothing because he had no record of violence. He had never threatened any President. It is true that he was jailed in New Orleans, but only after he had been attacked by anti-Castro Cubans when he was distributing pamphlets for Fidel Castro and his Red cause.

On President Johnson's recent trip to New York a survey

was made by protective agencies. It was found that there were some 3,700 oddballs—left, right, and center—who might be put under observation. If these had been detained or put under surveillance, they would undoubtedly have screamed about interference with their rights—and justly so—and there would have been cries of "police state."

No doubt the courts would have sustained them and talked of police interference or police brutality, as the crowd did when Oswald was arrested in a Dallas theater after the assassination. The crowd did not know what he was being arrested for, but considered the police wrong.

Possibly this attitude has been encouraged by photographs of riots, which invariably show police wielding clubs but never seem to show crowds coming at police with broken bottles or stones.

Psychotic Could Easily Escape Net

THE SECRET SERVICE is a small force. Unless its members can watch every window, every rooftop, and every spectator, they cannot prevent assassination. Even with a large research force, the psychotic with no record of violence may escape. Further, a large research force with a small protective force cannot guarantee security.

Naturally there is jealousy between two such highly efficient units as the secret service and the FBI. The FBI is not a part of the protective system, because the secret service doesn't want it that way.

The snidest criticism was in a section of the report that said nine agents had no more than three beers or a mixed drink and a half in some hours of relaxation off duty in violation of regulations. If the drinking had impaired efficiency in the slightest, which the report said it had not, it should have been mentioned. Otherwise it was better forgotten.

The report did forget what the chief justice said when he heard of the assassination, but before he had knowledge of any of the facts.

He said: "A great and good President had suffered martyrdom as a result of hatred and bitterness that has been injected into the life of our nation by bigots, but his memory will always be an inspiration to Americans of good will everywhere."

Oswald was a Marxist, not a right winger, as Warren insisted.

October 2, 1964

Director J. Edgar Hoover
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Now that citizens all over the country have read the Warren Commission's report, what was believed to be true in November, 1963 has been positively confirmed. The Secret Servicemen were lax in their protection of President Kennedy.

The Secret Servicemen in the motorcade were admittedly drinking the night before the assassination and as admitted by Chief James J. Rowley, should have been dismissed but were not due to the fact that the public might "think" they were guilty. In November we "knew" they were guilty and Chief Rowley has confirmed the fact.

Why, too, was the FBI and the Secret Service fighting against each other? If one knew Oswald was in Dallas why hide it from the other especially if he was a known threat to the President's safety? If the FBI interviewed Oswald, why hide it from the Secret Service? Why wasn't the area more thoroughly searched and policed before and during the motorcade's approach?

Nothing can bring our beloved President Kennedy back but it is shameful to think that he was surrounded by such negligence which was impounded by the fact that nothing was done or will be done to rectify it. The question why remains. I do not expect an answer. The only answer should be to your consciences.

Sincerely yours,

Warren Commission's report has no startling disclosures

The long-awaited report of the Warren Commission on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy confirms most of the general conclusions that already had been planted in the public's mind by exhaustive news coverage of that tragic day of Nov. 22, 1963, and the events that followed it. The report offered no surprises.

As was expected, the commission found that the assassination was the work of one man, Lee Harvey Oswald, and that no conspiracy, foreign or domestic, was involved.

Yet it's probable that many aspects of the case will be debated for years to come because of the peculiar turn the case took when Oswald himself was killed by Jack Ruby.

As to the latter development, the commission found that Ruby acted on his own and rejected all theories that the two men were in some way connected.

The big question of what might have been behind Oswald's action still goes largely unanswered. The judgment of the commission was that he had no rational purpose, no motive adequate if "judged by the standards of reasonable men." His act was said to be the product of his life—a life "characterized by isolation, frustration and failure."

In a special appendix on "Speculations and Rumors," the commission attempted to answer many of the specific questions that grew out of the tragedy. This part takes a question-and-answer form.

The Secret Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation came in for criticism because of the lack of adequate security measures for the President's fateful journey to Dallas, although Secret Service agents drew praise for their courage and devotion to duty at the time of the shooting.

But, according to the report, the FBI had information about Oswald that should have been passed along to the Secret Service to assure better protection.

And in the killing of Oswald in the basement of the Dallas police station, the commission said news media and Dallas police would have to share the blame. It called on the news media to draw up a code of conduct to cover such situations.

From these findings there certainly should come a more coordinated system for guarding the President, and news representatives should resolve to conduct themselves in more responsible fashion at such times of crisis.

Warren Commission Confirms Column's Report On Drinking

WASHINGTON — It is never pleasant to criticize such agencies as the FBI and the Secret Service, and last December this writer was subjected to a considerable newspaper backlash for doing it.

On Dec. 2, I reported that "six Secret Servicemen charged with protecting the President were in the Fort Worth Press Club the early morning of Friday, Nov. 22, some of them remaining until nearly three o'clock. They were drinking. When they departed, three were reported en route to an all-night beatnik rendezvous, 'The Cellar.'

"Obviously men who have been drinking until three a.m. are in no condition to be trigger-alert or in the best physical shape to protect anyone."

Publication of this column brought an angry call from Pierre Salinger, then in charge of White House press relations, plus concerned queries from some editors. The statement was made by Salinger and others that the members of the White House detail who stayed up late did not have to work next day.

The Warren Commission, after exhausitve investigation, has now reported to the contrary. It bears out the column of Dec. 2 except that nine, not six, agents were involved, with seven going on to the Cellar.

"Most of the agents were there from about 1:30 or 1:45 a.m. to about 2:45 or 3 a.m.," the commission reported. "One agent was there from 1 until 3 a.m.

EARLY WORK NEXT MORNING

"Each of the agents who visited the Press Club or the Cellar coffee house had assignments beginning no later than 8 a.m.," the commission found. "Four had key responsibilities as members of the complement of the follow-up car in the motorcade. Three of these occupied positions of the running-boards and the fourth was seated in the car."

the Secret Service. "The FBI at first tried to cover up the fact it had interviewed Oswald," I reported, "and asked one of Oswald's friends not to admit to the press that the FBI had been around to see him.

"It would appear to have been a shocking oversight to permit an unstable, irrational young man who had lived in Russia, had passed our circulars favoring Castro, and quite recently had taken a trip to Mexico to contact the Cuban embassy, to remain unwatched and unreported to the Secret Serivce." I reported.

"The FBI learned. . .that Oswald was working at the Texas School Book Depository, located along the usual parade route through Dallas," I also reported.

The Warren Commission, confirming this, stated: "the commission believes that the FBI took an unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities. . . . there was much material in the hands of the FBI about Oswald, the knowledge of his defection, his arrogance and hostility to the United States, his pro-Castro tendencies, his lies when interrogated by the FBI, his trip to Mexico where he was in contact with soviet authorities, his presence in the School Book Depository job, and its location along the route of the motorcade.

On this failure to cooperate between the FBI and the Secret Service, the Warren Commission concluded: "there was no fully adequate liaison between the two agencies."

IS BARRY TRIGGER HAPPY?

The University of California at Los Angeles has cracked down on a public report on how psychiatrists view Barry Goldwater's emotional stability when it comes to keeping his finger on the nuclear trigger.

Ralph Ginsberg, publisher of Fact Magazine, was scheduled to speak at UCLA on Sept. 30 as part of the university's "distinguished speakers program." But when it was discovered he intended to release a poll of psychiatrists regarding Goldwater's emotional stability, the speech was canceled.

According to Fact's survey, the overwhelming majority of psychiatrists do not regard Goldwater as stable enough to keep his finger on the nuclear trigger.

Dear Editor:

A writer recently asked for a prescription for a sick Mississippian. As a social doctor I have not been able to cure the extremism in Dallas.

Nevertheless having had Alabama and Mississippi - born parentage my quick prescription would be:

First-Stop fighting the civil war.

Second-Wake up to the fact this is the 20th century with fast communications etc.

Third-Realize that the wastefulness of alternated dual [illegible] school books, and in many cases transportation. Jobs — they get as good pay as anyone most, and many have good businesses of their own. Social — they are treated well, just do not mix socially and all will be happier as long as this continues. Land — many own their own homes, and some have nice farms. It takes work and good management to own a home.

How long will it be till we are taken over and put into slave camps like they were in Cuba? Are they preparing our prisons? As of last May Cuba had three kinds of jails:

The Crimes: Individual The Blame: Multiple

THE WARREN Commission report, in essence, says:

President Kennedy was assassinated by a mixed-up killer, acting alone, who then was murdered by a mixed-up killer, acting alone.

These conclusions were already evident in the mass of facts reported by the press about the incredible events of last November in Dallas. But the Warren Commission documents them by the findings of a nine-month inquiry which took testimony from 552 witnesses, scraped up every fragment of physical evidence and trailed a long list of rumors to their dead-ends.

THE COMMISSION'S painstaking investigation should establish, to the satisfaction of any objective mind, that when Lee Harvey Oswald shot President Kennedy he was not the agent of a national or international conspiracy but an assassin cast in the mold of most of those who have killed or tried to kill other Presidents; a social misfit with a brooding hatred of the existing order.

It establishes, too, that Jack Ruby undoubtedly was telling the truth when he said he killed Oswald in a fit of anger against him for killing the President. No evidence was found to suggest any connection between Ruby and Oswald, between Ruby and the Dallas Police Department or between Ruby and anyone who might have had an interest in seeing President Kennedy or Oswald dead.

There is, the Warren Commission report shows, a striking similarity in backgrounds of Oswald and Ruby. Both were products of broken homes, neither ever got beyond the 10th grade of school, and both were given to violent reactions.

EVIDENCE of the individuality of the crimes, we say, is convincing to the objective mind.

That does not mean the Warren Commission report will banish the conspiracy theories which have been widely circulated here and in Europe. Left-wing propagandists will continue to argue that Oswald and Ruby were agents of a fascist plot to do away with the President; right-wing fanatics will insist that Mr. Kennedy was slain on orders issued from Moscow or Havana.

To the man who shapes theory to fit his purposes, facts are unimportant. A century after Abraham Lincoln was assassinated, there are still some who will argue—with no proof—that War Secretary Edwin Stanton really pulled the strings which moved John Wilkes Booth's trigger finger.

But the Warren Commission report will stand for all time as a dispassionate history of the events and characters of the tragedy at Dallas.

History is useful as a record. It is also useful for the lessons it teaches for the future—and the Warren report points out some.

Secret Service protection for President Kennedy was plainly inadequate. This was true partly because of insufficient personnel, partly because of inefficient procedures (no guards were assigned to check the high buildings overlooking the President's motorcade route), partly because of lack of coordination with other Federal agencies. The FBI knew about Oswald's presence in Dallas but didn't report him to the Secret Service as a man to be watched, despite his record as a defector to Russia and a supporter of Fidel Castro.

Examining this record, it would appear that Congress ought to consider shifting the responsibility for the President's protection from the Secret Service to the FBI. The FBI has a much larger force, distributed throughout the country, has a closer working relationship with local officers in every city of any size and is better informed on potentially dangerous characters.

The Secret Service, originally established to chase counterfeiters, took over protection of Presidents after the assassination of William McKinley in 1901. There was no other Federal police agency then. The FBI is available now and logically is the proper agency to do the job.

Then there is the matter of the State Department's cooperation in returning Oswald and his wife from Russia in 1962, despite the fact that in 1959 he had told our Embassy in Moscow he wished to renounce his U.S. citizenship and declare his allegiance to the Soviet Union.

The Warren Commission says the State Department followed the law (Oswald never formally gave up his citizenship) but in the future it should "exercise great care in the return to this country of defectors who have evidenced disloyalty or hostility to this country."

We would go further and say that no American who so clearly expressed his loyalty to a Communist country and sought residence there, as did Oswald, should be allowed back in the United States unless he publicly renounced Communism and professed his faith in our form of government.

And, while God forbid there should be any occasion to use it, the Warren Commission quite rightly recommends a law making assassination of the President or Vice President a Federal offense. If such a law had been in effect last November, it is inconceivable that Jack Ruby would have been given the opportunity to kill Oswald. Federal agents, rather than Dallas police, would have had the assassin in custody and would certainly not have been guilty of such careless protection of the prisoner.

IF OSWALD had lived, could he have received a fair trial?

The Warren Commission raises this question and leaves the answer in doubt. Both the press, which created "general disorder" around the Dallas Police Department in seeking to interview and photograph Oswald, and the prosecuting and investigating authorities, who gave out unverified reports on the case, endangered the right of fair trial, the report says.

Further, it says the mob of press and TV representatives at the police station helped make it easy for Ruby to slip in and shoot Oswald.

We agree that the criticism is well-founded. While law enforcement officers bear the primary responsibility for protecting a defendant's rights, the press has a duty to exercise self-discipline. The Commission suggests that fair standards of procedure in covering criminal cases be worked out between the Bar, the Law and the Press—we see no reason why this cannot be done.

THE COMMISSION headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, has done thoroughly and impartially its job of analyzing the past. It now falls to all of us with a share of responsibility for action to do as well in safeguarding the future—for our Presidents, our system of justice and our nation.

The information from the Department of Defense concerning the allegations made by Santalo-Fuertes was referred to us by the President's Commission. The Agents reports concerning the investigation done by the Army in December, 1963, and January, 1964, regarding Santalo-Fuertes were received from the Department of the Army on 9-29-64. The allegations made by Santalo-Fuertes should be run out. He is a Cuban refugee who entered the Army on 7-11-63. We do not know why he was discharged before the end of his two-year "hitch" but the enclosures include an application for release from active duty to join the anti-Castro forces in Central America. The enclosed Army reports advise he never caused any trouble in the Army but there is no evaluation of his reliability.

Dear Sir:

Hery, many people deplore the fact that after over 40 years our Federal Bereau of Investigation was smeared. I'm speaking of the Warren Report on assassination of J.F.K.

What was on TV and in newspapers was mostly just what F.B.I. and the Dallas police found out in the very beginning. What is a Federal Bereau of Investigation for, if not to investigate CRIME ???

Now its known that Alben Barkley did not pay his income taxes. How about Lyndon's ?? Ive read the little book "A Texan looks at Lyndon" and hope you have or will read it. Its proves just what a crooked politician L.B.J. has been for over 20 years. He would do anything to gain his point. There have been murders and "hushed up" illegal deals in connection with the Billy Sol Estes, that L.B.J. was well aware and he was a very good friend of Estes.

Lyndon B. Johnson did anything that would get him in the Senate and he would do anything to become President. I read between the lines. Something has to come out on him, before it is too late. We cannot let him have another term in the White House.

The little book I mention is written by a Texan, J. Evetts Haley, and nothing Capone did could match up with the deals that L.B.J. put over in Texas. That assassination could not have been "put over" in any other state then his Texas.

If the F.B.I. had been allowed to investigate, the report would have been different and L.B.J. knew it. All we want is the TRUTH on our President. He will do anything to be victorius in November and this makes Barry Goldwater in danger, every moment. We can only pray.

Not only that but he is draining his strength by the numerous trips and speeches and we,as citizens, should insist that he stay in Washington and take care of running the Country. His job demands a person of perfect health and he is certainly not conserving his strenth by these political tours.

Of course there is no law that demands that he stay in Washington but the F.B.I. and Security should not be blamed when a tragedy occurs.

Dear Mr.President:

I have read the report of President Kennedy's assination in which, among other things, Security and the F.B.I. were criticized and charged with negligence.

As a private citizen I would like to say a few words in this regard, which to me seem unfair. In the first place I do not think our President, who is our leader and the highest office-holder in the Country, should expose himself to being a target for any extremeist, or "crackpot". How can anyone safely guard the President when he rides throug the crowds in an open convertible, standing up, completely exposed to a bullit or other lethal weapon in the hands of an unsound person?

The F.B.I. can only do so much to safeguard. It's a physical impossibility to check every window and dubious person along a parade route and I might say here that when you arrived in Atlantic City on the night of the Convention, you were completely surrounded by a noisy, pushing mob of people, most of whom, I will admit were the press and T.V. but a would-be assassin could have been among them.

I believe you, as our President, in these critical times should take every precaution. You shoud stay in Washington, in the White House, and leave the vote getting and political tours to others.

SUBJECT: CRITICISM OF THE FBI FOLLOWING THE ASSASSINATION OF THE PRESIDENT

The criticism concerning the FBI and its role in events surrounding the assassination of President Kennedy raises three questions which merit consideration at this time. Our conclusions are drawn from the basis of hundreds of telephone calls that the men in my office and I have had with newspapermen, friendly and unfriendly, throughout the country.

(1) What is the public image of the FBI at the present time?

Certainly, it cannot be denied that the public image of the FBI has been affected in certain areas by the criticism made of the Bureau and its role in the events taking place prior to the assassination of the President. It is believed this situation reached one stage during the days immediately following this event and was climaxed by Dallas Chief of Police Curry's statements which left the implication this Bureau was seriously derelict in discharging its responsibilities as an intelligence agency. The impact of Chief Curry's comments was strong because much misunderstanding and misrepresentation concerning FBI jurisdictional responsibility existed and this was complicated by the existence of a strong emotional reaction to the assassination. In addition, those groups and individuals who are consistently anti-FBI moved rapidly to exploit the situation to our detriment.

The second stage, the most acute, followed the issuance of the Warren Report.

While there is admittedly no absolute way to assess a public image, it is believed the image of the FBI improved steadily since the week following the assassination, and it improved immeasurably up until the release of the Warren Report. At the time we suffered a rough setback. Following the release of the Director's testimony, we have been well on the road back to good prestige. This resulted from a greater understanding by the public of the FBI's responsibilities and jurisdiction, an appreciation of the soundness of Mr. Hoover's position, and the logic of our activities based on the information available to us at the time of the assassination. The attached news articles typify the press coverage which aided us in making these points with the general public. There is every indication this improvement will continue if we follow our current program regarding this situat

(2) What has been done to counteract this criticism of the FBI?

Immediately following the assassination, we undertook a program designed to eliminate the misunderstanding as to the statutory responsibilities of the Secret Service and the FBI which existed among the uninformed. This was the group which identified all functions of Federal enforcement, tax matters, narcotics and protection of the President with the FBI. Every appropriate medium such as the news media, radio scripts, FBI tours, correspondence, speeches and police training was used to clear the air concerning our responsibility.

For the more educated group, those who were not necessarily biased, and who were aware of the statutory authority of the FBI we furnished full explanations for our actions prior to the assassination with respect to Lee Harvey Oswald. This was designed to convince them that this Bureau did not fail to properly evaluate the information available on Oswald prior to November 22, 1963, and that, in light of the facts available and the authority granted within which to act, we were not derelict in disseminating pertinent information to proper authorities.

The climax of this program was undeniably the release of the Director's testimony before the Warren Commission by the "Washington Star." Following its appearance in the October 2, 1964, issue, some 500 newspapers carried this material which strongly summed up the points we have been trying to get across to the public since the assassination. The Copley Press, the Newhouse chain and the Chicago Tribune Syndicate, the Associated Press, and United Press International were joined by recognized commentators and columnists such as David Lawrence, Morgan Beatty, John Chamberlain and Arthur Krock in presenting the Bureau in a favorable light. There is every indication this will continue since, for example, 18 large metropolitan newspapers purchased intact the Washington Star's story on the Director's testimony. We made certain that the wire services also carried this testimony to its many subscribers.

(3) What should be our future course in this matter?

The liberal press, with the exception of the "New York Times," and its friends will continue to make a determined effort to place the FBI on the defensive; however, it is not felt we should engage in any prolonged debate with them. Arguing our side of the controversy will never convince them and may only serve to alienate our friends and the public. Too, by keeping the argument going, we are diverting public attention from Secret Service and the State Department and their culpability.

C. D. DeLoach to Mohr memo, 10-6-64
RE: CRITICISM OF THE FBI FOLLOWING THE ASSASSINATION OF THE PRESIDENT

We have had our day and the facts have been presented. The Director has made his answer before the Warren Commission--we should stand firm on that reply. No derogatory letters have been received thus far since issuance of the Warren Report--with the exception of two from psychopaths that were not answered. In comparison, we have received over one hundred and fifty letters as a result of the riot report. Over 50 per cent were somewhat unfavorable, having been received from the far right wing or racists.

The Director has said that "nothing is more devastating to a smear than an offensive of real outstanding accomplishments." Our attention and energies should be directed toward this end in the coming months.

RECOMMENDATION:

For the Director's information.

The FBI will never live down this smear which could have been so easily avoided if there had been proper supervision & initiative.

those names?" he continued. They have to call upon the local authorities.

"Just recently, in the city of Chicago, when the President was there, the local authorities were asked to give assistance as they usually do to the Secret Service and they went to the homes of some of these people, and it resulted really almost in house arrest.

"Now, I don't think there is any place in this country for that kind of thing but these people who belonged to extreme subversive organizations or organizations that advocated the overthrow of the government by force or violence were told that they couldn't leave their house or if they did they would be accompanied by a police officer."

Hoover said this gave him "great concern" because in New York City alone there are 3,000 or 4,000 such individuals in subversive organizations.

Wants a Balance

"We don't want a Gestapo," he said. "We have to, I think, maintain an even balance."

Hoover said that many of the local police organizations on which the Secret Service would have to depend are capable and efficient, but that some are not.

Hoover said he thought the action in the Chicago incident he cited was a case of very bad judgment. But he said the local authorities do what they think is right.

"Now I guess their attitude with all justice to them is, 'Well, we will resolve the risk in our favor. If we keep these people under surveillance and keep them in the house until the President gets out of town nothing can happen from them,'" Hoover told the commission.

"That is what you would call totalitarian security. I don't think you can have that kind of security in this country without having a great wave of criticism against it."

36 Known Defectors

The veteran FBI chief testified that there are 36 known defectors to Communist countries now in the United States who have been under investigation. Last December, after the assassination of President Kennedy by defector Oswald, Hoover said, the criteria was expanded and all defectors now automatically go on the list furnished to the Secret Service.

Hoover told the commission that the FBI received a report from the State Department "that indicated this man (Oswald) was a thoroughly safe risk here, he had changed his views, he was a loyal man now and had seen the light of day, so to speak." He said he did not know how intensive the interview was with Oswald in Moscow but that "nevertheless, it was in a State Department document that was furnished to us."

There is no doubt that Oswald was a dedicated Communist, Hoover testified.

"I don't believe, as I look back on it, that he ever changed his views when he asked to come back to this country," Hoover said. "I personally feel that when he went to the American Embassy in Moscow originally to renounce his citizenship, he should have been able right then and there to sign the renouncement.

"He never could have gotten back here. I think that should apply to almost all defectors who want to defect. If they indicate a desire for it, let them renounce their citizenship at once."

None of the FBI's contacts with Oswald gave any indication of any tendency to commit violence, Hoover testified. He said many people read the Worker, the Communist Party organ, but cannot be branded as potential assassins or hazards to the security of the country.

"It is in that area that I am particularly concerned," he said, "that we don't become hysterical and go too far in restricting the citizens of our country from exercising their civil and constitutional rights. The mere fact that a person disagrees with you on communism doesn't mean he should be arrested."

At another point, Hoover declared, "I think the extreme right is just as much a danger to the freedom of this country as the extreme left."

Hoover testified that the first indication of an act of violence by Oswald came after the accused assassin was dead and his Russian widow, Marina, told the FBI about her husband's attempt on the life of Gen. Edwin Walker. There was no information prior to the Dallas tragedy that would have warranted the FBI reporting Oswald as a potential danger to the safety of the President, Hoover said.

Both the FBI and the Secret Service have emphatically denied privately any implication that there has been a lack of close liaison between the two organizations. James J. Rowley, chief of the Secret Service, is a former FBI agent and is a close personal friend of Hoover's.

Hoover Says Data Called Oswald Safe

Warren Probe Warned Against 'Police State'

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover warned the Warren Commission against establishment of "totalitarian" security measures that might lead to a "police state" in efforts to protect presidents of the United States.

Hoover also disclosed in his testimony the existence of a State Department document indicating that Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, was a "thoroughly safe risk." He said the document furnished to the FBI was based on an interview conducted by the American Embassy in Moscow before the defector returned to the United States.

The testimony of the FBI director was alluded to but not given in detail in the report of the Warren Commission on the assassination made public last Monday. A transcript of his May 14 testimony, which has not yet been published by the Commission, was made available to The Star today.

The FBI has not commented on the commission finding that it took "an unduly restrictive view of its role in preventive intelligence work prior to the assassination." It is reported, however, that the bureau has been stung bitterly by the implication that it should have given more careful cooperation in the Oswald case.

Not Very Happy"

Hoover testified that "I am not very happy with the criteria expansion" affecting the lists of names of subversives and extremists being furnished by the FBI to the Secret Service as a post-assassination security measure.

He raised the question of "just how far are you going to go for his (the President's) protection and his security" and then continued:

"I don't think you can get absolute security without almost establishing a police state, and we don't want that."

Hoover said that in handling the security problem, "Certain chances have to be taken. You are dealing with a human being when you are dealing with the President of the United States. It makes the security problem all the more difficult but you can't bar him from the people."

With the expanded criteria for furnishing names of potential risks to the Secret Service, Hoover estimated the names of about 10,000 subversives and extremists will have been submitted by the FBI.

Pity the Poor FBI

PITY the poor FBI. In the past, it has gotten it in the neck for taking too severe a view of the Communist menace. Its chief, J. Edgar Hoover, has been criticized for seeing Reds under the bed. The Reuther brothers, Walter and Victor, in their famous memo to Robert F. Kennedy (then the Attorney General), insisted that the danger from the left was not in it in comparison to the danger from the right, and called upon the Department of Justice to put a stop to Red witch-hunting by Federal sleuths.

Chamberlain

That, of course, was almost three years before John F. Kennedy was killed in Dallas. The Warren Commission report makes it plain that the assassination was the act of Lee Harvey Oswald, a loner whose Marxist background was well known to the FBI. The "get J. Edgar Hoover" faction is now echoing the Warren Commission's criticism of the FBI for its "unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work."

"The argument is that the Dallas police should have been tipped off by the FBI about Oswald's history of dalliance in the Soviet Union, his attempt to forswear his American citizenship, and his work for the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, in time to have him taken into detention before Mr. Kennedy made the trip to Texas.

THE WARREN Commission report admits that criticism of the FBI on this score is "tinged with hindsight." As, indeed, it is. Moreover, it comes with exceedingly bad grace from a commission headed by the Chief Justice of the United States, for the Warren Court has been most zealous in its insistence that Communists have civil rights must not be invaded.

The Court has also been oversolicitous of the rights of alleged criminals. In the Mallory case, for example, the Court insisted that a Negro who had been convicted in a lower court of choking and raping a woman should be freed simply because he had been held for some 11 hours for questioning before arraignment. The same man later choked and raped another woman and was jailed for it.

Always, up to the present, the liberals have insisted that "raw and unprocessed" material in the FBI files should not be used as the basis for proceeding against any person. But now we are suddenly offered the proposition that, before a President visits a given town, every suspected Red or psychotic whose "raw" record is known to FBI agents should be forcibly detained for a safe period.

This is idiotic on the face of it. For instance, on one of President Johnson's trips to New York City, his itinerary took him past the dwelling places or hangouts of 3700 persons who might legitimately be suspected of subversive, psychotic or crackpot tendencies. Imagine the uproar from the civil libertarians if 3700 persons were put under police surveillance at one time. The FBI would be accused of making its "raw" data the basis of wholesale invasion of private rights.

THE POINT is that Lee Harvey Oswald, before the Kennedy murder, had not been known for violent tendencies. He was merely one of thousands of persons in America who are known to the FBI for having had relations with the Reds of one sort or another.

If the Government couldn't even apply the Smith Act to control Communist subversion in a manner satisfactory to the Supreme Court, how could a big city police force justify the detention of every suspected Red or psychopath who might turn up to watch a presidential motorcade go past a big building?

The police force that did that would be denounced from one end of the country to the other. The leftist Nation magazine's Fred J. Cook, perennial critic of the FBI, would devote a whole magazine issue to it; liberal law school professors would debate it endlessly, and even some conservatives might legitimately observe that Americans are entitled to their freedom until they have been duly convicted of breaking a law.

THE WORLD TODAY
BY JAMES MARLOW
ASSOCIATED PRESS NEWS ANALYST
SEPTEMBER 30, 1964

The U. S. Secret Service, whose job is protecting Presidents, didn't come out of the Warren Commission's investigation smelling like a rose. Anything but.

After it got through investigating the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, the seven-man Commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren blamed the Secret Service for a number of shortcomings.

This agency has had the task of protecting Presidents since at least 1902. But the picture of it which emerges from the Commission's report makes it look unimaginative, understaffed and out-of-date.

It's no wonder, after reading the Commission's criticism, that the Warren group raised this question: Should the Secret Service be further entrusted with protecting Presidents or should some other agency be given the job?

The Commission called the Service "inadequate"--which seems like a mild word under the circumstances--in:

Its advance preparations for Kennedy's trip to Dallas; its plans for identifying and protecting against persons considered threats to a President; its rules for even determining who such persons are; and its plans for detecting an assassin in buildings a Presidential motorcade passes.

At the time of Kennedy's trip to Dallas, the Commission said, the Secret Service "as a matter of practice" did not investigate or cause to be checked any building along the motorcade route taken by the President.

Lee Harvey Osward, who worked in the Texas School Book Depository which the Kennedy motorcade passed, shot the President from the building's sixth story window.

The Commission complained that the Secret Service's precautions were "too largely directed at the 'crank' threat" and not enough toward other individuals or groups which could be considered a source of danger.

Oswald is an example.

Although he had defected to Russia, then returned, distributed pro-Castro pamphlets, then tried to leave for Cuba and Russia again, and was investigated by the FBI, the Secret Service had no record of him in Dallas.

How did this happen?

Because the Secret Service's main interest has been in persons making direct threats against the President, the FBI did not send it information on Oswald.

The Commission criticized the FBI for not doing so although, to this writer it seems an unfair criticism, and the Commission itself said its conclusion may be "tinged with hindsight," and for this reason:

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, testified before the Commission and after summarizing the Bureau's investigative interest in Oswald prior to the assassination, he concluded that:

"There was nothing up to the time of the assassination that gave any indication that this man was a dangerous character who might do harm to the President or Vice President."

Oswald had tried to kill former Major General Edwin A. Walker--by shooting at him through his window--months before he killed the President, but no one knew of this until after the assassination except Oswald's wife.

It was only after the Warren Commission had made its broad investigation into relatives, friends, neighbors and old acquaintances of Oswald that the information came about his inclination toward violence in childhood, such as chasing his brother with a knife and throwing it at him.

The Commission thinks the FBI should have told the Secret Service about Oswald and said it thought both agencies took too narrow a view of their separate responsibilities.

It's questionable that if the Secret Service had learned of Oswald from the FBI--since he had made no threat against Kennedy--it would have thought him dangerous enough, because of its limited manpower, to investigate him.

The Commission has called for an overhaul of the Secret Service and more cooperation between investigative Government agencies.

SEPTEMBER 28, 1964

And the news tonight is the Congressional back off with breathtaking speed from immediate action on laws to intensify the protection of the President of the United States. There is a special reason, and this is a special News of the World report. All civilian Federal law enforcement agencies, including the Secret Service and the FBI, are convinced they would need the police powers of a dictatorship to provide a fair maximum protection for the President. They ask for no such powers. They are also convinced from study that the Constitutional powers of the Presidency are such that the Nation's Chief Magistrate could and would veto fair maximum protection and would be supported in his rights by the Constitution. The President's new Cabinet committee and the Congress will be told by Federal agency heads--when the time comes for hearings--that the Constitution itself and a great train of laws by the hundreds protect citizens against arrest. And they do that even though some citizens may be under valid suspicion as security risks. And the question of the number of police agents required even to persuade citizens who may be under suspicion to move from one point to another would multiply Federal police forces and clothe them with authority that only police states now use.

In testimony to be released later, J. Edgar Hoover points out to the Warren Commission that revolutionary revisions of law would be needed to incorporate the authority to act in all suspicious cases. There is the implied hint in his testimony that law enforcement officers' experiences would indicate the Supreme Court--either a conservative or a liberal court--would throw out such laws.

One of the problems is the number of suspicious cases in the active file of the Secret Service. There are 20,000 of those. On the day President Kennedy was assassinated last November, 34 cases were under scrutiny in Texas alone. An additional 115 cases in Texas alone had been established but not yet investigated. They had been cast aside temporarily as "nonurgent."

And when you reduce the problem to a single case--Lee Harvey Oswald--an examination of all the reports in the hands of Federal agencies (News of the World is competently advised), as of last November 23rd, everyone testified that he was a harmless individual. In the Marines, even though he mastered rifle fire and all the military drills, he was known by the nickname of "Ozzie the Rabbit"-he was so meek and so mild. Peculiarly, the one single report of record on Assassin Lee Harvey Oswald that would have revealed his dangerous tendencies was under secret lock and key last November in the New York school system. The psychiatrist who examined the lad, Oswald, at age 13, reported danger signs. He had beaten his mother, threatened a sister-in-law with a knife and played hooky by whim. Taken together, all of these are danger signs, but they were forbidden by law to any Federal agency--police agency. The law that protects the rights of juveniles protected Lee Harvey Oswald. That same law protected Mrs. Oswald later when she took her son out of the jurisdiction of the New York school system to New Orleans. She had a right to do it. Mrs. Marina Oswald, years later, had a right as a wife under the law not to report that her husband had tried to kill General Edwin Walker and was, therefore, dangerous. The absence of these warning signals in Federal files kept Oswald off a Secret Service danger list. And then there's the right and the duty of a President to walk among the people. All Presidents have insisted on it. Today President Lyndon Johnson pursuing his campaign for re-election walked half a mile through jam-packed throngs in Providence, Rhode Island. No protective agency could have vetoed the Chief Executive or adequately protected him in an emergency. As the Warren Report agrees, the task is impossible--yet, improvements can be made. But Federal agencies are convinced Congress faces an impossible task in revising the laws.

COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

WASHINGTON --- THE WARREN COMMISSION REPORT ON THE ASSASSINATIO OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY HAS BEEN GREETED WITH GENERAL PRAISE. IN ITS RECONSTRUCTION OF THE EVENTS LEADING TO THE FATAL ATTACK IN DALLAS LAST NOV 22 IT HAS BEEN PAINSTAKINGLY THOROUGH.

THE FINDINGS THAT LEE HARVEY OSWALD ACTED ALONE, THAT HE WAS WITHOUT DOUBT THE KILLER AND THAT HE WAS NOT PART OF ANY CONSPIRACY HAVE BEEN GREETED BY GENERAL RELIEF.

BUT AS TIME PERMITS CLOSER EX.. EXAMINATION, SOME OF THE COMMISSIONS RECOMMENDATIONS AND CRITICISMS HAVE STIRRED UNEASINESS. STINGING REBUKES FOR THE SECRET SERVICE AND THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION ARE CALLED " ENTHUSIASTIC HINDSIGHT" BY ONE CONGRESSMAN.

OTHERS HAVE VOICED FEARS THAT TRADITIONAL FOES OF THE TWO AGENCIES MIGHT SEIZE ON THE REPORT TO LAUNCH A SMEAR CAMPAIGN.

" AFTER ANY TRAGEDY, ONE ALWAYS HEARS THE PLAINTIVE WORDS " IF WE HAD DONE THIS OR IF WE HAD DONE THAT IT WOULDNT HAVE HAPPENED," SAID THE CONGRESSMAN. " THE FACTS ARE THAT BOTH THE SECRET SERVICE AND THE FBI CARRIED OUT THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES EXACTLY AS THEY WERE OUTLINED AND TO THE BEST OF THEIR ABILITY.

" CERTAINLY IF PROCEDURES HAD BEEN DIFFERENT, OSWALD MIGHT NOT HAVE BEEN SUCCESSFUL. BUT THE LESSON HERE IS TO MOVE AHEAD, TO TIGHTEN PROCEDURES, NOT TO THROW BLAME AROUND WILDLY AT MEN WHO HAVE BEEN DOING THEIR JOB."

" NO SYSTEM IS PERFECT. UNFORTUNATELY WE ARE MORTALS. WE MAKE MISTAKES. WE LEARN FROM OUR MISTAKES AND OUR TRAGEDIES."

THE COMMISSIONS VIEW OF SOME OF THE LESSONS LEARNED HOWEVER TROUBLES MORE THAN A FEW WASHINGTON OBSERVERS.

THE CALL FOR " MORE USEFUL AND PRECISE CRITERIA CRITERIA DEFININ POTENTIAL THREATS TO THE PRESIDENT" APPEARSSOUND, BUT IN IT LURKS THE DANGER OF UNBRIDLED POLICE INTERFERENCE IN INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS, E POSSIBLE POLITICAL INTIMIDATION.

IN ITS REPORT THE WARREN COMMISSION CONCLUDED THAT THE FBI " TOOK AN UNDULY RESTRICTIVE VIEW OF ITS ROLE IN PREVENTIVE INTELLIGENCE WORK."

OSWALD KILLED PRESIDENT KENNEDY. THE FBI KNEW OSWALD. THEREFORE THE COMMISSION REASONS, THE FBI SHOULD HAVE FORESEEN THE CRIME AND PREVENTED IT.

THE FBI HOWEVER HAD NO INFORMATION SUGGESTING THAT OSWALD WAS A POTENTIAL THREAT TO MR KENNEDY. FEDERAL COURT RULINGS IN RECENT YEARS HAVE POINTEDLY DISCOURAGED AUTHORITIES FROM SPECULATING ON THE UNPROVED DESIGNS OF LEFTISTS AND OTHER SUBVERSIVES. DIRECTOR J EDGAR HOOVER TESTIFIED IN DETAIL TO THE COMMISSION ON THE EVALUATION OF OSWALD ALTHOUGH HIS FULL REMARKS WERE NOT INCLUDED IN THE REPORT.

ONE THING HOOVER POINTED OUT WAS THAT THE HISTORY OF OSWALDS PSYCHIATRIC TREATMENT WAS NOT AVAILABLE TO THE FBI BEFORE THE ASSASSINATION. ONLY A SPECIAL EXCEPTION TO LAW MADE THAT RECORD AVAILABLE TO THE COMMISSION.

THE WARREN REPORT IMPLIES A LACK OF CLOSE LIAISON BETWEEN THE SECRET SERVICE AND THE FBI. THIS HAD BEEN EMPHATICALLY DENIED BY BOTH AGENCIES. JAMES J ROWLEY, CHIEF OF THE SECRET SERVICE, IS A FORMER FBI AGENT AND A CLOSE PERSONAL FRIEND OF MR HOOVER.

THE COMMISSION SUMMARIZE THE TESTIMONY OF ROBERT I. BOUCK, CHIEF OF . . PROTECTIVE RESEARCH SECTION OF THE SECRET SERVICE AND CONCLUDES THAT HE BELIEVES THAT HAD ALL FBI FILES ON OSWALD BEEN AVAILABLE, OSWALD WOULD HAVE BEENAPPREHENDED BEFORE THE ASSASSINATION.

IT HAS BEEN LEAKED THAT THIS CONCLUSION WAS DRAWN BY THE COMMISSION, NOT BY BOUCK WHO EMPHASIZED THAT THE FBI HAD FOLLOWED PROCEDURES AND HAD COOPERATED WITH THE SECRET SERVICE.

MR HOOVERS EMPHATIC STATEMENTS THAT THE FBI HAD NO INFORMATION THAT COULD CLASSIFY OSWALD AS A POTENTIAL ASSASSIN , AND THE WARREN COMMISSIONS CRITICISM OF " AN UNDULY RESTRICTIVE VIEW" RAISE DISTURBING SUGGESTIONS.

IF THE SECRET SECRE/// SERVICE, FBI AND LOCAL POLICE ARE TO APPLY INTANGIBLE CRITERIA IN DETERMINING SUCH THREATS, THE PROBLEM OF POLICING PRESIDENTIAL APPEARANCES BECOMES STAGGERING. AND THE THREAT TO INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS BECOMES SERIOUS.

POLICE OFFICERS HAVE ESTIMATED THAT AS MANY AS 5000 PERSONS MIGHT HAVE TO BE DETAINED, ARRESTED OR WATCHED IN CITIES LIKE NEW YORK, CHICAGO AND LOS ANGELES. AND SUCH TACTICS WOULD BE CERTAIN TO RAISE A STORM OF CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES.

THE DRAGNET WOULD HAVE TO TAKE IN ALL SUSPECTED LEFT WING SUBVERSIVES, ULTRA RIGHTISTS, FASCISTS, THE EMOTIONALLY UNSTABLE AND IRRATIONAL, CONCEIVABLY EVEN POLITICAL CRITICS AND RIVALS.

" IT WOULD TAKE AN ARMY TO HANDLE SO- CALLED POTENTIAL THREATS IN MANY CITIES," ONE OFFCIAL REMARKED.

GOV EDMUND BROWN OF CALIFORNIA, A FORMER STATE ATTORNEY GENERAL, HAS TOLD REPORTERS HE KNOWS OF NO WAY TO DETAIN A DANGEROUS MENTALLY ILL INDIVIDUAL WITHOUT VIOLATING HIS CIVIL RIGHTS.

ITS/// IT IS EASY TO AGREE WITH THE WARREN COMMISSION REPORT AND ACCEPT ALL ITS FINDINGS. THE ASSASSINATION LEFT AN EMOTIONAL MARK ON THE NATION. THERE IS A HUNGER TO ASSESS BLAME, TO DEMAND FAR REACHING PREVENTIVE ACTION.

BUT PRESIDENT KENNEDY HIMSELF WOULD HAVE BEEN THE LAST MAN TO ASK FO" POLICE STATE-" METHODS, MASS INTERROGATION, ARRESTS ON INTANGIBLE SUSPICION ASSOCIATION OR HEARSAY. THE SECRET SERVICE AND THE FBI HAVE DILIGENTLY AVOIDED GESTAPO LABELS. THEY HAVE BENT OVER BACKWARD TO OBSERVE CIVIL AND INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS.

THERE IS MUCH MERIT IN THE COMMISSION REPORT. IN FACT MANY OF ITS RECOMMENDATIONS ARE ALREADY BEING PRACTICED.

BUT IN IT MAY LIE ALSO THE TEMPTATION TO INVOKE SWEEPING FEDERAL POWERS.

SEN EVERETT DIRKSEN OF ILLINOIS WHO EXPRESSED THE FIRST PUBLIC MISGIVINGS ABOUT TE CRITICISM OF THE SECRET SERVICE AND THE FBI, REMINDED THE NATION THAT " THERE WERE NO CHARGES AGAINST OSWALD AND NO GROUNDS ON WHICH TO HOLD HIM."

AND ON THE MORNING OF NOV 22, PRESIDENT KENNEDY SAID --

" IF ANYONE REALLY WANTED TO SHOOT THE PRESIDENT .... THERE WAS NOTHING ANYBODY COULD DO ..."

THE FBI AND THE WARREN COMMISSION

Although the Warren Commission's report on the murder of President Kennedy is only mildly critical of the FBI, the professional carpers have seized on a few words in the "conclusions and recommendations" in an effort to make a federal case of them.

The words seized upon charge the FBI with failing to realize that Lee Harvey Oswald, the Marxist murderer, was "a potential threat to the safety of the President."

That a Commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren should make this comment is, to begin with, a little ironic. The Supreme Court which Mr. Warren heads--and the civil liberties organizations which sustain his views--would have been the first to decry any "preventive" steps against the assorted Oswalds of this country.

In a city like New York, for example, the FBI would be compelled to round up and hold in preventive custody scores of individuals whose records as subversives and men of lethal violence are far worse than that of Lee Oswald. There are men loose in this country today who served on the "liquidation squads" of the Soviet underground, who studied tactics of subversion and violence at the Lenin school in Moscow, or who served their gory terms as "apparatchiks" of the Russian secret police.

Should such persons be held by the FBI or by local police whenever the President was within the localities they inhabit, the American Civil Liberties Union would rise up in indignation and horror at what would undoubtedly be called "police state treatment"--and a review by the Supreme Court would lead to a decision calling the practice unconstitutional.

I am not a lawyer, but I believe the court would be justified in this ruling. The United States does not punish or restrain "potential threats" of any kind. No one can tell what man will give in to lethal impulses. A conspiracy is something else again. A plot carries beyond the "potential" to the actual. In Lee Oswald's case, the Warren Commission insists that the act was irrational. No police or investigative force can delve into a man's mind, which is what the Warren Commis seems to be asking the FBI to do.

There is a great and tragic irony to the events which led to the murder of President Kennedy. The people who now criticize the FBI were those w dragged a red herring across the paths of understanding and action in the days befc the terrible event. These people, with extremist insistence, argued at the top of their lungs that the real danger was the so-called "radical right"--whereas the radical left was no longer of any consequence. So loud were their voices that they drowned out reason and logic.

The first attempt at assassination in Texas was aimed at General Edwin A. Walker, a somewhat pathetic "leader" with no troops. But this indicatic of murderous intent was brushed aside as of no consequence. Had the Walker atte been investigated thoroughly, President Kennedy would probably be alive today.

There was, however, little interest in the case in Washington--certainly none in the higher echelons of the Justice Department. And this lack of interest was purely political. The target of the Justice Department was the radica right. So obsessive was the thinking that the Walker case was dismissed with the suggestion that the shots had been fired by a "rightist" to gain sympathy for the general.

If there was bad liaison between the Secret Service and the FBI, thi might not have been so had the leadership in Washington and certain pundits of the press not focussed all their attention on the wrong subjects. To hear them or rea them, there were rabid rightists under every bed. Why, therefore, should either the FBI or the Secret Service concern itself with one confused--and we are told--solitary Castroite.

The fact startlingly clear in the Warren Commission Report is that no amount of care could have saved Mr. Kenned--or any President, for that mat General de Gaulle is perhaps the best guarded man in the world today, but he is still being fired on, though word of the latter attempts has been suppressed by the French government.

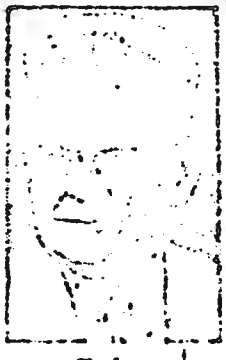
Warren Unfair in Criticism of FBI and Secret Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—The President's commission on the assassination of President Kennedy, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, was something less than fair in its criticism of the secret service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The FBI was criticized for taking "an unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work prior to the assassination" and for lack of alertness in considering Lee Harvey Oswald "a potential threat to the safety of the President."



Trohan

The secret service was criticized for having insufficient trained personnel in its protective research work, for failing to recognize the necessity of identifying sources of danger to our chief executive, or "deficient" advance preparations for the late President's trip to Dallas, and for "insufficient liaison and coördination of information" with the FBI and other federal agencies.

This is hindsight of the highest order—but then what is hindsight for if not to make Monday morning quarterbacks and all-wise kibitzers? However, the cold facts are that the precautions the protective services were criticized for omitting couldn't have been performed, and if they could have been, Warren's Supreme court would have been quick to condemn them as interference with human rights.

28 Hardly Able to Watch Hundreds

WHAT THE COMMISSION'S criticism of the FBI means is that the FBI failed to notify the secret service that Oswald was working in a building on the parade route. With only 28 agents in the detail on the President's visit, and almost every one of them concerned with proximity protection, the service could not have had a man stand beside Oswald and the hundreds of far right and far left crackpots and psychotics in any city.

If the secret service had been told about Oswald, it would have done nothing because he had no record of violence. He had never threatened any president. It is true that he was jailed in New Orleans, but only after he had been attacked by anti-Castro Cubans while he was distributing pamphlets for Fidel Castro and his pro-cause.

was made by protective agencies. It was found that there were some 3,700 oddballs—left, right, and center—who might be put under observation. If these had been detained or put under surveillance, they would undoubtedly have screamed about interference with their rights—and justly so—and there would have been cries of "police state."

No doubt the courts would have sustained them and talked of police interference or police brutality, as the crowd did when Oswald was arrested in a Dallas theater after the assassination. The crowd did not know what he was being arrested for, but considered the police wrong.

Possibly this attitude has been encouraged by photographs of riots, which invariably show police wielding clubs but never seem to show crowds coming at police with broken bottles or stones.

Psychotic Could Easily Escape Net

THE SECRET SERVICE is a small force. Unless its members can watch every window, every rooftop, and every spectator, they cannot prevent assassination. Even with a large research force, the psychotic with no record of violence may escape. Further, a large research force with a small protective force cannot guarantee security.

Naturally there is jealousy between two such highly efficient units as the secret service and the FBI. The FBI is not a part of the protective system, because the secret service doesn't want it that way.

The saddest criticism was in a section of the report that said nine agents had no more than three beers or a mixed drink and a half in some hours of relaxation off duty in violation of regulations. If the drinking had impaired efficiency in the slightest, which the report said it had not, it should have been mentioned. Otherwise it was better forgotten.

The report did forget what the chief justice said when he heard of the assassination, but before he had knowledge of any of the facts.

He said: "A great and good President had suffered martyrdom as a result of hatred and bitterness that has been injected into the life of our nation by bigots, but his memory will always be an inspiration to Americans of good will everywhere."

Oswald was a Marxist, not a right winger as Warren insisted.

Security Agents Not To Blame

The long-awaited report of the presidential commission on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy brought no real surprises. Though some will never be satisfied with certain of the report's conclusions, one has no alternative, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, but to accept most of the commission's findings.

One of the conclusions, however, was more of an evaluative nature than an evidentiary one, and our judgment does not coincide with the commission's in that instance.

The one we refer to accuses the Secret Service and the FBI of inadequate precautions for protection of the President.

It is clear, of course, that the precautions were inadequate, since the assassin succeeded in killing the President. But it is not at all certain that the two agencies are to blame.

It is well-known that presidents are notoriously careless of their own welfare and that they often disregard the advice of their bodyguards relative to personal security. President Kennedy reportedly was among those most heedless of these measures, often exposing himself to potential danger and causing Secret Servicemen many anxious moments.

Moreover, several security experts pointed out long before last November's tragedy that some potential situations were virtually impossible to guard against. An attempt by long-range rifle from an upper floor of a building along a presidential parade route, especially with the president riding in an open car, was the most frequent situation mentioned as posing the most serious threat. Considering this, President Kennedy's situation that fateful day this year was made to order for the likes of Lee Harvey Oswald.

In addition, it is probably impossible to prevent an attempt on the president's life in countless situations if the would-be-assassin is determined to strike regardless of the consequences.

Under the circumstances — President Kennedy's insistence upon "close contact with the public" and his disregard of maximum security measures — we fail to see how the Secret Service or the FBI can be held culpable.

We should also mention in passing that the commission's conclusion that Oswald acted alone, for personal reasons and was not an agent of conspiracy, lifts the onus of collective guilt that some reckless observers tried to force upon the city of Dallas. It was a heinous crime which could have occurred anywhere, as we said from the beginning.

A comprehensive study

So long as positive proof to the contrary is missing, there will always be some Americans not completely satisfied that all aspects of the assassination of President Kennedy have been fully clarified.

Even the ponderous Warren Commission report, as thorough and as dispassionate as it appears to be, still leaves areas of doubt that will pique the curious and disturb the suspicious for years to come.

Much of this may be unjustified, for on the basis of what it was able to adduce from the evidence at its disposal the Commission seems to have presented an altogether factual and logical summary of the events attendant with the President's death 11 months ago.

Its findings — that Lee Harvey Oswald acted as a lone agent in the slaying of Mr. Kennedy, and that Jack Ruby was without confederates in his murder of Oswald — will go a long way toward dispelling the misgivings of many who have suspected that this black page in America's history resulted from a conspiracy, hatched either outside or inside the United States.

Yet, left unanswered and as pervasive barbs to prick the imagination are still a number of facets which are left unexplained. They may never be.

Recognition of this was taken by Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, a Commission member, who told us:

"There simply were certain areas into which we could not go, for we had no access to them."

The true story of what Oswald was doing in Mexico, for instance, he said, may never be known. Nor, he added, was the Commission able to ascertain if there was a connection between the Cubans attending a school in Minsk, where Oswald lived for a while in Russia, and the man who killed the President.

Still left to work on the suspicions of many Americans was the disquieting and seemingly imprudent statement of Chief Justice Earl Warren who remarked, prior to the release of his Commission's report, that some information concerned with the violence last November may not be revealed in our lifetime.

In sum, however, the Commission, while not presenting any surprising conclusions, seems to have done remarkably well in sticking to the facts at hand. It obviously rejected any temptations to stray into the region of theory or speculation, thereby providing a somewhat dull, but nonetheless dramatic, account of an horrendous crime that will be studied and discussed by Americans for years to come.

The Augusta Chronicle
Augusta, Georgia
September 29, 1964

Few persons will disagree with the Commission's criticism of the Dallas Police Department and of the news media that must share, in some measure, in the ease with which Ruby gained access to Oswald

Nor can the State Department be exonerated entirely of a part in the assassination. Sen. Russell is to be commended for having insisted that the report take the department to task for the "tragic irony" involved in its facilitating the return of Oswald from Russia — on grounds that it was in the best interests of the country.

It is difficult to understand, however, the sharp censure leveled at both the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Secret Service. The FBI while familiar with Oswald's background, had no more reason to isolate him or report him to the Secret Service than any number of other malcontents known to have been in the Dallas area during the President's visit.

And so far as the Secret Service was concerned, even the President himself, in what could have been a rare instance of extrasensory perception, is now known to have remarked on the very morning of his death that anyone could assassinate a President by using a scope-equipped rifle from a nearby building, and that the Secret Service could not prevent it.

While in Augusta several years ago with President Eisenhower, the then head of the Secret Service commented on the fact that his agents could protect a President only to the extent of preventing someone from having him as a close target, thereby diminishing the chances for accuracy in firing at him.

As is now obvious, Oswald was an expert marksman who overcame the odds.

This does not mean that the Secret Service and the FBI should not always be mindful of their grave responsibilities and work toward improving the security they provide. Toward that end, it is well that President Johnson has already acted on the recommendation made in the Commission report that a study be undertaken of how to effect this improvement. We might suggest that Mr. Johnson, himself, could cooperate in this effort by not taking the unnecessary risks in which he seems to delight in his political forays around the country.

Even that, however, offers no assurance for the President's safety.

Not until he is kept either in a vault or a vacuum can there be reason to believe that he does not always face a threat to his life.

The F. B. I. Position

Warren Commission's View Following Hoover's Testimony Is Analyzed

By ARTHUR KROCK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—The publication by The Washington Evening Star last Friday of part of the transcript of the testimony of J. Edgar Hoover before the Warren Commission points up the quandary in which this testimony placed the chairman, Chief Justice Earl Warren. And it helps to explain why the commission left in vague suspension the issue Hoover raised. That is the conflict between the constitutional rights of individuals and police measures better calculated to prevent the assassination of a President under full public exposure. Confronted with an issue on which its chairman has taken a most extreme position in behalf of individual rights, the commission hedged.

It commended the F.B.I.'s "new criteria," adopted a month after President Kennedy's assassination, whereby agents were instructed to add to the file of "ultrarightists, racists and Fascists . . . who have made threats of bodily harm against officials" of American or foreign government those in this group "possessing emotional instability or irrational behavior." But the commission, warned by Hoover that the new criteria it raised presented the hazard of encouraging the use of Gestapo methods, fielded that problem to the Executive and Congress in the following words:

"They [Hoover and other witnesses] emphasized the necessity that the information now being furnished be handled with judgment and care. The commission shares this concern. The problem is aggravated by the necessity that the [Secret Service] obtain the assistance of the local law enforcement officials in evaluating the information which it receives and in taking preventive steps."

The New York Times

The commission's retreat from facing the potential consequences of the new criteria is not surprising in view of the numerous Supreme Court decisions in which its chairman has supported the proposition that punishment of individuals for undisputed criminal acts must be subordinated to safeguarding their individual rights — under the broadest Constitutional interpretation of what these rights are. Sufficient examples are the court's rulings in Mallory and Mapp v. Ohio, where it went to unexampled extremes in defining the scope of individual protections against police search and seizure of criminal suspects.

Not Apparent

But not until the publication of Hoover's testimony was it apparent why the commission backed away after going so far as to find the criteria for Presidential protection still "unduly restrictive in continuing to require some manifestation of animus against a Government official." The key is to be found in the following comments by the F.B.I. director that must have sharply reminded Chairman Warren of his own judicial attitude in cases involving the issue of individual rights against criminal law enforcement:

"I don't think you can get absolute security [for a publicly exposed President] without almost establishing a police state . . . You can't put security in a black groove or a white groove, and certain chances have to be taken . . . I think [under the new criteria] five thousand names have . . . been submitted to the Secret Service, and at least three or four thousand more will be submitted during the next few months."

What then, Hoover asked the commission, "are you going to do when the Secret Service gets those names? They have to call upon the local authorities." And he told of an incident when President Johnson recently visited Chicago that illustrated what could happen in these circumstances. "The local authorities," he said, "were asked to give assistance as they usually do to the Secret Service, and they went to the homes of some of these people [listed under the new criteria as belonging to organizations which advocate violent overthrow of the Government], and it resulted really in almost house arrest."

Echo of Rulings

In New York, he commented, there are perhaps three or four thousands of such individuals, "but, in my estimation, merely because a man belongs to subversive front organizations does not mean that he is blacklisted and is a menace to the country for life."

This must have sounded to Chairman Warren like an echo of Supreme Court rulings he had written or concurred in, particularly Hoover's final remark that "if we keep these people under surveillance and . . . in the house until the President gets out of town . . . that is what you would call totalitarian security." In any event, he and his colleagues on the commission shunted the issue to "a committee of Cabinet members" to review and oversee "the protective activities of the Secret Service and other Federal agencies that assist in safeguarding the President . . . and provide guidance in defining the general nature of foreign and domestic dangers to Presidential security."

Rights Put First

The two Supreme Court rulings listed above demonstrate that the concept of the supremacy of individual rights, even at a risk to the enforcement of laws protective of society, that was broadly expounded by Hoover before the commission differs from that of Chief Justice Warren only in being less extreme. This is patent in the following from the Court's opinion in Mapp v. Ohio to which the Chief Justice subscribed:

There are those who say . . . that under our Constitutional exclusionary doctrine "the criminal is to go free because the constable has blundered." In some cases this undoubtedly will be the result. But there is another consideration—the imperative of judicial integrity. The criminal goes free if he must, but it is the law that sets him free. Nothing can destroy a Government more quickly than its failure to observe its own laws, or worse, its disregard of the charter of its own existence. As Justice Brandeis . . . said . . . "If the Government becomes a lawbreaker it breeds contempt for law; it invites every man to become a law unto himself; it invites anarchy."

Similarly, in Mallory, the Chief Justice sustained the judgment that "It is not the function of the police to arrest . . . at large."

Small wonder that the commission he headed hedged its approval of the new criteria for Presidential protection that already has been so employed in Chicago.

SUBJECT: The Congressional Record

Pages A4366-A4367. Congressman Pillion, (R) New York, extended his remarks regarding the report of the President's Commission To Report Upon the Assassination of President Kennedy (Warren Commission). Mr. Pillion pointed out that the Warren Commission, being a political body, is not in a position to render an independent judgment and political pressures will "prevent it from reaching a final decision that will properly and completely disclose the Communist influences and motivations in Lee Harvey Oswald's assassination of President Kennedy." Mr. Pillion included an article from the

June 20, 1964, edition of Tactics entitled "The Warren Report—I Won't Be Able To Trust It," written by Edward Hunter. Mr. Hunter sets forth reasons why he is unable to put faith in the Warren Commission report and states "Considering Oswald's renunciation of his allegiance to the United States and his treasonable actions in the U.S.S.R., and his probable link to the Red network, the CIA and later the FBI would have been remiss if they had not contacted him in one way or another, for their own purposes, in order to discredit him with the enemy, and to find out all they could. This could easily be exaggerated wholly out of proportion in the present propaganda climate - - -." Mr. Hunter also pointed out that "The American public was promised b the new President that the FBI would have a report ready within a very short time, and that this would at once be made public. This promise was not kept."

Following a review of this article Dallas indicated it undoubtedly refers to items of evidence which were among the 455 items of evidence obtained by the Dallas Police Department shortly after the assassination. Dallas indicated it appears that the material used in preparation of the article came from the same source and the same time as the Oswald diary which was previously published. We conducted extensive investigation regarding the leak of Oswald's diary which was previously sent to the Commission and we indicated we were conducting no further investigation in this matter.

Dear Sir:

Not to long ago I wrote thanking you for your many years of service to the American people.

In past years the communist party has tred upon our American Heros and of late it seems to be your turn to be tred upon by that Party.

My former home being in Texas, I know the majority of the people in Dallas feel that what happened there was through no fault of yours. We also feel if this had happened years ago it would have been your full report of the assassination instead of the Daily Worker newspaper suggesting the Warren Commission to investigate. Shame.

Mr. Hoover, in all my years I have never heard any person speak against you. You have always been praised for your life long service to us. Yes, we do understand what is taking place in our country, and we do hope you will forgive us if we prefer the right to the left. One can hardly stay in the middle of the stream when we realize there is quicksand moving in from the left side.

And I do so agree with you on the security measure.

Only last week the California Bar Association held their convention in Santa Monica. Attorney Ed Heavey (San Francisco) had for eight years ask the bar to disbar 15 of the once 23 communists lawyers in the state of California. Yes, Mr. Hoover, Mr. Heavey's fight did no good. The bar refused. And the state still remains a hot bed of communists.

In your letter dated September 19, 1964, you inquired as to whether any flame was visible at the muzzle of the 6.5 mm Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, Serial No. C2766 when this weapon was fired under daylight conditions.

The rifle was fired both in direct sunlight and in full shade and no flame was visible. A small amount of white smoke was visible; however, the pale orange flame from burning gases emitted from the muzzle would be visible only at night or in a darkened room.

The results of these tests were furnished by telephone to Mr. Norman Redlich of the Commission staff on September 21, 1964.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - R - CUBA

It will be recalled that the Honorable John R. Pillion, Member, United States House of Representatives, directed a letter to the President's Commission dated September 10, 1964. The President's Commission requested that Congressman Pillion be interviewed concerning certain data in his letter. The specific items about which the Congressman was to be questioned were underlined with the request to determine from him the basis or proof of each of the underlined items.

On September 16, 1964, Congressman Pillion was interviewed in his office in the House Office Building, Washington, D.C., in the presence of his Administrative Assistant, Russell A. Rourke, by representatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

When the purpose of the interview was explained to the Congressman, he stated that he had talked to Mr. Rankin of the President's Commission who had indicated that the Congressman's letter would be placed in the "Archives" and not in the Commission's record. Mr. Pillion also stated that he could not see any point to the interview, that since it had been reported that the investigation had been completed, the interview would serve no useful purpose. However, since he wished to cooperate in such an important matter, he said he would answer any questions raised by the Commission as to his letter.

As an explanation for his letter, he stated that from what he had read in newspapers and periodicals he thought that about eighty per cent or more of the Commission's investigation would deal with events subsequent to the assassination; for example, with such items as the determination of blame on various government or local agencies. That meant to him that not enough of the investigation would deal with the motivation of Oswald, which motivation he thought was communist inspired as indicated in his letter to the Commission. He also stated that he did not like the thought of the Commission possibly trying to place any blame for President Kennedy's death on the FBI, the Secret Service or the Dallas Police Department. Instead, he felt the blame for the assassination should be placed on the communist conspiracy.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

In his letter Congressman Dillion stated that the anticipated conclusions of the Commission as related in news reports would absolve internal and international communism from complicity in and guilt for the assassination; that these anticipated conclusions were contrary to the known facts. By known facts he said that he meant the background data of Oswald which has appeared in various publications and public source material, which to him painted a picture of a dedicated communist thoroughly trained and indoctrinated by the communists and Soviet Secret Police or KGB; that the assassination by Oswald would be one result of such training. He thought the blame for the assassination should be placed on the communist conspiracy and the Soviet Secret Police whose doctrines and teachings were directed toward world domination through assassination, sabotage, and all other means short of armed conflict.

In his letter the Congressman stated that American official and private investigative agencies have been silenced during this nine month period and, further, that the Commission's inquiries have suppressed the free flow of available information and prevented the American public from rendering a true and balanced judgment as to the communist role and involvement. The Congressman stated that by these statements he meant that the American people had been promised by the President the results of the FBI's investigation; that the results have not been published to date; that the FBI was not permitted to divulge any information from its reports; that independent investigations by Congress, the State of Texas, by county and city authorities, and even private individuals, had also been stalemated by the priority of the Commission. As a result of this, in his opinion, the Commission had, in effect while not intentional, suppressed any other source of information to the American public in this regard. He reasoned that the communists were using this delay to direct blame for the assassination on the rightist groups, rather than the leftist groups. In this respect, he cited Oswald's reported contribution of two dollars to the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), which to him meant Oswald was a member of that group. He thought that Oswald's connections with the ACLU had not been fully explored; that such exploration would tend to prove his leftist leanings and would fit in with his reported communistic background. He explained that his office had telephonically contacted the ACLU some time ago and was informed that the two dollars forwarded by Oswald was a contribution; that normally for such contribution he would have in time been mailed a membership card. He added that he had not seen published any elaboration on possible connection of Oswald and the ACLU, and it was his understanding at the time of his contact in the past with the ACLU that no investigative inquiry had been made at the ACLU concerning Oswald.

With regard to his statement that Oswald voluntarily became associated with the Soviet Secret Police, known as the KGB, he indicated that his source for this statement was a publication of the American Security Council, possibly unrecalled magazine articles, and published material in general on the case.

The Congressman also stated in his letter that following Oswald's arrival in Moscow the KGB arranged press conferences to publicize Oswald's defection. He also stated that the KGB provided Oswald with a job in a sheet metal shop of a radio factory in Minsk, which job was a sham "cover" job. The Congressman stated that the source for these statements was the "Washington Report" of the American Security Council dated March 16, 1964, entitled, "Background for Assassination." This report is the same as the publication of the American Security Council to which reference has been previously made.

With regard to his statement that Marina Oswald was "planted" by the KGB and induced to marry Oswald as part of a KGB operation, he stated that he indicated in his letter that this was a probability, hence conjecture on his part. He added that from his public source research of KGB methods of operation, this would seem to be a distinct possibility in his opinion. The Congressman also stated in his letter that the grant of an exit visa to Oswald and to his wife, Marina, was a most extraordinary Soviet act. He also stated that there could be no question but that Oswald and Marina were considered by the KGB to be potential agents for either specific or future assignments. He said that he based these statements on the fast service that the Oswalds reportedly received on their exit visas, and on comments reported in the previously described the "Washington Report" of the American Security Council.

Concerning the statement that the KGB had allowed Oswald to engage in target practice and shooting during his more than two years stay in Minsk, he stated that any KGB direction would be conjecture on his part consistent with his previously outlined thoughts regarding his understanding of KGB operations; that Mrs. Michael Paine of Irving, Texas, told his office about Oswald engaging in target practice with a rifle while in the Soviet Union. Mrs. Paine in turn received that information from conversations with Marina Oswald and the subject. The Congressman believed that the Reference Section of the Library of Congress, upon inquiry, was the source of his statement that the use of a rifle and practice privileges were absolutely forbidden by foreigners in the Soviet Union. He also mentioned that Mrs. Paine had advised hearing from either Marina or Oswald that Oswald had practiced "dry sighting" with a rifle in New Orleans. The Congressman explained that his office had telephonically contacted Mrs. Paine about three times last June or July.

The Congressman stated in his letter that a KGB directed school in terrorism, sabotage and assassination is located in the Minsk area. He said that the source of this statement was research at the Library of Congress which indicated that there was such a school at Minsk. Since Oswald was at Minsk and such a school was in the same vicinity, it seemed logical to Mr. Pillion to assume that Oswald received training there at such a school. He added that he had indicated in his letter that this receipt of specialized training and indoctrination from the KGB by Oswald during his extended assignment in Minsk was an assumption.

With regard to the statement in his letter that Oswald's mind and body was only an instrument for death, manipulated by sinister sources and vicious men," he meant no specific individuals but rather meant communists in general, or the KGB, since he assumed the KGB was involved in the direction of Oswald's activities.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Regarding the statement that Oswald became a cold, calculating, professional, paranoid killer who was intimately associated with the communist apparatus, this was a conclusion of the Congressman. Based on his experience in the past of observing communist techniques as a judge and practicing attorney, augmented by his interest and knowledge in and of communist conspiracies from youth, Oswald, in his opinion, fitted the classic pattern of the antisocial dedicated communist. The Congressman said he had no direct evidence or knowledge of any actual association of Oswald with any communist apparatus.

The Congressman indicated in his letter that Oswald made a number of trips to Mexico, where he consorted with communists. He also indicated in part that Oswald gravitated precisely to Mexico, not once, but on several occasions. In regard to these statements, the Congressman stated that he had no information indicating that Oswald had made more than one trip to Mexico. With regard to Oswald consorting with communists, it was his opinion that the fact Oswald visited the Soviet Embassy in Mexico would tend to substantiate such a statement. He pointed out also that there had been efforts made by some unrecalled individuals and organizations to seek out information concerning communist groups in Mexico but such efforts to his knowledge had been thwarted although it was commonly conceded that such groups did exist in that country and that Mexico was conceded as a hotbed for communist activities.

The Congressman also stated in his letter that Oswald was trained to kill for an attainment of a political objective. The Congressman related that this would appear to be self-evident because Kennedy was the President; Nixon was a former Vice President; Walker was a member of a rightist group; and Connally was a Governor. He stated that Oswald's action would fall into what he feels is a communist pattern of political assassinations. Since he previously expressed his opinion that Oswald fitted the classic pattern of a communist, the Congressman was of the opinion that Oswald's actions would have been communist-motivated, hence the reason for the statement in his letter that the sole and whole incitation and motivation of Oswald in all these killings and attempted killings were the communist ideology and the Communist Party world apparatus.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

The Congressman also indicated in his letter that there was an abundance of direct evidence linking Oswald to the Soviet Secret Police and further that evidence already available establishes Oswald's close association with the Soviet Secret Police and other communist agencies and terroristic groups. The Congressman said that he had no direct evidence of any such connection between Oswald and the groups described. He stated that he believed there was a great deal of circumstantial evidence to warrant such a statement such as Oswald's background, his residence in Russia, his probable association with the KGB, the statements in the published portion of his diary, the information set forth in previously described reports of the American Security Council, his participation in such organizations as the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, and his contribution to the ACLU. He said that while this evidence described would not satisfy legal requirements, he felt it was sufficient to be logically correct and in that sense, evidentiary for all other purposes except legal purposes.

Among the conclusions in his letter the Congressman indicated that Oswald's assassination of President Kennedy was part of a pattern of political assassinations and criminal anarchy; that in this homicide, Oswald was wholly influenced and motivated by his communist ideology, training, associations and objectives. He further concluded that the circumstantial evidence was sufficient to exclude to a moral certainty, any other hypothesis, except that Oswald assassinated President Kennedy to advance the world communist plan designed to ultimately destroy the United States and the free world. The Congressman also concluded that the lack of available direct evidence does not exclude the reasonable presumption that the KGB indoctrinated, trained and prepared Oswald as a professional specialist for future use as an assassin or terrorist. With reference to these conclusions, the Congressman stated that these would logically follow from his answers to the questions posed to him and which are set forth previously.

He again reiterated that he had no direct evidence of any association of Oswald with communism or the KGB.

At the conclusion of the interview Congressman Dillion requested that his letter of September 10, 1964, to the Commission be included in the record of the Commission. He also mentioned that he might produce a paper similar to his letter of September 10, 1964, but dealing mainly with his thoughts on the connection of the subject and the American Civil Liberties Union.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA - CUBA

On 9-10-64 Mr. J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission advised that a letter had been received from Congressman John R. Pillion, Republican from New York. Mr. Rankin stated that while many of the items in the letter were of no interest to the Commission, there were certain items concerning which he desired the Bureau to interview the Congressman. He also stated that he had talked to the Congressman concerning the letter and the Congressman was willing to be interviewed by the FBI.

A review of the letter sent to the Commission by Congressman Pillion discloses that the Congressman was of the belief that Oswald was definitely a tool of the communist conspiracy and that Oswald was greatly influenced and motivated by his communist ideology, training, associations and objectives. In his letter, Congressman Pillion stated that if the Warren Commission excludes communism as the prime motivating factor, then their report would, in effect, provide a "cover up" and a "white wash."

A review of Bufiles discloses that we have had limited though friendly relations with Congressman Pillion who is serving on the Appropriations Committee.

On 9-16-64 Congressman Pillion was interviewed by Agents of the Washington Field Office in the presence of his Administrative Assistant, Russell A. Rourke. The results of this interview were incorporated in a memorandum dated 9-17-64. During the interview Congressman Pillion stated that all of his statements in his letter to the President's Commission were based on public source data, including magazine articles, newspaper articles and the "Washington Report," which is a publication of the American Security Council, Washington, D. C. Congressman Pillion said that he has no confidential sources and that his conclusions were arrived at from reading the aforementioned publications.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. BELMONT
105-82555

During the interview, Congressman Pillion stated that he did not like the thought of the Commission possibly trying to place any blame for President Kennedy's death on the FBI, the Secret Service or the Dallas Police Department. Instead, he felt the blame for the assassination should be placed on the communist conspiracy. Congressman Pillion had no direct evidence of any association of Oswald with communism or the KGB (Committee of State Security).

The memorandum containing the results of the interview was furnished to the Commission by letter 9-18-64.

On 9-21-64 Supervisor Oberndorf, WFO, advised that Russell A. Rourke, Administrative Assistant to Congressman Pillion, had telephonically requested to be furnished a copy of the Congressman's interview.

RECOMMENDATION:

If you agree, Inspector Malley will contact Mr. Rankin and advise him that we have received this request from the Congressman and unless Mr. Rankin his some objection, it is our intention to furnish the Congressman with a copy of his interview with Bureau Agents. A copy of WFO's memorandum incorporating the interview is attached for reference purposes.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have read the transcript of your tes before the Warren Commission as publis the New York Herald Tribune of October 3, 19 was particularly impressed with your re Representative Hale Boggs when asked wo you cared to speculate on Oswald's mo in the assassination of President Kennedy substance of your answer reads as follows

" My speculation, Mr. Boggs, is the that this man was no doubt a dedicated Communist. ... He was a Communist, he sympathized thoroughly with the communis cause.

" I don't believe now, as I look back it now that he ever changed his views.

Later in the transcript when questi by Mr. Rankin as to the failure of your bu to furnish to the Secret Service your d on Oswald, you stated the following:

" We had .. the report of the State D thoroughly safe nick, he had changed his own he was a loyal man now."
[illegible]

I infer from your testimony that you fe in retrospect that the State Department inte was at fault in Oswald. Your considered opinio that the assassination of the President was an act of a dedicated Communist who sought to further his cause as he understood it. Any of the actions or statements that might tend to show had recanted his communist beliefs were a protective camouflage which apparently was successful in all deceiving government officials.

In the light of your testimony before the Warren Commission, I feel that you might w to review the text of the F. B. I. report on Harlem riots of July 18-23. The text publishe in the New York Times of September 27, 1964 states the following:

"The evidence indicates that apart from the actions of minor organizations or irresponsible individuals there was no systematic planning or organization of of the city riots"

May I refer you to my letter of Sept
23, 1964 which cites the connection of Mobil for youth with the riots in Harlem. It is dis established that officials of this agency have Communist backgrounds. The officials and with Bayard Rustin whose record of Communist affiliation has long been public knowledge. I am certain, in the light of your testimony about Oswald, that you would completely ignore his subsequent pious claims of conversion to non-violence.

The New York Times of September 22, 1964 published a retrospective story of Rustin's collaboration with acting Mayor Screvane in aborting a plot to explode three cases of dynamite on the first night of the riots which had taken place two months before. Rustin belated revelation is hardly consistent with the thesis that there was no systematic planning or organization of the riots. Even the Civil Rights organizations have shied away from Rustin on the grounds that he is "vulnerable." Simple logic would require that Rustin be regarded as a dedicated Communist and that his statements and acts be evaluated in the light of that premise.

To refresh your memory, Mr. Bayard Rustin, after he led the first New York City school boycott was an honored guest at the Soviet Embassy in New York. Mr. Rustin apparently makes no secret of his Communist sympathies. I recall further that at the great march on Washington he administered the pledge to Communist yectual of the clenched fist.

I assume, of course, that your Bureau ma a close surveillance over Mr. Bayard Rustin over any organizations with which he is affiliated. Since Mobilization for Youth at present prominently mentioned in the as being under investigation, I trust, that Rustin's connection with that agency is be given due weight.

It is significant that yesterday's New York
News reports that City Investigation Commis
Hon Michel has had in his possession fo over a month all the financial, personnel, policy records of Mobilization for Youth.
State Senate Committee headed by Senato Mavchi is demanding surrender of these records.

I believe that the Federal Governme should have a priority claim on these records which bear directly on matt of national security including the Ha riots and the assassination of President Kennedy.

Dear Mr. Anderson,

The "welkin has rung" with preelection "whitewash" by publication of The Warren Report, - apparently designed to help purify the image of the New Frontier & LBJ in respect to their notorious softness on Communism.

Despite Oswald's comings and goings to Russia, the U.S.S.R. is"clean as a beagle's tooth" in respect to the assassination - according to Warren.

However, I feel that the "News-Free Press" (on its 28 September front page) published part - but not all - of a very significant point.

The headline read "FBI Didn't Pass On Its Data On Oswald", and follows it with much detail concerning the suspicious actions of Oswald, already well known to the FBI before November 1963.

NOTHING - so far as I could find - WAS SAID, - OR ASKED - ABOUT, - "WHY DIDN'T BOBBY KENNEDY - WHO (as U.S. Attorney General) IS J. EDGAR HOOVER'S BOSS - ORDER HIS FBI AND THE SECRET SERVICE, et al TO KEEP OSWALD UNDER CLOSE SURVEILLANCE?"

Your Honor:

Reference is made to the assertion of the Report on the loss of our late President Kennedy by which the people are to understand that some of the CAUSE fo our loss of him is attributed to what seems as being a lack of liason between the Sec Service, F.B.I., and a local police force.

And reference is made to the assertion that all policing forces involved failed to make a thorough search of the route to be followed.

Your Honor, may we not inquire more deeply into those assertions? Ma we not account for what APPEARS to be (or looks like) a failure on the part of the Secret Service & FBI by inquiring whether those policing forces have any right to search & seizure in view of our American Constitution under any circumstances wit they, themselves, falling into the category of "lawbreakers"? Where those polic ing forces to date have demonstrated their awareness of the American Constitution on search & seizure by a powerful RESTRAINT.... and have even demonstrated an awareness of COLLUSION by minding their own business until called for.

I personally feel apprehensive over the recommendation which would combine the Secret Service & FBI--or do away with one or the other. By interpreta I mean that I find reason to be apprehensive when a CHANGE is recommended wher people OUTSIDE those policing forces would get access to their data, methods, & techniques during that CHANGE. Such a CHANGE--even theoretically--is absolut el dangerous during these times of powerful, potential enemies.

Also to consider is the Statute of Limitations...whereby it must be unlawful for anyone to cause anyone else to be considered & judged on the basis of d more than 3 years exactly old. Therefore, the FBI was lawfully correct to NOT ma any data available over 3 years old to anyone else--all policing forces included.

1 OCT 9 1964

The FBI has certainly commanded a greater general RESPECT from the public in recent times due to that policing forces acute sense for LAWFUL ACTION on its own past. Unless such a fundamental force of our government exercises the greatest care over its own lawful actions, it rapidly becomes not only wide open to criticism but also wide open to being FEARED rather than respected. When criticis & fear enters, the danger of a totalitarian police force enters also.

The Statute of Limitations had the direct effect of challenging the FBI particularly to speed-up its work.... in turn which forced it to become a more sp acting, efficient organization. That is as things should be. Since any accused is to speedy justice, then it follows that Society is obligated to provide that speedy opportunity unto justice; & the FBI has surely spared no corner-cutting to fulfill t obligation to the accused in the name of society.

I have to reflect back to the attempt upon the life of President Truma recall the job done by the people assigned to protect him.

Within the limits of the law prescribed by our Constitution, I simply find an instance that the Secret Service & FBI have let us down within the jurisdic assigned to them. If they had overstepped themselves, so called "local authoriti would have been at their throats... charging them & criticising them about "feder intervention into local affairs."

There are surely instances where "local authorities" are infiltrated-- that federal data could not be made available without adding to potential danger. T surely must be considered quietly. There are lots of people today who are still reluctant to forget a "local authority" such as the Denver Police Force a while ba

Your Honor, I appeal to your Commission for an amendment to the re on the basis of "NEW ENLIGHTENMENT" to fully support the Secret Service & th FBI--and to recommend a speedy, gradual increase in their forces with men & w of the highest, highest integrity they can find and train... if they want them and n them to insure a greater security for all of us.

To be SECURE both in person and place, we have to have policing for that are... to the man... completely within all LAW even during investigation, or suspecting, or pursuing, or prosecuting... or defending... or protecting.

I doubt that we could ever be right to allow that the Secret Service or is (or was) LAX when each one was staying within the limits of Law and yet doing utmost to do their job fully.

Whatever the FLAW may be, that FLAW which cost us a very great n began somewhere in the LACK OF FACTS OR EVIDENCE for absolute prosecutio Maj. General Walker was shot at. Even if we knew the probably location of the WEAPON, do we have the right to SEARCH & SEIZE for it? And would we not en our Constitution to find or make such a "right"?

If we eliminate magnitude as a dimension from the act by which we lo President Kennedy, we see clearly that an act against a Law of Nature was carri Our job, then, is to use our Constitution as well as all of its Spirit & Intent prece documents to LEGISLATE in such wise that such an act-potential would be minim so to speak. Essentially, I believe Jesus Christ had just that job in mind first and

In view of the fact the "Society of Dallas" absolutely failed its obligat to protect a suspects Constitutional Rights, such that a "fair, impartial jury" wo have been impossible anywhere, the evidence was there that the Secret Service & had prior reason(s) to NOT give up its data.

The problem, then, is how to lawfully secure our President in his pe & place when and if there is a reason(s) to maintain a gap between federal & loca authorities.

BY RALPH DE TOLEDANO

THE FBI AND THE WARREN COMMISSION

Although the Warren Commission's report on the murder of President Kennedy is only mildly critical of the FBI, the profession carpers have seized on a few words in the "conclusions and recommendations" in an effort to make a federal case of them.

The words seized upon charge the FBI with failing to realize that Lee Harvey Oswald, the Marxist murderer, was "a potential threat to the safety of the President."

That a Commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren should make this comment is, to begin with, a little ironic. The Supreme Court which Mr. Warren heads--and the civil liberties organizations which sustain his views--would have been the first to decry any "preventive" steps against the assorted Oswalds of this country.

In a city like New York, for example, the FBI would be compelled to round up and hold in preventive custody scores of individuals whose records as subversives and men of leftist violence are far worse than that of Lee Oswald. There are men loose in this country today who served on the "liquidation squads" of the Soviet underground, who studied tactics of subversion and violence at the Lenin school in Moscow, or who served their gory terms as "apparatchiks" of the Russian secret police.

Should such persons be held by the FBI or by local police whenever the President was within the localities they inhabit, the American Civil Liberties Union would rise up in indignation and horror at what would undoubtedly be called "police state treatment"--and a review by the Supreme Court would lead to a decision calling the practice unconstitutional.

I am not a lawyer, but I believe the court would be justified in this ruling. The United States does not punish or restrain "potential threats" of any kind. No one can tell what man will give in to lethal impulses. A conspiracy is something else again. A plot carries beyond the "potential" to the actual. In Lee Oswald's case, the Warren Commission insists that the act was irrational. No police or investigative force can delve into a man's mind, which is what the Warren Commission seems to be asking the FBI to do.

There is a great and tragic irony to the events which led to the murder of President Kennedy. The people who now criticize the FBI were those who dragged a red herring across the paths of understanding and action in the days before the terrible event. These people, with extremist insistence, argued at the top of their lungs that the real danger was the so-called "radical right"--whereas the radical left was no longer of any consequence. So loud were their voices that they drowned out reason and logic.

The first attempt at assassination in Texas was aimed at General Edwin A. Walker, a somewhat pathetic "leader" with no troops But this indication of murderous intent was brushed aside as of no consequence. Had the Walker attempt been investigated thoroughly, President Kennedy would probably be alive today.

There was, however, little interest in the case in Washington--certainly none in the higher echelons of the Justice Department. And this lack of interest was purely political. The target of the Justice Department was the radical right. So obsessive was the thinking that the Walker case was dismissed with the suggestion that the shots had been fired by a "rightist" to gain sympathy for the general.

If there was bad liaison between the Secret Service and the FBI, this might not have been so had the leadership in Washington and certain pundits of the press not focussed all their attention on the wrong subjects. To hear them or read them, there were rabid rightists under every bed. Why, therefore, should either the FBI or the Secret Service concern itself with one confused--and we are told--solitary Castroite.

The fact startlingly clear in the Warren Commission Report is that no amount of care could have saved Mr. Kennedy--or any President, for that matter. General de Gaulle is perhaps the best guarded man in the world today,but he is still being fired on, though word of the latter attempts has been suppressed by the French government.

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

Enclosed is an article which appeared in France-Soir, a daily French newspaper, on September 29, 1964, reporting the publication of the Warren Commission report on the assassination of President Kennedy. The article quotes the report in resolving several questions which may exist in the minds of French readers. It is noted that the last question asked is "Could the attack against President Kennedy have been avoided?" The answer given by the newspaper is "Yes, if the local police and the FBI had better coordinated their preventive efforts."

(De notre envoyé spécial permanent A. de SEGONZAC.)

WASHINGTON, 28 septembre (par fil spécial).

L'affaire Kennedy est close. C'est du moins ce que pensent la grande majorité des Américains après la publication dimanche soir du rapport Warren.

Présidée par le juge Warren, président de la Cour suprême, la plus haute instance judiciaire américaine, dont l'objectivité et l'indépendance ne sont pas contestées outre-Atlantique, la commission a, pendant dix mois entendu 552 témoins, analysé 30.000 pages de rapport où la police fédérale avait consigné 27.000 interrogatoires et auditions.

Toutes les techniques de la criminalogie ont été mises en œuvre, de l'examen des empreintes digitales à l'analyse spectrographique (d'un cheveu trouvé sur la couverture qui enveloppait le fusil, identique aux cheveux d'Oswald).

Les conclusions de la commission, les documents et témoignages sur lesquels elle s'est appuyée tiennent dans un ouvrage de 887 pages et 300.000 mots qui se résument en une phrase : Oswald a tué Kennedy et a agi seul et sans complice.

Robert Kennedy, frère et proche collaborateur du Président assassiné, ancien ministre de la Justice a publié un communiqué pour appuyer cette conclusion. Me Belli, avocat de J. Ruby (l'assassin de l'assassin) s'est déclaré également d'accord avec le rapport Warren. Le « New-York Herald » écrit de son côté : « Le rapport porte le sceau de la vérité », et le « New-York Times » parle d'un « admirable effort pour établir la vérité. »

La mère d'Oswald, en revanche, croit toujours à l'innocence de son fils. «

Le président Johnson a nommé une commission (comprenant notamment le ministre des Finances D. Dillon et le chef des services secrets J. Mc Cone) pour étudier la mise en œuvre des recommandations de la Commission Warren au sujet de la sécurité présidentielle. Il est possible qu'elle envisage de retirer, en totalité ou en partie, aux services secrets, la protection du président.

Un étrange regard

Tout en répondant aux questions les plus troublantes soulevées par l'assassinat du président des U.S.A. le 22 novembre dernier à Dallas (voir ci-dessous) le rapport contient un témoignage bouleversant, celui de Jackie Kennedy.

Jackie Kennedy a crié : « Mon Dieu, ils ont abattu mon mari. Je l'aime Jack », au moment même où le Président était mortellement blessé, révèle le rapport Warren.

Dès le premier coup de feu elle vit son mari porter la main à son front avec un étrange regard, elle-même avança sa main gauche jusqu'à la gorge du Président. « Puis elle entendit le second coup de feu et vit éclater le crâne du Président sous l'impact de la balle », dit encore le rapport qui précise que Jacqueline Kennedy ne se souvient pas d'avoir grimpé sur le siège arrière au moment du drame.

Toujours selon le rapport, cependant Mme Kennedy serait probablement tombée à la renverse et aurait pu se tuer ou se blesser, si l'agent secret Clinton Hill ne l'avait pas repoussée en avant.

Question. — Oswald était-il vraiment l'assassin ?

REPONSE. — Oui.

Dans le rapport, les photos d'Oswald.

Q. — Oswald avait-il des complices?

R. — La commission n'a trouvé aucune preuve digne de foi selon laquelle il aurait fait partie d'une conjuration intérieure ou étrangère quelconque.

Q. — Etait-il un agent communiste?

R. — Il n'existe aucune preuve digne de foi selon laquelle Oswald était un agent soviétique.

Documents sur la vie d'Oswald à Minsk.

Q. — S'agissait-il d'une conjuration de la droite?

R. — La commission n'a trouvé aucune preuve selon laquelle les vues extrémistes exprimées à l'endroit du président Kennedy par certains groupes de droite de Dallas ont eu un rapport avec le geste d'Oswald.

Kennedy l'avait prévu

WASHINGTON, 28 septembre (A.F.P.) — « Si on veut tirer sur le président des Etats-Unis ce n'est vraiment pas très difficile. Il suffit de trouver un bâtiment élevé et d'avoir un fusil à lunette. Il n'y a rien à faire pour se défendre contre un tel attentat », avait dit le président Kennedy à l'un de ses proches collaborateurs, Kenneth O'Donnell, le matin du jour où il fut assassiné.

Q. — Ruby (qui assassina Oswald le surlendemain du meurtre du président) connaissait-il Oswald?

R. — La commission a conclu qu'Oswald et Ruby n'entretenaient pas de relations de conjuration.

Q. — L'officier de police J.-D. Tippit (assassiné par Oswald alors qu'il tentait de l'arrêter) connaissait-il son assassin?

R. — L'enquête n'a révélé aucune preuve selon laquelle Oswald et Tippit se seraient connus.

Q. — La carabine d'Oswald était-elle l'arme du crime?

R. — Les fragments de balles et les douilles découverts correspondent à la carabine Mannlicher-Carcano d'Oswald, n° C. 2766.

Q. — Combien de coups de feu ont été tirés?

R. — Deux balles sont probablement à l'origine des blessures du président et du gouverneur Connally. Trois coups de feu ont été tirés, une balle a probablement manqué la voiture.

Le gouverneur Connally : « Ce n'est pas la première balle qui m'a atteint »

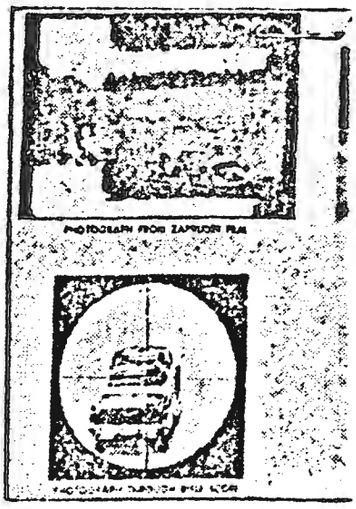
AUSTIN (Texas), 28 sept. (U.P.I.). — Le gouverneur du Texas, M. John Connally, qui fut grièvement blessé à côté du président Kennedy, est en désaccord avec le passage du rapport Warren concernant les coups de feu tirés le jour de l'assassinat. « Je suis persuadé, sans l'ombre d'un doute, que ce n'est pas le premier coup de feu qui m'a atteint (thèse du rapport). J'ai entendu le premier coup de feu et je me suis retourné pour voir le président... J'ai senti l'impact de la deuxième balle, sans entendre le coup. Mais j'ai entendu le troisième coup de feu atteindre le président Kennedy et j'ai vu les résultats. »

Q. — Le pare-brise de l'auto présidentielle fut-il percé par une balle tirée de face, du pont sur lequel le convoi allait s'engager?

R. — Non. Il fut éraflé par un éclat d'un projectile tiré par Oswald. Aucun coup de feu ne fut tiré du pont.

Q. — Oswald était-il bon tireur?

R. — Oswald était un tireur d'élite à la carabine M-1



La voiture, telle que la vit le tueur

Q. — A-t-il pu tirer aussi vite?

R. — Des essais approfon effectués ont démontré qu'il ét possible de tirer trois balles a la carabine en cinq secondes

Q. — Oswald était-il en Russie agent de la C.I.A. ou du F.B.I

R. — Mrs Marguerite Osw (la mère de Lee Harvey Oswa a fréquemment exprimé l'opin que son fils était un tel age mais elle a déclaré devant commission : « Je ne peux prouver que Lee ait été agent. » Les directeurs de C.I.A. et du F.B.I. ont décl devant la commission qu'Osw n'avait jamais été employé aucun des deux organismes à titre quelconque.

Q. — L'attentat contre le présid Kennedy aurait-il pu être évi

R. — Oui, si la police loc et le F.B.I. avaient mieux c donné leurs enquêtes préventi

« Sources sûres mais confidentielles » précise la commission Warren

WASHINGTON, 28 septembre (A P.). — La commission Warren s'es appuyée en partie sur des rensei gnements confidentiels qu'elle esti me ne pouvoir désigner, pour décla rer Lee Harvey Oswald coupable de l'assassinat du président Kennedy.

C'est ainsi que « des sources extrêmement sûres » au Mexique ont fourni des informations sur le voyage effectué par Oswald dans ce pays. « L'identité de ces informateurs ne saurait être révélée, sans annihiler leur utilité à l'avenir pour les Etats-Unis », précise le rapport.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Enclosed herewith is the July 14, 1964 issue of the Liberty magazine which is a Canadian publication. On page 13 of this issue there appears an article by "Norman Similas, as told to Ken Armstrong." We call your attention to the second column of page 13 in which it is stated "one of the pictures I took as the presidental [sic] car passed, showed two figures beside the gun barrel in the window. A reporter for the Dallas Times also saw two figures. His newspaper published that story too. I have never heard another reference to it since."

We request that your Bureau contact the author of this article and obtain if possible the photograph referred to therein. We also request that you determine the name of the reporter referred to in the article in order to ascertain whether such a picture ever existed.

The President's Commission by letter dated 9/3/64 furnished excerpts from the July 15, 1964, issue of "Liberty" magazine, a Canadian publication copies of which are enclosed for Legat, Ottawa and Dallas. The Commission makes reference to page 13 of this issue concerning an article by one "Norman Similas as told to Ken Armstrong" and specifically the second column on page 13 in which it is stated 'one of the pictures I took as the presidential car passed, showed two figures beside the gun barrel in the window. A reporter for the Dallas Times also saw two figures. His newspaper published that story too. I have never heard another reference to it since."

The Commission requests the author of the article be contacted and if possible obtain the photograph referred to. The Commission also requests that the Bureau determine the name of the presumably Dallas Times reporter referred to in the article in order to "ascertain whether such a picture ever existed.

According to the N. W. Ayer and Son's 1964 issue of the Directory of Newspaper and Periodicals "Liberty" magazine is a monthly Canadian publication printed in Toronto, Canada by the Fengate Publishing Co., 55 York Street, Toronto. The editor of the magazine is reportedly John Dalrymple.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

No information identifiable with Norman Similas or Ken Armstrong with a locality in Canada could be identified in Bureau files.

Legat, Ottawa, through sources endeavor to comply with Commission's request at earliest practicable time. Furnish results of investigation in appropriate letterhead memorandum without property stamp for dissemination to the President's Commission. If the photograph is obtained, duplicate copies will be made at the Bureau. Should the identity of the Dallas Times reporter be ascertained, furnish identity by cablegram so that appropriate continental investigation can be initiated. Advise the Bureau of any delays anticipated in complying with Commission's request.

Although the Commission has not requested further investigation in this matter, it is noted in the concluding paragraph of this article there is a statement an additional installment was to appear in the August, 1964, issue. Legat, Ottawa, through sources endeavor to obtain a copy of this issue for the Bureau's review and evaluation.

NOTE:

The allegation by the author possibly refers to photographs of two Negroes directly below the floor from which the shots which killed President Kennedy were fired. The Commission is fully aware of this photograph taken immediately after the last shot. We have never developed any evidence or information disclosing that an actual rifle barrel was photographed, although some witnesses have stated they saw a rifle barrel being withdrawn from the window after the last shot. When the results are received the Commission will be promptly notified.

Commission

Dear Mr. Hoover:

This letter confirms a telephone conversation of this date between Mr. Norman Redlich of the Commission staff and Special Agent Cortlandt Cunningham of your Bureau.

Mr. Redlich requested that the rifle used in the assassination be tested outdoors to determine whether a flame is visible from the muzzle of this weapon when it is fired. If possible, we would like this test to be performed on Monday, September 21, 1964.

We further request that the results of this test be forwarded by telephone either to Mr. Redlich or to Mr. Howard P. Willens of the Commission staff and that the results then be confirmed by letter.

Your cooperation in the work of the Commission is appreciated.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Kemper:

I enclose a script for the first one hour and forty-five minutes of the two hour and ten minute production, FOUR DAYS IN NOVEMBER. The last twenty minutes are about the funeral and has no reference to Oswald or Ruby, or any other details in Dallas, but rather are mostly the eulogy and films of the actual funeral.

The script has been read by the Warren Commission. While they did not give us any information on what we may have left out, they did tell us that what is in it is accurate. We did remove one scene which they told us was not verified.

After you have read the script, I would appreciate a call to hear any of your comments -- first, as to accuracy or any errors and, second, as to your own personal opinion. If there is any other way we can be of assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us and we will be only too happy to oblige.

By letter dated September 21, 1964, Mr. David L. Wolper, President, Wolper Productions, Incorporated, furnished the script for the first one hour and forty-five minutes of a two hour and ten minute motion picture "Four Days in November which is to be released on October 6, 1964, in Washington, D. C., and then afforded nation-wide distribution.

According to the letter the remainder of the script relates to President Kennedy's funeral. Mr. Wolper requested our comments as to the accuracy of the script and our opinion of it.

Supervisors in the General Investigative Division and Domestic Intelligence Division familiar with the Oswald and related investigations have reviewed the script and the following inaccuracies of possible pertinence were noted:

On page four, item six, it is indicated Dallas papers published the President's probable route on November 16, 1963, six days before his visit.

The route was not published until November 19, 1963, as the final commitmen was not agreed upon until November 18, 1963.

On page five, item eight, it is indicated that the Dallas Police Department in cooperation with the Secret Service and "other Government agencies" assisted in the security measures prior to the President's visit.

This would imply that "other Government agencies" were responsible for physical security arrangements whereas this is the responsibility of the Secret Service.

On page thirty, item seventy-nine, in dramatizing the actions taken immediately after the assassination, it is stated that Oswald was reported missing from the Texas School Book Depository and that "Instantly the call goes out --- pick up Lee Harvey Oswald."

This is erroneous as Oswald was not missed until about 12:45 pm and the police had not started to check on his whereabouts until after he was arrested for the shooting of Tippit. Since the assassination occurred at 12:30 pm and Tippit's shooting was reported at 1:18 pm, the above statement would imply that Oswald's identity was known much sooner than actually known.

On page thirty-six, item ninety-eight, it is stated at 1:25 pm the police were hunting Oswald. The same objection set out above applies here as the Dallas Police Department did not commence looking for Oswald until later, only to realize he had already been arrested.

On page thirty-seven, item one hundred, it is indicated Officer J. D. Tippit was shot three times.

Four slugs were removed from Tippit's body.

On page thirty-seven, item one hundred and two, it is indicated that shoe salesman John Brewer was alerted by a radio description and followed Oswald to the Texas theater (where he was later arrested).

John Brewer followed Oswald because he acted suspicious and he saw Oswald with a gun and not because of any description of Oswald as none was available at that time.

On page fifty-three, item one hundred and forty, it is stated that the paraffin test was one of the links connecting Oswald with the assassination weapon.

This is erroneous as these tests were essentially negative and our Laboratory experts have so testified before the President's Commission. In addition highly technical examinations made by the Atomic Energy Commission and our Laboratory on the paraffin casts could not connect Oswald with the rifle.

On page fifty-four, item one hundred and forty-one, it is indicated that certain maps found at Oswald's residence were incriminating.

This is completely inaccurate. They were not incriminating.

On page sixty, item one hundred and fifty-nine, it is indicated Oswald at five years of age had already spent two years in a boarding institution.

Oswald only spent thirteen months in a boarding institution at five years of age.

On page sixty-nine, item one hundred and eighty-five, it is indicated that on Sunday (November 24, 1963) Jack Ruby took a dip in his apartment house swimming pool.

Our investigation has failed to disclose any such swim, however, he did go to the apartment house "washateria" for a short period in the morning.

RECOMMENDATION.

That the above inaccuracies be brought to the attention of Mr. Wolper by the Crime Records Division.

SUBJECT: FOREIGN TELEVISION PROGRAM ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY U. S. INFORMATION AGENCY (USIA)

You have previously been advised of the fact that the USIA, with the con of the White House and with the cooperation of the Warren Commission, is preparing motion picture of 30 minutes duration for showing overseas which will be based on the Commission report. Since last August, the USIA has been in contact with the Bureau a has asked our cooperation in the filming of certain scenes which are set out below. W have not moved on this project until we have a specific green light from the Commissi to do so.

Reference is made to memo Rosen to Belmont dated 8/11/64 wherein Inspector Malley contacted Rankin on this matter and where he advised that the Presid Commission does not desire the Bureau to furnish any specific information at that tim and that they should contact the Commission and discuss the matter in detail.

On 9/21/64, Mr. Rankin called Kemper and stated that it would be perf satisfactory for the Bureau to cooperate with USIA and further that they had read and approved the script.

The producer of the show is Mr. Marvin Lipman, and he visited the Bureau on 9/22/64 after getting the "go ahead" from Rankin. He said that they would the following:

1. A brief scene which would show 4 or 5 Agents walking into the front door (exterior the Commission offices. This would be carried over narration indicating that the Commission had full support of all law enforcement offices, including the FBI.

2. They would like to have the actual Agent from the Laboratory who testified before Commission in connection with firearms identification. This would be SA Robert A. Frazier. He would give a very brief resume of his findings. (What he would say wou be prepared by USIA and approved by us and by the Commission.)

3. Same situation as to the Document examiner who would be SA James C. Cadigan. It was his examinations which tied Oswald to the order for the gun, the order for the Post Office box and the money order. (Arrangements for text would be same as above

4. They desire the same thing in connection with the fingerprint examiner, who would be Sebastian F. Latona. (Text would be the same as stipulated above.)

Mr. Lipman in addition asked for numerous exhibits, documents, make ups, etc. Kemper advised him that these were in the possession of the Commission a they would have to secure them through the Commission.

Mr. Lipman said that the script is still in the process of being prepare and the minute it is prepared we would have an opportunity to review it.

RECOMMENDATION:

This, of course, is merely a status memorandum to bring this matter t to date. If there are no objections, we will proceed to work cautiously with USIA and follow this project very, very closely. Anything to be done will first be cleared with t Director and with the Commission.

September 23, 1964

I think this is advisable from the standpoint that it would be well to get across the message to foreign audiences that the FBI worked closely with the Warren Commission and performed the authoritative investigation upon which the findings are based.

From a public relations standpoint this puts the Bureau on the side of right and will minimize any public feeling that the FBI was remiss in this matter or had something to hide.

Pursuant to Mr. Tolson's request, my views are as follows:

We should keep in mind that regardless of our cooperation or participation that this motion picture will be released and, therefore, it would be to the Bureau's advantage to insure that our position and the outstanding work the Bureau performed in connection with the President's assassination are presented in the most favorable light and this can be accomplished only by our participating in this project.

It would seem clear, however, that prior to committing ourselves further we should review the entire script and the report to be issued this weekend prepared by the Warren Commission.

Mr. Belmont states in his note that it would be advisable to get across the message that the FBI worked closely with the Warren Commission and performed the authoritative investigation upon which the "findings" are based. I agree with this with the exception that if the "findings" are critical of the Bureau, I doubt that we should be in the position of supporting the Commission's findings.

I agree with the observations of Belmor
DeLoach, and Sullivan and would like t that the film is being prepared for fore consumption. It would seem that what important is that we get a proper imag

be taken to get this image in the hands

There can be no doubt that the Commission's report could never have been prepared if it had not been for the facilities of the FBI.

I assume that the above action is being taken but nevertheless mention it because it becomes so obvious upon reading the action being taken

Dear Sir:

I am taking the liberty to send you the enclosed leaflet since you are evidently not aware of what is going on behind the scenes in this country.

I always had the highest respect for your and your staff's acumen but if you can say that Communists had hardly an influence in the recent riots or in the Civil Right Movement, - if you can declare that Lee Oswald committed the murder on his own and not as a tool of the Red conspiracy then I feel sorry for you and I fear for us all!

Any wholesale onslaught on law and order nowadays will prove to be inspired by Communists for this is their first objective. Both, racial feelings and agitation are the cause of these riots for the Reds know how to incite hatred for the police which is the main obstacle to desired chaos.

Either you fail to discern the facts as many citizens do from their own observations or you are muzzled by our present administration which is easing our country into accomodation with Moscow and into ultimate sovietisation.

In any case this is a very sad, disappointing and alarming state of affairs. The Communists can relax.

I hope you forgive my frankness. Very sincerely, Mr. Hoover,

Yours

Mrs. M. O'Shea

P.S. The motive for the murder? Kennedy was not considered cooperative, accomodating enough by the Soviets. They had studied Johnson thoroughly and had become convinced that he was their man. So he is. Very obliging. - - - Pardon my presumptiousness.

P. S. 2. The FBI agents are certainly entitled to a pay raise like everybody else at least. But it will hardly lower the increase in crime. It is rather the incredible leinency of the courts which takes the fear of punishment out of wrong doing.

SUBJECT: IMPLEMENTATION OF WARREN COMMISSION RECOMMENDATIONS

Acting AG Katzenbach called at 4:15 p.m. to advise that he had been requested to attend a meeting of the President's Committee, consisting of himself; Secretary of Treasury Dillon; Mr. McCone; and Mr. Bundy, relative to the implementation of the Warren Commission recommendations.

He said he had a memorandum from Secretary Dillon which was to be considered at this meeting tomorrow morning at 11 a.m., and he would like to have us look it over and flag any items that appeared questionable on their face. He suggested that we copy this material and return the attached to him. I told him to send the material over and we would see what it was.

This appears to be a recommendation by Secret Service for an expanded program for the protection of the President, the Vice President, and their families, requiring about 20 months to implement and an expenditure of three million dollars.

It is suggested that we copy this and [illegible] it over tonight. It is doubtful that we can make any comment as it appears to be strictly the plans of Secret Service. We will have a memorandum on the Director's desk in the morning with a recommendation as to what we should tell Katzenbach.

In response to your inquiry, this is to advise that we have not to date seen the testimony before the Commission of Secret Service Chief James J. Rowley or of Robert I. Bouck, Agent in Charge of the Protective Research Section of that agency. The facts, as we know them concerning Secret Service testimony before the Commission, follow:

On 4-13-64 Rankin told Inspector Malley that unnamed Secret Service representatives told the Commission that Secret Service would have had Oswald under surveillance in Dallas 11-22-63 had they been furnished information concerning his activities. On 4-17-64 this was discussed with Chief Rowley who was shocked and indignant. Rowley said that at no time was any question raised by the Commission concerning a possible surveillance of Oswald and that the only persons who could speak for Secret Service in that regard were himself and Bouck. Rowley said flatly that Secret Service would make no statement that Oswald would have been placed under surveillance as there was no information indicating the possibility of physical violence on his part. He said, therefore, Oswald would not have been placed under surveillance and he added that had Secret Service checked the School Book Depository Building they would have taken no action concerning Oswald as he was employed in the building.

On 4-23-64 Bouck of Secret Service testified before the Commission and on 4-24-64 Rankin told Malley that Bouck told the Commission some action probably would have been taken concerning Oswald had Secret Service been advised of his activities prior to the assassination. Rankin said that the 3 Commission members present during Bouck's testimony did not "buy" it and felt that Bouck was being evasive and attempting to look after his own position in the Secret Service.

Bouck's testimony on 4-23-64 followed the assurance of Chief Rowley on 4-22-64 that he would brief Bouck on the official position of Secret Service, namely that they would not have placed Oswald under surveillance even if they had information he was in Dallas in view of no history of physical violence and that had they checked the School Book Depository building they would have taken no action concerning Oswald as he was an employee there.

You (Belmont) testified before the Commission 5-6-64 and the Director presented his testimony 5-14-64. Chief Rowley testified before the Commission 6-18-64. Prior to testifying, Rowley asked to be permitted to review that portion of the Director's testimony and your testimony which related to Secret Service. He was permitted to see that testimony on 6-15-64 and at his request, Rowley on 6-17-64 personally met with the Director the day before he testified.

On 9-25-64 Inspector Thomas Kelly offered to furnish to Malley the transcript of the testimony of Agent in Charge Bouck.

As the full testimony of the Secret Service officials will not be made public for some time, it would be of interest for us to see exactly what they said to the Commission.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that Liaison request Secret Service to furnish us with the already offered testimony of Agent in Charge Bouck and the testimony of Chief Rowley.

SUBJECT: CHANGES BUREAU HAS EFFECTED IN DISSEMINATION TO SECRET SERVICE RELATIVE TO PROTECTION OF THE PRESIDENT SINCE 11/22/63

There is attached a memorandum to the Acting Attorney Gener regarding the changes the Bureau has effected in dissemination procedures to Secret Service since November 22, 1963. In our memora to the Acting Attorney General we have avoided any reference to the Security Index and have shown the changes in accordance with testimo before the Warren Commission.

We have included in the Acting Attorney General's memorandu the fact that we have disseminated approximately 18,000 names to Secret Service under the broadened criteria. We have reiterated to him the fact that we have loaned a total of 353 Agents to Secret Ser and due to our pressing and increasing responsibilities in the Civil Rights and criminal fields, we must be relieved of loaning personnel to Secret Service. We have pointed out the undesirability of divide responsibility in protection of the President.

ACTION:

There is attached the proposed memorandum to the Acting Attorney General.

There is also attached the memorandum from Assistant Direct Sullivan which goes into more detail on the changes that we made.

INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA - CUBA

This reviews pertinent portions of the on-the-record testimony before the Commission of Robert I. Bouck, Agent in Charge of Secret Service Protective Research Section, and of Chief James J. Rowley and responds to the Director's inquiry as to why we did not previously check Bouck's testimony.

Page 458 of the Commission's report records that Bouck expressed belief that the accumulation of facts known to the FBI should have constituted a sufficient basis to warn the Secret Service of the Oswald risk. This statement does not accurately record Bouck's testimony on this point and is definitely out of context. Bouck testified that Oswald's status as a defector would have been of no consequence to the Secret Service. Under questioning of Commissioner McCloy and Counsel Stern, he enumerated several factors developed re Oswald's background, two of which were not known at the time of the assassination and said that if all that information had been furnished, plus the fact that Oswald worked on the parade route, Secret Service would have "looked at that." He emphasized that he did not know that the FBI was aware of all the information about which he spoke and he expressed the opinion that this information was scattered through many Federal agencies.

Bouck did not make any statement to the effect that the Bureau should have furnished its information to the Secret Service at the time of the assassination. Elsewhere, he admitted that Secret Service had no written criteria defining threats to the President; that none of the known factors concerning Oswald in themselves indicated danger to the President; and that the agency knows of "tremendous numbers of people who are bad people that we don't keep an eye on." 62-109090

Chief Rowley, when asked what Secret Service would have done had Oswald's name been submitted to him at the time of the assassination, said "If...we had this present criteria, then we would investigate him." Rowley hedged his answer and did not directly reply to Commissioner Dulles' inquiry and the matter was dropped. Rowley previously testified that there were no written criteria defining danger to the President; that written criteria were prepared and extended subsequent to the assassination. It was to the latter criteria he referred when answering Dulles' question as to what they would have done on 11-22-63.

Bouck testified on 4-23-64 and the Director has inquired why we did not check his testimony previously.

From the inception of this investigation, it has been our intention to render full and complete cooperation to the Commission. In the early stages, it was clear from information furnished by Rankin that the Commission did not desire to release to investigating agencies any of the testimony taken by the Commission from outside sources. Rankin confidentially and in general terms advised Malley in April, 1964, of some statements made by Bouck and unnamed Secret Service representatives. When pressed for specifics by Malley, Rankin became somewhat disturbed and said he was not at liberty to furnish the desired information. At the time, we weighed carefully the advisability of making inquiry at the Secret Service for we regarded it likely that such inquiry would get back to Rankin and cause him to distrust us. We decided then to talk to Rowley without indicating that our information came from the Commission or its staff and we so advised Rankin. To have asked to see testimony of Secret Service officials would have indicated to Secret Service that the source of our information was from within the Commission. For this reason, we did not seek out the actual testimony.

Furthermore, we did not want the Commission to gain the impression that we were endeavoring to thwart its wishes by way of attempting to gain access to information it did not want us to have at the time.

ACTION:

Foregoing is for information. Pertinent pages of Bouck's testimony attached.

Quash 'Get Hoover' Campaign

One disquieting footnote to the Warren report is the apparent glee in some quarters over criticism of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and its director, J. Edgar Hoover.

This could develop into intensive renewal of the old leftist push to force Hoover out of the FBI, even though the wording of the Warren report itself does not offer very firm basis for such a campaign.

First put into words by the Daily Sketch of London, it is predictable that the cry will be taken up by the anti-Hoover forces in this country and played for all it's worth. Forecasting that U.S. public opinion will demand sweeping changes in the security system, the Sketch said:

"One possibility is the resignation of J. Edgar Hoover — Mr. G-Man."

The facts of the matter — which are certain to be obscured — are that primary responsibility for protection of the president lies with the Secret Service and not with the FBI, and that the high order of efficiency which characterizes the FBI is attributable in large measure to "Mr. G-Man" himself.

The Warren report said: "Although the FBI, in the normal exercise of its responsibility, had secured considerable information about Lee Harvey Oswald, it had no official responsibility, under the Secret Service criteria existing at the time of the President's trip to Dallas, to refer to the Secret Service the information it had about Oswald.

"The Commission has concluded, however, that the FBI took an unduly restrictive view of its role in preventive intelligence work prior to the assassination. A more carefully coordinated treatment of Lee Oswald by the FBI might well have resulted in bringing Oswald's activities to the attention of the Secret Service."

There may be a generous helping of hindsight in the latter statement, but it seems clear that lack of communication between the Secret Service and the FBI is subject to criticism and corrective action.

It would be most unfortunate, however, if this criticism should be allowed to escalate into a new "get Hoover" campaign. Such a putsch would cast an unfavorable light on the entire Warren report.

Those who have charged from the beginning that the Warren commission was set up to do a whitewash job (on suggestion of the Communist Daily Worker, at that) would be given free ammunition for further attacks.

It should be nipped in the bud. And perhaps this could be done most effectively by an unequivocal statement from President Johnson.

This the President has never done.

Pages 22243-22244. Senator Mansfield, (D) Montana, commended the members of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy. He stated "There are those, I assume, who will find fault with the report; but certainly no American can find fault with the members who comprised the Commission." Mr. Mansfield advised that the President created a Panel under the chairmanship of the Secretary of the Treasury, Douglas Dillon, to go over the recommendations made by the Commission. Mr. Mansfield stated "It is my further understanding that this Panel will meet with the President later this week." DATE: 9-29-64

FROM : Mr. D. J. Brennan, Jr.

SUBJECT: IMPLEMENTATION OF WARREN COMMISSION RECOMMENDATIONS

We have reviewed the attached memorandum of 9-28-64 to the Acting Attorney General Katzenbach from Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon and its enclosures consisting of Secret Service Planning Document of 8-27-64 and a copy of Dillon's letter of 8-31-64 transmitting it to the Bureau of the Budget. On 9-28-64 Katzenbach asked us to look over this material and flag any items appearing questionable on their face in anticipation of a meeting of the President's Committee relative to the implementation of the Warren Commission recommendation, to be held 11 a.m., 9-29-64.

On enclosed memorandum Belmont to Tolson dated 9-28-64 reporting Katzenbach's request the Director noted: "O.K. I want to indicate we must be relieved of furnishing Agent personnel as our own burdens have more than tripled." H

The Secret Service document is captioned "Plan to Meet Requirements for Expanded Protection of the President and the Vice President of the United States." It provides for additional manpower (totaling 205 Agents, 5 technicians and 50 clerks), additional equipment, research and other support; will take about twenty months to implement; and will require expenditure of approximately $3,000,000 during that period.

Secret Service points out that while it has made changes in procedure and reorganized some internal operations since the assassination of President Kennedy, it believes these are not enough and that it is vital to take immediate action to improve its capabilities and performance in a number of areas. It states that expansion of facilities in the Protective Research Section (PRS) will require additional manpower; to insure technical security of locations used by the President; make surveys in advance of Presidential trips; provide 24-hour coverage in PRS; design an automated records system in PRS; and create a group of 5 Agents to maintain personal liaison with other agencies at the Seat of Government. The plans also include additional Agents for field offices and calls for expansion and improvement of training facilities including development of a new training facility at Beltsville, Maryland.

Technical and protective equipment and aids proposed include body protection equipment, intrusion detection and emergency lighting systems at the White House, and 101 new automobiles with two-way radio equipment.

OBSERVATIONS:

There is nothing objectionable from the Bureau's standpoint in the Secret Service planning document. Of particular interest it is pointed out on pages 11 and 11a that the Secret Service, by necessity, has had to call on other Federal law enforcement agencies for help to assist in protection of the President. The Secret Service comments that requests from other agencies should be kept to a minimum both because it puts a strain on their resources and because the Secret Service agents, because of their specialized training, are better qualified to perform protective duties. Inasmuch as this document involves Secret Service internal planning, it is not felt that we should comment on each item therein.

ACTION:

Enclosed is a memorandum for the Acting Attorney General in line with the above observations.

By memorandum of 9-11-64, advised a request had been received from the President's Commission to conduct interviews of Commission members and staff concerning the leaks to news media. Interviews were conducted with Commission members and staff, and former Ruby attorneys and interview with Chief Justice Warren was held in abeyance pending the receipt of results from these individuals.

INFORMATION DEVELOPED

As a result of our investigation into this matter, and specifically regarding the leak of Ruby's interview with Chief Justice Warren, we have interviewed 80 individuals including Ruby's attorney and former attorneys. By communications dated September 23, September 25, September 29, and October 1, 1964, we furnished the Commission results of these interviews. We have obtained copies of Ruby's testimony from the Commission to attempt to determine by appropriate examination, if the leak occurred within the Commission. We have attempted to obtain copies of this transcript published in the "New York Journal American" under the by-line of Dorothy Kilgallen. However, contact with personnel of the "New York Journal American" and with Dorothy Kilgallen, has established these sources were uncooperative. 62-109090

All of the individuals interviewed during the course of this investigation have denied leaking material to the news media. However, various comments made by those interviewed are pertinent. Mr. J. Lee Rankin advised all transcripts were originally classified "top secret" and were later changed to "confidential" when the procedure of handling top secret material became too burdensome and unworkable. Mr. John J. McCloy commented "the Commission did not have complete control over the dissemination of certain transcripts, as he thought it was necessary in certain instances for the Commission to furnish copies to defense counsel and the District Attorney's Office." His comments were related to the testimony of Ruby before Chief Justice Warren. Mrs. Beverly A. Heckman, Secretary to Mr. Rankin, commented that all testimony and depositions were classified top secret but that the system of document control rapidly broke down and became unworkable. She attempted to execute control over dissemination of documents, but material was continually passing from one to another of personnel working within the Commission and became an impossible task to attempt to keep records on the whereabouts of any specific document. Mrs. Heckman indicated the Commission had two Xerox machines and they were freely used by any staff member to prepare copies of any document. To her knowledge, there was no record maintained of copies of material that were reproduced by Commission personnel. Mr. Norman Redlich when interviewed, advised he has no knowledge of internal control of documents and he knows of no receipt system for documents and explained the attorneys on the Commission had felt free to use copies of testimony in which they were interested. He said he made no effort to become knowledgable on the administrative details on handling Commission documents. Mrs. Jeanne Hauer, Secretary, President's Commission, advised she has worked in other agencies where strict security of documents was enforced. Her experience indicated this was not the case with the Commission. She said any member of the Commission staff could make Xerox copies of virtually any Commission document at any time with no problem.

Many persons left employment of the Commission and extensive investigation was conducted to locate them. All but one individual has been interviewed and efforts are being made to locate this person.

The Laboratory has five copies of the Ruby transcript obtained from the Commission which were prepared for the Commission by Ward and Paul, the Commercial Reporting Agency. These copies bear confidential stamps and efforts are being made to obtain the confidential stamps from Ward and Paul and from the Commission to make examinations with the transcripts and Page 103, which appeared in the "New York Journal American." On June 23, 1964, Joe H. Tonahill, Attorney for Ruby, requested a copy of Ruby's transcript which was furnished to him by letter June 27, 1964, over the signature of Mr. Rankin. We have obtained this copy and appropriate examinations are being made of this copy in our Laboratory.

ACTION

Inasmuch as we have interviewed all other members of the Commission, we could complete the record by interviewing Chief Justice Warren. However, it is recommended we not do so.

WFO is being instructed to conduct additional investigation to assist and facilitate further Laboratory examinations and to have one remaining individual located, a former stenographer, for interview.

Page 23227. Congressman Johansen, (R Michigan, spoke concerning State Department doubletalk. He made reference to recent reports regarding the Department's security file burning order and his inability to get straightforward answers from a Department official. Mr. Johansen also commented on the testimony of Mr. Hoover before the Warren Commission in which Mr. Hoover makes reference to a State Department report on Oswald. Mr. Johansen pointed out that this testimony brought a retort from State Department press spokesman Robert J. McCloskey. Mr. Johansen went on to state "The issue here is not that this conclusion was tragically mistaken—possibly unavoidably so. The issue here is that by its typically State Department doubletalk the State Department is trying to convey to the American people the impression that blunt-speaking, forthright J. Edgar Hoover does not know what he is talking about. As between Mr. Hoover and the FBI on the one hand, and Mr. McCloskey and the State Department, on the other, most Americans will have no great problem deciding which one they understand—and believe."

Dear Sir,

Let me assure you that the smear against you and your office by the Warren Commission & its dubious report, haven't gone unnoticed.

Just you hold down that fort a little longer, because help is on its way.

Whether you know it or not, there's a grass roots rebellion in progress.

ANONYMOUS COMMUNICATION
KEEP ENVELOPE ATTACHED

The following anonymous letter was sent to the Director from New York, N.Y.

(October 5, 1964)

Note - Have had a cataract operation and need lines to write on.

Dear Mr. Hoover -- " A fan letter"

Read your statement in the morning papers re Oswald. I commend your attitude. He should have been signed up right in the American Embassy as having given up his citizenship -- likewise those American soldiers who went over the line in Korea. To give them their back pay when they "regretted" their decision is sickening. I have always -- in my limited contact with members of your organization - found them to be worthy of praise. In fact, I must praise the police force of N.Y.C. I am an old lady of 71 and have observed very carefully the attitude of "The Finest" since I have lived in New York. Am not signing my name as I hold an honorary badge in that organization. However, that would not predjudice me in their favor. There are bad apples in every barrel.

I wish I could speak with equal praise in regard to my few contacts with the State Department while abroad -- my general opinion was that they were stuffy -- puffed up with a sense of their own importance. I returned from Germany after a residence of two years -- 1946-1948. Having been a teacher of history, I wish I had written a statement then as to what I thought the future of "This Great New World" would be. I do not have a drop of German blood -- "Irish American" with a strong strain of Pennsylvania Dutch" -- I believed the Germans -- to quote the Bible "Sold their Inheritance For a Mess of Pottage" but would rise for the third time. If they had not nearly destroyed themselves in two wars. They would have been an effective barrier against the Russians.

Well, Mr. Hoover, you and your organization have many friends -- however, our kind never speak out!

Dear Walter:

I have received a copy of the letter dated September 30, 1964, addressed to you by the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation with regard to the findings of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy. I agree with the Director that portions of the Commiesion's report appear to place an impossible burden on the FBI in a vague area of preventive intelligence where there are no specific criteria requiring the FBI to furnish names of subjects to the Secret Service. I hope that the testimony of the FBI representatives before the Commission can be made public as soon as possible in order to clarify these aspects of the Commission's report.

Enclosed is one copy of a newspaper article appearing in "The Dallas Morning News", Dallas, Texas, October 2, 1964, reflecting that Congressman-at-Large JOE POOL had stated in a speech before the Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit's central zone regional conference at Dallas on October 1, 1964, that Congress will investigate the lack of liaison between the FBI and other law enforcement agencies prior to the assassination of President KENNEDY.

POOL is quoted as stating that the House Un-American Activities Committee "has always offered complete cooperation to the FBI in releasing information from our files. It is unfortunate that this has not always been a 2-way street."

The article continues that earlier in the day Governor JOHN CONNALLY and Colonel HOMER GARRISON of the Texas Department of Public Safety had also scored the lack of liaison between federal agencies. Colonel GARRISON is quoted as stating, "I firmly believe that if the information on subversives in this area had flowed down through proper agencies to the Dallas Police Department, the terrible assassination would not have occurred."

The above is furnished for the Bureau's information.

Pool Vows Probe of Breakdown

Congressman-at-Large Joe Pool promised Thursday that Congress will investigate the lack of liaison between the FBI and other law enforcement agencies prior to the assassination of President Kennedy.

Speaking before the Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit's central zone regional conference at Holiday Inn Central, Pool said the House Un-American Activities Committee—of which it is a member—"has always offered complete cooperation to the FBI in releasing information from our files."

"It is unfortunate that this has not always been a 2-way street," he said.

Earlier in the day, Gov. John Connally and Col. Homer Garrison of the Department of Public Safety also scored "the lack of liaison between federal agencies" in speeches before some 120 law enforcement officers representing 10 states and the District of Columbia.

Gov. Connally said he was reluctant to cite the assassination as an example.

"But the need for more liaison and cooperation between federal agencies in that case is apparent," he said.

Connally also urged officers to continue to foster exchanges of information between intelligence agencies on the state and local level.

Col. Garrison told the group: "I firmly believe that if the information on subversives in this area had flowed down through proper agencies to the Dallas police department, the terrible assassina-

TEXAS SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT ON THE ASSASSINATION of PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY

AND THE SERIOUS WOUNDING of GOVERNOR JOHN B. CONNALLY

NOVEMBER 22, 1963

October 5, 1964

REPORT TO GOVERNOR JOHN B. CONNALLY OF TEXAS FROM ATTORNEY GENERAL WAGGONER CARR REGARDING THE EVENTS IN DALLAS OF NOVEMBER 22, 1963, AND SUBSEQUENT THERETO

I deem it appropriate to supplement the report of the Warren Commission with explanatory comments directed primarily to you and my fellow Texans.

Following the funeral of President Kennedy and after a conference with the White House, the conclusion was reached that a Court of Inquiry should be conducted in Texas to develop fully and disclose openly the facts pertaining to the assassination of President Kennedy, the serious wounding of Governor Connally, the murder of Dallas police officer J. D. Tippitt, as well as such other events growing out of these tragedies as called for a development of the facts and as are appropriately the subject of investigation by a Court of Inquiry. There were impelling reasons for such an investigation, among them being the recognition that the authorities of the state in which these heinous crimes were committed, and whose Governor was one of the victims, were prepared and determined to ferret out the full facts to the best of their abilities, contrary to the baseless conjecture of some newspapers in other parts of the Nation that some effort might be made in our state to suppress the truth. Accordingly, I announced in Washington that a Court of Inquiry would be called upon my return to Texas.

Plans were perfected promptly by me for the coordinating of our efforts with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other investigative agencies. Mr. Herbert Miller, Chief of the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice, accompanied by United States District Attorney Barefoot Sanders of Dallas, came to Austin to confer with me and my staff on procedural matters which resulted in an agreement that the investigation would be conducted in the following three stages:

(1) The FBI would make an initial report to the President, and to enable it to do so as comprehensively as possible, the Texas authorities would deliver all data and documentary evidence to the FBI. This was promptly done.

(2) The second phase of the investigation would be conducted by the Texas Court of Inquiry which was to be called as soon as the state could make adequate preparation following the report of the FBI to the President. In this phase, the agencies of the Federal government, including, of course, the FBI, were to cooperate with the Texas authorities by making all evidence in their possession available and by submitting witnesses under their control who resided outside of Texas and were beyond the reach of a Texas subpoena. This would result in all available witnesses being interrogated in detail in an open hearing.

(3) The final phase was to be undertaken by a commission to be appointed by the President. This commission, possessed of all the facts developed by the Federal agencies, as well as the Court of Inquiry, would arrive at its findings and conclusions.

To assist in the discharge of our part in these joint responsibilities, I selected special counsel to assist me. Members of my staff and my special counsel joined me in consideration of the city in which the inquiry would be conducted and in resolving other questions preliminary to the hearing.

President Johnson then announced the creation of the Presidential Special Commission. In his announcement, the President stated that this Commission should take into consideration all of the facts developed by all investigative agencies, as well as testimony from the Texas Court of Inquiry. Thereupon I was requested by the Department of Justice to come to Washington for further conference on the effective coordination of effort in the pursuit of this investigation. At the conference with Chief Justice Warren, the Chairman of the Commission, the following request was made by him on behalf of the Commission and later delivered to me in writing:

> "The President's Commission has asked me to respond to your full and courteous letter of December 5th in which you describe the proposed work of the Texas Court of Inquiry. The Commission greatly appreciates your desire to facilitate its work and to help to insure that an accurate and responsible report with respect to all of the relevant facts be made to the President.
> "All of the members of the Commission are aware of the deep interest of Texas in the tragic event which occurred there and with respect to which all of us are exercising the responsibilities laid upon us. We share your view that it is desirable to have State officials do everything possible to uncover all the facts, and are appreciative of the availability of these facts to the Commission.

"As you know, at this time the Commission is organizing its procedures and we do not yet have available the comprehensive report of the FBI and of other investigative agencies both Federal and State. While we expect to receive this material soon, it will take time to analyze it thoroughly, and I am sure you will agree that there may remain matters which will require further investigation before we feel that we are in possession of all of the relative data upon which to make evaluation and judgment. We are most anxious, as I am sure you are, to take no steps which could impede investigation or which could lead the public to mistaken conclusions based upon partial factual information. In addition, as you point out in your letter, the Commission, as well as the Texas Court of Inquiry, must be extremely careful not to prejudice in any way the trial in Texas of Jack Ruby.

"The Commission would not wish to interfere in any way with you or other State authorities in the conduct of matters which are your responsibilities, and in which, as you point out, the State of Texas has a proper and important interest. At the same time, it is the view of the Commission, for the reasons stated above, that a public inquiry in Texas at this time might be more harmful than helpful in our mutual search for the truth. Recognizing that the timing of this Inquiry is your responsibility and your decision, we cannot refrain from the suggestion that you consider the wisdom of postponement of this Court.

"It would be the Commission's desire that you and your Special Counsel, or either of you, participate in the Commission's work, and counsel with it, it being the Commission's wish that you as the representative of the State of Texas be fully advised of the progress that is made in the course of the Commission's investigation and advance such suggestions as you consider helpful to the accomplishment of the Commission's assignment. It may develop that the Commission would deem it advisable that testimony of certain witnesses residing in Texas should be taken before a Texas Court of Inquiry, and in that event we would expect to call on you to render this additional assistance.

"Let me assure you of the desire of the Commission to work most closely with you and of our conviction that in a spirit of close cooperation, we can responsibly meet our independent obligations. The Commission would be glad to discuss further with you as our inquiry proceeds the ways in which we can best work together towards this goal.

Sincerely,
/S/ EARL WARREN
Chairman."

It was my conclusion shared by my special counsel that the Commission's request should be honored. It was our conviction that the investigative authority of the Commission, aided by Federal agencies and the officials of Texas, would be intelligently and effectively used; that duplication of effort and expense to the taxpayer should be avoided; and that there were definite investigative advantages to the Texas authorities in working with the Commission in a search for the truth over that of a separate and independent investigation through the medium of a Court of Inquiry. I therefore announced my conclusion to withhold the Court of Inquiry for the time being and accepted the invitation of the Warren Commission to attend their hearings and assist in the fulfillment of its important responsibilities. I am now pleased to report that subsequent events have vindicated the propriety and advisability of this decision.

From the time that the Warren Commission began its work, my special counsel and I have complied with every request for assistance to the Commission and its staff, including among others the following:

1. Assembling and submitting investigative reports, statements of witnesses, data, etc., gathered under the supervision of city and county officials of Dallas.

2. Serving as liaison between the Commission and the city and county officials of Dallas, arranging for interviews of Dallas witnesses and the taking of their testimony.

In addition, we have attended sessions of the Commission for the taking of testimony and have kept abreast of the progress of the investigation and all material developments. Most recently we completed a careful study and analysis of the Commission's report prior to its final adoption and release. The Commission and its staff have been considerate of, and cooperative with, me and my special counsel and at all times gave full meaning to the agreement of joint effort we had made.

The scope of a Court of Inquiry's investigation would not have been as broad as that which marked the bounds of the Warren Commission's undertakings. Aspects of investigation included within the Commission's report which would not have been considered by the Court of Inquiry are, for example, the adequacy of the protection accorded the President by the Secret Service and the responsibilities of the FBI prior to the President's visit, as well as facts which could be developed only by investigation in other states and foreign countries beyond the authority of this state. Nor would I have undertaken to have a Court of Inquiry find facts on the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald. The legal guilt or innocence of Jack Ruby has not been established by final judgment. The determination of such a matter should be left to our courts unhampered by public disclosures which conceivably could prejudice either the prosecution or the defense. Because the prosecution in the Ruby case does not contend otherwise, I think it is appropriate for me to say, however, that I concur in the Warren Commission finding that there was no connection between Lee Harvey Oswald and Jack Ruby in the matter of the assassination.

So far as I have been able to determine, the Warren Commission has explored fully all available avenues of information and has left no stone unturned in an effort to ascertain the full truth. I have been considerably impressed by the resourcefulness and exhaustiveness of its labors. Based on the information gained from the investigation, I have not the slightest hesitancy in concurring in the conclusion of the Warren Commission that

> (1) Lee Harvey Oswald was the assassin of President Kennedy and fired the shots that wounded Governor Connally, and killed Officer J. D. Tippitt.
> (2) The acts of Lee Harvey Oswald were not pursuant to any conspiracy, domestic or foreign, to assassinate President Kennedy.

It is with much satisfaction that I note the findings of the Warren Commission that Oswald was not subjected to any type of mistreatment while in the custody of Texas officials and that his constitutional right to counsel was fully preserved. The undisputed facts are that Oswald not only was advised of his right to obtain counsel of his choice on several occasions, but the President of the Dallas Bar Association, Honorable Louis Nichols, called on Oswald and offered to obtain counsel for him, if he so desired.

I take great pride in the assistance that the Dallas officials, including the law enforcement officers, have rendered to the Warren Commission and to me in this undertaking. They responded in the highest tradition of trustworthy and efficient public officials. It should be remembered that these officials, law enforcement officers, and other Dallas citizens, endured many hardships during the dark days immediately following the day of assassination – days filled with abuse and suspicion from many sources. Their responsible acts of leadership and courage in guiding a great city through this crushing experience has gained the respect and admiration of all understanding people.

Oswald, having spent a considerable amount of his adult years in Russia, espoused the Marxist cause and denounced the American way of life while both in Russia and the United States. He was an enemy of the political philosophy of Texas. The evidence clearly refutes the early insinuations emanating in some quarters that the political philosophy of Dallas was responsible for this tragedy.

So far as is known to me or my special counsel there are no untapped sources of information in the assembling of all material facts pertaining to the assassination of President Kennedy. There is no useful purpose therefore in the convening of a Court of Inquiry. Should it develop at any time in the future that further investigation into this matter by a Court of Inquiry is indicated, a Court will be convened.

THE RULE OF LAW IN CRISIS

Great crises are a supreme test of the rule of law. History is replete with the collapse of law when grave events occur. World War I was touched off by the assassination of a prince. The Communists came to power in 1917 when law and order failed. Hitler became the master of Germany and Europe and a threat to the peace of the entire world when he suspended constitutional freedoms under the pretext of an emergency. Scores of presidents have been banished, arrested or killed in recent decades, their power often seized by the military.

The assassination of President Kennedy, the grave wounds of Governor Connally and subsequent events in Dallas caused a severe strain upon the rule of law, both federal and state. But we as a nation and state are grateful that there was an orderly transition within the federal government and a continuity of executive functions in our Texas affairs.

It was a simple but dramatic moment when Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson took the oath of office as President of the United States in the same airplane that brought President Kennedy and him to Dallas, within an hour after President Kennedy had expired in a nearby hospital.

Shortly after the oath was administered by Judge Sarah T. Hughes in the presence of a few friends and officials, including Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, still clad in the same blood-stained suit she was wearing when she held her husband in the last few minutes of his life, President Johnson ordered the plane, bearing the body of President Kennedy to Washington. As the mighty jet roared to the Capitol at six hundred miles per hour, the government began to function smoothly and effectively. Thus, the abrupt change of chief executives of a mighty nation epitomized the effective function of the rule of law as prescribed under our Constitution, which has existed longer than the constitution of any other nation.

Since that tragic day, many questions have arisen about the rule of law. What is it? How does it function? Was it deficient in any manner during the crisis? Hence, a brief review of the essential elements of an effective rule of law seems appropriate.

Legal scholars, lawyers and statesmen from democratic nations often glibly use the expression "rule of law," assuming that everybody knows what the expression implies and that everyone recognizes that it is basic to any system of free government. But this phrase, like so many other democratic concepts, is not readily capable of exact definition. The rule of law is made up of many aspects, and it is easier to describe some of these aspects than it is to define in a few cogent words the concept of supremacy of law. The legal profession has the primary obligation of interpreting an effective rule of law to the public.

The late President Griswold of Yale University laid the blame to some extent on the legal profession for its failure, in these words:

> "I think that the law in the United States has suffered some retrogression of recent date. . . . The American people do not sufficiently understand the rule of law because it has never been properly explained to them. The legal profession has not succeeded in explaining it perhaps because it has been too busy with ad hoc issues and winning cases."

Not only should we of the legal profession assume a more active role in educating the people, but the news media, educators and others should join in this effort of helping the public to be properly informed of the operation of the rule of law and should participate actively in the dissemination of its significance.

The Right of Fair Trial

One of our most cherished fundamental guarantees under our Bill of Rights is the right of a fair, impartial and prompt trial for all persons charged with crime. The elements of such a fair trial are spelled out in the Fifth and Sixth Amendments of the United States Constitution and in our Texas Constitution. They include the necessity for a Grand Jury indictment for a capital or other wise infamous crime; restrictions against double jeopardy; no compulsion of the accused to testify against himself; guarantee of due process of law; the right of jury trial; information of the nature and cause of accusation; and compulsory attendance of witnesses. Another basic right of the accused is the presumption of innocence and that his guilt must be established beyond a reasonable doubt before conviction.

Our basic and unalienable rights would be "tinkling cymbals and sounding brass" if every citizen, when in jeopardy, is not afforded adequate protection of his basic rights as guaranteed by the Bill of Rights of our United States and Texas Constitution.

The modern facilities of the news media caused the events in Dallas, in particular the Oswald assassination and the Ruby trial, to become topics of discussion for people throughout the world, from the heads of state to the most isolated individuals.

We are justly proud of the right of a fair and public trial. However, the Founding Fathers who wrote the Bill of Rights obviously never dreamed that science would advance so far as to extend the meaning of the word "public" to "worldwide." They were seeking to prevent, and rightly so, secret trials or "star chamber" proceedings.

Pressures Upon the Rule of Law

Immediately following the arrest of Lee Harvey Oswald and after the arrest of Jack Ruby, the orderly procedures of the rule of law were placed under severe strain and unusual demands in three particulars:

1. The news media — radio, television, reporters and special writers — virtually took charge of the entrances, hallways and public rooms of the city jail before Lee Harvey Oswald was placed in jail. By the time the prisoner, Oswald, entered the jail under heavy guard, radio equipment, television cables, special wires, cameras and other auxiliary equipment were being installed by the technicians of the news media. More than a hundred news media personnel had set up temporary facilities and workshops in the hallways. Much of this personnel was from other parts of the Nation and foreign countries and had little, if any, understanding of Texas legal procedure. These conditions continued throughout the time Oswald was confined in jail, until his death on the morning of November 24, and after the confinement of Ruby. The City Manager and Chief of Police concluded that if an attempt had been made to remove the news media and their equipment, hard feelings and chaos would have resulted.

2. While local officials recognize that subsequent events, including the killing of Oswald by Ruby during an attempted transfer from the City Jail to the County Jail, magnified the deficiency in security measures, they do not accept the full responsibility for such conditions, because of the fact that they had no knowledge whatever of Lee Harvey Oswald and his background until after the assassination on November 22, when they were advised of his presence in Dallas and his past activities by the Federal authorities.

3. Interviews and comments elicited by the news media from police officers and the prosecuting attorneys concerning the facts and legal issues were made public before arraignment or indictment of the suspects. Mass media coverage of the verdict of the jury was allowed, with permission of the Court, in the Ruby trial; and the opportunity was provided for the leading defense counsel to seize the microphones from cooperative news media in the courtroom and, in a vindictive manner, castigate the jury, judiciary, and the City of Dallas with discredit to himself and the legal profession, of which he is a member.

It is recommended that:

1. This report with the exhibits be filed in the Archives of Texas.

2. Representatives of the State Bar of Texas, the news media, and local and state officials take appropriate steps to establish a fair and satisfactory working relationship designed to prevent future disorder and confusion in pre-trial activities, deficiencies in security for prisoners, as well as to improve judicial ethics in criminal trials.

3. Appropriate representatives of the various federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies in Texas conduct a thorough study for the improvement of coordination and exchange of information concerning criminal or subversive suspects and recommend ways and means of improving security measures for the protection of the President, other high officials and distinguished guests while visiting our state.

My Special Counsel, Mr. Leon Jaworski, former President of the State Bar of Texas, Houston; and, Dean Robert G. Storey, former President of the American Bar Association, Dallas, have prominently participated in the preparation of this report and approve it as herein presented above.

Finally, I wish to say to you that we and all Texans owe a deep debt of gratitude to the two distinguished members of the State Bar who so unselfishly answered my request for assistance as Special Counsel in this investigation. Mr. Leon Jaworski and Dean Robert G. Storey have given many hours of their time. Without their invaluable counsel and assistance, our work could not have been so thorough nor complete.

MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

PURPOSE

To recommend the attached All SACs and All Legats airtel be approved and disseminated to the field.

DETAILS

Although the President's Commission Report on the assassination of President Kennedy has been published, it is anticipated complaints and allegations will continue to be received. We intend to investigate each and every such complaint and allegation thoroughly.

The Commission was requested by letter to advise us to whom our investigative results should be disseminated after the Commission terminates. However as of this date no reply has been received.

It is felt the field should be put on notice that this matter will continue to be closely followed by the Bureau and they should be advised as to the administrative handling of investigation conducted.

RECOMMENDATION

That the attached communication be approved and disseminated to All SACs and All Legats.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
11-22-63, DALLAS, TEXAS
MISC. - INFO CONCERNING

Although the President's Commission's report on the assassination of President Kennedy has been published, it is anticipated complaints and allegations will continue to be received concerning the assassination. These complaints, allegations and the like must continue to be appropriately investigated and the results reported.

Miscellaneous-type complaints and allegations will be reported under the above caption by Dallas, the office of origin (Dallas file 89-43), while information specifically relating to Lee Harvey Oswald will be reported under the caption "Lee Harvey Oswald, aka., IS - R - Cuba," Bureau file 105-82555, Dallas file 100-10461.

Investigative results should be prepared in accordance with existing Bureau reporting procedures with the exception that 25 copies of inserts and FD-302s, where necessary, should be furnished to Dallas for incorporation in subsequent reports under the applicable captions.

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that thoroughness of investigation is absolutely essential. It will be the responsibility of the office first receiving the complaints or allegations or to whom the Bureau first refers a matter for investigation, to conduct a thorough inquiry and promptly initiate logical investigation where necessary. Meticulous care must be taken in preparing investigative results to preclude the necessity of Dallas' making corrections and/or revisions.

Those matters received, which would appear to require prompt dissemination should be submitted to the Bureau and Dallas in a letterhead memorandum without property stamp. In those instances where investigative results are furnished by letterhead memorandum, inserts need not be submitted to Dallas. Any question which should arise with regard to the appropriateness of disseminating information, should be resolved in favor of submitting a letterhead memorandum at which time a decision as to dissemination will be made or further instructions issued.

NOTE:

This is being sent in order to reiterate prior instructions and to remind our offices and personnel that this matter will continue to be closely followed by the Bureau. The Commission has been requested to advise us to which authority our investigative results should be furnished when the Commission finally terminates all its activities. As of this date we have not been advised; however, all results will be incorporated in report form and disseminated to the Commission or its duly designated authority.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated October 1, 1964, which enclosed copies of four memoranda revealing results of interviews with Commission staff members and others.

Enclosed are two copies each of two memoranda captioned "Jack L. Ruby; Lee Harvey Oswald" and "Lee Harvey Oswald" both of which are dated September 29, 1964, New Orleans, Louisiana. These memoranda contain the results of an interview with Mr. Leon D. Hubert, Jr., former staff member on the President's Commission.

I will continue to furnish results of this investigation as received.

BACKGROUND:

A column by captioned individual entitled "Bureaucratic Feuding..Warren Report Stings FBI" appeared in the October 5th issue of "The Washington Post," and was critical of the Director's testimony before the Warren Commission. The Director has inquired "What do we know about Roberts?" U

BIOGRAPHICAL DATA:

Roberts was born November 18, 1910, at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He was graduated from Amherst College, Amherst, Massachusetts, in 1933 with an A. B. degree. Since 1933, Roberts has held a position as reporter with various newspapers and news services including "The Washington Post"; the Associated Press; the "Toledo News-Bee," Toledo, Ohio; "Japanese Times," an English-language newspaper in Tokyo, Japan; "The Washington Daily News," Washington, D. C. In 1941 Roberts went with the "Washington Times Herald," which was subsequently absorbed by "The Washington Post" with which he is still associated. U

INFORMATION IN BUFILES:

Roberts was the subject of an applicant-type investigation by the FBI in 1942 when he was being considered for a position with the Office of Coordinator of Information. The investigation was favorable. U

In 1954, the Department of State requested the Bureau to consider investigation of Roberts to determine the source of unauthorized disclosures appearing in two articles written by Roberts. He was interviewed by Bureau Agents but declined to divulge the source or sources of his information. The Department advised that prosecution would not seem feasible and no further investigation was requested. U

Roberts' criticism of the FBI is not new. Back in 1955, he criticized the delay in our investigation of alleged "leaks" of classified information. Roberts hadn't checked with us to learn that the Department was responsible for the delay in that investigation. U

THE FBI AND THE WARREN COMMISSION

Although the Warren Commission's report on the murder of President Kennedy is only mildly critical of the FBI, the professional carpers have seized on a few words in the "conclusions and recommendations" in an effort to make a federal case of them.

The words seized upon charge the FBI with failing to realize that Lee Harvey Oswald, the Marxist murderer, was "a potential threat to the safety of the President."

That a Commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren should make this comment is, to begin with, a little ironic. The Supreme Court which Mr. Warren heads--and the civil liberties organizations which sustain his views--would have been the first to decry any "preventive" steps against the assorted Oswalds of this country.

In a city like New York, for example, the FBI would be compelled to round up and hold in preventive custody scores of individuals whose records as subversives and men of leftist violence are far worse than that of Lee Oswald. There are men loose in this country today who served on the "liquidation squads" of the Soviet underground, who studied tactics of subversion and violence at the Lenin school in Moscow, or who served their gory terms as "apparatchiks" of the Russian secret police.

Should such persons be held by the FBI or by local police whenever the President was within the localities they inhabit, the American Civil Liberties Union would rise up in indignation and horror at what would undoubtedly be called "police state treatment"--and a review by the Supreme Court would lead to a decision calling the practice unconstitutional.

I am not a lawyer, but I believe the court would be justified in this ruling. The United States does not punish or restrain "potential threats" of any kind. No one can tell what man will give in to lethal impulses. A conspiracy is something else again. A plot carries [illegible]

The words seized upon charge the FBI with failing to realize that Lee Harvey Oswald, the Marxist murderer, was "a potential threat to the safety of the President."

That a Commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren should make this comment is, to begin with, a little ironic. Should such persons be held by the FBI or by local police whenever the President was within the localities they inhabit, the American Civil Liberties Union would rise up in indignation and horror at what would undoubtedly be called "police state treatment"--and a review by the Supreme Court would lead to a decision calling the practice unconstitutional.

I am not a lawyer, but I believe the court would be justified in this ruling. The United States does not punish or restrain "potential threats" of any kind. No one can tell what man will give in to lethal impulses. A conspiracy is something else again. A plot carries beyond the "potential" to the actual. In Lee Oswald's case, the Warren Commission insists that the act was irrational. No police or investigative force can delve into a man's mind, which is what the Warren Commission seems to be asking the FBI to do.

There is a great and tragic irony to the events which led to the murder of President Kennedy. The people who now criticize the FBI were those who dragged a red herring across the paths of understanding and action in the days before the terrible event. These people, with extremist insistence, argued at the top of their lungs that the real danger was the so-called "radical right"--whereas the radical left was no longer of any consequence. So loud were their voices that they drowned out reason and logic.

The first attempt at assassination in Texas was aimed at General Edwin A. Walker, a somewhat pathetic "leader" with no troops. But this indication of murderous intent was brushed aside as of no consequence. Had the Walker attempt been investigated thoroughly, President Kennedy would probably be alive today.

There was, however, little interest in the case in Washington--certainly none in the higher echelons of the Justice Department. And this lack of interest was purely political. The target of the Justice Department was the radical right. So obsessive was the thinking that the Walker case was dismissed with the suggestion that the shots had been fired by a "rightist" to gain sympathy for the general.

If there was bad liaison between the Secret Service and the FBI, this might not have been so had the leadership in Washington and certain pundits of the press not focussed all their attention on the wrong subjects. To hear them or read them, there were rabid rightists under every bed. Why, therefore, should either the FBI or the Secret Service concern itself with one confused--and we are told--solitary Castroite.

The fact startlingly clear in the Warren Commission Report is that no amount of care could have saved Mr. Kennedy--or any President, for that matter. General de Gaulle is perhaps the best guarded man in the world today,but he is still being fired on, though word of the latter attempts has been suppressed by the French government.

Enclosed herewith for the Bureau are 2 copies of an article appearing in the Final Edition of the San Antonio Express, a daily San Antonio newspaper, on 10/6/64. Enclosed herewith for Dallas is 1 copy of that article.

The article is entitled, "State's Report on KENNEDY Assassination Made Public," and has the byline of JON FORD. It is datelined Austin. In addition to synopsizing CARR's report on the assassination, the article contains comments of Attorney General CARR, Governor JOHN CONNALLY, and others. It has been determined from the Texas Attorney General's office that CARR's report is the first and only report made by him and is a supplement to the report of the President's Commission. It is not a summary report of a larger report. The 17 volumes mentioned in the enclosed article consists of reproduced copies of correspondence, exhibits, and statements, according to the Texas AG's office.

Clipping from "The Dallas Times Herald", 10/6/64, captioned "Report Cites Difference Between Chief Curry - FBI".

It is pointed out in referenced Dallas teletype the actual Texas Attorney General's supplemental report on the assassination consists of only twenty pages, and, for the most part, does not deal in specifics. The newspaper publicity indicates that in addition to the twenty-page supplemental report, there were correspondence and several volumes of exhibits collected by local and state officials which would be placed in the State Archives.

The enclosed newspaper articles refer to the fact that Police Chief JESSE E. CURRY waited five months after the assassination of President KENNEDY to tell the President's Commission about a controversial memorandum, which memorandum recorded an alleged conversation between Lt. JACK REVILL of the Dallas Police Department and FBI Agent JAMES P. HOSTY, JR. According to the newspaper articles, correspondence between Chief CURRY and J. LEE RANKIN of the President's Commission about this controversial memorandum was released as part of the Texas Attorney General's supplemental report; however, no mention is actually made of same in the actual twenty-page supplemental report.

The articles continue that in a letter to J. LEE RANKIN dated May 28, 1964, Chief CURRY explained that after the appointment of the President's Commission, he was reasonably sure he would appear before that body and decided to present the controversial memorandum personally at the time of his appearance. He further added he felt that the Commission would possibly desire the statement to be notarized, and he had this done on April 7, 1964.

The newspaper articles continue that in his letter to the President's Commission, Chief of Police CURRY told how the FBI had asked him to retract a statement to the press concerning the controversial conversation between SA HOSTY and Lt. REVILL. One of the articles states that when Chief CURRY read the memorandum of Lt. REVILL on November 22, 1963, he realized the gravity and seriousness of the information it contained and on that date, before newsmen, he stated he had received information that the FBI knew of OSWALD's presence in Dallas and the Dallas Police Department had no information of OSWALD in its files. The article indicates that Chief CURRY's statement to this effect was based on the information reported by Lt. REVILL. The article continues that within a few minutes of Chief CURRY's statement to the press, he received a telephone call from SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN in which I allegedly stated that the Bureau was extremely desirous that Chief CURRY retract his statement. The article states that Chief CURRY's letter to Mr. RANKIN states that he then appeared before the press again and retracted his original statement to the extent that he did not, of his own personal knowledge, know that the FBI knew of OSWALD's presence in Dallas and that if the FBI did know, they were under no obligation to pass such information on to the Dallas Police Department.

With respect to this article, the Bureau's attention is called to the fact that on the night of November 22, 1963, it was called to my attention that Chief of Police CURRY had been on national television and that he had either said or indicated that the FBI knew OSWALD was in Dallas and had interviewed him recently and that apparently CURRY was trying to place all the blame on the FBI.

I, thereafter, telephonically contacted Chief CURRY on November 23, 1963, and pointed out to him that we had not interviewed OSWALD in Dallas and that we were under no obligation, as he was apparently indicating, to furnish him information on all security subjects in the area; that we had no indication that OSWALD was likely to kill the President; and that we were extending to him full cooperation. Chief CURRY advised me that he was repeating information that someone had told him and that he could not remember who had told him. He stated the next time he was on television, he would rectify this error.

It should be noted that Chief CURRY did go back on television and said he was only repeating information that someone had told him and he could not remember who. He stated the FBI had no obligation to furnish him such information and that the FBI was cooperating with him one-hundred per cent.

It would appear from this letter that CURRY wrote to RANKIN that he is now claiming that his information was based on Lt. REVILL's memorandum, which was never mentioned to me and certainly disagrees with published reports of this alleged retraction in "The Dallas Times Herald" and "The Dallas Morning News" of November 23, 1963.

Protecting a President

If the Warren Report, minus the story of the assassination of President Kennedy, had been published a year ago the chances are that the President would still have been killed.

Only if government agents had moved in on Lee Harvey Oswald would the crime have been preventable, unless, of course, the President had moved through Dallas in a car with a bullet-proof canopy.

With the advantage of hindsight it is easy to figure out how to prevent an assassination. If Lincoln's guard had not entered the box to enjoy the play—if all the travelers in the Washington railroad station had been frisked before Garfield passed through to his train—if someone had examined the peculiar-looking bandage on the hand of Czolgosz as he stood in McKinley's reception line at Buffalo.

But unless American Presidents are to copy Josef Stalin and isolate themselves completely from contact with the people they are going to remain in jeopardy.

The Warren Report says the FBI should have shared its information about Oswald with the Secret Service. Perhaps, however, the FBI had been reading the decisions of the Warren Court in which Communists have consistently been given the benefit of the doubt. If Oswald had been jailed on suspicion the morning of the Kennedy parade the American Civil Liberties Union would have cried its eyes out.

The report indicated that windows along the President's motor route should have been given a more thorough check. How? It certainly isn't sufficient if officers merely look up to see if they can see any gun barrels sticking out. The only way to really check them would be to station a man in each room that looks down on the parade. If there were a five-mile procession down Broadway that would take 25,000 officers.

The plain fact is that as long as Presidents allow themselves to be close to crowds (and it would be political suicide to behave otherwise) determined assassination attempts will have a good chance to succeed.

On other matters the report was more practical. Certainly the mob scene in the basement of the Dallas police station, staged for the benefit of the TV audience, made it easy for Ruby to murder Oswald. The President's accompanying physician should certainly not be separated six or eight cars distant from the President, although in the Dallas case it made no difference.

And the report made a good legal point in suggesting that assassination of the President and Vice-President should be federal crimes. Not that any such assassin ever got a light sentence. Guiteau and Czolgosz were executed and Booth and Oswald were informally shot. But as it now stands federal agencies have no legal right to investigate what is, technically, merely a state murder case.

Mr. Lee O. Teague, Special Agent in Charge of our Oklahoma City Office, has brought to my attention the editorial, "Protecting a President," which appeared in the September 29th issue of your paper.

It certainly was thoughtful of you to bring to the attention of your readers the difficulties involved from a security standpoint when the President travels. The excellent analysis made shows that it is virtually impossible to check completely the entire route of a Presidential motorcade.

Dear Mr. Pawley:

I have received your telegram of October 5th and certainly appreciate your most complimentary remarks concerning my administration of the FBI.

It is indeed encouraging to receive messages such as yours at a time when unjust criticism is being leveled at both me and the FBI.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Speaking for myself and my husband and legions of my [illegible] we wish to thank you and your wonderful men for jeopardizin[illegible] lives daily to protect us. Many times I wanted to write; but something would come up and I would put it off, until I read todays papers, how the Warren Commission are giving you a terrific beating for ineptness in safeguarding the Presidebt's life.

Having you and your men on the job, makes us all feel secure. We hope and pray the government will not tie your hands too much, and make you discouraged. If they do, people will start a letter writing campaign to them. Granted the Warren Commission did a thorough job on the assassination of the dearly beloved JFK; and they deserve credit. People are not fooled, they can read between the lines, on that Warren Report.

We all know there would have been no assassination, if the President now deceased, had been in a bubble-top car, as was expected. Right now President Johnson is doing the same thing mingling in crowds, making your work harder, then if something happens, you are blamed.

The Record American Editor of this date, is on your side, and I agree with him.

Within the last fifteen years, I have sent information to the Boston office of the F.B.I. and cherish the letters, I received thanking me for same.

So Mr. Hoover, keep up your good work, ans may you be around for many more years to come.

If the Warren Commission needle you too much; we will all have to write to them, and keep them in their place; one Report of theirs is not going to make them authorities, people only believe half that Report anyway.

God Bless You.

Sincerely,

Marguerite M. Kuper

Texans Plan Changes As Assassination Result

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Gov. John Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, determined to learn from mistakes which surrounded the assassination of John F. Kennedy have agreed to seek better co-operation between federal and state law officers.

They held a joint news conference yesterday as Carr presented a report on Texas' role in the investigation of the assassination last Nov. 22 in Dallas.

Ground Rules Suggested

Carr concurred with findings of the Warren commission, which held Lee Harvey Oswald solely responsible for killing the President. Carr's report listed three factors which hampered Texas officials and made two main recommendations.

Carr recommended that reporters and state bar officials work toward trial coverage ground rules to prevent recurrence of the "disorder and confusion" associated with news coverage of the event.

His report stated that "the news media ... virtually took charge" of the city jail building after the assassination.

Interviews and news coverage of the Jack Ruby trial strained "the orderly procedures of the rule of law," Carr said.

Ruby currently is appealing the death sentence for the Nov. 24 killing of Oswald.

Another drawback, the report said, was a deficiency in security measures resulting partly from Dallas police not being advised by federal officials of Oswald's background and presence in Dallas.

One-Way Street

Connally added that the Texas Department of Public Safety has worked well with the FBI in the past but "there have been times ... that it is something of a one-way street."

His report recommended that federal, state and local officers study ways to improve "co-ordination and exchange of information concerning criminal or subversive suspects" and to recommend "ways and means of improving security measures" for the President and other officials.

Honorable John B. Connally
The Governor of Texas
Austin, Texas

Dear John:

My attention has been called to an Associated Press account of the news conference held by you and Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr on October 5th. In discussing the cooperation between the FBI and the Texas Department of Public Safety, you are quoted as saying "there have been times...that it is something of a one-way street."

I was greatly surprised at this comment since I have always believed that the relationship between our agencies has been excellent. I have frequently said the most effective way we can fight crime is through the wholehearted and complete cooperation of law enforcement agencies, and I am certain you agree fully. If there is any problem in this regard, I will be most appreciative if you will give me the specific details so that we can iron out any difficulties.

Sincerely,

J. Edgar Hoover

ORIGINAL FILED IN 62-109090

The United Press at Dallas, Texas, in an article dated October 7, 1964, had the lead, "Dallas Police Chief Says FBI Asked Coverup on Conduct in Oswald Case." It goes on to report that Police Chief Jesse Curry alleges in a letter to the Warren Commission that he was once asked by the FBI to say that the FBI had failed to warn other agencies about Lee Harvey Oswald. The United Press item further states that Chief Curry had told newsmen the day of the assassination that although the FBI had known about Oswald, the FBI had passed on no information to the Dallas police.

The UPI article goes on to quote Chief Curry "Within a few minutes of my statement to the press Shanklin (SAC, Dallas) was on the phone." Chief Curry is quoted as saying that FBI did not want to admit publicly that it had known about Oswald before the assassination. He claims that Shanklin asked him to retract his statement. He states that he did retract his statement. The article goes on to indicate that the FBI admitted it had Oswald under investigation. The above article appears on Page A 3 of "The Washington Post and Times Herald" this morning.

Chief Curry is at his usual stupid, bumbling self in the above claims. The true facts of the matter are (as reflected in my memorandum dated November 23 1963) that at approximately 11:25 a.m. on 11-23-63 Chief Curry, when television cameras were thrust in front of him, made the following allegations:

(1) The FBI customarily advises Dallas police whenever an individual of subversive background arrives in Dallas.

(2) The FBI recently interviewed Lee Harvey Oswald.

1 ENCLOSURE

(3) The FBI had Oswald under surveillance in Dallas, however, did not notify the Dallas police.

62-109030
OCT 28 1964

I immediately advised the Director of these allegations and thereafter called SAC Shanklin and instructed him to contact Chief Curry and set him straight. I told Shanklin that Curry should get back on television and should also inform the wire services, of the falsity of his statements immediately. I told SAC Shanklin that if Curry did not take this action we would issue a statement here in Washington calling him a liar.

information and that the FBI had no indication Oswald was likely to kill the President. According to Dallas memorandum, Chief Curry told Shanklin he was repeating information someone else had told him and he could not remember the source. Chief Curry said then he would rectify the error and this was done. This telecast was observed in my office on November 23, 1963, and that is the date on which I talked to Shanklin and told him to straighten Chief Curry out.

COURSE OF ACTION:

We have a choice of making "no comment" and letting this matter stand for the record or else we can issue a statement here in Washington under the Director's name or by the SAC in Dallas under his name. I frankly think that the former course of action would be better, i.e. having the Director issue the attached statement to UPI sources here in Washington clearly refuting Curry's allegations and setting the record straight once more. After issuance of the Statement, there will be no further comment.

Of course, there are pros and cons as to the issuance of any statement at this time. The issuance of a statement will no doubt "fan the flames" and call further attention to our criticism by the Warren Commission. Nevertheless, I feel we should not let this stupid, bumbling jackass, Chief Curry, get away with making false allegations.

RECOMMENDATION:

It may be that the letter that Chief Curry allegedly sent to the Warren Commission on May 28, 1964, has been misquoted or misconstrued and if so Chief Curry should be given the opportunity to once again set the record straight.

SAC Shanklin and ASAC, Dallas, should contact the Chief, determine whether he did send a letter dated 5-28-64 to the Commission and determine precisely what he said. If the Chief did prepare this letter and did make these allegations and if efforts to clear the record, I think we have no alternative but to go ahead and issue the attached statement in our own behalf.

SAC Shanklin called me back within 15 minutes on November 23, 1963, and stated that Curry had agreed to make the retraction. Curry apologized to Shanklin and told him he did not mean to place any blame on the FBI. I told SAC Shanklin that regardless of Curry's statement that if he did not follow through, Curry should be again contacted within 30 minutes.

At approximately 1:15 p.m. NBC television quoted Curry as saying he had not meant to imply that the FBI had failed to keep the Dallas police informed. Curry was further quoted as stating that the cooperation between the FBI and the Dallas police was excellent. He stated that the FBI was under no responsibility to report to the Dallas police any individuals of subversive background who might be in Dallas. He was also quoted as stating that he had not meant to imply that the FBI had Oswald under surveillance or that the FBI had recently interviewed Oswald. He stated to his knowledge the FBI did not have Oswald under surveillance. Chief Curry gave the same report to the radio networks and this was heard both here in Washington and by SAC Shanklin in Dallas.

At the time of the above-mentioned stupid allegations by Curry we not only had Curry make these retractions but we called our sources at both UPI and AP and talked with them on a confidential basis. They immediately called their representatives in Dallas and instructed them to contact Curry and get him on the record in repudiating the above false allegations. We also called Jerry O'Leary of "The Washington Star" who was in Dallas at that time and had him get in touch with Curry and make Curry go on record regarding the falsity of his allegations.

In teletype of October 7, 1964, SAC, Dallas, refers to Texas Attorney General's report on the assassination and notes this report does not mention this criticism by Chief Curry; however, the report does indicate that there are numerous exhibits and documents in the possession of the Attorney General of Texas. Apparently these exhibits in Attorney General Waggoner Carr's possession are the source for the UPI article.

According to Dallas teletype the controversial memorandum of Lieutenant Jack Revill, Dallas Police Department, indicates that Chief of Police Curry in a letter dated November 28, 1964, to J. Lee Rankin said that the FBI had asked him to retract statements he had made to the effect that he had received information that the FBI knew of Oswald's presence in Dallas.

Dallas teletype reports that Dallas files show a memorandum by Shanklin dated November 22, 1963, to the effect that on the night of November 22, 1963, Shanklin contacted Chief Curry, pointed out to him that the FBI had not interviewed Oswald in Dallas, that the FBI was under no obligation to furnish him secret

According to a news statement on October 7, 1964, Chief of Police Jesse Curry, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, has officially indicated in a letter to the Warren Commission that he was asked by the FBI on November 22, 1963 to deny that the FBI had failed to warn other agencies about Lee Harvey Oswald. Chief Curry allegedly claims that within a few minutes of his statement to the press in this connection, he was requested by the FBI to retract his statement that the FBI had failed in this regard.

The FBI did not ask Chief Curry or anyone else to deny that it had information regarding Oswald or Oswald's presence in Dallas.

The true facts of the matter are that on November 23, 1963, Chief Curr upon appearing before television cameras, alleged (1) The FBI customarily advises the Dallas Police whenever an individual of subversive background arrives in Dallas; (2) The FBI recently interviewed Lee Harvey Oswald; and (3) The FBI had Oswald under surveillance in Dallas, however, did not notify the Dallas Police. Although th exists no responsibility to do so, the FBI has on past occasions furnished the Dallas Police information regarding individuals with subversive backgrounds. The remaini statements of Chief Curry were absolutely false. The FBI had never interviewed Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas, Texas. The FBI did not have Lee Harvey Oswald unde surveillance in Dallas, Texas.

As a result of Chief Curry's erroneous statements, Mr. Gordon Shankl Special Agent in Charge of the FBI Office, Dallas, Texas, was instructed to contact Chief and point out to him the obvious falsity of his statements.

In reply, Chief Curry told Mr. Shanklin that he had been told by someone, whose identity he did not recall, of this information. Chief Curry admitted that he did not know of his own knowledge that the FBI had either interviewed or had Oswald under surveillance. He told Mr. Shanklin he would be glad to get back on the air and correct his erroneous statements. A short time later Chief Curry was quoted on television correcting his earlier statement.

suggested that the FBI should have told the Secret Service of Oswald's presence in Dallas, Tex., before Kennedy's visit.

While the FBI has not commented on this, officials of the agency have indicated they take the criticism bitterly.

Hoover's testimony as reported by the Star stressed that none of the FBI information about Oswald indicated any tendency toward violence. He said many people read the Communist party organ, the Worker, but on this basis alone they cannot be branded potential assassins or hazards to national security.

The State Department report on Oswald, Hoover said, was based on an interview with Oswald by the U.S. Embassy in Moscow before he returned to the United States. The document indicated Oswald "was a loyal man now and had seen the light of day," Hoover told the commission.

He added there is no doubt in his mind that Oswald was a dedicated Communist.

J. EDGAR HOOVER
Gives own suggestions

The FBI head said he is "not very happy" about the new criteria for furnishing the Secret Service names of potential risks, about 10,000 subversives and extremists. The previous lists were limited to potential killers or those who might exert violence.

A major problem, he said, is that when the Secret Service gets these names in connection with presidential travel "They have to call upon the local authorities."

Then Hoover cited the case of a Johnson visit to Chicago when "Local authorities were asked to give assistance as they usually do to the Secret Service and they went to the homes of some of these people, and it resulted really almost in house arrest."

the FBI head commented:

"Now, I don't think there is any place in this country for that kind of thing, but these people who belonged to extreme subversive organizations were told they couldn't leave their house or if they did they would be accompanied by a police officer."

Hoover pointed out that there are up to 4,000 such individuals in subversive groups in New York City alone. He said the new FBI list to the Secret Service would total about 9,000 names.

The FBI head gave the Warren Commission several recommendations for future safety of presidents. And he commented that he believes Kennedy would be alive had he been riding in a specially armored car with bullet-proof glass — like Hoover's own limousine now on loan to Johnson.

Hoover's recommendations included these:

Advise the Secret Service as far ahead as possible of presidential travel plans.

Avoid publicizing exact routes as long as possible.

Have specially armored cars with bullet-proof glass readily available in locations frequently visited by a president.

Avoid specific patterns of travel or other activity such as visiting the same church at the same time every Sunday.

Use a bullet-proof shield in front of the entire rostrum in such public appearances as the inaugural ceremonies at the Capitol, the reviewing stand in front of the White House for the inauguration, and appearances on the rear of trains.

Keep a president's movements within crowds to a minimum.

Limit presidential public appearances by using television, avoid his walking in public except when absolutely necessary and "he must never ride in an open car."

Says crises 'used' before

Editor, The Chronicle:

In regards to Humphrey's charge of Goldwater's statement concerning the Cuban missile crisis: I believe Goldwater is correct. Nor would it be the first time in our history that a crisis was used for political purposes. Furthermore, many of the things Humphrey charges could happen if Goldwater is elected should happen. In a free enterprise system such as ours, government has no business interferring in so many private affairs.

Government is only supposed to help where private industry is unable or unwilling to accomplish the job.

Under the so-called Democratic administration, they are competing with private enterprises all along the line.

Says taking beating is senseless

Editor, The Chronicle—Herald:

History proves that America does not start wars. However, a delay of five or ten minutes in order to contact the President of the United States for permission to retaliate could and would mean defeat for us in these times of peril.

These restrictions make no more sense than the orders in Korea to go to the river but don't destroy their bases on the other side after they had beaten the daylights out of us.

ASSASSINATION OF THE PRESIDENT

By letter dated September 23, 1964, to the President's Commission, the Bureau inquired as to the appropriate authority to receive results of investigation and any other matters relating to the assassination of the President after the termination of the President's Commission.

While talking to Mr. Rankin on October 2, 1964, he was asked whether or not the Commission had made a decision as to the identity of the authority to whom such information could be passed on after the termination of the President's Commission. Mr. Rankin stated no decision had been reached at the present time, that he expected to be in Washington on Monday, October 5, 1964, and would try to see the Chief Justice at that time to discuss this matter with him, following which he would advise the Bureau the ultimate authority to whom such information should be passed on.

Submitted for information.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated October 1, 1964, which enclosed copies of four memoranda revealing results of interviews with Commission staff members and others.

Enclosed are two copies each of two memoranda captioned "Jack L. Ruby; Lee Harvey Oswald" and "Lee Harvey Oswald" both of which are dated September 29, 1964, New Orleans, Louisiana. These memoranda contain the results of an interview with Mr. Leon D. Hubert, Jr., former staff member on the President's Commission.

I will continue to furnish results of this investigation as received.

PURPOSE

To recommend the attached All SACs and All Legats airtel be approved and disseminated to the field.

DETAILS

Although the President's Commission Report on the assassination of President Kennedy has been published, it is anticipated complaints and allegations will continue to be received. We intend to investigate each and every such complaint and allegation thoroughly.

The Commission was requested by letter to advise us to whom our investigative results should be disseminated after the Commission terminates. However as of this date no reply has been received.

It is felt the field should be put on notice that this matter will continue to be closely followed by the Bureau and they should be advised as to the administrative handling of investigation conducted.

MISC. - INFO CONCERNING

Although the President's Commission's report on the assassination of President Kennedy has been published, it is anticipated complaints and allegations will continue to be received concerning the assassination. These complaints, allegations and the like must continue to be appropriately investigated and the results reported.

Miscellaneous-type complaints and allegations will be reported under the above caption by Dallas, the office of origin (Dallas file 89-43), while information specifically relating to Lee Harvey Oswald will be reported under the caption "Lee Harvey Oswald, aka., IS - R - Cuba," Bureau file 105-82555, Dallas file 100-10461.

Investigative results should be prepared in accordance with existing Bureau reporting procedures with the exception that 25 copies of inserts and FD-302s, where necessary, should be furnished to Dallas for incorporation in subsequent reports under the applicable captions.

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that thoroughness of investigation is absolutely essential. It will be the responsibility of the office first receiving the complaints or allegations or to whom the Bureau first refers a matter for investigation, to conduct a thorough inquiry and promptly initiate logical investigation where necessary. Meticulous care must be taken in preparing investigative results to preclude the necessity of Dallas' making corrections and/or revisions.

RE: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT

Those matters received, which would appear to require prompt dissemination should be submitted to the Bureau and Dallas in a letterhead memorandum without property stamp. In those instances where investigative results are furnished by letterhead memorandum, inserts need not be submitted to Dallas. Any question which should arise with regard to the appropriateness of disseminating information, should be resolved in favor of submitting a letterhead memorandum at which time a decision as to dissemination will be made or further instructions issued.

NOTE:

This is being sent in order to reiterate prior instructions and to remind our offices and personnel that this matter will continue to be closely followed by the Bureau. The Commission has been requested to advise us to which authority our investigative results should be furnished when the Commission finally terminates all its activities. As of this date we have not been advised; however, all results will be incorporated in report form and disseminated to the Commission or its duly designated authority.

SUBJECT: CHALMERS M. ROBERTS —
"THE WASHINGTON POST"

BACKGROUND:

A column by captioned individual entitled "Bureaucratic Feuding..Warren Report Stings FBI" appeared in the October 5th issue of "The Washington Post," and was critical of the Director's testimony before the Warren Commission. The Director has inquired "What do we know about Roberts?"

BIOGRAPHICAL DATA:

Roberts was born November 18, 1910, at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He was graduated from Amherst College, Amherst, Massachusetts, in 1933 with an A. B. degree. Since 1933, Roberts has held a position as reporter with various newspapers and news services including "The Washington Post"; the Associated Press; the "Toledo News-Bee," Toledo, Ohio; "Japanese Times," an English-language newspaper in Tokyo, Japan; "The Washington Daily News," Washington, D. C. In 1941 Roberts went with the "Washington Times Herald," which was subsequently absorbed by "The Washington Post" with which he is still associated.

62-109070 —

INFORMATION IN BUFILES:

Roberts was the subject of an applicant-type investigation by the FBI in 1942 when he was being considered for a position with the Office of Coordinator of Information. The investigation was favorable.

In 1954, the Department of State requested the Bureau to consider investigation of Roberts to determine the source of unauthorized disclosures appearing in two articles written by Roberts. He was interviewed by Bureau Agents but declined to divulge the source or sources of his information. The Department advised that prosecution would not seem feasible and no further investigation was requested.

1 ENCLOSURE

ENCLOSURE

Roberts' criticism of the FBI is not new. Back in 1955, he criticized the delay in our investigation of alleged "leaks" of classified information. Roberts hadn't checked with us to learn that the Department was responsible for the delay in that investigation.

RE: CHALMERS M. ROBERTS

Roberts has had frequent contact with representatives of the Russian and satellite Embassies in Washington, D.C., over the past several years. As examples, in January, 1962, he had lunch with the Czech Counselor and in May of that year he also lunched with the Czech Ambassador. We have received information reporting that he met a Russian correspondent of "Pravda" for lunch in July, 1962. He subsequently had lunch with the Counselor of the Polish Embassy in Washington, D.C., in August, 1963.

In connection with the above contacts, Chalmers has gone on record with the FBI in the past concerning his association with such individuals. By letter dated March 21 1955, to Mr. Nichols Mr. Roberts explained the reason for his contacts with personnel at the Soviet Embassy during the previous week. This dealt with his assignment to assist in preparing a TV program on the 10th Anniversary of V-E Day for "The Washington Post" TV Station, WTOP. He received this assignment as he was the diplomatic correspondent for "The Post." In a previous letter to Mr. Nichols, October 27, 1954, Roberts also explained other visits with members of the Russian Embassy staff. He pointed out he was the foreign affairs reporter for "The Washington Post and Times Herald," and explained he gave written reports of such meetings with Soviet officials to the USSR Affairs Desk, State Department, Washington, D.C.

On 11-17-54 Roberts lunched with the then Atomic Energy Commissioner, Tom Murray, with whom he had been trying to inveigle a luncheon engagement for some time at the Allies Inn. While there, Murray spoke for a few moments with Mr. Hoover and Mr. Tolson, who also had stopped there for lunch. When Murray returned to his table, Roberts stated, "I guess we will have to speak in whispers now." When Murray asked if Roberts was in trouble with the FBI, Roberts replied, No, but "they get into too many things." Mr. Murray resented Roberts' implied dislike of the Bureau and this information was subsequently relayed to the Director by Mr. Murray, who stated he would have absolutely nothing to do with Roberts again.

RECOMMENDATION:

For information.

He is a typical Washington Post "fake liberal."

Even though we do not normally send in wire dispatch matters to the Bureau, I thought the attached should be sent in so that the Director can see the prominence of coverage in this area.

The reaction to the views Mr. Hoover expressed to the Warren Commission May 14 has been splendid.

Releasing the Director's testimony at this time has been salutary, timely, and has a tendency to remove some of the sting of the Warren Commission comments.

FBI Chief Warns Warren Group Against Gestapo-Like Security

WASHINGTON (UPI)—FBI director J. Edgar Hoover has warned that absolute security for the President cannot be provided "without almost establishing a police state, and we don't want that."

In testimony before the Warren Commission last May 14, Mr. Hoover also disclosed that the State Department had once indicated that Lee Harvey Oswald was "a thoroughly safe risk" who had changed his views on Communism.

MR. HOOVER'S testimony was published Friday by the Washington Evening Star in a copyrighted article. The Warren Commission has not released the testimony.

The FBI chief expressed "great concern" over the broadening of information on possible threats to the President. The information has been submitted to the Secret Service by the FBI since John F. Kennedy's assassination November 22, 1963.

On the basis of this information, Mr. Hoover said, some persons were placed under virtual house arrest when President Johnson visited Chicago last spring.

"We don't want a Gestapo," Mr. Hoover said. "We have got to, I think, maintain an even balance."

Many persons read the Worker, the Communist party newspaper, but they cannot be branded as security risks or potential assassins, he said.

"I am particularly concerned that we don't become hysterical and go too far in restricting the citizens of our country from exercising their civil and

J. Edgar Hoover
. . . can't go too far constitutional rights," Mr. Hoover said.

"The mere fact a person disagrees with you in a matter on Communism doesn't mean he should be arrested . . ."

Mr. Hoover said he was "not very happy" with the fact that the FBI now turns over to the Secret Service the names of defectors, subversives and extremists, in addition to potential killers. He estimated these new names would have totaled 10,000.

IN ITS report, issued last Sunday, the Warren Commission accused the FBI of taking an "unduly restrictive view of its role in preventive intelligence work prior to the assassination."

Mr. Hoover cited a State Department document during questioning about Oswald, President Kennedy's assassin.

He said it was based on an interview of Oswald at the American Embassy in Moscow when Oswald was trying to return to the United States.

ENCLOSURE

"The embassy gave him a clean bill of health," Mr. Hoover said.

Mr. Hoover said his own speculation was that Oswald "was no doubt a dedicated Communist."

But Mr. Hoover said the FBI interviewed Oswald several times after his return from Russia. And before the assassination, "there had been no information that would have warranted our reporting him as a potential danger or hazard to the security of the President."

For that reason, Mr. Hoover said, Oswald's name was not furnished to the Secret Service. At that time, he said, the FBI furnished only the names of those potentially dangerous to the President, or emotionally unstable persons who had threatened him or the Vice President.

Mr. Hoover said Oswald should have been permitted to renounce his U. S. citizenship in 1959.

"He never could have gotten back here," he said.

Mr. Hoover did not blame the Secret Service for restrictive steps taken during President Johnson's visit to Chicago. He said local authorities acted on their own on the basis of names furnished by the Secret Service.

"Now I don't think there is any place in this country for that kind of thing, but these people who belonged to extreme subversive organizations or organizations that advocated the overthrow of the government by force and violence were told that they couldn't leave their house or if they did they would be accompanied by a police officer.

"There you come pretty close to house arrest and we don't want that. That is what you would call totalitarian security."

The first attempt at assassination in Texas was aimed at General Edwin A. Walker, a somewhat pathetic "leader" with no troops. But this indication of murderous intent was brushed aside as of no consequence. Had the Walker attempt been investigated thoroughly, President Kennedy would probably be alive today.

There was, however, little interest in the case in Washington--certainly none in the higher echelons of the Justice Department. And this lack of interest was purely political. The target of the Justice Department was the radical right. So obsessive was the thinking that the Walker case was dismissed with the suggestion that the shots had been fired by a "rightist" to gain sympathy for the general.

If there was bad liaison between the Secret Service and the FBI, this might not have been so had the leadership in Washington and certain pundits of the press not focussed all their attention on the wrong subjects. To hear them or read them, there were rabid rightists under every bed. Why, therefore, should either the FBI or the Secret Service concern itself with one confused--and we are told--solitary Castroite.

The fact startlingly clear in the Warren Commission Report is that no amount of care could have saved Mr. Kennedy--or any President, for that matter. General de Gaulle is perhaps the best guarded man in the world today,but he is still being fired on, though word of the latter attempts has been suppressed by the French government.

This is foolish, of course, but Mr. Kennedy is not without his friends in the field of communications, and they consider it necessary to create a myth as to his achievements to bring about his election as senator from New York State.

The Warren Commission report suggests that somehow the FBI should have gone beyond its authority in relation to its information regarding Lee Harvey Oswald, as if the FBI should have been able to perceive his intentions, though the Supreme Court of which Mr. Warren is Chief Justice has been particularly alert to protect the alleged civil liberties of known Communists and proved criminals.

As a matter of fact, among previous recommendations to the Justice Department by the FBI and Mr. Hoover were measures for stronger coordination and greater exchange of information among federal investigative agencies. The wisdom of these suggestions has been proved by the very case which the Warren Commission had under consideration. But nothing had been done by either the Kennedy or Johnson Administrations.

The principal claim being made on behalf of the Robert Kennedy "legend" is that he had to order the FBI to "redirect" its major effort to place greater emphasis upon investigations of organized crime, even though this would mean a slackening of FBI operations against espionage agents and Communist activities in the United States.

This is hardly consistent with recommendations in the Warren report, which has so pleased the liberal-radicals.

The record, however, doesn't indicate any slackening of the efforts of the FBI in regard either to espionage or organized crime, and any attempt to conceal or deny the facts to embellish the record of M. Kennedy is dishonest on its face.

Much of the anti-crime legislation for which Mr. Kennedy is being given credit actually was recommended to him and the Justice Department by the FBI, and long before he assumed office the FBI was concerned with the enforcement of civil rights in all fields.

It is the practice of politics to give public credit to Cabinet officers or other politically-appointed office holders for the accomplishments of their departments or bureaus, and it taxes the mind to believe that the young Mr. Kennedy, with no experience in law enforcement or any meaningful experience in the practice of law, had to direct Mr. Hoover in the proper discharge of his duties.

But a new Robert Kennedy myth is in the making—and the White House looms in the distance.

Also, I have been under the impression that the FBI is an investigative body, and it is the function of the Justice Dept. to take action on the findings of the FBI. Now, according to the newspapers, the FBI has been charged with laxity in withholding information about Oswald.

Inasmuch as it has been reported that Oswald was actually in the custody of the Justice Department after the attempt on Gen. Texas Report Duplicates

Warren Group's Conclusions

By William Hamilton

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 5 (UPI) A "little Warren Commission report" by the State of Texas today agreed that Lee Harvey Oswald alone assassinated President Kennedy and there was no conspiracy. It criticized the FBI for failing to provide advance knowledge of Oswald's background to police.

A report on Texas' own investigation by State Attorney General Waggoner Carr concurred with the findings of the Warren Commission made public last week. Carr's report was 20 loose-leaf pages long.

Carr did not absolve Dallas police from error in the Oswald slaying. But he said that background information on Oswald held by the FBI should have been made available to local police. They knew nothing about Oswald or his background until after the assassination, he said.

Texas found that:

- Oswald killed the President and wounded Connally Nov. 22, 1963 in Dallas.
- He fired the shots that killed Dallas Policeman J. D. Tippit.
- The acts of Lee Harvey Oswald were not pursuant to any conspiracy, domestic or foreign, to assassinate President Kennedy.
- The news media contributed to the confusion and lack of security that surrounded the shooting of Oswald by Jack Ruby.
- Neither Texas nor Dallas were to blame for the assassination.

"Oswald espoused the Marxist cause and denounced the American way of life while both in Russia and the United States. He was an enemy of [illegible] enemy of Oswald [illegible] said.

Carr said his investigation convinced him that Oswald was "not subjected to any type of mistreatment while in the custody of Texas officials." Oswald, who had to be forcibly subdued when he was arrested, had charged "police brutality."

Carr said Chief Justice Earl Warren had talked him out of holding a Texas "court of inquiry" into the assassination. Such an inquiry, by law, could not reach "conclusions and recommendations," Carr said. Therefore, he simply conducted a parallel investigation to the Warren Commission's.

Another job at FBI.

SUBJECT: WARREN COMMISSION REPORT

The suggestion has been made that we send to the Warren Commission a copy of our letter to the White House and the Acting AG, dated 9/30/64, in which we conclude that the Commission's report is seriously inaccurate in so far as its treatment of the FBI is concerned.

It is noted that this letter is an indictment of the Commission in that we charge that in the Commission's approach, instead of adopting a realistic and objective attitude, the Commission was more interested in avoiding possible criticism. Bearing this in mind, if we send a copy of this letter to the Commission now, the Commission will probably make the letter public, together with a defiant answer.

Today the Commission is riding high, receiving plaudits for its report and the objectivity of the report, so that in any public fight with the Commission we could well lose. Before this challenge to the Commission becomes publicized it may be better to wait until the Bureau testimony becomes public, so that the public will have the other side of the picture on which to base a judgment.

I suggest we may want to wait for a few days before we consider sending a copy of this letter to the Commission. Certainly we owe no courtesy to the Commission.

Attached is a letter to Mr. Rankin, in the event it is decided a letter should be sent at this time.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Attached is a copy of a letter which I sent to the Honorable Walter W. Jenkins, Special Assistant to the President, and to the Acting Attorney General, on September 30, 1964.

I felt, in fairness to the Commission, a copy of this letter should be sent to you.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20535

September 30, 1964

BY LIAISON

Honorable Walter W. Jenkins
Special Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Jenkins:

After careful consideration of the findings of the Warren Commission on the assassination of President Kennedy, I have concluded that the report is seriously inaccurate in so far as its treatment of the FBI is concerned.

For example, on Page 440 of the report, the Commission states: "The Secret Service and the FBI differ as to whether Oswald fell within the category of 'threats against the President' which should be referred to the Service." The report then proceeds to quote a small portion of Mr. Robert Bouck's testimony as evidence that Secret Service disagreed with the FBI.

Clearly, this singling out of this portion of Bouck's testimony does not give a complete picture of the conclusions of Secret Service. Stress is placed on the point that knowledge that Oswald had a vantage point covering the procession was highly significant, and yet it is not made clear that the FBI did not have the responsibility of checking the route of the Presidential party to ascertain the identity of persons who were on the route and thus determine that one of the persons had a record in our files. In the event a check was made by Secret Service of our files, regarding persons employed along the route, we would have, of course, tied in Oswald with the route of the President.

As a matter of fact, we checked with Mr. James Rowley, the head of Secret Service, on April 17, 1964, to determine whether Secret Service would have taken action against Oswald if his name had been furnished to Secret Service. Mr. Rowley advised us that Oswald would not have been placed under surveillance as there was no information indicating possible violence on his part, and that, had Secret Service checked the building, it would have taken no action concerning Oswald inasmuch as he was employed in the building.

TOTT

In his testimony, Mr. Bouck states that Secret Service would not take action on the basis that Oswald was a defector, but over the course of some ten pages of testimony he finally concludes that if all the information had been furnished which was available concerning Oswald, in the hands of various government agencies, which information was "spread from Moscow to Mexico," and this information was coupled with Oswald's location in this building, Secret Service would have taken action.

The Commission deals summarily with the essential position of the FBI, on Page 462, when it quotes "Director Hoover and Belmont" as expressing concern, shared by Secret Service, that referrals of information under "the new criteria" might result in some degree of interference with personal liberty of those involved. The Commission does not take into account the traditional position of the FBI that in security investigations we limit the investigation to that which is essential and we avoid harassment or infringement on the rights of the individual. It is most unfortunate that the detailed testimony of FBI representatives was not publicly released, concurrent with the report, so that the reader would not be forced to rely solely on the portions selected by the Commission.

The Commission states that the FBI took an unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work prior to the assassination, and states that "There was much material in the hands of the FBI about Oswald: The knowledge of his defection; his arrogance and hostility to the United States; his pro-Castro tendencies; his lies when interrogated by the FBI; his trip to Mexico where he was in contact with Soviet authorities; his presence in the School Book Depository job, and its location along the route of the motorcade." The Commission points out that this should have induced the FBI to list Oswald as a potential threat to the safety of the President.

Here again, the Commission is taking the position that, despite lack of evidence of potential violence on the part of Oswald, the FBI was constantly evaluating him as a possible threat to the President, and had checked the route of the Presidential procession to determine that Oswald was on that route. The Commission states that this conclusion may be tinged with hindsight, and with this statement I could not agree more.

Honorable Walter W. Jenkins

It would appear that the Warren Commission made up its mind to avoid criticism of its findings by drawing these conclusions concerning the FBI, and in order to support these conclusions selected only the portions of the testimony of witnesses which would support them.

I can only conclude from this approach that, instead of adopting a realistic and objective attitude, the Commission was more interested in avoiding possible criticism. The net result, of course, is to place the FBI in the completely untenable position that if a similar tragedy or event occurs in the future, and this Bureau has any information at all in its files concerning the assassin, the same gift of hindsight will permit a conclusion to be reached that somehow, some way, this information should have been transmitted to the Secret Service and other appropriate authorities.

The new criteria under which we are presently operating have resulted in funneling approximately 18,000 names to Secret Service since the assassination. Yet, I venture to say that there are 10,000,000 names in our files, with varying degrees of derogatory information. On the basis of the Warren Commission approach, with its transparent hindsight, this Bureau is in the unenviable position of being held responsible for the actions of such persons, regardless of the fact that there is no indication of potential violence against top Government officials.

Sincerely yours,

SUBJECT: REPORT OF PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Captioned report is being reviewed by personnel of the Classifying Unit, Records Branch, for the purpose of indexing names in the report. The report has an index and in comparing names and related page numbers shown in the index with data in the report numerous discrepancies have been discovered. For example the name Mary Brock is listed in the index as appearing on page 174. Actually the name appears on page 175. The name Bob K. Carroll according to the index appears on page 178 when the correct page number is 179. Several discrepancies of this type have been discovered. According to the index the name O. V. Campbell appears on pages 154, 334 and 335. Pages 334 and 335 refer to a Don Campbell who apparently is not identical to O. V. Campbell. The name Don Campbell does not appear in the index.

The incident of error in the index of the report will necessitate considerable cross checking and a detailed review of the report in order that Bureau indices will be accurate.

On 9/29/64, when contacted regarding another matter, Mrs. RUTH PAINE, 2515 West Fifth Street, Irving, Texas, advised she had read only a part of the report of the President's Commission but noted several inaccurate statements. These alleged inaccuracies, followed by comments and recommendations of Dallas Office, are as follows:

1. On page 284, second full paragraph, fourth line, fifth word, should read "separated" instead of "divorced". Mrs. PAINE noted she and her husband have never been divorced.

Lines three and four of the above paragraph referred to by Mrs. PAINE contain the wording, "Her parents moved to Columbus, Ohio, in the late 1930's. They were divorced in 1961".

The report of SA THOMAS B. ESTEP, Cincinnati, 12/5/63, captioned "LEE HARVEY OSWALD, IS - R", on page 10, contains interview with WILLIAM AVERY HYDE, Apartment 105, 580 Park Street, Columbus, Ohio, on 12/2/63, at which time Mr. HYDE advised he is the father of RUTH PAINE and that he and his wife, CAROL ELIZABETH HYDE, were divorced in Franklin County, Ohio, in 1961.

From above it is apparent the reference to "divorced" relates to parents of Mrs. RUTH PAINE and not to her. It is suggested that the Bureau may either desire to direct letter to Mrs. PAINE or have personal contact with her pointing out above.

2. On page 400, third paragraph, which is first paragraph under caption "Personal Relations", tenth line, last word in sentence should be "1962" and not "1963".

Mrs. PAINE appears to be correct inasmuch as the date "1962" is substantiated by information appearing on pages 252, 258, 260, 265-266, 269-271 and 275-277 of the report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING, Dallas, dated 11/30/63, captioned "LEE HARVEY OSWALD, Assassination of President JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY, 11/22/63, Dallas, Texas; ASSAULTING FEDERAL OFFICER".

It is suggested that the Bureau may desire to advise the President's Commission or its designated representative of this inaccuracy.

3. On page 400, fourth paragraph (next to last paragraph on page), Mrs. PAINE stated MARINA OSWALD did not have "a hundred dresses" as indicated.

It appears this statement is a disagreement of views between Mrs. PAINE and the testimony of JEANNE DeMOHRENSCHILDT before the President's Commission.

No action is recommended.

In furnishing the above information, Mrs. PAINE commented that she would probably write the President's Commission about this matter and will "probably discuss it with some reporter".

It is to be noted Dallas Office in furnishing information and recommendations regarding comments by various persons has available only the book entitled "Report Of The President's Commission On The Assassination Of President John F. Kennedy", and not the additional backup material to which reference is made in the above-mentioned book. Therefore, research data by the Dallas Office may be limited.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

My commendatory letter sent to you earlier today, contains a reference to a news cast by Huntley-Brinkley, and states: "....when some of your reactions to the commission's comments on the FBI, were mentioned." This was a reference, of course, to the Warren Commission's Report. Later today, I find the press and TV carrying reviews and quotes, as parts of your testimony, which I understand was given last May 14 before the Warren Commission, and published, at least, in part, by a news paper, in a copyright story, on or about October 2. I, therefore, have a very strong feeling that I misunderstood the Huntley-Brinkley report, as it may very well have referred to your testimony before the commission, and NOT your reactions to the commissions report. If I have erred, in this respect, I offer my apologies. In any event, I want to congratulate and commend you for your witnessing to that which is right and reasonable, when appearing before the Warren Commission.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

For some time I have been pondering the comments of the press, TV and radio, on the subject of the Warren Commission's Report--especially as it discussed the role of the FBI and its file on Lee Oswald, with respect to the assassination of President Kennedy. Particularly were some of the aspects of this situation impressed upon me by the Huntley-Brinkley news cast, last evening, when some of your reactions to the commission's comments on the FBI, were mentioned.

I am sure the Warren Commission was composed of patriotic and honorable men; but they are not, in my judgment, infallible. Consequently, I do not consider their conclusions free from all error.

My great respect for the FBI, its patriotic dedication to duty, and the proficiency with which it functions, as well as its exemplary concern for the safety of our nation and the rights of its citizens, leaves little room, within my range of tolerance, to gracefully accept any adverse criticism directed at it, by the exalted or the lowly.

My confidence in your concept ofwhat is morally or legally the duty of the FBI, in any situation, is so solid and long standing, that I assure you that nothing, which has transpired to date, will alter it.

Sincerely,

He Should Know

J. Edgar Hoover's warning that the Warren Commission's recommendations on defending the president should not lead to Gestapo tactics is a timely one.

Just the other day, Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, a member of the commission, spoke with pride of what he described as an increase from 400 to 8,000 in number of persons on the Secret Service surveillance list as a direct result of the Dallas assassination of President Kennedy.

Mr. Hoover, on the other hand, views the same development with apprehension. Local police, he said, had imposed what "almost" amounted to house arrest on some of these people.

Mr. Hoover should know. He heads an agency which continually must tread the line between too great leniency and too great severity in imposing the federal police power. His solid reputation with the public was earned by his adherence to that line despite pressures from both sides.

As the Warren Commission, Mr. Hoover and other experts agree, the President cannot be protected against all hazards, even by the most severe measures. In the pursuit of a futile mission, let's not lose something as valuable as the life of a president, the freedom of even the least among the people.

The long over-due Warren Report is a "dud". It throws no new light on the crime and is a re-hash of information already printed over and over again in newspapers & magazines during the approximate 9 months of the Committee's existence, embellished with a number of superfluous conjectures that fail to make sense. All in all, the committee seems mainly to have laboured long and hard at the job of soft-pedaling the very loud overtones of Communist influence, if not actual incrimination, in the assassination of Kennedy. To further confuse the issue, the committee, which was formed to investigate and make a full report to the American public of how & why Kennedy was assassinated, goes off on a tangent and presumptuously offers its unsolicited and inexpert advice on how to protect a president, and somehow strives to fix the blame for the assassination on law enforcement and government investigation agencies, particularly the F. B. I.

My blood boiled when I read the attack on the organization you head by a committee composed of seven of the most callous and cynical Socialist-minded politicians in public life today. There are few men in the entire world who can match you in brains, honesty, ideals, integrity and principles and you and your superb F.B.I. have the complete trust & respect of every loyal American. I, for one, thank you for doing always an extremely good job - through thick and thin, and sticking to it when men with less courage and less love of country would have long ago given up the fight. Your efforts in behalf of your country and all good Americans who live in it, are appreciated.

Men who were not fit to polish your boots, have often tried to destroy the American public's faith and confidence in you and the F.B.I., but they have never achieved their purpose. The Warren Committee will not succeed either, because you have long proven to be a good and faithful public servant. Your record is an open book - it can stand the closest scrutiny. In a position of power, you have never exceeded or misused it. The records of your detractors on the Warren Committee will not stand close scrutiny, and each and every one of them loves power. Give anyone of them an inch and they will take a mile everytime. You are America's greatest living American! I salute you.

SUBJECT: THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Re Bureau airtel 9/30/64

On 10/7/64, GERALD HANSEN, 2736 North Downer Avenue, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, who said he worked in a factory of the American Motors Corp., Milwaukee, employed there since April, 1959, gave the following information to SA GEORGE V. HUEBSCH. HANSEN personally appeared in the Milwaukee Office. HANSEN brought with him the "New York Times," of 9/28/64, which published the "Warren Commission's Report" which appeared to be a verbatim copy, though unannotated, of the first 806 pages of the report of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

HANSEN made specific reference to the last of the four columns appearing on the newspaper's page 39A, the three last full paragraphs there, beginning, "On September 14, Oswald sailed with his unit for the South China Sea area ..." The three specific paragraphs appeared on pages 684 and 685 of the report.

HANSEN explained that he was an ex-Marine and had been interested in OSWALD ever since the assassination, though he never previously approached any local, state, or federal official about his concern. He pointed out that the three paragraphs seemed imprecise about OSWALD's whereabouts after OSWALD arrived in San Francisco on the US NS Barrett 13 days subsequent to 11/2/58. The report specifically said that OSWALD "on November 19 ....took 30 days leave" and did not speak as though OSWALD's activities were known until the subsequent December 22, when, according to the report, he was at the Marine Corps air station in El Toro.

HANSEN said that it was certainly about that time, probably in December, 1958, that he himself served as a Marine at the Lake Meade Base, Las Vegas, Nevada. He said he went on leave that month, probably the day after Christmas, and that shortly before he did so, the following incident occurred involving a man who might have been OSWALD - if OSWALD was ever stationed at the Lake Meade Base.

One of the supply clerks at the Lake Meade Base during that month was a man whose description closely fit OSWALD, and HANSEN's curiosity about him was aroused when he heard the supply clerk addressed by a surname other than the surname "BENJAMIN," which appeared on the man's utility shirt. HANSEN asked what the man's real name was. He directed his inquiry to one R. G. ACKERMAN, another Marine on the base, whose first name might have been RONALD.

ACKERMAN told him that the man's last name was not "BENJAMIN" but "HARVEY"; but, ACKERMAN added that though the man was using the surname of "HARVEY," his real surname was "OSWALD."

HANSEN said he subsequently verified the fact that the man was using the surname of "HARVEY" when he heard the company commander, Captain VERNON S. MUNSELL, address the man as "Corporal HARVEY." In addition, HANSEN later saw the man wearing a utility shirt with the surname "HARVEY" stamped on it.

HANSEN added that somebody mentioned that the man in question, the supply clerk, was from Texas; and he recalled that "HARVEY" came to him shortly before he went on leave, asking HANSEN to sign a delivery receipt for some GI garbage cans. HANSEN had refused to sign the receipt because he was no longer acting, he said, as property sergeant, inasmuch as a replacement had been designated for him in view of his coming leave.

The most significant fact about the man at the Lake Meade Base, who HANSEN thought might be LEE HARVEY OSWALD, was the fact that HANSEN associated that man with a reported incident of homosexuality about the same time.

HANSEN said he knew almost nothing about the homosexual incident. He believed he had been told of it by a Sgt. HATFIELD, whose home state was Oklahoma, or one Corporal TIPKE, who came from the State of Washington. Sgt. HATFIELD had served in Headquarters Supply at the Marine base.

In any case, the story, or rumor, as HANSEN remembered it, was generally to the effect that one Marine had reported to his Sergeant that another Marine owed him $20. The debt was incurred, the man told his Sergeant, in a homosexual affair. The Sergeant thereafter reported it to his own superiors and not long afterward the three men who were supposed to have been involved in the matter all left the base, transferred or discharged. One of them was the man who might have been LEE HARVEY OSWALD. Another was a battalion clerk, whose name HANSEN did not know; and the third HANSEN thought could have been the Marine with the surname "BENJAMIN."

HANSEN also claimed that the supply clerk who served with the clerk who might have been LEE HARVEY OSWALD, was R. R. ACKERMAN. HANSEN said he himself had served in the Marines from October, 1957 to March, 1959, under Marine service number 166-48-19.

HANSEN added that R. G. ACKERMAN, who originally identified "BENJAMIN" to him as a man with the surname "HARVEY" or "OSWALD" was a Milwaukeean who formerly worked for Square D in Milwaukee, attended Spencerian Business College in Milwaukee, and had joined the Marines in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee is taking no action in this matter, other than forwarding the information herewith to the Bureau and Dallas. Milwaukee is unable to assess the accuracy or pertinance of HANSEN's story.

Recrimination

The Warren Commission could hardly have supposed that its temerity in criticizing the Federal Bureau of Investigation would go unrebuked. The criticism was, to be sure, extremely restrained and mild; the Commission report said no more than that "the FBI took an unduly restrictive view of its role in preventive intelligence work prior to the assassination." No matter. This was manifestly a form of lèse majesté which could not be tolerated.

The response was a leak of FBI Director Hoover's testimony before the Warren Commission, not yet officially released. It included an observation which we think is entirely true and which the Commission report failed adequately to consider in its brief recommendations on presidential security, that strict security measures to clear suspect individuals out of the route taken by a President's motorcade could slip over the line into police state practices.

In the course of his testimony before the Warren Commission, Mr. Hoover expressed the view that Americans who desired to renounce their citizenship should be allowed to do so forthwith and should be afforded no chance to change their minds. We think this neither generous nor prudent. It makes too little allowance for human error and repentance. American citizenship is too precious to let anyone renounce it hastily and with less than full awareness of the consequences; and forgiveness is too much a part of the Western ethic to be forgotten in cases of this kind when error is acknowledged. Besides, it seems, on the whole, better to bring defectors home, when this is possible, than to let them be exploited by the country to which they have defected.

In saying, as he did, that the State Department indicated that Oswald "was a thoroughly safe risk," Mr. Hoover stretched the Department's statement altogether unfairly. The American Embassy in Moscow had reported only that Oswald had undergone a change of heart or mind. The trouble with Oswald was that he underwent changes of heart and mind all the time. It was his instability much more than his defection that made him a menace. Unfortunately, this is an attribute which neither the State Department nor the FBI could ascertain of course.

Dear Mr. Fishel:

I received your letter of October 3rd and want to thank you for your interest in my book, "Masters of Deceit," and for your generous remarks concerning my administration of the FBI. Your support of this Bureau is indeed appreciated and it is hoped our future endeavors will continue to merit such approbation.

With respect to your inquiry, information contained in the files of the FBI must be maintained as confidential in accordance with regulations of the Department of Justice and is available for official use only. I regret I am unable to be of help in this instance but trust you will understand the necessary reasons for this policy. It is hoped you will not infer either that we do or do not have data in our files relating to the John Birch Society.

It should be clearly understood that I do not intend for my remarks to refer to the groups and individuals you mentioned since I have refrained from naming specific persons or organizations. I have, however, commented generally regarding the need for opposing communism rationally and intelligently. Our efforts to deal effectively with this subversive menace are not enhanced by those of the extreme right who tend to affix the communist label without intelligent analysis, or by those of the extreme left who endeavor to minimize the real danger of communism. In speaking of the extreme right, I refer to those individuals who would violate our laws to obtain their objectives. I consider them as lacking in true Americanism as those of the extreme left who would also violate our laws to achieve their own ends.

NEW MYTH IN THE MAKING

Tricks Fail to Short-Sell FBI

THE LIBERAL-RADICALS have seized upon the Warren Commission report to renew their attack on the Federal Bureau of Investigation and its director, J. Edgar Hoover.

Before the report was released, the liberal-radicals had been conducting a rather desultory campaign to convince the American people that Robert Kennedy was the only attorney general since who knows when who had been able to exert authority upon Mr. Hoover.

They wanted the voters to believe that Robert Kennedy in his three and a half years as attorney general had found it necessary to impose his will on a man who far surpassed him in ability and in experience and in knowledge of law enforcement.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

It seems like everyone is being blamed for the assassination of President Kennedy; everyone, that is, except Lee Harvey Oswald and the Communist Party to which he belonged. Now, it appears, they are even trying to blame the FBI. I refer to an article on page A-3 of the Los Angeles Herald Examiner of Oct. 2, 1964 which discusses statements made by you concerning the Warren Commission Report. I cannot believe that the American people can seriously hold the FBI in any way responsible for that tragedy.

What especially concerns me, however, is a statement attributed to you as follows: "I think the extreme right is just as much a danger to the freedom of this country as the extreme left." The article didn't elaborate on what you meant by this statement, but being a Conservative, I am often referred to as part of the "extreme right". I like to think of myself, and others who have taken the time to read books such as your Masters of Deceit, as the first line of defense FOR the freedom of this country.

Since the news article has obviously taken your statement out of context, I would appreciate knowing what elements you consider as making up the extreme right. I would especially appreciate your opinion of the John Birch Society.

I would also like to express my sincere thankfulness that we have a man with your wisdom and understanding as Director of the FBI. May your tenure continue as long as there exist forces intent on destroying freedom.

NOTE: Mr. Ernst was formerly included on the Special Correspondents' List but was deleted in accordance with Mr. Tolson's instructions. He was one of the attorneys hired by the Dominican Republic to conduct an investigation into the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez. He appeared before the Executive Session of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee concerning this case and during the course of his testimony claimed to have been very close to the Director, whom he described as a "treasured friend." It was reported to the Bureau 5-27-59 that Ernst had alleged to be J. Edgar Hoover's personal attorney. Any mail from Ernst during the recent past has been acknowledged by in-absence letters. It is felt that in spite of his defending the Director regarding the Warren report that the policy of in-absence letters should continue. He is obviously trying to curry the Director's favor and any correspondence to him over the Director's signature may bring about a repetition of his referring to the Director as a close, personal friend and ill-advised statements to the effect that the correspondent is the Director's attorney.

President and the People

A GREAT DEAL has been said and written about the danger involved in the President's tendency to go into crowds and shake hands. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield is the latest to be concerned over Mr. Johnson's excessive mingling in crowds during his New England swing last week. But we wonder—where is danger greatest?

The Warren Commission's findings weigh heavily on all of us, particularly on those whose job it is to protect the President. We can also understand Sen. Mansfield's admonition of both President Johnson and presidential candidate Barry Goldwater to "avoid exposing themselves unnecessarily" to the danger inherent in "imprudent mingling with campaign crowds" and to comply with security safeguards recommended by the Secret Service and other official protectors.

Four presidents have been assassinated, at least three others have had attempts made on their lives. Only one such act took place in a crowd. Louis Czolgosz approached President William McKinley as if to shake hands and shot him with a hidden pistol. President McKinley was attending an exposition, therefore we presume it was in some type of crowd.

But Abraham Lincoln, James Garfield and John F. Kennedy were assassinated under conditions which, while public, were not "in the crowd."

Of the assassination attempts — to Teddy Roosevelt, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry Truman—only the attempt on FDR took place under similar conditions to the Kennedy assassination. In every instance the president has been acting wholly within the advice and in compliance with the security rules ordered by whatever constituted his bodyguard.

So just how much danger is added to any public appearance by the president's shaking hands or gathering people around him? The danger operates whenever he appears in public and short of a bullet proof glass-cased exhibit system, there seems no solution to presidential assassination except through some form of national instruction that makes it unthinkable. The British prime minister, for example, customarily goes alone or with only a pair or so of protectors.

While following some of the recommendations of those concerned for his safety, the President might cut down the chances of an assassination, but as long as the President gets in some close proximity of the people he will be in some danger. The attempts on the various presidents have been more on the office than the individual. The only way to protect the individual completely would be to isolate him from the people, but in our country the office of the president must always have contact with the citizens.

J. Edgar Hoover's Testimony

J. Edgar Hoover's testimony before the Warren Commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy now has been published.

Just as the Warren Commission did in its report, Mr. Hoover pin-points the devilish problem involved in trying to protect a president.

"President Johnson," he said, for instance, "Is a very down-to-earth human being, and it makes the security problem all the more difficult, but you can't bar him from the people."

The FBI director spoke out strongly against "police-state" methods in shielding the president from possible crackpots.

"I am particularly concerned," he said, "That we don't become hysterical and go too far in restricting the citizens of our country from exercising their civil and constitutional rights."

He deplored an incident in Chicago when some "extremists" practically were put under house arrest while President Johnson was there.

"I don't think there is any place in this country for that kind of thing," Mr. Hoover said.

Coming from a man who has spent his life in police work, this is an especially salutary attitude — as well as practical.

Mr. Hoover, however, did recommend some stringent restrictions on a president's travel: Careful advance preparation for a trip, maximum delay in announcing the route of travel, a car equipped with bullet-proof protection. "He must never ride in an open car," Mr. Hoover said.

But these are restrictions most presidents would shun.

The Secret Service, the FBI and the police combined cannot "case" every person who may be within striking distance of a president. As Mr. Hoover testified, they had cased Lee Oswald, but there was no indication of his homicidal intent.

The nub of Mr. Hoover's testimony, and the gist of the Warren Commission recommendations, is that protective measures for the president can be improved, but, as Mr. Hoover said: "We don't want a Gestapo. We have got to, I think, maintain a balance."

And presidents, as Mr. Kennedy believed, will continue to find it necessary to travel among the people, to see and be seen. The risk cannot be absolutely eliminated. But a president also has an obligation to the people to maintain his own safety — and Mr. Hoover's advice in this respect is highly pertinent.

"SHE WAS annoying him all time — 'Why don't you ke some more money?' r guy was going out of his d?'" Mr. DeMohrenschildt d.

he report also says Marina another friend that she her husband very seldom sexual relations.

ut Mrs. Ruth Paine, the ing housewife who took rina and her two children took issue with the statents of the DeMohrenschildts. he told The Press that dur- the couple's last two ths together, Marina work- to mend the marriage.

"She never said anything inded to hurt him," Mrs. ne said.

When we had one short talk about her going to the planned parenthood clinic in Dallas — to make an appointment to go there six weeks after the baby's birth — she said they'd had difficulty.

"I TOLD her I might get the services of a marriage counsellor. She said Lee might want to go also.

"So the only time we talked about their personal relationship, it was clear to me that she wanted to improve it.

"This gives our talk a very different character from what Mrs. DeMohrenschildts reported. And Marina's talk with me was a lot closer to the time of the assassination than this instance reported."

Mrs. Paine said Marina wanted to limit the size of the family. It was during their talks about this, Mrs. Paine said, that the two "talked about adjustments in their intimate relations."

AT THE time of Marina's stay in Mrs. Paine's home, Mrs. Paine was separated from her husband, Michael. But the two now are back together.

Marina herself now is in conference at an unknown location with Priscilla Johnson, who is helping the Russian girl write a book about her life with Lee Harvey Oswald.

Miss Johnson once interviewed Oswald in Russia.

Marina's neighbor in Richardson, Tex., said Marina called recently long distance to make a routine check with her. But Marina did not say where she was.

A friend in Fort Worth said Marina wrote about two weeks before issuance of the report to say she was going into seclusion to write her book.

The book will be the first real look by the public into the mind and personality of Marina Nikolaevna Pruskova Oswald.

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

It is gravely disturbing to me, as a citizen, to see recent published cartoons and occasional editorials implying laxity in your good agency with reference to the Warren Commission report.

For several years now, I have had an opportunity to observe many of your top people performing their duties in a manner which, indeed, reflects credit favorably, not only on you as Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, but on your agency as a whole.

The people of this country and, for that matter, the free world, should derive a great deal of pride in the dedication and effectiveness of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

I am certain that I express the views of every right thinking American when I say that no man deserves accolades, for a job well done, more than J. Edgar Hoover.

Respectfully,

James V. Day

SUBJECT: REPORT OF TEXAS ATTORNEY GENERAL WAGGONER CARR TO GOVERNOR J. B. CONNALLY REGARDING EVENT IN DALLAS ON NOVEMBER 22, 1963, AND SUBSEQUENT THERETO

Captioned report was released by Texas Attorney General Carr on October 5, 1964, and a copy of same was obtained same date by our San Antonio Office. It has been reviewed with the following findings by the General Investigative and Domestic Intelligence Divisions.

This brief document (3,000 words), which purports to be a supplement to the Warren Commission Report, concludes that Oswald was the assassin of the President and Officer Tippit, and that his actions were not part of any conspiracy, foreign or domestic, to assassinate the President.

The document, written by Attorney General Carr in the first person, is better described as a self-serving apologetic treatise explaining the actions of Dallas officials subsequent to the assassination. The first half of the document explains Carr's decision, immediately after the assassination, to form a Texas Court of Inquiry into the events of November 22, 1963. It explains the Court of Inquiry was not convened in deference to the request of the Warren Commission, and that, in view of the Warren Commission Report, there is no useful purpose at this time for any court of inquiry.

In serving his own interests, Carr's document maintains that he and his special counsel subsequent to the assassination assisted the Warren Commission by (1) assembling and submitting investigative reports gathered under the supervision of Dallas City and County officials, (2) served as liaison between the Commission and Dallas City and County officials, (3) attended sessions of the Commission for the taking of testimony, and (4) completed a careful study and analysis of the Commission's Report prior to its final adoption and release. In serving the interest of local Dallas officials, Carr notes with much satisfaction that, according to the Commission's Report, Oswald was not subjected to any type of mistreatment while in the custody of Texas officials, and that his constitutional right to counsel was fully preserved.

It finds Oswald to have been an enemy of the political philosophy of Texas and states that the evidence developed by the Commission clearly refutes the earlier insinuations emanating in some quarters that the political philosophy of Dallas was responsible for the tragedy.

Concerning events immediately subsequent to the arrest of Oswald, Carr takes cognizance that the news media virtually took charge of the entrances, hallways, and public rooms of the City Jail, which condition existed throughout the time of Oswald's confinement until his death. He comments in this connection that the City Manager and the Chief of Police concluded that if an attempt had been made to remove the news media and their equipment, "hard feelings and chaos would have resulted."

He continues stating that while subsequent events, including the murder of Oswald magnified the deficiency in security measures, local officials do not accept the full responsibility for the conditions prevalent at that time because they had no knowledge of the background of Oswald until after the assassination. What this has to do with the incarceration Carr does not state.

In conclusion, Carr recommends that:

(1) His report be filed in the Archives of Texas.

(2) Representatives of the State Bar of Texas, the news media and local and state officials take steps to establish a fair and satisfactory working relationship designed to prevent future disorder and confusion in pre-trial activities.

(3) Representatives of Federal, State, and local law enforcement agencies in Texas conduct a study to improve co-ordination and exchange of information concerning criminal or subversive suspects and to recommend ways and means of improving security measures for the protection of the President and other high officials visiting Texas.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson
RE: REPORT OF TEXAS ATTORNEY GENERAL CARR

Attorney General Carr's document adds nothing to what is already known, and it does not appear that any further action is warranted on our part concerning it.

It is noted that this is not a report; but according to recent newspaper articles, it was designed to supplement the President's Commission Report and to show how the people of Texas shouldered their responsibility in the investigation of the assassination and the wounding of Governor Connally.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF THE PRESIDENT
CHARGES BY CHIEF JESSE CURRY
DALLAS POLICE DEPARTMENT

In connection with our efforts to have Chief Curry retract his claim in a May 28, 1964, letter to Chief Justice Warren that the FBI requested a "cover up" of Oswald's presence in Dallas, I had SAC Shanklin call on Chief Curry October 9th, following approval of the Director that this be done.

Chief Curry told SAC Shanklin, he cannot retract the statement or the letter because the Dallas City Manager Elgin E. Crull forbade him or any member of the Dallas City Police to talk about this case. Crull has promised the Dallas City Council that no one in the city administration will talk to news people.

After learning the above from Shanklin, I told him to take the matter up with Crull. SAC Shanklin did so. Crull told Shanklin it is not possible to authorize Chief Curry to call in reporters and make a statement. The agreement with the city council precludes it.

Both Curry and Crull admitted to Shanklin that he never asked for any "cover up."

Mr. Crull told Shanklin, however, that if Shanklin will write a letter to Curry to the effect he understands Curry made a statement in a letter to Warren alleging Shanklin requested a "cover up" and asking whether Curry did so, Mr. Crull will instruct Curry to answer the letter.

In other words, said Crull, he will instruct Curry to write Shanklin stating that neither the FBI nor Shanklin ever asked him to "cover up" regarding Lee Harvey Oswald. Mr. Shanklin says he is quite confident that we will be able to practically dictate the letter which Crull will instruct Curry to sign.

Re: Assassination of the President

OBSERVATION:

I believe this arrangement in writing will have the desired effect of putting in the record a retraction by Curry which can be used by us as an answer to any charge alleging a "cover up" request to Chief Curry. The matter has, to a considerable extent, died down. We have received no further inquiry concerning this matter here at Headquarters.

ADDENDUM CDD:

This, of course, means that no statement to the press will be given by Curry. Nevertheless, the record will be straightened out and the FBI at any time in the future can indicate to the press that Chief Curry has admitted his wrongdoing. We will then be in a position to send a letter for the record to Lee Rankin telling him that Curry has once again admitted fault.

ACTION:

I told Shanklin to go ahead and prepare a letter under his signature which can be read to us first thing Monday morning. The proposed letter will be sent through for the Director's approval prior to Shanklin delivering it to Curry.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Several days ago I read in the newspapers allegations made by the State Department, in a measure, criticizing the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the matter of Oswald, resulting from the so-called Warren Report.

Inasmuch as some of my closest friends are members of the FBI and my son is an agent, I took it upon myself to inquire of several of my acquaintances as to their reaction to the report. This is what I learned:

1. Have read no part of it

2. Have read all of it

3. Have casually scanned the news report of it

Not one mentioned the FBI nor the articles relative to the statements of the State Department. A further inquiry relative to the releases made by the State Department brought caustic replies such as "horrible, terrible and sacrilegious profane criticism of the State Department". The entire tenor of the remarks was to the effect "that the State Department even used taxpayers' money to bring Oswald back from Russia".

After over thirty years of interest and participation in public affairs I can say that the people have the highest respect for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I have never heard a single query over its efficiency question and in the slightest respect. If a survey were conducted now, it is my opinion that its respect would be magnified.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to request from the office of Mr. W. David Slawson of the Commission's staff that we declassify a summary memorandum dated May 18, 1964, dealing primarily with the activities of Lee Harvey Oswald in Mexico.

It was suggested by Mr. Slawson's office that in the event declassification of the entire May 18, 1964, memorandum was not advisable, a redraft of the memorandum in question would fit the needs of the Commission providing the material in the redraft covered the pertinent points in the Commission's summary report.

In this connection there are enclosed two copies of a redraft of our May 18, 1964, summary memorandum. The enclosures are unclassified. The classified version of our May 18, 1964, memorandum, including the table of contents and index, is to be regarded as still bearing a "Secret" classification.

RE : THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

OO - Dallas

On 10/9/64 WARREN A. REYNOLDS, 8707 Mosswood, telephone EV 8-1314, Dallas, Texas, appeared at the Dallas Office and advised there is an erroneous statement in the report of the President's Commission on approximately page 159 or 160. He commented that on one of these pages it was stated he did not identify LEE HARVEY OSWALD as the man leaving the scene of the J. D. TIPPIT shooting, when in fact he had identified OSWALD. He related that on or about 1/21/64 he had been exhibited photographs of OSWALD, possibly by FBI Agents, while he was at 500 East Jefferson, Dallas, at which time he identified OSWALD.

An examination of the Report Of The President's Commission On The Assassination of President KENNEDY, reveals the following contained on page 171, lines 16-19, "Reynolds did not make a positive identification when interviewed by the FBI, but he subsequently testified before a Commission staff member and, when shown two photographs of Oswald, stated that they were photographs of the man he saw."

The interview of WARREN REYNOLDS on 1/21/64 is recorded on page 86 of the report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING, Dallas, captioned "LEE HARVEY OSWALD; INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA - CUBA," the last paragraph reading "REYNOLDS was shown a photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, at which time he advised he is of the opinion OSWALD is the person he had followed on the afternoon of November 22, 1963; however, he would hesitate to definitely identify OSWALD as the individual."

No comment was made regarding the above observation of REYNOLDS and no further action will be taken, UACB.

In addition to the above, REYNOLDS commented that he was not entirely satisfied with the progress being made by the Dallas Police Department with respect to determining the identity of the individual responsible for shooting him on 1/23/64 and he inquired as to whether the FBI was conducting investigation relating to his having been shot. REYNOLDS was advised that such an incident was not within the investigative jurisdiction of the FBI.

SUBJECT: REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION REGARDING THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY

The report of the President's Commission has been reviewed by the Administrative Division, the Domestic Intelligence Division, the General Investigative Division, the Identification Division, and the Laboratory.

COMMISSION'S FINDINGS:

The Commission's report sets forth the official facts of the assassination of President Kennedy as we knew and reported them in substance to the Commission on 12-9-63. Namely, Oswald was the assassin, he acted alone, his actions the product of a disturbed mind, showing an urge to find a place in history, a capacity for violence, a commitment to communism and a resentment of authority. Of events immediately following the assassination it found no evidence of any association with or conspiracy between Ruby and Oswald or among any outside factors, foreign or domestic.

In criticism it finds the Secret Service vastly inadequate to its assigned task in November, 1963. It castigates the Dallas Police Department for its handling of the person of Oswald subsequent to his arrest and for its dealings with news media. It recognizes the failure of the Secret Service to define the criteria they needed to properly protect the President and to make proper requests of Government agencies.

Concerning the FBI, the report states the FBI could have provided more to the Secret Service than prompt referral of specific threats to Presidential safety, as was our policy prior to the assassination. While not detailed on this point, it reports that the Bureau "took an unduly restrictive view of its role in protective intelligence work prior to the assassination."

REC-9 REC-57 62-109060-2

67 NOV 3 1964

MR. BELMONT - MR. TOLSON
RE: REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION

In recommendation of procedures to improve protection of the President, it proposes the formation of a committee at cabinet level to oversee the problems of protecting the President; the possible relocation of the duties of the Secret Service to another agency, or in the alternative the appointment of a responsible position in the Treasury Department to supervise the Secret Service and to keep the Secretary of the Treasury informed as to its performance; that the facilities of Secret Service be completely overhauled, including the establishment of criteria of information it needs to properly protect the President; that there be perfected a closer association and liaison between the Secret Service and all Federal agencies; and, finally, that the President's physician accompany him on his travels; that Congress make the assassination of the President and Vice President a federal crime; that State Department refine procedures for dissemination of information concerning defectors to Soviet-bloc countries, and that representatives of the bar, law enforcement and news media work more closely to establish ethical standards concerning collection and presentation to the public of information so there will be no interference with pending criminal investigations or rights of individuals to a fair trial. Here the Commission is not clear but the implications point to the Dallas Police Department, killing of Oswald, conduct of news media representatives, Mark Lane, et cetera.

The report states that both the Secret Service and the FBI have professed to the Commission that the liaison between them was close and fully sufficient. The Commission does not believe that the liaison between the FBI and the Secret Service prior to the assassination was as effective as it should have been. With regard to this comment, it is noted that prior to the assassination of President Kennedy the FBI disseminated to the Secret Service all information which came into its possession which it believed would be of value to the Secret Service in carrying out its responsibilities. It is noted that at no time did Secret Service express discontent nor did it furnish a written criteria regarding its needs.

Since the assassination of the President there was a complete re-evaluation of our ~~dissemination~~ policy with regard to information that might be of interest to Secret Service. New criteria were established and following the establishment of the new criteria we have been following the new procedures which were adopted. These criteria are the subject of a separate memorandum that was prepared on 9-29-64.

MR. BELMONT - MR. TOLSON
RE: REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION

In addition, we have determined that an Interagency Committee and program are being established by the Treasury Department to develop more effective criteria for dissemination of data to Secret Service. The Committee will include representatives of the President's Office of Science and Technology, Department of Defense, Central Intelligence Agency, FBI, and Secret Service. This Interagency Committee has not reached the stage of development to extend invitations to the FBI and others, but is expected to do so soon. It is noted that since the adoption of the Bureau's new criteria for dissemination, Secret Service has made available in writing to the Bureau the criteria upon which they desire to receive information. It is noted that the Bureau's criteria is broader in scope than the written criteria furnished by Secret Service.

The report of the Commission gives the Bureau credit for the amount of investigative effort since the assassination and mentions that 80 additional FBI personnel were sent to Dallas to assist in the investigation, that we had conducted more than 25,000 interviews and as of 9-11-64 submitted more than 2300 reports comprising some 25,400 pages.

In referring to the identification of 20 latent fingerprints and 8 latent palmprints, the Commission discussed the identities other than Oswald that were identified with the latent prints. The Commission in their wording stated "most of the prints were found to have been placed on the cartons by an FBI clerk and a Dallas police officer." The true facts are that it was determined that a clerk in the Dallas Office was identified with five latent fingerprints and one latent palmprint and the remaining latent fingerprints and four of the palmprints were determined to be those of a Dallas police officer. In connection with the clerk in the Dallas Office, he was responsible for the wrapping of the cartons for transmittal to the Bureau.

In discussing the shooting of Dallas police officer J. D. Tippit, the Commission states that certain witnesses to this shooting were interviewed by the FBI "two months after the shooting." It is noted the shooting of the Dallas police officer by Oswald was completely a local matter within the jurisdiction of the Dallas Police Department and the Bureau did not attempt to conduct any investigation concerning this shooting. The Bureau did offer its gather assistance of our "murder" instructive police"

Laboratory facilities to the Dallas Police Department in this matter. No interviews were conducted relative to the Tippit shooting until requests were received from the President's Commission to do so.

Concerning the various interrogations of Lee Harvey Oswald, the Commission comments on the small size of the interview room in the Dallas Police Department and states that up to 25 different persons participated in these interviews. There is no clear cut statement as to the number of individuals that participated in these interviews at any given time. In this regard it is noted that 1 Agent participated in an interview on 11-22-63 and 1 Agent participated in two interviews on 11-23-63.

Comment is also made that Oswald was not represented with counsel. The entire interviewing of Oswald was under the jurisdiction of the Dallas Police Department, not the FBI, and the Bureau had no control over the conditions under which the interviews were taking place.

The report states an FBI Agent is quoted as stating the conditions at the Dallas Police Department were like Grand Central Station or the Yankee Stadium. The Agent in the footnote is identified as Special Agent James P. Hosty. In this regard Agent Hosty's testimony does reflect that he made such a comment when testifying before the President's Commission.

The report states that the Director sent a message to Dallas Chief of Police Curry on 11-22-63, urging the Chief to afford Oswald utmost security. The reppr states Chief Curry did not recall receiving this message. SAC Shanklin assures that an oral message was delivered by Special Agent Manning C. Clements immediately after receiving instructions from the Bureau to so advise Chief Curry. (See SA Clements Dallas report 11/30/63, page 29, paragraph 5).

The report in discussing Chief Curry's periodic press releases on the developments in the assassination during the initial stages quotes the Director as being extremely concerned over these press releases and quotes from the Director's testimony in this regard.

In referring to interviews of Ruth Paine by Special Agent Hosty, the report states she was questioned concerning Oswald's whereabouts and promised to advise the FBI where he was residing and also to furnish the FBI any pertinent information concerning him. A comment is made that Ruth Paine was not asked to furnish Oswald's telephone number in Dallas and that she did not volunteer this information although she had such information in her possession.

The Commission has relied very heavily upon the technical findings of the FBI Laboratory to support their conclusions as to the identity of the assassin and our Laboratory findings are not presented in an unfavorable light. In some instances, reportedly in the interests of impartiality, because of deep involvement of the FBI in the investigation of the case, the Commission had other experts examine evidence upon which we had submitted reports. Upon being challenged by the Bureau at the time on the basis of a lack of confidence, the Commission denied any such lack of confidence. There were no important or significant differences between our findings and those of the other experts. This was particularly true of all crucial examinations such as the identification of the assassination bullets as having been fired in Oswald's rifle and the identification of Oswald's handwriting on documents establishing his ownership of the assassination rifle.

As a matter of interest, in a few instances, there was a difference of degree noted in certain of the findings. These instances are discussed in detail below.

On pages 577 and 578 the report sets forth that FBI Laboratory experts identified all writing on a vaccination certificate found among Oswald's belongings as being Oswald's handwriting except the signature "A.J.Hidell" which was too distorted to identify or nonidentify. Alwyn Cole, Treasury Department document expert identified all writing including "A.J.Hidell" signature as being Oswald's. On the other hand, Cole was unable to identify or nonidentify a rubber stamp kit which belonged to Oswald with rubber stamp impressions on this vaccination certificate. The FBI Laboratory expert was able to identify certain of the stamped words as having been made by Oswald's stamp kit. These minor variances are not contradictory and are overshadowed by the conclusive agreement of both experts that Oswald prepared most of the writing appearing on the certificate.

On page 136 of the report, relative to the bullet that had been fired into the home of Major General Edwin A. Walker on April 10, 1963, the Commission relates that Joseph D. Nicol conducted an independent examination of the bullet and concluded "that there is a fair probability" that the bullet was fired from the rifle used in the assassination.

The Nicol referred to hereinbefore is Joseph Nicol, Superintendent of the Illinois State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, called in by the Commission as an independent firearms examiner.

An examination of this bullet in the FBI Laboratory by three top firearms specialists conducting separate and independent examinations revealed it to be so extremely mutilated that there was not sufficient evidence remaining on which to base a conclusion as to whether or not the bullet recovered from Walker's house had been fired from the assassination weapon. One of the experts correctly testified before the Commission that the FBI does not use a category of "probable" identifications, and that unless a missile or cartridge case can be identified as coming from a particular weapon to the exclusion of all others, the FBI does not report an identification.

In explaining the difference between his policy and that of the FBI on the matter of probable identification before the Commission, Nicol admitted that he could not identify the gun "to the exclusion of all other guns."

The Commission took due cognizance of this in its evaluation of this matter, and the Commission states in its summation that it recognizes that neither expert was able to state the bullet which missed General Walker was fired from Oswald's rifle.

Relative to the firearms examinations of the four bullets removed from the body of Dallas Police Officer J. D. Tippit, and the four cartridge cases found near the scene of the murder of Tippit, the Commission notes that both the FBI experts and Nicol identified all four cartridge cases as having been fired in Oswald's revolver, thus establishing Oswald's revolver as the murder weapon. In the case of the bullets the Commission notes that Nicol differed with the FBI experts on one of these bullets, Nicol identifying one of these bullets as having been fired from Oswald's revolver. The findings of three top FBI examiners concerning the bullets were to the effect that, because of mutilation and the inconsistent nature of the individual markings on the bullets there was not sufficient evidence remaining on which to base a definite determination.

Since the findings of the FBI Laboratory were arrived at independently by three of our top firearms identification specialists and there definitely was no foundation for Nicol's conclusion, it is obvious that he was influenced by circumstances surrounding the case in arriving at his decision. [illegible]

In evaluating the evidence concerning Tippit's murder on page 176 of the report, the Commission completely ignored the identification made by Nicol. This illustrates how heavily the Commission relied upon the findings of our Laboratory experts. [illegible]

Mr. DeLoach:

I thought you would be interested in some information regarding correspondence received very recently concerning the public reaction to the Warren Commission's report and the riot report issued by the FBI.

While we have not actually counted individual letters, it is our estimate that we have received around 200 letters regarding the Warren Commission's report. Of these the response was overwhelmingly favorable--in fact, there was only a smattering of unfavorable letters and these were very general, with practically no specific criticism.

We have also received close to 200 letters regarding the report on rioting we issued in September. The reaction in this correspondence was roughly split fairly even. We received a few harsh letters taking us to task about the remarks made by civil review boards; but the vast majority of the unfavorable letters seem to be from people who were irked because the FBI report didn't say what they wanted to hear. In other words, they felt certain that the riots were either organized in origin or communist inspired.

As you know, in connection with the Warren Commission letters, we have been disseminating copies of John Chamberlain's article which appeared in the "Washington Post" on 10-2-64; Jerry O'Leary's article which appeared in the "Evening Star" on 10-2-64 and Arthur Krock's article which appeared in the "New York Times" on Sunday, 10-4-64. In response to the riot letters, we are sending copies of the report.

Dear Sir:

Ordinarily I appreciate Mr. Herblock's cartoons and I would be glad to see more of them, but the one you published today (Oct. 6) was very objectionable, in that it presented an unfair picture of J. Edgar Hoover, one of the nation's most dedicated servants. The cartoon went far out of its way to caricature Mr. Hoover as an egomaniac who resents anything which does not trumpet him as "Public Hero No. One." Considering the monumental service Mr. Hoover has rendered his country across many years, he surely deserves better treatment than this ill-mannered slap. Mr. Herblock is in error this time.

DATE: October 8, 1964

SUBJECT: PROTECTION OF THE PRESIDENT

On 10-7-64, pursuant to instructions, Liaison Agent Bartlett called on Chief James J. Rowley, Secret Service. Bartlett pointed out to Mr. Rowley that during the past few days an unusually large number of requests have been received by the Bureau from his office to borrow Bureau Agents to assist in the protection of the President. It was pointed out to Mr. Rowley that we want to help all we can but that the situation in Mississippi has necessitated our sending in a special group of over 100 men and that this together with extremely pressing problems elsewhere in the field of civil rights and criminal work, means that the Secret Service requests place a real burden on the Bureau. It was further indicated to Mr. Rowley that we would appreciate his calling on other Treasury Department investigative agencies for help in order to relieve the demands on the Bureau.

Mr. Rowley advised that he realizes the Secret Service requests of the Bureau have been heavy recently but that the present moment is the height of President Johnson's campaign and he is moving around more than he will be during ordinary times. Mr. Rowley further stated that when his field offices telephone and request assistance, he bends every effort to get the necessary assistance from the Treasury agencies before asking the Bureau.

Mr. Rowley said he does not have complete figures available; however, he would like the Bureau to know that all of the Treasury enforcement agencies furnish man power to the Secret Service. These include Intelligence Unit, Inspection Service and Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of Internal Revenue Service, Narcotics, Coast Guard Intelligence and Bureau of Customs. In addition, Secret Service has obtained assistance from Army Intelligence, Office of Naval Intelligence, Office of Special Investigations, Air Force, U. S. Marshal's Office and Border Patrol. Mr. Rowley indicated that the only figures available cover the period from February 11 through August 31, 1964. During this period Secret Service borrowed from other agencies 858 men who worked a total of 10,482 hours. Secret Service' figures show that the Bureau furnished 1,564 man hours during this period which is approximately 15 per cent of the total man hours borrowed by Secret Service from other agencies.

Mr. Rowley said that he is hopeful more money will be allotted to the Secret Service as a result of the Warren Report and that he expects recruiting to pick up soon and it is hoped that the Bureau will not have to be asked to provide assistance. Mr. Rowley told Bartlett that he and his entire service appreciates the generous helpful hand that the Director has given to the Secret Service especially during the past year.

Washington.

It is never pleasant to criticize such agencies as the FBI and the Secret Service, and last December this writer was subjected to a considerable newspaper blacklash for doing it.

On Dec. 2, I reported that "six Secret Servicemen charged with protecting the President were in the Fort Worth Press Club the early morning of Friday, Nov. 22, some of them remaining until nearly three o'clock. They were drinking. When they departed, three were reported en route to an all-night beatnik redenzvous, 'The Cellar.'

"Obviously men who have been drinking until 3 a.m. are in no condition to be trigger-alert or in the best physical shape to protect anyone."

Publication of this column brought an angry call from Pierre Salinger, then in charge of White House press relations, plus concerned queries from some editors. The statement was made by Salinger and others that the members of the White House detail who stayed up late did not have to work the next day.

The Warren Commission, after exhaustive investigation, has now reported to the contrary. It bears out the column of Dec. 2 except that nine, not six, agents were involved, with seven going on to The Cellar.

"Most of the agents were there from about 1:30 to 1:45 a.m. to about 2:45 or 3 a.m.," the commission reported. "One agent was there from 2 until 3 a.m.

"Each of the agents who visited the Press Club or the Cellar Coffee House had assignments beginning no later than 8 a.m.," the commission found. "Four had key responsibilities as members of the complement of the follow-up car in the motorcade. Three of these occupied positions on the running-boards and the fourth was seated in the car."

The column also reported on Dec. 14 that the FBI did not report to the Secret Service what it knew about Lee Oswald.

"It would appear to have been a shocking oversight to permit an unstable, irrational young man who had lived in Russia, had passed out circulars favoring Castro, and quite recently had taken a trip to Mexico to contact the Cuban Embassy, to remain unwatched and unreported to the Secret Service," I reported.

"The FBI learned . . . that Oswald was working at the Texas School Book Depository, located along the usual parade route through Dallas," I also reported.

The Warren Commission, confirming this, stated: "The commission believes that the FBI took an unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities. . . . There was much material in the hands of the FBI about Oswald, the knowledge of his defection, his arrogance and hostility to the United States, his pro-Castro tendencies, his lies when interrogated by the FBI, his trip to Mexico where he was in contact with Soviet authorities, his presence in the School Book Depository, and its location along the route of the motorcade."

On this failure to cooperate between the FBI and the Secret Service, the Warren Commission concluded: "There was no fully adequate liaison between the two agencies."

In a strange, wonderful way Pennsylvania Dutch—as Englished—makes very good sense. "My off is on," for instance, means "My vacation has started." Do you think it will make down? Is "Will it rain?" Or, "the cream is all," gone, of course—"the milk is yet?"

On 10/7/64, Mrs. EVA GRANT, 3929 Rawlins, Apartment 1, Dallas, Texas, who is the sister of JACK RUBY, telephonically advised the Dallas Office that she was reading the "Report of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy" and she was incensed at the biased manner in which everything had been placed in the report indicating what the State's witnesses had said. She advised she had looked through the report and could find nothing about the interview with one LEONARD WOOD OF WOODS, and that she knew he had given information as to RUBY's whereabouts on 11/23/63. She said she was going to get in touch with WOOD and have him come to the FBI Office to make a statement. She gave no definite information as to inaccuracies, but she was reading the book and was "boiling mad."

For information Bureau, page 193 of the report of SA MANNING C. CLEMENTS, Dallas dated 12/31/63, captioned "JACK L. RUBY; LEE HARVEY OSWALD - VICTIM (Deceased); CIVIL RIGHTS", sets forth an interview with LEONARD WOODS, which occurred on 12/20/63.

Mr J Edgar Hoover,

Washington, DC.

My dear Mr Hoover,

Read the excerpts of the Warren Com.

They criticized all police agencies, and blamed the FBI. Don't let it worry you as the people know better. If a resident does not want the protection that he should have, then it is his fault, not the police.

The only place where I think the police could have done a better job was in transferring Oswald, that was poorly handled and that was done so the press could have a big scoop. That was wrong, but it still goes on.

Mr Warren did not criticise himself for what he said about loyal Americans, he did not criticise the press for the lies they told about the situation.

I am not a John Bircher, nor a KKK or a communist, but I am a damn good American who is proud and get upset

when I see what they are doing to this fine country.

By the way Mr Warren did not criticise some of the decisions his group make reference to taking away power from the police. Still it's enough.

Stand your ground as you always have done.

Respectfully,

IS THIS "FAIR HOUSING?"

The term "fair housing" is a phrase most Americans can understand. As used with the Rumford Act, "fair housing" can have an altogether different meaning:

1- Trial, WITHOUT JURY, before a board of political appointees selected by the governor (para. 35730 and Sec. 1414 Labor Code).

2- You are ASSUMED GUILTY until you prove yourself innocent, at your own expense (para 35734).

3- You have NO APPEAL to a constituted court of law which would allow you trial by jury (para 35738).

4- If you do not prove your innocence to the satisfaction of the governor's appointees you may be "FINED" up to $500 (para 35738).

5- Your money is then given to the informer as a "REWARD" (para 35738).

6- You have NO PROTECTION from professional informers — persons who just shop around, hoping to be turned down so they can collect $500.

7- If you refuse to pay you can be IMPRISONED on contempt of court charges.

Thus, the use of the term "fair housing" and the claim that it is a "civil rights" issue, is an attempt to sugar-coat a bitter pill by angle-playing, vote-seeking politicians. Remove the sweetness and slogans and you have another government encroachment on your freedom as an individual.

As a nation, we Americans are very proud of our freedom. And during the course of every year we honor certain days because they represent our heritage as free people. We celebrate the Fourth of July because it's the anniversary of our independence. On Washington's Birthday we pay tribute to the man who led our nation to freedom. Memorial Day honors those who died defending our freedom. Even Thanksgiving Day reminds us of our freedom. Our freedom from want.

But, up to now, one of America's basic freedoms—Freedom of Enterprise — has not been honored with a "day" of its own. That's why, on the first Monday in October, this store will celebrate "Free Enterprise Day." On this day, the owners and employees of this business will pay tribute to the economic system that has given us all a standard of living second to none. Let's all celebrate "Free Enterprise Day." And let's all be more aware of the blessings Free Enterprise has given us. And not just the material blessings. Surely, the freedom to pursue a worthy livelihood without fear or oppression is one of the great freedoms of our nation.

Independent businessmen, by definition, are the very basis of Free Enterprise. It is Free Enterprise that has helped us grow and make progress over the years. By competing in a free and open market, the quality and value of our products have been able to gain the consumer acceptance they deserve. It is this competition, with you, our customer, as the final judge, that spurs us on to provide you with the finest products and services at the lowest prices.

We believe in progress through Free Enterprise

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I waited for the Warren report on the murder of President Kennedy, and it is to me far from satisfactory.

Oswald obtained his job several weeks before it was definitely known the President would come to Texas, and when it was known, the route of the President's travel did not cover the area around the building where Oswald was employed. We know Oswald was preparing for this murder several weeks, now the question in my mind is: what was the connection with the influence that led to the change of the travel route to come around this building?

Those responsible for the routing, even your department, made this change or were influenced to make this change. As I understand, no individual knew the president was coming around this corner until the last few days, yet Oswald was preparing and even working at a place to become the area of assination.

I remain with the FBI regardless of what has been said and written in the case. Thank you.

Dear Sir:

I think there are times when individuals must sound off in the face of irresponsible attacks on our public officials. To me, the inclosed cartoon from last Sunday's issue of the Washington Post comes under that category.

Please regard the enclosed copy of a letter which I have mailed to the Washington Post as but one expression of the vast public support which duly accrues to you in the face of such an unwarranted attack. Should the Post regard the last sentence of my letter as a low blow, it is merely a reply in kind to Herblock.

Dear Sir:

Has the Washington Post abandoned reasoned editorializing in favor of the smear and innuendo? The answer is yes if Herblock's cartoon lampooning Director Hoover of the FBI in connection with the Warren Commission report is anything more than aberration.

The Warren report's criticism of the alleged FBI omissions in the events which led to President Kennedy's death at least has the grace to admit the criticism amounts to Monday morning quarterbacking. Herblock's vitriol has no such grace and his effort to demean Mr. Hoover's many outstanding accomplishments in the fields of law enforcement and anti-Communism is contemptible. It will at best give comfort to those to whom Mr. Hoover is anathema and to whom I had thought your paper was opposed: to the crooks, racists, and communists in our midst. Indeed, Mr. Herbert Block may now qualify for a Stalin prize.

"It Just Docsn't Fit In With My Library!"

WASHINGTON POST, FRIDAY, 2 October 1964

These Days . . . . . By John Chamberlain

Pity the Poor FBI

PITY the poor FBI. In the past, it has gotten it in the neck for taking too severe a view of the Communist menace. Its chief, J. Edgar Hoover, has been criticized for seeing Reds under the bed. The Reuther brothers, Walter and Victor, in their famous memo to Robert F. Kennedy (then the Attorney General), insisted that the danger from the left was not in it in comparison to the danger from the right, and called upon the Department of Justice to put a stop to Red witch-hunting by Federal sleuths.

Chamberlain

That, of course, was almost three years before John F. Kennedy was killed in Dallas. The Warren Commission report makes it plain that the assassination was the act of Lee Harvey Oswald, a loner whose Marxist background was well known to the FBI. The "get J. Edgar Hoover" faction is now echoing the Warren Commission's criticism of the FBI for its "unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work."

"The argument is that the Dallas police should have been tipped off by the FBI about Oswald's history of dalliance in the Soviet Union, his attempt to forswear his American citizenship, and his work for the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, in time to have him taken into detention before Mr. Kennedy made the trip to Texas.

THE WARREN Commission report admits that criticism of the FBI on this score is "tinged with hindsight." As, indeed, it is. Moreover, it comes with exceedingly bad grace from a commission headed by the Chief Justice of the United States, for the Warren Court has been most zealous in its insistence that Communists have civil rights must not be invaded.

The Court has also been oversolicitous of the rights of alleged criminals. In the Mallory case, for example, the Court insisted that a Negro who had been convicted in a lower court of choking and raping a woman should be freed simply because he had been held for some 11 hours for questioning before arraignment. The same man later choked and raped another woman and was jailed for it.

Always, up to the present, the liberals have insisted that "raw and unprocessed" material in the FBI files should not be used as the basis for proceeding against any person. But now we are suddenly offered the proposition that, before a President visits a given town, every suspected Red or psychotic whose "raw" record is known to FBI agents should be forcibly detained for a safe period.

This is idiotic on the face of it. For instance, on one of President Johnson's trips to New York City, his itinerary took him past the dwelling places or hangouts of 3700 persons who might legitimately be suspected of subversive, psychotic or crackpot tendencies. Imagine the uproar from the civil libertarians if 3700 persons were put under police surveillance at one time. The FBI would be accused of making its "raw" data the basis of wholesale invasion of private rights.

THE POINT is that Lee Harvey Oswald, before the Kennedy murder, had not been known for violent tendencies. He was merely one of thousands of persons in America who are known to the FBI for having had relations with the Reds of one sort or another.

If the Government couldn't even apply the Smith Act to control Communist subversion in a manner satisfactory to the Supreme Court, how could a big city police force justify the detention of every suspected Red or psychopath who might turn up to watch a presidential motorcade go past a big building?

The police force that did that would be denounced from one end of the country to the other. The leftist Nation magazine's Fred J. Cook, perennial critic of the FBI, would devote a whole magazine issue to it; liberal law school professors would debate it endlessly, and even some conservatives might legitimately observe that Americans are entitled to their freedom until they have been duly convicted of breaking a law.

Oakland, California

Dear Mr. Weber:

I received your letter of October 7th and want to thank you for your kind sentiments and expression of confidence in me.

With respect to the report on the riot situation recently released by this Bureau, you may be interested in knowing it was based on the full facts developed by a careful and painstaking investigation by FBI Agents. This Bureau's record over the years speaks for itself. Our investigations are conducted thoroughly, promptly and impartially without preconceived conclusions and without favor or apology to any one. I am enclosing a copy of this report so that you may read it in its entirety.

With regard to the Warren Commission, information contained in our files must be maintained as confidential in accordance with regulations of the Department of Justice and is available for official use only. Our investigative reports concerning the assassination of President Kennedy were turned over to this Commission which has released its report which is now a matter of public record. Therefore, I trust you will understand why I am not in a position to comment along the lines you have suggested. In connection with this, I am enclosing copies of articles by Jerry O'Leary and John Chamberlain which I trust will be of interest.

Sincerely yours,

(See page 2)

Dear Mr. Hoover

First may I congratulate you on your report of the "riots" in the East and Midwest. It seem a very fair and unbiased report - except to your references to the poverty, etc., which seemed to have a scent of administration sentiment (column by William C. Buckley Jr.). I believe the American people are finally realizing that the situation isn't going to get better by its' self. After your warnings for years about the terrible increase in crime and amoorality, maybe the american people will finally listen to you.

I had the proud advantage of speeking with Herbert A. Philbrick last night. He brought to my attention something which I missed completely. A Mr. Redlick; I believe thats the correct spelling; who was an assistant to Mr. Earl Warren on the Warren Commission is listed on the Letter Head of the Emergency Civil Liberties Union for which you are familiar, as a supporter. I know many of the gentlemen on the Warren Commission are liberals - but I couldn't believe that they would dare go this far. Which is to say - select an individual of this nature.

I would appreciate if you could clarify or exsplain this for me. I realize being a member or supporter of any Communist Front Organization does not brand an individual as a Communist but I believe many americans would agree with me that this is not the type of individual we(the american people)want to investigate a marxist - leninist of Oswalds caliber.

Also I would like to know if you believe the american will ever beable to hear the FBI report; which was first promised by the President. I am one of many, many individuals who believe that the Warren Commission report is an insult to the intelligence of americans.

Your attention to my request would be very deeply appreciated.

NTC- 31

May God be with you and guide you, and see fit to save this great nation from itself.

NOTE: Correspondent wrote the Director 11-1-62 enclosing material described as "hate literature." The letter indicated a possible indication of instability and was not acknowledged. He was contacted by our New York Office in April, 1963, to return a tape he had furnished the Bureau. He is an employee of the United States Post Office and is actively engaged in fighting communism and claims to be a speaker on communism. As such, he has been banned from the campus of State University College at Oyster Bay. New York Office advised that although he gives the impression of being sincere in his opposition to communism, his discretion and good judgement are questionable.

Dear sir,

In a recent article of a famous weekly magazine, you are quoted as saying" There was nothing in Lee Harvey Oswalds background that would lead one to suspect that he would murder the President.".

If this is not classified matter could if be possible for you to tell me whether you did ever say this or not?

Also, if the Director of the F.B.I. receives information concerning the appearance of an individual with unusual background i.e., trip to Russia, Marrys, returns, etc., into an area whenein a person of high rank in the U.S. Govt.is soon to make a public appearance, DOES THEDIRECTOR ACT ON HIS OWN TO IMPLEMENT SAFTEY PRECAUTION, DOES HE CONTACT THE SECRET SERVICE OR DOES HE TURN ALL EVALUATIONS OVER TO HIS SUPERIOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL?

Enclosed is a program of a Breakfast I spoke at, in which I defended you and the Bureau against the vicious Life Mag. editorial attack against you.

On 9/28/64, while conducting investigation regarding another matter, SA DEXTER A. MADDOX contacted LESTER E. ABEY, Assistant Director, Washington State Vocational Rehabilitation Department, South 9 Washington Ave., Spokane, Wash., who stated that although he had not been able to read the complete Warren Report, he had noted the "attack" made on the FBI. ABEY advised that he desired SA MADDOX to know that he had the highest respect for the FBI and its "great" Director, J. EDGAR HOOVER. Also, that as a loyal American, he had the utmost confidence in the FBI and the outstanding men representing it. He said that any criticism of the FBI was felt by him personally, and that he wanted Mr. HOOVER to know that he would support him in any way he could, and he would be happy to fulfill any request that may be made of him by the FBI.

Mr. ABEY was advised that his comments would be brought to the attention of Mr. HOOVER.

The Seattle indices contain no derogatory information concerning Mr. ABEY. The Bureau may desire to address a communication to him.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

After reading Merriman Smith's article in the Newark News tonight (in fact, before reading it - and certainly now) I want to write to tell you that not all citizens believe the Warren idea.

I think the F. B. I. and the Secret Service are wonderful organizations, and that Mr. Kennedy took too many chances. It is ironic to me that the Warren report said Oswald was a lone killer, because although he may have been that, his philosophy is that of many young minds today fed with poisonous Marxism. It is a sickening atmosphere, seen in the disregard for law and order in perverted liberty.

On the T. V. tonight thousands of college students in Berkly, California mobbed a policeman. The same thing in Vietnam where Budahist Communist may soon take over 15,000,000 people in Southeast Asia. And Justice Warren didn't help the atmosphere in America by taking the old Testament out of the schools, thus putting us somewhat like the school system of Russia.

Keep up the good work. As long as there are men like you people, America won't be lost. Kennedy should have taken better care of himself. He was a great man, courageous and God-fearing, but when people are around who have no fear of God's Commandments, no life is safe.

Thanks for saying we don't want a Gestapo. For all of Mr. Warren's well intentions (?) words, that would happen. The left turns to that, without God-fearing laws.

Sincerely,

Agent Recalls That Night in Fort Worth

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI)—You're a Secret Service agent and it's midnight, Nov. 21, 1963, and you're in Fort Worth, Tex.

President John F. Kennedy has just gone to his suite in the Texas hotel. Through a fog of fatigue, muscular aches and worry about your youngest kid back at home (she had an awful cold when you left), you realize that the work day finally is over.

Mr. Smith has covered the travels of five presidents.

You've been on duty since 8 a.m. and you must be on duty again at 8 a.m. tomorrow, ready for the President's trip to Dallas. Parade through town, speech before a huge luncheon at a merchandise mart, and then over to Austin for a night at Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's ranch.

These 16-hour days aren't too tough. But when they go to 18 and 20 hours, it begins to get sticky. They tell you to go out to the target range in Washington and shoot a 265 (out of 300) score every 30 days with either hand. Tonight, you're so bushed that you couldn't hit the side of a barn—unless the barn was very close.

Going into the hotel at midnight, you find the lobby jammed by a lot of screaming, clutching people. A lot of teen-agers with an excuse to stay up late.

Watch that old fellow by the elevator. You yell at the agent in front of you, "by the elevator." He nods and shoulders through the people to block an odd-looking fellow holding some wilted flowers in his hands.

You battle to keep the President and his wife from being trampled by the crowd. The police have ropes strung through the place. But the ropes are slack and the crowd bulges out around the Kennedy. The President looks tired, but he lights up when he hears the tumult.

You notice that the First Lady's hair is dropping. She's trying hard to smile. You know from past experience that this sort of hollering, snatching welcome is for the birds as far as she is concerned.

Shoving and pushing, you finally get the man into the elevator and—whoocy—you're off duty for about seven hours.

Supper Beckons

You haven't eaten since dawn when you said goodbye to your sick kid. Well, you're in this hotel lobby, hungry and tired and a guy comes along and says there is chow and beer over at something called the Worth Club. Everybody's invited. The party, being given by the Fort Worth Press Club for the reporters, was set to start two hours ago and the President came in just about two hours late.

You don't want to go to a press club party. You want some sack time. You go to the hotel coffee shop and Texas political bigshots by the dozen have the place overloaded. There's a waiting line. So you remember the thing about the Worth Club, ask a bellhop for directions and walk a few blocks to the place.

No food. You got into town late and the locals ate everything. But they're nice people and you fall into a chair beside your buddies and a waiter brings you a beer. Man, that takes off some of the edge, doesn't it? You have a couple more and say to the guys that your gut is growling.

Some smiling townie, awfully nice guy, says there's action all night at a place called the Cellar Coffee House, couple of blocks away. You walk over there with some of the fellows.

You sit at this little slick-topped table, talking with a local policeman and you wonder if you're getting anywhere. When Kennedy travels, he moves like an arrow and he hits towns where there never is anything decent to eat late at night. It's okay when you're at the Carlyle in New York—good chow joints only a couple of blocks away. But once you're out of the big towns, you know that if you don't eat by 9 or 10 o'cock, you've had it.

Hunt for Breakfast

You sit around this strange place in Fort Worth. No drinks in this town, but you're curious about the way people at other tables are gulping from their coffee cups. You look at your watch—2:30 a.m. Holy Cow! Back to the sack.

You get up at seven. The hotel coffee shop is still crowded. You con a waitress for a quick cup of coffee and then hit the street. Big crowd. The President looks sleepy when he ducks out in the rain to address the people, then back into a ballroom for a Democratic party breakfast.

Air Force One—the big 707—is in the air. Not much time for breakfast aloft. You take out your small photo file and study for the millionth time a dozen pictures of the loose nuts—no address—who swear they'll kill Kennedy if given the chance. Almost automatically, you feel for your revolver in its breakaway holster on your right hip. You feel for the little leather pouch that contains 10 extra rounds of ammunition.

Then you hit Love Field in Dallas. The President and the First Lady work the fence. He gets sore if you get between him and the people sticking out their hands. Looks like the fence is going over, so you and a Dallas cop put your shoulders against the cable fencing and hold it up until the President walks toward the car.

Then you run for the follow-up car. Thank heavens they flew out from Washington one of the big open jobs with running boards. You start wheeling toward the mart. Crowds in the center of town are friendly. A few goofs. Check that guy, Lem, the one on your right. The one with the sign saying "I Reject You" or is it "I Despise You?"

'He's Down!'

The procession clears the crowd and you're on a parkway. You and your fellows crawl off the running boards and back into the car. Funny sign there—Texas School Book Depository. What do they do—make the kids put their books in a bank at night?

Pow! You know it came over your right shoulder from the rear. Pow. Damn. He's down. There goes Clint Hill (another agent) for the front car. Watch it, buddy (Clint stumbles, then grabs a guard rail and pulls himself aboard the President's vehicle. Mrs. Kennedy helps him.) You'd like to shoot, but at what? A park, an overpass which looks clear? The car now is moving at 80 miles an hour. The President has disappeared. By God, they got him.

You have that .38 in your hand and you feel sort of silly. No target. Those shots came from an elevation. Big caliber rifle. In the car ahead, Mrs. Kennedy has disappeared. She's down on the floor. Clint is on the back of the seat. Man, he looks worried.

You can hear the short-wave radio from the front seat. Roy Kellerman, another agent, is saying "we've been hit." Then you zing into the driveway of a big building. Parkland Hospital.

"Cover the driveway," a guy yells from the lead car. And you race to the roadway to stop other vehicles for entering.

How in God's Name?

Ten months later, you're reading the Warren Commission report and about what a lousy job you did in Dallas. How you should have checked out the buildings along the way. You're only one small cog in a small unit of men who work around the clock to keep the President alive. How in God's name can you be responsible for buildings? You check 'em or the locals do it and five minutes later some nut slips in the back door.

You can't close down an entire city. Everybody knows that, but somebody has to take the fall for it.

You sit at home with the wife and you read and listen to all the accounts of the Warren report. You figure that the White House detail of the Secret Service is getting the worst of it. Poor Chief Rowley. Spent most of his adulthood protecting one President or another. Now he is being chopped up by the report.

Your holstered revolver is hanging from the hat-tree just inside the front door. You're frightfully tired and a little sad. Likely as not you'll have to be at the airport at 6 a.m. to go with the President some place. Speeches, handshaking, motorcades—and back at midnight, or later.

There was no mention of the FBI and the article was quite favorable toward the Secret Service and critical of the Warren report for criticizing the Secret Service.

Dear Mr. Hoover

It was with considerable resentment towards Justice Warren that I read a week ago about his openly accusing the F. B. I. of laxness in the Kennedy assassination.

This absurd accusation comes from a man who chooses to legalize pornography so that our newstands are loaded with dirty literature. He can see nothing wrong with it as such. He also interprets the law so as to coddle communists and criminals and he makes it easy for them to flout the law.

It seems to me that Justice Warren and others like him who lean far to the left, just cannot distinguish from right or wrong.

Communists and extreme left wingers hate the F. B. I. of course, because they are on the side of the devil but the average citizen knows full well that the F. B. I. is one of the few, if not the only agency of the U. S. Government that is untouched by politics.

Congradulations Mr. Hoover on all the wonderful work you and your men have been doing all these years. I am 61 years of age and have been following the F. B. I. and the communists for quite some time.

Very sincerely,

SUBJECT: DREW PEARSON BROADCAST
STATION WTOP, WASHINGTON, D. C.
6:40 P.M., OCTOBER 10, 1964

Washington, D. C. - The FBI has had great difficulty in locating Don Reynolds, one-time friend of Bobby Baker and man who gave all the information to Senator Williams of Delaware. Reynolds was anxious to talk privately, but is not willing to talk to the FBI or Senate investigators when he can be cross-examined.

COMMENT: This report is apparently accurate. On October 9, 1964, Reynolds' attorney advised Bureau Agents that Reynolds is not willing to be interviewed in connection with the Baker investigation.

McComb, Mississippi - It was on direct orders of President Johnson that the FBI stepped up its activities in Mississippi resulting in the arrests of sheriffs, law enforcement officers and white gangs, which had concealed arsenals of guns, bombs and dynamite in Mississippi. When three Mississippi women whose homes had been bombed called on the President, he immediately ordered the FBI to intensify its investigation.

COMMENT: Violence in the McComb, Mississippi, area have been under investigation for some time. Eleven subjects have been arrested on local charges by FBI Agents and local authorities working in close cooperation.

Vicksburg, Mississippi - The race lines are drawn more sharply than ever in Mississippi. All over the state the white community has become more resistant to change. All over Mississippi young Negroes have become more bitter, leaning toward the Black Muslims. Leaders of the white community who were anxious to improve race relations have been intimidated, threatened and boycotted. More and more Mississippi is becoming like South Africa. Regretfully, I must report there is boiling up in Mississippi one of the most dangerous showdowns in America.

Concord, New Hampshire - Sherman Adams, the man who left the Eisenhower Administration over Vicuna and Bernard Goldfine has finally gotten a job after six years. He is teaching government at the University of New Hampshire.

Re: DREW PEARSON BROADCAST
STATION WTOP, WASHINGTON, D. C.
6:40 P.M., OCTOBER 10, 1964

Predictions - On Protecting the President: One of the strong recommendations of the Warren Commission was that all agencies of Government must cooperate in protecting the President and the Commission scolded the FBI for failing to give Secret Service information about Lee Oswald, that he had been in Russia, had defended Castro, was living in Dallas and worked right along the line of the President's parade. J. Edgar Hoover has now blamed this on the State Department and his office leaked a story to the press on this - not exactly cooperation with other branches of Government. The rivalry between the FBI and other investigative agencies, Secret Service, CIA, Postal Inspectors, has existed ever since Hoover became head of the FBI and here is my prediction: that rivalry will continue regardless of the Warren Report as long as Hoover remains in office.

My dear Mr. Hoover:

Having finally had an opportunity to read the Warren Commission Report on the assassination of President Kennedy, I am distressed to find some criticism of your organization, obviously based on an inadequate evaluation of the facts and hindsight.

When I take into account the statements of Mr. Warren in which he prejudged the assassination case and some of his opinions as a Justice of the Supreme Court, I am persuaded that he would have been the first to criticize the FBI for the violation of Lee Oswald's civil rights had you followed the procedure he now suggests.

You and your splendid organization have the respect and admiration of the people of this Country who believe in a government and society based upon respect for law and order. Consequently, although you must be concerned at some of the conclusions reached by the Commission, you can take comfort in the fact that your policies and practices will stand well the test of objective scrutiny.

You have my very best wishes for continued good health and my congratulations on patriotic service to our Country.

Very sincerely,

With respect to Fred J. Cook's book, "The FBI Nobody Knows," I have no comment to make other than to note that this book is a collection of old, time-worn discredited data which Cook and other enemies of the FBI have repeatedly put out in an effort to undermine public confidence in this Bureau and me.

In connection with these matters, I am enclosing copies of articles by Jerry O'Leary and John Chamberlain which I trust will be of interest.

You may be interested in knowing it is contrary to my policy to inject the FBI or myself into political campaigns. Therefore, I trust you will understand why I am not able to be of help along the lines you have suggested and trust you will understand the necessary reasons.

Sir:

Maybe the John Birch had a couple of bad points but it certainly did much good for the country. I belonged about 3 years ago for a period of six months and then dropped out when Senator Goldwater refused to support it.

My wife and I learned to see through Communist propaganda--at least more so than before. Now comes the Warren report and from it we assume a whitewash job on the State Dept. and a smear job to the F.B.I. I am certain the administration is out to discredit the F.B.I. and no one should be aware of this sooner than you Yesterday I was in a book store in Sharon, Pa., and there in full view where they place fast selling new books was---- 'THE F.B.I. NOBODY KNOWS' written by Fred Cook, published by MacMillan. I have heard of this Cook and from my memory I would say he isn't the best type of writer to give the honest view of anything

I realize I am an amateur at all of this political stuff but my good sense tells me you and your department are on the list to go if the present administrat is elected again. I hope you will do the right thing and do it before it is too late. If you think Senator Goldwater is the man to stop Communism and get the country back on the road then it is most important you take the necessary action to help him. People in this country will listen to your advice --- more so than to the political speakers.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I just received a memorandum from the United States Conference of Mayors which included a copy of the FBI riot report submitted by you, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to the President of the United States. It was most interesting. We in the smaller cities have been much more fortunate not to have experienced any such acts of violence, and we hope never to have such an occasion.

I wanted to also call your attention to a matter of which you are already aware, and that is the Warren report which was made public a short time ago. I was sorry to learn of the publicity which in my opinion was detrimental to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the greatest law enforcement agency in this country upon which each law enforcement agency throughout America relys to give them help in all matters of mutual concern.

Keep up the good work and spirit and don't take some of this so called gossip too seriously, and thank you for all your Bureau has contributed to Waukesha. We are always standing by to help further the cause of the FBI.

Very sincerely yours,

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

We are continuing our review of the other documents listed in the attachment to your letter of September 30, 1964, and you will be promptly advised when this review has been completed.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE:

By letter 9/30/64 the Commission furnished a list of approximately 100 documents which it desires to publish as backup data (exhibits and the like) to its report which was recently made available to the public. The documents listed herein have been reviewed and all were unclassified with the exception of Special Agent Fain's report of July 3, 1961, when such reports were originally disseminated to the Commission. However, they contained the property stamp which is printed on the first page of all FBI reports to the effect that such report is the property of the FBI, is loaned to an agency, and its contents are not to be distributed outside that agency. We have reviewed Special Agent Fain's report and it can now be downgraded to unclassified without compromising any of our sources or coverage. We are authorizing the Commission to disregard the property stamp since it was understood throughout the investigation the Commission would probably publish some of our reports and memoranda in its overall report to the nation.

October 7, 1964

Mr. John Chamberlain
230 West 41st Street
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Chamberlain:

I was extremely pleased to read recently your column, which originally appeared on October 2, 1964, entitled "Pity the Poor FBI", and could not refrain from writing to tell you how right you are. As a practical matter, I can speak from experience and say that the Warren Commission Report was entirely off the beam when it said that the FBI takes an unduly restrictive view in its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work. Quite the contrary is true because the FBI leans over backward to supply information to other governmental agencies where it is of interest and of use to them in discharging their own responsibilities. This policy is qualified only by the need in certain instances for protecting sources and for achieving the broad need of protecting our internal security.

I certainly agree with you that in the past the FBI has been criticized by Leftists for disseminating too much information relating to potential or possible subversive individuals. I also know that these same individuals will raise a hue and cry now, based on the Warren Report and use it as a base for further attack on J. Edgar Hoover without regard to constituency. I certainly hope that the American Public is not misled and I am certain that your column will go a long way to setting the record straight.

As a retired veteran of 28 years in the FBI and of 5 years as assistant head of the Security Bureau of NATO, I want to thank you for your analysis of the situation in your column.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AKA.

ATTENTION: CRIMINAL SECTION

ReLegat Ottawa airtel and letterhead memorandum dated 10-2-64, with attached galley proofs, copies of which are furnished for the information of Dallas and Chicago. Reference is also made to Chicago airtel and letterhead memorandum dated 10-9-64, copies of which are furnished for the information of Legal Attaches Ottawa and Tokyo. Also enclosed for Legal Attache Tokyo are pertinent communications containing background in this matter.

Legal Attache Tokyo through sources is instructed to locate and interview Ray Jefferies in an effort to substantiate or disprove the allegations made by Norman Similas. The results of investigation should be incorporated in an appropriate letterhead memorandum, without property stamp, for dissemination. Sufficient copies should be prepared for dissemination to the President's Commission and interested offices. Every effort should be made to expedite this matter. Keep the Bureau advised of any anticipated delay.

For the information of other receiving offices, after the receipt of Mr. Jefferies' interview, no further action in this matter is contemplated. Subsequent reporting of this investigation by Dallas is not desired.

NOTE:

Similas, a Canadian citizen and photographer, took several pictures during the assassination and claimed to have taken a picture showing a rifle with two individuals close by. His comments were incorporated in an article which was published in the now defunct Canadian magazine "Liberty." Investigation to date strongly indicates that Similas concocted this story in order to make money and to have his views published. We are interviewing Ray Jefferies of the Associated Press, whom Similas claims developed the photograph in question. The second installment of Similas' article, which has never been published, tends to prove Similas is a liar. Similas claims another reporter saw the photograph in question and that he was only reporting what this other reporter observed. This same statement would have been incorporated in the second installment; however, the interview with the reporter in question clearly shows that Similas is the one that made up this story. This will conclude our inquiries. When the results are received the Commission or its duly delegated authority will be furnished the results.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am writing in reference to the enclosed newspaper clipping. As I am a past employee (Clerk) of the F.B.I. offices in New Orleans and Dallas, I was disturbed by the article. First let me state that neither office has knowledge of my letter and this is written of my own accord and only reflects my true feelings.

I feel that too much emphasis was placed on the FBI's, quote "laxity" by the Warren Commission Report. It was stated in the papers that the Warren Commission in their investigation added approximately 8000 names to the potential assassins list, whereas the Secret Service had only 400 names previous to this list. It seems to me, that if the Secret Service had secured this information, part of their job, they wouldn't had had to rely on another branch of government service to supply what they should have had in the first place. Also in reference to the Secret Service "laxity", during the time I was employed by the FBI in New Orleans, Mr. Kennedy made a visit there, and I recall quite vividly, that when the president passed the Federal Building, the Secret Service spotted a window open in the Federal Building. This was investigated by them and the window was closed. This was told to me by several employees. According to the Warren Report several people were in the windows of the depository and this was missed??

I feel that some of the emphasis of laxity, could be placed on the branch of government service that allowed Oswald to return to this country, after he rejected it. I. this the State Department?? I read an article stating that according to Secret Service records many potential assassins are foreign born.

who allows people who do not have the best interests of the country at heart, to enter/?

I believe, to a certain group of the press that has written articles that created hate amongst each other, and doubt about our country, to them also a certain amount of responsibility for the crime can fall also.

To the people that had the mention of God removed from the schools, they are also indirectly responsible. Without love of God, can you possible have love for country or anthing else for that matter.

Also to those Americans interested in, as the late President put it, only what they can get from the country, not what they put into it or do for it (the draft dodgers, the free loaders, etc.) a small degree of responsibility also rests.

Unless the American people as a whole, have love for their country and respect for its laws and respect for those chosen by the people to uphold its laws, and unless they instill this in their children, how can they possible expect a few government agencies to bear the brunt of it all.

I do not know to whom the article is referring. However, I do know that while I worked in both New Orleans and Dallas, I found the devoted agents, hard working men, at times, staying late at night and coming in early in the morning. I found supervisor not taking time for lunch, other than a cold sandwhich eaten in an interview room or unoccupied room. Or not getting to eat lunch until 3:00 or 4:00 in the evening. Some away from home on special assignments weeks at a time. And even with all these pressures they always remained polite, courteous, gentlemen.

NOTE:

Items referred to herein are identified as follows:

(1) New York unclassified letterhead serial 3443.
(2) Houston unclassified letterhead serial 3539.
(3) New York unclassified letterhead serial 3870.

While above documents were unclassified, Dr. Goldberg of the President's Commission on 10/7 advised that Commission requested authority to regard them as unclassified in view of fact that they contained the character Internal Security - Russia - Cuba.

Items four through thirteen are our letterheads all prepared by Legat, Mexico City, and, where indicated, Bureau letters transmitting them to Commission. The Bureau letters all contained statement that, upon detachment from enclosures, the letters should be regarded as unclassified. All the letterheads prepared by Legat were classified "Confidential" [redacted]. All the letterheads have been carefully reviewed and all sources, where necessary, have been properly protected.

Further sanitizing of the letterheads referred to herein is not necessary. State Department has advised that it has no objection to declassification of results of our inquiries in Mexico, which in part, were summarized in a 178-page summary letterhead prepared by Legat which has been sanitized and declassified. While some of the material in letterheads referred to herein is covered in part in the sanitized summary, all of the information is not therein; hence, in view of State Department's reaction and as our sources have been properly protected, it is advisable to declassify letterheads in question.

These letterheads bear the following serial numbers in the Oswald file:

(4, 3509; 5, 2857; 6, 2330; 7, 4103; 8, 4425; 9, 3222; 10, 4257 and 4258; 11, 4546; 12, 4443; 13, 2103.

NOTE: In regard to the leak of Oswald's diary, Ruby's testimony before Chief Justice Warren, and Ruby's polygraph to news media, the Commission by letter dated 9/10/64 requested Commission members, Commission staff, Ruby's current and former attorneys be interviewed regarding this matter. These interviews were conducted expeditiously and over 80 individuals have been interviewed; the results were furnished to the Commission by letters dated, 9/23, 9/25, 10/1, and 10/6/64. Individuals interviewed indicated they were not aware of how the information was leaked to the news media. The Laboratory has conducted an examination of transcripts obtained from the Commission and others and made examinations concerning Page 103 of the transcript which appeared in the "New York Journal American." The Laboratory results are being furnished to the Commission by separate communication dated 10/16/64 and our inquiries are now complete.

The Irrational View

The Mallory Case, as most people now, involved a Negro whom the Supreme Court ordered released because he was held 11 hours for questioning before arraignment on a rape charge. His civil rights had been violated—which did not deter him from violating another woman victim once he had been released. The decision was one of those hampering state ministration of criminal justice.

What has this to do with the Oswald case and with the Warren Commission's complaint that the FBI doesn't take its preventive intelligence work seriously enough—that it failed to realize that Oswald was a potential threat to the President and did not notify Dallas police and the U.S. Secret Service of the same?

The plain meaning is that Oswald should have been detained—that all people of similar leftist histories should be put in preventive custody some hours before a President visits the city in which such types walk free. There would, of course, be no charge as such. The detention would probably be for some hours. The only excuse would be that these people might—just might—make an attempt on the life of the Chief Executive.

All these suppositions are of considerably less weight than the actual goods" which the police had on Mallory —so how good a case for their "civil rights" would detained leftists have in a federal action against police departments? Pretty good, we believe.

They would fare splendidly in the leftist journals, with the American Civil Liberties Union and—undoubtedly—with the Warren Court itself which has a history of decrying preventive steps against even known Communists. Yet, Mr. Warren, as head of the investigative commission, has joined in saying that the FBI takes an "unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work."

This means that the FBI (which Robert Kennedy as Attorney General, ordered to leave off chasing Reds and concentrate on civil rights) should turn over its "raw data" to city police departments involving known leftists and Communists and that the police departments should make wholesale detentions whenever a presidential motorcade is slated to arrive. New York is said to have about 4,000 such "potential threats," many of them with worse records than Oswald—some of whom have actually been trained in the Soviet Union. Imagine the stir their jailing would occasion. Talk about "police state!"

The fact is that so-called potential threats, as evidenced by people with leftist associations, are not sufficient to warrant preventive custody. The Commission has made a pretty good case that Oswald's was an "irrational" act—which means that the FBI and Dallas law enforcement officials would have to have been psychiatrists to suspect in advance that a man with a leftist record might also be deranged and capable—in addition —of political murder.

The Commission admits that its criticism of the FBI is "tinged with hindsight," which is a mighty good way of saying that nobody in this world could have suspected that Oswald would do what he did. A lot of people, though, who assume automatically that rightists are nuts by definition, were agitated in advance about what such "radicals" were capable of—not enough, though, to make official Washington wonder effectively why General Walker was shot at and narrowly missed. If that case had been solved there would have been no killing of the President but the favorite liberal theory was that the attempted assassination of General Walker was a rightist frame-up and that the general had it done to excite sympathy.

☐ Being Investigated

It ill befits either Mr. Warren or the Attorney General's office to talk now about what should have been done when the recent history of both bodies has been to worry more about the civil rights of leftists than the potential menace they pose to our leaders. They are supposed in fact to pose none at all. The obsessive concern with the rightists had pre-empted official caution about the President's safety. Walter Reuther, early in President Kennedy's term, asked Bobby Kennedy to leave the leftists alone—that the danger from the right was the real one. The New York Times is still laboring the thesis that the rightist atmosphere in Dallas generated irrational rage in both Oswald and Ruby. This is the "but for" doctrine which law freshmen are warned against as a logical non sequitur in criminal law—but the people who think this way would have raised the devil over Oswald's preventive detention, though they were silent when General Walker was snatched up for mental tests.

The Commission report makes one thing clear—that no amount of security is going to make a President exposing himself to crowds safe. Even a roundup of leftists and rightists wouldn't necessarily net some "irrational" person without politics but with a grudge. The criticism due Mr. Warren is not that the FBI is perhaps being insincerely criticized but that what he suggests in the way of preventive custody is repellent to American justice and a blot on his supposed record of concern for individual rights and due process of law. Few Americans want the kind of society that advance roundups of potential threats preceding every presidential visitation would bring.

Unjustified Criticism

On the morning of last November
d, President John F. Kennedy, Mrs. nnedy and Ken O'Donnell — a top ite House aide—were chatting as y waited to go aboard their plane in Worth for the short hop to Dallas ere the President would be assassi-ed approximately two hours later. By ost unbelievable coincidence, the con-sation turned to murder of Presiits. The Warren Commission Report tes President Kennedy as saying at t time:

"If anybody really wanted to hoot the President of the United tates, it was not a very difficult job —all one had to do was get (on) a igh building some day with a tele-copic rifle, and there was nothing nybody could do to defend against uch an attempt."

The Warren Commission Report is ost as hard hitting in its attacks on Treasury Department's Secret Serv-as not adequately protecting the es of Presidents—and with a few side s at the FBI, too—as it is in seeking convince people that there could not e been any kind of conspiracy in the ssination, especially Communist; and t the only possible connection of mmunism to the killing of Mr. Ken-dy was that the man named as the er was a Communist. The "no conracy" angles of the Report are merely nclusions of individuals who seem to ume that what cannot be proved can-exist.

The Commission's Report is some-at careless in its attacks on the Set Service.

The Report also is lackadaisical in its icism of the State Department for y issuance of a passport to Lee Harvey wald when it knew he renounced the ited States to seek Russian citizenship d then renounced that renunciation in der to get money from the State Dertment in Moscow to get back to this untry.

The S... Department said this was outine." ... ; but why was it
...e?

The Secret Service did not search every building along the Kennedy motorcade in Dallas and do other things that the Report says should have been done simply because it lacks the manpower to carry out its work in that way. That is not the fault of individuals—it is—or was—"just routine."

It is worth noting that even the mild criticism of the State Department that is voiced, as well as some of the revelations involving testimony of Oswald's widow and others in relation to Communism, might not have been in the Report at all but for Senator Richard Russell of Georgia and Allen Dulles, former Central Intelligence Agency Director. It has been published that Mr. Dulles deliberately "leaked" some information to newspapermen before the Report was published — stories intended to force the Commission to include in the Report at least references to certain material that might otherwise have been left out. It has been published also that some members of the Commission—presumably Mr. Dulles and Senator Russell—flatly stated that they would make a minority report unless certain points were covered by the Report itself. That would have upset the whole "unanimity" picture of the Warren Commission and its Report in the eyes of the public.

As for the Secret Service, it is an agency of the Treasury Department and has many, many duties, only one of which is protection of the life of the President. Thus, the White House Secret Service unit fundamentally is intended to be preventive. The FBI, on the other hand, is a Department of Justice investigating agency, functioning mainly after a federal crime has been committed or is suspected. Of course, its work automatically carries angles of prevention. The fact that the FBI had not informed the Secret Service that Oswald was in Dallas and that he had been, in the past, a defector to Russia, again was—like the State Department and the passport to Oswald—"routine."

☐ Being Investigated

It is this "routine," not only in the Secret Service and the FBI perhaps, but in the State Department, that needs to be changed—among many other things.

But when it comes to assassination of the President, there are two great hazards which could not be overcome completely no matter how big the Secret Service—and the FBI—might be.

One is the President himself; any President.

The other is the fact that assassination and attempted assassination are, collectively, virtually an occupational hazard for the post of President of the United States. This was dealt with in some detail in a Times editorial on last November 27, five days after Mr. Kennedy was assassinated. (Excerpts from it are reprinted in adjoining columns at the bottom of this page.)

President Johnson was criticized severely because his own personal conduct on his campaign trip to Detroit a month ago made it almost impossible for the greatly enlarged corps of federal agents assigned to him to give him much more than a faint shadow of real protection.

Mr. Johnson is being criticized even more for the manner in which he exposes himself now in his campaigning.

But, as The Times editorial last November pointed out, it seems that occupying the post of the presidency imbues a man with a feeling that votes are more valuable than life; with this feeling augmented by an inner streak of exhibitionism and the love of the limelight. Thus, as President Kennedy said even as the assassin was preparing to murder the Chief Executive, all it takes is a high building, a rifle with a telescopic sight, and the President in range.

President's Commission

Dear Mr. Hoover:

In the October 12, 1964 issue of "The New Leader," pages 6-9, there is an article by George and Patricia Nash entitled "The Other Witnesses," copies of which are attached hereto. This article discusses the results of an investigation in Dallas of the circumstances surrounding the killing of Patrolman J. D. Tippit of the Dallas police.

In connection with your continuing investigation of President Kennedy's assassination and the events connected with it, "The New Leader" article may be of interest to you.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin

The Other Witnesses

By George and Patricia Nash

THE WARREN Commission Report already has won the respect of almost all who have read it, and deservedly so. It is a clearly written, remarkably comprehensive document that is cautious in reaching conclusions. It dispels rumors, wrecks theories, dismisses items of "evidence" used to convict Lee Harvey Oswald in the public mind, and draws some order from the confusion surrounding the assassination of President Kennedy over these past 10 months.

In the process, it also takes the trouble to dispense justice where injustices have been done. The Dallas police, for example, had issued an extremely damaging story about Joe Molina, for 17 years credit manager at the Texas School Book Depository, as a "possible Number 2 man" in the murder. Their suspicions had been aroused by the fact that Molina belonged to a veterans' organization called the American GI Forum, which the Dallas police alone considered subversive, and the publicity cost him his job. The Commission delves into the details of Molina's case and clears him.

But what of the future historians or political scientists attempting to reconstruct the events of last November 22? Will they find all the pertinent facts in the voluminous Report? In the light of an intensive two-week investigation that we conducted ourselves in Dallas, we would have to answer: No. Particularly where the slaying of Patrolman J. D. Tippit and the events at the Depository are concerned, the Report is less than complete.

The most convincing aspect of the case against Oswald involves the testimony of three witnesses to the Tippit shooting at 10th Street and Patton Avenue, in Oak Cliff. Here the evidence is not merely circumstantial, as with the assassination. The Commission quotes extensively the accounts given by three persons who were near the scene of the crime: William Scoggins, Domingo Benavides and Mrs. Helen Louise Markham.

Taxi-driver Scoggins—eating lunch in his parked taxi—noticed a man and the approaching police car, heard shots, saw Tippit fall, then saw the man run south on Patton. At the moment of the actual shooting his view was partially obstructed by shrubbery, and he did not emerge from the cab until he heard the firing. The next day he picked Oswald out of a lineup, not as the killer but simply as the man he had seen running past him.

Domingo Benavides was driving a pickup truck west on 10th Street. As he crossed the intersection a block east of 10th and Patton, he saw a policeman standing by the left door of the patrol car and a man standing on the car's right side. He then heard three shots and saw the policeman fall. He waited in the truck until the gunman ran to the corner, and saw him empty the shells into some bushes. "It was Benavides, using Tippit's car radio, who first reported the killing of Patrolman Tippit at about 1:16 P.M.," the Report declares, although the ambulance records show a different source of the shooting report. The Report goes on to note that Benavides told police "he did not think that he could identify the man who fired the shots."

Mrs. Markham gave the only detailed account of what occurred between the gunman and Tippit from the moment the patrolman stopped on 10th Street. According to the Report: "Her description and that of other eyewitnesses led to the police broadcast at 1:22 P.M. describing [Tippit's] slayer as 'about 30, 5'8", black hair, slender.'" But Mrs. Markham also told attorney Mark Lane that the gunman was "short, a little on the heavy side," with "somewhat bushy" hair. In testifying before the Commission, she first denied that she had ever said this and changed her story only when confronted with a tape recording of the conversation. The Commission observes that "in her various statements and in her testimony, Mrs. Markham was uncertain and inconsistent in her recollection of the exact time of the slaying." Nevertheless, the Report declares: "Addressing itself solely to the probative value of Mrs. Markham's contemporaneous description of the gunman and her positive identification of Oswald at a police lineup, the Commission considers her testimony reliable."

Contrary to what some have maintained, we did not find Mrs. Markham inaccessible. Our interview with her, though, did lead us to feel that any testimony she might give was of dubious value. Since she is a critical witness, we think part of the interview worth quoting verbatim:

"Q. Has the assassination of the President and what happened afterwards affected you personally?

"A. It sure has. I lost my job . . . having to go to Washington. I've had a nervous breakdown. I'm the witness. I'm the one he was talking to when he died. I know what it's like when someone dies. I was with my father when he died. He [my father] said 'Well, I don't know.' And then he was dead. I couldn't understand what Tippit said. I guess he wanted me to call on the car radio and get some help. I was there with Tippit when they put him on the stretcher. He was dying.

"Q. Was it long until the ambulance came?

"A. No.

"Q. About how long?

"A. I was there hollering and screaming, trying to get help. Wouldn't nobody come help me. I would guess that it was about 20 minutes before the ambulance came—20, 25 minutes I was there alone until the ambulance came and then another five minutes until the police came . . . The police treated me like a queen. Me and the cab driver, I guess we're the only witnesses. When the police got there, I fainted. I fainted three or four times."

Thus Mrs. Markham stated that Tippit talked to her after being shot (although the Commission says he was killed instantly), and that she was alone on the scene for 20 minutes (although the ambulance arrived within minutes of the shooting). And nowhere does she mention Benavides, who used the car radio to call the police.

WE WERE able to locate at least two witnesses at the Tippit murder scene who were not questioned or even contacted by the Commission. We had little difficulty in tracking them down and we could find no reason to doubt their veracity. Because their statements are important in relation to Mrs. Markham's testimony, and because they have not appeared elsewhere, we shall also quote them verbatim. First, Frank Wright, who lived in a ground floor apartment on 10th Street, about half a block east of the murder site:

"I was sitting watching television with my wife. I was sitting in a chair next to the door. I wasn't but two steps from the door. I heard shots. I knew it wasn't backfire. I knew it was shots. As soon as I heard them, I went out the door. I could see a police car in the next block. It was toward the end of the next block. I could see it clearly. The police car was headed toward me. It was parked on the south side of the street. In other words, it was parked across the street from our apartment house. I saw a person right by the car. He had fallen down. It seems as if he had just fallen down. Maybe I saw him as he had just finished falling. He was on the ground, and then he turned over face down. Part of him was under the left front fender of the car. It seems to me that I saw him just as he hit the ground. I saw him turn over and he didn't move any more.

"I looked around to see what had happened. I knew there had been a shooting. I saw a man standing right in front of the car. He was looking toward the man on the ground. He stood there for a while and looked at the man. I couldn't tell who the man was on the ground. The man who was standing in front of him was about medium height. He had on a long coat. It ended just above his hands. I didn't see any gun. He ran around on the passenger side of the police car. He ran as fast as he could go and he got into his car. His car was a grey, little old coupe. It was about a 1950-1951, maybe a Plymouth. It was a grey car, parked on the same side of the street as the police car but beyond it from me. It was heading away from me. He got in that car and he drove away as quick as you could see. He drove down 10th Street, away from me. I don't know how far he drove. After he got into the middle of the next block between Patton and Crawford, I didn't look at him any more.

"I looked at the car where the man was. I looked to see what had happened there. About the same time as I came out, or maybe a little while after, a woman came down from her porch. She was at the house about three or four doors from the intersection of 10th and Patton. The house was on the same side of the street as the police car. Just as the man in the car pulled away she came toward the police car and then she stepped back. I heard her shout, 'Oh, he's been shot!' throwing up her hands. Then she went back up toward the house. There was no one out there except me and that woman when I got there, except for the man I described earlier. I couldn't figure out who did the shooting. I didn't see a gun on the man who was standing in front of the car. There wasn't anyone else but the man who drove away and the woman who came down from her porch. I was the first person out. I knew there wasn't anyone else there at all. It wasn't any time at all until the ambulance got there. By the time the ambulance got there, there were maybe 25 more people outside. Then after a while, the police came up. After that, a whole lot of police came up. I tried to tell two or three people what I saw. They didn't pay any attention. I've seen what came out on television and in the papers but I know that's not what happened. I knew a man drove off in a grey car. Nothing in the world's going to change my opinion. I saw that man drive off in a grey coupe just as clear as I was born. I know what I saw. They can say all they want about a fellow running away, but I can't accept this because I saw a fellow get in a car and drive away."

We have no way of knowing how the investigation could have ignored Wright, whether his memory is accurate, or whether a plausible explanation for the mysterious man in the car might be a passerby unwilling to be a witness. For our purposes here, such speculation is beside the point, which is simply: Why didn't this account come to the Commission's attention?

The question becomes all the more relevant when it is realized that it was a call from Mrs. Wright which was responsible for the ambulance being dispatched, and the police had her address:

"I was sitting in my apartment watching television with my husband. We had just learned that the President was shot. I was sitting in a chair with my back to the intersection of 10th and Denver. My husband was sitting across from me. I heard shots fired and I immediately ran to the window.

"I heard three shots. From my window I got a clear view of a man lying there on the street. He was there in the next block. I could see there was a man lying in the street. I didn't wait a minute. I ran to the telephone. I didn't look in the book or anything. I ran to the telephone, picked it up and dialed 'O.' I said, 'Call the police, a man's been shot!' After that I went outside to join my husband. It wasn't but a minute till the ambulance got there."

The operator took Mrs. Wright's address, 501 East 10th, and called the police. The police noted there was a shooting at 501 East 10th and pushed a buzzer connecting them by a direct line to the Dudley M. Hughes Funeral Home.

THE DUDLEY M. Hughes Funeral Home is the central ambulance dispatching point for southern Dallas. It either handles calls directly or calls other funeral homes in the system that cover other areas. Dudley M. Hughes Jr., the dispatcher, took the call from the police. He filled out an ambulance call slip with the code "3-19" (which means emergency shooting) and the address, "501 East 10th Street." He put the slip into the time clock and stamped it 1:18 P.M., November 22, in the space marked "Time Called." Since the location was just two short blocks away he told one of his own drivers, Clayton Butler, to respond. Butler and Eddie Kinsley ran down the steps, got into the ambulance and took off, siren screaming.

Butler radioed his arrival at the scene at 1:18 P.M., within 60 seconds of leaving the funeral home. He remembers that there were at least 10 people standing around the man lying on the ground. It was not until he and his assistant pulled back a blanket covering Tippit that they realized the victim was a policeman.

Butler ran back to his radio to inform headquarters. The radio was busy and he could not cut in. He yelled "Mayday" to no avail, and went back to Tippit. The officer lay on his side, face down with part of his body under the left front fender of the police car. Butler and Kinsley rolled him over and saw the bullet wound through Tippit's temple. Butler told us, "I thought he was dead then. It's not my position to say so. We got him into the ambulance and we got going as quickly as possible. On the way to the hospital I finally let them know it was a policeman." The record shows that Butler called in to the funeral home at 1:26 P.M. to say he had reached the hospital.

Despite the fact that the ambulance was dispatched to 501 East 10th, no statement was ever taken from either of the Wrights. Mrs. Wright remembers that a man who did not identify himself came around two months after the President's assassination and talked with her for a few minutes. He took notes, did not ask her to sign anything, did not speak to her husband and did not ask if he had seen anything unusual. Clayton Butler, the ambulance driver, says he was questioned by the Dallas police when he arrived at the hospital, but not since then.

Others never questioned included Butler's assistant, Eddie Kinsley; Dudley M. Hughes Jr., who dispatched the ambulance; and the managers of the apartment house facing the murder site. All of these potential witnesses were in agreement on the lapse of time between the shots and the arrival of the ambulance—in direct contradiction to Mrs. Markham's statement. It is worth noting, in connection with Mrs. Markham's reliability, that the lineup (which satisfied the Commission as fair in its procedure) included only three persons besides Oswald for Mrs. Markham to choose from: two 18-year-olds and a 26-year-old man of Mexican descent. Oswald (who had appeared on television before this lineup) was the only one whose face was cut and bruised. In the light of our own findings in the Tippit slaying, it appears quite possible that Mrs. Markham came on the scene only after hearing the shots; and without Mrs. Markham, there is no one to say precisely what happened between Tippit and Oswald.

THERE ARE also a number of other points which the Report leaves unresolved or untouched:

1. The Report cites as one "speculation" the rumor that "another witness to the slaying of Patrolman Tippit, an unidentified woman, was interviewed by the FBI but was never called as a witness" by the Commission. In reply, the Report declares: "The only woman among the witnesses to the slaying of Tippit known to the Commission is Helen Markham. The FBI never interviewed any other woman who claimed to have seen the shooting and never received any information concerning the existence of such a witness."

We interviewed this "other witness," whose name is Acquilla Clemmons. She claims to have seen two men near the police car, in addition to Tippit, just before the shooting. The woman said the FBI did question her briefly but decided not to take a statement because of her poor physical condition (she is a diabetic). Her version of the slaying was rather vague, and she may have based her story on second-hand accounts of others at the scene. It seems probable, however, that she is known to some investigative agency if not to the Commission itself.

2. The Report dismisses the rumor that Oswald lived near Jack Ruby, pointing out that their residences were a mile apart. But the Tippit shooting took place only two blocks from Ruby's home on Marsalis St., a fact not mentioned by the Commission.

3. The Report gives the impression that Oswald was the only Depository worker found to be absent after the assassination. But Bill Shelley, Oswald's foreman, and others who worked in the building told us that Charles Givens was missing from the sixth floor work crew. Shelley said he was sent outside in an unsuccessful attempt to locate Givens, and there was talk of sending out an "all-points bulletin" on the missing man. This proved unnecessary because Givens heard he was being sought and made his way to police headquarters.

4. The Report accepts the version of the assassination aftermath in which Roy Truly, the Depository supervisor, and Patrolman M. L. Baker are supposed to have entered the building and met Oswald on the second floor less than two minutes after the attack. But Molina, the unjustly accused worker, told us he testified that he was standing by the Depository door and saw Truly run past him into the building—alone. Further, Bill Shelley told us that Truly and Baker entered five or six minutes after the shooting.

Obviously, the question of the precise timing has important implications: If Oswald was not encountered for five or six minutes after the shooting, this would have allowed him time to reach the second floor easily from either the sixth floor or from the front of the building, as he himself claimed; if the time was just two minutes, the argument is sure to continue that Oswald could not have made it from the sixth floor to the second—despite the FBI re-enactment showing this was possible.

5. The Report mentions that "the front door" and "the rear door" of the Depository were guarded from about six minutes after the shooting. What it omits, however, is that there were four separate "rear doors," all of which were open and only one of which was guarded. There are two loading platforms, a customer's door and a rail entry. No one guarding any one of these doors could see any of the others. This conceivably might be relevant to a question of whether Oswald acted alone. As Shelley told us, "Any one of a thousand different people could have entered or left the building and nobody would have known it."

Again, our purpose in discussing the items we found untouched or unresolved by the Report has not been to determine whose version of the events is correct, or to establish any one person's guilt or innocence. Our object has simply been to demonstrate that future historians and social scientists will not be able to reconstruct what occurred last November 22 from the Commission's report alone. Moreover, as the years go by, witnesses vanish, inconsistencies are forgotten and memories fade, the questions they will undoubtedly raise will become increasingly difficult to answer with any degree of accuracy.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director

Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The current news reports on the findings of the Warren Commission seem to place part of the blame on the FBI for security failures in the President's assassination. There are vague references to the fact that Oswald was a security subject, possibly under FBI surveillance a short time before he murdered the President.

I am afraid that the role of the FBI in protecting the internal security of the United States is being completely misunderstood not only by the public but also by the news media.

The fact was that the Secret Service is solely responsible for guarding the President, and there was a failure to protect him from the assassin's bullet. They have always had full cooperation from the FBI whenever they requested it.

The Dallas police reacted quickly and heroically but, unfortunately, failed to protect their prisoner, and this was their responsibility.

As in so many other cases now days, news commentators and now the Warren Commission seek to dilute the hard realities of life and spread the blame irresponsibly. No doubt, some sob sisters will soon be blaming society and not the criminal for this crime. I hope that you will find some way to set the records straight.

In my business I am in constant contact with newspaper, radio and television executives. If there are any releases or significant testimony by FBI officials on this subject, I would like very much to have copies of same in order that I might intelligently discuss with my friends in the industry the unjust criticism of the FBI which is now being included in the tremendous publicity of the Warren Commission's Report.

All of us who were formerly associated with you know full well that the Bureau always offers full cooperation to the Secret Service, and any other course of action on your part would be unthinkable.

Cordially,

On 10/13/64 Miss SUE BROWN, 10221 Galway, Dallas, Texas, telephonically contacted SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING at which time she stated her sister, Miss ELSIE MAE JOHNSON, had been interviewed by FBI Agents immediately after the killing of LEE HARVEY OSWALD by JACK RUBY and that Miss JOHNSON furnished considerable information concerning EVA GRANT, sister of JACK RUBY.

Miss BROWN continued that on 10/12/64, EVA GRANT came to see SUE BROWN at her place of employment at the H. L. Green Company, Dallas, Texas, at which time EVA GRANT was extremely angry at Miss BROWN and Miss JOHNSON and had complained to Miss BROWN about the information Miss JOHNSON had furnished to the FBI stating that she had seen the results of the interview.

Miss BROWN stated she was present on November 24, 1963, when two FBI Agents interviewed her sister, Miss JOHNSON, and she had encouraged Miss JOHNSON to divulge to the Agents all of the information she had concerning EVA GRANT and JACK RUBY. Miss BROWN stated she had impressed upon her sister, Miss JOHNSON, it was all right to give such information, and it was her understanding that such information would be kept in the strictest of confidence.

It should be noted that the results of the interview with Miss ELSIE JOHNSON is reflected on pages 350-352 of the report of SA MANNING C. CLEMENTS dated November 30, 1963, at Dallas, Texas, in the case captioned "JACK L. RUBY, aka; LEE HARVEY OSWALD, aka (Deceased) - Victim, CIVIL RIGHTS".

Miss BROWN stated she was now concerned about what EVA GRANT or members of her family might do to her or her sister, Miss JOHNSON, and that although she has always considered the FBI to be an extremely fine organization, she is very disturbed at the fact that Chief Justice WARREN and the President's Commission have seen fit to allow EVA GRANT to see the results of the interview with Miss JOHNSON.

Miss BROWN was advised that her concern would be made known to the proper officials.

It is recommended that the Bureau may desire to direct a letter to Miss JOHNSON, whose address is 6106 Singing Hills, Dallas, Texas, and/or Miss SUE BROWN, 10221 Galway, Dallas, Texas, advising of the circumstances under which the contents of Miss JOHNSON's interview became known to EVA GRANT. It would appear that the results of such interview have been included in certain backup testimony to the President's Commission, although such is not available to Dallas and Miss JOHNSON's name is not contained in the index to the report of the President's Commission which is in the possession of Dallas.

NOTE:

Miss Sue Brown on 10/13/64 contacted the Dallas Office and stated that the information furnished to the FBI by her sister Elsie Mae Johnson concerning her association with Eva Grant was revealed by the President's Commission to Eva Grant. Eva Grant is Jack Ruby's sister and Miss Johnson stated she was a close friend of Eva and furnished background information regarding Eva Grant and her activities in Dallas. Her information was not significant except that she did state that Eva had told her that she had worked for Al Capone. Her allegation was not substantiated by investigation. Dallas suggested that the Bureau write to Miss Brown and Miss Johnson and advise them of the circumstances under which Johnson's interview was disclosed to Eva Grant. If any such disclosure was made, it was made by the President's Commission and the Bureau should not assume responsibility for justifying that action.

Mr. Hoover's Testimony

J. Edgar Hoover's testimony before the Warren Commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy now has been published.

Just as the Warren Commission did in its report, Mr. Hoover pinpoints the devilish problems involved in trying to protect a President.

"President Johnson," he said, for instance, "is a very down-to-earth human being, and it makes the security problem all the more difficult, but you can't bar him from the people."

The FBI director spoke out strongly against "police-state" methods in shielding the President from possible crackpots.

"I am particularly concerned," he said, "that we don't become hysterical and go too far in restricting the citizens of our country from exercising their civil and constitutional rights."

He deplored an incident in Chicago when some "extremists" practically were put under house arrest while President Johnson was there.

"I don't think there is any place in this country for that kind of thing," Mr. Hoover said.

Coming from a man who has spent his life in police work, this is an especially salutary attitude—as well as practical.

Mr. Hoover, however, did recommend some stringent restrictions on a President's travel: Careful advance preparation for a trip, maximum delay in announcing the route of travel, a car equipped with bullet-proof protection. "He must never ride in an open car," Mr. Hoover said.

But these are restrictions most Presidents would shun.

The Secret Service, the FBI and the police combined cannot "case" every person who may be within shooting distance of a President. As Mr. Hoover [illegible], they had cased Lee Oswald, but there was no indication of his homicidal intent.

The nub of Mr. Hoover's testimony, and the gist of the Warren Commission recommendations, is that protective measures for the President can be improved, but, as Mr. Hoover said: "We don't want a Gestapo. We have got to, I think, maintain a balance."

And Presidents, as Mr. Kennedy believed, will continue to find it necessary to travel among the people, to see and be seen. The risk cannot be absolutely eliminated. But a President also has an obligation to the people to maintain his own safety—and Mr. Hoover's advice in this respect is highly pertinent.

Mr. Hoover's Testimony

J. Edgar Hoover's testimony before the arren Commission investigating the assassi- tion of President Kennedy now has been blished.

Just as the Warren Commission did in report, Mr. Hoover pinpoints the devilish oblems involved in trying to protect a esident.

"President Johnson," he said, for in- nce, "is a very down-to-earth human ing, and it makes the security problem the more difficult, but you can't bar him m the people."

The FBI director spoke out strongly ainst "police-state" methods in shielding President from possible crackpots.

"I am particularly concerned," he said, at we don't become hysterical and go too in restricting the citizens of our country om exercising their civil and constitutional hts."

He deplored an incident in Chicago when ne "extremists" practically were put under ase arrest while President Johnson was ere.

"I don't think there is any place in this antry for that kind of thing," Mr. Hoover id.

Coming from a man who has spent his e in police work, this is an especially salutary attitude—as well as practical.

Mr. Hoover, however, did recommend some stringent restrictions on a president's travel: Careful advance preparation for a trip, maximum delay in announcing the route of travel, a car equipped with bullet-proof protection. "He must never ride in an open car," Mr. Hoover said.

But these are restrictions most presidents would shun.

The Secret Service, the FBI and the police combined cannot "case" every person who may be within striking distance of a president. As Mr. Hoover testified, they had cased Lee Oswald, but there was no indication of his homicidal intent.

The nub of Mr. Hoover's testimony, and the gist of the Warren Commission recommendations, are that protective measures for the president can be improved, but, as Mr. Hoover said: "We don't want a Gestapo. We have got to, I think, maintain a balance."

And presidents, as Mr. Kennedy believed, will continue to find it necessary to travel among the people, to see and be seen. The risk cannot be absolutely eliminated. But a president also has an obligation to the people to maintain his own safety—and Mr. Hoover's advice in this respect is highly pertinent.

NEW MYTH IN THE MAKING

Tricks Fail to Short-Sell FBI

THE LIBERAL-RADICALS have seized upon the Warren Commission report to renew their attack on the Federal Bureau of Investigation and its direc[illegible] J. Edgar Hoover.

Before the report was released, the liberal-radicals had been conducting a rather desultory campaign to convince the American people that Robert Kennedy was the only attorney general since who knows when who had been able to exert authority upon Mr. Hoover.

They wanted the voters to believe that Robert Kennedy in his three and a half years as attorney general had found it necessary to impose his will on a man who far surpassed him in ability and in experience and in knowledge of law enforcement.

This is foolish, of course, but Mr. Kennedy is not without his friends in the field of communications, and they consider it necessary to create a myth as to his achievements to bring about his election as senator from New York State.

The Warren Commission report suggests that somehow the FBI should have gone beyond its authority in relation to its information regarding Lee Harvey Oswald, as if the FBI should have been able to perceive his intentions, though the Supreme Court of which Mr. Warren is Chief Justice has been particularly alert to protect the alleged civil liberties of known Communists and proved criminals.

As a matter of fact, among previous recommendations to the Justice Department by the FBI and Mr. Hoover were measures for stronger coordination and greater exchange of information among federal investigative agencies. The wisdom of these suggestions has been proved by the very case which the Warren Commission had under consideration. But nothing had been done by either the Kennedy or Johnson Administrations.

The principal claim being made on behalf of the Robert Kennedy "legend" is that he had to order the FBI to "redirect" its major effort to place greater emphasis upon investigations of organized crime, even though this would mean a slackening of FBI operations against espionage agents and Communist activities in the United States.

This is hardly consistent with recommendations in the Warren report, which has so pleased the liberal-radicals.

The record, however, doesn't indicate any slackening of the efforts of the FBI in regard either to espionage or organized crime, and any attempt to conceal or deny the facts to embellish the record of Mr. Kennedy is dishonest on its face.

Much of the anti-crime legislation for which Mr. Kennedy is being given credit actually was recommended to him and the Justice Department by the FBI, and long before he assumed office the FBI was concerned with the enforcement of civil rights in all fields.

It is the practice of politics to give public credit to Cabinet officers or other politically-appointed office holders for the accomplishments of their departments or bureaus, and it taxes the mind to believe that the young Mr. Kennedy, with no experience in law enforcement or any meaningful experience in the practice of law, had to direct Mr. Hoover in the proper discharge of his duties.

But a new Robert Kennedy myth is in the making—and the White House looms in the distance.

The Warren Report

THE WARREN Commission report on the assassination o. John F. Kennedy may prove to be a best seller, but it is not the model of judicial consistency that so many people have taken it to be.

Most people, we believe, will agree that Jack Ruby acted alone, and that Lee Harvey Oswald likewise was a "loner" in the execution of the crime.

But while the report criticizes the U. S. Secret Service, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Dallas police, it makes scant mention of the fact that Oswald had such easy sailing through the passport division, although he was an avowed Marxist, had sought to renounce his American citizenship, and was a self-elected pleader for the Castro regime in Cuba.

We still believe it was regrettable that Chief Justice Warren headed the commission, inasmuch as he "shot from the hip" immediately after the assassination in his assumption that the deed was the product of "hate groups"—meaning staunch conservatives—rather than a crackpot of the left.

Further, we believe the commission's free-swinging indictment of the Federal Bureau of Investigation was prejudicial and unfair.

Nobody knows any better that the Chief Justice how far his court has gone in denying society adequate protection from the crimes of individuals. Just last June the court overturned New York law, the good faith action of a judge and the verdict of a jury in setting aside the conviction of a murder suspect who made a confession to police officers and to an assistant district attorney. The Warren court held that, because the suspect had been wounded and had been violated the due-process clause of the Fifth Amendment. This point had been left to the jury to determine, and the jury had held the confession to have been voluntary. Numerous other cases involving felonies and Communist activities have been dealt with in a manner giving the most extreme regard to the rights of the defendants.

The question naturally arises, therefore, what Mr. Warren and his associates would have had the FBI do in the case of Oswald. Until he squeezed the trigger with the President's head in his telescopic sights, Oswald had not committed any crime for which he could be jailed or detained. Nothing in the files of the FBI suggested Oswald was a potential killer. Had Oswald been successful in his prior attempt to kill Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, and had the FBI acted precipitously in that case, his very best hope of escaping punishment would have lain in the U. S. Supreme Court, so particular has it been about rules of evidence, search warrants, admissibility of confessions and the like.

A long list of murderers, rapists and criminals of various types have gone free because of its concern for the rights of an individual to the disregard of the rights of society. Mr. Warren, therefore, makes a poor judge of what law enforcement agencies might or should have

FBI Never Requested 'Cover Up,' Curry Says

The head of the Dallas FBI office said today the President's commission clarifying this matter [illegible] did not have Oswald under surveillance before the assassination of President Kennedy.

Assistant-in-charge J. Gordon Shanklin said the statement was made in reply to a letter Shanklin wrote to Curry Tuesday, asking that the matter be clarified.

Curry's reply, as released by Shanklin, said:

"While you are properly concerned with the Federal Bureau of Investigation never asked me to 'cover up' the fact that the FBI had Lee Harvey Oswald under surveillance in Dallas, Texas, prior to the assassination of President Kennedy.

"This is in reply to your letter of Oct. 15, 1964."

In his letter to Curry, Shanklin wrote:

Maintaining a Balance

If President Johnson listened to the mountain of advice currently cascading down upon him, it is doubtful he would ever venture out of the White House.

The chief executive is getting advice from many quarters on how to protect himself from possible harm. He is being told to stay out of crowds, to ride in a closed bullet-proof car. Since Dallas is still fresh in the memory of every citizen, this concern for presidential safety is only natural.

But, of course, under our system of government it is impossible for a president to stay away from crowds, to remain aloof from the public. At the same time he is President, he is also a politician, and is head of his political party.

We were glad to see FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover bring the subject of presidential safety into a little better perspective in the midst of all of the advice being handed out.

Mr. Hoover commented that absolute security for the President cannot be provided "without almost establishing a police state, and we don't want that. We don't want a Gestapo. We have got to, I think, maintain an even balance."

We, too, hope the President will be as cautious as sound reason dictates. But we also hope the time never comes when the chief executive has to be kept under such security he cannot move among the people. Our system of freedom will have lost a lot if that should ever happen. As Mr. Hoover said, we have to maintain an even balance in this regard.

SPECULATION—(Officer J.D.) Tippit and his killer (Oswald) knew each other.

FINDING—Investigation has revealed no evidence that Oswald and Tippit were acquainted, had ever seen each other, or had any mutual acquaintances.

SPECULATION—It is probable that Oswald had prior contacts with Soviet agents before he entered Russia in 1959 because his application for a visa was processed and approved immediately on receipt.

FINDING—There is no evidence that Oswald was in touch with Soviet agents before his visit to Russia.

SPECULATION—Oswald was trained by the Russians in a special school for assassins at Minsk.

FINDING—Commission investigations revealed no evidence to support this claim or the existence of such a school in Minsk during the time Oswald was there.

SPECULATION—Oswald never would have been permitted to return to the United States if Soviet intelligence had not planned to use him in some way against the United States.

FINDING—There is no evidence that Oswald had any working relationship with the Soviet government or Soviet intelligence. The Russians have permitted other American defectors to return to the United States.

SPECULATION—Oswald was an an informant of either the FBI or the CIA. He was recruited by an agency of the U.S. Government and sent to Russia in 1959.

FINDING—Mrs. Marguerite Oswald frequently expressed the opinion that her son was such an agent, but she stated before the Commission that "I cannot prove Lee is an agent." The directors of the CIA and of the FBI testified before the Commission that Oswald was never employed by either agency or used by either agency in any capacity. Investigation by the Commission has revealed no evidence that Oswald was ever employed by either the FBI or CIA in any capacity.

SPECULATION—The FBI interviewed Oswald 10 days before the assassination.

FINDING—The last FBI interview with Oswald, before the assassination, took place in New Orleans in August, 1963.

he said, "that [illegible] Commission investigated every lead and examined every piece of evidence. The Commission's inquiry was thorough and conscientious."

Texas Gov. John B. Connally, who was wounded when the President was killed, said the report reflects a desire on the part of the Commission to be extremely thorough and to run don every fact of the assassination of the President."

Kilgallen's Exclusives C

In finding that Jack Ruby acted alone in killing Lee Harvey Oswald, the Warren Commission reported that he was motivated by a desire to spare Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy the ordeal of returning to Dallas for the trial of her husband's accused assassin.

The Commission report also noted that Ruby was deeply moved by newspaper stories about the President's widow and his six-year-old daughter, Caroline.

These and other important points brought out in Ruby's testimony to Chief Justice Earl Warren were first reported exclusively by Dorothy Kilgallen in The New York Journal-American six weeks ago.

TRANSCRIPT PUBLISHED

A copy of the entire transcript of Ruby's testimony to the Chief Justice had been obtained by Miss Kilgallen through sources close to the Commission in Washington and that testimony appeared in this newspaper Aug. 18, 19 and 20.

Other portions of Ruby's testimony alluded to by the Commission in its report and first disclosed by Miss Kilgallen include:

• New York attorney Mark Lane's allegation that Ruby, Police Officer J.D. Tippit and Bernard Weissman, who had taken out an anti-Kennedy ad in a Dallas newspaper the morning of Nov. 22, had met

Belli Doubts Report Will Help Ruby

By WALTER WINCHELL

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28 Melvin Belli, one of several lawyers fired by the Jack Ruby family, early today denied the report that Ruby retained him again.

"I've been asked to handle his appeal brief," said Mr. Belli in exclusive telephone interview from his home in San Francisco.

"Any comment on the Warren Commission report?" he was asked.

"It makes you proud to be an American," Mr. Belli said. "In a tragedy we have finally come up with some answers in the best style and tradition of the trial bar plus good investigating and reporting."

"Do you see any grounds for appeal or a new trial in the Warren report?"

"No, none whatever," he replied.

"There has been talk," we said. "that the Kennedy family, representing the late

Congress to Push Security Overhaul

Special to The N. Y. Journal-American

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield today urged Congress to give immediate consideration to Warren Commission recommendations for a "drastic overhauling" of security procedures for protecting our Presidents.

"It would be my hope that any recommendations made to Congress be put into effect as quickly as possible," the Montana Democrat declared.

"Congress should give prompt consideration to any recommendations made and should stay in session to carry them out."

NOT ADEQUATE

In its report, the Commission stated that Secret Service precautions were "inadequate" when President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas by Lee Harvey Oswald last Nov. 22.

Noting that "methods now in use require drastic overhauling," the Commission proposed that President Johnson and Congress give serious study to the possibility of assigning some agency other than the Secret Service to guard the Chief Executive.

The Warren Commission also urged Congress to pass legislation making the assassination of the President or Vice President a Federal offense. At present it is merely a local crime.

Just how fast Congress will act on these proposals depends on the pace of a four-man committee appointed late yesterday by Mr. Johnson to advise him "on the execution of the recommendations of the Warren Commission."

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

The committee consists of Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, Acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, CIA "security protection of the President."

Sen. Mundt went on to say that such protection should include a careful watch "on defectors and those who have been brainwashed behind the Iron or Bamboo Curtains and then return to this country."

Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.) said he would certainly support the Warren Commission recommendation that Congress make it a Federal crime to murder a President or Vice President.

"I believe it might be very helpful," he remarked. "It would relieve a lot of local problems."

President Johnson, incidentally, sent Chief Justice Earl Warren, who headed up the investigation into President Kennedy's assassination, a warm letter of thanks.

"You have," Mr. Johnson wrote, addressing the Chief Justice and all other members of the Commission, "earned the gratitude of your countrymen."

Ugly Rumors—And, One by

Hints of Conspiracy Fail to Stand Up

MILTON L. KAPLAN

Hearst Headline Service Special to N. Y. Journal-American

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The Warren Commission's exhaustive investigation strove to still the whispers and stamp out the ugly rumors that have multiplied around the world since the Kennedy assassination.

The rumors, which have had a particularly receptive audience in Europe, include hints of conspiracies by Federal and state authorities, supposed links between Lee Oswald and Jack Ruby, and other "facts" to prove Oswald could not have been the assassin.

Here, from the Commission report, are some of most prevalent rumors—called "speculation"—and the Commission's findings:

SPECULATION—The shots that killed the President came from the railroad overpass above the triple underpass.

FINDING—The shots that entered the neck and head of the President and wounded Gov. Connally came from behind and above. There is no evidence that any shots were fired at the President from anywhere other than the Texas School Book Depository building.

SPECULATION—An amateur 8-millimeter photograph taken at 12:20 p.m., 10 minutes before the assassination of President Kennedy, showed two silhouettes at the sixth-floor window of the depository.

FINDING—A film taken by an amateur photographer, Robert J. E. Hughes, just before the assassination, shows a shadow in the southeast corner window of the sixth floor. This has been determined after examination by the FBI and the U.S. Navy Photographic Interpretation Center to be the shadow from the cartons near the window.

SPECULATION—A picture published widely in newspapers and magazines after the assassination showed Lee Harvey Oswald standing on the front steps of the Texas School Book Depository building shortly before the Presidential motorcade passed by.

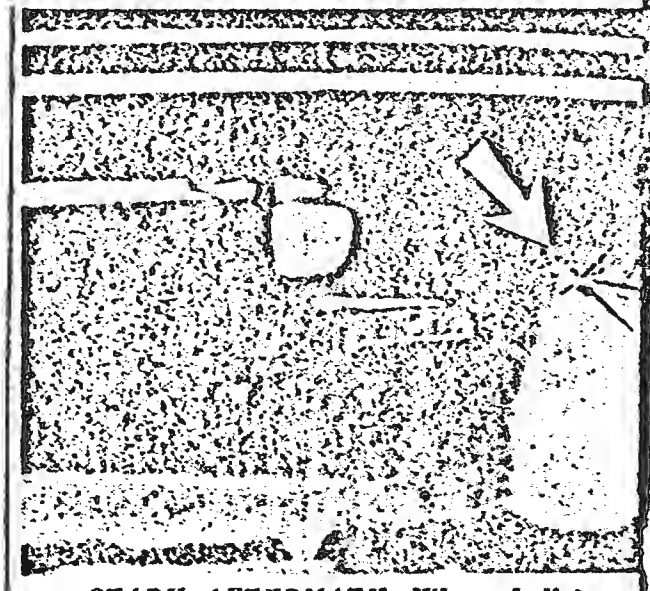
[illegible]ING—The man on the front steps of the building, [illegible]er alleged by some to be Lee Harvey Oswald, is [illegible] Billy Lovelady, an employe of the Texas School [illegible]ository, who somewhat resembles Oswald.

[illegible]ULATION—Oswald could not have fired three shots [illegible] Mannlicher-Carcano rifle in 5½ seconds.

[illegible]ING—According to expert witnesses, exacting tests [illegible]ed for the Commission demonstrated that it was pos[illegible] to fire three shots from the rifle within 5½ seconds. [illegible]hould be noted that the first loaded shell was al[illegible] in the chamber ready for firing; Oswald had only to [illegible] the trigger to fire the first shot and to work the bolt [illegible] in order to fire the second and third shots.

SPECULATION—The picture of Oswald taken by his wife in March or April, 1963, and showing him with a rifle and a pistol was "doctored" when it appeared in magazines and newspapers in February, 1964. The rifle held by Oswald in these pictures is not the same rifle that was found on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository building.

FINDING—Life magazine, Newsweek, and the New York Times notified the Commission that they had retouched this picture. In doing so, they inadvertently altered details of the configuration of the rifle.



STARK AFTERMATH—Where bullet sm

American leaders and those who were involved in the events of the assassination of President Kennedy were —with few exceptions—favorably impressed by the thoroughness and conclusions of the Warren Commission report.

Notable exceptions were the mother of the accused assassin, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, who called the report "ridiculous," and attorney Mark Lane, who in lectures around the world has expressed doubt that Lee Harvey Oswald was the assasin.

Oswald's widow, Marina, was not available for comment. She reportedly was out of Dallas working on a book.

RANGE OF COMMENT

Favorable comments ranged from praise to agreement with specific conclusions, such as the Commission's recommendation of stricter security measures for the President, and its criticism of the performance of Dallas officials and news media in the period between the assassination and Oswald's slaying by Jack Ruby.

The slain President's brother, former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, said he [illegible] intend to read the that this man was a dangerous character who might do harm to the President or the Vice President."

BOTH CRITICIZED

The Warren Commission singled out the Secret Service for being "seriously deficient" in its intelligence work, and the FBI for taking "an unduly restrictive view of its role", in failing to give Secret Service agents information on Oswald.

The Commission also cited "a breach of discipline" by nine members of the Secret Service in Fort Worth. The agents had up to three beers and a mixed drink and a half after midnight.

One stayed out until 5 a.m., Nov. 22. The report said there was no evidence these men could have averted the tragedy, but that "it is conceivable (they) might have been more alert in the Dallas motorcade."

Four American presidents in 100 years have been shot to death, the report noted: Abraham Lincoln, James A. Garfield, William McKinley and John F. Kennedy.

But the President's "very position as representative of

...he Secret Service, an arm o... Treasury Dept., which h... otected Presidents since 1891, had only 12 specialists and three clerks in its Protective Research Section on Nov. 22. Their job was to keep tabs on all who might be a danger to the President.

Of the 400 individuals under regular surveillance, only 100 were seen as serious risks and 12 to 15 as highly dangerous. Although Ambassador Adlai Stevenson had been assaulted in Dallas the month before, no names in in the Fort Worth-Dallas this Secret Service file were area, the report asserted.

...viet authorities, ...presence in the School Bo... Depository job and its ...ation along the route of th... otorcade.

"All this does seem to amount to enough to have induced an alert agency, such as the FBI . . . to list Oswald as a potential threat to the safety of the President."

The Warren group said the Secret Service's policy of not checking out buildings along a Presidential motorcade route and its watch on buildings from the street were "inadequate" and should be amended.

The Anguished Cries

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—These anguished cries in the moments after President Kennedy and Texas Gov. John B. Connally were shot last Nov. 22 in Dallas are reported in the Warren Commission report:

PRESIDENT KENNEDY: "My God, I am hit."

MRS. KENNEDY: "Oh, my God, they have shot my husband. I love you, Jack."

GOV. CONNALLY: "Oh, no, no, no. My God, they are going to kill us all."

• • •

MRS. CONNALLY: "It's all right. Be still."

Oswald ... mitted the crime by himself.

The comments:

JOHN SALMON, process server, 179th st., Jamaica, Queens: "This case is not closed. It will never be closed. I don't believe that just one man was involved. Where was Oswald getting his money? He never did an honest day's work in his life, but yet he did things that required money."

RUDY VALLEE, the durable Broadway star, Manhattan: "There is no doubt in my mind this man (Oswald) was guilty. Questions? There always is a question. It reminds me of a young man I went to school with at Yale. He always was anxious to take up the cause of the underdog. But the mere fact a person is an underdog does not mean that he is not guilty."

W. H. PRICE, security guard, W. 23d st.: "I am satisfied."

SANDI BROWN, singer, E. 71st st.: "To me, the Warren report is not a conclusion on who killed the President and why, but a report on the degradation, the stupidity, the

Mrs. Kennedy cried, 'Oh, my God, they have shot my husband. I love you, Jack.'"

The former First Lady told the Commission that she had no recollection of climbing out of her seat and crawling diagonally across the flat trunk of the 1961 Lincoln convertible as it began to speed away from the scene. Secret Service Agent Clinton J. Hill, who jumped out of the follow-up car and managed with difficulty to secure a perch on the special rear step of the car, testified:

"Mrs. Kennedy had jumped up from the seat and was, it appeared to me, reaching for something coming off the right bumper of the car, the right rear tail, when she noticed that I was trying to climb on the car. She turned toward me and I grabbed her and put her back in the back seat, crawled up on top of the back seat, and lay there."

CRADLED IN JACKIE'S ARMS

Mrs. Kennedy "would probably have fallen off the rear end of the car and been killed if Hill had not pushed her back into the Presidential automobile," JFK's aide, David Powers, told the Commission in time. The car reached speeds of 70 to 80 miles an hour en route to Parkland Memorial Hospital.

The dying President was again cradled in Mrs. Kennedy's arms, his head dripping blood on her pink woolen suit, when the motorcade screeched up to the hospital's emergency entrance. At first, Mrs. Kennedy refused to release her hold on his body.

Dr. Charles J. Carrico, first surgeon to work on the expiring Chief Executive, who was then being given the Last Rites of the Roman Catholic Church testified:

"The President was blue-white or ashen in color had slow, spasmodic agonal respiration without an coordination; made no voluntary movements; ha his eyes open with the pupils dilated without any re action to light; evidenced no palpable pulse; and ha a few chest sounds which were thought to be hear beats." A tracheotomy was quickly performed.

Jacqueline Kennedy alternated between watchin the doctors work furiously to maintain life in her husband, and waiting outside the operating room Durin this vigil, Secret Service men urged Vice Preside Johnson to leave the hospital and return immediate to Washington, for he might be earmarked f assassination too.

Mr. Johnson refused to leave until he receiv definite word about the President's condition. Wh it came to him at 1:20 p.m. CST, he prepared to ta Mrs. Kennedy with him to the waiting jet.

She refused to leave without the dead Presider body. Mr. Johnson then told the Secret Service would not leave Dallas without her. A compron was reached. LBJ was rushed to Love Field, keep his head below the window level of his car en ro

TONY LANE, model, E.24th st.,: "With the election coming up, I think there will be other assassination attempts. And I don't believe Oswald was alone in the killing of the President."

JOSEPH LEVY, newsstand employe, Times Square: It's OK. I have faith in the Warren report."

Fred Libin, salesman, the Yale Club: "How could I be in contact with enough information to disagree with a government report?"

F. J. Rundbaken, Grand Concourse, Bronx: "There can be no question that the tragedy was committed by a disturbed, unhappy creature. Everyone must regret that the FBI, the Secret Service and the Dallas police authorities didn't cooperate more."

Joan Thale, model, E. 76th st.,: "The report will not close the case. It is merely a rehashing of the facts that are known and disproving some of the earlier reports and rumors."

CARLOS DOXILL, mechanic, 34th st., Long Island City, Queens: "It was too much of a coincidence, I feel, that Ruby got into the police station to shoot Oswald. That will be a reason for think Oswald was in a plot. The public is going to want to know more. They're not going to accept this report on its face value."

FRANK O'CONNOR, Queens district attorney: "I think the Commission is to be congratulated on its investigation and this massive report. I hope it will set to rest the numerous rumors that have been circulating. I had questions, but I waited until the evidence was presented, and then made up my mind."

CHARLES DEAN, bus driver, Freehold, N.J.,: "I would say the case is closed."

Can We Protect Our President's Life?

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (UPI). — Lyndon Johnson should — and must — mingle with the American people simply because he is their President. But there is an "unnecessary danger" when he makes impromptu stops, and certain steps must be taken to protect his life.

This, in essence, is the burden of the Warren Commission's warning to President Johnson, a gregarious man who loves to plunge into a crowd and shake hands — and who last Friday mounted a Palomino horse and galloped alone in front of the crowd at the Oklahoma State Fair.

Mr. Johnson is not mentioned by name in the report on John F. Kennedy's assassination. But its recommendations are meant to apply to anyone who occupies the White House. And the message seems clear that Mr. Johnson himself should pay more attention to security restrictions.

BOTH LOVED CROWDS

As one specific example, the Commission recommended that "the President's physician always accompany him during his travels and occupy a position near the President where he can be immediately available in case of any emergency."

As was the case with Mr. Kennedy, President Johnson loves crowds. He cannot resist moving among the people and shaking hands. On that fatal day in Dallas last November, Mr. Kennedy stopped his motorcade twice to do just that.

The Warren report said:

The Commission regards such impromptu stops as presenting an unnecessary danger, but finds that the Secret Service agents did all that could have been done to take protective measures." The sentence was both a commentary on the Kennedy motorcade and a warning to President Johnson.

The Commission, in a 44-page chapter titled "The Protection of the President," made clear its view that both the Secret Service and the FBI should have performed better in their security tasks prior to Nov. 22. It said these tasks could be carried out without hindering the President, and without creating a "garrison state."

Basically, the Commission was upset because Lee Harvey Oswald's name was not among the list of approximately 50,000 individuals — collected over a 20-year period — that the Secret Service knows about.

12 HIGHLY DANGEROUS

When President Kennedy was killed, there were some 400 individuals being kept under periodic review. Some 100 of these were regarded as "serious risks" to the President's life, and 12 to 15 more as "highly dangerous" risks.

Oswald's name was not among them, despite the fact he was a defector, a man of known Marxist leanings, an individual who had lied to the FBI. On top of this, the FBI was aware that he worked in the School Book Depository Building.

Admitting that it had the view of hindsight, the Commission said it believed that "an alert agency" such as the FBI should have regarded this information as important enough to "list Oswald as a potential threat to the President."

To remedy this, the Commission called for closer liaison between the FBI and the Secret Service, and a drastic overhaul of the Service's "Protective Research Section," which lists the names of individuals who may have the capacity to kill the President of the United States.

J. Edgar Hoover's Advice

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has written what in effect is a brief guidebook for keeping Presidents alive.

Summed up, Mr. Hoover's advice to any Chief Executive is this:

Be careful, and do what your security people tell you to do.

Mr. Hoover's counsel is incorporated in the Warren Commission report. He says:

"The degree of security that can be afforded the President of the United States is dependent to a considerable extent upon the degree of contact with the general public desired by the President. Absolute security is neither practical nor possible.

"An approach to complete security would require the President to operate in a sort of vacuum. Isolated from the general public and behind impregnable barriers. His travel would be in secrets his public appearances would be behind bulletproof glass.

"A more practical approach necessitates compromise. Any travel, any contact with the general public, involves a calculated risk on the part of the President and the men responsible for his protection.

"Such risks can be lessened when the President recognizes the security problem, has confidence in the dedicated Secret Service men who are ready to lay down their lives for him and accepts the necessary security precautions which they recommend.

"Many Presidents have been understandably impatient with the security precautions which many years of experience dictate because these precautions reduce the President's privacy and the access to him of the people of the country. Nevertheless the procedures and advice should be accepted if the President wishes to have any security."

Probers Hint That Better Liaison Might Have Prevented Tragedy

Hearst Headline Service

By LESLIE H. WHITTEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. —Both the FBI and the Secret Service were under a virtual mandate today to tighten up their security procedures and begin working together more closely when protecting the life of the President.

While neither agency was held responsible for the death of President Kennedy in Dallas last Nov. 22, both came under sweeping criticism in the Warren Commission report for failing to coordinate their information and activities on the day of the assassination.

The Warren report even suggested that had there been a closer liaison between the Secret Service and the FBI, Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused killer, might have been under scrutiny that day, and prevented rom firing the fatal shots.

KNEW BACKGROUND

Neither agency knew at the time that Oswald had tried to kill former Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, but the FBI knew of Oswald's defection to Russia, his pro-Castro tendencies, his hostility to the United States, his trip to Mexico and the fact that he had a job in a building along the President's motorcade route.

"All of these (facts), if we had them together, would have added up to pointing out a pretty bad individual," Secret Service official Robert L. Bouck told the Commission, "and I think that together hd we known he had a vantage point would have seemed somewhat serious to us."

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover sprang to the defense of his organization, however, telling the Commission "there was nothing up to the people prevents him from effectively shielding himself from the people. He cannot and will not take the precautions of a dictator . . ."

● A cabinet-level committee to oversee the Secret Service and other Federal agencies in their protection of a President. The committee might study whether protection should be removed from the Secret Service and put elsewhere.

● To make assassination, assault or plots against the President and Vice-President a Federal crime.

● A "complete overhaul" of Secret Service facilities to detect possible assassins before they can act. The most advanced data-processing machines, more personnel and funds, and markedly increased cooperation with the FBI, State Dept., CIA and others were urged.

Against this background of limited protection possibilities, however, the report still found troubling inadequacies

It was in this crucial area of advance warnings that the breakdown occurred, said the Warren group. Although the FBI, the State Dept., the CIA, and Navy intelligence all had files on Oswald, none of them had tipped off the Secret Service he might be a danger.

Dallas FBI Agent James P. Hosty Jr. had such a file on Oswald, had learned 18 days before thae assassination that he worked in the Texas School Book Depository and had heard 17 days before that he was a "Trotskyite Communist."

But he testified that even if he had remembered that the President's route led past the depository building, he would not have cited him to the Secret Service as a threat.

Mr. Hosty swore he had no reason to think Oswald would kill the President, although a Dallas police lieutenant contradicted him in saying Mr. Hosty told him after the assassination that the FBI had information Oswald was capable of the killing.

DEFEND AGENT

Both J. Edgar Hoover and his assistant, Alan H. Belmont, defended Mr. Hosty. But the Commission found "the FBI took an unduly restrictive view of its responsibilities in preventive intelligence work."

The report conceded the Secret Service's request to Federal agencies for tips were "vague," but it made this conclusion:

"There was much knowledge in the hands of the FBI about Oswald; the knowledge of his arrogance and hostility to the United States, his pro-Castro tendencies, his lies when interrogated by the

PREFACE

The following study has been undertaken since the details of the Warren Report were revealed last week and the entire line of thinking herein has been projected from the facts revealed in the report.

The discrepancy between Mr. Connally's account and the Commissionx conclusions as to the actual bullet sequence and direction presented a facinating challenge. This study is an answer to this challenge.

The solution and resolution of the problem seemed to lie somewhere in the application of the law of physics with respect to the behavior of bodies in motion and their re - lative position in space at x definite periods of time, paticularily at times of impact.

The conclusions reached by this study could be subjected to glaring light of further scrutiny by the use of three dimensional space models and computer studies. This, however is necessarily beyond the present range of the scope of this study.

The author asks the indulgence of his readers to carefully study all pictures and references carefully during perusal of this report, since a careless interpretation could impare the usefullness. This study is offered only as a possible help to the excellent presentation of facts assembled so laboriously by the United States government.

FIRST BULLET

Let us first study * Picture #1, which is taken just after the impact of the first bullet.

Now, let's go to Picture #2, which shows Kennedy in a more erect position showing that the energy imparted from the bullet caused his head to move backward.

Now, refer to Picture (page 37 Newsweek) showing findings (Warren report findings) as to path of the first bullet which is indicated by the lower dot on the base of the neck.

Again refer to Picture #1, for the atitude of the head at the time of impact. It is concluded that in order for the wound at the throat and the wound at the back of the neck to be correlated the path of the bullet would have to be horizontal to " rip his windpipe " as per autopsy report. (see Newsweek page 37, but disregard superimposed dotted line in the review)

Kennedy's first reaction was to grab his throat, not the back of his neck (see Picture #2) and also Mrs. Connely's testimony stated there was no blood at the throat (page 35 of Newsweek) These facts would indicate that the bullet forced the blood in the direction of the bullet. (i.e. to the rear)

It is therefore concluded that the first bullet was travelling horizontally about five feet in height and that it went in front front to rear causing his head to go back, and resulted in his clutching his throat with no blood showing.

It is next desireble to determine what direction the bullet was going in order to determine the origin of the bullet.

From a study of the maps shown in Newsweek (pages 38 and 39) and from the direction of the bullet passing through Kennedy's neck, and the location of the presidential car shown on page 1, the bullet traveled from Southwest to Northeast which would be back toward the intersection of Houston Street and Elm Street.

Coptrighted 1964

SECOND BULLET

References for this study are as follows:

(1) Quote from Newsweek's record of Warren Report page 37.
"The smaller hole in the rear of the President's skull was a point of entry and the larger opening on the right side of the head was wound of exit." (Conclusions of Warren Report)

(2) Picture, page 37, Newsweek showing small white dot at the base of skull one quarter inch above dotted line. which is reconstructed as point of entry by Warren report.

(3) Picture #5, of Life showing position of the head at the time of impact of the second bullet.

It is observed in Picture # 5 that if an imaginary line were drawn through point of entry and point of exit it would be horizontal, since Kennedy is slumped forward at the time of impact and the bullet would have to come from the left lower part of the picture to the right lower part in order to exit from the right front of his head(as shown in Picture #6)

Since Kennedy was falling to his left the force of the bullet would be counteracted by the weight of his body and therefore would not have a forward propelling effect on his head.

The blood is clearly visible in Picture #6, exiting from the front part of his head.

If the bullet had come directly from the Texas Book Depository Building, Kennedy's head would have been propelled forward. Pictures # 5 & 6, show his head moved backwards as he fell to the left.

As in the case of the first bullet, the blood was ejected in the same direction as the path of the bullet, and in no case did his head go forward, which would logically result if hit with a massive Blow directly from the rear in line with the Depository, as shown in the large picture page 40, Life.

Since the car had progressed approximately one hundred feet further West on Elm Street the anticipated direction of the second bullet would be now in a Westerly direction assuming the origin of both bullets to be the same.

A study of Picture #6, graphically verifies this observation.

Copyrighted 1964

SUMMARY OF CONCLUSIONS

By approximate triangulation we conclude that, both bullets resulting in injury to the President, originated at the South-west corner of Houston and Elm Streets. Approximately in the vicintiy of the monument shown South and West of the inter-section. (see Picture page 35 Newsweek)

The first bullet was fired Northeasterly back toward the intersection just cleared. The bullet travelled about five feet above the ground horizontal, with the ground surface .

The bullet struck the President in the throat and passed through the rear of his neck.

The second bullet was fired Westerlyfrom the same location at the South-west corner of Houston and Elm, travelling Hor-izontally about five feet above the ground, passing through the back of the President's head and out the right front sec-tion of his head. (see picture page 35 Newsweek,for reference)

It is doubtful whether either bullet was recovered.

The origin of the shots would seem to be approximately near curbside due to rapid reorientation of the direction of fire.

An estimate of one hundred feet between bullets is based upon a speed of approximately thirteen M.I.H. and a five second interval between shots as per Warren Report. Which would make the maximum range of each shot in the order of about fifty feet assuming shots were fired equidistant from each target.

No effort will be made in this study to investigate possible other shots; However the observations of the Warren Report should be logically reviewed as follows.

From a study of first news photos taken from (page5) Four Dark Days In History, two photographs show the window open only one quarter at bottom.

Also reinactment (page 36 Newsweek) shows the window in the same position with photographer kneeling. This position would make it extremely difficult if not impossible for a man to shoot out of the window in a standing position as Brennan stated.

Copyrighted 1964

Mr. Brennan said he could identify the man even though Brennan wore glasses, was 45 years old, was one hundred and twenty feet away and the window was only partially open at the bottom, which according to reinactment picture would put him at least two feet behind the glass behind the door jamb, with only his lower torso and legs visible through the open portion of the window.

A conflicting witness Mr. Amos Lee Euins, said the window was under the building ledge, which would be the seventh floor window.

Photographs by two separate photographers failed to show any identifiable person at the sixth floor window, even though presumably persons were identified at the fifth floor window.

It is interestin to note that page 41 of Life Magazine shows the window in question a full half open, whereas pictures taken at the time of the shooting showed one quarter open in all cases.

This foregoing analysis brings up a host of new questions; however in the interest of avoiding further speculation these will be avoided at this time; however it is felt that the question of Oswald's guilt would probably have been best left in the hands of a jury.

Dear Dr. Harb:

I received your letter of October 8th and want to thank you for your generous remarks and support of my administration of the FBI. It is hoped our future endeavors will continue to merit such approbation.

It was thoughtful of you to bring your views to my attention and I am enclosing copies of articles by Jerry O'Leary and John Chamberlain which I trust will be of interest.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

In these dangerous times every American should be thankful for the job you and other law enforcement officers, national and local, are doing to protect us. This work goes on in spite of great handicaps placed upon you by many recent decisions of the American judical system.

The Bureau has further come under some criticism for their action, or lack of it, as cited by the Warren Commission. I feel that the attack by that body was unfair and in my thought not founded on good reasoning. There are literally thousands of people in this country who might at any time attempt to take the life of some important government official. Rightly, I think you have warned us of the dangers that could come from being overly protective. I think most Americans realize that if a person were intent upon it, he could have a very good chance of killing the President.

I wish to thank you for the great services you have rendered to America. Particularly, in warnings concerning the danger of the Communist conspiracy. Please be assured there are thousands who do appreciate this effort in behalf of a better America.

Sincerely,

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION
ASSASSINATION OF THE PRESIDENT
EXHIBITS BEING MAINTAINED BY BUREAU

Reference is made to my memorandum of October 2, 1964, which recommended a letter be sent to the President's Commission advising them of the number of exhibits being maintained by the Bureau. The letter to the Commission requested a reply as to the disposition the Commission intended to make of the exhibits in order that the Bureau could carry out its responsibility in answering inquiries from original contributors as well as returning to original contributors the original exhibits wherever it was possible to do so.

Today Mr. Alfred Goldberg of the President's Commission called and inquired as to whether or not the Bureau had an actual list available of all of the various exhibits being retained in the custody of the Bureau at the present time. Mr. Goldberg was told this would be checked and he would be subsequently advised.

Inasmuch as maintenance of these exhibits is somewhat of a problem so far as the Bureau is concerned, it would be to the Bureau's advantage to furnish whatever information the Commission desires in order to expedite the solution of the disposition of the exhibits. The Laboratory has been requested to immediately prepare a complete list of all exhibits now being retained in the possession of the Bureau.

ACTION:

As soon as the list of all exhibits is prepared, if approved, a letter will be submitted to the Commission furnishing a copy of the list of exhibits.

Path of the bullet

LONDON—I am sitting in my flat here with a professional hunter, Walter Johnson of Mozambique. We have just finished a safari — the fourth in Mozambique in two years, my 20th over 14 years in countries ranging from Tanganyika to the central provinces of India. We are talking about the shooting of President Kennedy, in terms of what we both know about rifles. Walter shot his first elephant when he was nine years old. I have been shooting high-powered rifles, with and without scopes, for most of my life.

This being established, I wish to make a point: It is a rule of shooting thumb that a hardnosed bullet goes all the way through. A softnosed bullet goes in little and comes out big. A dumdum, or doctored bullet, might conceivably break up on entry, but on anything as soft as a human skull, its chances of breaking up on entry are very small indeed.

What Walter and I cannot understand, among other findings of the Warren report, is how a bullet fired from behind could tear the back of President Kennedy's head off. Ballistically, a bullet fired from behind should have gone in small and blown the front of his head off as it came out, or mushroomed inside the skull, shattering it completely, internally.

The other day, we had a sick buffalo on our hands, and we were shooting as fast as we could work the bolt. Neither one of us was able to fire three shots in under eight seconds. Walter was shooting faster than I was, But he was using open sights, which raises another point.

Somebody in the Warren report mentioned that "the scope made fast shooting possible." This is utter nonsense. Every time you fire a scoped rifle, the blast knocks your eye out of the scope and you have to rediscover the target. There is also something called "parallax" which blurs a scope, making the target disappear if your eye isn't rightly adjusted to the lenses.

With a scope you have to aim — you just can't brass off as with a shotgun, a double rifle or an open-signted rifle A mistake of a fraction of a millimeter on the sighting end of a rifle magnifies into a horrifying proportion as the bullet arrives at its target. A tiny flinch will make an error of five feet, say 200 yards.

There was some comment that the scope had a slight error in sighting which made a leadoff angle unnecessary. You would have to know the exact span of right-or-left throwing in order to compensate, and the same would apply to high or low. I doubt very much if Lee Oswald bore-sighted his rifle and then adjusted the scope in order to eliminate the basic necessity of shooting at moving targets —the leadoff angle.

A principle in shooting is that you ignore the package and shoot for the little pea inside. You always go for heart or head, and where you aim depends on where you are. One of the best heart shots is straight up the backside, if you are behind the animal, or a quartering shot behind the rib cage if the animal is going away.

I shot a buffalo the other day with a tiny rifle by aiming at his nostrils, and I hit him in the brain. I have shot a close elephant in the brain by aiming at his throat, so that the bullet could pass upward between the tusks.

According to reports, Mr. Kennedy was hit in the back, a heart shot, as well as being hit in the neck, the bullet passing through and coming out of the throat. Another bullet blew off the back of his head. As a rifleman I do not understand the combination of angles.

A shot fired on high goes down. A shot fired on the level goes straight in. A shot fired from below travels up. Oswald, shooting from his lofty vantage, would have had to hit Kennedy high in the head to shove the bullet through his throat. To hit him in the back, at that range and elevation, is impossible. A bullet going in the back of the neck and coming out of the throat would almost have to be fired on a dead level, or from a very slight slant.

Walter Johnson and I have read the report scrupulously, several times, and the ballistic end of it makes no sense.

The F. B. I. Position

Warren Commission's View Following Hoover's Testimony Is Analyzed

By ARTHUR KROCK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—The publication by The Washington Evening Star last Friday of part of the transcript of the testimony of J. Edgar Hoover before the Warren Commission points up the quandary in which this testimony placed the chairman, Chief Justice Earl Warren. And it helps to explain why the commission left in vague suspension the issue Hoover raised. That is the conflict between the constitutional rights of individuals and police measures better calculated to prevent the assassination of a President under full public exposure. Confronted with an issue on which its chairman has taken a most extreme position in behalf of individual rights, the commission hedged.

It commended the F.B.I.'s "new criteria," adopted a month after President Kennedy's assassination, whereby agents were instructed to add to the file of "ultrarightists, racists and Fascists . . . who have made threats of bodily harm against officials" of American or foreign government those in this group "possessing emotional instability or irrational behavior." But the commission, warned by Hoover that the new criteria it raised presented the hazard of encouraging the use of Gestapo methods, fielded that problem to the Executive and Congress in the following words:

"They [Hoover and other witnesses] emphasized the necessity that the information now being furnished be handled with judgment and care. The commission shares this concern. The problem is aggravated by the necessity that the [Secret Service] obtain the assistance of the local law enforcement officials in evaluating the information which it receives and in taking preventive steps."

The commission's retreat from facing the potential consequences of the new criteria is not surprising in view of the numerous Supreme Court decisions in which its chairman has supported the proposition that punishment of individuals for undisputed criminal acts must be subordinated to safeguarding their individual rights — under the broadest Constitutional interpretation of what these rights are. Sufficient examples are the court's rulings in Mallory and Mapp v. Ohio, where it went to unexampled extremes in defining the scope of individual protections against police search and seizure of criminal suspects.

Not Apparent

But not until the publication of Hoover's testimony was it apparent why the commission backed away after going so far as to find the criteria for Presidential protection still "unduly restrictive in continuing to require some manifestation of animus against a Government official." The key is to be found in the following comments by the F.B.I. director that must have sharply reminded Chairman Warren of his own judicial attitude in cases involving the issue of individual rights against criminal law enforcement:

"I don't think you can get absolute security [for a publicly exposed President] without almost establishing a police state . . . You can't put security in a black groove or a white groove, and certain chances have to be taken . . . I think [under the new criteria] five thousand names have . . . been submitted to the Secret Service, and at least three or four thousand more will be submitted during the next few months."

What then, Hoover asked the commission, "are you going to do when the Secret Service gets those names? They have to call upon the local authorities." And he told of an incident when President Johnson recently visited Chicago that illustrated what could happen in these circumstances. "The local authorities," he said, "were asked to give assistance as they usually do to the Secret Service, and they went to the homes of some of these people [listed under the new criteria as belonging to organizations which advocate violent overthrow of the Government], and it resulted really in almost house arrest."

Echo of Rulings

In New York, he commented, there are perhaps three or four thousands of such individuals, "but, in my estimation, merely because a man belongs to subversive front organizations does not mean that he is blacklisted and is a menace to the country for life."

This must have sounded to Chairman Warren like an echo of Supreme Court rulings he had written or concurred in, particularly Hoover's final remark that "If we keep these people under surveillance and . . . in the house until the President gets out of town . . . that is what you would call totalitarian security." In any event, he and his colleagues on the commission shunted the issue to "a committee of Cabinet members" to review and oversee "the protective activities of the Secret Service and other Federal agencies that assist in safeguarding the President . . . and provide guidance in defining the general nature of foreign and domestic dangers to Presidential security."

Rights First

The two Supreme Court rulings listed above demonstrate that the concept of the supremacy of individual rights, even at a risk to the enforcement of laws protective of society, that was broadly expounded by Hoover before the commission differs from that of Chief Justice Warren only in being less extreme. This is patent in the following from the Court's opinion in Mapp v. Ohio to which the Chief Justice subscribed:

> There are those who say... that under our Constitutional exclusionary doctrine "the criminal is to go free because the constable has blundered." In some cases this undoubtedly will be the result. But there is another consideration—the imperative of judicial integrity. The criminal goes free if he must, but it is the law that sets him free. Nothing can destroy a Government more quickly than its failure to observe its own laws, or worse, its disregard of the charter of its own existence. As Justice Brandeis . . . said . . . "If the Government becomes a lawbreaker it breeds contempt for law; it invites every man to become a law unto himself; it invites anarchy."

Similarly, in Mallory, the Chief Justice sustained the judgment that "It is not the function of the police to arrest . . . at large."

Small wonder that the commission he headed hedged its approval of the new criteria for Presidential protection that already has been so employed in Chicago.

DATE: 9/22/64

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Reference is made to Rosen to Belmont memo of 9/21/64 relating to exhibits of the President's Commission, particularly as to the retention on a permanent basis of some and disposal of others and what arrangements could be made for the display of some of these exhibits to news media.

The recommendations set forth in referenced memorandum were discussed today with Mr. J. Lee Rankin of the Commission who commented that he appreciated the Bureau's views but did not feel that the situation was satisfactorily resolved. Mr. Rankin pointed out that the Commission hoped to be completely out of existence within a very short period of time following the release of its report. He advised he felt that the President would want the various exhibits available to those among the news media or among the public who were sufficiently curious to desire to see the exhibits referred to in the President's report. Mr. Rankin stated that for the foregoing reasons, plus the fact there was a necessity for proper care being afforded the exhibits, he would hope that the FBI might be willing to maintain these exhibits.

It was explained to Mr. Rankin that the Bureau did not have the facilities or the manpower to display over an extended period of time these exhibits to anyone among the general public who might be interested in viewing them; that our responsibilities were extremely great at the present time and we could not take on added burdens which would entail maintenance of exhibits of this nature.

During the discussion it was mentioned to Mr. Rankin that he had previously indicated the Commission intended to make its material available to the National Archives for safekeeping and if this was still their plan it was possible that arrangements could be made with the National Archives for the maintenance of the various exhibits which the President's Commission desired to maintain on a permanent basis. Mr. Rankin stated that this idea had possibilities but he was still worried about the safe maintenance of these exhibits.

It was suggested to Mr. Rankin that regardless of where the exhibits were maintained, if they were to be reviewed by the public in general they would necessarily have to be maintained in such a manner that individuals could not be pawing over the exhibits inasmuch as they would soon deteriorate from improper handling if this were permitted. During this discussion Mr. Rankin agreed that it would probably be necessary to maintain these exhibits in glass cases in order to preserve them for any period of time.

Mr. Rankin indicated that he intended to discuss this matter with Mr. George E. Reedy, Press Secretary to the President, and would be in contact with the Bureau at a subsequent date. He requested that the Bureau, if it had any further suggestions in the meantime concerning this matter, call him and furnish him the benefit of these additional suggestions if any were available.

Submitted for information.

Dr. Alfred Goldberg of the President's Commission called and stated that approximately 20 easels used to display visual aids at the Commission were of no further use and asked that they be picked up as soon as possible. He mentioned that inasmuch as the FBI did not want these displays that Mr. Rankin had called in Dr. Wayne C. Grover, Archivist, who was most impressed with the exhibits, especially the three-dimensional models of the assassination site and the Dallas Police Department garage.

According to Goldberg, technicians from the Archives Building under the direction of Dr. James L. Gear, Chief Chemist, Restoration Division, photographed the models before taking them apart for the purpose of insuring that these models would be reassembled correctly. Mr. Gear spoke to me advising that he was not immediately aware that these visual aids were prepared by the FBI and would like very much to get in touch with us in the event this was necessary in the future. He was advised that if any assistance is needed in connection with assembling the exhibits, he should call and we would consider his request at that time consistent with our other commitments.

Mr. Gear indicated that the scale models would possibly be displayed at the Archives where they would be able to be viewed by the public and the news media after which the exhibits would possibly be made available to the Kennedy Memorial Library as permanent displays. There is some indication, according to Gear, that the Kennedy family may not desire to have the scale models on display to the public at this time.

The easels were picked up 10-6-64 and are being held in the Exhibits Section for possible future use in displaying courtroom exhibits.

RECOMMENDATION: None. For information only.

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY, 11/22/64, Dallas, Texas
MISCELLANEOUS - INFORMATION CONCERNING

ReRomelet dated 8/24/64.

Enclosed for the information of the Bureau are numerous articles on 17 forms FD-350. These articles all concern the Warren Commission report and were published in Italian language newspapers in Italy.

Set out below are excerpts from the above-mentioned articles. Rome Office is remaining alert for any further information in connection with this matter:

"L'Ora," Palermo, Italy, 9/28-29/64, page 1.

The Mystery Remains in Dallas.

"The Warren report does not convince me," says Governor Connally.

"No report in the world will ever convince me that I was shot by the same bullet which hit Kennedy," said Governor Connally, thus placing in doubt a basic point of the "reconstruction" of the assassination by the Warren Commission.

"L'Ora," Palermo, Italy, 9/28-29/64, page 2.

More Doubts than Before.

Now that the 'report' on the assassination of Kennedy has been published, one understands why Judge Earl Warren had been unhappy to accept charge of the investigating Commission and why he had publicly declared "probably a part of the truth will not be made public during this generation." Moreover, one must ask himself if the portions which have been made public are true or if they are, rather, just an accumulation of omissions and contradictions.

64 OCT 29 1964

The Commission, which was presided over by a person above any suspicion, Warren, and made up of three declared racists and a representative of the Secret Services, has condemned Lee Harvey Oswald as the only assassin of Kennedy during the course of a proceeding behind closed doors, on the basis of secret testimony, and with the exclusion of a defense attorney for the accused, all in contrast to normal American procedure. As strange as it may seem, from the "report" it is seen that the Commission was unable to take into consideration the declarations made by Oswald to the police because the FBI and the Secret Service, which interrogated Oswald for more than 12 hours during the course of two days, made no record either in writing or on magnetic tape of what Oswald was saying. (It goes without saying that the declarations of the accused at the time of his arrest are fundamentally important for his trial, therefore, we must assume that the police organs did not consider it opportune to record Oswald's statements since they did not think that Oswald would be tried.) Moreover, the Commission has considered it opportune not to conduct the investigations on its own, relying instead on the FBI (even though it has been suspected that Oswald was an Agent of the FBI).

One should not be surprised, therefore, if the "conclusions" of the "report" coincide with the same theses which the FBI and the police of Dallas advanced ten months ago, and that is, that Oswald was the only assassin of Kennedy.

"L'Ora," Palermo, Italy, 9/28-29/64, page 2.

A Document Destined to Enlarge the Argument concerning the Assassination of Kennedy.

(Comment: After having summarized the Warren report the article states as follows:)

This is a resume of the 888 page "Warren Report," of its conclusions concerning the facts in Dallas. The first observations to be made concerning these "conclusions" is that they follow faithfully the theses of the FBI set forth last October that "Oswald is the assassin. Oswald acted alone."

"L'Ora," Palermo, Italy, 9/28-29/64, page 3.

The Commission Has Lied.

British philosopher and pacifist Bertrand Russell declared that the report of the Warren Commission "is an unpleasantly incompetent document and covers its authors with shame."

"L'Ora," Palermo, Italy, 9/28-29/64, page 3.

It is Filled with Speculation and Weak Conjecture declares Attorney Mark Lane.

The Commission did not conduct its own investigations, but relied principally on the FBI, the Secret Service, and the Dallas police for all its information. The representatives of these agencies have tried to have the witnesses alter their declarations so as to show that Oswald was the sole assassin.

In truth the report of the Commission contains no surprises because it sustains almost entirely the theses of the Dallas police and the FBI. Actually, it raises many more problems that it resolves.

The Only Responsible One, the Deceased Oswald, Cannot Defend Himself.

The Warren Commission, which dissolved itself immediately after delivering the report to President Johnson, was made up of seven persons. The Commission took its name from its chairman, Judge Earl Warren, Chief of the Supreme Court of the U. S. Besides Warren, the Commission was made up of Allen W. Dulles, former chief of the American Counter-Espionage Services (CIA); John McCloy, banker and diplomat; Senator Richard B. Russell, chairman of the Senate Committee for the Armed Services and a noted racist exponent; Senator John Sherman Cooper from Kentucky; Representative Hale Boggs from Louisiana; and Gerald R. Ford from Michigan, chief of the Republican Group in the House of Representatives and head of the Goldwater organization in his state, noted for his ties with the FBI.

"The Thriller Continues."

If the summaries of the Warren report, which have been published by the press, are accurate, the predictions of those who had foreseen a document which contained no surprises seem to be correct. The document is, at the same time, something more and something less than had been expected. Something less because it seems evident that the members of the Commission have systematically and deliberately avoided a confrontation with the thousands of mysterious and disquieting aspects of "The Thriller" of Dallas. Something more, because, with some candidness, they are attempting to bury the event which has shaken the entire world by confirming the version issued by the police.

Connally belies the Warren Report (He was in the Kennedy car).

While the American press proclaims full satisfaction with the conclusions of the Commission which investigated the assassination of Kennedy, public opinion in the whole world expresses disillusionment and wonder at the whole series of questions which remain without convincing answers concerning the tragic plot of Dallas.

We Believed that the FBI Was a Serious Thing.

The one thing which above all has struck the English press after the publication of the Warren report are the criticisms which are being made against the police charged with the security of the President of the U. S. We express our incredulous wonder for the catastrophic negligence of those responsible for the security of the President states the Daily Mail. We are used to regarding the FBI and the American Secret Service as models of efficiency and readiness. This idea must be drastically reviewed.

Have the Police Caused the Depositions of Oswald to Disappear?

It is believed that they contained elements proving the innocence of Oswald or the existence of accomplices. The declarations of the police of Dallas are accepted.

One element in particular is noteworthy - the total absence in the voluminous record of any documentation concerning the interrogation of Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas after his arrest. The presumed assassin of Kennedy remained in the Dallas jails for two days, during which he was subjected to numerous interviews by the local police and the FBI. There is not a single trace of the information developed during these interviews in the Warren report.

Will the World Finally Learn How and Why Kennedy was Killed?

Twenty-five urgent questions in a newspaper concerning the "mysteries" which accompanied the investigations of the crime in Dallas. How numerous witnesses have committed "suicide" and why many others have disappeared. The report is 500 pages long.

The Warren Report will be Published Today.

The U. S. Government is preparing an exceptional publicity campaign for the Warren Commission report.

Thanks to this massive effort, the American leaders apparently hope to remove the painful impression which has arisen throughout the world concerning the "mysterious" aspects of the crime in Texas and to give anew a cloak of prestige to the institutions which have been compromised. But the indications of the last week, according to which the Warren Commission has attempted to "validate" the theses that Oswald alone was guilty, causes one to believe that the publication of the report will achieve just the opposite results.

The Counter Deductions of Paese Sera on the Warren Commission report. The "report" raises more doubts than it resolves. The paraffin test: Did Oswald wash his face with his feet. The petition of Attorney Mark Lane. The "proceedings" against Oswald were illegal; prejudiced judges; exclusion of the defense; refused testimony. Something Must Still be Clarified.

The 888 page Warren report has not entirely clarified the mystery of the assassin and the violent death of Oswald. Il governatore del Texas Connally, espone il suo punto di vista sul rapporto Warren

(Dal nostro corrispondente)

NEW YORK, 29 — Le perplessità e i dubbi che sull'operato della Commissione Warren erano stati formulati fin dalle prime indiscrezioni sulle indagini, sono stati naturalmente ingigantiti dal Presidente Johnson per le indagini sulla morte di John Kennedy. Il frutto del lavoro di dieci mesi può essere oggi esaminato con cura dall'opinione pubblica americana: e non vi è chi, dalla lettura, non ricavi elementi di contraddizione e di incertezza.

Un elemento in particolare, viene rilevato: la totale assenza, nel voluminoso incartamento, di qualunque documentazione sull'interrogatorio subito a Dallas, dopo l'arresto, da parte di Lee Oswald. Il presunto assassino di Kennedy rimase nelle carceri di Dallas due giorni, durante i quali venne sottoposto a numerosi interrogatori da parte della polizia locale e dell'F.B.I. di tali interrogatori, fondamentali ai fini di una conoscenza delle affermazioni dell'indiziato circa la sua partecipazione al delitto, nel rapporto Warren non resta traccia alcuna. I giudici incaricati dell'inchiesta ufficiale si limitano a costatare, nel rapporto che i testi, stenografici o registrati, degli interrogatori, mancano, non sono stati reperiti. E ciò perchè non sono stati raccolti dai poliziotti.

La procedura adottata dalle autorità di polizia di Dallas non stupisce in un caso comune di assassinio, nel senso che non vi è alcun obbligo procedurale di stenografare o registrare le dichiarazioni dell'indiziato. Nel caso, però, di un assassinio presidenziale, l'obbligo esisteva. Non foss'altro che per avere la possibilità di controllare la veridicità delle affermazioni dell'indiziato nel contro-interrogatorio che viene fatto due o tre ore dopo la prima deposizione, nell'intento, cioè, di fare contraddire l'accusato.

Il testo non è stato reperito, e la commissione Warren ha dovuto fare affidamento su quanto gli agenti e i poliziotti di Dallas e dell'FBI «ricordavano a mente». Non va dimenticato, a questo proposito, che la commissione Warren accetta per buoni i ricordi di quegli stessi uomini che nel contesto del rapporto vengono accusati di faciloneria e di approssimazione e vengono apertamente responsabilizzati della morte di Oswald.

Il comportamento della commissione Warren in proposito è tanto più grave se si pensa che a interrogare Oswald furono, complessivamente, due o tre agenti dell'FBI e due o tre poliziotti di Dallas, e che, di questi, solo uno, il capitano Fritz, capo della polizia di Dallas, ha testimoniato davanti alla commissione Warren.

Un altro elemento che viene rilevato è la totale assenza, nel rapporto, di qualsiasi documentazione sulle indagini balistiche. Non vi è traccia di alcuna perizia balistica, non vi è traccia di alcuna analisi dei proiettili, non vi è traccia di alcuna ricostruzione della traiettoria dei proiettili. Non vi è traccia di alcuna analisi dei frammenti di proiettile trovati nella limousine presidenziale. Non vi è traccia di alcuna analisi dei frammenti di proiettile estratti dal corpo del governatore Connally. Non vi è traccia di alcuna analisi dei frammenti di proiettile estratti dal corpo del presidente Kennedy. Non vi è traccia di alcuna analisi dei frammenti di proiettile estratti dal corpo di Oswald. Non vi è traccia di alcuna analisi dei frammenti di proiettile estratti dal corpo di Tippit. Non vi è traccia di alcuna analisi dei frammenti di proiettile estratti dal corpo di Walker. NEW YORK, 29 — Le perplessità e i dubbi che sull'operato della Commissione Warren erano stati formulati fin dalle prime indiscrezioni sulle indagini, sono stati naturalmente ingigantiti dal Presidente Johnson per le indagini sulla morte di John Kennedy. Il frutto del lavoro di dieci mesi può essere oggi esaminato con cura dall'opinione pubblica americana: e non vi è chi, dalla lettura, non ricavi elementi di contraddizione e di incertezza.

Il presunto assassino di Kennedy rimase nelle carceri di Dallas due giorni, durante i quali venne sottoposto a numerosi interrogatori da parte della polizia locale e dell'F.B.I. di tali interrogatori, fondamentali ai fini di una conoscenza delle affermazioni dell'indiziato circa la sua partecipazione al delitto, nel rapporto Warren non resta traccia alcuna. I giudici incaricati dell'inchiesta ufficiale si limitano a costatare, nel rapporto che i testi, stenografici o registrati, degli interrogatori, mancano, non sono stati reperiti. E ciò perchè non sono stati raccolti dai poliziotti.

La procedura adottata dalle autorità di polizia di Dallas non stupisce in un caso comune di assassinio, nel senso che non vi è alcun obbligo procedurale di stenografare o registrare le dichiarazioni dell'indiziato. Nel caso, però, di un assassinio presidenziale, l'obbligo esisteva. Non foss'altro che per avere la possibilità di controllare la veridicità delle affermazioni dell'indiziato nel contro-interrogatorio che viene fatto due o tre ore dopo la prima deposizione, nell'intento, cioè, di fare contraddire l'accusato.

Il testo non è stato reperito, e la commissione Warren ha dovuto fare affidamento su quanto gli agenti e i poliziotti di Dallas e dell'FBI «ricordavano a mente». Non va dimenticato, a questo proposito, che la commissione Warren accetta per buoni i ricordi di quegli stessi uomini che nel contesto del rapporto vengono accusati di faciloneria e di approssimazione e vengono apertamente responsabilizzati della morte di Oswald.

Il comportamento della commissione Warren in proposito è tanto più grave se si pensa che a interrogare Oswald furono, complessivamente, due o tre agenti della polizia di Dallas, e dell'FBI, i quali, volendo, avrebbero potuto far sparire in tutta tranquillità il testo dell'interrogatorio e sostituire con affermazioni false e interessate le affermazioni dell'indiziato.

Questo è il più ecidente, ma non il solo, elemento che dimostra come la commissione Warren, nella mole di elementi veri, ha inserito anche una parte di elementi che veri non sono e che tendono soltanto a dimostrare che nell'assassinio del Presidente Kennedy non vi fu complotto.

Si ha l'impressione che il testo dell'interrogatorio di Oswald manchi perchè è stato fatto sparire. E che sia stato fatto sparire perchè esso conteneva non già, forse, la prova della innocenza di Oswald, quanto perchè vi si leggeva, tra le righe o in maniera esplicita, la complicità con Oswald, di qualche altra persona. E quindi il complotto contro la vita del Presidente.

Con particolare impegno si è fatto ricorso ai metodi di polizia scientifica, pur senza raggiungere una prova conclusiva, per accertare se Oswald, proprietario del fucile e in possesso di questo, avesse materialmente fatto fuoco con quell'arma. E' stata eseguita — come è noto — la prova della paraffina, con reazione positiva per le mani ma non per la guancia destra. Un altro tentativo è stato fatto esponendo i calchi di paraffina rilevati su Oswald all'azione del reattore nucleare di Oak Ridge, mediante la tecnica della «attivazione neutronica» che mette alla luce alcune sostanze indicative della presenza di polvere da sparo sulla persona su cui sono stati presi calchi. Questa analisi non ha prodotto però elementi conclusivi perchè sono state trovate tracce di tali sostanze sia all'interno sia all'esterno dei calchi, ciò che è stato probabilmente causato da un incauto (?) trattamento dei calchi durante il trasporto, con l'effetto di pregiudicare una valutazione probante dell'esperimento. Nessuna delle prove considerate da sola ma l'«insieme» di esse hanno convinto la Commissione della colpevolezza di Oswald. Non sulle prove oggettive ma su una convinzione soggettiva in base ad una serie di circostanze da non qualificarsi prove, ha indotto dunque la Commissione a porre, con la dichiarazione di colpevolezza per Lee Harvey Oswald, la parola fine alla tragedia del 22 novembre 1963.

Sarà pubblicato oggi il rapporto Warren

Prime indiscrezioni sulla versione ufficiale intorno all'assassinio di Kennedy

WASHINGTON, 26.

Il governo statunitense prepara un eccezionale lancio pubblicitario per il rapporto redatto dalla commissione d'inchiesta Warren sull'assassinio di Kennedy. Cinquantamila copie del volume, che consta di circa ottocento pagine e venticinquemila di un opuscolo contenente un riassunto sono già pronte per essere poste in vendita e diffuse tramite i centri dell'USIA negli Stati Uniti e in centosette paesi. La «Voce dell'America» diffonderà brani del rapporto nei suoi programmi a onde corte, in trentasette lingue.

Grazie a questo massiccio sforzo, i dirigenti americani sperano evidentemente di ridurre la penosa impressione suscitata in tutto il mondo dagli aspetti «misteriosi» del crimine di Dallas e di restituire una vernice di prestigio alle istituzioni compromessevi. Ma le indiscrezioni circolate nelle ultime settimane, secondo le quali la commissione Warren ha cercato di «convalidare» la tesi di un Oswald unico attentatore, spinto al delitto da follia, fanno pensare che la pubblicazione sia destinata a produrre risultati opposti.

L'Associated Press, sulla base di una panoramica delle discussioni in nove paesi europei, prevede che il documento «susciterà un'ondata di vivacissime polemiche». L'agenzia addebita la paternità delle critiche agli «ambienti di sinistra», ma ammette che la sensazione che vi sia stato «qualcosa di marcio» nella vicenda domina tutti gli ambienti. Vengono citate in particolare l'inchiesta dell'americano Thomas Buchanan, secondo la quale Oswald fu soltanto una figura secondaria nel quadro di una congiura ordita dall'ala più oltranzista della «destra economica» contro la vita di Kennedy, con l'appoggio di elementi della polizia, le tesi contrarie alla colpevolezza di Oswald sostenute in Europa dall'avvocato newyorkese Mark Lane e il libro «Morte a Dallas», di Hans Hube, favorevole alla tesi del complotto.

Il filosofo britannico Bertrand Russell, uomo di indubbia autorevolezza e non certo sospetto di «filo-comunismo», è andato anche più in là. In un articolo apparso sull'ultimo numero della rivista americana Minority of one, Russell sottolinea che l'attività stessa della commissione rientra tra gli aspetti inspiegabili dell'affare. A parte il giudice Warren, che è persona rispettabile, la commissione include infatti ex-funzionari dei servizi segreti come Allan Dulles, rappresentanti del mondo degli affari, come Mac Cloy, esponenti degli Stati razzisti del sud, come i senatori Russell e Boggs, e del «goldwaterismo», come il deputato Gerald Ford, del Michigan; un altro goldwateriano, come l'avvocato Walter Craig, dell'Arizona, vi ha rappresentato — non si sa sulla base di quale delega — gli interessi di Oswald. Altrettanto inspiegabilmente, la commissione si è occupata, e in modo fazioso, soltanto delle figure di Oswald e di Ruby e della maggiore o minore efficienza delle «misure di sicurezza» a Dallas.

Warren

Bertrand Russell muove quindi all'operato della commissione pesanti addebiti — tra gli altri, quello di aver lavorato nel segreto e con l'evidente obbiettivo di dimostrare la colpevolezza di Oswald, sfruttando a questo fine la deposizione della vedova, tenuta saldamente in pugno dal FBI e dominata dal terrore di un linciaggio, quello di aver ostacolato l'occultamento di prove, ecc. e propone vecchi e nuovi quesiti.

L'intimidazione, il ricatto e — ancora una volta — il delitto hanno larga parte, del resto, anche in questo inquietante seguito del «giallo» di Dallas. I quotidiani della catena Hearst parlano ad esempio di «fatti nuovi» emersi dall'inchiesta e citati nella documentazione. Uno di essi riguarda una testimone dell'assassinio del poliziotto Tippit, della quale non si fa il nome, ma si cita la deposizione: i connotati dell'uomo che uccise Tippit, descritti da costei, differiscono in modo radicale da quelli di Oswald; la donna ha riferito di essere stata minacciata e intimidita da elementi della polizia. Un'altra testimone del fatto, la signora Helen Markham, è certa che l'uomo non fosse Oswald. Un terzo testimone oculare, che assistette al fatto dalla finestra, fu ferito più tardi al capo da una fucilata e la polizia non è stata capace di rintracciare il feritore.

DALLAS - Jack Ruby (di spalle) spara a bruciapelo contro Lee Oswald

WASHINGTON, 27

E' stato pubblicato oggi il rapporto della commissione Warren, costituita il 29 novembre scorso dal Presidente Johnson per indagare sull'assassinio del suo predecessore, John F. Kennedy, avvenuto a Dallas, nel Texas, il 22 novembre dello stesso anno. Si tratta di un volume di oltre ottocento pagine, nel quale la commissione sposa in pieno, nella sostanza, la versione della polizia di Dallas: Lee Harvey Oswald, l'ex-marine arrestato poco dopo il fatto e successivamente eliminato, sotto gli occhi dei poliziotti, dal gangster Jack Ruby, sarebbe attentatore e avrebbe agito senza complici, al di fuori di qualsiasi cospirazione politica. Come movente di Oswald viene indicato il suo carattere « insofferente »; Ruby avrebbe agito per « patriottismo ». Alla polizia viene rivolta, in relazione con l'assassinio sia di Kennedy, sia di Oswald, soltanto una blanda critica.

« L'assassinio di Kennedy — si afferma nel rapporto — fu un atto di crudele e rivoltante violenza contro un uomo, una famiglia, un paese e tutta l'umanità. Un giovane e valoroso capo... fu la vittima del quarto assassinio presidenziale nella storia di un paese attaccato all'idea della discussione ragionevole e del mutamento politico pacifico ».

La commissione, nominata « in riconoscimento del diritto del popolo a conoscere i fatti nella loro interezza e verità », riferisce quindi lo svolgimento dei fatti, a tutti noti, nella tragica mattinata di Dallas ed elenca le seguenti « conclusioni »:

1) I colpi d'arma da fuoco che hanno ucciso il presidente Kennedy e ferito il governatore del Texas, Connally, furono sparati dal sesto piano dell'edificio della « Texas School Book Depository ». Questa affermazione è basata: a) sulle deposizioni di « testimoni oculari »; b) sul fatto che « i frammenti dei tre proiettili trovati nell'automobile presidenziale provenivano da quelli sparati dalla carabina calibro mm. 6,5 ritrovata al sesto piano dell'edificio »; c) che « i tre bossoli trovati vuoti al sesto

i moventi di Oswald. Tra i fattori che si suppone abbiano influenzato il gesto attribuito all'ex marine vengono indicati « un profondo risentimento verso ogni autorità, una predominante ostilità verso l'ambiente circostante, un perpetuo malcontento nei confronti del mondo che lo circondava e l'odio verso la società americana ».

3) Due proiettili probabilmente provocarono tutte le ferite riportate dal presidente Kennedy e dal governatore Connally. Il primo proiettile che colpì Kennedy ferì anche il governatore.

4) I colpi che uccisero il presidente e ferirono il governatore furono sparati da Lee Harvey Oswald. L'arma del delitto apparteneva a lui. Egli l'aveva portata quella mattina nell'edificio. Egli si trovava alla finestra del sesto piano da dove furono sparati i colpi. La carabina fu trovata in quel punto. Oswald era perfettamente in grado di sparare tre colpi successivi nello spazio di tempo in cui furono tirati: l'arma adoperata permetterà di sparare i tre colpi in questo spazio di tempo. Dopo il suo arresto, Oswald mentì su fatti importanti. Oswald aveva tentato di uccidere il generale Edwin Walker, ciò che « denota un istinto omicida ».

5) Oswald uccise l'agente di polizia Tippit 45 minuti dopo l'assassinio del presidente Kennedy. Questa affermazione è basata: a) su testimonianze oculari; b) sulla scoperta di bossoli vuoti sparati con la rivoltella che egli aveva con sè. Quella rivoltella gli apparteneva. Inoltre, lungo il percorso che Oswald seguì dopo l'uccisione di Tippit, fu trovata la giacca di Oswald.

6) Un'ora e venti minuti dopo l'assassinio di Kennedy e trentacinque minuti dopo quello di Tippit, Oswald tentò di uccidere un altro agente di polizia che cercava di arrestarlo.

7) Azione della polizia di Dallas: a) Oswald non fu maltrattato e fu lasciato libero di scegliersi un avvocato; b) la libertà di movimento lasciata ai giornalisti nei locali della polizia creò una situazione caotica che non permise un interrogatorio ordinato e la protezione dei diritti dell'arrestato; c) le molteplici dichiarazioni, spesso sbagliate, fatte alla stampa dalla polizia locale « avrebbero costituito un ostacolo a un processo equo ». Queste informazioni « hanno originato dubbi, congetture e timori nell'opinione pubblica ».

8) Assassinio di Oswald da parte di Jack Ruby: « Nulla permette di pensare che Ruby sia stato aiutato dalla polizia di Dallas per sopprimere Oswald ». La decisione della polizia di Dallas di trasferire pubblicamente Oswald da una prigione ad un'altra « non era saggia » e, nonostante le minacce di morte profferite contro di lui, la polizia di Dallas non prese le precauzioni necessarie per proteggerlo.

La mancanza di tali precauzioni, dopo che la polizia era stata avvertita di minacce contro la vita di Oswald, contribuì alla morte di quest'ultimo.

Quale fu il motivo che spinse Ruby ad uccidere Oswald? La commissione non arriva a conclusioni precise ma « prende nota » di questa sua deposizione: « Vidi una lettera (in un giornale) a Carolina (Kennedy)... una lettera commoventissima... seguita da una breve nota nel giornale in cui si diceva... che la signora Kennedy probabilmente avrebbe dovuto ritornare in occasione del processo a Lee Harvey Oswald... Improvvisamente, ho sentito dentro di me che qualcuno doveva questo al nostro amato presidente per evitare alla moglie l'angoscia del ritorno... ».

9) La commissione « non ha trovato alcuna prova che permetta di pensare che Oswald o Ruby facessero parte di un complotto, organizzato negli Stati Uniti o all'estero, per assassinare il presidente Kennedy». Oswald non fu aiutato da nessuno per compiere il suo gesto. Egli non era collegato ad alcuna persona nè ad alcun gruppo che complottava l'assassinio del presidente. Egli non fu impiegato nè incoraggiato da alcun governo straniero, «nonostante il suo soggiorno nell'URSS e a Cuba, e i suoi contatti con diplomatici sovietici ». La sua appartenenza al Partito comunista o a diverse altre organizzazioni non ebbe alcun rapporto col suo gesto. Egli non era un agente dell'FBI (polizia federale americana), della CIA Central Intelligence Agency (servizio segreto civile per l'estero) o di qualsiasi altra amministrazione federale. Non esisteva alcuna relazione tra lui e Ruby, ed essi non si conoscevano. Jack Ruby agì da solo per uccidere Oswald. Ruby e l'agente Tippit non si conoscevano.

10) Tra gli agenti federali o locali « non è stato constatato alcun atto di mancanza di fedeltà, di sovversione o di cospirazione ».

11) Oswald agì da solo: tutti i suoi precedenti lo conducevano a compiere gesti crudeli e irresponsabili, mettendo in gioco la sua vita.

12) Le crescenti difficoltà di protezione di un presidente richiedono nuovi metodi. Nella vicenda di Dallas il « Secret service » incaricato della protezione di Kennedy « non prese prima dell'assassinio sufficienti precauzioni nei confronti di taluni pericoli potenziali ». Il coordinamento fra l'FBI e il « Secret service » non era sufficiente. Il « Secret service », i cui compiti sono enormi, non prese a Dallas, a causa del suo dispositivo lacunoso, sufficienti misure di protezione preventive, nè appena fu segnalato il pericolo.

La commissione Warren, che si è sciolta subito dopo la consegna del rapporto al Presidente Johnson, era composta da sette persone. Essa prendeva il nome dal suo presidente, il giudice Earl Warren, presidente della Corte suprema federale degli Stati Uniti. Oltre a Warren, il quale ha 73 anni, hanno fatto parte della commissione, Allen W. Dulles, fratello del defunto segretario di Stato, ed ex capo dei servizi di controspionaggio americani (CIA); John Mc Cloy, banchiere, e diplomatico, considerato uno dei massimi consiglieri della Casa Bianca, il senatore della Georgia Richard B. Russell, presidente della commissione del Senato per i servizi armati e noto esponente razzista; il senatore John Sherman Cooper, del Kentucky; il deputato della Louisiana Hale Boggs; Gerald R. Ford, deputato repubblicano del Michigan, capo del gruppo repubblicano alla Camera dei rappresentanti, capo della organizzazione « goldwaterista » del suo Stato, noto per i suoi legami col FBI.

Bertrand Russell: «I dubbi rimangono»

LONDRA, 27.

Il filosofo inglese Bertrand Russell ha criticato questa sera il «rapporto Warren» definendolo «un documento sgradevolmente incompetente» che ha coperto di vergogna i suoi autori. Russell ha accusato la commissione di mancanza di integrità ed ha aggiunto: «Lo assassinio di un Presidente americano influisce sulla pace del mondo: un complotto per ucciderlo avrebbe le più gravi implicazioni e, per queste ragioni, la commissione Warren è stata costretta a spiegare le anomalie verificatesi nel quadro dell'attentato e nei suoi sviluppi. Con tutte le risorse della Casa Bianca, dello FBI, del servizio segreto, della CIA, e di altri enti governativi disponibili alla commissione, il rapporto di quest'ultima non riesce vistosamente ad eliminare i dubbi sull'ultima versione ufficiale dell'assassinio».

Bertrand Russell: «I dubbi rimangono»

LONDRA, 27.

Il filosofo inglese Bertrand Russell ha criticato questa sera il «rapporto Warren» definendolo «un documento sgradevolmente incompetente» che ha coperto di vergogna i suoi autori. Russell ha accusato la commissione di mancanza di integrità ed ha aggiunto: «Lo assassinio di un Presidente americano influisce sulla pace del mondo: un complotto per ucciderlo avrebbe le più gravi implicazioni e, per queste ragioni, la commissione Warren è stata costretta a spiegare le anomalie verificatesi nel quadro dell'attentato e nei suoi sviluppi. Il «giallo» continua

Se quello diffuso ieri dalle agenzie di stampa è un sommario fedele ed esauriente — e non vi è motivo di dubitare che lo sia — il rapporto Warren va molto oltre le previsioni di coloro che avevano preannunciato un documento vacuo e privo di sorprese. Esso non è soltanto questo: è qualcosa di meno, e di più, al tempo stesso. Di meno, perché sembra evidente che i membri della commissione hanno sistematicamente e deliberatamente evitato il confronto con i mille aspetti misteriosi ed inquietanti del « giallo » di Dallas. Di più — vogliamo dire: di più grave — perché, con un'improntitudine che ha perfino qualcosa di candido, essi pretendono di seppellire un dramma che ha commosso il mondo intero controfirmando la versione della polizia.

Nei dieci mesi trascorsi dall'assassinio di Kennedy, una folla di dubbi e di interrogativi è stata proposta — attraverso dichiarazioni, inchieste di stampa, studi e lettere ai giornali — da personalità, osservatori e uomini semplici di ogni paese. Vale la pena di riassumerne la sostanza.

Primo: i colpi che hanno ucciso Kennedy sono stati sparati dall'ormai famoso deposito di libri scolastici o dal cavalcavia che si trovava dinanzi al corteo presidenziale? La versione data dai medici dell'ospedale dopo l'esame delle ferite, depone a favore di questa seconda ipotesi. Anche i poliziotti pensarono che il fuoco venisse dal cavalcavia e si precipitarono verso quest'ultimo, lasciato prima inspiegabilmente incustodito. Successivamente, essi furono richiamati e indirizzati verso il deposito di libri, ciò che diede all'eventuale attentatore appostato sul cavalcavia la possibilità di fuggire indisturbato. Prove effettuate da campioni di tiro riducono al minimo la possibilità che un solo tiratore abbia esploso tre colpi in pochi secondi con l'arma indicata come quella del delitto.

Secondo: perché Oswald fu indicato come il probabile attentatore? Egli era stato trovato in un'altra parte dell'edificio, quindi lasciato libero di allontanarsi. Il suo scontro con l'agente Tippit avvenne in un'altra parte della città: l'intera vicenda è avvolta nel mistero. Nelle mani della polizia, l'ex marine fu posto nell'impossibilità di comunicare con chicchessia, compreso il suo avvocato, fino a quando le revolverate di Ruby non gli chiusero la bocca. I precedenti di Oswald non mettono in luce alcun movente plausibile — meno che mai la follia — mentre è accertato che egli ebbe ripetutamente contatti con il FBI e che le sue presunte idee « comuniste » non gli impedirono di occupare, nel dramma, una posizione-chiave. Chi conosce Ruby giudica risibile l'idea che egli fosse animato da sentimenti « patriottici ».

Terzo: l'ambiente. A Dallas, pochi giorni prima, l'ambasciatore Stevenson era stato aggredito dai fascisti e Kennedy sapeva che vi avrebbe trovato un'accoglienza ostile: forse, era informato della stessa esistenza di un rischio specifico. Malgrado ciò, egli non fu adeguatamente protetto. Peggio: si è detto che il percorso del corteo presidenziale doveva essere un altro e che solo all'ultimo istante fu modificato in modo da portare la vittima sotto i colpi dell'attentatore.

Tutto ciò legittima ampiamente il sospetto di un complotto, sospetto che è stato avanzato dai più diversi settori dell'opinione pubblica.

Quale posto hanno tali interrogativi nel rapporto Warren? Il criterio della commissione d'inchiesta è singolare. Di tutte le ipotesi formulate sulla base di essi, si afferma, «non vi sono prove». Per contro, tutto ciò che la polizia di Dallas ha affermato senza prove sufficienti, è dato per certo. Come tale certezza sia stata acquisita, non risulta, almeno dal sommario del rapporto. Ma converrà ricordare le notizie di pesanti pressioni esercitate negli ultimi dieci mesi sulla vedova di Oswald, di testimoni messi a tacere (anche a colpi di fucile), di prove eliminate, di deposizioni manipolate, etc. Infine, è abbastanza significativo che, dopo tutto ciò, la polizia non abbia potuto evitare un biasimo.

Vedremo nei prossimi giorni il testo completo. Ma il senso del documento è chiaro. Ed è difficile affermare che esso serva, come è detto nelle premesse, « il diritto del popolo a conoscere i fatti nella loro interezza e verità », e la causa di quella democrazia americana che, dopo l'assassinio di Kennedy, è sottoposta a minacce senza precedenti.

Non è facile parlare di «erbaccia», come appunto fa il New York Times.

Le critiche al rapporto vengono comunque anche da alcuni ambienti giornalistici. Interessante la reazione di Thomas Buchanan, il giornalista di Baltimora autore del libro «Chi ha ucciso Kennedy?», tradotto in tutto il mondo. Egli, venuto a conoscenza delle conclusioni della commissione Warren, ha rilevato che questa è stata sottoposta a pressioni, per cui ha preferito svolgere un'opera «da agente di relazioni pubbliche più che da vero e proprio organismo inquirente». Troppo facilmente i membri della commissione hanno accettato la tesi secondo cui il solo Oswald, o comunque un uomo solo, avrebbe potuto mettere in atto il crimine. Egli avanza poi alle risultanze delle indagini queste obbiezioni:

1) L'agente che trovò nel «Dallas book depository» il fucile a cannocchiale parlò nel suo rapporto di un «Mauser» e non di un «modello 91»; evidentemente fu effettivamente trovato un «Mauser», ma successivamente venne portato, nella stanza dalla quale si sostiene siano partiti i colpi che uccisero Kennedy, il fucile italiano.

2) La commissione non ha tenuto conto delle testimonianze di quanti affermano di avere visto in più occasioni insieme Ruby ed Oswald.

rale Walker, esponente dell'estrema destra: poichè due investigatori privati hanno potuto accertare che quell'attentato fu compiuto da un ex dipendente del generale.

4) Esisteva un legame — non emerso o non fatto emergere — tra Oswald e i servizi segreti di informazione americani.

Anche l'avvocato Mark Lane ha confermato — dopo la pubblicazione del rapporto — i dubbi che già a suo tempo aveva avanzato sulla possibilità addirittura che sia stato Oswald a sparare dal deposito di libri di Dallas contro l'auto del presidente degli Stati Uniti.

Nonostante tutto i giornali persistono nel definire il rapporto Warren «chiaro, dettagliato, scrupoloso, tecnico», come fa il New York Herald Tribune, secondo cui «pubblici funzionari e persone vogliose di pubblicità parlano a vanvera, complicando il cammino della giustizia».

«Che una serie di incidenti — aggiunge il giornale — abbiano potuto far si che un presidente venisse ucciso e il suo attentatore assassinato a sua volta, non è privo di plausibilità in questo contesto», ma, a suo avviso, una tale supposizione può trovare facile terreno solo in America. «E' in Europa — conclude il New York Herald Tribune, dando una giustificazione "storica" alla sua tesi — che la teoria della cospirazione ha avuto il maggior seguito. E' in Europa che, specialmente negli ambienti di sinistra, vi è la maggiore prontezza a considerare questo triste caso come un complotto mostruoso. La storia dell'Europa è ricca di delitti compiuti a seguito di complotti, primo fra tutti quello che scatenò la guerra mondiale a Serajevo».

Convinti delle conclusioni della commissione si sono dichiarati, naturalmente, il procuratore dello Stato del Texas e il difensore di Ruby. Tonahill, il quale ha colto al balzo l'occasione per ribadire come il biscazziere di Dallas sia stato giustamente spinto ad uccidere l'assassino del presidente dall'evidenza della colpevolezza di Oswald, ora definitivamente confermata. Convinto, infine, anche il fratello di Oswald, Robert, il quale alla TV ha dichiarato che il rapporto Warren ha dissipato ogni suo dubbio sulla colpevolezza del fratello.

Intanto, mentre la tomba di Oswald — che è meta di un notevole afflusso di visitatori — viene vigilata notte e giorno dalla polizia, il presidente Johnson ha ritenuto di far tesoro delle raccomandazioni della commissione circa le misure da adottare d'ora in avanti a protezione della vita dei presidenti degli Stati Uniti. Egli ha deciso di formare subito una commissione, composta del ministro del tesoro Dillon, dall'attorney generale ad interim Katzenbach, dal capo della CIA MacCone, e dall'assistente speciale per gli affari della sicurezza nazionale, Bundy.

MOSCA

Non tutto quello che era segreto ora è chiaro

MOSCA, 28

Una copia in inglese del rapporto Warren è stata inviata stamane dall'ambasciatore americano a Mosca personalmente a Krusciov, accompagnata da una lettera, firmata da Kohler. Altre copie del documento sono state inviate ad un centinaio di funzionari e giornalisti.

Intanto un primo commento al contenuto del rapporto viene fatto stamane dalla Pravda, unico giornale che si pubblica anche il lunedì. In esso si afferma che non tutti i dubbi e i sospetti intorno all'assassinio del presidente Kennedy sono stati dissipati dal lavoro condotto dalla commissione Warren.

«Non tutto quello che era segreto è diventato chiaro», afferma anche la Tass, che ricorda, tuttavia, come già all'inizio delle indagini della commissione, il presidente, Warren, avesse dichiarato che alcuni fatti connessi con l'attentato di Dallas pobabilmente «non saranno rivelati per varie generazioni».

LONDRA

Credevamo che il FBI fosse una cosa seria

LONDRA, 28.

L'aspetto che soprattutto ha colpito la stampa inglese dopo la pubblicazione del rapporto Warren è rappresentato dalle critiche che vengono mosse alla polizia per le gravi responsabilità emerse a carico del servizio addetto alla sorveglianza sulla sicurezza del presidente degli Stati Uniti. Esprimiamo la nostra incredula meraviglia per la catastrofica negligenza dei responsabili della sicurezza del presidente, afferma il Daily Mail. Da noi si era soliti guardare al FBI e al servizio segreto americano come a modelli di efficienza e di prontezza. Questa idea deve essere riveduta drasticamente.

Il Times, tuttavia, affaccia molto diplomaticamente le sue riserve sulle conclusioni di fondo della commissione, scrivendo: «In modo esauriente la commissione esamina l'atmosfera di estremismo e odio che crebbe a Dallas, come altrove nel sud e nel sudovest degli Stati Uniti, intorno alla testa del defunto presidente. I membri della commissione si astengono molto correttamente dal dire che Oswald fu istigato da quella atmosfera; ma solo una mente molto fredda può resistere a questo pensiero».

A sua volta l'organo del partito comunista inglese Daily Worker, sotto il titolo «La commissione Warren annacqua la realtà dei fatti» afferma che il rapporto dell'uccisione di Kennedy ha sostanzialmente gli interrogativi che tutto il mondo si era posto. «Potenti forze politiche — sostiene il Daily Worker — avevano interesse a liberarsi di Kennedy. Ciò che è avvenuto dopo l'assassinio di Kennedy dimostra quanto potenti siano le pressioni delle forze di destra negli Stati Uniti. L'annacquamento del rapporto Warren è un servigio reso ad esse».

COPENAGHEN

Neppure di un passo più vicini alla verità

COPENAGHEN, 28.

«Il rapporto Warren non ci porta neanche di un piccolo passo più vicini alla verità vera sull'assassinio del presidente Kennedy», questo il giudizio di B.T., il più diffuso giornale danese, dopo la pubblicazione delle conclusioni della commissione di indagini sull'attentato di Dallas. «Si ha la sensazione — aggiunge B.T. — che la commissione abbia fatto grandi sforzi per controllare e respingere il dubbio sulla colpevolezza di Oswald. Si ha l'impressione che l'accusa di aver fabbricato un colpevole per nascondere i veri responsabili, rivolta alle autorità americane, inquietasse la commissione a tal punto che per i suoi membri il compito principale è stato quello di respingere tale accuse. Se così è, non vi è riuscita».

Anche l'Extrabladet afferma che il rapporto è «uno strano documento senza alcuna prova. I dubbi anzi sono cresciuti e l'uccisione del presidente Kennedy rimane un mistero. Gli Stati Uniti hanno deluso il resto del mondo con questo rapporto che non fornisce prove concrete».

Più moderate le reazioni negli altri paesi scandinavi. In Svezia si sottolineano le responsabilità della polizia di Dallas, oltretutto per non aver sottoposto a severi controlli in occasione della visita del presidente degli Stati Uniti a Dallas un uomo come Oswald cui si attribuiva tanta pericolosità.

In Norvegia il giornale Morgenbladet prevede che «a cagione del suo contenuto critico il rapporto avrà naturalmente delle conseguenze per le competenti autorità americane, anche se non si osa attendersene per quelle di Dallas».

SCETTICISMO E SARCASMO

Si afferma che Kennedy fu vittima di una sorte che De Gaulle evitò di misura negli anni critici del dramma algerino

Dal nostro inviato

PARIGI, 28

rapporto Warren ha suato in Francia scetticidubbi, sarcasmo. Se può andar bene per la massa degli americani già pronti ad accettare le quillanti asserzioni in contenute, e la cui opine è stata già plasmata in vedenza con un lavoro ologico accurato — difficile il documento riua a convincere i francesi. francesi fanno sempre fa- a credere — scrive la tista Paris Presse — che terà uno "squilibrato" a vacillare, durante alcune la più grande potenza ndiale. I francesi, contrasente al rimprovero che ne loro mosso dai giornai americani, non cedono romanticismo ma peccano, ttosto, per eccesso di logi-

Essi si dicono istintivate: tutto questo non è perchè non è verosimi- Mentre tutto quadra bene si tratta di un assassinio litico di cui un altro assasio ha liquidato l'autore ridurlo al silenzio».

Il quotidiano rivela che stesso generale De Gaulle va confidato agli intimi questa era la sua versioe del crimine, la sua interetazione. «Era chiaro, agli hi di De Gaulle, che Kenedy aveva subito la sorte egli stesso, De Gaulle, era evitato di misura duante gli anni neri del dramma algerino, fra il 1960 e il 61. Anche Kennedy aveva suoi ultras». Il rapporto arren non aggiunge un solo ta, dunque, che possa conntire di respingere l'interetazione che fu, in Franquella dello stesso Presinte della repubblica.

Perchè gli americani hanno pubblicato dunque un doumento-fiume che non convincerà nessuno, al di fuori egli Stati Uniti? Il Figaro sponde all'interrogativo afermando che questa enorme cumentazione è stata raccolta dalle autorità americane, preoccupate dalla critica dalle ironie suscitate all'estero dalle loro affermazioi per ridurre al silenzio gli scettici. «Ma temo vivamente — scrive il commentatore del Figaro — che questa speranza sarà delusa. Non solo perchè molti non sono affatto disposti a rinunciare al loro sarcasmo; ma soprattutto perchè la abbondante documentazione non porta alcuna confutazione decisiva alle critiche serie fatte, fino ad ora, nei confronti della tesi ufficiale». Anzi, il rapporto Warren è di natura tale da aumentare l'incredulità, sia presentando interpretazioni ancora meno credibili della inchiesta di Dallas, sia emettendo, a propria volta, affermazioni che non si fondano su prove, sia appoggiando gli elementi chiave dell'accusa su basi troppo fragili.

I principali aspetti della non veridicità del rapporto Warren risiedono, secondo la stampa francese, nei seguenti punti: 1) non viene provato che Lee Oswald aveva portato l'arma del crimine recandosi al lavoro, quel venerdì mattina. I due soli testimoni che hanno visto il pacchetto di Oswald, lo hanno descritto come troppo piccolo per poter contenere un fucile. Il rapporto Warren — riprendendo una tesi che era già stata scartata perchè non valida — afferma adesso che il fucile era smontato. Chi può credere che Oswald ha avuto il tempo di montare i pezzi staccati del suo fucile prima di potersene servire nei pochi minuti in cui restò solo e quando doveva anche mettere in piedi il sostegno dove appoggiarlo, davanti alla finestra?

2) Non si può essere disposti a credere, come fa la Commissione, alle affermazioni della enigmatica vedova, Marina Oswald, sulle cui dichiarazioni, tuttavia, il rapporto si basa per la identificazione del fucile. E contro ogni verosimiglianza, la Commissione si fida della vedova anche per accettare e far propria la tesi che Oswald era l'uomo che tirò sul generale Walker.

3) Il principale rimprovero che viene rivolto al rapporto Warren è quello di aver messo l'accento, per convincere della colpabilità di Oswald, sulla esistenza di testimoni cosiddetti oculari, testimoni che hanno dato di Oswald descrizioni «dettagliate» vedendolo affacciato alla finestra del sesto piano dell'edificio.

4) Nessuna impronta digitale di Oswald ha potuto essere rilevata sull'arma ritrovata, e Oswald, dopo l'attentato, non presentava nessuna traccia di polvere da sparo sul viso. Il rapporto Warren non dà, in proposito, alcuna spiegazione; nè dà spiegazioni sul fatto che Oswald, il quale era uno dei peggiori tiratori nel reggimento dove aveva prestato servizio, abbia avuto un tiro così preciso su un bersaglio mobile, nè perchè, ritrovato al secondo piano dell'edificio, Oswald non desse segni del minimo affanno dopo la corsa sfrenata che avrebbe fatto attraverso il palazzo, per recarsi dalla finestra del sesto piano, in un tempo record, alla sala del secondo piano.

Insomma, il rapporto Warren potrebbe essere un gigantesco e geniale «falso patriottico», la più grande mistificazione governativa dei tempi moderni, destinato, per ragioni oggi impenetrabili, a seppellire il crimine del 22 novembre scorso. E' una delle ipotesi che vengono ancora fatte di fronte alla titanica e inutile fatica della Commissione americana di inchiesta.

Secondo il fratello

Oswald «non pensò da solo al delitto»

JACK RUBY IN CARCERE SOFFRE DI ALLUCINAZIONI

DALLAS (Texas), 28

Robert Lee Oswald, fratello di Lee Harvey Oswald, ha dichiarato oggi ad un giornalista a Wichita Falls, dove abita, di ritenere che l'idea del delitto «non sia maturata spontaneamente» nella testa del giovane. «Mio fratello fu senza dubbio influenzato dall'esterno» ha detto Robert.

Il fratello dell'ex-marine, che nei mesi scorsi ebbe ad impugnare pubblicamente una dichiarazione attribuitagli dalla commissione Warren, ha detto di «accettare» le conclusioni del rapporto, ma ne ha rilevato alcuni punti oscuri. Tra l'altro, egli ha sottolineato, in contrasto con quanto risulta dal documento, che Lee «non sapeva guidare».

Le conclusioni della commissione Warren sono state riferite a Jack Ruby, l'assassino di Oswald, nel carcere dove egli si trova rinchiuso dopo la condanna a morte pronunciata contro di lui nel marzo scorso. E' stata la sorella Eva Grant a parlargliene, ma Ruby «ha mostrato di non capire». La signora Grant ha riferito che Ruby appare «inibito da allucinazioni circa persecuzioni antiebraiche» e che «le parole rivoltegli non si imprimono nella sua mente».

I legali di Ruby hanno ottenuto dal giudice Joe Brown un rinvio di trenta giorni per presentare ricorso contro la sentenza. Essi hanno motivato la richiesta con l'affermazione che i verbali del processo non sono ancora pronti.

Fucilata a Dallas contro una mostra su Kennedy

HOUSTON (Texas), 28.

La polizia ha reso noto che qualcuno all'alba di ieri ha sparato due colpi d'arma da fuoco contro una vetrata della sala di un edificio pubblico di Dallas dove era esposta una mostra commemorativa del defunto presidente John F. Kennedy.

Le due pallottole hanno fatto due piccoli fori sulla vetrata al di sopra di una bacheca contenente alcuni appunti del defunto presidente.

4) Esisteva un legame — non emerso o non fatto emergere — tra Oswald e i servizi segreti di informazione americani.

Anche l'avvocato Mark Lane ha confermato — dopo la pubblicazione del rapporto — i dubbi che già a suo tempo aveva avanzato sulla possibilità addirittura che sia stato Oswald a sparare dal deposito di libri di Dallas contro l'auto del presidente degli Stati Uniti.

Nonostante tutto i giornali persistono nel definire il rapporto Warren «chiaro, dettagliato, scrupoloso, tecnico», come fa il New York Herald Tribune, secondo cui «pubblici funzionari e persone vogliose di pubblicità parlano a vanvera, complicando il cammino della giustizia». «Che una serie di incidenti — aggiunge il giornale — abbiano potuto far sì che un presidente venisse ucciso e il suo attentatore assassinato a sua volta, non è privo di plausibilità in questo contesto», ma, a suo avviso, una tale supposizione può trovare facile terreno solo in America. «E' in Europa — conclude il New York Herald Tribune, dando una giustificazione "storica" alla sua tesi — che la teoria delle cospirazioni ha avuto il maggior sviluppo. E' in Europa che, specialmente [illegible] vi è la maggiore prontezza a considerare questo triste caso come un complotto mostruoso. La storia dell'Europa è ricca di delitti compiuti a seguito di complotti, primo fra tutti quello che scatenò la guerra mondiale a Serajevo».

Convinti delle conclusioni della commissione si sono dichiarati, naturalmente, il procuratore dello Stato del Texas e il difensore di Ruby, Tonahill, il quale ha colto al balzo l'occasione per ribadire come il bisazziere di Dallas sia stato giustamente spinto ad uccidere l'assassino del presidente dall'evidenza della colpevolezza di Oswald, ora definitivamente confermata. Convinto, infine, anche il fratello di Oswald, Robert, il quale alla TV ha dichiarato che il rapporto Warren ha dissipato ogni suo dubbio sulla colpevolezza del fratello.

Intanto, mentre la tomba di Oswald — che è meta di un notevole afflusso di visitatori — viene vigilata notte e giorno dalla polizia, il presidente Johnson ha ritenuto di far tesoro delle raccomandazioni della commissione circa le misure da adottare d'ora in avanti a protezione della vita dei presidenti degli Stati Uniti. Egli ha deciso di formare subito una commissione, composta dal ministro del tesoro Dillon, dall'attorney generale ad interim Katzenbach, dal capo della CIA MacCone, e dall'assistente speciale per della sicurezza Bundy.

SI TRATTA, ha scritto Buchanan, «dell'oligarchia più potente e ricca del mondo, si tratta del primo caso nella storia dell'umanità di un'oligarchia composta di individui che non hanno l'istinto degli uomini d'affari, ma quello dei giocatori di azzardo». E ancora: «In nessun posto del mondo si è sentita maggiormente che nel Texas l'ostilità nei confronti di una possibile distensione russo-americana, e in nessun posto si è altrettanto convinti che gli Stati Uniti potrebbero non soltanto sopravvivere ad un attacco nucleare, ma addirittura vincere la guerra, soprattutto se attaccassero per primi, e che il gioco potrebbe valere la candela».

Andare a fondo nella vicenda di Dallas voleva dire sfidare questo blocco, lo stesso che ha sostenuto e sostiene Goldwater nella sua ascesa, voleva dire rischiare il conflitto con la crescente potenza dell'ala più aggressiva dello schieramento politico-economico nazionale. Non lo si è potuto, o voluto, fare. E ciò è apparso evidente fin dal primo istante, dalla composizione stessa della commissione, formata, a parte il vecchio giudice Warren, da rappresentanti delle grandi banche, di Goldwater, degli interessi del sud, degli organismi polizieschi compromessi.

Il documento che costoro hanno offerto al mondo non può certo porre la parola «fine» sotto la tragedia di Dallas. E non soltanto perchè esso lascia aperti tutti i dubbi e tutti gli interrogativi, perchè accoglie prove inconsistenti e rapporti viziati, perchè ignora testimoni e sopprime deposizioni. Esso non può seppellire quella vicenda soprattutto dopo che — con la candidatura di Goldwater alla presidenza — il «complotto» negato nel documento si è venuto spiegando su scala ancor più vasta e investe la stessa democrazia americana.

BERTRAND Russell ha ricordato nei giorni scorsi che l'America doveva la verità non soltanto alla memoria di Kennedy, ma anche al mondo, poichè «l'assassinio di un presidente americano riguarda la pace nel mondo». La stessa posta è in gioco nel confronto che è aperto negli Stati Uniti alla vigilia delle elezioni e che — è opportuno ricordarlo — non si chiuderà con queste. Proprio per questo il New York Times si doleva nei giorni scorsi di una campagna che si presenta più con i caratteri di una gara di popolarità che con quelli di un dibattito vasto e chiarificatore sui grandi pro-

Documento inquietante

SONO trascorse appena ventiquattro ore dalla pubblicazione del rapporto Warren ed è già chiaro che le conclusioni della commissione hanno convinto soltanto quella parte della stampa americana ed europea che era decisa in partenza a lasciarsi convincere. Al di fuori di questa zona, le reazioni vanno dalle educate ed implicite riserve del Times, che attribuisce a «correttezza» la prudenza del rapporto sulla agitazione della destra a Dallas, alle critiche aperte del Figaro, alla dichiarata incredulità del governatore Connally («Nessun rapporto mi convincerà mai che sono stato colpito dallo stesso proiettile che ha ucciso Kennedy»), al rigetto di Buchanan, alla dura condanna di Bertrand Russell, che ha bollato il documento come «incompetente» e «miserevole». E' quanto, del resto, gli stessi osservatori americani avevano previsto.

Perchè, allora, questo rapporto? L'interrogativo è tutt'altro che ozioso: ci porta, anzi, al fondo di questioni attuali.

La commissione Warren fu istituita dal neopresidente Johnson il 29 novembre dell'anno scorso. Sette giorni prima, il capo della nazione americana era stato abbattuto a colpi di fucile sulla via principale di una città nota per essere una delle cittadelle della reazione più nera, teatro da tempo di una campagna di odio condotta senza quartiere contro la sua politica e contro la sua stessa persona. Le circostanze del delitto erano oscure, tali da coinvolgere nei sospetti il FBI, massimo organismo investigativo federale, e la polizia. L'eliminazione di Oswald, unico indiziato, sotto gli occhi dei custodi della legge, aveva reso brucianti i dubbi e gli interrogativi. Il mondo intero reclamava un chiarimento.

Era chiaro, d'altro canto, che il crimine poneva gli Stati Uniti dinanzi ad un nodo drammatico della loro storia di questi anni. Gli indizi, le inchieste svolte da osservatori interessati alla verità, la discussione che si era aperta nel paese (dopo il crollo della risibile montatura anticomunista, cui ancora certa stampa italiana pietosamente si aggrappa) tutto portava a risalire dai gruppi fascisti, ispiratori dell'agitazione di strada contro Kennedy, ai grandi petrolieri del Texas, ai padroni del «denaro nuovo» dell'ovest, strettamente legato all'industria bellica.

— già pronti ad accettare le tranquillanti asserzioni in esso contenute, e la cui opinione è stata già plasmata in precedenza con un lavoro psicologico accurato — difficilmente il documento riuscirà a convincere i francesi. «I francesi fanno sempre fatica a credere — scrive la gollista Paris Presse — che basterà uno "squilibrato" a far vacillare, durante alcune ore, la più grande potenza mondiale. I francesi, contrariamente al rimprovero che viene loro mosso dai giornalisti americani, non cedono al romanticismo ma peccano, piuttosto, per eccesso di logica. Essi si dicono istintivamente: tutto questo non è vero perchè non è verosimile. Mentre tutto quadra bene se si tratta di un assassinio politico di cui un altro assassinio ha liquidato l'autore per ridurlo al silenzio».

Il quotidiano rivela che lo stesso generale De Gaulle aveva confidato agli intimi che questa era la sua versione del crimine, la sua interpretazione. «Era chiaro, agli occhi di De Gaulle, ché Kennedy aveva subito la sorte che egli stesso, De Gaulle, aveva evitato di misura durante gli anni neri del dramma algerino, fra il 1960 e il 1961. Anche Kennedy aveva i suoi ultras». Il rapporto Warren non aggiunge un solo jota, dunque, che possa consentire di respingere l'interpretazione che fu, in Francia, quella dello stesso Presidente della repubblica.

Perchè gli americani hanno pubblicato dunque un documento-fiume che non convincerà nessuno, al di fuori degli Stati Uniti? Il Figaro risponde all'interrogativo affermando che questa enorme documentazione è stata raccolta dalle autorità americane, preoccupate dalla critica e dalle ironie suscitate all'estero dalle loro affermazioni per ridurre al silenzio gli scettici. «Ma temo vivamente — scrive il commentatore del Figaro — che questa speranza sarà delusa. Non solo perchè molti non sono affatto disposti a rinunciare al loro sarcasmo; ma soprattutto perchè la abbondante documentazione non porta alcuna confutazione decisiva alle critiche serie fatte, fino ad ora, nei confronti della tesi ufficiale». Anzi, il rapporto Warren è di natura tale da aumentare l'incredulità, sia presentando interpretazioni ancora meno credibili della inchiesta di Dallas, sia emettendo, a propria volta, affermazioni che non si fondano su prove, sia appoggiando gli elementi chiave su testimonianze che non resistono all'esame.

Così, per esempio, il rapporto Warren afferma che Oswald portò con sè, recandosi al lavoro, quel venerdì mattina. I due soli testimoni che hanno visto il pacchetto di Oswald, lo hanno descritto come troppo piccolo per poter contenere un fucile. Il rapporto Warren — riprendendo una tesi che era già stata scartata perchè non valida — afferma adesso che il fucile era smontato. Chi può credere che Oswald ha avuto il tempo di montare i pezzi staccati del suo fucile prima di potersene servire nei pochi minuti in cui restò solo e quando doveva anche mettere in piedi?

Solo poche ore dopo l'uscita dei giornali del mattino, però, serie riserve sono state affacciate da chi ha qualche ragione più dei redattori del New York Times da far valere: il governatore del Texas, Connally, che era nell'auto di Kennedy e rimase ferito nell'attentato. « Nessun rapporto al mondo mi convincerà mai che sono stato colpito dalla stessa pallottola che colpì Kennedy »: questo è quanto egli ha dichiarato apprendendo che la commissione Warren ha sostenuto la tesi secondo cui la prima pallottola colpì mortalmente Kennedy, trapassandogli il collo, e poi, fuoriuscita dalla gola del presidente, raggiunse Connally.

Questi contesta una simile versione dei fatti: « So bene quello che dico — ha affermato — e sono sicurissimo che udii il primo colpo, mi girai e vidi Kennedy colpito. Quandi mi girai di nuovo e fui colpito a mia volta. E' il primo colpo che ho udito e non il secondo, appunto perchè il secondo mi ha colpito ». La ricostruzione stessa dell'attentato appare viziata, dunque, e su di essa l'ombra del dubbio non è il frutto di interessate illazioni, come la stampa americana si ostina a sostenere. Non è facile parlare di « erbaccia », come appunto fa il New York Times.

Le critiche al rapporto vengono comunque anche da alcuni ambienti giornalistici. Interessante la reazione di Thomas Buchanan, il giornalista di Baltimora autore del libro « Chi ha ucciso Kennedy? », tradotto in tutto il mondo. Egli, venuto a conoscenza delle conclusioni della commissione Warren, ha rilevato che questa è stata sottoposta a pressioni, per cui ha preferito svolgere un'opera « da agente di relazioni pubbliche più che da vero e proprio organismo inquirente ». Troppo facilmente i membri della commissione hanno accettato la tesi secondo cui il solo Oswald, o comunque un uomo solo, avrebbe potuto mettere in atto il crimine. Egli avanza poi alle risultanze delle indagini queste obbiezioni:

1) L'agente che trovò nel « Dallas book depository » il fucile a cannocchiale parlò nel suo rapporto di un « Mauser » e non di un « modello 91 »; evidentemente fu effettivamente trovato un « Mauser », ma successivamente venne portato, nella stanza dalla quale si sostiene siano partiti i colpi che uccisero Kennedy, il fucile italiano.

2) La commissione non ha tenuto conto delle testimonianze di quanti affermano di avere visto in più occasioni insieme Ruby ed Oswald.

3) Non è vero che Oswald sia stato l'autore di un attentato anche contro il gene-

«Il rapporto della commissione Warren distrugge le basi delle teorie della cospirazione, sviluppatesi come erbaccia in questo paese e altrove», così il New York Times — come gran parte della stampa americana — sintetizza il consenso degli ambienti ufficiali alle conclusioni cui sono pervenuti i sette membri della commissione incaricata di indagare sulla morte del presidente Kennedy.

4) Esisteva un legame — non emerso o non fatto emergere — tra Oswald e i servizi segreti di informazione americani.

Anche l'avvocato Mark Lane ha confermato — dopo la pubblicazione del rapporto — i dubbi che già a suo tempo aveva avanzato sulla possibilità addirittura che sia stato Oswald a sparare dal deposito di libri di Dallas contro l'auto del presidente degli Stati Uniti.

Nonostante tutto i giornali persistono nel definire il rapporto Warren «chiaro, dettagliato, scrupoloso, tecnico», come fa il New York Herald Tribune, secondo cui «pubblici funzionari e persone vogliose di pubblicità parlano a vanvera, complicando il cammino della giustizia». «Che una serie di incidenti — aggiunge il giornale — abbiano potuto far sì che un presidente venisse ucciso e il suo attentatore assassinato a sua volta, non è privo di plausibilità in questo contesto», ma, a suo avviso, una tale supposizione può trovare facile terreno solo in America. «E' in Europa — conclude il New York Herald Tribune, dando una giustificazione "storica" alla sua tesi — che la teoria della cospirazione ha avuto il maggior seguito. E' in Europa che, specialmente negli ambienti di sinistra, vi è la maggiore prontezza a considerare questo triste caso come un complotto mostruoso. La storia dell'Europa è ricca di delitti compiuti a seguito di complotti, primo fra tutti quello che scatenò la guerra mondiale a Sarajevo».

Convinti delle conclusioni della commissione si sono dichiarati, naturalmente, il procuratore dello Stato del Texas e il difensore di Ruby, Tonahill, il quale ha colto al balzo l'occasione per ribadire come il biscazziere di Dallas «sia stato giustamente spinto ad uccidere l'assassino del presidente dall'evidenza della colpevolezza di Oswald, ora definitivamente confermata. Convinto, infine, anche il fratello di Oswald, Robert, il quale alla TV ha dichiarato che il rapporto Warren ha dissipato ogni suo dubbio sulla colpevolezza del fratello.

Intanto, mentre la tomba di Oswald — che è meta di un notevole afflusso di visitatori — viene vigilata notte e giorno dalla polizia, il presidente Johnson ha ritenuto di far tesoro delle raccomandazioni della commissione circa le misure da adottare d'ora in avanti a protezione della vita dei presidenti degli Stati Uniti. Egli ha deciso di formare subito una commissione, composta dal ministro del tesoro Dillon, dall'attorney generale ad interim Katzenbach, dal capo della CIA MacCone, e dall'assistente speciale per gli affari della sicurezza nazionale, Bundy.

MOSCA

Non tutto quello che era segreto ora è chiaro

MOSCA, 28

Una copia in inglese del rapporto Warren è stata inviata stamane dall'ambasciatore americano a Mosca personalmente a Krusciov, accompagnata da una lettera, firmata da Kohler. Altre copie del documento sono state inviate ad un centinaio di funzionari e giornalisti.

Intanto un primo commento al contenuto del rapporto viene fatto stamane dalla Pravda, unico giornale che si pubblica anche il lunedì. In esso si afferma che non tutti i dubbi e i sospetti intorno all'assassinio del presidente Kennedy sono stati dissipati dal lavoro condotto dalla commissione Warren.

«Non tutto quello che era segreto è diventato chiaro», afferma anche la Tass, che ricorda, tuttavia, come già all'inizio delle indagini della commissione, il presidente, Warren, avesse dichiarato che alcuni fatti connessi con l'attentato di Dallas pobabilmente «non saranno rivelati per varie generazioni».

LONDRA

Credevamo che il FBI fosse una cosa seria

LONDRA, 28.

L'aspetto che soprattutto ha colpito la stampa inglese dopo la pubblicazione del rapporto Warren è rappresentato dalle critiche che vengono mosse alla polizia per le gravi responsabilità emerse a carico del servizio addetto alla sorveglianza sulla sicurezza del presidente degli Stati Uniti. Esprimiamo la nostra incredula meraviglia per la catastrofica negligenza dei responsabili della sicurezza del presidente, afferma il Daily Mail. Da noi si era soliti guardare al FBI e al servizio segreto americano come a modelli di efficienza e di prontezza. Questa idea deve essere riveduta drasticamente.

Il Times, tuttavia, affaccia molto diplomaticamente le sue riserve sulle conclusioni di fondo della commissione, scrivendo: «In modo esauriente la commissione esamina l'atmosfera di estremismo e odio che crebbe a Dallas, come altrove nel sud e nel sudovest degli Stati Uniti, intorno alla testa del defunto presidente. I membri della commissione si astengono molto giustamente dal dire che Oswald fu istigato da quell'atmosfera, ma solo una mente molto fredda può resistere a questo pensiero».

A sua volta l'organo del partito comunista inglese Daily Worker, sotto il titolo «La commissione Warren annacqua la realtà dei fatti» afferma che il rapporto dell'uccisione di Kennedy ha sostanzialmente gli interrogativi che tutto il mondo si era posto. «Potenti forze politiche — sostiene il Daily Worker — avevano interesse a liberarsi di Kennedy. Ciò che è avvenuto dopo l'assassinio di Kennedy dimostra quanto potenti siano le pressioni delle forze di destra negli Stati Uniti. L'annacquamento del rapporto Warren è un servigio reso ad esse».

COPENAGHEN, 28.

«Il rapporto Warren non ci porta neanche di un piccolo passo più vicini alla verità vera sull'assassinio del presidente Kennedy», questo il giudizio di B.T., il più diffuso giornale danese, dopo la pubblicazione delle conclusioni della commissione di indagini sull'attentato di Dallas. «Si ha la sensazione — aggiunge B.T. — che la commissione abbia fatto grandi sforzi per controllare e respingere il dubbio sulla colpevolezza di Oswald. Si ha l'impressione che l'accusa di aver fabbricato un colpevole per nascondere i veri responsabili, rivolta alle autorità americane, inquietasse la commissione a tal punto che per i suoi membri il compito principale è stato quello di respingere tale accuse. Se così è, non vi è riuscita».

Anche l'Extrabladet afferma che il rapporto è «uno strano documento senza alcuna prova. I dubbi anzi sono cresciuti e l'uccisione del presidente Kennedy rimane un mistero. Gli Stati Uniti hanno deluso il resto del mondo con questo rapporto che non fornisce prove concrete».

Più moderate le reazioni negli altri paesi scandinavi. In Svezia si sottolineano le responsabilità della polizia di Dallas, oltretutto per non aver sottoposto a severi controlli in occasione della visita del presidente degli Stati Uniti a Dallas un uomo come Oswald cui si attribuiva tanta pericolosità.

In Norvegia il giornale Morgenbladet prevede che «a cagione del suo contenuto critico il rapporto avrà naturalmente delle conseguenze per le competenti autorità americane, anche se non si osa attendersene per quelle di Dallas».

NEW [illegible] 26. — Ieri sera, venerdì 25, tutti noi corrispondenti della stampa estera e americana abbiamo avuto il privilegio di consultare il «rapporto Warren», dopo esserci impegnati sulla parola a non rivelarne il contenuto sui giornali sino alle 18.30 (ore 0.30 italiane) di domani domenica. La consultazione «privatissima» del ponderoso documento è stata permessa a condizione che non prendessimo appunti. Domattina, invece, con un anticipo di 8 ore sulla pubblicazione ufficiale in tutto il mondo, avremo di nuovo la facoltà di leggere il rapporto sull'uccisione del Presidente Kennedy e di trasmetterlo, a patto che la pubblicazione avvenga non prima dell'ora in cui sarà tolto l'embargo.

A quella stessa ora, la compagnia radio-televisiva CBS-TV trasmetterà sulla rete nazionale un programma di due ore durante il quale saranno letti i punti principali delle conclusioni cui sono pervenuti i relatori. Lunedì mattina, infine, il «New York Times» e il «Washington Post» pubblicheranno il testo del rapporto per intero. Si tratterà di circa 500 pagine formato libro, che si ritiene occuperanno in tutto 60 pagine di giornale.

Occorre precisare che il rapporto che verrà pubblicato domenica sera non è altro che il sommario dei 24 volumi che formano il documento. Esso contiene quindi i punti fondamentali dell'indagine, il cui testo completo verrà reso noto nei prossimi sei mesi. Cosicchè, nella impossibilità di consultare la documentazione contenente le «prove», il sommario permetterà soltanto di fare un confronto tra le tesi ufficiali e i dubbi esistenti sul caso Kennedy-Oswald e di richiamare l'attenzione sulle questioni contrastanti che non saranno toccate e rimarranno nebulose.

A questo proposito mi sembra opportuno riportare qui i 25 interrogativi che si è posto il 13 agosto scorso il «New York Herald Tribune», giornale che non si può certo sospettare di antipatie per i conservatori.

Il giornale elenca i 25 interrogativi sotto questo titolo significativo: «Le domande alle quali non si è mai risposto». Eccole.

1) Perchè Kennedy insistette nel voler visitare Dallas, nonostante la rovente situazione creatavi dalla destra?

2) Perchè il corteo presidenziale seguì un percorso diverso da quello ufficialmente annunciato, che lo avrebbe portato lontano dall'edificio dal quale si dice siano partiti i colpi mortali?

3) Perchè le misure di sicurezza erano inadeguate?

4) E' vero che il viadotto ferroviario non era sorvegliato, e perchè?

5) Quanti furono i colpi e quale la rapidità con cui furono sparati?

6) Come si spiegano tutte le contraddizioni nel rapporto medico di Dallas e nell'autopsia di Bethesda?

7) Quale fu la traiettoria seguita dalle pallottole? E il rapporto potrà risolvere la contraddizione tra la ferita d'uscita e d'entrata nel collo di Kennedy?

8) Quanto ci mise il poliziotto Tippit ad irrompere nell'edificio in cui c'era il deposito dei libri? Come fece Oswald nel giro di pochi secondi a scendere dal sesto al secondo piano, a nascondere il fucile e correre poi nella trattoria per sorbire tranquillamente una «Coca-Cola»?

9) Come mai Oswald, un tiratore di [illegible] conto nei «marines», [illegible] tre colpi in pochi [illegible]

[illegible] come mai l'esperto Wa[illegible] agente dell'FBI e Procuratore generale di Dallas, si sbagliò nel definire un Mauser un fucile che in effetti era un Carcano?

11) Che cosa ci dirà il rapporto sulla cronologia? L'attentato ebbe luogo alle 12.30, eppure i giornali locali scrissero subito di un allarme dato sul circuito-radio della polizia alle 12.25 «a causa di eventi che hanno luogo al deposito dei libri».

12) Perchè fu permesso a Oswald di lasciare l'edificio e come fu possibile alla polizia dare l'allarme sulla sua scomparsa alle 12.36, sei minuti appena dopo l'attentato?

13) Saranno chiarite le innumerevoli contraddizioni emerse nella conferenza stampa di Wade: il tempo che impiegò Oswald per fuggire dall'edificio sino al luogo in cui Tippit fu trovato assassinato; il tragitto compiuto dall'autobus preso da Oswald in direzione del deposito-libri e non in senso inverso; il nome falso del tassista ecc.?

14) Oswald e Tippit si conoscevano? E come mai i testimoni danno dell'uccisore una descrizione diversa da quella dell'ex-«marine»?

15) Perchè sono scomparse le persone che assistettero alla cattura di Oswald nel teatro?

16) Perchè Oswald venne interrogato per ore senza concedergli il diritto, spettante a chiunque, di farsi assistere da un avvocato? Dove sono finiti i resoconti di questi interrogatori?

17) Come si spiega che con la «prova della paraffina» si accertò assolutamente la mancanza di tracce di polvere da sparo sul viso e sulle mani di Oswald, quantunque egli fosse accusato di avere sparato a Kennedy con un fucile che inevitabilmente avrebbe lasciato tali tracce?

18) Come si spiegano i favori resi a Oswald da autorità governative statunitensi malgrado la sua «defezione» a favore dell'Unione Sovietica?

19) Come si spiegano le contraddizioni sul fucile di Oswald? E' vero che venne trovato un altro fucile sul cavalcavia sotto il quale doveva passare Kennedy? E' vero che un individuo venne arrestato accanto a quel fucile e che è ancora in stato d'arresto?

20) Quale ruolo ha esattamente avuto in tutta la faccenda Jack Ruby?

21) Come Ruby potè entrare nei locali della questura di Dallas dove uccise Oswald senza essere prima perquisito come avrebbe dovuto?

22) E' vero che i testimoni dell'assassinio di Tippitt sono perseguitati e perchè? E' vero che il figlio della signora Markham, «unica» testimone dell'uccisione di Tippitt, si è «suicidato» in carcere? E' vero che si è «suicidata» in carcere anche una ballerina che era servita da alibi (probabilmente falso) per un altro individuo accusato di avere sparato a un altro teste che aveva visto Oswald fuggire verso il teatro dove fu arrestato?

23) Vi è stata una congiura?

24) E' vero che l'FBI si è adoperato per nascondere la verità sulla morte di Kennedy?

25) Il rapporto Warren farà una parola definitiva o pure lascerà il dubbio circa la verità della versione «ufficiale» e le altre versioni ufficiali?

il rapporto Warr

I colpi furono più di tre: chi «aiutò» Lee Oswald?

La dichiarazione dell'uomo che era accanto a Kennedy inficia la conclusione del documento - Prime reazioni al dossier

Il testo del «Rapporto Warren» («Oswald fu l'assassino di Kennedy, e agì da solo») ha sollevato nel mondo — a poche ore dalla sua pubblicazione — una tempesta di polemiche Lord Bertrand Russell e la madre di Oswald hanno dichiarato che il Rapporto non ha fornito alcuna prova convincente che Lee Harvey Oswald sia stato l'assassino.

L'avvocato Mark Lane ha presentato alla stampa un contromemoriale nel quale inficia punto per punto le tesi del Rapporto eco « si sono sbagliati »); ignora tutti gli esperimenti ti da esperti europei per provare che quel moschetto n consentirebbe quell'exploit neanche ad un tiratore cializzato; ignora che almeno per un certo momento me pure provano le foto allegate al « Rapporto ») wald sarebbe stato impacciato nella mira da alberi pposti tra lui e l'obbiettivo che si muoveva a 60 me- di distanza a 18 chilometri all'ora ecc. ecc.

Ma la più clamorosa smentita al Rapporto è venuta dal governatore Connally, che fu ferito a Dallas accanto a Kennedy. Contro la tesi della Commissione che i colpi sparati furono tre, e che uno di questi ferì il governatore dopo aver colpito Kennedy, Connally ha dichiarato che «nessun rapporto mi convincerà mai di questo», insistendo sul fatto che egli fu ferito dopo aver visto colpire Kennedy, quindi fu ferito da un'altra pallottola. I colpi furono, quindi, almeno quattro. Non avendo potuto Oswald spararne più di tre, se ne deduce che gli attentatori dovevano essere almeno due.

Completamente fallimentare è la ricostruzione dei ti tentata dal Rapporto a proposito dei colpi sparati: si prova che i colpi furono soltanto tre (come la Com- ssione sostiene) si può accettare come possibile la i che l'attentatore fu uno soltanto. Ma se si prova i colpi furono più di tre, si deve concludere che gli entatori furono almeno due (essendo provato che, in el breve spazio di secondi, dal Deposito potevano es- e sparati — se lo potevano — tre colpi e non più). conto della Commissione è: una pallottola (ritrova- colpi Kennedy e poi Connally; una solo Kennedy sono stati trovati i frammenti) ed una andata a oto sul marciapiedi. Ma Connally sostiene che egli un colpo, si girò e vide Kennedy colpito: dopo di che fu ferito a sua volta, da un'altra pallottola, quindi. essun Rapporto mi convincerà mai del contrario », ha to il Governatore ieri sera. Dunque le pallottole fu- o almeno quattro. Dunque gli attentatori furono al- no due, se anche uno fu Oswald.

Particolarmente curioso è il « trattamento » riser- o dal Rapporto alla prova con la paraffina: come è o, questa rilevò tracce di cordite sulle mani di wald, ma non sul viso, il che avrebbe provato che aveva sparato con un revolver, e che non avrebbe rato con un fucile (il quale ultimo gli avrebbe schizza- la cordite sul volto): secondo la Commissione, Oswald avrebbe potuto essersi lavato il viso »: visto aveva ancora le mani sporche di polvere, se lo forse lavato coi piedi?

Analogamente il rapporto esclude come « non attendi- le » la testimonianza del vicesceriffo Craig che avreb- visto Oswald uscire dal Deposito e prendere un'auto mbler (che dunque non sarebbe andata a pick-up [illegible] tribuli per [illegible] nne la polizia) alle 12.40. Secondo il « Rapporto », ald sarebbe uscito dal Deposito alle 12.33, tre mi- dopo aver ucciso Kennedy: in questi tre minuti bbe avuto il tempo di scendere dal sesto piano mpo calcolato in un primo e 15 secondi), di scam- alcune parole con un poliziotto al secondo piano, re tranquillamente (secondo testimoni) una Coca al bar del Deposito.

a controversia sul fucile — che come è noto è du- per mesi, avendo la stampa europea scoperto tutta serie di falsi fotografici operati dalla stampa ame- na — è pressocché scomparsa dal Rapporto: questo de in considerazione il fatto che quei giornali o ammesso di aver falsato le fotografie, ma non tra del fatto che Oswald stesso dichiarò falsa una uelle foto, esibitagli dalla polizia, che lo presen- con l'arma in pugno. Con lo stesso procedimento Rapporto » dichiara « non attendibili » testimonian- indubbio interesse, come quella di un certo Ro- d che affermò di aver visto spuntare due fucili finestra del sesto piano (vengono accettate invece nonianze a favore di un solo fucile). « La prova convincente che gli spari furono soltanto tre — curiosamente il "Rapporto" — è che al sesto piano o trovati solo tre bossoli »: varie testimonianze che gli spari furono di più vengono così eliminate elegantemente; nello stesso modo vengono ignorate quelle secondo le quali spari furono uditi dal cavalcavia.

Il problema delle ferite di Kennedy è « risolto » accettando come definitiva l'autopsia compiuta in segreto all'ospedale militare, e in clamoroso contrasto con il referto dei medici che operarono Kennedy: viene dato come scontato che essi « non voltarono il Presidente e quindi non videro la ferita alla schiena », e che essi si sbagliarono nel diagnosticare che il foro alla gola era di entrata e non di uscita. (Il particolare è importante: se il foro alla gola era di entrata, i colpi erano stati sparati dal cavalcavia, come fece presumere anche il comportamento dell'autista, che istintivamente bloccò l'auto, evidentemente perché aveva individuato gli attentatori di fronte a sé; in caso contrario avrebbe accelerato).

I testimoni « saltati »

Tutta un'altra serie di dubbi il « Rapporto » suscita a proposito delle impronte sul fucile (troppo confuse, disse la polizia), sulla eventuale data d'acquisto di esso da parte di Oswald; sul fatto che dai documenti della ditta fornitrice risulta che in realtà Oswald ordinò tutt'altra arma dal Carcano; sull'identificazione del fucile stesso (secondo il « Rapporto », l'ufficiale di polizia che l'aveva in un primo momento definito un Mauser si sarebbe sbagliato; cosa invero inconcepibile dato che sul Carcano era stampata a fuoco la dicitura « Made in Italy »); la discussione sulle pallottole che hanno raggiunto l'auto — una delle quali secondo il « Rapporto » avrebbe seguito uno stranissimo percorso attraverso Kennedy fino a Connally — richiederebbe un capitolo a sé. Così le possibilità di Oswald di conoscere il percorso del corteo di Kennedy, modificato all'ultimo momento, [illegible]

Assolutamente inesplicabile la sceneggiatura dei movimenti di Oswald dopo l'attentato, e che è poi la [illegible] dalla polizia di Dallas, e già punto per punto dalle critiche della stampa europea. [illegible] da interessanti testimonianze; ma una discussione in proposito comporterebbe di risollevare puntualmente tutti i dubbi, già noti ai lettori. Assolutamente nuovo invece, un altro fatto che risulta dal « Rapporto » e cioè che una testimone chiave dell'assassinio di Tippit, rintracciata dall'avv. Lane, non è stata interrogata dalla Commissione, che afferma appunto che la [illegible] testimone che abbiamo interrogato » è un'altra. Ancora più interessante il fatto che la commissione non abbia chiesto a Ruby, l'assassino di Oswald, se egli avesse veramente incontrato l'agente Tippit al Carousel otto giorni prima dell'assassinio di Kennedy: dai verbali risulta che Ruby non ha detto nulla in proposito, perché non gli è stato esplicitamente chiesto. La testimonianza offerta in proposito da Lane, nel « Rapporto » non esiste.

Per concludere. Il testo del « Rapporto Warren » pone più interrogativi di quanti non ne sciolga. In alcuni punti fondamentali, quello ad esempio delle ferite del Presidente, se la cava con dei « probabilmente », « presumibilmente » piuttosto sospetti; esso è categorico soltanto là dove deve sostenere che l'assassino fu Oswald, e solo Oswald (il cui movente sarebbe stato esclusivamente una « scontentezza del mondo circostante »). La sola parte del « Rapporto » che non solleverà obbiezioni, è quella nella quale si sostiene che la polizia di Dallas e l'FBI non presero tutte le misure necessarie a garantire la sicurezza di Kennedy. Su questo, non esiste il minimo dubbio. Il dubbio è su tutto il resto.

La prova della paraffina: Oswald si è lavato la faccia con i piedi? - Incredibile: l'FB senza stendere verbale! - La stupefacente velocità di discesa dell'attentatore e il fa pallottola - Lapalisse spiega perchè i colpi sparati « dovevano » essere 3 - Un co

Ora che il « Rapporto » sull'assassinio di Kennedy è stato pubblicato, si capisce meglio perchè il giudice Earl Warren avesse pianto nell'accettare l'incarico di presiedere la Commissione di indagine e perchè avesse pubblicamente dichiarato: « Probabilmente una parte della verità non potrà essere resa nota a questa generazione ». Di più: c'è da chiedersi se è verità la parte che è stata resa nota, o se non è piuttosto uno sconcertante coacervo di omissioni e contraddizioni.

La Commissione (presieduta da una persona al disopra di ogni sospetto quale è appunto Warren, ma formata da un solo competente in questioni legali, da tre razzisti dichiarati e dal rappresentante dei servizi segreti che, più che giudici, avrebbero dovuto essere considerati — nel migliore dei casi — testimoni) ha condannato Lee Harvey Oswald come unico assassino di Kennedy, nel corso di un processo a porte chiuse, in base a testimonianze segrete, e con l'esclusione di un difensore dell'imputato, il tutto in totale contrasto con la procedura americana. Per quanto straordinario possa sembrare, dallo stesso « Rapporto » risulta che la Commissione non poté prendere visione delle dichiarazioni rese da Oswald alla polizia, perchè questa, la FBI e il Servizio Segreto — che interrogarono l'arrestato per oltre dodici ore, nel corso di due giorni — non registrarono nè per iscritto nè al magnetofono quanto egli diceva (dato che le dichiarazioni dell'imputato al momento dell'arresto sono fondamentali per il suo processo, ci sarebbe da presumere che gli organismi di polizia non ritennero opportuno verbalizzarle in quanto non pensavano che Oswald dovesse essere processato!). Di più, la Commmissione ha ritenuto opportuno non condurre indagini per proprio conto, affidandosi per questo all'FBI (mentre si è anche sospettato che Oswald ne fosse stato un agente!).

Quanti furono i colpi sparati?

Non c'è da stupirsi, quindi, se le « conclusioni » del Rapporto coincidono con le stesse tesi che l'FBI e la polizia di Dallas hanno avanzato dieci mesi fa (invero, correggendole e modificandole tre o quattro volte): e cioè che Oswald fu l'assassino, e il solo assassino. Per quanto un intero volume del « Rapporto » sia dedicato alle « Speculazioni e rumori », cioè ai dubbi sollevati dalla stampa europea (come i lettori ricorderanno « Paese sera » ne avanzò un gran numero), dall'avvocato Lane e dal rapporto Buchanan, tali dubbi restano, più forti che mai. E' impossibile elencarli tutti, ci limiteremo a proporne alcuni.

Secondo il « Rapporto », Oswald sparò tre colpi dal sesto piano del Deposito libri, sbagliandone uno, centrando con un altro il collo del Presidente (questa pallottola, uscita dalla gola di Kennedy, avrebbe poi ferito il governatore Connally) e centrandone un secondo nella nuca del Presidente stesso (un frammento di questa seconda avrebbe scheggiato dall'interno il parabrezza dell'auto): secondo la commissione col Mannlicher-Carcano 91 è possibile centrare due o tre colpi in 4-7 secondi, dato che si tratterebbe di un'arma molto precisa, che consentirebbe un simile exploit non solo ad un tiratore esperto come sarebbe stato Oswald, ma anche ad un mediocre.

Questa ricostruzione dei fatti pare ignorare che la circostanza che Oswald fosse un tiratore esperto fu smentita (« Ho letto male nei ruolini ») dallo stesso ufficiale dei marines che l'aveva dichiarata. Ignora il fatto che il pacco nel quale Oswald avrebbe nascosto il fucile per portarlo al deposito sarebbe stato notevolmente più corto delle misure del Carcano (o meglio, la commissione dichiara che i due testi che videro il pacco « si sono sbagliati »); ignora tutti gli esperimenti fatti da esperti europei per provare che quel moschetto non consentirebbe quell'exploit neanche ad un tiratore specializzato; ignora che almeno per un certo momento (come pure provano le foto allegate al « Rapporto ») Oswald sarebbe stato impacciato nella mira da alberi frapposti tra lui e l'obbiettivo che si muoveva a 60 metri di distanza a 18 chilometri all'ora ecc. ecc.

Completamente fallimentare è la ricostruzione dei fatti tentata dal Rapporto a proposito dei colpi sparati: se si prova che i colpi furono soltanto tre (come la Commissione sostiene) si può accettare come possibile la tesi che l'attentatore fu uno soltanto. Ma se si prova che i colpi furono più di tre, si deve concludere che gli attentatori furono almeno due (essendo provato che, in quel breve spazio di secondi, dal Deposito potevano essere sparati — se lo potevano — tre colpi e non più). Il conto della Commissione è: una pallottola (ritrovata) colpì Kennedy e poi Connally; una solo Kennedy (ne sono stati trovati i frammenti) ed una andata a vuoto sul marciapiedi. Ma Connally sostiene che egli udì un colpo, si girò e vide Kennedy colpito: dopo di che egli fu ferito a sua volta, da un'altra pallottola, quindi: « Nessun Rapporto mi convincerà mai del contrario », ha detto il Governatore ieri sera. Dunque le pallottole furono almeno quattro. Dunque gli attentatori furono almeno due, se anche uno fu Oswald.

Particolarmente curioso è il « trattamento » riservato dal Rapporto alla prova con la paraffina: come è noto, questa rilevò tracce di cordite sulle mani di Oswald, ma non sul viso, il che avrebbe provato che egli aveva sparato con un revolver, e che non avrebbe sparato con un fucile (il quale ultimo gli avrebbe schizzato la cordite sul volto): secondo la Commissione, « Oswald avrebbe potuto essersi lavato il viso »: visto che aveva ancora le mani sporche di polvere, se lo era forse lavato coi piedi?

Analogamente il rapporto esclude come « non attendibile » la testimonianza del vicesceriffo Craig che avrebbe visto Oswald uscire dal Deposito e prendere un'auto Rambler (che dunque non sarebbe andato a piedi all'autobus, per pigliare successivamente un taxi, come sostenne la polizia) alle 12.40. Secondo il « Rapporto », Oswald sarebbe uscito dal Deposito alle 12.33, tre minuti dopo aver ucciso Kennedy: in questi tre minuti avrebbe avuto il tempo di scendere dal sesto piano (tempo calcolato in un primo e 15 secondi), di scambiare alcune parole con un poliziotto al secondo piano, di bere tranquillamente (secondo testimoni) una Coca cola al bar del Deposito.

La prova della paraffina

La controversia sul fucile — che come è noto è durata per mesi, avendo la stampa europea scoperto tutta una serie di falsi fotografici operati dalla stampa americana — è pressocchè scomparsa dal Rapporto: questo prende in considerazione il fatto che quei giornali hanno ammesso di aver falsato le fotografie, ma non si cura del fatto che Oswald stesso dichiarò falsa una di quelle foto, esibitagli dalla polizia, che lo presentava con l'arma in pugno. Con lo stesso procedimento il « Rapporto » dichiara « non attendibili » testimonianze d'indubbio interesse, come quella di un certo Rowland che affermò di aver visto spuntare due fucili dalla finestra del sesto piano (vengono accettate invece testimonianze a favore di un solo fucile). « La prova più convincente che gli spari furono soltanto tre — dice curiosamente il " Rapporto " — è che al sesto piano furono trovati solo tre bossoli »: varie testimonianze che gli spari

DALLAS ACCANTO A KENNEDY

LLY RESPINGE e conclusioni di Warren

governatore del Texas, Connally, mentre espone il suo punto di vista rren. (Radiofoto ANSA-Paese Sera)

NEW YORK, 30 — Nel coro dei favorevoli apprezzamenti della maggior parte della stampa americana e europea al rapporto Warren, una dichiarazione del governatore del Texas, Tom Connally, che fu ferito pochi momenti dopo Kennedy mentre si trovava sull'auto presidenziale, ha riproposto con la forza della testimonianza di uno dei protagonisti della tragedia di Dallas, e della cui autorità nessuno può dubitare, un più attento esame di tutta la drammatica vicenda.

Connally ha detto: «Nessun rapporto al mondo mi convincerà mai che sono stato colpito dalla stessa pallottola che uccise Kennedy. So bene quello che dico — ha continuato il governatore del Texas — udii il primo colpo, mi girai e vidi Kennedy colpito. Quando mi girai di nuovo, fui colpito a mia volta. E' il primo colpo che ho udito: non il secondo, appunto perchè da esso colpito».

La parola fine che il rapporto Warren vuol porre sotto la tragica giornata texana discende non da prove oggettive ma da un convincimento soggettivo dei membri della Commissione, in base a circostanze che per molteplici motivi non possono essere qualificate prove. Verranno pubblicati nei prossimi giorni gli allegati del Rapporto ma, in base ad una dichiarazione di Warren, una parte delle risultanze dell'inchiesta di Warren, rimarrà segreta e verrà resa pubblica non prima di 75 anni.

● A pag. 8 i particolari tragica giornata di Dallas, è proseguita sulla stampa del mondo intero, trova nel rapporto testé pubblicato ampio motivo per divampare di nuovo.

Nessuno intende affermare che Earl Warren, presidente della Corte Suprema degli Stati Uniti avesse davanti a sé un compito facile: una inchiesta criminale assai complessa si aggiungeva a un fascio di implicazioni politiche tanto gravi da diventare con ogni probabilità predominanti e proponeva una scelta precisa: o andare fino in fondo a tutti gli indizi e collegare rigorosamente tutte le testimonianze e tutte le risultanze in modo da dare risposte verosimili e persuasive ai tanti interrogativi che il clamoroso «caso» ha portato con sé, o preferire una ipotesi lenificante che servisse, come elemento di narcosi politica, a convincere il cittadino americano della buona salute del proprio organismo sociale. In altre parole: o scoprire, attraverso la verità, una tara grave, o attraverso una manipolazione della verità, nasconderla.

Warren e i suoi colleghi di commissione hanno preferito (o sono stati indotti a preferire) la seconda strada; eppure era ben chiaro che la civiltà e la democrazia americana sarebbero state servite assai meglio dalla denuncia delle responsabilità reali (ed aveva oltre tutto un margine abbastanza largo per sopportarle). Ma l'attualità politica, la stessa campagna elettorale in corso negli Stati Uniti ci indicano, in fondo, che lo stesso odio da cui è uscito il delitto di Dallas non è la caratteristica patologica di un qualche Oswald, ma il nutrimento — ideologico, diremmo — di una sezione importante politicamente, e nient'affatto trascurabile anche sul piano statistico, dello scacchiere economico e civile statunitense. La nomina del senatore Goldwater a candidato del partito repubblicano, il partito che fu di Lincoln, ce ne sembra il simbolo più clamoroso.

Il rapporto Warren avrebbe potuto denunciare attraverso la resultanza di un caso-limite quale l'assassinio del Presidente degli Stati Uniti, metodologia e ramificazioni di uno specifico fascismo nordamericano che sta giocando le sue carte dietro ad una radicalizzazione, che vuole presentarsi come rispettabile, della vita politica del paese. Non lo ha fatto pur sapendo, come ricordava appena pochi giorni fa Bertrand Russell, che gli Stati Uniti dovevano la verità non solo al popolo americano ma anche al mondo che si sente coinvolto, con la propria pace, nell'assassinio di un presidente americano.

La commissione Warren ha preferito la cosmetica alla chirurgia e l'ascesso, al coperto di una dubbia anestesia, rimane con tutto il suo pericolo. E il prestigio degli Stati Uniti, di fronte al mondo, non ne guadagna.

CONNALLY RESPING

le conclusioni di Warren

24 ORE

Una operazione di narcosi

Il rapporto probabilmente non convincerà gli storici che la commissione Warren abbia stabilito la piena verità sull'assassinio del Presidente Kennedy — scriveva ieri James Reston sul New York Times. E l'opinione del noto commentatore americano deve essere completamente condivisa. Il fatto è, però, che il rapporto Warren, oltre- né gli storici non convince nemmeno le opinioni pubbliche e la polemica che nel corso di dieci mesi, dalla tragica giornata di Dallas, proseguita sulla stampa del mondo intero, trova nel rapporto testé pubblicato ampio motivo per divampare di nuovo.

Nessuno intende affermare che Earl Warren, presidente della Corte Suprema degli Stati Uniti avesse davanti a sé un compito facile: una inchiesta criminale assai complessa si agglomerava a un fascio di implicazioni politiche tanto gravida diventare con ogni probabilità predominanti e proponeva una scelta precisa: è andare fino in fondo a tutti gli indizi e collegare rigorosamente tutte le testimonianze e tutte le risultanze in modo da dare risposte verosimili e persuasive ai tanti interrogativi che il clamoroso «caso» ha portato con sé, o preferire una ipotesi lenificante che servisse, come elemento di narcosi politica a convincere il cittadino americano della buona salute del proprio organismo sociale. In altre parole: scoprire, attraverso la verità, una tara grave, o attraverso una manipolazione della verità, nasconderla.

Warren e i suoi colleghi della commissione hanno preferito (o sono stati indotti a preferire) la seconda via; eppure era ben chiaro che la civiltà e la democrazia americana sarebbero state servite assai meglio dalla denuncia delle responsabilità reali (ed esse va oltre tutto un margine abbastanza largo per sopportarle). A questa «terna» del resto non omogenea (una madre, un generale reazionario, e un noto penalista) manca però quello che può essere considerato fino a questo momento il più insidioso «siluro» alla buona navigazione del Rapporto Warren. Com'è noto, ieri — ne abbiamo già dato notizia nelle nostre precedenti edizioni — il governatore del Texas, Tom Conolly, che si trovava nella vettura presidenziale e che fu ferito qualche istante dopo che Kennedy era già stato colpito, ha dichiarato: «Nessun rapporto al mondo mi convincerà mai che sono stato colpito dalla stessa pallottola che colpì Kennedy». Di questa esplosiva reazione all'uscita del volume di 888 pagine, i grandi giornali americani non hanno fatto parola, mentre le agenzie la inseriscono quasi di soppiatto nell'elenco delle ipotesi. Connolly ha aggiunto: «So bene quello che dico. Udii il primo colpo, mi girai e vidi Kennedy colpito. Quando mi girai di nuovo, fui colpito a mia volta. E' il primo colpo che ho udito: non il secondo, appunto perchè da esso colpito». In base a quanto dice

Tra le testimonianze vi sarà quella, inedita e anche in precedenza ignota al pubblico, di Jacqueline Kennedy. E' però assai probabile che il materiale completo non sia mai pubblicato, come avvertì Warren fin dal principio dei lavori della Commissione. Resterà segreta, ad esempio, una parte del materiale riguardante le informazioni fornite dall'URSS e da Cuba e alcuni «rapporti confidenziali» sulle attività dell'FBI e della Central Intelligence Agency, tratti in parte da fonti del servizio segreto. Questi segreti saranno depositati assieme agli altri, negli archivi nazionali, dietro porte blindate e non saranno tirati fuori prima di 75 anni.

Tra questi materiali segreti non vi sarà però il testo stenografico o l'incisione su nastro magnetico della deposizione di Oswald resa subito dopo il suo arresto, nelle prigioni di Dallas. E non perchè tale materiale sia depositato altrove ma semplicemente perchè non esiste. Possibile che una polizia — ed una polizia come quella di Dallas, abituata da una grande esperienza all'interrogatorio di assassini — si sia «dimenticata» di stendere un verbale dell'imputato? Ma fu Oswald imputato, fin dal primo interrogatorio, di assassinio del presidente Kennedy? Il rapporto Warren afferma che Oswald uccise Kennedy ma la polizia non ha il verbale del primo interrogatorio dell'«imputato».

Con particolare impegno si è fatto ricorso ai metodi di polizia scientifica, pur senza raggiungere una prova conclusiva, per accertare se Oswald, proprietario del fucile e in possesso di questo, avesse materialmente fatto fuoco con quell'arma. E' stata eseguita — com'è noto — la prova della paraffina, con reazione positiva per le mani ma non per la guancia destra. Un altro tentativo è stato fatto esponendo i calchi di paraffina rilevati su Oswald all'azione del reattore nucleare di Oak Ridge, mediante la tecnica della «attivazione neutronica» che mette alla luce alcune sostanze indicative della presenza di polvere da sparo sulla persona su cui sono stati presi calchi. Questa analisi non ha prodotto però elementi conclusivi perchè sono state trovate tracce di tali sostanze sia all'interno sia all'esterno dei calchi, ciò che è stato probabilmente causato da un lavaggio (?) trattamento dei calchi durante il trasporto. NEW YORK, 30. — La favorevole accoglienza con cui la maggior parte della stampa americana ed europea ha riservato al rapporto Warren — avvenimento facilmente previsto data la fiducia di maniera che era stata formata dai grandi organi d'informazione attorno ai lavori della Commissione d'indagine — non è riuscita a disperdere i numerosi dubbi avanzati dai più attenti osservatori internazionali sulla tragedia di Dallas. In effetti, da più parti si sottolinea il fatto secondo cui «una pietra sopra» sia la miglior via d'uscita alla crisi attraversata dagli Stati Uniti e dalle loro istituzioni a seguito dell'assassinio del presidente Kennedy.

Le decisioni di Lyndon Johnson — la formazione di un comitato di quattro ministri per vigilare sulla buona esecuzione della raccomandazione della Commissione Warren — più che un sostegno al Rapporto sono da considerarsi, a questo proposito, come un tentativo, del resto abbastanza scoperto, «di iniziare il tutto da una pagina bianca».

Lo stesso fatto secondo cui i grandi organi di informazione si sforzano di ridurre a tre coloro i quali «non credono» a quanto è scritto nel voluminoso Rapporto — andato a ruba in poche ore — è un altro sintomo della volontà espressa unanimemente dagli ambienti dirigenti americani, democratici e repubblicani, di «isolare» gli increduli ed accreditare con la forza del numero e del fragore propagandistico la tesi di Lee Harvey Oswald «mente malata» come il solo responsabile della morte di un presidente degli Stati Uniti d'America, e di Jack Ruby, altra mente malata, come l'uomo che si crede in diritto di far giustizia da sè. I tre «increduli» sono la madre di Oswald, definita in un'intervista resa ad un settimanale USA da uno dei membri della Commissione, come una donna «aggressiva, dogmatica, singolarmente irosa»; il generale Edwin Walker, noto elemento fascistizzante, fissato sulla tesi di un «complotto comunista internazionale» e, infine, l'avv. Mark Lane.

A questa «terna» del resto non omogenea (una madre, un generale reazionario, e un noto penalista) manca però quello che può essere considerato fino a questo momento il più insidioso «siluro» alla buona navigazione del Rapporto Warren. E' ovvio. Il capo della polizia di Dallas afferma che Oswald uccise Kennedy ma la polizia non ha il verbale dell'interrogatorio dell'«imputato».

Con particolare impegno si è fatto ricorso ai metodi di polizia scientifica, pur senza raggiungere una prova conclusiva, per accertare se Oswald, proprietario del fucile e in possesso di questo, avesse materialmente fatto fuoco con quell'arma. Nel volume il riferimento al clima di odio scatenato contro Kennedy

Da Washington corrispondenza

NEW YORK, 30 — « Nessun lettore contemporaneo può erigersi a Corte d'Appello capace di capovolgere il verdetto dei sette commissari. Poiché Oswald è morto e non poté parlare in sua difesa, non è possibile dire, e i commissari non lo dicono, che questo verdetto è conclusivo. Il tentativo di raggiungere un verdetto finale su Oswald è ora nelle mani degli storici ». Lo ha scritto il più noto giornalista americano, Walter Lippmann. In altre parole: fino a qui, sono giunti gli uomini di legge; oltre, debbono andare gli storici. Il fatto però che si senta l'esigenza di andare « oltre », è già di per sé la migliore dimostrazione che molti dei nodi della tragedia di Dallas non sono stati sciolti, che molto, forse tutto, resta « aperto ».

Una delle circostanze che il Rapporto Warren non ha nemmeno di sfuggita preso in considerazione è il clima politico in cui lo attentato del 22 novembre si compì. Com'è possibile — si rileva — trascurare la campagna di intimidazione e di odio che si volle scatenare contro John Kennedy, fino al punto di affiggere sui muri di numerose città, manifesti con la foto del presidente e, a caratteri cubitali, la scritta « Ricercato per tradimento »? Nemmeno in via indiretta si è fatto riferimento alla influenza che circoli ultrareazionari, come la John Birch Society e il KKK possano aver esercitato sulla « mente malata » Oswald.

Del tutto assente, anche nelle cronache di ieri delle ripercussioni, dei giornali americani, il fatto che i verbali dei primi interrogatori di Lee Oswald siano scomparsi o che comunque non appaiano nel voluminoso Rapporto Warren. Molto spazio invece viene dedicato ai risultati della inchiesta condotta in tutti gli Stati della Confederazione, secondo sui « quasi un terzo degli americani pianse all'annuncio della morte di Kennedy ». Questa profonda reazione psicologica è stata certamente ravvivata dall'enorme diffusione che il rapporto della Commissione Warren ha ricevuto e riceverà nei prossimi giorni, « in vista ormai del traguardo elettorale ». Saranno molti coloro — si afferma — che condivideranno lo stato di animo del fratello dello Scomparso, Robert Kennedy il quale, ieri, ha dovuto interrompere la sua intensa campagna elettorale per l'emozione causatagli dalla lettura del volume. Si informa anche che Bob Kennedy ha trascorso la mattinata in raccoglimento, assieme alla vedova del presidente, Jacqueline.

Tutti questi particolari svolgono una funzione non trascurabile nella propaganda elettorale, sfruttando il sentimento di una immensa parte della popolazione.

Il partito democratico e i suoi servizi propagandistici non hanno nascosto che la pubblicazione del documento risveglierà anche in molti un senso di rivolta provocato nel novembre scorso « per i metodi di violenza, l'intolleranza, gli estremismi che sono dottrina di alcuni movimenti ultrareazionari, come la John Birch Society, che il candidato repubblicano Barry Goldwater non ha avuto il coraggio di condannare apertamente e abbastanza energicamente ».

LA PUBBLICAZIONE DEL VOLUME E LA CAMPAGNA ELETTORALE

Il Rapporto Warren «aiuterà Johnson»

Lippman afferma che il verdetto conclusivo spetta agli storici - Manca nel volume il riferimento al clima di odio scatenato contro Kennedy

Dal nostro corrispondente

NEW YORK, 30 — « Nessun lettore contemporaneo può erigersi a Corte d'Appello capace di capovolgere il verdetto dei sette commissari. Poiché Oswald è morto e non poté parlare in sua difesa, non è possibile dire, e i commissari non lo dicono, che questo verdetto è conclusivo. Il tentativo di raggiungere un verdetto finale su Oswald è ora nelle mani degli storici ». Lo ha scritto il più noto giornalista americano, Walter Lippmann. In altre parole: fino a qui, sono giunti gli uomini di legge; oltre, debbono andare gli storici. Il fatto però che si senta l'esigenza di andare « oltre », è già di per sé la migliore dimostrazione che molti dei nodi della tragedia di Dallas non sono stati sciolti, che molto, forse tutto, resta « aperto ».

Una delle circostanze che il Rapporto Warren non ha nemmeno di sfuggita preso in considerazione è il clima politico in cui lo attentato del 22 novembre si compì. Com'è possibile — si rileva — trascurare la campagna di intimidazione e di odio che si volle scatenare contro John ennedy, fino al punto di affiggere sui muri di numerose città manifesti con la foto del presidente e, a caratteri cubitali, la scritta « Ricercato per tradimento »? Nemmeno in via indiretta si è fatto riferimento alla influenza che circoli ultrareazionari, come la John Birch Society e il KKK possano aver esercitato sulla « mente malata » Oswalld.

Del tutto assente, anche nelle cronache di ieri delle ripercussioni, dei giornali americani, il fatto che i verbali dei primi interrogatori di Lee Oswald siano scomparsi o che comunque non appaiano nel voluminoso Rapporto Warren. Molto spazio invece viene dedicato ai risultati della inchiesta condotta in tutti gli Stati della Confederazione, secondo sui « quasi un terzo degli americani pianse all'annuncio della morte di Kennedy ». Questa profonda reazione psicologica è stata certamente ravvivata dall'enorme diffusione che il rapporto della Commissione Warren ha ricevuto e riceverà nei prossimi giorni, « in vista ormai del traguardo elettorale ». Saranno molti coloro — si afferma — che condivideranno lo stato di animo del fratello dello Scomparso, Robert Kennedy il quale, ieri, ha dovuto interrompere la sua intensa campagna elettorale per l'emozione causatagli dalla lettura del volume. Da chi ebbe le notizie, allora, il giornale? La commissione Warren risponde nel rapporto in maniera ben precisa: dal giornale tedesco occidentale Deutsche National Zeitung und Soldaten Zeitung.

Il noto giornale neo-nazista pubblicò un articolo il 29 novembre nel quale si poteva leggere che Lee Oswald aveva attentato alla vita del generale Walker. Queste cose si potevano leggere qualche giorno prima che Marina Oswald le rivelasse alla commissione Warren. Come fu possibile ciò? Anche a questa comanda il rapporto sull'assassinio di Kennedy risponde in maniera precisa: i redattori del giornale tedesco se lo inventarono di sana pianta. In questo modo dal cielo venne l'idea che Oswald attentò alla vita di Walker e, guarda un po' che coincidenza, l'idea risultò essere, secondo Warren, assolutamente

Gli indizi dei quali la commissione sembra non aver voluto tener conto sono i seguenti: 1) Quando Walker venne messo a riposo (meglio sarebbe dire defenestrato), egli si trovava in Germania occidentale, dove aveva stretti contatti coi gruppi neo-nazisti e colla stampa di estrema destra; 2) Weissman, l'uomo che fece pubblicare dal «Dallas Morning News» una pagina listata a lutto in occasione della visita di Kennedy a Dallas, si trovava in Germania occidentale il giorno dell'attentato. Anche Weissman era a contatto con gruppi neo-nazisti e con ufficiali americani amici di Walker; 3) all'epoca dell'attentato circolò e fu presa in considerazione la voce secondo cui fu lo stesso Walker a montare la storia dell'attentato di cui sarebbe rimasto vittima, con lo scopo di uscire dalla vicenda con un alone di martire politico e con esso presentarsi candidato alle elezioni senatoriali. Clamorose rivelazioni dello scrittore Joesten

NEW YORK, 3. — «Le spie sovietiche Sokolov saranno scambiate non con una spia americana, come nel caso Abel-Powers, ma contro qualcosa infinitamente più importante: il segreto Oswald» ha affermato in una dichiarazione scritta consegnata ai giornalisti, Joachim Joesten, autore del libro «Oswald assassino o vittima?».

«Il Cremlino — sostiene Joesten — ha in suo possesso la chiave di volta della grande frode rappresentata dall'affare Oswald e, da qualche tempo, tiene questo terribile segreto sospeso come una spada di Damocle sulla testa del presidente Johnson». Joesten ritiene che «la più grande frode della storia sta per cadere a pezzi» e si dichiara convinto che Oswald sia stato un agente della «Central Intelligence agency».

Poco attendibili le rivelazio della vedova di Lee Oswal

Come venne diffusa la notizia dell'attentato contro il generale razzista Walker ad opera de assassino del Presidente Kennedy — Nuovi lati oscuri nelle conclusioni della commissione

Dal nostro corrispondente

NEW YORK, 5 — Il senatore Russell, membro della commissione Warren, insediata dal Presidente Johnson acciocché facesse luce sull'assassinio del Presidente Kennedy, ha fatto alcune dichiarazioni dalle quali risulta il suo personale scetticismo circa l'attendibilità delle dichiarazioni rilasciate in forma ufficiale dalla moglie di Lee Oswald, Marina, circa l'attentato di cui fu autore suo marito e vittima il generale neonazista dell'esercito americano, Walker.

Si tratta di dichiarazioni, ripetiamo, a titolo personale, ma essendo Russell membro della Commissione, esse fanno ritenere che tutti i giudici che hanno collaborato con Warren non abbiano prestato grande attenzione alle ripetute deposizioni della giovane vedova del presunto assassino di Kennedy. La testimonianza della Marina Oswald non sono risultate molto attendibili e credibili: questo il succo delle dichiarazioni del senatore Russell.

Nel rapporto si legge, a tale proposito, che la commissione Warren seppe che Oswald attentò alla vita di Walker da sua moglie Marina, il 3 dicembre del 1963. Nel rapporto si legge anche che tutte le voci che in proposito erano circolate negli ambienti della polizia di Dallas e dell'FBI prima del 3 dicembre, dovevano essere considerate prive di fondamento (fu il National Enquirer a riferire tali voci). Da chi ebbe le notizie, allora, il giornale? La commissione Warren risponde nel rapporto in maniera ben precisa: dal giornale tedesco occidentale Deutsche National Zeitung und Soldaten Zeitung quali punti la commissione Warren è potuto giungere al di là di una constatazione: che cioè il fatto fu dovuto ad una turba psichica, ad una alterazione mentale, escludendo il movente politico.

Si dice che era l'unica spiegazione possibile: le cose stanno davvero in questi termini? Anche a prescindere dalle ricostruzioni avventurose e romanzesche che della tragedia di Dallas sono state fatte da più parti, è certo troppo poco quello che la commissione ci dice sul movente del delitto. C'è soprattutto un lato oscuro delle indagini, quelle svolte in un primo momento dalla polizia di Dallas la quale, oltre tutto, non seppe neppure prendere le necessarie misure di normale cautela nei confronti del presunto assassino il quale per ben sedici volte attraversò il corridoio del comando di polizia per passare dalla sua cella all'ufficio del capitano Fritz per essere interrogato. In quella centrale di polizia — è lo stesso rapporto che lo riconosce — si affollavano centinaia di persone, fra le quali Jack Ruby che, come conferma un documento fotografico, vi si trovava là fin dalla sera del 22 novembre, giorno dell'assassinio di Kennedy, mischiato nel gruppo di giornalisti e fotografi. Fu la stessa polizia di Dallas che fornì in quelle drammatiche ore versioni diverse e contrastanti sui fatti, che fornì il pretesto per numerose interpretazioni giornalistiche degli avvenimenti, che dimostrò di non avere le idee chiare, oppure di volere appositamente ingarbugliare le acque.

A dieci mesi di distanza la commissione Warren è pervenuta alle stesse conclusioni cui giunse immediatamente dopo il delitto la polizia di Dallas, basandosi, è vero, su una serie di «prove» (l'appartenenza del fucile a Oswald, le sue impronte rilevate sul calcio dell'arma, la sua fuga attraverso la città, l'uccisione dell'agente Tippit, la drammatica cattura nel cinema), ma ognuno sa come queste prove potrebbero essere facilmente smontate da altre «prove», e certe concatenazioni di circostanze essere impiegate per avallare una tesi oppure una altra.

Ma di là del fatto specifico, degli eventi che si produssero fra il 22 e il 24 novembre, c'è un aspetto essenzialmente politico della vicenda sul quale la commissione non ha espresso un giudizio (almeno a giudicare dal resoconto sommario del rapporto che è stato fin qui distribuito). Si sono esclusi i legami fra Ruby e la polizia di Dallas, ma non si spiega perchè quel discutibile personaggio potesse girare indisturbato nei locali del comando di polizia, si afferma che non esiste alcuna prova di eventuali collusioni fra Ruby, l'agente Tippit, Oswald e coloro che fecero fuoco sul corteo presidenziale a Dallas, ma non si spiega [illegible] Kennedy, una cosa è [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Il rapporto Warren

C'è ancora qualcosa da chiarire

EDITORIAL

Le 888 pagine del rapporto Warren non hanno interamente chiarito il mistero sull'assassinio di Kennedy e sulla morte violenta di Lee Harvey Oswald: la stessa commissione che ha condotto per dieci mesi le indagini sulla tragedia di Dallas ha dovuto onestamente riconoscere che non può essere categoricamente esclusa la partecipazione di altre persone al duplice misfatto, ma che nessuna prova concreta può suffragare questa tesi. E' già una confessione di impotenza, che aggiungendosi alle numerose lacune del rapporto lascia insoddisfatti tutti coloro che attendevano non già clamorose e sensazionali rivelazioni bensì una luce di verità, la più completa possibile, su quelle tragiche 48 ore del novembre scorso. Oswald agì da solo nel suo delitto, e ugualmente da solo agì Ruby. Quale la causale dei due assassinii? Su questi punti la commissione Warren non è potuta giungere ed di là di una constatazione: che cioè fatto fu dovuto ad una forte pubblica, ed ove si trovava privata, quest'ultimo [illegible]

[illegible] sto isolato di un fanatico potesse esservi qualcosa di ben più vasto e temibile: questa preoccupazione, venendo da chi occupava il secondo posto nella gerarchia politica americana, non poteva essere unicamente il frutto di un timore momentaneo, di un sospetto balenatogli improvvisamente nella mente; probabilmente qualche voce era giunta all'orecchio della Casa Bianca, qualcosa di più di una semplice congettura era stata avanzata.

Ed a questo sospetto si potrebbero aggiungere le profetiche parole pronunciate da Kennedy due ore prima di morire: «Se qualcuno volesse uccidere il presidente degli Stati Uniti — disse lo scomparso presidente al momento di lasciare Fort Worth per Dallas — non dovrebbe essergli difficile. Basterebbe piazzarsi con un fucile munito di cannocchiale su di un edificio elevato». Ora, si potrebbe osservare, una osservazione abbastanza ovvia: eppure né il servizio segreto, né l'FBI, né la polizia di Dallas si presero la briga di osservare questa elementare norma di sicurezza [illegible] come appare il rapporto Warren, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Le conclusioni della commissione Warren sono articolate in 12 punti, ognuno dei quali suddivisi in vari paragrafi. Eccone una sintesi:

1) I colpi che uccisero il Presidente Kennedy e ferirono il Governatore Connally furono sparati dalla finestra del sesto piano all'angolo sud-est del Deposito libri scolastici del Texas. Questa precisazione si fonda sui seguenti elementi:

A) I testimoni oculari sul luogo dell'assassinio videro un fucile sparare dalla finestra del sesto piano all'angolo sud-est del fabbricato del Deposito libri scolastici del Texas;

B) La pallottola quasi intera trovata sulla barella del Governatore Connally al D. Tippit circa 45 minuti dopo l'assassinio del Presidente. Questa conclusione conforta la constatazione che fu Oswald a sparare i colpi che uccisero il Presidente Kennedy e ferirono il Governatore Connally.

6) Ottanta minuti dopo l'assassinio e 35 minuti dopo l'uccisione di Tippit, Oswald cercò di sottrarsi all'arresto nel cinema tentando di sparare ad un altro funzionario

7) La Commissione è giunta alle seguenti conclusioni per quanto si riferisce all'interrogatorio di Oswald ed alla sua detenzione presso la polizia di Dallas:

A) Oswald non fu assoggettato ad alcuna coercizione fisica

B) Corrispondenti dei giornali, della radio e della televisione avevano accesso incontrollato alla zona attraverso la quale Oswald doveva passare quando veniva trasferito dalla sua cella alla stanza degli interrogatori

C) Le numerose dichiarazioni, talvolta erronee, fatte alla stampa da vari funzionari locali addetti all'applicazione della legge, durante il periodo di confusione e di disordine verificatosi nella stazione di polizia, avrebbero presentato gravi ostacoli allo svolgimento di un processo equo per Oswald.

8) La Commissione è giunta alle seguenti conclusioni per quanto si riferisce alla uccisione di Oswald da parte di Jack Ruby, avvenuta il 24 novembre 1963:

A) Non vi sono prove che appoggino le dicerie secondo le quali Ruby avrebbe potuto essere aiutato da membri del Dipartimento della Polizia di Dallas nell'uccidere Oswald;

B) La decisione presa dal Dipartimento di Polizia di Dallas di trasferire Oswald alla prigione della contea dinanzi al pubblico non fu saggia. Le misure prese dal Dipartimento di Polizia domenica mattina, solo poche ore prima del tentativo di trasferimento, furono inadeguate. D'importanza critica fu il fatto che i rappresentanti dei mezzi di informazione e altri non furono allontanati dallo scantinato anche dopo che la

I colpi furono tre

D) Non esiste alcuna prova attendibile che i colpi venissero sparati dal triplo cavalcavia, verso il quale il corteo si dirigeva, o da qualsiasi altro luogo.

2) La somma delle prove sta ad indicare che i colpi sparati furono tre.

3) Sebbene non sia necessario ai fini di alcuna conclusione essenziale della Commissione stabilire esattamente quale colpo ferisse il Governatore Connally, prove molto persuasive fornite dagli esperti starebbero ad indicare che la stessa pallottola che trapassò la gola del Presidente fu anche quella che causò le ferite del Governatore;

4) I colpi che uccisero il Presidente Kennedy e ferirono il Governatore Connally furono sparati da Lee Harvey Oswald. Questa conclusione si basa sui seguenti elementi:

A) Il fucile italiano Mannlicher-Carcano da 6,5 mm. da cui i colpi furono sparati era di proprietà e in possesso di Oswald;

B) Oswald portò questo fucile nell'edificio del deposito la mattina del 22 novembre 1963;

C) Oswald, al momento dell'assassinio, era presente alla finestra da cui furono sparati i colpi;

D) Poco dopo l'assassinio, il fucile Mannlicher-Carcano appartenente ad Oswald fu trovato parzialmente nastrosto dietro alcune scatole di cartone al sesto piano;

E) In base alle testimonianze rese dagli esperti e alla loro analisi delle riprese cinematografiche dell'assassinio, la Commissione ha concluso che un tiratore dell'abilità di Lee Harvey Oswald poteva sparare i colpi con il fucile adoperato per l'assassinio nello spazio di tempo in cui furono uditi gli spari.

F) Oswald mentì alla polizia dopo il suo arresto riguardo a questioni d'importanza sostanziale;

G) Oswald aveva cercato di uccidere [illegible] generale di Divisione Edwin [illegible] Walker (dimissionario dall'esercito) il 10 aprile 1963, dimostrando così la sua predisposizione a pallottola che penetrò alla base della nuca e fuoriuscì dalla parte bassa della gola, causando una ferita che non sarebbe stata necessariamente mortale. Il Presidente fu colpito una seconda volta da una pallottola che penetrò nella parte posteriore destra della testa, causando una larga e fatale ferita.

2) Il Governatore Connally fu colpito da una pallottola che penetrò nel lato destro della sua schiena e dopo aver attraversato il lato destro del torace fuoriuscì al disotto del capezzolo destro. Questa pallottola successivamente gli trapassò il polso destro e penetrò ancora nella coscia sinistra, causandovi una ferita superficiale.

impiegato, persuaso, e incoraggiato da alcun Governo straniero ad assassinare il Presidente Kennedy o che egli fosse un agente di qualsiasi Governo straniero ;

D) La Commissione ha esaminato a fondo tutti i tentativi di Oswald per identificarsi con vari gruppi politici, compreso il Partito Comunista degli Stati Uniti, il Comitato per l'Equo Trattamento per Cuba e il Partito socialista dei Lavoratori e non è riuscita a trovare prove di sorta che dimostrino che i contatti da lui iniziati fossero collegati al successivo assassinio del Presidente

E) Tutte le prove di cui dispone la Commissione stabiliscono che non vi è nulla che appoggi le dicerie che Oswald fosse un agente, un impiegato o un informatore dello FBI, del CIA o di qualsiasi altro ente governativo;

F) Nessun rapporto diretto o indiretto tra Lee Harvey Oswald e Jack Ruby è stato accertato dalla Commissione né è stato possibile trovare prove concrete e plausibili che essi si conoscessero,

G) La Commissione non ha trovato prove che dimostrino che Jack Ruby, nello uccidere Lee Harvey Oswald, abbia agito d'accordo con qualsiasi altra persona;

H) Dopo un'attenta indagine la Commissione non ha trovato prove plausibili che dimostrino che Ruby e l'agente Tippit, che fu ucciso da Oswald, si conoscessero o che Oswald e Tippit, a loro volta, si conoscessero.

10) Durante la sua intera indagine, la Commissione non ha constatato prove di cospirazione, sovversione o slealtà nei confronti del Governo degli Stati Uniti da parte di qualsiasi funzionario.

11) E' il punto delle conclusioni riportato all'inizio di queste riassunto; n.d.r.

12) La Commissione riconosce che le variate responsabilità del Presidente richiedono che egli compia frequenti viaggi in tutte le parti degli Stati Uniti e all'estero. Date queste elevate loro responsabilità, i Presidenti non possono mai essere protetti nei confronti di qualsiasi potenziale minaccia.

Ciononostante, la Commissione ritiene che le proposte relative ai miglioramenti da apportare alla protezione del Presidente siano motivate dai fatti accertati durante queste indagini.

A) La Commissione ha concluso che i criteri e le procedure dal Servizio Segreto destinati a identificare e proteggere nei confronti di persone considerate una minaccia per il Presidente, non erano prima dell'assassinio adeguati;

B) La Commissione ha concluso che tra il Servizio Segreto e gli altri enti federali necessariamente interessati alla protezione del Presidente vi erano un collegamento e coordinamento di informazioni insufficienti. Al momento del viaggio a Dallas il Servizio Segreto in pratica non [illegible] indagini né fece controllare alcun edificio lungo le vie che avrebbe attra-

NEW YORK, 28. — Milioni di americani hanno letto e stanno leggendo il rapporto della commissione Warren sull'assassinio di Kennedy. I commenti dei giornali sono in generale improntati a soddisfazione per l'accuratezza e la serietà del lavoro svolto dalla commissione d'inchiesta e per le conclusioni cui è giunta, soprattutto per il fatto che essa dovrebbe chiudere definitivamente il capitolo della morte di Kennedy tagliando di netto tutte la voci che, specialmente in Europa, avevano trovato largo credito circa l'esistenza di un complotto per assassinare il presidente degli Stati Uniti. I maggiori giornali, che pubblicano intere pagine sul rapporto (il New York Times lo pub-

«In base alle prove di cui dispone, la Commissione conclude che Oswald ha agito da solo. Pertanto, per determinare i motivi dell'assassinio del Presidente Kennedy, si deve esaminare l'assassino stesso. Indizi sui motivi in base ai quali ha agito Oswald, possono essere rintracciati nella sua storia familiare, nella sua educazione o nella mancanza di educazione, nei suoi atti, nei suoi scritti.

La Commissione ha con la presente relazione presentato tutte le informazioni raccolte relative ai motivi che essa ha potuto scoprire. Altri potranno, così, studiare la vita di Lee Oswald e trarne le loro personali conclusioni.

La Commissione non ha potuto accertare in maniera definitiva quali fossero i motivi di Oswald. Essa ha cercato di isolare i fattori che hanno contribuito a formarne il carattere e che possono avere influito sulla sua decisione di assassinare il Presidente Kennedy. Questi fattori sono:

A) Il suo radicato rancore nei confronti di qualsiasi autorità;

B) La sua capacità a iniziare significativi rapporti con le persone;

C) Il suo spasmodico desiderio di cercare di trovare un posto nella storia;

D) La sua capacità di violenza dimostrata dal suo tentativo di uccidere il Generale Walker;

E) La sua proclamata adesione al marxismo e al comunismo, come egli ne capiva i termini e ne formulava la sua interpretazione.

Con queste parole, la commissione Warren ha cercato di mettere la parola «fine» al dramma di Dallas, ma al tempo stesso è stata costretta ad ammettere che «data la difficoltà di dimostrare con sicurezza elementi negativi, non può essere stabilito categoricamente che altri siano stati implicati con Oswald e con Ruby, ma se esiste una prova del genere essa è al di fuori della portata di tutti gli enti investigativi degli Stati Uniti e non è giunta all'attenzione di questa Commissione».

I 12 punti del rapporto

Questa è la parte centrale delle conclusioni cui è giunta la commissione Warren nelle sue indagini sull'assassinio del presidente Kennedy e di Lee Harvey Oswald. Il rapporto, che consta di 888 pagine per un totale di circa 300.000 parole, è stato pubblicato domenica pomeriggio. Esso si articola in tre parti: svolgimento dei fatti, conclusioni, suggerimenti. Questi ultimi formulano una serie di proposte sul modo migliore di tutelare la sicurezza del presidente degli Stati Uni-

Parkland Hospital e i due frammenti di pallottola trovati nel sedile anteriore della limousine presidenziale furono sparati dal fucile Mannlicher-Carcano da 6,5 mm. trovato al sesto piano dell'edificio del Deposito, essendo stata esclusa ogni altra arma.

C) La natura delle ferite riportate dal Presidente Kennedy e dal Governatore Connally e la posizione della macchina al momento degli spari stabiliscono che i colpi furono sparati dall'alto e dal della vita di Oswald.

9) La Commissione non ha riscontrato prove che dimostrino che già Lee Harvey Oswald che Jack Ruby facessero parte di cospirazioni interne o estere miranti ad assassinare il Presidente Kennedy. Le ragioni che motivano queste conclusioni sono:

A) La Commissione non ha trovato prove che dimostrino che qualcuno abbia aiutato Oswald.

B) La Commissione non ha trovato prove che dimodel presunto assassino? « In modo esauriente — ha scritto il Times — la Commissione ha esaminato la atmosfera di estremismo e di odio che crebbe a Dallas, come altrove nel sud e nel sud-ovest degli Stati Uniti, intorno alla testa del defunto presidente. I membri della Commissione si astengono molto correttamente dal dire che Oswald fu istigato da quella atmosfera; ma solo una mente molto fredda può resistere a questo pensiero ». A nostro avviso i membri della Commissione non si sono astenuti per « correttezza » da una illazione del genere, ma per un calcolo politico preciso che la storia, forse, un giorno renderà palese. Giacchè la cosa più concertante del « Rapporto » non è tanto la sua evasività sulle questioni di fondo riguardanti la figura, le azioni ed i motivi del presunto assassino, quanto la ferma volontà di difendere ad ogni costo una tesi che morto Oswald o il « folle » Ruby non possono contestare, eludendo tutte quelle cose che « per una generazione non potranno essere note ». Nessuno ci toglie dalla mente che in quelle cose ci sia anche il nome di coloro che direttamente o indirettamente hanno voluto e preparato l'assassinio di Kennedy.

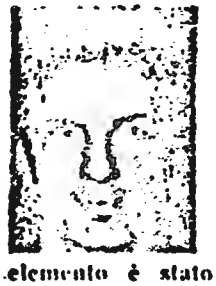
OSSERVATORE

Il rapporto Warren



Il meglio che si possa dire del «Rapporto» della Commissione Warren sullo assassinio di Kennedy è che ha lasciato senza risposta tutti gli interrogativi più importanti. Questo elemento è stato sottolineato da gran parte della stampa europea (e anche in Italia da organi come il Giorno, la Stampa o la Gazzetta del Popolo) ed è reperibile in dichiarazioni di autorevoli personalità americane. Basta il dissenso del governatore Connally con le risultanze del «Rapporto», del resto, a farci comprendere fino a che punto tutta la questione sia controversa. Se Connally nega di essere stato colpito dalla prima pallottola — come riferisce la Commissione Warren — ed insiste nella sua versione dei fatti, quale peso si può dare a tutte le altre conclusioni altrettanto confutabili?

C'è una frase del documento, fra l'altro, che ci sembra riassumere tutto l'imbarazzo dei suoi compilatori nel formulare la giustificazione del crimine perpetrato a Dallas: «Data la difficoltà di dimostrare con sicurezza elementi negativi, non può essere stabilito categoricamente che altri siano stati implicati con Oswald e con Ruby, ma se esiste una prova del genere essa è al di fuori di tutti gli enti investigativi degli Stati Uniti e non è giunta all'attenzione di questa Commissione». Ora se consideriamo che questi «enti investigativi», fra i quali il Servizio segreto e l'FBI, sono oggetto di esplicite critiche da parte della Commissione per la «mancanza di coordinamento» nelle misure di sicurezza che avrebbero dovuto esser prese, la frase in questione apre nuovi dubbi invece di fugare quelli già esistenti. Nè si può dimenticare che sui rapporti fra Oswald, Ruby e Tippit sono state pubblicate rivelazioni, da insospettabili giornali conservatori, che meritano seria riflessione.

Che dire infine della mania di

Domestic Intelligence Division has advised of a request received from President's Commission for authorization to declassify a number of documents in order that it can publish such documents at an early date. One of the documents was identified as "FBI Identification Record dated 6-4-64, Number [redacted] OFFICIAL USE ONLY."

Attached is a copy of the identification record in question. It is noted Isadore Miller [redacted] -- released to appear before Grand Jury, and again by same police department in [redacted] Apparently Miller was an associate of Jack Ruby. Copy of Miller's identification record was furnished with other material to President's Commission by letter dated June 15, 1964, pursuant to request from the Commission.

Miller's identification record contains the Director's printed signature as do all copies of FBI identification records we disseminate. If Miller would later challenge public disclosure of his arrest record to detriment of his personal reputation, the FBI and not the Commission would be held accountable. Therefore, it is felt we should refer the Commission to the original arresting agency (Dallas Police Department) if it desires to publish arrest data concerning Miller.

RECOMMENDATION:

That FBI advise President's Commission authority to declassify identification record of Isadore Miller, FBI [redacted] is not granted, but suggest the Commission may wish to obtain arrest data concerning Miller from original arresting agency (Dallas Police Department) if publication of Miller's arrest data is desired.

Dear Joe:

Thank you for your letter of October 8th and the newspaper clipping you enclosed. You may be sure I deeply appreciate your kind sentiments.

I certainly regret that you have not been feeling well but I am pleased to know that you are well on your way to recovery. You have my very best wishes for a rapid and complete convalescence and good health in the future.

I am enclosing two newspaper columns which I trust will be of interest.

Dear Edgar:

I have not been in contact with you for some time and I feel that two good fellows such aswe should keep in closer contact.

As you will note by the enclosed clipping, I am following you closely. I would say that the expression in this Letter to the Editor pretty well sums up the feelings in this Midwest locality, at least the feelings of the right thinking people.

I hope this finds you in excellent health. I will be giving you a call the next time I am in Washington so that we can say hello to each other. I have been in the Huntington County Hospital here in Huntington for the past few weeks. I have had a pancreatitis condition, but I believe they are getting hold of the situation medically. I expect to be out of here in the next week or ten days.

With every best wish for your continued health and success, I am

A Black Eye

To the Editor of The Star:

The Warren Report disappoints me.

President Kennedy himself had indicated that no official could be completely protected from an assassin's bullet, if the would-be killer positioned himself from a tall building and were armed with a rifle. J. Edgar Hoover has pointed this out many times in numerous articles.

Since there are over 1 million Communists, pro-Communists, and fellow travelers in the United States, an alarming figure, no government agency can be expected to keep tabs on all those people. So why the criticism of the FBI and the Secret Service in the report? This document is now history and will be read by Americans for generations to come, and for these great organizations to receive such a timeless "black eye" is unfair, unnecessary, and wrongly tends to undermine their efficiency and effectiveness in the eyes of the nation.

Dear J. Edgar:

I have been out of the city or you would have heard from me sooner.

I just want to say, after reading the Warren Report, I have got more confidence in you and the F.B.I. than ever. Don't let it worry you. Of course, you are right--we don't want a police state and can't have it.

J. Edgar, you have been one of the greatest Americans I have ever known and that has covered a period of many decades. I just want to restate my complete, full confidence in you. What great service you have given our American people!

SUBJECT: THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Re Bureau airtel 9-30-64.

There is enclosed for the information of the Bureau an article which appeared on pages 120-129 of the "Paris Match" of 10-10-64, a widely circulated French magazine similar to "Life Magazine". The caption of the article is "The Warren Report Responds to Questions Posed by Paris Match". It sets forth point by point the questions previously posed by Paris Match and the responses given by the Warren Commission. It states in resumé at the end of the article that the Warren Commission report is categoric: It points out that there was apparently no plot or contact between OSWALD and RUBY. It states that the conclusions of the seven members were unanimous and that the report closes the dossier of the Dallas drama for the United States.

The Bureau may wish to have this article translated. In the event the Bureau does not desire to translate the article, it may be destroyed.

The Warren Report Responds to Questions Posed by "Match."

This document has upset all America. It is as if President Kennedy has returned to his afflicted people

By Raymond Cartier

1. A gun camera films the pass of a car which is driven on the fateful road.

2. The branches still hide Kennedy. The car appears out of the foliage.

The investigators took the place of the criminal. They filmed what Oswald saw when he fired.

Oswald had left 170 dollars in an envelope and his wedding ring in a saucer.

In order to write what will become the best seller of the year, the Warren Commission had at its disposal 26,650 examinations or official reports of experts covering over 30,000 pages. In addition to the FBI and the Secret Service, ten federal departments, fourteen government offices, and four Congressional committees worked for it. It questioned 552 persons directly, whose names and qualifications start with A of Mr. Ables down to Z of Mr. Zapruder, covering 18 of the 888 pages of the report. In addition to the seven commissioners, whose importance, experience and independence have been questioned by no one, a staff of 27 members had for ten months no other work to do but to search for the truth about John Fitzgerald Kennedy's assassination. In Dallas alone, 24 investigators of the FBI conducted an investigation of the same, in which the most minimal clues were thoroughly scrutinized. There is no doubt that no criminal case has ever been the object of such an extended and terse investigation. The result merits the description of the stupendous. The Warren Report is more than a monument to police technique.

It is a historical and psychological document of the first order. Because of its style, it is a literary work. By its force of evocation, it causes tears. Life goes on carting its dramas, effacing with the accumulation of the days its most tragic days. But, thanks to the Warren Report, the assassinated President has come to take up his place for a moment among his grieved people, almost one year after his bloody death.

1. Does Anyone Know Oswald's Secret?

It is a different matter to know whether the Warren Report will dispel all the doubts which the tragedy of Dallas has produced. Those who refuse to be convinced cannot be convinced. Many people, more in Europe than in America, have admitted in principle "that one would never know the truth." All the inquiries thus clash with a systematic refusal to take the matter under consideration. On the contrary, the taste for the mysterious or the party congealed in politics do admit the display of the most fragile theses and antitheses. Nothing will destroy a belief in flying saucers. Neither will the certitude of the fall of President Kennedy, be effaced from biased minds, by shots of one single killer, nor by the effect of a conspiracy.

Three weeks after the tragedy of Dallas, "Paris-Match," without any fore knowledge, posed ten questions. I emphasized that it was of public and world interest to receive an answer. Although it had only to attend to matters concerning the President and the American people, the Warren Commission took particular care to do it. Certainly not that it addressed itself to "Paris-Match" in particular, but because the questions of "Match" expressed the most widely-spread doubts in Europe, they showed what obscurities or what oddities nourished the idea of a such nefarious machination which had to be choked at any price.

Of the ten questions, three were answered during the Ruby trial. It is interesting to note how the Warren Report has answered the seven others.

No chapter is a more passinate lecture than that which constitutes the life and the psychological picture of Lee Harvey Oswald.

His father died when he was two months old. His mother was - and still is - a turbulent and redoubtable person. His infancy involved a stay in a house of correction, which resembles the darkest pages of Dickens. His intellectual quotient placed him among the intellectuals, but his basic instruction was feeble and, in particular, his orthography was so terrible that his writings are almost illegible. When he joined the Marines in 1956, at the age of 17, he had already tasted Marxist literature and declared "that he wanted to kill President Eisenhower because he oppressed the workers' class." He studied Russian - his comrades called him Oswaldovich - and he tried to engage his officers in political discussions in order to overwhelm them with the superiority of his dialectic. After a tour of service in the Far East, he received his anticipated discharge in 1959 and began one of the decisive episodes of his brief existence: his escapade in the USSR.

Concerning Oswald's sentiments when he arrived in Moscow, the Warren Commission produced a great number of testimonies: "Russia has always been my fatherland... I shall never return to the U.S.A... I hate them... In the next war I shall kill everyone who wears an American uniform... After due consideration, I want to renounce my American nationality and request Soviet citizenship...," etc. The Russians did not manifest an overflowing enthusiasm to enrich themselves with a young man whose vehemence of convictions was his only professional baggage. He had to simulate a suicide to remain in the USSR after the expiration of the visa of six days which had been given to him. He was granted a monthly allowance of 700 rubles (old) which he kept, over and above his wages, when he obtained the job of an electrician in a Minsk factory. He said with satisfaction, "With my allowance, I earn as much as the director."

Oswald shot at this moment. The same bullet pierces Kennedy and wounds Connally sitting just before him. The second bullet is mortal.

Privileged, he did not find at all in Minsk the social coercion which obsessed him. The autobiography, which he called by the pretentious name of "Historic Dairy," and the book "Collective," which he intended to write, are superabundant on this subject: "In the measure in which my Russian improves, I become better conscious of the society in which I live. Collective gymnastics, obligatory meetings, forced picking-up of potatoes on Sundays, no nightclubs, bowling or places of distraction. I have enough of it..."

"The Soviets committed crimes which have never been surpassed. Mass extermination under Stalin, regimentation under Khrushchev; systematic reduction of food rations, assassination of history, prostitution of art and culture..."

"Any man, having successfully lived under American capitalism and under Russian communism, cannot make a choice between the two. One is oppression, and the other is misery. Two imperialisms colored by different varieties of slavery..."

Failing to live up to his own oath, Oswald returned to the nationality which he had renounced and came back to America. Of course, the Warren Commission investigated, if this return, so easily accepted by the Russians, did not cover the infiltration of a Soviet agent into the United States. It has established that nothing supports this supposition. Oswald left America, believing that he was a communist. He returned as an anarchist.

He brought back a wife, Marina. She said about him, "He could not do well anywhere. Perhaps, on the moon...."

I have made some reservations concerning this Marina Oswald, presented as a touching victim of American compassion. The Warren Report has lifted a portion of her halo. Oswald mistreated her, but she harassed him. She reproached him for not knowing how to earn money and said that "he was not a man." "She did not stop tormenting him and hurting his pride," stated one witness. "She was not satisfied with the sexual relations with her husband," said another.

Marina Oswald said about her husband, "He does not do well anywhere. Perhaps on the moon...."

"She made fun of his political pretensions and of his mania to compare himself with great personages of history," said a third one. Without friends, without a trade, unhappy at home, Oswald maintained his solitary pride and continued to believe that he had a great calling.

The last weeks of his life were marked by increasing agitation and instability. After having declared Russia uninhabitable, he wanted to return there. In Cuba he intended to obtain the visa, which the Russians did not hastily give him. He wanted to get it in Mexico, stating that he was morally justified, in view of his militant action in his committee - he was its only member - called "Fair Play for Cuba." Castro's consul refused to give him satisfaction and, when he flared up, he told him that people of his type hurt the Cuban Revolution more than do it good. It was a kick of the ass: Cuba herself disowned Lee Harvey Oswald.

The days before the drama were marked by a recrudescence of the domestic troubles. Marina, who lives in Irving with the Paines, forbade her husband to spend the weekend with her. She made a terrible scene over the telephone, when she heard that he lived in Dallas under a false name. "When will these follies, these comedies end?" When Lee arrived on Thursday to be reconciled, she refused to speak with him and, when he spoke of taking again an apartment with her, she answered him brutally that she preferred living with her friends. He went away on the following day, leaving 170 dollars in an envelope and his wedding ring in a saucer.

A few hours later, he killed the President of the United States.

On the morning of the assassination, Kennedy said, "I don't believe that it is very difficult to kill me."

Does a mystery about Oswald remain?

It does not seem so. The investigation was so exhaustive that it is almost impossible that any person, who approached the assassin, has remained unidentified. The conclusions of the report reveal that Oswald was animated by an irreducible hostility against his environment, whatever it was. He believed himself a big man and wanted a place in history. The regicide (sic*) was the most expedient way of assuring it for himself. No American is ignorant of the name of John Wilkes Booth, who killed Lincoln, and no Frenchman of the name of Ravaillac. According to the particulars of the Warren Report, there is no longer any obscurity about Oswald's trip to Mexico three weeks before the drama of Dallas. He went to Mexico, trying to get his visa for Cuba. He was not engaged in any other activity during his stay, except that he paid a visit to the embassy of the Soviets. The legend, according to which he went to Havana between two flights, is disputed.

Pictures on pages 124 and 125.

The report reveals that Jackie, when she saw her husband collapse, cried, "Jack, I love you, I love you!" When she fell from the rear covering of the car, which picked up speed, she could have been killed, if the police officer, who ascended toward her, had not held her back.

* Translator's Note

2. What is the truth about Oswald's trip to Mexico?

The question, posed by Match "who paid for the trip?" has also been elucidated. Oswald had the necessary money. In fact, although he worked irregularly, because of an extreme sobriety, which he made his wife share, he never lacked money. Appendix 14 of the report gives a complete picture of the assassin's finances from June 13, 1962, the date of his return from Russia, until November 22, 1963. His monthly resources, proceeding from his salary and allowances during the time he was out of work, varied from a minimum of $46.82 (about 234 francs) to a maximum of $387.55 (about 1,938 francs), amounting to $3,665.89 (18,330 francs) in 17 months. His expenses during the same period of time amounted to $3,500. As many other anarchists, Lee Oswald had a regularity and narrow-minded integrity in his financial affairs.

The question of hidden resources was evoked through the testimony of a postal employee. The investigation established the inconsistency therein.

3. Who aided Oswald?

The question principally took aim at the conditions under which Oswald obtained employment, which placed him in such a fatal place on the itinerary of Kennedy's retinue, and, incidentally, the personality of a woman, Mrs. Paine, who, by taking care of him, became the instrument of fate.

The channel: an unemployment pay office, the Texas Employment Commission, which gave Lee the names of two persons by whom he was introduced to a small group of people of Russian origin whose members aided Lee Oswald generously and, in particular, Marina. The contact with Mrs. Paine was made through a florid Russian emigrant, a certain Mohrenschildt. Ruth Paine is a pure American, but she and her husband, Michael, embraced the Quaker faith in 1951. The person who is a Quaker is a pacifist. The Paines took a deep interest in expanding relations between America and Russia; they were interested in cultural exchanges, and the woman deemed it necessary to learn Russian. The report says, "The Commission has not found anything in the background and resources of the Paines which might suggest a disloyalty to the United States." The contrary had been justly suspected; the doubt has been removed.

The interest of the Paines in the Oswalds was partial. Ruth fervently took the woman's part, protected her from the brutalities of her husband, and advised her about separation from him. The generosity, with which she extended hospitality to her, is in conformity with the Quakers' tradition.

When Oswald returned from Mexico he was without work and his unemployment benefit had expired. Mrs. Paine tried to find work for him. She succeeded in placing him at the School Book Depository (sic*). I asked, "How did she know that there was a vacancy at this establishment and how did she go about securing it for him?"

The Warren Report has answered this question. A neighbor, Linnie Mae Randle, told Mrs. Paine that her brother had just been hired by the School Book Depository (sic*). For Marina's sake, more than for Lee's benefit, Mrs. Paine telephoned Superintendent Roy S. Truly and asked him whether there was another vacancy. Oswald was called and immediately hired.

A few days earlier, he had failed to get a more lucrative place on the Padgett Printing Corporation, whose shops are situated at several routes of the itinerary which the Presidential cortege was scheduled to take on November 22. The bad information, given by a previous employer, - "discharged as an agitator, communist tendency" - caused Padgett not to give him the job and thus condemned John Kennedy to death. Oswald began his work at the School Book Depository (sic*) on October 14. Allusions regarding a visit by Kennedy had been made in the Dallas newspapers on September 13; however, the trip was only officially decided upon on November 4, and the itinerary was not fixed until the 18th. It is, therefore, very probable that Oswald just occupied his historic battlement through a totally unforeseen coincidence. Likewise, it is not impossible that, when he was at the point of asking his wife to start living together again, the thought of the crime was not definitely fixed in his mind. A stone rolling down on a mountain side suffices to start an avalanche.

4. Why was Kennedy so badly protected?

Here, the Warren Commission confirms the sharp criticisms of "Paris-Match." The protection of the President was miserable. Besides, Kennedy hardly believed in the effectiveness of the measures taken on his behalf. On the same morning, he described his assassination to his assistant Kenneth O'Donnell as follows:

* Translator's Note

"If someone really wants to kill the President of the United States, it will not be very difficult, I believe. He just has to go in a high building with a telescopic rifle. How can you prevent him from doing it?"

5. Was there a second rifle?

Paul Mathias of Paris-Match, working with Jean Campbell, granddaughter of Lord Beaverbrook, was undoubtedly the journalist, who, preceding the police, furnished the most disturbing revelations concerning the possible existence of a second rifle belonging to Oswald. The Warren Report is an homage to the conscientiousness and intelligence of their investigation. The facts, which were revealed, and on which I based myself, conformed to the reality. On the other hand, it was, of course, not in their power to verify the value of the testimonies which they had gathered.

The Warren Commission refuted these testimonies or, at least, contested their veracity.

Some testimony came from Mrs. Edity Whitworth, the owner of an Irving store, still carrying the sign of the gunsmith's shop which has ceased to exist, and from a friend, Mrs. Gertrude Hunther. These two women described, one very vaguely, the other one with great precision, a family, corresponding to the composition and appearance of the Oswald family, which had come, at the beginning of November, with a rifle which the husband wanted to exchange. However, Marina Oswald denied it. Lee Oswald was at the indicated hour at the School Book Depository (sic*) and, according to the FBI, "Mrs. Hunther has a strange obsession to involve herself in all important events which come to her knowledge." This is a polite way of saying that she is a mythomaniac.

Additional testimony concerns the slip of paper without date, produced by a gunsmith, Dial D. Ruder, and, according to which, a telescope, fixed by three screws, was allegedly mounted on an unidentified rifle involving the account of a man named Oswald. The rifle of the assassin had been delivered with a telescope, fixed by two screws. Therefore, Lee Harvey Oswald owned a second rifle of which nobody knows for what purpose it was used or what has become of it. However, the FBI maintains that the authenticity of the slip of paper, written by Ruder, and the veracity of Ruder himself are "very doubtful." All those, who have the experience of big criminal cases, will confirm that there is not a single one which does not permit the surge of an efflorescence of false testimonies originating with the desire of making individuals important. Nevertheless, it is true that the point of the interrogation about the second rifle has not been completely effaced.

On the other hand, the report is convincing with respect to the most important point: Only three bullets were fired, and all three came from the rifle abandoned by Oswald on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository (sic*). If there had been a second rifle, it would not have played any role in any event. There was no second murderer.

What the report has not explained: The saying - "I do not believe that it is very difficult to kill me."

Oswald's flight on the streets of Dallas.

6. Where did Oswald go when he killed Officer Tippit?

Oswald left the building of the crime at 12:33. He returned to his furnished room on Becklet Street, using at first an autobus and then a taxi. He got off at the corner of Neely Street, went the last 100 meters on foot, did not answer, in his hurry, his landlady who was astonished to see him suddenly appear at an unusual hour, rushed into his room, took his revolver and left, zipping up his jacket on the street, which he had put on in his room. He inversely took the road on which he had come, passed Neely Street, then Davis Street and, turning to the left, entered and stayed on 10th Street. This itinerary took him farther away from the scene of his crime.

On 10th Street, a little way from the intersection of Patton Street, Oswald was questioned by Police Officer Tippit and killed him. Where did he go?

The Warren Commission has not answered this question. The direction, taken by Oswald, did not lead to any known place of refuge. The commission examined the hypothesis of a rendezvous and of a flight prepared by accomplices. It has found absolutely nothing. Oswald took the secret of his bewildered run through the streets of Dallas into his grave. There is only one concrete detail: Oswald had $13.87 on his person at the time of his arrest. But he had left 170 dollars in an envelope in Irving. Is this the normal distribution of money a man would make who intends to flee?

* Translator's Note

7. Was Tippit a wild policeman?

In spite of very numerous allegations, there is no doubt that Oswald really was the murderer of Police Officer J. D. Tippit. No matter how much the identifications by the witnesses are confused, it has, nevertheless, been established that Tippit was killed by the Smith and Wesson revolver with which Oswald was arrested - a revolver which he had bought under his habitual pseudonym of A. J. Hidell, on March 27, 1963, for the sum of $29.95. The last questions, posed by "Paris-Match," concerned this police officer Tippit. Is it true that he was regarded as a wild policeman, intimately connected with Jack Ruby? Is it true that he knew Oswald? Is it true that he broke the regulations of the police by patrolling alone in his car and outside of the surveillance sector assigned to him?

The commission has answered as follows:

1. Tippit had a good record during his 11 years of police service.

2. There was confusion with another police officer, G. M. Tippit, who, being a member of the special services, actually knew Ruby.

3. Eighty-seven per cent of the Dallas police officers patrol alone in the daytime.

4. J. D. Tippit was in his sector, and there was nothing abnormal about his location. He died honorably in the line of duty.

In brief, the report of the Warren Commission is categoric: The assassination of President Kennedy and the murder of the assassin were not the products of a foreign or domestic conspiracy, but the deeds of two individuals, anxious to prove their personality to others. Contrary to that which is the most frequent in investigations of this type, there was no dissident opinion, and, consequently, no minority report. The unanimous conclusions of the seven commissioners close, for America, the dossier of the drama of Dallas.

Dissent to Warren

By William F. Buckley Jr.

I HAVE news that is interesting, healthy, and infuriating.

Three members of the Warren Commission apparently raged, behind closed doors, against the projected criticisms of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. But Earl Warren was adamant, and the criticisms were therefore regretted.

The official Commission report said that the FBI "took an unduly restrictive view of its role in preventive intelligence work prior to the assassination. A more carefully co-ordinated treatment of the Oswald case by the FBI might well have resulted in bringing Oswald's activities to the attention of the Secret Service."

The three gentlemen who were healthy enough to dissent were Representatives Gerald Ford and Hale Boggs, and Senator Russell. They made the point that it was unfair to criticize the FBI without suggesting what, of a concrete nature, the agency could have done, and without weighing the meaning the kind of preventive activity Justice Earl Warren seemed to be recommending on the right's of the individual citizen.

It is all very well grandly to suggest that the FBI should pick up more suspects, or turn the names of those suspects over to the Secret Service to be picked up.

Any implementation of such a program would, however, end the FBI up defending its behavior before — guess who? Earl Warren himself, who — and this is what is infuriating about Mr. Warren's criticism of the FBI — during the past years has done everything within his power to undermine anti-subversive legislation (for instance, of the kind that might have put the spotlight on Oswald), and criminal-apprehension techniques (there was the famous Mallory case, for instance, where a rapist murderer was released because he hadn't been arraigned soon enough: who went on to rape again).

The task of sequestering anyone who might conceivably assassinate a President of the United States is overwhelming, and it must dismay J. Edgar Hoover to be castigated for failing to do an impossible job largely by the same group of people who make it difficult for him to do a possible job — and who are always on the alert against any enhancement of the FBI's powers.

It is especially curious that the testimony of Mr. Hoover to the Warren Commission was not published. Why, one wonders? Because it would have detracted from Mr. Warren's criticisms?

What, actually, is the Chief Justice recommending? The FBI has estimated that in some areas of the country there are as many as five thousand persons who are as likely to assassinate a President as Lee Harvey Oswald was, judging only from his previous record. They are communists, subversives, ultras of every variety, neo-fascists, men and women who are emotionally unstable or demonstrably vicious in their behavior.

It is seriously proposed that, let us say, every time the President comes to New York, five thousand people be picked up and tucked away somewhere until the President is so gracious as to leave town? The proposal is preposterous.

Clearly the principal responsibility rests on the President himself. It is not fair for him to impose upon the Secret Service or the FBI an unmanageable burden.

It is in the great tradition of political leadership to wave away the bodyguards and circulate with the people, and one's republican blood stirs at the sight of a Charles de Gaulle entered Notre Dame Cathedral on the day that Paris was liberated and walked majestically up the great aisle even as snipers fired bullets all around him from the encircling loft.

He got away with it, to be sure, the whole point about personal heroism is that sometimes you don't get away with it. Otherwise, it wouldn't be called heroism. When you don't get away with it, it is hardly fair to blame the FBI.

One would like to think that a President could mingle among his own people with impunity. But we are a free society, free even to the point that men and women who think disorderly and abusive thoughts nevertheless are unmolested until and unless they act overtly, or are known to be afraid to act.

In Germania ovest il libro «Morte a Dallas» in cui si sostiene l'ipotesi della cospirazione, è attualmente un «best seller» in questo Paese. Il suo autore, l'ungherese Hans Habe, ha vissuto vari anni negli Stati Uniti e risiede attualmente in Svizzera. In «Morte a Dallas», Habe afferma che il complotto fu organizzato da miliardari reazionari e da «teppisti» di pelle bianca.

In Olanda, la stampa continua a mostrare grandissimo interesse per i fatti di Dallas. La teoria di una cospirazione gode grande favore negli ambienti di sinistra. L'uomo della strada appare ancora oggi sconcertato dagli aspetti misteriosi dell'uccisione di Kennedy. In Belgio, partiti e personalità di sinistra sottoscrivono in pieno la tesi del complotto.

In Danimarca, l'opinione pubblica è per la cospirazione. Vari giornali non hanno nascosto il loro scetticismo per la tesi dell'unico attentatore.

DAL NOSTRO CORRISPONDENTE

LONDRA, 26 — Domani sarà pubblicato l'atteso rapporto della commissione di inchiesta sull'assassinio del presidente Kennedy, e non è affatto azzardato prevedere che la pubblicazione del documento susciterà in Europa un'ondata di vivacissime polemiche se Warren ed i suoi collaboratori convalideranno la tesi secondo cui Lee Harvery Oswald fu solo a concepire l'attentato.

Una panoramica condotta in nove Paesi europei indica che gli ambienti europei di sinistra sono pronti ad accusare la commissione di aver «annacquato» la realtà dei fatti qualora il rapporto Warren faccia sua la versione dello FBI sui tragici avvenimenti di Dallas.

In linea generale, gli europei hanno reagito alle notizie provenienti da Dallas con sentimenti varianti dallo scetticismo al sospetto dichiarato. Organizzazioni e partiti di sinistra, poi, hanno fin dall'inizio accreditato la versione secondo cui l'assassinio fu il frutto di una cospirazione di destra ed Oswald non sarebbe stato che uno strumento nelle mani dei cospiratori.

Secondo questa versione, il gesto di Jack Ruby, l'uomo che assassinò Oswald, ebbe un preciso scopo: tappare per sempre la bocca pericolosa del giovane «sicario». Ad alimentare considerevolmente dubbi e sospetti è venuta la pubblicazione, sia su autorevoli periodici sia sotto forma di libro, del reportage di Thomas Buchanan «Chi ha ucciso Kennedy?», nonchè il lungo giro europeo dell'avvocato di New York Mark Lane, il quale ha sostenuto e sostiene a spada tratta che non fu Oswald a sparare i colpi che uccisero Kennedy.

In Inghilterra è stato formato addirittura un comitato «Chi uccise Kennedy?» per iniziativa del noto filosofo pacifista Bertrand Russell.

Ed ecco, in sintesi, la panoramica dei «sentimenti» diffusi negli altri Paesi europei. Sarà reso noto oggi

Il rapporto sulla morte di Kennedy

E' stato portato a termine dalla commissione Warren - Si tratta di un volume di 800 pagine

Washington, 26 settembre

Il Dipartimento di Stato americano renderà pubblico domani il «rapporto Warren», stilato dall'apposita commissione di inchiesta nominata dal presidente Johnson per far luce sulle circostanze dell'assassinio, il 22 novembre 1963, del suo predecessore John F. Kennedy.

Esso è consegnato a un volume di circa 800 pagine, del quale la casa editrice di Stato americana ha preparato per la distribuzione all'interno degli Stati Uniti una prima edizione di 50 mila copie, che saranno messe in vendita lunedì mattina al prezzo di dollari 2,50 pari a 1590 lire (3 dollari e 25 le copie rilegate cioè 2000 lire).

La «Voce dell'America» trasmetterà estratti del rapporto nei suoi programmi su onde corte, in 37 lingue. L'USIA (United States Information Agency) spedirà dal canto suo 25 mila copie di un opuscolo con le conclusioni del rapporto a 228 centri di distribuzione in 107 paesi del mondo. L'opuscolo è destinato al personale diplomatico americano, ai centri di lettura dell'USIA e alle personalità dei paesi stranieri.

All'URSS non interessava la morte di Kennedy

Così la Commissione ha assolto il suo storico compito dopo quasi dieci mesi di indagini e dopo avere raccolto la testimonianza di 552 persone, da oscuri testimoni oculari a quelle della vedova del Presidente assassinato, signora Jacqueline Kennedy, e del Presidente Johnson. Così il Governo degli Stati Uniti ha cercato di dare una risposta ai molti dubbi, alle voci e alle ipotesi che sono stati formulati in gran quantità, specialmente all'estero, dopo la morte di Kennedy. In ogni caso, la Commissione ha riaffermato di non aver trovato prove a sostegno della tesi di un complotto, né che Oswald fosse un agente incaricato da un Governo straniero di uccidere il trentaseiesimo Capo della Casa Bianca.

Circa un possibile interesse russo all'attentato, la Commissione ha raccolto queste dichiarazioni del Segretario di Stato [illegible] Rusk: «Non sono a conoscenza di alcun elemento che possa far ritenere che l'Unione Sovietica avesse il desiderio di eliminare il presidente Kennedy né che abbia partecipato in alcun

Quale fu la causa che spinse Oswald ad uccidere il Presidente? La Commissione dichiara al riguardo di non poter indicare cause precise. Minuto per minuto il corteo di Dallas

« Alle 11,40 di venerdì 22 novembre 1963, il presidente John F. Kennedy, la signora Kennedy ed il loro seguito giunsero a Love Field, a Dallas, nel Texas. Era la prima giornata di un viaggio attraverso il Texas progettato cinque mesi prima dal vicepresidente Lyndon Johnson e John B. Connally, governatore del Texas. Il corteo di macchine lasciò Love Field poco dopo le 11,50 e attraversò i sobborghi residenziali. Allorché il corteo raggiunse la Main [illegible] nella sua stessa direzione. Si trattava di un uomo i cui connotati corrispondevano a quelli forniti dalla polizia. Tippit aprì lo sportello di sinistra della sua macchina e si portò di fronte all'auto. Improvvisamente l'uomo che si trovava sul marciapiede opposto estrasse un revolver e sparò diversi colpi in rapida successione, colpendo Tippit quattro volte ed uccidendolo istantaneamente ».

« Alle 13,29, la radio della polizia sottolineava l'analogia esistente nelle descrizioni dei sospetti sull'uccisore del Presidente e di Tippit. La radio dava quindi l'allarme: « Ci risulta che un sospetto è appena entrato nel Texas Theater sulla West Jefferson". Nel giro di pochi minuti, il cinema venne circondato e dopo una breve e vivace lotta gli agenti disarmavano ed ammanettavano il sospetto, trasferendolo quindi al comando di polizia ».

« Il sospetto risultò essere nato a Nuova Orleans il 18 ottobre 1939, due mesi dopo la morte di suo padre. Sua madre, Marguerite Vlaverie Oswald aveva avuto altri due figli. Lee Harvey Oswald si arruolò nei marines il 24 ottobre 1956, sei giorni dopo il suo 17. compleanno. — Il Dipartimento di Stato deve dar prova della massima cautela nel consentire il ritorno negli Stati Uniti di persone che siano trasferite all'estero dando prova di slealtà verso l'America o che abbiano espresso il desiderio di rinunciare alla cittadinanza americana.

Quale fu la causa che spinse Oswald ad uccidere il Presidente? La Commissione dichiara al riguardo di non poter indicare cause precise. Ma sottolinea questi fattori: «Una profonda insofferenza verso qualsiasi autorità che si traduceva in una ostilità verso qualsiasi società in mezzo a cui viveva; la sua incapacità ad intrattenere rapporti con la gente e la sua tendenza a provare insofferenza per lo ambiente circostante ed il desiderio di cambiarlo con un altro; la sua aspirazione ad assicurarsi un posto nella storia e spesso una grande disperazione per essere fallito in diverse imprese; la sua disposizione alla violenza come dimostrato dal suo tentativo di uccidere il 10 aprile 1963 il generale Walker; la sua [illegible]

Sebbene la Commissione non si sia pronunciata che in maniera vaga sul motivo che ha spinto i due uomini ad uccidere, è arrivata invece a conclusioni definitive su tutti gli altri importanti punti controversi.

Continuamente, nel suo rapporto, la Commissione Warren ribadisce la propria convinzione che Oswald, uno scontento da sempre, abbia agito per propria personale iniziativa. Inoltre, stando alle prove raccolte, la Commissione è giunta anche alla conclusione che fu lo stesso Oswald ad uccidere l'agente Tippit, circa 45 minuti dopo l'attentato di Kennedy.

I colpi mortali che uccisero Kennedy

Circa l'assassinio, la Commissione afferma che dalle prove risulta che fu il fucile di Oswald, impugnato dallo stesso Oswald, ad uccidere il presidente Kennedy ed a ferire il Governatore; che i colpi furono sparati dal sesto piano del Book Depository; che non vi sono prove concrete che i colpi siano stati sparati dal sottopassaggio o da qualsiasi altro punto.

Il rapporto cita la testimonianza di persone che videro la canna di un fucile sporgere dalla finestra del se-

Circa il punto relativo a quale fu la pallottola che colpì il Governatore, la Commissione sulla scorta delle risultanze accertate dai tecnici è arrivata alla conclusione che fu la stessa che aveva perforato il collo del presidente Kennedy.

Nel sommario del rapporto Warren è detto testualmente: «L'assassinio di John Fitzgerald Kennedy, il 22 novembre 1963, fu un atto di crudele e rivoltante violenza contro un uomo, una famiglia, un Paese e contro tutta l'umanità. Un giovane e vigoroso Capo fu la vittima del quarto assassinio presidenziale nella storia di un Paese attaccato all'idea della discussione ragionevole e del mutamento politico pacifico. Questa Commissione venne istituita il 29 novembre 1963, in riconoscimento al diritto del popolo a conoscere i fatti nella loro interezza e verità».

Minuto per minuto il corteo di Dallas

«Alle 11,40 di venerdì 22 novembre 1963, il presidente John F. Kennedy, la signora Kennedy ed il loro seguito giunsero a Love Field, a Dallas, nel Texas. Era la prima giornata di un viaggio attraverso il Texas progettato circa sei mesi prima dal vicepresidente Lyndon Johnson e John B. Connally, governatore del Texas. Il corteo di macchine lasciò Love Field poco dopo le 11,50 e attraversò i sobborghi residenziali. Allora che un leggero battito del cuore era tuttora avvertibile. Invece, il polso non si sentiva. Osservata anche un'ampia ferita alla testa di Kennedy ed un'altra al collo, i medici, preoccupati di cercare di mantenere in vita il Presidente, non pensarono però mai a rivoltarlo per esaminargli la schiena. Alle 13, dopo che il cuore cessò di battere e un prete aveva provveduto a somministrare l'estrema unzione, il Presidente fu riconosciuto morto».

«Diversi testimoni oculari che si trovavano di fronte all'edificio da cui fu sparato hanno riferito di avere scorto un fucile al sesto piano del deposito mentre veniva adoperato. Un altro teste, si affrettò a comunicare ad un poliziotto di aver visto un uomo non molto alto, di circa 30 anni, sparare contro la macchina del Presidente. Alle 12,45, la radio della polizia trasmetteva una descrizione del presunto assassino. Circa 45 minuti dopo l'attentato, nel corso di un'altra sparatoria, veniva ucciso l'agente di polizia J. D. Tippit».

L'uccisione dell'agente Tippit

«Verso le 13,15, Tippit diede un colpo d'acceleratore alla sua auto per raggiungere un uomo che stava camminando nella sua stessa direzione. Si trattava di un uomo i cui connotati corrispondevano a quelli forniti dalla polizia. Tippit aprì lo sportello di sinistra della sua macchina e si portò di fronte all'auto. Improvvisamente l'uomo che si trovava sul marciapiede opposto estrasse un revolver e sparò diversi colpi in rapida successione, colpendo Tippit quattro volte ed uccidendolo istantaneamente».

«Alle [illegible], la radio della polizia sottolineava l'analogia esistente nelle descrizioni dei sospetti sull'uccisore del Presidente e di Tippit. La radio dava quindi l'allarme: «Ci risulta che un sospetto è appena entrato nel Texas Theater sulla West Jefferson". Nel giro di pochi minuti, il cinema venne circondato e dopo una breve e cruenta lotta, gli agen-tre con le sue mani cercava di sollevare la testa del marito, Jacqueline Kennedy esclamò: "Oh! Dio! Hanno sparato a mio marito. Ti amo, Jack" ».

Proposta una riforma dei servizi di sicurezza

A proposito della protezione che si deve assicurare al Capo dell'Esecutivo, la Commissione fa numerose proposte, e cioè:

— Che il Presidente ed il Congresso decidano se sia il caso che il Servizio Segreto cui è stata sempre affidata la protezione del Capo della Casa Bianca, da quando fu ucciso il Presidente McKinley, nel 1901, debba cedere l'incarico a qualche altro organismo.

— Dal canto suo, il Segretario al Tesoro dovrebbe affidare il controllo del Servizio Segreto ad un suo assistente.

— Il Servizio Segreto dovrebbe completamente rivedere i suoi sistemi per la segnalazione di potenziali minacce al Presidente, essere al corrente di tutti coloro che sono fuggiti, disporre di un più numeroso personale e modernizzare i metodi, migliorare i sistemi per assicurare l'incolumità del Capo dell'Esecutivo particolarmente quando passa in auto scoperta tra la folla e intensificare i propri contatti con il F.B.I.

— Il medico personale deve accompagnare sempre il Presidente in occasione dei suoi spostamenti e trovarsi sempre vicino a lui in maniera da poter intervenire tempestivamente se ve ne sia necessità. (Il medico di Kennedy, Contrammiraglio George Burkes, si trovava molto indietro nel corteo presidenziale al momento dell'attentato).

— Il Congresso deve approvare una legge che fa dello assassinio del Presidente o del Vice Presidente un reato federale per evitare conflitti di competenza con le polizie statali.

Perché Ruby « fece giustizia »

Quale fu il motivo che spinse Ruby ad uccidere Oswald? La Commissione non arriva a conclusioni precise ma prende nota di questa deposizione dello stesso Rubinsteint « Lessi una lettera (su un giornale) a Carolina (Kennedy). Una lettera commoventissima seguita da una breve nota del giornale in cui si diceva che la signora Kennedy probabilmente avrebbe dovuto ritornare a Dallas in occasione del processo contro Lee Harvey Oswald. Improvvisamente ho sentito dentro di me che qualcuno doveva questo debito al nostro amato Presidente per evitare alla moglie l'angoscia del ritorno... ».

Sebbene la Commissione non si sia pronunciata che in maniera vaga sul motivo che ha spinto i due uomini ad uccidere, è arrivata invece a conclusioni definitive su tutti gli altri importanti punti controversi.

Circa il punto relativo a quale fu la pallottola che colpì il Governatore, la Commissione sulla scorta delle risultanze accertate dai tecnici è arrivata alla conclusione che fu la stessa che aveva perforato il collo del presidente Kennedy.

Nel sommario del rapporto Warren è detto testualmente: quando la macchina presidenziale stava raggiungendo l'incrocio tra Houston e Elm Street, di fronte si scorgeva già un edificio di sette piani, sede del Texas School Book Depository. L'auto presidenziale che procedeva in direzione nord a Elm Street compì una svolta verso sud-ovest. Ora, la facciata del Texas School Book Depository si trovava sulla destra del Presidente.

« Pochi secondi dopo, in rapida successione, echeggiavano gli spari. Il Presidente si portò le mani alla gola. Sembrò irrigidirsi per un momento e quindi piegarsi leggermente in avanti nel sedile. Una pallottola lo aveva raggiunto al collo. Il governatore Connally, mentre stava per voltarsi dalla parte del Presidente, sentì improvvisamente un colpo nella schiena: era stato colpito anch'egli da una pallottola che gli aveva attraversato il torace nella regione destra.

Al Parkland Hospital il Presidente venne immediatamente curato da un gruppo di medici i quali constatarono che il paziente respirava ancora, seppure irregolarmente, e che un leggero battito del cuore era tuttora avvertibile. Invece, il polso non si sentiva. Osservata anche un'ampia ferita alla testa di Kennedy ed un'altra al collo, i medici, preoccupati di cercare di mantenere in vita il Presidente, non pensarono però mai a rivoltarlo per esaminargli la schiena. Oswald però non compì mai i passi necessari per rinunciare alla sua cittadinanza americana. Da parte sua il Governo sovietico non accolse la sua richiesta per ottenere la cittadinanza russa. Ma nel gennaio del 1960 le autorità sovietiche gli accordarono il permesso di restare nel Paese... Nel febbraio del 1961 scrisse all'Ambasciata americana manifestando il desiderio di ritornare negli Stati Uniti.

Matrimonio a Mosca con Marina Prusakova

« Il mese dopo conobbe una ragazza russa di 19 anni, Marina Nikolaieva Prusakova; si sposarono il 30 aprile 1961. Oswald insieme alla moglie si recò nella sede dell'Ambasciata americana a Mosca nel luglio del 1961. Sulla base di un colloquio e dopo aver fatto riempire un questionario, l'Ambasciata riconobbe che Oswald non aveva perso la cittadinanza americana. La coppia finalmente partì da Mosca il 1. giugno 1962. Due settimane dopo giunsero a Fort Worth nel Texas. Durante questa sua permanenza a Fort Worth, Oswald fu interrogato per due volte dagli agenti del F.B.I.

« Il 6 aprile 1963, Oswald perse il posto che aveva ottenuto presso una ditta fotografica. Pochi giorni dopo, il 10 aprile, attentò alla vita del generale Walker, servendosi di un fucile che aveva ordinato per posta dando un nome falso. Quindi, partì in autobus per il Messico, giungendo a Città del Messico il 27 setpoi a quella cubana. Dichiarò che desiderava ottenere un visto per visitare Cuba prima di proseguire per l'Unione Sovietica, ma il tentativo fallì. Ripartì per Dallas dove giunse il 3 ottobre 1963. Il 21 novembre disse ad un suo collega, certo Wesley Frazier, che intendeva recarsi in macchina ad Irving per prendere uno stipo per un appartamento di Dallas. La mattina seguente Oswald partì lasciando sua moglie ancora a letto.

« Poco dopo, Frazier scorse Oswald che, prelevato dalla macchina un lungo involto, entrava nell'interno del deposito. L'accusa formale contro Oswald di avere assassinato il Presidente Kennedy venne formulata poco dopo le 13,30 di sabato 23 novembre. Entro le 22 del giorno dell'assassinio, gli agenti del F.B.I. avevano ritrovato il fucile usato per l'attentato al sesto piano del deposito accertando che era stato spedito da una ditta di Chicago. La ditta precisò poi di avere avuto l'ordinazione del fucile nel marzo 1962 con la richiesta di spedirlo alla Casella Postale 2915 a Dallas. Si trattava di una casella affittata da Oswald.

« Domenica mattina, 24 novembre verso le 11,20 Oswald, circondato dagli agenti usciva dalla sede della polizia da una porta posteriore. Fatti pochi passi verso l'auto che lo attendeva, si trovò investito dai riflettori della televisione quando improvvisamente un uomo si fece avanti e gli sparò all'addome. Trasportato d'urgenza all'ospedale, vi moriva alle 13.07 ».

Entrambe le pallottole furono sparate « da un fucile Carcano cal. 6,5 mm. ritrovato al sesto piano dell'edificio del deposito, con esclusione di qualsiasi altra arma ».

E ciò è dedotto dai seguenti elementi:

a) Testimoni oculari hanno veduto sparare il fucile dalla finestra al sesto piano.

b) La pallottola rinvenuta sulla barella del governatore Connally e i frammenti di pallottola ritrovati sul sedile anteriore della limousine presidenziale furono sparati da un fucile Mannlicher-Carcano cal. 6,5 ritrovato al sesto piano del deposito.

c) I tre bossoli ritrovati nei pressi della finestra provenivano dallo stesso fucile sopra descritto.

d) Il parabrezza della macchina presidenziale è stato incrinato dall'interno.

e) La natura delle ferite e la posizione dell'[illegible] presidenziale dimostrano che i colpi furono sparati [illegible] dietro l'auto.

DOPO DIECI MESI DI INDAGINI

Pubblicato il rapporto sulla morte di Kennedy

La più grande inchiesta giudiziaria di tutti i tempi - Sconcertante premonizione del Presidente assassinato

Washington, 2 settembre.

La mattina del 22 novembre 1963, poco prima di lasciare Fort Worth alla volta di Dallas, il presidente John F. Kennedy osservò, con una inconsapevole premonizione: «Se qualcuno volesse uccidere il Presidente degli Stati Uniti, non dovrebbe essere difficile; basterebbe piazzarsi con un fucile munito di cannocchiale su un edificio elevato».

Due ore dopo, il trentacinquesimo Presidente degli Stati Uniti veniva assassinato da due precisi colpi di moschetto sparati da un tiratore appostato ad una finestra del «Texas school book depository» di Dallas. Questo tiratore fu dalla polizia identificato in Lee Harvey Oswald.

A distanza di dieci mesi dalla tragica catena di avvenimenti di Dallas, la commissione presidenziale, presieduta dal giudice capo della Corte Suprema, Earl Warren, incaricata di far luce sulla genesi, le circostanze e le responsabilità di quei fatti, ha pubblicato un rapporto di ottocentottantotto pagine che, per impegno morale, accuratezza e vastità dell'indagine e massa di risultanze ed ardi certezze, e cioè la questione del fucile trovato al deposito librario, e della capacità di Oswald a sparare con successo con esso tre colpi nel giro di cinque secondi contro un bersaglio mobile. L'inchiesta fa al riguardo le precisazioni seguenti:

1. La sola arma trovata al sesto piano del deposito librario è il Carcano calibro 6 e mezzo di proprietà di Oswald. E' vero che il primo poliziotto che la scoprì, il sergente Seymour Weitzman, dichiarò che riteneva trattarsi di un Mauser calibro 7,6. Ma Weitzman non esaminò l'arma e non è, del resto, un esperto in materia. Egli, a uno sguardo superficiale, ritenne il fucile simile a un Mauser. L'arma venne poi fotografata sul posto, analizzata per vedere se vi erano impronte digitali e portata in seguito alla sede della polizia di Dallas, dove un esperto la identificò subito per un Carcano modello 91.

L'ora serie di prove di tiro è stata in seguito effettuata da vari esperti e il giudizio è che un tiratore di capacità media quale Oswald era perfettamente in grado, con l'aiuto del mirino telescopico e tenendo conto che il bersaglio mobile è rimasto sempre nella stessa linea di tiro (muovendosi cioè longitudinalmente e non trasversalmente) di colpire tre volte l'automobile di Kennedy nel giro di cinque secondi.

Sul fatto che Oswald avesse acquistato il fucile e lo avesse portato la mattina al deposito librario in una scatola di cartone, e che egli si fosse recato da un armaiuolo di Dallas per far installare il mirino telescopico, non vi sono dubbi e le prove testimoniali al riguardo appaiono ineccepibili.

Il rapporto affronta in seguito il problema della cronologia di polizia si trovava, solo, in un radiocar, mentre il regolamento prescriverebbe che in macchine del genere devono viaggiare sempre due poliziotti. Buchanan aggiunge inoltre che Tippit si trovava nel sobborgo di Oak Cliff in violazione di una disposizione della polizia, che richiederà la sua presenza nel centro della città di Dallas.

Il rapporto Warren indica che ambedue queste affermazioni di sul tragico giorno. Il rapporto dichiara altresì che non vi è alcuna prova che Oswald abbia agito in contatto con il governo sovietico o con quello cubano. In altri termini, il rapporto conclude confermando la tesi che la tragedia di Dallas è il risultato di due atti individuali non collegati fra loro, quello di Oswald del 22 novembre e quello di Jack Ruby del 24 novembre.

I PUNTI SALIENTI del rapporto Warren

Poche ore prima Kennedy previde che avrebbero potuto ucciderlo

Washington, 27 settembre.

Lee Harvey Oswald — e lui solo — uccise John F. Kennedy.

Questa la sostanza del tanto atteso rapporto della commissione presidenziale capeggiata dal giudice Earl Warren, che è giunta anche alle seguenti conclusioni:

Non vi sono prove di qualsiasi complotto, interno o straniero, da sinistra o da destra, nella tragedia di Dallas del 22 novembre 1963 in cui il Presidente degli Stati Uniti perse la vita.

Non vi sono prove di un complotto o di un rapporto qualsiasi tra Oswald e l'uomo che lo uccise due giorni dopo: Jack Ruby. Ciascuno, indipendentemente dall'altro, ha ucciso per proprie ragioni emotive.

Le misure adottate dal servizio segreto per la protezione del Presidente furono inadeguate, non comprendendo neppure, come avviene usualmente, il controllo degli edifici lungo il percorso che avrebbe dovuto seguire il corteo presidenziale. Il Federal Bureau of Investigation (F.B.I.) omise di segnalare al servizio segreto la presenza a Dallas di Oswald, un noto marxista che un tempo si era trasferito in Russia.

I metodi ora usati per la protezione del Presidente richiedono provvedimenti adeguati e moderni.

La commissione d'inchiesta che era diretta ed aveva preso il nome dal settantatreenne giudice Earl Warren, presidente dell'Alta Corte di giustizia fe-nel Maryland, che procedettero all'autopsia.

La discrepanza riguarda la valutazione della ferita alla gola. I dottori di Dallas, secondo quanto riferisce Buchanan, ritennero la ferita alla gola effetto dell'ingresso di una pallottola, i dottori di Bethesda la considerarono, invece il foro di uscita di una pallottola entrata nella schiena.

Il rapporto Warren precisa che i dottori di Dallas, nel tentativo di ristabilire la respirazione, effettuarono una tracheotomia a Kennedy e allargarono perciò la ferita alla gola senza avere il tempo e il modo di analizzarla. Alle domande successive dei giornalisti, essi si limitarono ad esprimere il parere che la ferita poteva essere senza di una ferita nella schiena.

Il fucile

Quando la commissione domandò a uno dei dottori, James Carrico, perchè dopo la morte del Presidente nessuno pensò a rivoltare il cadavere per esaminare le condizioni della schiena, il medico rispose: «Suppongo che nessuno avesse realmente il cuore di farlo, in quel momento».

Il rapporto Warren esamina poi un altro settore dove informazioni confuse e contraddittorie, nei giorni successivi all'attentato, hanno alimentato dubbi e incertezze, e cioè la questione del fucile trovato al deposito librario, e della capacità di Oswald a sparare con successo con esso tre colpi nel giro di cinque secondi contro un bersaglio mobile. L'inchiesta fa al riguardo le precisazioni seguenti:

1. La sola arma trovata al sesto piano del deposito librario è il Carcano calibro 6 e mezzo di proprietà di Oswald. E' vero che il primo poliziotto che la scoprì, il sergente Seymour Weitzman, dichiarò che ritenev trattarsi di un Mauser calibro 7,6. Ma Weitzman non esaminò l'arma e non è, del resto, un esperto in materia. Egli, a uno sguardo superficiale, ritenne il fucile simile a un Mauser. L'arma venne poi fotografata sul posto, analizzata per vedere se vi erano impronte digitali e portata in seguito alla sede della polizia di Dallas, dove un esperto la identificò subito per un Carcano modello 91.

Una serie di prove di tiro è stata in seguito effettuata da vari esperti e il giudizio è che un tiratore di capacità media quale Oswald era perfettamente in grado, con l'aiuto del mirino telescopico e tenendo conto che il bersaglio mobile è rimasto sempre nella stessa linea di tiro (muovendosi cioè longitudinalmente e non trasversalmente) di colpire tre volte l'automobile di Kennedy nel giro di cinque secondi.

Sul fatto che Oswald avesse acquistato il fucile e lo avesse portato la mattina al deposito librario in una scatola di cartone, e che egli si fosse recato da un armaiuolo di Dallas per far installare il mirino telescopico, non vi sono dubbi e le prove testimoniali al riguardo appaiono inoppugnabili.

Il rapporto [illegible] e Oswald [illegible] il deposito librario? Com'è stato possibile alla polizia di Dallas trasmettere per radio, pochi minuti dopo l'attentato, una descrizione del presunto assassino che corrispondeva abbastanza fedelmente a Oswald, quando questi non era ancora sotto sospetto? E' una coincidenza puramente casuale l'incontro di Oswald col poliziotto Tippit?

Ecco come il rapporto Warren risponde a tali interrogativi, ricostruendo la situazione cronologica. L'attentato a Kennedy avvenne esattamente a mezzogiorno e mezzo: mentre un poliziotto, il motociclista Marion Baker, si precipitò subito nel deposito librario, fu soltanto alle dodici e trentasette, a causa della confusione e dell'emozione generale, che la polizia riuscì a bloccare completamente l'edificio. Oswald ebbe quindi tutto il tempo di allontanarsi indisturbato, e il rapporto Warren ritiene che egli avesse lasciato il deposito librario alle dodici e trentatrè.

La cronologia successiva appare la seguente, secondo l'inchiesta, che è basata su testimonianze rinvenute minutamente controllate: Oswald, uscito dall'edificio, prese un autobus alle dodici e quaranta per recarsi a Oak Cliff, il sobborgo di Dallas dove egli viveva in una camera ammobiliata. Sull'autobus venne riconosciuto dalla signora Mary Bledsoe, proprietaria di una pensione dove egli aveva abitato in passato. Dopo quattro o cinque minuti, visto che l'autobus procedeva troppo lentamente, Oswald scese dall'autobus e prese un taxi (vi è la deposizione dell'autista) e si fece lasciare nei pressi di casa sua. Qui arrivò all'una del pomeriggio (deposizione dell'affittacamere), si fermò tre o quattro minuti e poi uscì di nuovo. All'una e sedici egli venne fermato da una macchina della polizia con a bordo l'agente Tippit, in una località poco più di un chilometro lontana dalla sua abitazione.

Il rapporto precisa che non vi sono dubbi sul fatto che Oswald uccise Tippit con quattro colpi di pistola. Egli è stato riconosciuto da due testimoni oculari dello scontro con Tippit e da altri sette testi che hanno udito gli spari e visto l'assassino fuggire. Inoltre il rapporto conferma che i bossoli trovati presso il luogo dell'uccisione di Tippit appartengono alla stessa rivoltella che Oswald aveva al momento dell'arresto [illegible] giungono che assisterà al passaggio del corteo presidenziale di fronte al deposito librario e che aveva notato l'apparire, a una finestra del sesto piano, di un uomo armato di fucile. E' la descrizione di quest'uomo che, senza sapere naturalmente che si trattava di Oswald, Brennan ha fornito alla polizia; descrizione poi risultata esatta.

La morte di Tippit

Un altro elemento sospetto avanzato da Buchanan per sostenere che l'agente Tippit fosse uno dei membri del complotto diretto ad assassinare Kennedy, è il fatto che l'agente di polizia si trovava, solo, in un radiocar, mentre il regolamento prescriverebbe che in macchine del genere devono viaggiare sempre due poliziotti. Buchanan aggiunge inoltre che Tippit si trovava nel sobborgo di Oak Cliff in violazione di una disposizione della polizia, che richiedeva la sua presenza nel centro della città di Dallas.

Il rapporto Warren indica che ambedue queste affermazioni di [illegible] sono [illegible] errate, infine, che la commissione ha analizzato una ad una tutte le voci circa un presunto legame fra Oswald e Tippit, fra Tippit e Ruby e tra Ruby e Oswald, ed è giunta alla conclusione che i tre uomini non si conoscevano e non avevano avuto in passato alcun rapporto tra loro. L'elenco di queste voci e delle piste che sono state seguite per controllare la loro possibile veridicità è contenuto nel rapporto.

Egualmente categorico è il rapporto Warren nello smentire la possibilità che Oswald sia stato un agente del servizio di Intelligence americano durante il suo soggiorno in Russia o informatore della polizia federale al suo ritorno. Il rapporto dichiara altresì che non vi è alcuna prova che Oswald abbia avuto [illegible] con il governo sovietico o con quello cubano. In conclusione, il rapporto conclude confermando la tesi che la tragedia di Dallas è il risultato di due atti individuali non collegati fra loro, quello di Oswald del 22 novembre e quello di Jack Ruby del 24 novembre.

I PUNTI SALIENTI del rapporto Warren

Poche ore prima Kennedy previde che avrebbero potuto ucciderlo

Washington, 27 settembre.

Lee Harvey Oswald — e lui solo — uccise John F. Kennedy.

Questa la sostanza del tanto atteso rapporto della commissione presidenziale capeggiata dal giudice Earl Warren, che è giunta anche alle seguenti conclusioni:

Non vi sono prove di qualsiasi complotto, interno o straniero, da sinistra o da destra, nella tragedia di Dallas del 22 novembre 1963 in cui il Presidente degli Stati Uniti perse la vita.

Non vi sono prove di un complotto o di un rapporto qualsiasi tra Oswald e l'uomo che lo uccise due giorni dopo: Jack Ruby [illegible]

Le misure adottate dal servizio segreto per la protezione del Presidente furono inadeguate, non comprendendo [illegible] come avviene usualmente, il controllo degli edifici lungo il percorso che avrebbe dovuto seguire il corteo presidenziale. Il Federal Bureau of Investigation (F.B.I.) omise di segnalare al servizio segreto la presenza a Dallas di Oswald, un individuo sul quale si sapeva che un tempo si era trasferito in Russia.

I metodi ora usati per la protezione del Presidente [illegible] provvedimenti speciali e [illegible].

La commissione [illegible] che era diretta [illegible]

Oltre a ricostruire la tragedia di Dallas passo per passo e nei suoi diversi elementi, il rapporto Warren si preoccupa, in una sezione particolare, di elencare tutte le voci, anche le più fantastiche, circolate in contrasto alla versione ufficiale originale, e di rispondere, punto per punto alla schiena da una pallottola che è uscita poi dal petto.

Contrariamente alle affermazioni di Buchanan e di altri, secondo cui il ponte del sottopassaggio ferroviario non era sorvegliato e avrebbe consentito perciò a eventuali complici di Oswald di rimanere in agguato su di esso, il rapporto precisa che due poliziotti erano di guardia sul ponte e che le deposizioni di questi ultimi escludono la presenza di elementi sospetti nella zona.

Il secondo elemento basilare dell'ipotesi Buchanan è costituito dalla discrepanza tra le dichiarazioni dei dottori dell'ospedale di Dallas che cercarono con un intervento operatorio in extremis di salvare Kennedy e il verdetto successivo dei dottori dell'ospedale di Bethesda nel Maryland, che procedettero all'autopsia.

La discrepanza riguarda la valutazione della ferita alla gola. I dottori di Dallas, secondo quanto riferisce Buchanan, ritennero la ferita alla gola effetto dell'ingresso di una pallottola. I dottori di Bethesda la considerarono, invece il foro di uscita di una pallottola entrata nella schiena.

Il rapporto Warren precisa che i dottori di Dallas, nel tentativo di ristabilire la respirazione, effettuarono una tracheotomia a Kennedy e allargarono perciò la ferita alla gola senza avere il tempo e il modo di analizzarla. Alle domande successive dei giornalisti, essi si limitarono ad esprimere il parere che la ferita poteva essere o il foro di ingresso o il foro di uscita di una pallottola. Successivamente, dopo aver appreso i risultati dell'autopsia, essi concordarono col verdetto dei dottori dell'ospedale di Bethesda, secondo cui la ferita era il risultato dell'ingresso, e non dell'uscita di una pallottola.

Il rapporto Warren conferma che durante l'intervento operatorio all'ospedale di Dallas Kennedy rimase sempre giacente sulla schiena e i dottori che lo operarono non ebbero il tempo e il modo di riscontrare la presenza di una ferita nella schiena.

Il fucile

Quando la commissione domandò a uno dei dottori, James Carrico, perchè dopo la morte del Presidente nessuno pensò a rivoltare il cadavere per esaminare le condizioni della schiena, il medico risposte: «Suppongo che nessuno avesse realmente il cuore di farlo, in quel momento».

Il rapporto Warren esamina poi un'altro settore dove informazioni contuse e contraddittorie, nei giorni successivi all'attentato, hanno alimentato dubbi e incertezze, e cioè la questione del fucile trovato al deposito librario, e della capacità di Oswald a sparare con successo con esso tre colpi nel giro di cinque secondi contro un bersaglio mobile. dei movimenti di Oswald fra il momento dell'attentato a Kennedy e il momento del suo arresto, ottanta minuti più tardi, in un cinema alla periferia di Dallas.

Anche in questo campo, molti dubbi erano nati dalle dichiarazioni contraddittorie emerse nel giorno della tragedia. Buchanan e altri sostenitori della teoria del complotto hanno sollevato una serie di quesiti al riguardo: com'è stato possibile a Oswald lasciare inosservato e indisturbato il deposito librario? Com'è stato possibile alla polizia di Dallas trasmettere per radio, pochi minuti dopo l'attentato, una descrizione del presunto assassino che corrispondeva abbastanza fedelmente a Oswald, quando questi non era ancora sotto sospetto? E' una coincidenza puramente casuale l'incontro di Oswald col poliziotto Tippit?

Buchanan e gli altri fautori della tesi del complotto hanno visto un elemento sospetto nel fatto che la polizia di Dallas trasmise per radio già alle dodici e quarantacinque un allarme in cui si descriveva il presunto assassino di Kennedy in modo esattamente corrispondente all'aspetto di Oswald. Come spiegare ciò? Il rapporto Warren chiarisce che la descrizione trasmessa dalla polizia era basata su dati forniti da un certo Howard Brennan, uno stagnino che assisteva al passaggio del corteo presidenziale di fronte al deposito librario e che aveva notato l'apparire, a una finestra del sesto piano, di un uomo armato di fucile. E' la descrizione di quest'uomo che, senza sapere naturalmente che si trattava di Oswald, Brennan ha fornito alla polizia; descrizione poi risultata esatta.

Un altro elemento sospetto avanzato da Buchanan per sostenere che l'agente Tippit fosse uno dei membri del complotto diretto ad assassinare Kennedy, è il fatto che l'agente di polizia si trovava, solo, in un radiocar, mentre il regolamento prescriverebbe che in macchine del genere devono viaggiare sempre due poliziotti. Buchanan aggiunge inoltre che Tippit si trovava nel sobborgo di Oak Cliff in violazione di una disposizione della polizia, che richiedeva la sua presenza nel centro della città di Dallas.

Il rapporto Warren indica che ambedue queste affermazioni di Buchanan sono inesatte. Anzitutto il regolamento della polizia di Dallas non proibisce a un poliziotto di girare da solo in un radiocar, ma anzi considera questo perfettamente regolare durante i turni di giorno. In secondo luogo esiste al quartier generale della polizia di Dallas un registro che conferma che il poliziotto Tippit aveva istruzione, durante la mattina del 22 novembre, di perlustrare [illegible] di Oak Cliff.

Il rapporto Warren precisa, infine, che la commissione ha analizzato una ad una tutte le voci circa un presunto legame fra Oswald e Tippit, fra Tippit e Ruby e fra Ruby e Oswald, ed è giunta alla conclusione che i tre uomini non si conoscevano e non ebbero alcun rapporto tra loro. ...nisti scorsi, e cioè che Lee Harvey Oswald ha agito da solo nell'uccisione del Presidente, e che Jack Ruby ha agito da solo nell'uccisione di Oswald, due giorni dopo. Nell'un caso come nell'altro, dichiara nettamente il rapporto, non esiste alcun indizio di complotto.

Questa è la conclusione centrale raggiunta al termine di un'ampia inchiesta durata circa dieci mesi (la commissione Warren era stata formata il 29 novembre 1963 e ha presentato il suo rapporto alla Casa Bianca giovedì 24 settembre 1964) nella quale sono raccolte le deposizioni di cinquecentocinquantadue testimoni. Si è proceduto ad una serie di complesse prove tecniche per valutare tutti i dati del dramma e ricostruirne i particolari nella sequenza più precisa e dettagliata possibile.

Trecentomila parole

Il rapporto, di circa trecentomila parole, pubblicato stasera in un volume di ottocentottantotto pagine, espone tutti i risultati dell'inchiesta ed avanza una serie di raccomandazioni per rendere più adeguati, in futuro, i metodi di protezione del presidente degli Stati Uniti.

Al documento attuale seguirà fra breve la pubblicazione di altri venti volumi, che raccolgono il testo completo delle deposizioni dei testimoni.

Oltre a ricostruire la tragedia di Dallas passo per passo e nei suoi diversi elementi, il rapporto Warren si preoccupa, in una sezione particolare, di elencare tutte le voci, anche le più fantastiche, circolate in contrasto alla versione ufficiale originale, e di rispondere, pertanto alle tesi che essi sono attualmente il giornalista americano Thomas Buchanan nel libro «Chi ha ucciso Kennedy?»; il giornalista Joachim Joesten nel libro «Oswald: assassino o capro espiatorio?»; l'avvocato Mark Lane) si daranno facilmente per vinti, e si prevede anzi che essi si preparino a polemizzare coi risultati dell'inchiesta, negli ambienti della Casa Bianca e del dipartimento della giustizia si esprime la convinzione che il rapporto Warren chiarisca le principali lacune, incertezze e dubbi, rimasti sinora nella versione ufficiale degli eventi, e confuti in modo adeguato le principali tesi sostenute sulla esistenza di un complotto.

In attesa di vedere, adesso, come sulla base di un'analisi minuta del voluminoso documento si svilupperà la discussione, appare tuttavia chiaro che il rapporto Warren stabilisce una serie di elementi importanti per dissipare l'atmosfera d'incertezza su alcuni punti basilari. Il primo di questi punti riguarda la direzione dalla quale sono prorenuti i colpi di fucile contro la macchina presidenziale.

Alla base della teoria di Buchanan, per esempio, è la tesi che Kennedy non è stato colpito soltanto da pallottole giunte da dietro, cioè dal sesto piano del deposito librario dove si trovava Oswald, ma anche da pallottole giunte dal davanti, e cioè dal ponte del sottopassaggio ferroviario di fronte al corteo presidenziale. Il rapporto Warren esclude categoricamente l'ipotesi di Buchanan e ribadisce la versione secondo cui i soli colpi sparati contro la macchina presidenziale sono sesto piano del deposito librario.

Contrasti sulle ferite

2. L'esame balistico dei frammenti di pallottole trovati nella vettura presidenziale conferma che tutti i proiettili provenivano da una stessa arma, il fucile Carcano scoperto al sesto piano del deposito librario e acquistato da Oswald.

3. I tre bossoli vuoti, trovati al sesto piano del deposito librario, sono stati tutti utilizzati dalla stessa arma, il Carcano calibro 6 millimetri e mezzo.

4. Il parabrezza dell'automobile presidenziale è stato scalfito dal frammento di una pallottola dall'interno, e non dall'esterno come sostenevano le tesi Buchanan. Su tale punto l'analisi degli esperti non lascia dubbi: la pallottola ha colpito l'automobile da dietro e un frammento, rimbalzando, ha intaccato il parabrezza dall'interno.

5. La natura delle ferite riportate sia da Kennedy che dal governatore Connally indica che i colpi sono stati sparati dall'alto e da dietro l'automobile. Il Presidente è stato colpito da due pallottole, una entrata dalla parte posteriore del collo e uscita dalla gola, la seconda — quella mortale — che ha colpito il cranio. Connally è stato colpito alla schiena da una pallottola che è uscita poi dal petto.

Contrariamente alle affermazioni di Buchanan e di altri, secondo cui il ponte del sottopassaggio ferroviario non era sorvegliato e avrebbe consentito perciò a eventuali complici di Oswald di rimanere in agguato su di esso, il rapporto precisa che due poliziotti erano di guardia sul ponte e che le deposizioni di questi ultimi escludono la presenza di elementi sospetti nella zona.

Il secondo elemento basilare dell'ipotesi Buchanan è costituito dalla discrepanza tra le dichiarazioni dei dottori dell'ospedale di Dallas che cercarono con un intervento operatorio in extremis di salvare Kennedy e il verdetto successivo dei dottori dell'ospedale di Bethesda nel Maryland, che procedettero all'autopsia.

La discrepanza riguarda la valutazione della ferita alla gola. I dottori di Dallas, secondo quanto riferisce Buchanan, ritennero la ferita alla gola effetto dell'ingresso di una pallottola. I dottori di Bethesda in cambio, [illegible] re o il foro di ingresso o il foro di uscita di una pallottola. Successivamente, dopo aver appreso i risultati dell'autopsia, essi concordarono col verdetto dei dottori dell'ospedale di Bethesda, secondo cui la ferita era il risultato dell'ingresso, e non dell'uscita di una pallottola.

Il rapporto Warren conferma che durante l'intervento operatorio all'ospedale di Dallas Kennedy rimase sempre giacente sulla schiena e i dottori che lo operarono non ebbero il tempo e il modo di riscontrare la presenza di una ferita nella schiena.

DAL NOSTRO CORRISPONDENTE

Nuova York, 27 settembre

Il rapporto della commissione Warren sulle circostanze dell'assassinio del presidente Kennedy conferma quanto era già emerso da indiscrezioni autorevoli, nei mesi scorsi, e cioè che Lee Harvey Oswald ha agito da solo nell'uccisione del Presidente, e che Jack Ruby ha agito da solo nell'uccisione di Oswald, due giorni dopo. Nell'un caso come nell'altro, dichiara nettamente il rapporto, non esiste alcun indizio di complotto.

Questa è la conclusione centrale raggiunta al termine di un'ampia inchiesta durata circa dieci mesi (la commissione Warren era stata formata il 29 novembre 1963 e ha presentato il suo rapporto alla Casa Bianca giovedì 24 settembre 1964) nella quale sono raccolte le deposizioni di cinquecentocinquantadue testimoni. Si è proceduto ad una serie di complesse prove tecniche per valutare tutti i dati del dramma e ricostruirne i particolari nella sequenza più precisa e dettagliata possibile.

Trecentomila parole

Il rapporto, che sarà seguito da venti volumi di testimonianze, è di trecentomila parole. Esso esamina e respinge le ipotesi avanzate in varie parti del mondo sulla consistenza di una cospirazione o di un complotto.

Per quanto non ci si illuda, a Washington, che i fautori delle teorie del complotto (i principali fra essi sono attualmente il giornalista americano Thomas Buchanan nel libro «Chi ha ucciso Kennedy?»; il giornalista Joachim Joesten nel libro «Oswald: assassino o capro espiatorio?»; l'avvocato Mark Lane) si daranno facilmente per vinti, e si prevede anzi che essi si preparino a polemizzare coi risultati dell'inchiesta, negli ambienti della Casa Bianca e del dipartimento della giustizia si esprime la convinzione che il rapporto Warren chiarisca le principali lacune, incertezze e dubbi, rimasti sinora nella versione ufficiale degli eventi, e confuti in modo adeguato le principali tesi sostenute sulla esistenza di un complotto.

In attesa di vedere, adesso, come sulla base di un'analisi minuta del voluminoso documento si svilupperà la discussione, appare tuttavia chiaro che il rapporto Warren stabilisce:

1. La deposizione di testimoni oculari che hanno visto un fucile sporgere dalla finestra del sesto piano del deposito librario.

Contrasti sulle ferite

2. L'esame balistico dei frammenti di pallottole trovati nella vettura presidenziale conferma che tutti i proiettili provenivano da una stessa arma, il fucile Carcano scoperto al sesto piano del deposito librario e acquistato da Oswald.

3. I tre bossoli vuoti, trovati al sesto piano del deposito librario, sono stati tutti utilizzati dalla stessa arma, il Carcano calibro 6 millimetri e mezzo.

4. Il parabrezza dell'automobile presidenziale è stato scalfito dal frammento di una pallottola dall'interno, e non dall'esterno come sosteneva la tesi Buchanan. Su tale punto l'analisi degli esperti non lascia dubbi: la pallottola ha colpito l'automobile da dietro e un frammento rimbalzando ha urtato il parabrezza.

In suffragio a ciò, il rapporto cita gli argomenti seguenti:

Il governatore del Texas, John Connally, ferito nell'attentato, ha dichiarato di essere stato colpito da un proiettile che lo ha attraversato da parte a parte. Il proiettile è stato trovato sul barella che lo trasportava all'ospedale. Il governatore Connally ha dichiarato di essere stato colpito da un proiettile che lo ha attraversato da parte a parte.
